Baptists To Hold Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Baptist church with election of officers will be held in the vestry, Friday evening, April 14, at 6:30 Church officers and committees, as well as all church organizations and societies, are expected to present their annual written reports at this time.

Supper will be served by the Social committee, of which Mrs. Harry Dennison is chairman.

At the Church School Sunday Evening Service on April 16 the special speaker will be Rev. Mr. L. G. van Leeuwen of Stoneham, who will speak on Ocean Park and present color pictures. The meeting will begin at 7:30. Mr. van Leeuwen will be assisted by Leland Kingman.

Round Table on Phillips Broadcast

The Phillips Academy Hour at 8 tonight over WLAW will feature a round table discussion on the topic, "Salvaging Men and Monuments." Bartlett Hayes of the Addison Gallery at Phillips Academy will serve as Moderator. Others on the panel include Miss Anne Peabody, who is on a commission appointed by the President for the protection of art treasures in Europe; Captain Sidney Licht, Chief of Physical and Occupational Therapy at the Lovell General Hospital at Camp Devens; Donald C. Greyson, Resident Artist at Deerfield Academy.

New Exhibits at Addison Gallery

Maurer Paintings

Paintings by Alfred H. Maurer will be exhibited at the Addison Gallery from April 15 to May 15.

The facts of Maurer's life are fragmentary but dramatic. Born as the son of Currier-and-Ives artist Louis Maurer, the son Alfred lived in the shadow of his father's success. So true was this that two weeks after his father's death in July 1932, he hanged himself in the family home in New York. He was tortured by loneliness. His outlook if not as mystical, was surely as intense as that of another lonely American painter, Albert Ryder, who likewise suffered neglect and lack of appreciation.

Born in 1868 in New York, he became a student of the National Academy of Design and was a pupil of J. Q. A. Ward and William M. Chase. At the turn of the century he went to Paris for further studies, and abandoning the influence of Whistler and Sargent, became a convert to the "Fauviste" move-

Red Cross Drive Totalled $24,382

Once again the annual Red Cross Drive is over. Once again Andover has been very generous in its response to the appeal for funds. Realizing and appreciating the tremendous scope of the work the Red Cross is now being called upon to do, solicitors and donors alike did a good job and did it cheerfully. Scheduled to last the month of March, the drive had reached its goal more than a week before the time was up. And this in spite of the fact that the quota was the largest ever assigned here.

Until the end of the month—and after—the workers kept at their tasks, trudging back sometimes a fourth or fifth time to a house in order to realize their aim: a contact made with every adult in every home. Even now the books are being kept open for the few who were missed for one reason or another. The desk at Red Cross headquarters on Main street is manned every day from nine to five, and materials are at hand there to take care of any late gifts.

The spirit of the workers, always admirable, was unusually high, and the attitude of those approached for contributions was in itself an inspiration. Few sales talks were needed; most people were ready and eager to do their share for the great cause of making possible aid to those in need of it, especially to

Souls in Agony

War Paintings by Julio de Diego, is the title of an exhibit to be held at the Addison Gallery from April 21 to May 15.

Curious sort of people, gremlin-like, are Julio de Diego's diminutive men who raise hell on earth—war. They use tanks and planes, operate with tracer-bullets and burst into flames. Earth laid waste, desolate stretches of desert are populated by this fantastic army. They become fused with their surroundings. With all the tricks of camouflage they move almost imperceptibly through bushes and jungle. Even to the bottom of the sea they go, into the grave-yards of ships, among strange plants and odd fish. They die.

These seemingly chaotic engagements are nevertheless well organized and held together in low color, lit up occasionally by a burning red or yellow. As pictures they are among the most poignant the present war has produced. They are un-

Shaw Purchase Now Completed

Andover now actually owns the Shaw estate at 58 Main street. On Monday Town Counsel Walter C. Tomlinson, in behalf of the selectmen, concluded the various legal details, and a check for $11,304.81 is being sent by Town Treasurer Thaxter Eaton to the trustees of the Shaw Realty Trust.

The trust funds will, in accordance with the trust indenture, within a reasonable time after the sale of all the real estate, be divided among the beneficiaries in proportion to the number of shares held by each. The trustees have sent a letter to all the beneficiaries asking that they return their certificates, upon receipt of which they will be mailed a check.

Tyer Minstrels To Provide Funds

The first show to be conducted by Local 137, United Rubber Workers of America, at Tyer Rubber is all set for Thursday and Friday evenings, April 20th and 21st, at the Memorial auditorium.

Directed by Charlie Jacobs, well known director of minstrel shows, the minstrel show promises to gather in a sizable sum for the Andover Servicemen's Fund and the boys from Tyer Rubber now in the service. The latest report from the committee of the Local shows Friday night's performance a complete sellout and only a limited number of tickets for Thursday remaining. These may be secured at the Arrow Cleaners, Ford's Bakery or any of the committee.

Dancing both nights to a talented local Lawrence band will follow the performance, and all servicemen are invited to attend Thursday evening's show as guests of the Local.

Expect Record Paper Collection Sunday Afternoon

Salvage Committee Emphasizes Acute Shortage of Pulp

The largest collection of waste paper in the town's World War II history is anticipated by the local Salvage committee for the coming Sunday. Pulp has developed into one of the most acute shortages of these years of shortage, and recently the War Production Board issued an urgent appeal for waste paper to aid the Nation's paper plants.

The local committee has requested that all paper be out on the curb by noontime. Truck owners will start at 1:00 p. m., to make a house-to-house canvass of the entire town. The paper should be tied securely into bundles with strong cord.

In a recent appeal, Harry I. Emmons, chairman of the local salvage committee, urged householders to save every bit of scrap paper. "Not only must we save newspapers, magazines and cardboard containers, but we must stop burning the trash basket accumulations that gather in the business office and in the home...schools, business employees and housewives must save these accumulations of scrap paper, stuff them in a paper bag or cardboard box and turn them in when the salvage committee makes its monthly paper collections."

No permits are allowed for burning during April and May in accordance with state law, and the committee hopes that the waste paper that would ordinarily be burned will be added to the scrap collection this Sunday.

NEWS OF OUR MEN and WOMEN IN UNIFORM

The Servicemen's Page is prepared by the Townsman editors with the active assistance of the Servicemen's Fund Association.

The Townsman is sent each week, free of charge, to every local serviceman by the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Company. We shall appreciate receiving up-to-the-minute addresses for all Andover men and women in service, in order that our mailing list may be kept accurate.

Pvt. Roger Whitcomb, now located at Gulfport, Mississippi, writes he received the Birthday Card from the A. S. M. F. A. the day he was being shipped from Fort Belvoir, and it made him feel quite happy to get the snap shots of the home town. Rog hasn't seen much of his new location, as he had a bad cold upon arrival there, and they put him in the hospital the minute he got off the train. He is feeling fine now and hopes to be out in a few days and back on the job. Rog also tells us it is always nice to get letters and cards from home. Anyone wishing to write to Pug, in fact to any of the men or women in the service from Andover, can obtain their address by calling headquarters. Tel. Andover 993.

Pfc. Joseph G. St. Jean, located in foreign service, writes the A. S. N. F. A. that he received his Christmas package in January.

Ensign A. R. Taylor, somewhere in foreign waters, has written two V mail letters to the A. S. M. F. A. thanking them very much for the Christmas package which he received, March 14th. He tells us it contained everything a man in the service needs, which is impossible to get where he is. Also he received a copy of the Townsman, and it pleased him very much to read about the doings of the home folks.

Richard K. Gordon of Lowell st., is a patient at the Boston City Hospital where he is under the care of a brain specialist. He was in the Lovell General Hospital at Fort Devens for several months, until he received his medical discharge. He was a pilot in the AAF until about a year ago when he received serious injuries in an automobile accident.

Sgt. Irving Hilton, Fort Dix, N. J., has been spending a ten-day furlough with friends in town.

Pvt. Roger W. Collins, son of Selectman and Mrs. J. Everett Collins, now stationed in England with an anti-aircraft company.

Two Local Boys Receive Injuries

The Deyermond family and the O'Hagan family had good news from two wounded sons this week, but the good news from Bill Deyermond was nullified some yesterday when Officer and Mrs. Deyermond received a letter from one of Jimmy Deyermond's shipmates, stating that Jimmy had been taken off a destroyer in the South Pacific suffering from severe head pains. No other information has yet been received. Another son, Warren, is in a hospital in North Carolina suffering from a stomach ailment.

The above picture shows Sergeant Bill (he's recently been promoted to technical sergeant from staff sergeant) after six days and six nights of battling with the Japs on Bougainville. With him are his captain and first lieutenant. Bill wrote a letter to his parents, because he had heard that they might learn he was soon to receive the Purple Heart and he was afraid they'd get worried. "I spoke of returning from a hike a few days ago, but what it really was was a scrap. During the course of it, a piece of shrapnel nicked me in the chest. I thanked God, and you can, also, that our green uniforms are manufactured with a button right on that spot, for the button absorbed most of the impact. Luck? No, I believe that it was God's guiding hand answering my prayers. Honestly, folks, I am in the best of health".

The O'Hagans received word from their son Jimmy that he was not dead, and his letter sounded very convincing, although he had to sign a good many papers to prove to the army that he was alive. Portions of his letter follow:

"... I'm all right. I got hit three times in the back, one on the shoulder blade which was a compound fracture, another about two inches away, then another on the left ribs off my back. My back aches a little from the wounds and I know that I won't go back fighting. I'll be reclassified when I get better. It should be about a month or two before I'm O.K. I was in a cast for seven weeks and was very glad to get it off. But Col. Parsons fixed me up.

"He said that I would be all right. I have a scar about four inches long and about two and a half inches wide right around the shoulder blade. I had to have some of the shoulder blade chipped off.

"If you get my personal articles will you hold them for me. I had a little trouble when I was wounded. They had me down as died and buried. One of the hospitals made a mistake and when I went to the hospital they took my personal stuff and were keeping it for me, but when they heard that I died and was buried they sent it to a quartermaster outfit to be sent home. I wrote them that I was still alive and to send it to me but I haven't received it yet. So, if you get it, hold on to it for me.

"That was quite an experience, wasn't it? I had to sign so many papers and etc. to show that I'm still alive. I thought that you would get a telegram from Washington that I was killed. So, I asked the chaplain to write and I also sent a telegram to you. I'm glad you didn't get a telegram from them.

Corporal Charles Winters, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Winters of 3 Baker Lane, is home from Texas where he has been recuperating at the Harmon General hospital. He was stricken with malaria while on Guadalcanal with Company B, 182nd Infantry.

A.R.M. 3/c Walter MacTammany, Jr., somewhere abroad, writes to the Andover Servicemen's Fund Association as follows: "Hi Gang: Tnx 4 the servicemen's pk'g; U'll B C'ing me soon. I'll be home 4 the 1st time in 2 yrs. Well thanks again 4 everything. (Signed) "Mac".

Corporal Jeanie Mitchell, located at Miami, Florida, writes she had just received a package from the Comfort Committee of the Andover Servicemen's Fund Association. The package arrived a little late, as Jeanie had left the hospital, and was back on duty, but she was still able to enjoy the contents immensely. The candy is practically all gone, the magazines have been pretty well read by all Jeanie's fellow Wacs in her barracks, and the cigarettes were put to good use. The get well card is being saved to be put in her scrapbook when she comes back to Andover. Jeanie says it always warms her heart to get something of this kind from home.

Alexander Anderson, AAF, has been promoted to sergeant at Maxwell Field, Alabama. He graduated as an airplane mechanic at Keesler Field. He has three brothers serving in the armed forces.

Sergeant Tommy Eldred drops us a line to let us know he's "still kicking around the world." This time he's somewhere in the European Theatre of Operations, where everything "is running smoothly." So far he hasn't bumped into anybody from Andover, but he's still hoping.

Lt. Edward D. Walen has just completed a month's special training at A. A. F. Training Command in O'Fallon, Ill., and had returned to San Bernadino, Calif.

At last we have the right angle on the Nangles, thanks to a V-letter from SK 3/c Paul Nangle. There are four brothers in the service: Roger is in England, Bill is in San Francisco, George is out in Kansas and Paul is in the southwest Pacific. Paul "thinks it was pretty swell of the people of Andover to send me and my brothers in the service gifts, as we have only lived in Andover a short while."

Clement Gordon is now in Italy and "getting along all right." He has seen action on the Cassino front. The weather there is very good and getting warmer all the time.

Tragic Drowning Saddens Ballardvale

Andover was shocked and saddened last Friday afternoon to learn of the tragic drowning of seven-year-old Robert George Dumont, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dumont of Tewksbury street, Ballardvale. The youngster had been playing on a banking near the water's edge, about 1000 feet from his home, when his two little sisters noticed his absence. Running to the bank, they saw his body disappear from sight.

The two little girls ran home to tell Mrs. Dumont, and she rushed to the scene while her niece, Jane Dumont, phoned the fire department. Quickly aid arrived, but it was too late. Friends and the fire and police departments worked until midnight, but it was not until the next morning about 6:30 that Officer James Lynch, and a Grey Lines bus driver, Sheppy Severi, located the body.

The funeral service was held Monday morning at St. Augustine's church, with his classmates from the second grade at St. Augustine's school attending in a body. The seventh and eighth grade children sang during the services.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

Tomorrow afternoon there will be a school dance with Mr. Phinney furnishing the music.

The Wilson Company, Boston Photo System, has taken pictures of the entire school, which arrived earlier in the week. Pictures of the different divisions are available in albums, and each student may buy a set of three pictures and a colored enlargement.

Report cards will be given out tomorrow. This week we commenced the last ranking period of the year.

A special sound and color film entitled "Fortress in the Sky" will be shown to the boys tomorrow. It is a 25-minute, three-reel film telling the inside story of the Boeing Flying Fortress.

Today there was a combined assembly at which Jesse Taylor gave "personality portraits." These portraits of noted personalities of stage, screen, and story are presented with costume and make-up.

Officers Installed By Clan Auxiliary

The annual installation of officers of the Ladies auxiliary to Clan Johnston, was held Saturday evening at the Musgrove building. A banquet in the Square and Compass club hall preceded the installation. The new officers were inducted into their positions by Deputy Grand President Jessie Inglis of Malden and her suite of officers. Mrs. Anne Driscoll of Andover was the installing chaplain.

The new officers: President, Miss Nan W. Lindsay; vice president, Mrs. Raymond Lefebvre; past president, Miss Ella Petrie; chaplain, Mrs. Daniel Gallagher; recording secretary, Miss Ina Petrie; financial secretary, Mrs. Alexander Meek; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas B. Gorrie; conductress, Mrs. John B. Souter; assistant conductress, Mrs. Elizabeth Moore; guard, Mrs. Anne Renny; sentinel, Mrs. Jean Wood; American flag bearer, Mrs. John Thomson; Scottish standard bearer, Mrs. Patrick McCafferty; trustee for three years, Miss Ella Petrie.

Entertainment consisted of accordion selections by the Johnson brothers and songs by Miss Dorothy Lyle. Miss Barbara Hill was the piano accompanist for the evening.

Guests included Grand Past President Helen Kershaw of Haverhill; Grand Post President, Charlotte Noble of Lawrence and Chief John MacMillan of Clan Johnston; Commander William J. Snyder and President Mrs. Snyder of the V. F. W. and their Ladies' auxiliary; Grand Assistant Conductor Ina Petrie and the president of the Malden auxiliary. The evening's program closed with the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

ment, the first American to adopt the new doctrines. Unfortunately most of his work done in Paris is lost and thus we can see him only as a painter who had a manhood but no youth. Despite his having been presented with the First Prize at the Carnegie International Show in 1901 and having been encouraged by a few shows thereafter, he remained a comparatively unknown painter, a fate incommensurate with his stature. He must have felt this, and spiritually defeated he ended his life so tragically.

"Modern Greece" Topic Of Library Family Night

The first in a program of Family Nights at the Library will take place at the Memorial Hall Library on Friday evening at 7:45 p.m., when Miss Irene Cushing will speak on Everyday Life in Modern Greece. There will be recordings of Greek music and the showing of the film, "Around the Acropolis," a 20th Century-Fox production which depicts modern, busy Athens with the Acropolis in the background.

All who are interested are cordially invited to attend.

The Library has on exhibit a collection of ancient Greek coins, loaned by Mr. Arthur Stone Dewing of Newton, dating from 500 B. C. down to the time of Alexander. There were over three hundred coinage systems in ancient Greece and the coins in the showing in silver, gold and electrum (gold alloyed with silver) represent but a few of them. One of the earliest coins in the exhibit, dated about 500 B. C., is from the Island of Aegina. A gold Persian Daric shows the effigy of a great king. The collection includes also Phoenician shekels, a selection of Athenian coins, some from Carthage as well as from other city states and their colonies. They are important as a form of Greek art which we can see in its original.

"Wild Life Conservation" will be the subject of our second meeting in the Family Night at the Library series and will be held on Friday evening, April 21, with Mr. Oscar Root of the Brooks School, North Andover, as the speaker. The titles of the films to be shown will be announced later.

Mrs. Benjamin Babb of Shaw-sheen Heights is spending a few days with her daughter in Buffalo.

Don't Stay Tired

People became tired last year. They worked hard in their victory gardens, and in the canning season they spent many wearisome hours storing up their winter's food supply. They enjoyed it, in a way; it was something different, and it was a patriotic help.

But they did become tired, and this year the enthusiasm has died down. Sales of package seeds all over the country have dropped off tremendously. And yet, this year more than ever, there is a very definite need for victory gardens.

If you haven't been thinking of it, start thinking now. The armed services are calling many of the young farmers into the ranks; the armed services are going to need more and more food, and if that invasion is successful, there are going to be nations to feed. So be foresighted. Get ready for another summer of hard, but profitable, work.

Juvenile Delinquency League Subject

The Andover League of Women Voters will hold an open meeting and luncheon at the Balmoral Hall, Shawsheen Village, on Tuesday, April 18. The subject of the meeting will be "Juvenile Delinquency" and the speaker is Arthur C. K. Hallock, Executive Secretary of the Massachusetts Committee on Youth Guidance, an emergency committee appointed by the Governor to foster and coordinate local activities in behalf of youth throughout the state. Mr. Hallock is also a Director of the Massachusetts Child Council, a permanent organization concerned with child welfare in the state.

Luncheon will be served at 12:45, followed by the speaker's address. All members and friends of the League are invited. Mrs. Emery J. Trott is in charge of arrangements for the luncheon.

Gov. Wills Speaks On State's Rights

The Andover Service Club held its monthly meeting Tuesday at the Andover Inn with Governor William H. Wills of Vermont as the guest speaker. Governor Wills, introduced to the gathering by Frank L. Brigham, suggested that no drastic changes be made in the American way of life until the men in the service return and have an opportunity to have a say on the matter.

He made his statements in urging the preservation of state's rights and the right of a soldier to return to his home town and find things as he left them, the way of life unchanged. "Home", the Governor continued, "is the moment when a soldier returns from the war and sees his parents, his brothers and sisters, and his girl waiting for him on the station platform. Home is a good job with opportunity for advancement, the church where a few years ago he first went to Sunday school, the movies on Saturday night with his own crowd, a day of fishing with his father, older men discussing politics at the post office and the village store, town meeting where once a year a whole day is devoted to the business of running the town. It consists of all these things and countless more".

86TH BIRTHDAY

James J. Abbott of the old Benjamin Abbott homestead celebrated his 86th birthday Thursday. He is in good health and gets up-town quite frequently. He and Mrs. Abbott, who will celebrate their 62nd anniversary in June, have six children living, ten grandchildren, and seven great grandchildren.

SERVICE MEN'S FUND ASSOCIATION TO ELECT

The annual meeting of the Andover Service Men's Fund Association will be held next Wednesday at the town house at 8 p. m. The business of the evening will include election of directors and officers for the year 1944-45.

Moving Pictures To Assist Cubs

An opportunity to help local youngsters by contributing to the fund they are attempting to raise will shortly be presented to the people of Andover. Within the next week, Cubs, a group of nine, ten, and eleven year old Andover boys, will be calling on Andoverites in person to sell one or more tickets for "Henry Aldrich, Boy Scout," to be presented at the Andover Playhouse on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, April 25th.

The Cubs are to receive a share of the proceeds from tickets purchased from them; so any persons desirous of helping the boys should buy their tickets when they call. With the movie already mentioned will be shown "Oklahoma Kid," with Humphrey Bogart and James Cagney.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

At a tea at the Andover Inn, on Wednesday, Mrs. Michael Stephen O'Brien announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Helen Marie, to Mr. Gage Olcott. Miss O'Brien is a graduate of Abbot Academy and Smith College, and studied abroad. Mr. Olcott is the son of Mrs. Charles M. Olcott and the late Mr. Olcott. He is a graduate of Yale University and is with the Dow Chemical Company, Midland, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Penry Wilson, 69 Park street, wish to thank everyone who so kindly sent flowers, cards, and called during Mr. Wilson's recent illness.

Lt. Bill Cargill is also in Italy and is "getting a grand view of all that goes on at Cassino." He doesn't agree with Clement about the weather, though. "Other than the weather things go on as all good wars go. Back and forth and over and over. Infantry and planes. One thing that never changes is our joy when mail call comes over the field phones and I take off for the rear to collect said mail. Then, when I get a little Townsman from Andover, I get back and take a look at the column of when, whom and how the boys in the old gang are spreading out and over this great big world of ours.

"Just think, John Elder and I grew up together and lived only 150 yards from one another and now we are 15,000 miles apart.

"And so it goes. I take all the boys and pin them on my map for a few minutes and stare. That old gang from Stevens St. sure gets around.

"Sure was glad to hear that my old friend Mitch Johnson is in Italy. Will try to look him up. I am not too far from Clem Gordon but the Jerries are between us so I will wait a while before I look him up.

Susie Swings It For Servicemen Tomorrow Night

When a group of women past the age of sixty decide, without the aid of vitamin tablets, that life is not at all finished but has just begun, and that rhythm, fun and "mairzy doats" belong to them as much as to those in the twenties, one has in this the merest inkling of what is to be presented in the annual Margaret Slattery Class play, "Sister Susie Swings It," to be given in the Free Church Parish Hall tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The play is by Dorothy Sterling and depicts the rejuvenation of a group of elderly women in the home for the aged. The cast includes Florence Nicoll, Gladys Monroe, Margaret Laurie, Margaret Gordon, Anna White, Gladys Gill, Grace Stewart, Margaret Cargill, Isabelle Gorrie, Grace Lake, Helen Carmichael, and Etta Chadwick.

The following committees are working in connection with the production: Tickets: Mrs. William Burnham, Mrs. John Denholm; Candy: Mrs. Evelyn Schubert, Mrs. Thomas Gorrie, and Mrs. Annie MacDonald; Properties: Mrs. Edna Woodhead, Thomas Gorrie, Margaret Laurie, Thomas Woodhead, and Thomas Thin.

Mrs. Etta Chadwick is general chairman of the production and Miss Alice Bell is the dramatic coach. The curtain will rise at 8 p. m.

DEATHS

Mrs. Anna J. Chase, former Andover resident, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clifton J. Bartlett, Davisville, N. H., Saturday, April 1, at the age of 82. The funeral was held at the Harry Holmes and Son Funeral Home. Burial was in the family lot in Concord, N. H. Mrs. Chase came to Andover in 1910 as the housekeeper for the late Clara Putman and remained there until October, 1941, when she left to live with her daughter in New Hampshire. She was a member of the Andover Baptist church.

Francis Webster Leslie, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Leslie, passed away Saturday afternoon at his home, 15½ Elm street, after having bravely for many months fought off a serious illness. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at St. Augustine's church, with Rev. Henry B. Smith, O. S. A., officiating. Burial was in St. Augustine's cemetery.

Mrs. Bertha Newcomb Trott, wife of G. S. Trott of 85 Central street, died at her home on Easter Sunday. Born in Andover, she was the daughter of Justin Clark and Catharine Spence Clark.

She was a member of the class of 1900 at PUNCHARD High School and a graduate of Cannon's Commercial College.

Interested in many church and civic affairs, she had served as a Deaconess of the South church, and was a member of the King's Daughters, the Andover Garden Club, the November Club, and the League of Women Voters.

Surviving are her husband; her daughter, Mrs. Walter H. Partridge; four sons, Howard S. of North Reading, Robert L. and James E. of the Army Air Forces, and Allan R. of the Army Signal Corps; two sisters, Mrs. Hugh Fraser of Salem, N. H., and Mrs. Edith Burnham of Lancaster; a brother, James E. Clark of Middleboro; and two granddaughters.

The funeral was held from her home on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Frederick Noss read the service, and her four sons served as bearers.

The sudden death last Thursday of Mrs. Laura (Phelps) Cress was a great shock to her many West Parish friends. She was born in West Andover and resided here for many years before moving to Methuen, where she died a victim of accidental gas poisoning.

Besides her husband, Ernest E. Cress, she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Helen Knightly, two sons, E. Clifford Cress of Wickford, R. I., and George P. Cress of North Salem, N. H., and four grandchildren.

Rev. Newman Matthews officiated at the funeral from the late home on Saturday afternoon and burial was in West Parish cemetery.

SHAWSHEEN MANOR

Fire Menaces State Forest

A fire which blazed for five hours before being brought under control burned over forty acres of woodland in Andover and North Andover last Thursday afternoon. Three fire departments responded to the alarm which was sounded at 10:15 a. m. John Campbell, in charge of the fire tower at the Harold Parker State Forest, first noticed the fire and called the local department shortly after 10:00 o'clock when a full crew responded. An hour later Box 381 was sounded, bringing additional assistance to the scene, but as the blaze grew to menacing proportions the forest fire trucks and crews from North Andover and Middleton were called into action.

PUNCHARD NOTES

Pupils of the high school have all been invited to enter an essay contest sponsored by the New England Cooperative Federation. Three cash prizes will be awarded. The subject of the essay is to be on some phase of the consumer cooperative movement. The closing date of the contest is May 1, 1944.

The pictures taken of the school were returned and distributed Wednesday. One enlarged and three small pictures are offered to each pupil for his or her purchase if so desired.

Miss Bryant, secretary to Mr. Erickson, has returned after a recent appendicitis operation.

The annual spring vacation begins April 21 and continues until May 1.

The regular oral English class under the direction of Mr. Stevens of the faculty are presenting another one-act play. The cast is as follows: Ruth Martin, Helen Hannan, Audrey Nowell, Theresa Darby, Joan Fleming, and Marjorie Kearn. Bessie Dantos will be the announcer; Carmela Mirasola, prompter; Gladys Deyermond, costumes; and Kathleen Eastwood, furniture and properties. The play will be presented on Tuesday, April 18.

The last of the combined assemblies was held today, with the Junior high and the high in attendance. The speaker was Miss Jessie Rae Taylor, who gives personality portraits. She portrays characters from many of the well known books. Among her interpretations are Louis Pasteur, and leading characters from "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," "You Can't Take It With You," "The American Way," and many others.

usual in that they fail to delineate the literal details of war machinery or the casual faces of soldiers we know. But because such details have been omitted, the hideous hallucinations of war become terrifyingly real.

Julio de Diego was born in Madrid in 1900. He received some training at the art school in Madrid. After having served his required term of military training with the Spanish Army in 1921, he came to the United States. Until the outbreak of the present war his time was divided between Spain, Mexico and the United States and his paintings have been exhibited in all three countries.
