Increase Of 25 At Junior High; Punchard About Same

An increase of some 25 pupils in the Junior high and just about the same enrollment for Punchard high was forecast yesterday noon by superintendent of schools Kenneth L. Sherman. Although the figures were changing constantly, 326 had enrolled at Punchard and 460 at the Junior high. Because the weather was so good, many students were still off on tail-end vacations.

Yesterday morning the students from both schools gathered around the flagpole and saluted the flag. A band concert was included in the ceremony which will be repeated next Monday morning when the grammar grades reopen.

Very few changes are being made in the staff. Miss Katherine Sweeney of High street will be at the North school, and Mrs. Henry C. Sanborn will teach at West Center in place of Miss Sherman who is being moved into the Central schools to take the place of the former Miss Wells. Miss Donna DeRochemont has been hired for a year to take the place of dental hygienist Miss Margaret Cronin who is on an extended leave of absence.

Republican Candidates To Address Rally At Memorial Auditorium This Evening

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Republican Club of Andover tonight will give way to a Republican pre-primary rally which they are sponsoring. John M. MacKenzie, president of the club, will preside over the meeting, and urges the Republican and Independent voters of Andover to attend this rally.

The Andover Male Choir will present a variety of numbers.

Invited guest speakers will have to come right to the point as each one will have only a limited time.

Invited guests seeking the Republican nomination as Representatives are: Harold S. Pedler, Methuen; Herbert B. Bower, Methuen; Gordon R. Cannon, Andover; J. Everett Collins, Andover; Daniel F. Downey, Methuen; Ralph W. Emerson, Andover; Bruno M. Findeisen, Lawrence; Robert E. Hewitt, Methuen; Ralph H. Hill, Methuen; Samuel Rushton, Methuen; Raymond W. Schlapp, Methuen; Alfred W. Taylor, No. Andover.

Expect Crowd At Hearing Tonight

Local officials expect a large crowd present tonight at the hearing to be held before the Board of Appeals on the proposal to build a filling station and three apartment houses on the Shaw property on Main street. The hearing starts at 7:30.

The plan calls for the expenditure of about $150,000 and would include the building of a street down through the property, ending in a circle. The filling station would be on Main street and the three apartment houses on the new street.

The lot involved is of unusual shape, extending on its southern border all along the Stowers property, then going south along the Stowers line, along the Hulme line, and along the Historical society line, then west along the property of Mrs. Marr and Jesse Bottomley, thence north along the Cross property and along the Parochial school property. The northern boundary touches the property of Emma Frost and Laura Hill, then going south and east along the Grout property to the street.

All the neighbors have been legally notified of the hearing. Plans of the buildings will be on display.

War Refugees Bring Academy Registration To New Record

A sizeable group of war refugee students accounts for Phillips academy's record enrollment of near 750 this year. It is expected that there will be 20-30 refugees from the war areas. Last year there were 723 students at the school. The boys will begin to register next Tuesday.

The faculty too will be the largest on record. New members include John Kingsbury Colby, who received his A. B. from Boston University and his A. M. from Harvard. He taught at Milton academy and then was head of the Latin department at Newton Country Day school from 1929 to 1940, and in the past three summers he has been instructor and visiting lecturer at Boston University's summer school. He will live at Hardy house.

Hopper Follansbee, brother of George Follansbee of the faculty, will be an assistant instructor in biology. He received his A. B. at Princeton. He will live at Rockwell house.

Another Latin teacher will be John S. MacSporran who received his A. B. degree from Yale. He will reside at Williams hall.

Patrick Morgan, an A. B. from Harvard, will be assistant curator and instructor in art.

Thompson Webb, Jr., whose father is head of the Webb school at Claremont, Calif., will be an assistant in English. He received his A. B. at Princeton. William H. Reese, Ph.D., will be an assistant in music. He was at the Riverdale school.

Churches Resume Regular Services

Andover's churches are returning to their regular schedule, with the Free and South churches conducting separate services again starting this Sunday. The West church will also begin services again this Sunday.

The Baptist church will resume on Sunday at 10:45 with a communion service, and the former pastor, Dr. Lorenz I. Hansen will supply for the rest of the month while the committee is endeavoring to name a successor to Rev. Mr. Overstreet. Sunday school will begin a week from Sunday.

OFFICER DEYERMOND RESTING COMFORTABLY

Officer John Deyermund was reported by the Clover Hill hospital as "resting comfortably" this morning, having shown some improvement since last week. He has had a few transfusions in the meantime. He has decided to come home Sunday, but his physicians feel that this is one time when the law won't have its way.

ANDERSON NOT TO RETURN AT PHILLIPS

Steve Sorota will have the Phillips Academy football candidates out on Tuesday afternoon for an opening workout. With few veterans coming back, Steve also is faced with the unexpected loss of Swede Anderson who has been accepted at Harvard.

State Still Urges
No Fishing

The desirability of keeping people away from public water supplies as a national defense emergency was a new note injected in the state health department's reply to the local public works board on the fishing question this week. Other than that little was added to the solution of the problem as to whether the state or town had power to issue licenses. The state recommends however that no licenses be issued, and it is claimed that the state can revoke any permits the local board may issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Phillips and family of Salem street returned this morning after spending the summer months at Denmark, Maine.

Andover Cottage Enjoying Popularity

Andover residents who have been away on vacations will be interested to know that during the past month Luther Witham, Inc., well-known Lynn caterers, have given the town a delightful new restaurant and ice cream bar under the name of Andover Cottage. In the short time that the Cottage has been open it has entertained more customers than it ever did under its previous managements when it was called "Countryside Grille" and "McManus." Labor day weekend was particularly busy.

The place has been so completely redecorated and enlarged that it could hardly be recognized as the Grille. The seating capacity is considerably larger, and there has been much new equipment added, particularly at the ice cream bar.

Elbridge L. Witham is the manager. The firm has done considerable catering for Andover affairs. Its specialty is chicken pies, made famous in Lynn for many years.

Rearrange Hours In Grade Schools

An endeavor to use the school hours more efficiently is being made under an arrangement adopted at the school committee meeting Tuesday night. The plan involves a rearrangement of time and a cutting down of classroom interruptions.

The present practice of early dismissal one Friday a month for perfect attendance was abolished. Hereafter every Tuesday the Shawshen and Bradlee schools will have regular dismissal at 2:45 instead of 3:30 and on Wednesdays the Central schools, Indian Ridge and the North school will be dismissed at 2:45. This time is being saved out of other overtime during the day, with opening exercises, etc., being cut down. The tightening up on interruptions will make it possible to have the same amount of time put in on school work by the pupils.

The extra three-quarters of an hour will be used hereafter for those boys and girls who are having a difficult time due to absences, etc., and also for youngsters who travel by bus and who would miss their bus if kept after school. It will be used mainly for remedial work and extracurricular activities, band, glee club, etc.

William Odlin is in town, having returned from a short stay at York beach. He intends to enter the Columbia Law school in New York this fall, and also study in a private office. W. B. Carpenter returned to Harvard college this week where he will take a post graduate course. Miss Agnes Abbott, daughter of Nathan F. Abbott, is teaching school at Rowe, Mass. Owing to some delays and numerous last things in finishing and furnishing the new Draper hall, the opening of the fall term of Abbot academy has been deferred one week to September 18. H. S. Neal has many stories to tell about his hunting and fishing trip to the backwoods of Maine. There is a man in Ballardvale who states that he has read the last Agricultural Report that he received from the State House nearly through. Such heroism surely deserves some reward or at least some recognition from his party in the coming election.

Mrs. Burt Retires At Briggs-Allen

The Briggs-Allen school opens the 9th of September for special work with a group entering Abbot academy. Mrs. Burt and Mrs. Eaton will be on duty. During the week of the 9th-13th appointments may be made for tests for anyone, not already enrolled, who wishes to enter Grade I.

This past week the school had a great loss in the resignation, because of ill health, of Mrs. J. A. Burt who has been a faithful, efficient teacher in the Briggs-Allen school since 1919. No words of praise are adequate to express the appreciation of her excellent work and it is a genuine loss that the pupils to come will not have the benefit of her teaching.

School opens the 16th of September for all members of the school with Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. Rowe, Miss Marland and Miss Howe on the faculty.

MY FRIENDS! STILL ANOTHER PROMISE

"I regard reduction in Federal spending as one of the most important issues in this campaign.

"The plain precept of our party is to reduce the cost of current Federal Government operations by 25 per cent."

Candidate F. D. Roosevelt
—Campaign pledge, 1932.

Attacking The American Way From Within

Time alone will tell whether President Roosevelt's transfer of 50 destroyers to Great Britain was a wise move. Possibly these 50 destroyers will be just enough to prevent an invasion of England by the Germans, and on the other hand possibly Germany will feel less inclined to treat our so-called neutrality with the same scrupulous respect that she has adhered to so far, in which case it won't be long before President Roosevelt will be telling Congress that "Germany's conduct" makes it imperative that we declare war.

But there's a deeper matter behind this move, a matter that the United States, faced with a request by President Roosevelt that he be given four more years of power, should consider very carefully. It was not a democracy that decided to send those fifty destroyers to Great Britain; it was a dictatorship. In a democracy officials tell the representatives of the people what they are considering doing; in a dictatorship officials do it and then tell the representatives. In this case, whether the United States, through its Congress, prefers not to sell those destroyers to Great Britain doesn't matter a bit, because it is a fait accompli; President Roosevelt has, knowing that there would be much opposition to such a "next-to-war" move, just gone ahead and done as he pleased. If there was wisdom to the measure, President Roosevelt should have gone to Congress and convinced them of that wisdom; if he couldn't convince them of that wisdom, then he certainly had no right to go ahead on his own and put the deal through. Even when asked directly if the transfer of the vessels was being considered, he refused to answer. That is not playing the game the American way; that is nothing more or less than underhanded, high-handed dictatorship.

Expect Heavy Vote Tuesday As Andover Hopes For Representation

Andover is expected to have one of the heaviest primary votes in years next Tuesday when the town hopes to be able to elect a representative to the state legislature after 15 years of virtual disfranchisement. All six polling places will be open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

For the first time Andover will vote with North Andover, Methuen and Ward 1 of Lawrence for the choice of three representatives, and numerically it is possible this year for Andover to win one of the positions, whereas in previous years South Lawrence's overwhelming strength made this an impossibility. Andover men running for the position are Selectman J. Everett Collins, Gordon R. Cannon and Ralph W. Emerson. Believed to be the strongest of the Methuen men running are present representative Harold Pedler, school committeeman, Herbert Bower, former mayor, selectman and representative Samuel Rushton, and attorney Raymond W. Schlapp, formerly of Andover. Former representative Bruno M. Findelsen is the only Lawrence man running.

Also of direct local interest is the county commissioner's race in which Andover's Fred Butler is

VOTE FOR MAYOR ALBERT W.

GLYNN

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR
ESSEX COUNTY COMMISSIONER

STATE TAX COMMISSIONER HENRY F. LONG

In January, 1939, when Glynn was going into the office of Mayor, declared: "Haverhill is one of our problem cities. Frankly (in view of this), I see no great hope for Haverhill." But, after Mayor Glynn had placed his program into operation, Commissioner Long in September, 1939, stated to the press: "Haverhill has made the best comeback of any city in the State."

Is there any doubt but that Essex County needs among its Commissioners, two of whom will be nominated on Tuesday, September 17, a man who can bring about such improved conditions in such a short period of time?

HAVERHILL EVENING GAZETTE

(Editorial, July 9, 1940)

GLYNN CAN WIN If County Can Learn His Good Qualities As Haverhill Knows Them

Mayor Glynn's quest for a Republican nomination to a county commissionership is soundly established on his records as a partisan and as a public servant. He has been for years a faithful and effective worker for the Republican party. He is doing a splendid job as mayor of Haverhill.

If he wants to advance his political career—as evidently he does—aspiration for a county commissionership is logical. There is no doubt in our mind that he would make a splendid commissioner. He has great energy, real executive ability, unimpeachable honesty, and a flair for public service.

The Gazette wishes him the best of luck in his quest for a commissionership and believes that, if the county can get Haverhill's knowledge of his qualities, the quest will be successful. But The Gazette regrets his decision not to seek the mayoralty again. Haverhill needs in the mayor's office a man of his ability.
