Townies Win By Two-Run Margin

Before the largest gathering ever to witness one of its games, the Andover Town Team, Sunday afternoon at the playstead, whitewashed the Haverhill All-Stars by a score of 2 to 0.

Bob Burnham, No. 1 pitcher for the town team, was in exceptionally good form, and held the All-Stars to five hits, four of which were scratch infield bingles, one a triple by Marr of the visitors. Marr was left stranded on third.

Burnham had six strikeouts against only one base on balls, and was in command of the situation throughout.

The Townies gathered ten hits from the hurling of Mazza of Haverhill. Walter Gartside hit 'em hardest, getting a double and a single, while Charlie Foster and Whitey Munroe got two singles apiece.

SAILOR IS PRISONER

Word that their son, George Thayer Burrige, 28, is a prisoner of war, held by the Japanese in the Philippine Islands, was received this week by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Burrige of Bancroft road.

Burrige had been listed as missing since early last year. A member of the Navy for nine years, five of which had been in the Pacific theatre, he was at Corregidor while it was besieged, and was there promoted to the grade of chief radio man.

News of his present status came in a cablegram from the Navy and Red Cross, by way of Geneva, Switzerland.

Signal School To End This Saturday

Army Men Trained In Teletypewriter Use Here

(The following account of the communications school in Andover is an official release from the Office of the Signal Corps in Washington. Presence of such trainees here has been more or less an open secret for the past few months, and this is the first authoritative account of the training program that has been given.)

Once more, as they did during Revolutionary and Civil War days, the hallowed walks of 165-year old Phillips Academy at Andover, Massachusetts resound to the march of tramping feet. This time the marching feet are those of a class of Army Service Forces Signal Corps enlisted men who are being trained in the intricacies of teletypewriter maintenance.

Chosen from among those who have completed their basic military training and who have shown promise during a fundamental course in teletypewriter repair, the Signal Corps soldiers are housed and fed in Graves Hall of the Academy. Their class rooms are situated in the administration building of the American Woolen Company about a mile from their quarters.

WAAC Band To Play At Playstead Saturday

By reason of arrangements completed just a short time ago, the WAAC band from the Fourth WAAC training center at Fort Devens will give two concerts in Andover Saturday in connection with the Servicemen's Fund carnival.

The band will arrive at the town hall Saturday afternoon at 2:30, and will parade from there to the playstead at 3:00. They will give a concert later in the afternoon, and will afterwards be guests at a luncheon given by the Association.

Another concert will be given from 7:45 to 8:15 Saturday evening. The special dance orchestra formed from WAAC band members will play for dancing in the Memorial auditorium Saturday evening. Tickets they may care to ask.

Lt. Helen Corl, recruiting officer in charge of the Lawrence office of the WAAC, will be at the playstead in the afternoon and evening to meet applicants for the women's army to answer any ques-

Carnival For Fund Continues Friday

Scored Great Success Over Holiday Weekend

The Servicemen's Fund carnival, which ran into a spell of bad weather Monday and had to remain closed that day, will make up for it by being in full operation again Saturday afternoon and evening and Friday night.

Because of the postponement, a considerable amount of merchandise which would have been sold Monday is still in the stockroom, and the carnival authorities think it would be well to continue a day or two to dispose of it.

The rides will be open again, and the midway will be open both nights, with stage shows at 10:00 p. m. The committee is now on the job finding one or two stellar attractions for both days.

The carnival was an outstanding success last weekend, and those who directed and assisted in it are to be congratulated.

The door prizes which were to have been awarded last Sunday will be given out Friday night, and Monday's drawing will be made Saturday night. Come one, come all.

The week-end's activities were highlighted by the parade, contests

No Outdoor Opera In Andover This Season

In response to many inquiries the directors of the Andover Opera Garden have stated with regrets that there will be no Gilbert and Sullivan operetta in the Garden this summer, due to the restrictions on gasoline and the dimout, but that outdoor operettas will be resumed after the war.

Many of the young men who took part in the performances the past two years are now in the armed forces. Other members of the group are exceptionally busy this summer.

The many friends of the Opera Garden will be interested to learn that an article describing the garden will appear soon in the American Home Magazine, written by Miss Ethel M. Eaton of Boston, feature writer for the Christian Science Monitor.

A large group of prospective inductees, not the largest in recent months but still of substantial numbers, will leave the offices of Local Board 3 for the Boston induction station next Tuesday morning. Those accepted will be granted the usual week's furlough before leaving again for active duty.

Nearly all the men in the quota are married or have only recently attained the minimum draft age. Among the latter group are several boys who graduated from Punchard or Phillips only last month.

Ralph C. Sturke, former local teacher who became superintendent of schools in North Reading last year, is a member of the group.

Another member, John G. McDonald, son of Postmaster and Mrs. John H. McDonald of 123 Chestnut street, has already served in the army during World War II. After a serious accident which before Pearl Harbor, he had served for 11 months in Panama, hospitalized him for more than six weeks, he received his honorable discharge from the service. At present he is a letter-carrier for the local postoffice.

Those to be sent for induction are:

From Andover: William B. Auld, Jr., Boston road; Earl A. Baker, Jr., 10 Sterling street; Richard W. Baker, Jr., 21 Pine street; Arthur J. Beer, Jr., 3 Summer street; Harold W. B. Bendroth, 17 High street; Francis W. Botsch, 3 Sterling street; Frederick M. Boyce, Jr., 154 Main street; Phillip A. Bryant, South Main street; Donald S. Burns, 267 South Main street; Wil-

Complete Chapter 90 Work for This Year

Chapter 90 work for the present year, done partly with state and county funds, has been completed by Board of Public Works crews. A section of Haverhill street, from High street to the North Andover line, was coated with heavy tar, and a 2600 foot stretch on River road below Laurel lane received similar treatment. All roads built with Chapter 90 funds and the catch-basins on them, have been cleaned.

At present several local roads are being reinforced by blanketing with sand. B. P. W. workers have also been engaged this week in installing playground apparatus.

WITH THE BOYS IN SERVICE

THE POETS' CORNER

Men aren't the only ones who can reasonably complain about army life, if we can believe the thesis of a poem recently sent by Lt. Mary Winslow of the Army Nurses Corps, now serving overseas, to her mother, Mrs. George H. Winslow of Lowell street.

Mary didn't write the poem herself; a fellow-nurse did. But Mary, we are informed, joins in the sentiment with alacrity. The poem:

NURSING A GRUDGE

I think that I shall never see
An Arab dirtier than me,
A nurse whose hungry mouth is filled
With hash and beans and atabrine pills.
A nurse who stays in bed all day,
With sunburned nose and hair turned gray—
A nurse who wears her G. I. clothes
And how she lives, nobody knows.
She washes clothes upon the rocks,
And daily combs her dirty locks,
A nurse who never hears from home
How her true love may choose to roam.
Girls are made to stay at home;
Lord help the dope who chose to roam.

Being in something of a poetic mood ourself, we took the liberty of adding another verse—verse, if anything, than the foregoing:

When e'er our army's in reverse,
The burden falls upon the nurse.
She gives us sulfa drugs and plasma
From Pantelleria to Vyazma.
She may be covered with dirt and vermin—
We still prefer her to a German.

pite hardships and discomforts to be a happy-go-lucky guy."

Lt. Williard H. Currier, late of the infantry, is with headquarters battery at the mountain training center at Camp Carson, Colo. Mrs. Currier is residing in Colorado Springs.

Fred Sanborn of the AAF has been shifted from Salt Lake City to Gerger Field, Spokane, Wash.

Pvt. Charlie Shorten of Elm court took a big jump recently—Orlando, Fla., to Fort Lawton, Wash. He's with the AAF.

Johnny Sweeney, A.S., USN, son of the Arthur Sweeneys of 64 Central street, is now in the Naval training unit at Bates College. With him are Bob McDonald, son of the Bernard L. McDonalds of Chestnut street, and Steve Thiras, son of the Charles Thiras of Up-land road.

Arlene Rutter of the WAVES, daughter of the Harold Rutters of Canterbury street, has finished basic training at Hunter college, N. Y., and is now attending a technical school at Norman, Okla.

A. C. Bob Cowan, Punchard '34, is now studying at Fletcher Field, Clarksdale, Miss.

And Pvt. Al Souter is with a casual company at Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Cpl. Frank Sweeney is making music in the Army as well as out of it. Down at Bradley Field in Connecticut, he beats the drums for the 96th Air Forces Band and plays the piano in an orchestra made up of band members, which plays for social functions.

A. C. Joe Serio, son of the Frank Serios of Lowell Junction, has entered the Advanced Navigation School at Selman Field, Monroe, Louisiana. Joe, who attended Punchard high school, was employed by Watson-Park before entering service.

Sic Jimmy Coleman has returned to Navy duty after a few days with the folks on Florence street.

A. C. Harris Richardson has completed another leg of his journey towards becoming an Army pilot, recently finishing basic flying school at Courtland, Ala., and being transferred to the advanced flying course given at Craig Field in the same state.

Pvt. Bill Moore, son of the James Moores of 58 Morton street, who graduated from Punchard only last month, has reported for active duty in the Enlisted Army Reserves at Fort Devens.

Dick Sherry, Ballardvale Merchant Mariner, sent Mrs. Sherry wedding anniversary greetings June 28 from Clydebank, Scotland, where he was visiting several of her relatives.

Dick Caldwell, Navy electrician 2c, has returned to Virginia after a ten-day leave with the folks, Mr. and Mrs. James Caldwell of Up-land road.

A. C. George Williams of Whittier street graduated recently from his course at Maxwell Field, Ala., and has begun his primary training at another AAF field.

S. Sgt. Tyler Perry and Mrs. Perry, until recently Miss Norma Armitage of Lawrence, have returned to Texas and taken up residence there.

Cadet John W. Reading, in Nashville, Tenn., has been classified for pilot training in the AAF. He was ill and confined to the station hospital recently for several weeks.

Pfc Joe Sheehy's on the move again, this time on maneuvers in Louisiana. He says it's so hot down there that when a soldier wants warm water for shaving, he just fills his helmet and lets it stand in the sun for a few minutes. . . . That reminds us of the Boca Raton soldier who wrote home that he was a member of the A.E.F.—Army Exiles in Florida.

Nice letter from A. C. Andy Lindsay of Shawsheen, who thanks us for the Townsman. Even his room-mates like it, he says. As for Naval flight study in Middletown, Conn., the work is hard but congenial, and the food is swell.

Don Urban has moved from CENSORED to a new fleet repair base in the Atlantic area. He's a motor machinist's mate, 2c, if we read those initials right.

Hilarious letter from Don Look, still a cook at the Navy's boot camp at Sampson, N. Y., tells us that his unit has scrambled eggs for breakfast three times a week, and when they do, he has to crack 8000 personally. When they have French toast, he goes barmy after flipping the 4800th piece. He can understand, sez he, why we're starving here at home.

A. C. John Thomas, who enlisted only a year ago in the AAF ground forces, and was later selected for aviation cadet training, has finished Step I in his course of pilot training. He has just completed basic, at Maxwell Field, and has been transferred for primary to the picturesque-sounding Cape Girard-

ABOUT THAT KNIFE

Last week, we published a brief request for a sheathed hunting knife with a heavy blade from six to eight inches long, needed badly by a South Pacific serviceman, and unobtainable at any store in these parts.

The paper had hardly hit the street when Archie Dumont of Ballardvale called up to say that he had one that might fill the bill. Next morning around nine, Harold Rafton came in with one he had had from boyhood. At 1:00 Friday afternoon, Chief Dane appeared with one, confiscated by the police, which had been kicking around the station for quite a while. At 2:30 a youngster dropped in to inquire whether we needed another.

We called the serviceman's mother, who came in and picked out Mr. Rafton's knife as the most suitable. The other knives have been returned, but any serviceman that wants one has only to holler.

The funny part of the whole matter is that it's illegal to carry a knife with a blade more than four inches long in these parts. Chief Dane's knife had a four-inch blade, but the others were designed strictly for mayhem.

Pvt. Reggie Gallant, son of the Joseph Gallants, is also home on a short leave. He was tendered a surprise birthday party Monday night at his home. Reggie's been stationed at Atlantic City, but expects a new assignment when he goes back.

The Fred Richards' have received a V-mail letter from their son, Frank (pictured on this page)—their first in three months. About all he says is that he's well, and that he was writing from a small island enroute to somewhere else.

Pvt. Gerry Candela is spending a few days with his wife, at the home of the George Bernards, from Wilcox Bombing Range in Arizona. And Pvt. Vincent Stulgis, late of Cheever circle, is with an artillery outfit at Camp Edwards.

Carnival

and baseball game Sunday afternoon, all of which drew a large throng of spectators.

Easily 350 were in the parade's line of march. The route followed was from the park to Whittier street to Elm street to the Square to Main street to Punchard avenue to Bartlet street to the playstead. John Deyermond served as chief marshal.

Sgt. William R. Hickey led a squad of seven policemen at the head of the parade, followed by the color guard of the Punchard Girls Band, four standard bearers and two honor guards. Following were the band itself and a company of soldiers under arms from Camp Andover, wearing helmets, field packs, leggings and web belts. Two companies of the State Guard, representing Andover and North Andover, followed the army contingent. The North Andover Guardsmen, led by Lt. Clayton Bolderson, and the local outfit, headed by Capt. H. Garrison Holt and Lt. Clifford Emmons, wore chino summer uniforms and overseas caps, with field packs.

NEW POSTOFFICE HOURS

The local postoffice will begin its regular summer schedule, which will be in effect the rest of this month and all of August, on Saturday. Closing time Saturdays hereafter will be 2:00. The collection and dispatch of the mails will be at the same times as heretofore.

An auxiliary police group with white helmets and clubs were next in line, followed by a civilian defense delegation, the V. F. W. its color guard, and auxiliary, and a Red Cross delegation headed by C. Carlton Kimball, local chairman.

The Red Cross group was preceded by a standard bearer carrying its flag, and included nurses' aide, motor corps and other Red Cross workers in colorful uniforms.

Nert in line was the Legion color guard and its 25-piece bugle and drum corps, led by three snappy majorettes. Marching behind the Legion was a group from the local post of British Empire War Veterans and a large group of aircraft observers.

Making quite a hit with the sidewalk watchers, at the rear of the parade, were a child dressed as Uncle Sam, and two children garbed as a soldier and a sailor, bearing a stretcher between them.

The parade adjourned at the playstead for a series of contests and games.

Winners of the three-legged race opening the program were Arthur Carson and Alan Chadwick, with Arthur Jowett and John Deyermond a close second.

A balloon race for children was won by Jackie Eastman and Johnny Winters in that order, and the fat man's race saw Norman Macleish beat out Charles McKay and John Deyermond without too much difficulty.

The pipe race resulted in quite a scramble, and had to be run off twice because of wholesale disqualifications. The contest called for a man to pick up a pipe at one spot, race to another for tobacco, light up at a third point, and return smoking to the starting point. Benjamin Garneau was eventually declared the winner, with Charles Sawyer as runner-up.

The pie-eating contest characteristically drew the largest number of contestants, most of whom were well smeared after the first minute of competition. John Winters was declared the winner with John Craig second, but the consensus was that everyone had enjoyed the repast.

Piggy-back race winners were Jack Eastman and Jack Turner, first, and Jay O'Connor and Ted Foster second.

A beer-drinking contest, which proved a popular feature, called for the men to pick up bottles of beer at the first stop, openers at the second, to open the bottles at third and pour out a glass, and reach home with the full glass and the bottle. Thomas Wrigley was declared the winner, mainly because the other contestants didn't wait to reach home plate before sampling the beverage.

After the contests, a large number of the audience adjourned to the baseball field to watch the game getting underway there.

WEDDINGS

Trott—Douty

At a candlelight ceremony Saturday in the South church, Miss Elizabeth Douty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Douty of Salem street was united in marriage with Staff Sergeant Allan R. Trott, U. S. A., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Trott of 85 Central street.

Rev. Frederick B. Noss performed the ceremony at the altar, which was banked with white lilies, summer hydegrangea and green pine. A reception followed in the church vestry, decorated for the occasion with green flowers and white candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore traditional white satin with a fingertip veil of tulle caught to a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and white sweet peas.

Her maid of honor, Miss Eva Merritt of Somerville, was gowned in petal pink net trimmed with lace, and carried pink roses and delphinium.

The four bridesmaids were gowned alike in powder blue taffeta and carried arm bouquets of red roses and delphinium. They were Mrs. Stanwood Spofford of West Newbury and Miss Marion Scherner, Miss Norma Matthews and Mrs. Walter H. Partridge (Dorothy Trott) of Andover.

Two small nieces of the bridegroom, Karen Trott of Reading and Joyce Partridge of Andover, served as flower girls wearing period frocks of frosted organdy in blue and pink, made with sweetheart necklines and bodices edged in lace, and carrying Colonial nose-gays.

The bride's mother wore gardenias with her gown of rose jersey, and the bridegroom's mother was gowned in blue sheer over crepe, with a gardenia corsage.

HERE AND THERE

Tonight the Townies meet St.
Anne's at 6:15 at O'Sullivan Park, Lawrence. Sunday they play the Amesbury Athletic Club, in Ames-bury. Negotiations are also being completed for games with the Camp Devens nine and the Colored All-Stars of Boston, the dates to be announced in the near future.

The town team is one of the steadiest benefactors the Servicemen's Fund association has. Receipts from the old-timers days last year and this year, the recent game with Phillips Academy, and Sunday's contest, making a sizeable total, were turned into the Fund.

Sunday's banner crowd was well satisfied with the way the team handles itself, and the fans will probably follow the rest of the schedule with enthusiasm.

In recent weeks the Town Team has gotten two valuable additions from last season's Phillips nine, now here for the summer school.
They are Artie Moher, infielder and captain-elect, and Bardee Smith, outfielder. The boys were badly needed, since Tom Low, regular third-baseman, is now in the Army, and Doug Dunbar is with the Navy at Hobart college.
Hal Walker, pitcher and infielder, expects to leave for the Navy July 15.

The draft has hit the town team so bad that, of last year's 18-man squad, only three are left—George Cargill, Drumie Bissett and Buddy Done.

Hope

Something has happened recently in the Federal Government which you haven't heard much about yet, but which we expect you will hear a great deal about as time goes on. Everyone knows about the impressive record against waste and extravagance that the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Associations has built up in the last few years. It was organized at a time when it was badly needed, during the Curley regime, and at that time proved quite an obstacle in Mr. Curley's desires in regards to squandering the public's money. At present it is held in very high repute by the State Administration, which under Governor Saltonstall has lent a ready ear to suggestions made by the Federation.

Here in Andover, and in numerous other communities throughout the state there is a local Taxpayers Association which endeavors to work with the duly elected officials to keep the tax rate as low as it is possible, consistent with good town government.

But as we all know and as will be emphasized for us in our future pay checks, the Federal Government is costing far more than it should. The trouble has been, mainly, that there have been plenty of organizations seeking increased Federal expenditures, but no organization which has been working effectively to eliminate wasteful spending. The Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Associations has joined with similar organizations in thirty-three other states for a coordinated attack on federal extravagances, and this move should be very encouraging to the harassed taxpayer.

With the local association your function has been to lend support to the work principally by attending Town Meetings and voting for economical administration. There are no Federal Town Meetings, but the new taxpayers group is going to have to ask for your support in as nearly a Town Meeting manner as can be secured in Federal development. From time to time you will be called upon to express your opinions to your Senators and Representatives. Don't think that this is unimportant. It is only through organized effort that waste and extravagance can be curtailed.

DEATHS

A well-known resident here for the past 45 years, John Daly, 66, of 96 North Main street, was found dead in his home last Thursday afternoon. He had formerly been employed by the Board of Public Works, but had been confined to his home for the past several years.

His daughter, Miss Julia M. Daly, is employed in Boston, and Mr. Daly had been alone during the entire day. A Mrs. Spencer who lives in the same building, returned from her work about 3:00, and became alarmed when she did not hear any movement in the adjoining apartment. She waited until her husband came in, at 5:00, and asked him to see whether anything was wrong. He found Mr. Daly lying on the kitchen floor. A doctor was summoned, and pronounced him dead.

Survivors include a daughter, Julia M. Daly; two sisters, Mrs. Annie Harnedy of Andover and Mrs. Mary Cronin of Ireland; and a brother, Timothy, of Ireland.

The funeral was held from the Burke funeral home Saturday morning, with a solemn high mass of requiem at 9:30 o'clock in St. Augustine's church. Rev. Matthew F. McDonald, O. S. A., was celebrant, Rev. Henry B. Smith, O. S. A., deacon and Rev. Francis Fenton, O. S. A., sub-deacon. Burial was in St. Augustine's cemetery.

NEWS OF OLD ANDOVER

50 YEARS AGO. Andover had its first "blackout"—only because of an accident at the power station which plunged the whole town into darkness. John Aiden was recovering from a severe attack of the grippe. Haymaking was in full swing, and the berry paths were filling. Main street below Stinson's bridge, was getting some needed repairs. The selectmen announced the tax rate, $17. Oh, happy days! Perley Gilbert took a summer job with a Boston architect. He evidently took a fancy to the work. The union church picnic was to take place at Canobie Lake August 12. Thomas Murphy, the baker, was now making his own ice-cream. A larger ell was being put on the Salem street Foster residence. E. B. Trefry of Campion's store was one of 39 clerks winning a free trip to the World's Fair from a wholesaler.

25 YEARS AGO. Rev. Frederick S. Riordan, and Rev. William W. Donovan left St. Augustine's for new assignments, and Rev. John A. Nugent assumed his new duties as pastor. Mrs. Marlborough Churchill spoke on her experiences in France before an interested town hall audience. The Chautauqua concerts were in their second week. A. P. Thompson was expecting to go to France with the Red Cross. The Fred Ladds were vacationing in Maine. James P. Christie returned to the Merchants National Bank after his vacation. Lieut. James B. Gillen was transferred to this new tank service. Colver Stone was appointed assistant appeal agent for the draft board. Arthur Jenkins had a weekend leave from Navy duty. L. W. Muise arrived in France with the engineers. J. P. West was running an Andover-Lawrence jitney.

10 YEARS AGO. H. Gilbert Franke, chairman, resigned from the school committee because of the pressure of business. The David Blacks were motoring to the Chicago World's Fair. It was an old-time Fourth, with a bonfire the "night before" and fireworks on the holiday evening. There were now only about 10 able-bodied men on the welfare rolls. The local Legionnaires were bringing the state drum corps competition to Andover again. The Charles Fettes were celebrating their silver wedding anniversary. The Margaret Slattery class picked at Cobbett's Pond. Stephen Stackpole, former local boy, joined the Gov. Dummer faculty.

Webster Appointed Mail Messenger

Appointment of Dale E. Webster of 31 Pine street as local mail messenger was confirmed in the postoffice department, Washington, D. C., this week. Mr. Webster, who has been employed at the local theatre for some years, was one of eight offering bids for the job.

The post calls for several trips daily between the postoffice and the railroad station, and between the Andover and Shawsheen post-offices. Daniel P. Webster, recently retired, had been the local messenger for nearly two decades.

ICEBOX IS MISSING

Burglars have been known to steal some unlikely-sounding articles in their time, but the prize should go to the person or persons who made off with the refrigerator from the PAE house at Phillips Academy, sometime within the past two weeks.

The refrigerator stood four and a half feet high, indicating that at least two people, and possibly more, were involved in its theft. The caretakers at the house returned after a two weeks absence to find a door and a window open, and the icebox missing. They reported it to the local police Tuesday.

MORE "AT EASE"

Mr. and Mrs. Telesphore Mailoux of Topping road have received word from their son, Pvt. Donat Mailoux, that he has arrived "safe and well", at a destination overseas. His "good luck" was still with him he says, without adding details. Donat's been at Fort McClellan, Ala., Camp Butler, N. Car., and finally Camp Ord, Calif., his last station before going overseas.

Cpl. Fred Eldred writes the Fund association that he's now in a light bombardment squadron at Gainesville, Ia., Fla. He had been at Boca Raton in Florida previously, attending an advanced radio school and reading the home-town news in The Townsman in his spare time. He wrote on the Fourth of July, and said it was "just another day" in the Army.

WEDDINGS

Sweeney-Barrett

At a pretty ceremony Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in St. Michael's church, Lowell, Miss Bernadette F. Barrett of 22 Shedd street, Lowell, became the bride of Corporal Francis B. Sweeney, U. S. Army Air Forces, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Sweeney of 43 Summer street. Rev. Fr. Keenan officiated.

The bride wore a silk marquisette gown with lace insets and a long train, and a shoulder-length veil attached to a feathered head-dress.

Her maid of honor, Miss Marie Sweeney, sister of the groom, wore a red and white silk marquisette gown and shoulder-length veil.

Francis Barrett, seaman, second-class, U. S. Navy, brother of the bride, was best man for Corporal Sweeney.

Following a reception at the Hi-Hat Melody Room in Lowell, the couple left on a wedding trip to New York and The Veils. Mrs. Sweeney will reside with her parents for the present.

The bride is a graduate of Lowell high school. The bridegroom, a graduate of Plover high school, is attached to the 7th Air Force band at Bradley Field, Windsor Locks, Conn.

Mrs. A. D. Calhoun and A. D. Calhoun, Jr., are guests at the New Weston in New York City.

Will Someone Please Explain This Situation To Us?

TODAY we have in this country more meat cattle on the hoof than we ever had.

TODAY the prices of meat have been rolled back about five cents a pound.

TODAY red points for meats have less value than they ever had.

TODAY we have food control administrators.

Yet, TODAY, the shortage of fresh meat here in New England is at the lowest point it has ever been. WHY IS THIS?

TODAY we are very busy trying to buy fresh meat for the weekend, so if you know the reason for this condition, please wait and come in tomorrow and tell us.

Grocery Department

Well, there's the above statement written by a man who has been in the food game, man and boy, for 62 years. Make no mistake about it, he knows what he's talking about. Patience is what is needed by everyone, patience, patience, more patience. He is not a miracle man. When one considers insofar as food is concerned, that the war has reached into its 18th month and this store is only now beginning to feel the acute pinch of shortage, I'd say he has been a miracle man to have supplied the citizens of Andover until now with the products to which they have been so long accustomed.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cheswell of Amesbury have announced the marriage of their daughter, Ruth Cheswell, to Charles A. Hill, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A.
Hill of 13 Chestnut street.

The ceremony took place June 12 in the Haverhill Baptist church.
The couple were attended by Lieut.
Harry Goodchild, U.S.N.R., and Mrs. Goodchild, of Amesbury.

The bride is a graduate of Ames-bury High school. Mr. Hill is a graduate of Phillips academy with the class of 1935, and Amherst college, where he was a member of Phi Delta Theta. He is now assistant personnel manager at the Merrimack Hat Corporation in Ames-bury.

Soldiers

This specialized Signal Corps training is conducted by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company. The Signal Corps provides the equipment.

The program opened March 31, and will be brought to a close Saturday. It consists of a series of eight-week courses with about 25 men in each class. Graduates of the course will qualify as "foremen" for teletypewriter maintenance crews. Twelve students of each class who seem best fitted will receive additional training for three and a half weeks and will be graduated as "supervisors."

The teletypewriter is one of the basic means of Army communications. It is used with the wire or radio circuits and has a top transmission speed of about 75 words a minute. Typing on one machine, will cause the keys on another machine which may be thousands of miles away, to strike out a message.

Signal Corps students have the use of the facilities of the Academy. These include the library, art gallery, and the playing fields.

Phillips Academy is the oldest boarding school in America and is one of the two largest in the country. It stands on its original site, and has a student body representing forty-three states and eleven foreign countries. The Bell Tower, erected in memory of the school's 75 World War I dead, stands on what is known as the Training Field, so called because during both the Revolutionary and the Civil War it was used as a drill ground for students. It was also on this field that George Washington, who sent a nephew and eight grand nephews to the Academy, addressed the body in 1873.

Paul Revere designed the seal of the Academy and John Hancock signed its act of incorporation.

Mrs. Anna Hess has returned to her home in Norwich, Conn., after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown of Andover street, Bal-lardvale.

Mrs. Alexander Ness and her daughter, Marilyn, have left to visit relatives in Florida.

Mrs. John Buchan of Lincoln street is summering at her cottage at Seabrook Beach, N. H.

Having Trouble Getting Help?

So are we. Like you, we're faced with the biggest production job in our history. And, like you, we've lost many of the men who used to help us.

Yet that's only part of the story. Every day, on farm and factory, there's something new to test the skill of those running the business. Not only getting help, but—to mention a few others—rising costs, making a fair profit, and setting aside reserves for a rainy day. Essentially, those problems are the same for farm and factory, though they may at times differ in size.

But it is that thing called "management," that peculiarly American ability to think through problems no matter how tough, that is helping to see us through today.

It is this skill in management that farmers and businessmen have most in common, a skill which insures the realization of our determination to produce all that's needed for our country today, and, tomorrow, to make a fair living through greater service to our fellow Americans. General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York.
