Bill Cunningham Here Next Thursday

"Did you read what Bill Cunningham said this morning?" Get into any discussion of public affairs anywhere today, and you'll almost always hear the noted Herald writer's name.

A week from tonight you won't have to read what he says; you can hear him. The Service Men's Fund committee has induced him to come to Andover to help out the fund, and he's going to spend some of his very-much-in-demand time at the Memorial auditorium, starting at 8.

Bill's subject is going to be "America at War." It's a big subject, but it's not big enough for Bill. He has asked not to be limited to that subject, because "chances are I might want to get off onto something else for a moment." But whatever he's talking on, he's well worth listening to.

'Restless Sculpture' At Addison Gallery

Have you heard the surprised cries of "What are these" which have been echoing through the cool hallways of the Addison Gallery during the last few weeks? The occasion for these suspicious comments are the "mobile" sculptures by one of the leading American sculptors of our day, Alexander Calder, which will be on exhibition at the Gallery until July 6th. These objects of different sized and shaped metal disks which are strung together and balanced with wires, make pleasant tinkling sounds when set in motion by the cool June breezes. Some of the large stately mobiles hanging from the ceilings of the exhibition rooms, have an impressive dreamy motion while some of the smaller ones merely jiggle.

In this new and fascinating type of sculpture, the artist has attempted to cut patterns from space rather than from a solid material. But the only way to understand them is to come and see for yourself. You will be intrigued and amused by this novel exhibition at the Addison Gallery, Phillips Academy, any weekday from 9 to 5 and any Sunday from 2:30 to 5.

Port Of Boston Band Coming Here

The Port of Boston Band will be one of the feature attractions at the Fourth of July week-end carnival, former selectman Howell F. Shepard having made the arrangements this week.

The band is one of the best in this section, numbering some fifty pieces. Mr. Shepard, who was one of the principal supporters of the band while he was with the Coast Guard, will furnish transportation to the band.

Two concerts will be presented, one Saturday afternoon at three and one Saturday evening at eight. The Service Men's Fund committee will provide the band with a luncheon.

Union Services To Start July 4

During the months of July and August, the South church and Free church will hold the usual union services. In July, the services will be at the Free church with Rev. Frederick B. Noss of the South church officiating. The first Sunday in July will be communion Sunday.

In August, the services will be held at the South church with Rev. Frank E. Dunn, new pastor of the Free church, in charge.

Over 100 Sign For Religious Education

The number of seventh and eighth grade pupils interested in taking the courses offered for religious education to date has reached 116. These courses are designed for the purpose of making more familiar the context of the Old and New Testaments to the Protestant girls and boys of our town. The classes will be held during the seventh period every Tuesday.

This program is under the supervision of the educational committee of the newly-formed Andover Council of Churches. Additional information concerning these courses or other matters in question may be had from the chairman of this committee, Mrs. Elton E. Smith, 134 Main street, telephone 1332-R.

Local Residents To Give Travelogues

For the afternoon travelog periods during the week's session of the Northern New England School of Religious Education, August 15-22, Mrs. Thaxter Eaton has arranged for the following speakers: Mrs. Eleanor G. Gutterson, "Our Hemisphere Neighbors"; Kenneth S. Minard, "Journey Into Maine"; Miss Miriam Putman, "Trip Thro Bookland"; Mrs. Frank L. Brigham, "Shawls of Many Lands"; Miss Fannie E. Davis, "Early American Art"; Dirk Van der Stucken, "Around the World Today."

The 6 to 8 year old group of the Observation school at the South church the same week is now complete, but, with that exception, applications for the enrollment of other children between the ages of 4 and 15 may still be made to Miss Harriet Newman, 121 Elm street.

BUSINESS FALLING OFF!

What's a feller going to do when he receives letters from customers like the one we received Tuesday? It said: "Will you please be good enough to cancel the advertisement which you ran in last week's issue offering for sale one bicycle as this was sold within three hours of the publication of the paper." Now if the advertising hadn't been so effective, maybe they would have run the ad another week.

Oh, well—maybe someone else will realize how effective it was, and will put in another ad.

Virginia Planes Black-out Area

A midnight practice air-raid last night with "enemy bombers" from Virginia overhead caught most of Andover doing what it should have been doing, napping—and apparently it caught some of the civilian defense workers doing the same thing. Early reports this morning tended to show that the mobilization of warden personnel was probably around 60 percent.

The street lights, according to Sergeant Ray Hickey, went out about 11:15, ten minutes before the audible signals starting blowing on the first blue alarm. The red signal came about 11:45, and the second blue at 12:11, with the all-clear at 12:22. The force of six Fortresses which blacked out some six Eastern states went over about midnight.

Howard Bredbury was on duty at the report center when the alarm came in, and he immediately started making his various calls. The center was fairly well-manned, although one worker came in 39 minutes after the alarm. Quite a few reported after the second alarm. Twenty incidents were 'phoned in by wardens for practice in communications. There were a few minor black-out infractions, mostly from lights having been left on by mistake.

Most of the average Andover populace were asleep, and many slept through the alarm. Those coming in on the midnight train from Boston had to wait, for the trains were held at North Station.

Playgrounds To Open On Next Thursday

What promises to be one of the busiest playground seasons yet will open on July first at the three local playgrounds. With transportation difficulties cutting down on trips, it is anticipated that more families will be sending their children to the playgrounds than ever before.

Miss Margaret Davis will again be in charge, and she will be assisted by the following staff: Eleanor Driscoll, Grace Boehner, Catherine Sweeney, Shirley Hay, Barbara Loomer, Katherine Walsh, Esther Elliott, Angie Dantos, Constance Cole.

Part-time evening workers will be: James Bisset, Edward Lefebvre and George Zink.

WITH THE BOYS IN SERVICE

Drill Team Minstrel Show Netted $300

Three hundred dollars more for you Andover boys and girls in the service! This time it's from the Clan Johnston auxiliary drill team—the entire profits of their recent minstrel show. If only you boys and girls could have been there to hear the jokes, the solos and the choruses and to see the specialties—but then you couldn't, and so the drill team did the next best thing, gave the profits to the Service Men's Fund. Maybe someday soon, you'll all be coming home to us again, and after you have told us your stories of a world at war, we can present you a welcome home pageant showing what people like the Clan auxiliary drill team did while you were away.

AT EASE!

Aviation Cadet Bradford Holt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Holt of South Main street, has graduated from pre-flight school at Athens, Ga., and has transferred to the Naval Air Station at Memphis, Tenn.

Mary Loosigian over at the town house has received official notification that her brother, Pvt. Peter Loosigian, has arrived safely at his overseas destination. Send a few more Andover men over and this thing will be over in jig time.

The Shawsheen Mill Mending room saw one and heard from two of its alumni now in the service. Private Jimmy Cahill, Jr., who has been at Camp Tyson, Tenn., visited his former co-workers while on here for a visit with his wife, the former Clarabell Mason of High street. Then Fireman 2/c Davis McKee, Jr., and Pvt. 1/c Joseph Davey, Jr., whose mail is taken care of by postmasters out on the west coast, both wrote to the mending room. "Fibber" remarked on reading about his fellow-workers and Joe too says he enjoys getting all the news about the rest of the boys.

Austin Basso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Basso, visited here recently. Austin is in the Merchant Marine, and his most recent trip was to Iceland.

And now it's Corporal Vincent Mahoney.

TOO MANY JOHN MADDENS!

Private John Madden likes The Townsman, but he'd rather not have us send it to him!

We received a letter Monday night from Camp Sibert, Alabama, signed by Pvt. John M. Madden, and reading as follows: "It seems that there has been a little confusion at Fort Devens, Mass. Ever since I left there to come to Camp Sibert I have faithfully received a copy of The Andover Townsman each week. It's really a nice little newspaper, but since I'm from Rhode Island it doesn't have much interest for me."

Our own John Madden was discharged from the service last week because of over-age. So as of next week no John Madden of the United States Army will receive the paper.

Alex Renny, he who not so long ago was doing a very good job of putting the ads together for The Townsman, graduated Tuesday from his very strenuous course in aviation mechanics down at Patterson, N. J. He was home for his second 36-hour leave in some nine months over the week-end. Also home, but from the too sunny south, is Sergeant David Petrie, he who used to sell and write the ads for Alex to set in type. Strangely Dave is also in aviation mechanics, too. Our ads must have wings.

Wilson Knipe, III, of 1 Stratford road, has been selected to attend a school for quartermasters, he having recently completed his basic naval training at Newport. Wilson attended Punchedard and Bucknell.

Sergeant John A. Daly of Los Angeles has been furloughing at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Daly. He has left for officers' candidate school, army administration, at Fort Washington, Md.

Pfc Roger L. Corriveau is working in the personnel office at Camp Campbell, Ky. "The weather here is quite warm, and I wish that we could feel the sea breeze once in a while."

T/4 Joseph W. Lawrence has moved on to Dale Mabry Field, Tallahassee, Fla., after having completed a special training assignment in Peoria, Ill., where he studied the repair and maintenance of earth-moving equipment.

Andover Wives See Husbands Off

Some Andover wives saw their husbands go off to join the service yesterday morning as the Selective Service machinery made its first serious inroads into the married men group. Attorney Vincent F. Stulgis was acting corporal for the contingent.

Included from Andover were: Alphonse H. Becotte, Police Sergeant David L. Nicoll, George H. Colburn, Postal Clerk Thomas J. Connolly, Benjamin C. Brown, Luther P. Leighton, Gardner R. Shaw, Thomas W. Low, Ralph J. Bolderson, John R. Daly, Frank J. Burgess, Allen C. Milnes, Zygmund Kupis, Thomas J. McCarthy, Joseph L. Catanzaro, William J. Dolan, Richard E. Sullivan and Mr. Stulgis.

Dick Steinert is attending radio school at the University of Wisconsin, having been transferred from Camp Sampson, N. Y.

David McDonald, seaman 2/c, has been having a few days off, and spending them with his parents on Upland road.

Back to his infantry division at Fort Jackson, S. C., has gone Jimmy Holden after having had a very nice ten days with his mother, Mrs. George Gordon, and his wife and son.

June Carmichael Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Boutwell of West Andover, is down at Lakehurst with the WAVES learning to be a parachute rigger. Her husband, Charles K. Fitzgerald, is a private in the army. Their home is in North Tewksbury.

Another of our young maidens has left to report for active duty with the WAACS. Miss Jean MacLeish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman K. MacLeish of Shawsheen road, is to be stationed at Fort Devens.

A piece of a Jap warplane, be it ever so small, is on exhibition at the proud home of Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson of Highland road. It was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Thompson by their son, Corporal James Thompson, Jr., from New Guinea. Jimmy's brother, Corporal Edward Thompson, is also stationed on New Guinea.

Private Alan T. Polgreen, stationed at Bradley Field, Windsor Locks, Conn., has been promoted to the rank of corporal technician. Corporal Polgreen is a local attorney and former chairman of the civilian defense committee.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Arthur T. Weiss, the former Ebon Bendroth, spent the week end with Mrs. Weiss' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bendroth of High street, Lieutenant Weiss, U. S. N. is stationed at Philadelphia.

Pvt Wilfred Lamontagne who is attached to the Engineering Corp at Bradley Field, Conn., recently spent a short furlough at the family home on Beacon street.

Pvt. Marshall Lamontagne is receiving treatment at the Chelsea Naval hospital following a serious operation.

Pfc Bill Muller in a uniform he didn't think he'd be wearing when he entered the service. But it's not going to be standard garb for Pfc's; it's just a kilt outfit that some relatives in Scotland fixed him up in when on a recent visit.

Lieutenant Kenneth Minard of the Andover State Guard Company, and Corporals Walter E. Mondale and John C. Moynihan of Company L, of Lowell, have been at the Guard school in Concord this week. Writes Corporal Moynihan: "After a half-week of 24-hour duty, I can truthfully say: 'You'd be so nice to come home to.'"

Fireman 3/c Bill Holland has been shifted from Newport to the Deisel engine school at Richmond, Va. But farther away though he may be, he still runs into Andover people. At a USO dance Saturday evening in Richmond, whom should he bump into but Jim Renny of Camp Lee, Va., a Punchedard classmate.

Ballardvale

Raymond Keating has returned to camp after spending a few days with his parents.

Andrew Townsend sure did enjoy swimming in the Shawsheen on Sunday.

Ralph Sakin from Maine and Harold Grant from Ohio swapped tales over the week end.

Carter's Corner

Another corporal becomes a sergeant... this time it's Raymond Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peters. He's somewhere in the Aleutians with the Army Air Force.

Benjamin Myers was one of Andover's happiest fathers on Father's day—he received greetings by telegram from his son, Corporal Ivan Myers, stationed somewhere in North Africa.

When Your Garden Does You Dirt!

It's time to send your clothes to a laundry. For it stands to reason that you can't spend hours daily in your garden, standing long watches at the observation post, give a day to sewing for the Red Cross or your church, and still have time to do your own washing.

Send your clothes to the Andover Steam Laundry where they will receive a careful, thorough cleansing. As near as your telephone—110.

WEDDINGS

Town Accountant Becomes Bride

Andover's well-known town accountant, Miss Mary Frances Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Collins of 36 Summer street, became the bride of Private First Class Charles Daniel Regan, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Regan of Lawrence at a nuptial mass at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning in St. Augustine's church celebrated by Rev. Clement J. Flynn, O.N.I., pastor of St. William's church, Tewksbury, a cousin of the bride. The bride was given away by her father and the double ring service was used.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. John A. Polgreen, as matron of honor. Arthur Regan of Lawrence was best man for his brother. The ushers were: John A. Polgreen, brother-in-law of the bride, Enos H. Farrington and William L. Coughlan, intimate friends of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a gown of white taffeta with fitted bodice and yoke of chiffon and lace ruching and full court train. Her finger tip veil was held in place with a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bride's bouquet of sweet peas.

The matron of honor wore a gown of heavenly blue chiffon and lace with pink headdress of flowers and veiling and she carried pink roses and sweet peas.

LONG DISTANCE CIRCUITS these days are very busy because of war! Keep them free for war business. The lines to these and other war centers outside New England are unusually congested. Please avoid any calls other than war messages — except in extreme urgency.

You can help, too, by canceling any long distance call when you are told that the circuits are busy. If you'll be considerate regarding non-essential calls, we'll be able to give all really essential calls, even to the busy places, prompt service.

Good Examples

Last week some O.P.A. inspectors were in town checking on motorists. We're not quite sure how they got here, but an incident that happened down in Stoneham makes us just a bit suspicious.

It seems that a couple of Sundays ago the town of Stoneham was having its monthly organ recital and concert at the Town Hall. Some 500 persons were present. Outside there were some O.P.A. inspectors checking on cars, and they stated that they had found 13 violations. Two nights later members of Rationing Boards from 16 cities and towns met at the same Town Hall, and outside there were 64 cars parked! The O.P.A. state director was there, and the audience listened to the same organ that it was apparently a crime to drive to on Sunday night. Small wonder that the Selectmen issued an order to the local police that they should not co-operate with the O.P.A.

The average citizen is getting pretty much fed up with the way the home administration of the war is being handled, and the boys who are in the service think even less of it. They have added enough supernumerary employees, inspectors of this and inspectors of that, to compose a good-sized army. There's a story going the rounds that the enemy has decided not to bomb Washington, because if they hit one office building, there'd be two other buildings still standing in which more government employees were doing exactly the same thing that was being done in the bombed building. Before the government starts breaking up families, it might be well for it to start breaking up the governmental family.

This Sober Town

Golly, what a trimming you take in barber shops these days. They've gone up to 75 cents for a man's haircut, and 60 cents for a boy's. They even charge you extra for a whiffle, apparently because it's more cutting; but they don't give the corollary break to bald or semi-bald men.

Apparently the reason for the 75 cent charge where it used to be 40 is that some 10 million customers are now having Uncle Sam cut their hair or not bothering to have it cut. The barbers' overhead still goes on, of course, with reduced volume, and since except for shaves all their work is overhead, this makes quite a difference with them.

But Uncle Sam in another week or so is going to give the weekly pay check quite a whiffle, and it wouldn't be at all surprising to find a good many men adopting the traditional poet's haircut. And at 60 cents there's a good chance for a boycott on the boy's cut.

We've been thinking of having new office hours for The Townsman staff, starting as early as 6:30 a. m. We received word this week that Associate Editor Jack Moynihan, who is spending the week at Concord in a State Guard non-com school, has been arising, or has been arisen, at 6 a. m. every morning. So don't be surprised next Monday morning if at 6:30 you see Jack walking through the square in a very military manner. On second thought, be surprised; we'll be surprised if we see him at that time, for two reasons: first, him, and second, us.

Library Extends Vacation Privileges

Do you know about the library's liberal vacation loan privileges? All books except recent fiction and non-fiction or books in great demand, may be borrowed until September 15. There is no limit to the number of books that may be loaned on vacation loan.

If you live at a distance, you will want to make each visit to the library count. Why not choose a supply of books which will provide your family with adequate reading for the Summer? You will find the library staff very glad to help you in the selection of your family's vacation reading.

Take advantage, too, of the low postal rates. Books too new or too popular to be issued on vacation loan may be mailed back to the library should it be impossible for you to return them personally within the two week loan period. Simply see that they are carefully wrapped so that they will reach the library in good condition. If you wish, the library will provide you with mailing labels.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

(With apologies to Mr. Ripley)

We have just about reached the meatless week we predicted four weeks ago. So far this week we have been unable to buy any Beef, Pork or Lamb and this is the week the retail prices of meats are ordered to be reduced five cents a pound. Prices could be reduced twenty-five cents a pound with the same result—NO MEAT TO BUY.

WHAT CAUSES THE CONFUSION?

The cattle raisers say they cannot produce Beef, Pork and Lamb for the price which the OPA says must be their ceiling. The meat packers say they will not process the meat because it is below their actual cost of operation. Both of these powerful groups in the food industry say the subsidy to be paid to them and the rolling back of prices is all wrong and may wreck the food industry.

We have in the United States today three great strikes. First, the Coal Strike, second, the Meat Packers' Strike and third, and the greatest strike of all—the Cattle Raisers'. All of these groups are vital to the winning of the war and the retaining of our American freedom. It won't be long before we shall have a fourth strike—that will be a strike of the real American people. This strike will end all strikes and put an end to all this uncertainty of living and disruption of production.

Grocery Department

Unlike the above description of the meat situation this department is walking on air. Two separate shipments came in Wednesday morning comprised of jams, Blackberry, Currant, Raspberry, Guna jelly, Orange Marmalade, Loganberry, Black Raspberry jam, Mayonnaise, Relishes, Ice Cream Mix, Cola Syrup, Honey, Gelatines. Now, we're not crying, at least not this week. WARNING—Hurry, if you want any of the above named articles. They won't stay long on our shelves these days.

PLANT A "BIG SIX"
VICTORY GARDEN

Easy to grow — rich in vitamins!

Plant a Victory Garden in your own back yard. And "Big 6" vegetables are what the government wants you to raise

... because they're so easy to grow ... so rich in body-building vitamins and minerals. Besides, you'll get plenty of healthful exercise, plus the satisfaction of helping Uncle Sam's food production program.

Give these "BIG 6" vegetables first consideration!
(write your State College and ask "when" and "how" to plant)

1. TOMATOES . . . The "utility" vegetable that can be used in so many ways. High in food value, too.
2. SNAP BEANS . . . Eat them garden fresh all summer long. For variety plant both green and yellow types.
3. CARROTS . . . Colorful in slaws and salads. Highly beneficial when eaten raw. Good in soups—stews.
4. CABBAGE . . . Fine for boiled dinners and casserole dishes.
Tasty in cole slaws and salads.
5. LETTUCE . . . The mainstay of the salad course. Adds color and zest to sandwiches.
6. GREENS . . . Especially rich in minerals. Plant swiss chard and varieties of spinach.
