Vacation Bible School Will Start Monday

The Daily Vacation Bible school sponsored by the Andover Council of Churches, will open Monday, July 17, at the South church. The sessions will be held from 9 to 12 from Monday through Friday each week for two weeks. This school is held not only to occupy the children who attend, but to give instruction in craft work according to age, and to give the children through the period of worship, story hour, and play time those character building values that such a school stands for. It is an opportunity for children, and Andover is indeed fortunate to have such a school provided during the summer days. A volunteer group of leaders are gladly giving their time to make this possible. They believe in it and are doing their best to provide a program that will make this a fine school. Children should register immediately.

A new leader has been added to the staff, Miss Marjorie Ann Weeks.

On Sunday evening at 7:30 an important meeting of the staff will be held at the South church. It is urged that every one who is helping in the school be present, as the program will be thoroughly discussed, rooms assigned to departments and the general set-up of the school arranged. If all are present, Monday morning will be less confusing.

Playground Events To Start On Friday

The playground's weekly events will start Friday evening of this week. At the Central playground the children will engage in a soap bubble contest. At Shawsheen village there will also be a soap bubble contest, while at Ballardvale the babies of that community will vie with each other for a variety of prizes.

Father Austin Leaves Andover

Rev. Thomas P. Fogarty is scheduled to arrive here Friday to take over his new duties as pastor and prior of St. Augustine's church, succeeding Rev. Thomas B. Austin, who left yesterday for Hollywood, Calif., where he will serve in Father Fogarty's former church. Father Fogarty had served here as curate for six years starting in 1920, under Rev. John A. Nugent. His brother, also a priest, had died here during the flu epidemic, in 1918.

Father Austin said good-bye at all the masses on Sunday, thanking the parishioners for the co-operation they had given him during his near-nine years of service here. On his way to the coast he will visit relatives at his birthplace in Joliet, Ill., and in Missouri.

Canning Center Opened Monday

The canning center opened Monday at the Free church. The center is hoping that people realize that there will be as much canning this year as last, if not more, as it probably will be necessary to feed the occupied countries we take over. A suggestion is made that people buy apricots, prunes and raisins now that they are point free and have them on hand when they go back on points again.

The supervisor this year will again be Miss Belair. Reservations can be made by calling the center at Andover 170, and this should be done 24 hours in advance, if possible.

FUEL OIL NOTICE

There are still many users of fuel oil, both central and space heaters, who have not sent in their applications for fuel oil for the season, 1944-45. It is imperative that these be sent in at once, as rations are now being issued.

Everett Collins Wins Close Nomination Race

In a nip-and-tuck contest, J. Everett Collins, representative for the past four years, won one of the three Republican nominations to that post in the primary election Tuesday, with Mrs. Alyce Schlapp and Ralph Hill also being nominated on the Republican slate. Carl A. Woekel, who ran fifth in the Republican race, came in second in the Democratic contest, and the other two nominees are Messrs. Bower and Brainerd of Methuen.

Mr. Collins came in third with 2590 votes, 198 behind Mrs. Schlapp, 188 behind Mr. Hill and 216 ahead of Mr. Giles. Mr. Collins led in North Andover and Andover and ran fifth in Methuen and Lawrence's Ward one. Mrs. Schlapp did well in Lawrence, Andover and North Andover, but in Methuen she trailed Mr. Hill, Mr. Giles and Mr. Woekel.

The local vote was disappointingly light, and probably would not have even reached the proportions it did had it not been for a late afternoon telephone campaign by the Collins forces. Precincts one and six made the best showing.

In the other contests Andover reflected the state-wide sweep of Robert Bradford for lieutenant-governor and gave the edge to Mr. Burrell in the treasurership contest. Frank Goodwin led for auditor, and Clarence Barnes just nosed out James Farley for attorney-general. Washington Cook won the councillorship here.

For state senator Nathaniel Stackpole had a 129 vote margin here over Clifford Cusson, but the latter's heavily-organized strength in Haverhill has given him the nomination and election since there were no Democratic candidates.

Arthur Thompson of Methuen and George Sellars of Lawrence did well here for county commissioner, but Mr. Sellars was not strong down-county, with the result being that Mr. Thompson and C. F. Nelson Pratt are the nominees, with J. Fred Manning of Lynn and Michael Conway of Peabody as the Democratic standard-bearers.

For sheriff Frank Raymond again came out ahead, although Romeo King of Shawsheen had strong local backing.

Man Loses Life in Poms Pond Tragedy

While bathing at Poms Pond last Saturday and apparently attempting to show his wife his ability to stay under water, a Lawrence man lost his life. The victim, Boles Zuromskas, 58, was demonstrating his endurance to his wife and daughter, who were on shore. He was about breast high and had done his stunt several times.

Charles Schultz, 17, of Shawsheen village, one of the lifeguards, noticed his splashing up and down. He started to investigate, but Mrs. Zuromskas reportedly stopped him, saying her husband was just fooling. When Schultz reached shore and turned around, the man could not be seen, so he went after him a second time, but could not find him. He called Miss Marjorie Foster, 19, of 96 Central street, another lifeguard, and she located him on her first dive, and with the assistance of Schultz, brought him to shore. He had been under water about two minutes.

Artificial respiration was administered. Meanwhile, someone had summoned the ambulance. Timothy Madden, Wilson Crawford, and officer David Gillespie responded, using the inhalator on the man until it was decided to take the man to the hospital because of his age.

Guild Board Accepts Miss Davis' Resignation

The resignation of Miss Margaret Davis as supervisor of the Andover Guild has been accepted by the Board of Directors, it was announced this week. The action of the board was taken after extended consideration, during which the members expressed their appreciation of Miss Davis' loyalty, generosity and enthusiasm in her 17 years' service. Future plans for expanded activity at the Guild, however, with the possibility of a man's being assigned to the position, prompted the acceptance of the resignation.

Mr. Roy Dearborn of Elm street, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dunnel of Abbot street, are vacationing at Brewster on the Cape.

KING'S DAUGHTERS MEET

The Courteous Circle of the King's Daughters of the South church met Monday evening in the vestry. A devotional meeting led by Mrs. Atkinson followed the business meeting. Miss C. Madeleine Hewes gave a report on the international convention of the order held at Jackson, Miss., and Miss Fannie E. Davis a report on the Congregational conference held at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Miss Fannie E. Davis was received into the order by the leader, Mrs. Thaxter Eaton, with the usual impressive service.

Refreshments were served by the social committee in charge of Mrs. Arthur W. Bassett, chairman.

Just a nut — yet, the safety of a mighty giant of the airways may well depend upon its perfect performance. In a prescription, too, there is no such thing as an unimportant part. Frequently, the smaller the quantity, the greater the care that must be exercised in selecting, checking and weighing the prescribed ingredients. For example, nitroglycerine can level a mountain or, in minute doses, it can keep the human heart beating. In dispensing this, and all potent drugs, we assume a grave responsibility to measure ingredients to the pin-point of precision.

Sergeant Joe Hanson, son of Mrs. Delvina Hanson, 4 Chapman avenue, has returned to his camp on the West Coast after having a furlough of two weeks. Joe and Don Surette used to be inseparable buddies back in their civilian days, and they enlisted in the service together, over three years ago, both being sent to the Caribbean area. However, Joe was later transferred and the two boys hadn't seen each other until a few weeks back here in Andover when they both had their first furloughs together. Now they've both been assigned to the same camp. Joe's brother Charlie has been promoted to corporal somewhere in England, and another brother, Wilfred, is a technician fourth grade in Italy. We've seen a nice letter from his captain praising his work with the outfit.

Air Cadet Richard F. Stevens, son of the Clinton H. Stevens of 72 Morton street is home from Maxwell Field, Ala. Another son, James F. Stevens, is stationed at Morris Field, Charlotte, N. C., as a flight engineer.

This letter to the association from Sgt. Johnnie Morton in New Guinea merits being printed in full: Dear folks, friends and neighbors,

Thank a million for the kind remembrances and thoughtfulness at Birthday time! The pictures of the "best little town in New England" are great! I've proudly shown them around to hicks from Penn., Miss., N. J., Ohio and Illinois. Our Post-office, Bank and School are beautiful—now for a new Town-hall to finish and complete it.

New Guinea here is like all of the islands in the S. W. P. A., one worse than the other! A lot of our boys from town are around somewhere, but I never do see them. Everything so isolated one doesn't know their own neighbor. Not like Andover at all! Heat is terrific all day, altho it is winter; then it rains all night to mix up a good batch of mud. Flies steal the biggest percentage of what we get to eat—as little and as poor as it is, the flies like it.

The thoughts of folks at home and reading the Townsman about other boys and girls in the Service is all that keeps us going! Shouldn't be too long now, after 2nd Front!

Thanx again.
JOHNNIE MORTON

DOUG CROCKETT IN FRAMINGHAM HOSPITAL

Sgt. Douglas R. Crockett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crockett of 341 South Main street, is now a patient at the Cushing General hospital in Framingham.

Having served overseas in both Australia and New Guinea as a heavy equipment man in a combat engineers unit, Sgt. Crockett retains many memories of his battlefield experiences. During the Buna campaign, he aided in the construction of roads, bridges, and supply lines under constant enemy air raids.

Sgt. Crockett holds the Asiatic Pacific Campaign Medal with one bronze star, and the Unit Citation. However, he proffered with greatest pride a letter of commendation from Headquarters Commandant, GHQ, which read in part:

"Your leadership qualifications have been the highest, and your willingness and cheerfulness in carrying on with your work despite painful injury, has been an example of courage to everyone."

After he was graduated from Punchard High school, he attended Suffolk Law School from 1935 to 1937.

Prior to his entrance into the army, Sgt. Crockett was employed at the rigging and trucking business in Andover.

Staff Sergeant Charlie McKew has sent the Servicemen's Fund association a Fourth of July V-Mail card from Italy. It shows a drawing of a soldier with a bottle of "vino" in one hand and some fireworks, probably a Roman candle, in the other.

Sgt. John Cederberg of the paratroops has written the association that he has received his birthday card in France. Due to a wrong address it travelled 8000 miles before it reached him, but despite that, it arrived with his first mail in France. "Couldn't have been a better time for all have thought of home more often since coming here. Hope others get the lift I did from your fine work."

Cpl. Billy D'Entremont is up at Dow Field in Bangor, Me., and likes down east very much.

The Townsman is sent each week, free of charge, to every local serviceman by the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Company. We shall appreciate receiving up-to-the-minute addresses for all Andover men and women in service, in order that our mailing list may be kept accurate.

Private Boulanger Loses Leg in Italy

Pfc. Lionel Boulanger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Boulanger of 46 North street, has lost his right leg in the service of his country in Italy. He has been overseas 18 months and had seen action in North Africa and Sicily as well as in Italy.

According to a letter received by his parents from a buddy in a hospital in Italy, Pvt. Boulanger received shrapnel wounds from a Nazi bomb, and amputation finally became necessary. He was "feeling fine," he asked his buddy to write, and said that the doctors had promised him a good leg in place of the one that had been amputated.

His wife, a New Jersey girl, is now visiting with the Boulangers.

Lieutenant Jack Hawes also liked being remembered on his birthday. He's out at Navy Flight Preparatory school at Colgate.

Ensign Gilbert Sorenson of the Maritime service has been discharged from the Marine hospital in New York after recovering from a concussion in the right ear, caused when his ship was damaged by enemy shell fire during the invasion. He was flown back to this country.

Carleton Strong, Jr., Jack Pringley, John Shepard and John Avery, Jr., are at Williams and Douglas Pitman, Jr., at Dartmouth in the V-5 program. The boys enlisted last winter and graduated from Phillips in June. They were called July 1.

J. John Ellis, Jr., is attending Duke college as a civilian, having received a medical discharge from the Navy in December.

Ensign Donald Zussy is headed overseas.

To Servicemen Voters

Massachusetts' absentee voting law for servicemen has been nationally described as one of the most simplified laws in existence. Its lack of red tape should serve as encouragement to our young men and women in the service, for very little more is necessary than that the person in the service send a note to the town clerk or have some relative send it. The ballot will be forwarded when printed.

The Republican town committee of Andover has issued the following information relative to the law:

"You can make direct application by post card or letter direct to Town Clerk or Registrars of Voters, or through any one of your kindred who is a registered voter who may make application to the election officials.

"The word 'kindred' has been defined to include husband, wife, father, mother, sister or brother of the whole or half blood, son, daughter, adopting parent or adopted child, step parent or step child, uncle, aunt, niece or nephew.

"Persons in the armed services are those in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Veterans of World War II, Merchant Marine, Society of Friends, American Red Cross, Women's Auxiliary Service Pilots or the United Service Organizations, and civilians attached to the armed forces.

"Persons in the service who have become 21 years old before November 7th, 1944, and who would have been eligible to register if at home may make application for the absentee ballot.

"There are approximately 500,000 citizens of the Commonwealth in the armed forces and it is exceedingly important that they should vote."

SF 2/c Jimmy Buntin, back from some of the islands, has had an emergency operation on his knee and is now at Port Hueneme in California.

How About Organizing?

Our feelings about the renomination of Everett Collins for the position of representative are slightly mingled. We think Everett deserved it; we wonder if Andover deserved it.

It was close; it was much too close for comfort. It's going to be hard-sledding in November, and that's why the town of Andover should learn a few lessons from this primary.

We think the position of representative is an important one; we think Everett Collins is an excellent choice to fill that position. But we don't think that it's up to Everett Collins to do all the work to get that position. Andover needs him at the State House, and it's up to Andover to keep him in the State House.

If Everett had said he would not run again, the chances are that a lot of Andover persons in responsible positions would bestir themselves to urge him to run, because they know we should have representation. But those same persons, when Everett does run, should bestir themselves to put him across. Too many of us want things in the political arena but are unwilling to do anything about it.

Some men contributed to the campaign fund, contributed money. The League of Women Voters sent out cards urging Andover voters to go to the polls to keep Andover represented. But until about three o'clock on election day, very little else was done for Everett Collins that he hadn't done himself. At that time, with Andover's vote pitifully light, a group of friends went on the 'phones and called every number they could get hold of, and pretty soon the cars were pouring

Town Fails To Make Fifth Bond Quota

Andover fell well short of its quota in the Fifth War Loan drive, according to figures now available. In E bond purchases the town raised $175,000, or 56% of its quota, according to Boston headquarters. In Corporation bond purchases the subscription was $1,400,000, or 65% of the quota.

It has been announced that all E bonds purchased before the end of the month will be applied to the town's quota for the Fifth drive.

There were two bright spots in the drive. The Tyer Rubber company did an exceptionally fine job, with the employes raising $24,750 in the drive period. Through St. Augustine's school, $11,936.25 worth of bonds were sold.

LEAGUE BOARD MEETING

The regular monthly board meeting of the League of Women Voters was held Tuesday afternoon at the Memorial Hall library when plans were further discussed for next year's League activities.

Mrs. F. Howard Porter of Porter road has been appointed to the board as Social Welfare chairman.

Miss Alice Abbott of Pittsburgh, Penn., is spending the summer months with Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Abbott of Upland road.

into the voting places. At the trains coming in from Boston commuters were handed a card advising them to vote—cards distributed by the only one of Everett's four sons who isn't serving Uncle Sam, and he probably would be if he were old enough. What number did you call if you wanted transportation? 688-J. That's Everett's. And who probably picked you up? Everett's son, John, home on a furlough. What we're driving at is that Ev Collins practically elected Ev Collins singlehanded, with the help of a few friends.

Why, we've had campaigns for selectman better organized than that! Alyce Schlapp, Ralph Hill, Frank Giles, Carl Woelke—they all had organizations behind them. But here in Andover, here where we howled for years because we had no representation, we just didn't seem to give a hoot. Where were the men in Andover who should be, who are interested in good government? Why hadn't they come forward and offered their services? It wasn't because they don't like and respect Ev Collins; they do. But it's a lethargy, an Andover lethargy, a feeling that it's just too much bother, a feeling that somebody else will do it. It takes more than thinking to win an election; it takes real work, and the candidate certainly shouldn't be made to do it all himself.

This concerns every person who wants good government. This concerns you. November is coming, coming fast. If Andover does what it should do, if Andover really feels representation in the General Court is worth working for, you responsible men and women of Andover will soon form a committee to elect Ev Collins, and that committee will work. We don't want it to be too little and too late this time.

This Sober Town

This is written to the people of Los Angeles, California, more particularly to the people of Our Lady of Good Counsel church in Hollywood. There's a fellow headed your way—and he's quite a fellow. We've been lucky enough to have him here in Andover for nearly nine years, and we wish it could have been more, but we're glad that we did have the nine years.

If your church isn't in too good condition physically, you're all set. It won't be long before it is. If your organ has seen better days, don't be too much disturbed. It won't be long before you have a new organ. If your altar doesn't do justice to the rest of your church, wait another year or two. You'll have a new altar, and a mighty nice one. You've probably got an amplifying system; we didn't nine years ago, but we do now. If yours is a brick church, and it needs a little pointing up, or if the inside of the church needs some painting up, if you need new tile in your aisle, if you need some faulty roofwork repaired, if your heating system isn't up to snuff (do you need heating systems in California?)—you're a lucky parish; Father Austin is on his way. If you have a cemetery, and if it could stand some improvements, it'll be done. You'll probably see Father Austin out there in shirt sleeves, with a shovel or a pickaxe in hand, or directing the activities of a bulldozer. And, Los Angeles, how is your city hall? Could you stand a new one? Well, get Father Austin to go to the city council or whatever you have out there; he'll convince them, and they'll like being convinced by him.

Yes, we've had him nine years, and they've been the best nine years in the history of St. Augustine's parish. It has been improved physically, it has improved spiritually. And the town liked him, liked him very much. Every place that help was needed, Red Cross or anything else, Father Austin was in it, actively in it.

He's coming your way, Los Angeles. Congratulations, for you're going to have several years of the life and energy and wisdom of about as nice a fellow as God ever made.

WEDDINGS

Olcott—O'Brien

The marriage of Miss Helen Marie O'Brien, daughter of Mrs. Michael Stephen O'Brien and the late Attorney O'Brien, to Gage Olcott, son of Mrs. Charles M. Olcott of Newton, and the late Mr. Olcott, took place Saturday noon in the rectory of St. Augustine's church with Rev. Henry B. Smith, O.S.A., officiating.

The bride's brother, Lieutenant (j.g.) Fredric S. O'Brien, escorted her. She wore ivory satin fashioned with a tight fitting bodice and full skirt of early American era design. Her chapel length veil was of imported ivory illusion and was attached to a Juliet cap of rose point lace. She carried a crescent spray of Madonna lilies and stephanotis.

Mrs. Fredric O'Brien was the matron of honor. She wore yellow crepe, lace trimmed, and a cap of matching lace, and carried a bouquet of shaded delphinium.

Richard E. Howe was the best man.

A reception at the Andover Inn followed the ceremony.

The bride received her education at Abbot academy, Smith college and the Sorbonne, Paris, France. Mr. Olcott is a graduate of Yale.

After a wedding trip, the couple will live in New York City.

McKenna—Regan

Miss Anne Regan, sister of Mrs. William O'Dowd, 167 Ferry street, Lawrence, became the bride of Martin McKenna of Brighton at a ceremony Sunday afternoon in St. Augustine's church. Rev. Matthew J. McDonald O.S.A., officiated.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with a yoke of white lace and a full skirt ending in a court train. She wore a finger-tip veil of illusion in coronet effect and she carried a prayer book adorned by an orchid.

Miss Elizabeth O'Dowd, a niece of the bride, was her maid of honor. She wore a dress that combined a fitted bodice of blue satin with a full skirt of matching net. She wore a matching hat and carried a Colonial bouquet of mixed flowers. Miss Barbara Carley was the soloist.

Ensign Timothy Cronin of Brighton, a nephew of the bride-groom was the best man.

McDonald—Gillen

Miss Barbara Fairlie Gillen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Blaine Gillen of 12 Carisbrooke street, became the bride of Staff Sergeant Walter Francis McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard L. McDonald, 52 Chestnut street, Sunday afternoon in St. Augustine's church.

The bride, who wore a princess-style gown of white net and veil of illusion attached to a seed pearl cap trimmed with orange blossoms, was attended by her only sister, Miss Janet Gillen, who wore a gown of pink mousseline de soie with a picture hat in harmony.

The best man was Robert F. McDonald, Apprentice Seaman, U. S. N. R., and member of the Navy V-12 unit at Dartmouth College. Thomas Noyes and James B. Gillen, Jr. were the ushers.

The wedding marches were played by Miss Mary Lanigan, church organist, and Miss Jean Wirtz, friend of the bride, was the soloist.

A reception for the immediate families followed at the Andover Inn.

Sergeant McDonald, who served for 16 months in the South Pacific, is now stationed at the Army Air base at Columbia, S. C., where the couple will make their home after a honeymoon in New York. He was graduated from St. John's preparatory school in Danvers and attended Providence college. The bride graduated from Punchard high school and the Charles Secretarial school in Cambridge.

90TH BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Mr. Richard Ward of 63 Lowell street, one of Andover's oldest citizens, celebrated his ninetieth birthday on Monday. Mr. Ward has been an invalid for many years, but he is still keenly interested in the affairs of the times. He lives with his daughter, Miss Dora Ward, and another daughter, Mrs. Leverett Putnam, lives close by. A family celebration in the nature of an outdoor party was tendered him in Mrs. Putnam's garden on Saturday evening. He has two granddaughters, Mrs. John Newell and Mary Putnam, also one grandson, Cpl. George Putnam, AAF, located in Pampa, Texas; also three great-grandchildren, Jackie, Anne and Priscilla Newell of Andover.

Miss Foster administered artificial respiration all the way to the Lawrence General, the use of the inhalator in the ambulance not being practical.

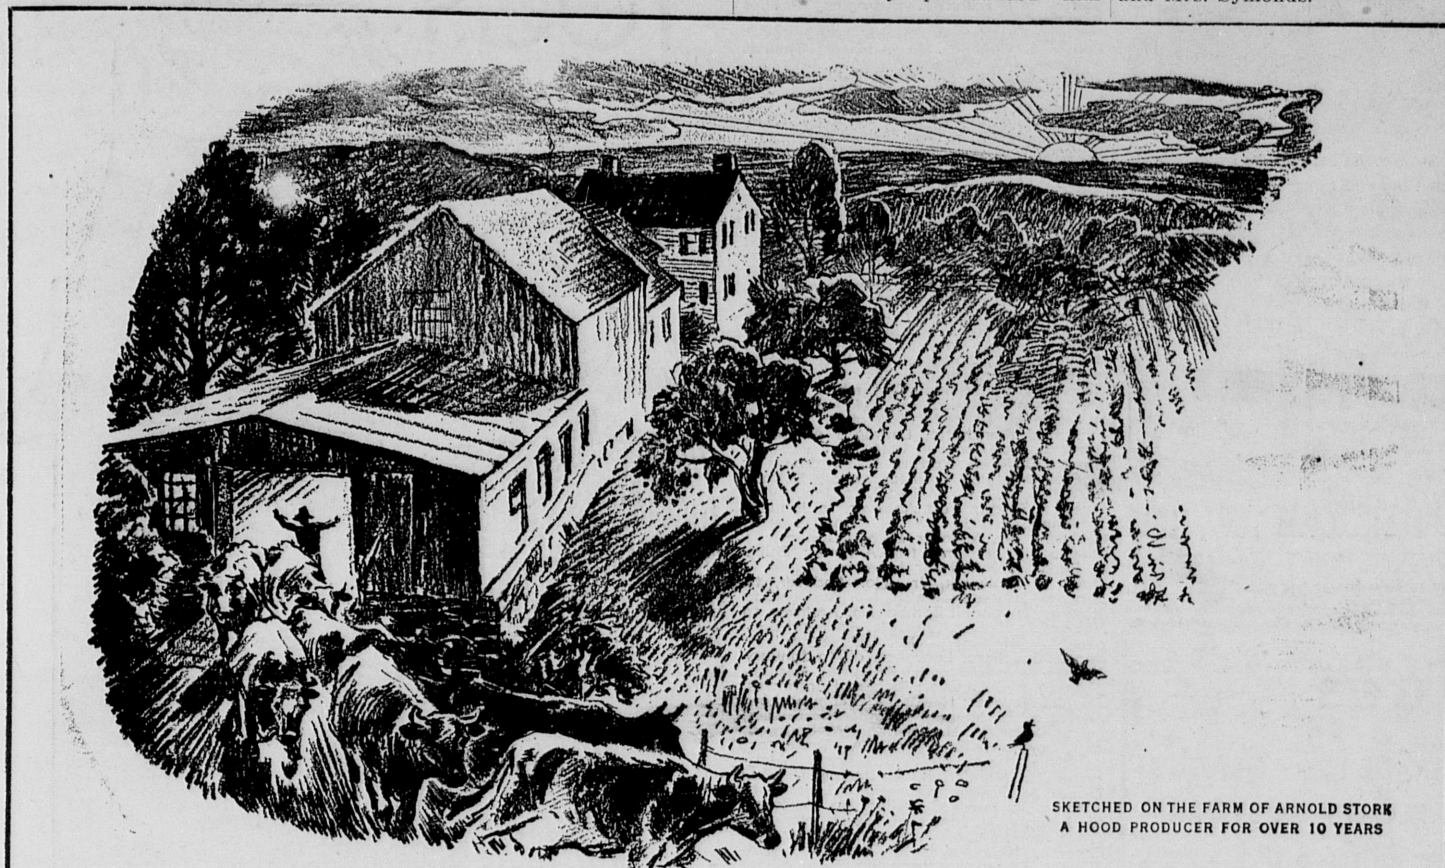

When the ambulance reached the hospital, Dr. Elbert Arbetter administered oxygen while Miss Foster and one of the ambulance attendants continued artificial respiration. Dr. Arbetter injected a heart stimulant, but it was impossible to revive the victim. Dr. Arbetter shortly pronounced him dead, everything possible having been done in the shortest possible time.

Miss Foster dislocated a previously fractured toe during her artificial respiration, and also sustained knee and leg bruises.

PENNY SOCIAL

A penny social, under the auspices of the Andover Mothers club, will be held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. George Symonds, 45 Maple avenue. The committee is comprised of the following members: Mrs. William Coupe, Mrs. Annie Davis, Mrs. John A. Polgreen and Mrs. Symonds.

SKETCHED ON THE FARM OF ARNOLD STORK
A HOOD PRODUCER FOR OVER 10 YEARS

Oh, what a beautiful morning!

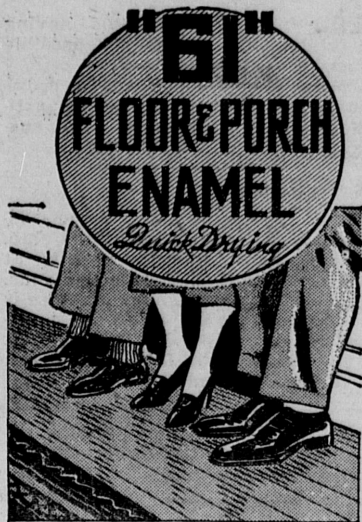

Just a quick glance at Arnold Stork's milk production record for last month shows he's not taking much time off to enjoy the beauties of nature on his dairy farm. As Mr. Stork told us a few days ago, "With farm help so hard to get and the demand for milk still increasing, I have to be right on the job 'way before sunrise in order to get my work done by sunset."

The next time you open a bottle of Hood's Milk, think of Arnold Stork and the other patriotic New England farmers who are working long, gruelling hours to bring you this essential wartime food. And remember—use every drop of your pure, fresh Hood's Milk wisely!

it's HOOD'S

MILK SUPPLY TEMPORARILY PLENTIFUL—We urge you to take advantage of this seasonal abundance to enjoy Hood's fine Milk, Cream, Chocolate Drink, Buttermilk, and Cream Cottage Cheese every day.

On interior or exterior floors of wood, cement and linoleum—wherever a tough, durable and water-resistant enamel finish is desired, lustrous "61" Floor & Porch Enamel gives maximum service. It is easy to apply, brushes freely, flows out smoothly, covers densely and it also spreads far. In 10 popular, practical colors.
