Willkie To Motor Through Shawsheen

Wendell Willkie, scheduled a week ago to motor through Andover Saturday morning, will zoom through on a train en route to Haverhill, but he'll motor through Shawsheen village about 10:30 on his way to Lowell from Lawrence. The revised schedule calls for him to make the train trip from Boston to Haverhill in a half-hour, so that he'll pass through Andover so fast that the train's cow-catcher and rear platform will be seen at the same instant. But his progress through Shawsheen will be more leisurely. He will speak in Lawrence at the Common at ten and then leave for Lowell where he will again speak briefly. His route will be down North Main street to Shawsheen square, thence up Lowell street.

TELL-TALES READY

The new Townsman Tell-Tales including the Standard time schedules of Boston-Andover train and bus service are now ready.

Unless someone monkeys with the calendar, Saturday, October 12th, will be the day we usually observe as Columbus Day in commemoration of that bold navigator who is credited with having found this grand continent upon which we are privileged to live. The Governor of Our Commonwealth has decreed that we shall make fitting observance of that day, already written into law as a legal holiday. This store will therefore be CLOSED ALL DAY SATURDAY, October 12.

LEGION COMMENDS FLAG RAISING

At the October 3 meeting of Andover Post 8, American Legion, it was unanimously voted to publicly commend Superintendent Kenneth Sherman for his work in initiating the flag raising exercises at all the schools in Andover at the opening of the school year, and to congratulate all others in the school system who had a part in this splendid exhibition of Americanism.

New Phone Rates Go Into Effect Next Wednesday

Next Wednesday a new telephone service whereby those Andover subscribers who wish it may secure unlimited service to Andover and limited service to Lawrence, Lowell, North Reading and Wilmington will go into effect here, it was announced officially Monday. Under this arrangement those who have few calls to Lawrence may keep the present service which is limited to Andover whereas those who make an appreciable number of calls to Lawrence may do so at less than the present monthly bill but more than the present Andover or Lawrence base rate.

The service applies only to one-party lines. The rate for a business telephone would be $6.00 per month, and this would pay for unlimited service to Andover and 40 message units to the four other communities. This is $1.50 per month more than the present Andover business base rate, so that any business man making over 30 calls per month to Lawrence would benefit. Additional message units are 4½ cents each.

The rate for a residence telephone will be $3.75 per month, pay-

Liquor Question

In the coming election as far as local issues are concerned Andover will be primarily interested in how Ev Collins makes out, but it will also be interested in how Tom Collins makes out. Tom's no relation to Ev, but two years ago he and his like were very much in the limelight, and in that election Tom was ruled out of all local drinking places, the Country club, Manor, and all the other places where hard liquors had been served for consumption on the premises.

There are many respectable people in Andover who enjoy a Tom Collins, a Martini, a Scotch and soda and the like. Two years ago many of them voted that no longer should these drinks with hard liquor components be sold for drinking on the premises. At the same time a really overwhelming majority voted that these same components could be sold here in package stores. The moral of this vote could have been only one thing: the great majority of Andover's residents did not wish to abridge the freedom of their fellowmen to drink what they wanted, but they did want to get rid of Andover's "joints."

In large part this was accomplished. Today we have a few places that could still be made to look more respectable, but by and large Andover has improved one hundred percent in its handling of the liquor problem. These "joints" can't come back even if Andover once again votes full license, and so there will be many who will vote three "yeses" because they wish to give such respectable places as the Country club and the Manor the privilege that they had enjoyed and respected up to two years ago.

If Andover does again vote full license, those who are given these licenses by the selectmen must bear in mind that they are privileges which the town can and will again take away if they are abused. We hold Andover on a level above other communities, and that means we want no "joints."

Andover Men Must Register Wednesday

Every Andover man between the ages of 21 and 35 will go to their local precinct houses next Wednesday between the hours of 7:00 a. m. and 9:00 p. m. to register for the draft. Within a few weeks after this date, it is expected that the names of the Andover men drafted will be known.

Andover men out of town on next Wednesday may register wherever they happen to be.

Yesterday Governor Saltonstall announced the appointment of the following draft board for Andover, Boxford and North Andover:

District 3, comprising Andover, Boxford and North Andover—Judge Frederic N. Chandler, Henry S. Hopper; Trial Justice Cornelius J. Mahoney, North Andover; Samuel F. Rockwell, North Andover; Walter J. Morse, Boxford; appeal agent E. Barton Chapin, Andover; medical examiner, Dr. Philip W. Blake, Andover.

ADVENTURERS MEET

The Adventurers got bumped off to a daisy of a start at their first meeting of the Fall season last Friday evening in the Log Cabin. Dances of all ages, including some of the new 1941 streamlined models, were experimented with by adventurous couples. Before the fun began, a short business meeting was held with G. Clifford Emmons, the new president, presiding.

Three one act plays will be presented December 10 and one three act play sometime in the Spring.

PUNCHARD PLAYS READING SATURDAY

The Punchard high school football team will travel to Reading on Saturday afternoon to play the high school team of that town in the first away from home contest of the season for the local boys. The Reading team defeated the Ipswich high team last Saturday by the score of 7 to 6, and seem to be on their way after successive losses to Johnson and Howe.

The local boys showed marked improvement last week in their game with Danvers, in comparison with their showing the previous week against Amesbury. The defense was really stubborn and the offense showed flashes, but lacked the consistency that is required in a real scoring punch. A few changes may be made this week and the team is expected to show to better advantage later.

Among those showing improved play on Saturday, we might mention Bob McDonald at tackle, Al Lynch at guard, Greene and Bab-icki at the wings, Buntin in the blocking position, Duke and Gus Connolly in the ball carrying assignment, and Collins in the passing slot.

BABY STOPS PRESS

Charlie Krall, Townsman press-man, prepared the final form for the press last Thursday. Then came a telephone call and Charlie rushed off to his home in Shawsheen Village. A half hour later he was back running the press again, Mrs.
Krall having presented him in the meantime with a baby boy—his ninth (9th) son. How many daughters? None.

Feeley-Towler

At a pretty four o'clock ceremony in the Christ church, Saturday, Miss Myldred Towler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Towler of 156 High street, became the bride of James Hugh Feeley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Feeley of Brooklyn, N. Y. Rev. Albert C. Morris performed the service.

The bride wore an embossed white satin gown, cut in princess style, and her tulle veil en train was caught with orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book. Mrs. John Manning and Miss Katherine McDonald, matron of honor, wore similar gowns of aquamarine faille taffeta and short veils. Miss Margaret Towler, a cousin of the bride, and Mrs. David Forbes, were the bridesmaids and they wore raspberry gowns. Millicent Gilchrist, the flower girl, combined the two shades of aquamarine and raspberry in her costume.

Charles Kirbey of Brooklyn, N. Y., was the best man, and the ushers were John and Wilfred Moriarty, cousins of the bride, Alton LaCross and Edward Kennedy of North Andover.

A reception followed in the Andover Country club after which the couple left on a trip to the White Mountains and Canada.

Mrs. Feeley is a graduate of Punchard high school and the MacIntosh school. She was employed in the Boston office of the Baltimore-American Insurance company. Mr. Feeley is manager of the New York office of the Equitable Life Insurance company.

At a private family ceremony performed by an uncle of the bride, Rev. Harry S. Lowd, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church in Merrimac, Miss Helen Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Foster of Chestnut street, became the bride of James P. Scobie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scobie of Lowell street, Saturday afternoon. The double ring ceremony was performed at the bride's family home which was prettily decorated in palms, chrysanthemums and other fall flowers. Mr. Foster gave his daughter in marriage.

With her gown of white faille taffeta trimmed with white velvet, the bride wore a becoming finger-tip tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and bougainvillea. Mrs. John U. Monro of Medford, the bride's sister, wore a pink faille taffeta gown trimmed with dubonnet velvet and carried dubonnet chrysanthemums. William Mahoney of Bridgeport, Conn., was the best man.

Previous to the ceremony, Robert Scobie, Jr., brother of the bridegroom, sang "Oh Promise Me" accompanied by John U. Monro who also played the wedding march.

The couple left on a motor trip through northern New England and will make their new home in the Argyle apartments in Shawsheen village.

Mrs. Scobie was graduated from Punchard high school and the Chandler Secretarial school. Mr. Scobie, also a graduate of Punchard high school, was graduated from Northeastern university.

WOMAN'S CLUB ENJOYS YOUNG MUSICAL TRIO

The young musical artists who played at the Shawsheen Woman's club meeting, Monday evening, in Balmoral hall presented a very fine program of songs, violin and piano selections. Rand Smith, soloist and president of the Young Artists association of Boston to which they all belong, opened the musical hour and was followed by the Bertolami sisters, Norma, pianist, and Viviani, violinist, who have already won great acclaim in the East and in New York for their talent. Miss Viviani is only fourteen years old.

Mrs. Frederick Smith presided at the business meeting during which reports were read by the various chairmen. Mrs. Charles Lynde invited all members who are interested to join the club chorus which rehearses every Tuesday evening. The group will sing November 1 at the meeting of the tenth district and in December at the North Andover Woman's club. The dramatic group will meet Thursday afternoons with Mrs. Lester Thompson on Argyle street.

Money raising projects planned for the season were announced by Mrs. Joseph Gagne, the first of which will be a rummage sale, October 18, in Lawrence.

News of Other Days

Ago 50 Years A real live bear lying in the gutter near the bridge in Ballardvale the other morning startled several early risers in spite of his social desire to shake hands with them. The frightened citizens were half expecting to see a "sinister" Indian appear on the scene with a bow and arrow, when a swarthy foreigner carrying a pole emerged from Haynes' store and called the friendly animal in some language that only they could understand. A very handsome specimen of grass was shown us by Daniel Cummings... it measures 6 feet 10 inches... Colver J. Stone of this town has been chosen a member of the Harvard College Glee Club.

25 Years Ago Miss Mary Zecchini and Miss Catherine Shea, who are training at the Arlington Heights hospital, spent Sunday at the former's home in Scotland district. Young Exhibit Attracts Many Visitors

Now in its third week, the exhibition of the work of the American artist, Mahonri M. Young, at the Addison Gallery of American Art has attracted visitors from many cities. Over fifteen hundred have seen the show. This is the largest retrospective exhibition of this versatile artist, the 63 year old grandson of Brigham Young, and includes paintings, bronzes, drawings, and prints. Of especial interest are the skilful bronze figures of workmen and prizefighters, and the drawings of many subjects, mostly of people, the artist has sketched abroad and throughout the United States.

ing for unlimited service to Andover and 30 message units to the other communities. This is $1.00 over the present base rate, so that anyone making over 20 calls to Lawrence would benefit. Additional message units are 4½ cents. There is a present plan whereby for a charge of $3.00 per month residence subscribers may have 50 calls either to Lawrence or Andover.

Calls to Lawrence go as one unit and to the other three communities two units. The initial period is five minutes, and the overtime period is five minutes for one-unit messages and three minutes for two unit messages.

This week the Public Utilities commission also announced that a hearing will be held Monday, October 28, at 2:15 at the State House on the question of the 70 call limit on foreign exchange business rates. This is held on complaints from Andover, Granville, Lowell, Stoughton and Hudson. Under the foreign exchange arrangement local business men pay around $20 per month and this gives 70 calls per month to Lawrence, the main difference between this and the new service being that Lawrence people may call the local business man without charge.

Meetings Of League Scheduled For Fall

"National Defense" will be the subject of the first fall meeting of the League of Women Voters to be presented by Dirk van der Stucken of the Phillips academy faculty. Luncheon will be served at 12:45 on Tuesday, October 15, at the Andover Inn and those unable to attend, may join the group for the lecture at 2:00.

On the fifteenth of November, Mrs. Frederick Butler is opening her house on Lowell street to the League and its friends for a meeting conducted by the Department of Economic Welfare on the subject, "Inter-State Barriers."

One of the League's most lively meetings will be the December luncheon to which are invited the new state legislators and Miss Margaret McSweeney, the State League's political expert, who will speak on her experiences with Boston politicians and her opinions on the political scene.

Before the season is over the League expects to offer its members a chance to inform themselves on state and national problems through its study groups. One of the most important of these will be a ten weeks' group on the Growth and Development of American Democracy which will be conducted by Miss Laura Smith of Abbot academy.

You save money by paying $2.00 a year for the Townsman.

Of interest to all Congregational women is the Friendly Service conference being held in the Free church Parish house this afternoon. Judson Cross, president of Tougaloo college, Tougaloo, Mississippi, will be the guest speaker.

The meeting is designed to show how the church helps underprivileged young people growing up in sections of our country where educational facilities are inferior to those in New England.

OLD Shoes Wanted For Barn Dancers

Talk about keeping up with the Joneses!—it won't be half as easy to keep up with the veteran barn dancers who are going to show their idea of reel fun at the Pynchard Alumni Barn Dance in the gymnasium, October 16. No sir! It will be a super test of pep endurance, and the best tip the committee—they've seen these prancers in action—can give is that loose, flat-heeled shoes, preferably pre-1940, be worn. Dances never before tried in town since the 1800's will be described by a caller who sure knows his stuff, and the music is the corniest, the barniest, hey-time rhythm that's ever been played off tune.

Feast To Follow Burning Of Toast

What happens "While The Toast Burns" will be shown at the South church, October 17, by a cast of five A. P. C. members who will prove that there is comedy in the tragedy of charred bread. Under the direction of Miss Mabel Marshall, Percy Crosby, Eleanor Bishop, Donald Look, Angelina Thiras and Mrs. Charles Ware have evolved into the Canby family to whom many delightful things happen in their dining room.

The pious sounding "The Feast of the Holy Innocents" is a character play picturing the events of a certain winter afternoon as related to the lives of the cast interpreted by Mae Elander, Louise Sherman, Mrs. George Abbott, Mildred Buck and Irene Morgan. This latter play is being coached by Mrs. Edward Buchan.

Between the acts, a group of living pictures will be presented under the direction of Miss Florence Gates, Ruth Whitehill and Lois Ferguson. Mrs. William Emmons is in charge of properties and Mrs. Richard Abbott, costumes. Irene Cole and Harriet Newman will have charge of tickets.

Caravan To Leave Andover For Willkie Boston Speech

Almost anything can happen these days! On Friday this week the Democrats in town are being invited to attend the Willkie Rally at Bee's Field in Boston. A caravan of volunteer cars, organized by the Independent Willkie Club of Andover, will pull out from the Independent Headquarters at 5:45 p. m., with people who, in spite of a leaning towards Roosevelt, are still open minded enough to want to see and hear Mr. Willkie in person. This attitude certainly shows a healthy tendency for people to think above and beyond party lines.

Abbot Academy Notes

Miss Baker Returns From England

Miss M. Dorothy Baker of Bath, England, teacher of English at the academy, arrived in New York on the "Sythia" last Thursday morning and has since resumed her duties at the school. Miss Baker, who has been on a year's leave of absence at her home in England, expects the English refugee students, which she selected from her school in Bath to be sent to Abbot, will arrive in the near future. Since the news of the torpedoing of the "City of Benares" has been published, she says, there have been practically no cancellations of requests to have children sent overseas.
