Punchard To Meet Reading Saturday

Punchard travels to Reading this Saturday to meet its strongest opponent of the season to date. Reading has won its three games, and is ranked as third in Class "C" by the Interscholastic Sports Writers ratings published this week. Coach Kent's team beat Johnson 13-0 in its opener. Governor Dummer School and Wellesley were also toppled by scores of 7-6 and 22-6. Eight seniors comprise the backbone of a weighty, experienced squad led by Captain Dan Norwood, 175-lb. veteran center.

Punchard was impressive in its 12-0 victory over Danvers at the Playstead last Saturday, but suffered a heavy blow with the loss of fullback Bud Johnson who was injured and who is not expected to be in the lineup this week. The local offense showed great improvement in the Danvers game. Coach Al Robinson used all his reserves and several boys looked promising.

The lineups:

Last Minute Rush For Overseas Mail

The post office expects a last minute rush today in the mailing of overseas mail, as the deadline is tomorrow. The volume of Christmas remembrances for the boys and girls overseas was above expectations this year. Parcels are still coming in.

On Wednesday alone, approximately 900 pieces of mail were handled, and this did not include the large volume of gifts from the Servicemen's Fund Association which were mailed earlier in the week. The amount of mail going overseas this year is much greater than last year, due to the increased number of boys overseas, and the fact that both Army and Navy mail closes at the same time this year increases the rush.

After October 15, no guarantee can be given that packages will reach local boys and girls overseas in time for Christmas. No parcels can be insured.

Mail going overseas should be stoutly packed in regulation containers, to prevent its being damaged in transit. Such packages should not weigh more than five pounds and should not be more than 36 inches in length and girth combined.

Andover National Bank Offers New Service

Beginning Monday, October 16, the Andover National bank will offer a new type of checking service, "ThriftiCheck," as the new plan is called, is a recent development in banking circles. It has received wide public acceptance in other sections of the country and is now making its pioneer appearance in this district. "ThriftiCheck" places the convenience of a checking account within easy reach of everyone. A minimum balance is not required and a person may open an account with a small amount: Even as little as one dollar is sufficient to start.

The cost of the service is covered by a charge of 7½¢ per check. There is no monthly service charge and no charge for deposits. The checks are issued to depositors in regulation folding books of 20.

A novel feature of this service is the fact that the customer's name is printed on all checks. This is part of the service and is rendered by the bank without additional charge. In appearance the checks are exactly the same as those in use in most commercial banks anywhere. Officials of the Andover National bank are pleased to offer

United War Fund Campaign To Open; Quota To Exceed Last Year's

The United War Fund Campaign, which is designed to furnish funds to 36 war relief and charitable agencies will get under way tonight with a meeting of the house to house canvassers, at which time these capable and enthusiastic volunteers will receive their assignments and instructions.

Andover's effort must be even greater this year than last year, as our quota has increased from $19,400 last year to $20,500 this year.

Mr. Roy A. Hardy is quota chairman for this district. There is a special gift committee of eleven members as follows: Stafford Lindsay, Mrs. E. C. Rich, James R. Adriance, Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, Mr. Claude Fuess, Mrs. James Grew, Miss Fannie Davis, Rev. John S. Moses, Rev. Frank E. Dunn, Miss Margaret Curran and Roy A.

Hardy, with Mrs. E. C. Rich in charge of house to house canvassing. Rev. John S. Moses in charge of industrial canvassing. Clubs in charge of Rev. Frank E. Dunn. Josephine Daly in charge of the governmental group, and Edward I. Erickson in charge of schools, assisted by Mr. James Adriance at Phillips Academy, and Miss Barbara Humes at Abbot Academy.

The National War Fund Agencies include USO, United Seamen's Service, War Prisoners Aid, American Field Service, and aid for our allies, while the Community Chest Agencies include 14 home front charitable agencies, thus making a total of 36 agencies represented in the 1944 United War Fund Campaign.

WEDDINGS

Clayton—McDonald

Miss Ann Frances McDonald, daughter of Mrs. Ann McDonald, 5 Walker avenue, was united in marriage with George Rainford Clayton, U.S.N.R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clayton, 137 Phillips street, Methuen, at a pretty ceremony Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. Mary's rectory, Lawrence. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles F. Hart, O.S.A.

The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Kathleen McDonald, and Arthur Clayton, U.S.N., was his brother's best man.

The bride wore a princess model of white satin with a sweetheart neckline adorned with Chantilly lace and fashioned with a chapel train. She wore a finger-tip veil of illusion draped from a headdress of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white pom poms with an orchid in the center.

The maid of honor wore a frock combining a fitted bodice of pink brocaded satin with a bouffant skirt of matching net. Her Juliet cap of blue feathers was trimmed with veiling, and she also wore pink lace mitts. She carried pink pom poms.

Mrs. McDonald wore a cerise outfit with black accessories. Mrs. Clayton wore navy blue with matching accessories. Both the mothers wore orchids.

A large reception was held at the Merrimack Valley Country club, with guests present from Medford, Cambridge, Milton, Arlington, New York, New Jersey and Virginia. The couple left during the festivities on a trip to Canada. Upon their return they will reside at 324 Ames street, Lawrence.

Mrs. Clayton attended the McIntosh school and prior to her wedding was employed in the office of the Tyer Rubber Company. The bridegroom attended Burdett College, and Northaestern University, receiving the B.A.A. degree. He is a member of Delta Nu Omega.

TO TAKE COURSE

Dr. John J. Hartigan, 7 Locke street, has enrolled for the 24th annual post-graduate medical course being conducted this week by the University of Buffalo Medical School. The course is designed to keep doctors abreast of the newest developments in medical knowledge and practice.

YOU Gave US A PRIVILEGE

Yes—we have felt that it was a very real privilege, and we have tried to treat it as such. When the Town of Andover voted some years ago to permit the sale of liquor, it did it for many reasons—because of the revenue to the town, because of the number of people who could be employed, because, most of all, the town felt that the question of drinking was one for the individual person to decide for himself.

Into our hands was placed the privilege of translating that vote into action. To us were given the licenses, but we felt they were more than licenses. We felt that there was something of an honor attached to being granted this privilege by a town of Andover's character, and we determined to prove ourselves worthy of that honor. We wanted to conduct our various businesses in a way that would make the people of Andover glad that they had entrusted these licenses to us.

We know that the succeeding years will once more find us eager to keep the dispensing of liquor in strict accordance with the fine traditions of a fine town.

Editorials

Where's the Organization?

You know, every once in a while some people, some nice people, average, responsible citizens of our town, say nice things about our editorials, especially when we attempt to call attention to something that should be corrected.

Well, it's good hearing it, but sometimes you wonder. You know things should be corrected, but you know, too, that while the vast majority of the people agree with you, nothing much gets accomplished in the way of correcting things. You wonder if it's worthwhile going on trying to win a Carnegie medal for losing friends and not influencing people. You wonder if maybe it wouldn't be just as well for you too to adopt the policy of laissez-faire, of letting sleeping dogs lie, even though they shouldn't be sleeping.

We need something in this town. It's an organized effort to improve the administration of our town, it's a militant effort, one that will not let ungermane irrelevant considerations influence its actions. Last spring, for instance, as a result of some town meeting talk, we undertook to point out three weeks running that the positions of town clerk and town treasurer were not full-time jobs, and that we pay considerably more for those two positions than most other towns in the state. Was anything done? No, not a thing. People were interested, people agreed — but nothing happened. It died out. There should have been some organized effort to correct that situation, some organization in town should have acted to bring about the necessary reorganization of town officialdom. But, no, the sleeping dog went right back to sleep.

And this summer, our reservoir went dry. Somebody was grossly at fault, and everybody who knew anything about the running of the department of public works knew where the fault lay, and everybody knew just whose fault it was that we don't get a dollar for every dollar we put into that department, and everybody knew that no private business would stand for it. We editorialized, and again people were interested and people agreed — but nothing happened. It died out. There should have been some organized effort to correct that situation, some organization in town should have been enough interested in effecting an administrative reorganization here to have met with the Board of Public Works and insisted that something be done. But no — the board debated three and a half hours as to whether they should look into it or not! And then a week later, a little memo of mildly-worded blame went into the records, and the blooming dog went back to sleep again.

Oh, well --- we'll keep on barking, and maybe some day somebody will get in and do a real job.

Carry On!

Wendell Willkie died early Sunday morning, died without having won what some people may have thought was his greatest ambition—the Presidency of the United States. But Wendell Willkie's vigorous fighting was not so much for an office as for an ideal, and all those of us who loved, worshiped and admired Wendell Willkie can still win that ideal for him. After he lost the presidency, he still fought unstintingly for that ideal. After he gave up the quest for the Republican nomination, he still fought for that ideal. Had God seen fit to have left him with us, he would have continued that fight.

He died—and what his thoughts were as he died, we don't know. But if he could have read the minds of every person in these United States and many the world over,—those who were with him and those who were against him,—he would have gone to his Maker knowing that no other man in the world today had attained such universal respect and admiration. We know that he must have had the satisfaction, the greatest satisfaction of all, of knowing that never had he compromised with his ideals, never did he waver for an instant from his principles to gain an extra vote, never did he say anything but what he felt way down deep inside him. His frankness, his candor, his honesty cost him the Presidency, but gained him a unique place in the hearts and minds of all of us.

Wendell Willkie, you've gone from us now—but millions of us here in the United States are going to continue your fight for you—and some day, with God's help, we will have one world, a better world—the kind of a world you dreamed of and fought for and died for.

COMMUNICATION

The following statement was received at the Townsman office: "In a recent issue of the Townsman it was reported that the aged woman whose two-wheeled gig was demolished and her grocery order scattered to the four winds of heaven crossed the tracks at the Essex Street crossing. Such was not the case. She crossed the white line south of the Railroad station and on to the center platform just a few seconds before the second section of the Kennebec Ltd. No. 11 came tearing by. I did all in my power to prevent the near fatality by shouting at her and trying to wave her back of the white line. After that report was printed in the Townsman and one of the Lawrence papers, the general public was under the impression that the accident happened on the Essex Street crossing which was in error." BUY WAR BONDS NOW!

The Beef and Butter Shortage Is Still Very Serious—

Here Are the Conditions:

We have to go to market every morning and for the past two weeks every pound of this meat was sold before noon time! Now, these conditions are going to grow worse within the next two weeks. Take this advice from an old marketman: Buy your meat the day we are able to get it.

We are able to give everyone who calls at this store this week-end 1-2 lb. Butter

Sweet Cider and Doughnuts and Pumpkins for Halloween
Cider..... gallon 55c — half gallon 30c
Apples..... 6 lbs. for 25c — Squash..... 6 lbs. for 25c
Potatoes..... 6 lbs. for 25c

Grocery Department

Let us tell you a little story: We have been in the market for high quality brooms for the past three months. Each time we were in Boston, the only shop that carried them either was expecting them, or had just sold out! Anyone in business today knows that to be "Johnny-on-the-Spot" is almost an impossibility. Thus, the long delay until we finally caught this Boston shop with the merchandise that we were looking for. We have the brooms now! And they're "pipparoons."

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL CURRICULUM

Throughout the first two years of Andover Junior High school the same courses are scheduled for all pupils, with divisions arranged on the basis of ability grouping. This arrangement makes possible for every pupil an opportunity to cover the essential minimum requirements of the work of these grades. Division placement is made on three bases: the results of previous grade achievement on an objective test administered at the end of Grade 6, the mental age of the pupil, and sixth grade teacher judgment. Readjustments and division change is made whenever such change more nearly meets the needs and abilities of the individual pupil.

Such an adjustable program, based on ability grouping, was set up in Grade nine, September, 1943, and has been continued as an adequate and satisfactory arrangement. Four courses have again been offered: College, Business, Technical (General), and Practical Arts, for which basic courses are required of each student. The basic subjects, English, social studies, science, and physical education, are scheduled, regardless of elected courses, by division groupings. In this way a basic essential framework of study for all pupils in Grade nine is maintained with the continued advantage of ability grouping in keeping with the needs of a flexible program in junior high school.

Several modifications have been made this school year in Grade eight programs with a view to enriching the course as well as increasing the preparation for work in Grade nine. For one period a week each eighth grade pupil is offered a course in oral work, including oral reading, voice expression, and vocabulary development. A period of art under the new art supervisor has been scheduled for Grade eight as well as for Grade seven (elective in Grade nine only). An alternate of science and general language background was scheduled this year. The general language course, meeting three periods a week, covers Greek and Roman mythology. Beginning Latin will again be offered for the spring session in order to strengthen the Latin background work for Grade nine.

Of the activities, in addition to the regular offerings of orchestra, library staff, and intra-mural sports, a boys' Glee Club of Grades seven and eight has been organized by Miss Miriam Sweeney. Fifty boys are meeting one period a week for Glee Club. This is a selective group, membership depending on voice testing by the music supervisor.

It is felt that a varied program, sufficiently vital and rich in material, will best effect the most complete development of each individual. With this in mind, we plan to adjust the curriculum as the need is recognized within the program of Andover Junior High school for the most adequate preparation of pupils in these three years of junior high school work, and thus to ease the transition both from elementary school to junior high, and from junior high to high school.

1500 Gifts Packed For Servicemen

A large staff was on hand Saturday evening at Punchard High school to pack, wrap and address 1500 Christmas packages for military personnel. An assembly-line plan was used to prepare the gift packages, valued at $8,625. The work was under the supervision of the Andover Servicemen's Fund Association.

A total of 33 articles went into each serviceman's box, and each woman's package contained 35 articles. Each package is valued at $5.75.

In approximately three hours the work was finished. Visitors were on hand during the evening to watch proceedings and moving pictures of the work were taken by Henry L. Nutley for the servicemen's moving picture library, to add to the 2,000 feet of film which they already have.

The shipment this year showed an increase of 300 bundles over that of last year. The boxes will go to men and women in foreign countries and in the United States.

Doughnuts and coffee were served to the workers during a half hour recess by a lunchroom staff under the direction of James Mitche!!.

A staff of 35 folded 525 dozen handkerchiefs and packaged 1500 automatic cigarette lighters in special containers on Friday night.

The drive to collect funds which was made recently by the association did not reach the desired goal, but fell short by about $1,000. These special donations were meant to cover the Christmas package expenses. Anyone interested in performing a good deed for Christmas may mail contributions to the association headquarters at 85 Main street, as they hope to make up the balance by new donations.

Those in charge of the gifts were: John M. Erving, chairman; J. Everett Collins, president; Harold W. Wennik, vice-president; Attorney Anna M. Greeley, secretary; Charles E. Foster, treasurer; Frank R. Petty, assistant treasurer; Charles O. McCullom, Charles E. Foster, James P. Christy and Burke E. Thornton, packing supervisors; Frank R. Petty, supervisor of tables; James R. Mosher, wrapping supervisor; George H. Winslow, chief inspector; John Murray, stock room supervisor.

An interesting angle was that John Deyermund, one of the packers, has six sons and one son-in-law in the service.

ALUMNI TO HOLD BARN DANCE

The dance is being planned by the Punchard Alumni Association, and Methuen students and alumni are invited to attend as well as those from Punchard.

The executive committee of the Association will meet at 7:30 Monday evening in the Goldsmith Library in the high school to make further plans for the affair.

Human nature don't change much

"Keeping store," Sam Abernethy says, "can teach a person plenty about human nature."

"Now coffee rationing's lifted, folks ain't a-breakin' their necks tryin' to buy all they can. Knowin' they can have it if they want it, they ain't so all-fired anxious to get it."

Sam's right, as usual. I don't crave that second cup half as much as when I couldn't get it.

But that's human nature... Like allowing moderate beer in the Army's post exchanges. Instead of leading to more drinking, the OWI report says it works out just the opposite - often as not the men choose soda-pop or milk, with beer right there and no restrictions on it.

But if it wasn't there, like in the last War, the story might be altogether different.

From where I sit, that's how it is with Americans. Tell 'em they can't have a thing and by golly, they'll find ways to get it. But admit their right to have it, and their own good sense will lead to moderation.

This Sober Town

Last Monday afternoon the writer (not the editor), was driving along on the outskirts of town when the following pantomime was brought to his attention:

A man was trying to lead a cow by a halter without much success, to a barn about ten yards away. The cow was almost as big as the barn, (only not nearly as stable,) apparently having eaten too many potent and frost-bitten apples. But, like most of us, she didn't know when she'd had enough, and was very loathe to leave what was to her too much of a good thing. Finally, when the farmer attempted to "take the cow by the horns" (to corn a phrase) and drag her by main force to the barn, she lay down flat with her nose turned longingly yet firmly to catch the delicate scent of the over-aged apples. At this, her would-be rescuer gave up, and, filling a basket full of the fruit, held it a few inches in front of her nose. Having gained her point, she rose and followed the basket of apples into the barn.

This just goes to show how far the influence of strikes can spread. Who knows, before long this cow may be striking for shorter milking hours.

FREE CHURCH FAIR IS HUGE SUCCESS

The Free Church fair, which closed last Friday night was reported as being the biggest success that the church ever had in a fair. About 500 people were served at the chicken supper on Friday night.

There were many colorful tables, the white elephant table being exceptionally fine this year with a good selection of articles. Some of the articles on the apron and handkerchief tables which were not sold will be put on sale at a Christmas fair to be held at a later date. Mrs. Marr of Locke street won a beautiful blanket, and other prizes were awarded at the close of festivities on Friday evening as follows: $25 war bond, Maima Mason, Hollywood, Fla.; table cloth, Mrs. Thomas Lowe; stationery, Randlett Holden, Jr.; toilet set, G. Smith; dripolator, Agnes Mooney; pitcher, Joseph Traynor; stationery, Dorothy Pierce, and consolation prize, a large squash, was awarded to Mrs. Archibald Maclaren. There were also other incidental prizes.

General dancing was enjoyed in the vestry after the last serving of the supper with music provided by Russell MacLeich's recordings.

NOTED CONCERT PIANIST HERE OCTOBER 20

Mr. Boris Goldovsky, noted concert pianist, is scheduled to appear in a lecture-recital in George Washington Hall at 8:15 on Friday, October 20, under the management of Aaron Richmond.

Mr. Goldovsky enjoys outstanding popularity, especially in Boston, for his competent piano technique, as well as for his engaging sense of humor. He was born in Moscow, and came to America in 1930 to join the staff of the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia. In the summer of 1941, Dr. Koussevitzky invited him to the newly-formed Music Center at Tanglewood in the Berkshires, and since that time Mr. Goldovsky has been a favorite of music lovers in Boston.

NEWS OF OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Cpl. Warren A. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Lewis is enjoying a fifteen day furlough at his home. Cpl. Lewis has just completed the gunnery course at Yuma, Arizona, and has been awarded his silver wings. He is assigned to further duty at Westover Field.

Ensign Frank R. Strong, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Strong of Stonehedge Rd., has just returned to his duties at Shawnee, Oklahoma, after enjoying a short furlough at the family home.

Word has been received by Mrs. George Addison of Candler Road that her son, Corp. William Addison of the U. S. Marines has been wounded in action somewhere in the So. Pacific. Corporal Addison entered the service in January 1942, and during that time he has seen a great deal of action. We hope that his injuries are not too serious and that he will soon be fully recovered.

George Carney writes "from a field behind a French town" that he received his birthday card and thanks the Association for it. Johnnie Campbell in Italy and T. Sgt. Fred Cronin in the Pacific also send thanks for their cards.

Word has been received that Captain Gilbert W. Smith, of 812 Osgood street, Staff Officer, has been awarded the Distinguished Unit Badge as a member of a veteran 15th AAF Liberator bomber group which has been cited for "outstanding performance of duty in armed conflict with the enemy."

Commanded by Lt. Col. Joseph G. Russell of Texas, the group received the nation's highest organization award for an attack on the aircraft factories at Wiener Neustadt, Austria, on May 10.

According to the citation which accompanied the award, "ground personnel worked feverishly, enthusiastically and with untiring intensity to get all type B-24 craft in the best possible mechanical condition to insure the success of the operation."

"Adverse weather conditions broke up the wing formation of four groups, forcing two to return to their bases and causing the other group to return without dropping its bombs. . . Despite these adverse conditions and well coordinated and vicious attacks by 80 to 90 enemy fighters, the group continued on for a highly successful bombing run, which virtually obliterated the strategic Nazi manufacturing center."

The group entered the Italian campaign in January and has since completed more than 115 combat missions over such major Nazi targets as Ploesti, Rumania; Munich, Germany; Steyr, Austria; and Blechhammer, Germany.

Sgt. A. Renny has been transferred from Topeka, Kansas to Herington, Kansas.
