Red Cross Drive To Get Underway

The local Red Cross War Fund drive was launched at a supper and rally held on Monday evening at the Christ Church parish house with Mrs. Ann Newdick Kennedy, Red Cross worker in European battle areas as the principal speaker.

At this time reports and plans for the progress of the drive were made.

Miss Gertrud Rath and James Grew of Abbot and Phillips Academy respectively are in charge of the drives at their schools. Mr. Brimer in charge of corporate gifts is already at work and about 150 workers have been enlisted for the house-to-house canvass which will begin March 1st.

The goal for the drive is an opportunity made for every adult in Andover to participate by means of a contribution at this time in the work of the American Red

Lenten Services At Baptist Church

Starting the last Sunday in February and continuing through the Easter Season, the Baptist Church will present a series on "Life In These United States." Those aspects of national life are chosen which are causing all thinking Christian people deep concern. These include Temperance, Boy and Girl Relationships led by the college young people of the Fetter Family; Marriage and the Home with Mrs. Adelaide Huntley of Malden speaking on the topic; Unions with a talk by Mr. Arthur Smith, and Peace-Time Conscription. In each case the group will endeavor not only to seek the truth about our world but also to discover what the "mind of Christ" would be on these burning issues.

DO YOU HAVE ANY?

An office desk, a table, four comfortable waiting-room chairs, and a 9 x 12 rug — the Service Men's Fund association needs them for its office in the Shaw estate.

They could buy them, if they are purchaseable in these days when you can't buy much of anything. But to purchase them out of their available funds would mean that much less to be spent on Andover's boys and girls in the service.

So—can you help? If you have any of the above-listed articles, you're making it possible for the association to conduct its work properly and also making it possible for more money to be available for the association's work.

Call 993—they'll be delighted to hear from you.

"Town Meeting Nite" Tuesday at Free Church

The Wilson Club of the Free church will attempt a "preview" of the annual town meeting in March when on next Tuesday the members and friends of the club assemble in the church parish hall to hear a panel composed of Roy E. Hardy, Sidney P. White and Arthur E. Lewis discuss town problems and certain of the articles in the warrant for 1945.

A question period will follow initial statements by these three leaders. It is certain that questions will be directed at the subject of improvement of the water system and sewerage. Certain others will be concerned with the collection of garbage, or the amount of money being spent to celebrate the three hundredth anniversary of the town. More interest than usual will be evinced this year in the subject of recreation and it is expected that some thought will be concerned about the long range planning program of the town, generally regarded as coming under post-war planning.

The meeting will be held under the direction of Geoffrey Nicoll, club president, and will start at 8 o'clock. Following the discussion refreshments will be served by a committee chaired by Norman MacLeish. Tickets for this first function of 1945 can be obtained from any of the club members.

The officers and directors of the club are as follows: Geoffrey Nicoll, president; Alexander Black, vice-president; Norman MacLeish, secretary-treasurer; Roland Fraser, James Watt, Arthur Jowett, James Edgar, Robert Deyermann, David Coutts, Frank Buttrick, Glenn Noble and David May.

Library Inaugurates New Forum Series

Dumbarton Oaks: World Peace Or Power Politics will be the subject of the first in a series of forum discussions to be held at the Memorial Hall Library, Monday evening at 7:45. Members of the panel will be Mrs. Alan R. Blackmer, active in the Andover League of Women Voters, Alan R. Blackmer, Leonard F. James, both members of the faculty of Phillips Academy and Miss Marguerite Hearsey, Principal of Abbot Academy.

Discussion of the future shape of the world to come is vitally important, for what is done now and in the days to come will condition the kind of world in which we shall live. All are cordially invited to attend the meeting and participate in the general discussion.

The second meeting in the series, on Monday evening, March 5, will

One Boy Missing; Another a Prisoner

Private, first class, Paul E. Weamer, a member of an infantry unit with the First Army, has been reported missing in France since February 2, Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Weamer, 75 Central street, graduated from Phillips Academy in June, 1943, and in August, 1943, enrolled in the army specialized training program.

Another Andover boy who had been reported missing is now a prisoner in Germany. He is Sergeant Wilfred L. Pelletier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maxime Pelletier, 39 Beacon street. He was reported missing in France on September 27, 1944, but his family has now received three cards, the latest dated January 4, saying that he is a prisoner of war and that he is well.

He was awarded the silver star for gallantry in action while serving in the armored infantry.

Pfc. Allan Dix, former salesman for Smith and Coutts company, predecessors to the Townsman Press, arrived at Camp Edwards last week after having been wounded some time ago in Germany. He has now been shipped to Denver for further convalescence. Al was wounded in the attack on Aachen when it is presumed his tank struck a mine and blew up. He suffered a fractured arm between the elbow and shoulder, and many cuts about the face, causing a facial paralysis that by now has cleared up.

Committee Studies High School Program

A survey of the high school program got under way Monday evening when a special committee met at the school with Superintendent Erickson and Principal Lovely. The committee includes Chairman Arthur R. Lewis, Miss Barbara Loomer and Jerome Cross.

Last fall's unexpected drop in membership caused some difficulty with the program, about fifty who had signed up in the spring not having returned to school.

P. A. Hour Discusses Compulsory Training

Phillips Academy's half hour on the air over WLAW will this week feature a round table discussion of the topic: "Is Universal Military Training After the War Desirable?" Wilbur J. Bender of the Academy History Department will serve as moderator. The speakers are all P. A. students: Edward J. Hawkins of Walpole, Joel P. Nixon of New York City, Edward S. Jones of Oyster Bay, L. I., and Edwin C. Jordan of Chicago. The broadcast will originate from the Andover Inn from 8 to 8:30 Thursday night.

Rev. Mr. Dunn In New Position

Appointed to Post With Council of Churches

Rev. Frank E. Dunn, Minister of the Free church, last week was elected Director of Public Relations and Finance for the Massachusetts Council of Churches. He will assume the duties of this office on April 1, at which time he will sever official connection with the Free church.

In his new office, Mr. Dunn will work closely with the leaders of the thirteen Protestant denominations, more than two thousand churches and their constituencies throughout the state. He will be in touch also with various Community Councils of Churches, of which at present there are forty-nine in Massachusetts. Newspapers, magazines, radio denominational publications, direct mail, and the Council's own publication which he will edit, and other forms of publicity will be at Mr. Dunn's disposal as he seeks to accomplish a sound public relations program for the Council of Churches.

Senator Saltonstall To Address Graduates

A group of twenty seniors of Phillips Academy will receive their diplomas at the mid-winter graduation exercises to be held in the Cochran Chapel at two o'clock Friday afternoon. This is the second time in the history of Phillips that such a graduation has been held in mid-winter. Senator Leverett Saltonstall will make the address. Dr. Claude M. Fuess will also deliver an address. Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, school minister, will read the invocation before the assembled student body, faculty and friends. Following the service, eleven students will be initiated into the Cum Laude Society. In order to be initiated into this society, the student is required to have an average of 81% for the entire Senior year.

Tree Warden Urges Better Equipment And Adequate Housing for Departments

A plea for better equipment for his department and for adequate housing is made in the annual report of Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent G. Richard Abbott. No special articles are incorporated in the warrant, however, to transcribe any of these requests into reality.

Mr. Abbott would like new quarters for his departments to be built out of salvaged brick from any school building that may be torn down, the new quarters possibly to be near the park and of a type of architecture to fit in with surrounding buildings.

Among the new equipment which Mr. Abbott recommends is a power mower for roadside brush cutting, a portable air compressor with equipment for tree surgery work, a power saw to cut down and cut up trees, a truck-operated crane and winch to lower heavy branches of trees, lift large tree butts and pull out stumps, a truck with top-mounted ladder for quick removal of low-hanging branches and quick access into trees.

In recommending an appropriation of $5600 for the tree department, Mr. Abbott comments as follows: "At the present time home owners and tree lovers are in a good deal of distress over the shortage of reliable tree workers. Tree work requires strong muscles, sound judgment, often expert knowledge and skill. These severe storms, combined with other conditions, such as paved roads and sidewalks, accumulation of calcium chloride from sanding in the winter, long dry periods, insect attacks and disease, in time cause many injuries which are difficult for street trees to overcome without special care. Often these injuries do not show up for several years.

"Trees growing under present conditions of travel need much more attention than in former years of graveled roads. The town has extended hard surfaced roads and sidewalks in all sections, has added many miles of new streets, yet gives very little consideration to the need of more men with tree repair experience to care for its trees.

"Town meetings have refused modern equipment for the tree department. We sometimes read or hear about lack of efficiency in town departments, quite often the town does not furnish equipment to make it possible for efficient work. It seems satisfied as long as the yearly appropriation is the same regardless of the need for improvement."

TPA Directors Vote Against Private Plowing

The Board of Directors of the Andover Taxpayers' association voted unanimously last night that it would be unfortunate if the town were to vote in favor of the plowing of private ways, as provided in the special referendum question to appear on the ballot.

Chairman Sidney P. White of the Board of Public Works appeared at the meeting and expressed the opinion as fortified by a legal interpretation that if the vote is passed, every driveway that does not have a No Trespassing sign on it would be the responsibility of the town to plow out. He estimated that it would triple the cost of plowing. The equipment at present, he said, would be grossly inadequate for the job. He anticipated many headaches, saying that public highways would have to come first, and by the time the town got around to plowing the private driveways, there would be howls from those home-owners. There would be possibilities for a great deal of favoritism.

Association directors expressed the feeling that it would be unfair to charge the home-owner in the center of town for plowing out someone who purchased a house in a comparatively inaccessible place and thereby pays lower taxes.

THIRD IN LECTURE SERIES PRESENTED

The third East and West Lecture Series was presented in George Washington Hall on Sunday evening. These lectures are being sponsored by the Society of Inquiry who had as their guest speaker, Dr. Marc Slonim who spoke on the subject, "Russia and the United States."

In previous articles, it was said that few men were better prepared to introduce the real Russia to us than Marc Slonim. Dr. Slonim did just this when he spoke quite frankly and clearly in expressing his views about the relationship of his country and ours.

ONE FREIGHT TRAIN FOLLOWS ANOTHER. Heavy snowfall has presented the eastern railroads with their biggest job—to keep essential war materials moving. This photograph is one of a hundred, lent by the Library of Congress to the Addison Gallery, Phillips Academy, to explain the mechanics of railroading. The Academy has recently cancelled its Easter vacation at the request of the Office of Defense Transportation to help lighten the railroad's burden.

U. S. Railroads Take Over Gallery Feature Position

Written for The Phillippian by
W. C. Mohler, Art Editor

One hundred photographs of trains and the men that run them make up the Addison Gallery's current exhibition on the United States railroads. Lent by the Library of Congress in cooperation with the Office of War Information and the American Association of Railroads, these photographs are designed to acquaint the public more closely with the immense problem of wartime transportation which the railroads are now handling. The exhibition will remain on display until March 19.

A brief foreword to the photographs themselves explains the work of the railroads during the present crisis, and emphasizes their importance to industry, to essential passenger travel, and to the armed forces. In addition, other parts of the foreword explain how and of what freight and passenger trains are formed, and they classify the duties of the various members of the crews on these trains.

The photographs cover practically every phase of railroading. The technical side is illustrated by pictures like the ones of construction crews building the roads and others of the immense fleets of freight cars, twenty million in all, which run over them. The complexity of railroad machinery is shown in a photograph of the interior of a great freight engine cab. Its maze of valves and levers compares favorably with the complicated controls of a modern airplane.

To cover railroad repairs, many pictures of railroad maintenance shops and their gigantic machinery are included. The most striking shows a freight engine being lifted, like an automobile at a local gas station, to have its chassis repaired. Another interesting shot shows workmen repairing flats on great drive wheels.

The show also covers another less publicized part of railroading, the people who run the roads. Pictures of their jobs, their traveling homes, and especially of the men themselves in their work, help to carry some of the railroading spirit to the public.

This exhibition is particularly remarkable because of excellent clear photography and the interesting subject matter which it presents. Attached to most of the enlargements are explanatory paragraphs, which aid greatly in understanding the complex railroad industry and work it is doing today.

NEWS OF OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN UNIFORM

AT A 12TH AIR FORCE P-47 THUNDERBOLT BASE, ITALY—

John W. Anderson, a 12th Air Force P-47 Thunderbolt pilot and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burt M. Anderson, 81 Chestnut street, has been promoted to captain. This veteran flight leader has led more than 100 missions in combat over Italy, France and Germany, while winning the Distinguished Flying Cross for "outstanding achievement" and the Air Medal with five Oak Leaf clusters. Captain Anderson, a graduate of Punchard high school, Andover, joined this Thunderbolt group in time to join in the 12th Air Force's epic "operation strangle," the air operation which set the stage for the successful drive on Rome last spring. He later participated in the landings on the southern coast of France, flying in with the first flight of Thunderbolts to operate from new bases on the Riviera. From the sea, he and his group followed the retreating Germans, making slashing attacks on enemy motor convoys and loaded railroad trains that were struggling toward the Vosge Mountains and safety behind Belfort Gap. At present, Captain Anderson and his group are providing air support for the Allied armies in Italy, dive-bombing and strafing Nazi installations in the Po River Valley. Before the war, Captain Anderson had been employed by M. T. Stevens and Sons, Company and the American Woolen Company. He attended Burdett Business College, Boston, and entered the Air Forces in April, 1943, after service as a sergeant in Ordnance at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

Among those graduating from an intensive course of Fire Controlman training at recent Service Schools exercises at Great Lakes, Ill., was Walter R. Selfridge, Jr., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Selfridge, 127 Abbot street.

A FIFTEENTH AIR FORCE COMMAND SERVICE GROUP, ITALY—Sergeant Joseph C. Veit of 9 Dufton road, Andover, Mass., a mechanic with an Ordnance company of a Fifteenth Air Force Service Command service group in Italy, recently received the following commendation: "It is the desire of this Command to commend a member of your unit, Sergeant Joseph C. Veit for his devotion to duty and technical skill. Sergeant Veit came to this headquarters on the evening of 9 January 1945 to do a simple valve grinding job on a power unit. The work had to be done at night in order to maintain continuous supply of electricity. After grinding the valves it was discovered that they were too worn, pitted and corroded to be of further use. No replacements were available. Knowing that the generator had to be restored with the least delay, Sergeant Veit made a complete set of new valves by converting other types. He worked constantly for a period of eighteen hours, and completed his work the afternoon of 10 January 1945. The exemplary manner in which Sergt. Veit performed his duties, his skill and perseverance reflect credit to himself and his unit."

A 7TH AAF HEAVY BOMBER BASE IN THE MARIANAS — (Delayed)—As a member of the famed 11th Heavy Bombardment Group of the 7th AAF, Corporal George G. Potter of Andover has been commended by Major General Robert W. Douglass, Jr., commanding the 7th AAF, for his part "in the campaigns which have taken a large section of the Pacific from the enemy's hands." General Douglass issued his commendation along with a personal message of congratulations as the group rounded out its fifth year, one of the oldest, most traveled heavy bomber outfits in the Pacific. Corporal Potter's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John E. Potter of 4 Locke street, Andover. He entered the service in July, 1942.

From Eddie McCabe, now a top-kick in India, comes the following note: "I presume that I could start this short note by saying "Greetings" but somehow I don't quite believe that that is the correct word coming from this country, though there are many interesting and in some cases beautiful scenes I know that they will never compare with the good old U. S. A., especially around Andover. Have really travelled considerably since leaving Andover and seen many interesting and intriguing places but this is truly a country unusual. People, customs, scenes, land and mountains. The heading "somewhere" is the most correct destination that I can give and I do believe that no matter where one travels that will be the best manner in which to locate ourselves. All is well though and we are for the most part doing quite well considering all circumstances present."

Pfc. William J. Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis D. Lane of High Plain road, and nephew of Bishop Lane of Manchukuo who has not been heard from since the outbreak of hostilities, is at home prior to departing for a V-12 course at an eastern college. He was wounded in action in August of 1943 by shrapnel from Japanese shell explosions in the South Pacific.

First Lieutenant William Cargill, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cargill, 44 Stevens street has been awarded the Bronze Star medal for meritorious service on the battlefields of Italy. "Bill" has served overseas 21 months, having seen action in Sicily, Italy, France and recently with the Seventh Army in Germany.

Aviation Machinist's Mate, third class, Everett Roy Kenney was presented the silver-gold wings of a U. S. Naval Aircrewman when he completed the final phase of his training at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Florida this week. The 20-year old petty officer, son of John H. Kenney, 53 Poor street, will now be assigned to duty as a member of an air-combat team, either aboard an aircraft carrier or at a naval air station. Everett enlisted in the Navy on January 3rd, 1941.

We get a new change of address for T. Sgt. Thomas R. Wallace. It's Headquarters and Base Su. Squadron, 381st Service Group, A.P.O. 420, but still care of Postmaster, New York.

Master Sergeant James M. Dodge, Punchard High School, 1937, has just been given a bronze star medal with citation by his Army commander, General Truscott, in Northern Italy. He was picked up on the first draft in 1942; trained in England and went through the African, Sicilian, and Italian campaigns. The citation reads:

"Master Sergeant James M. Dodge, Field Artillery, United States Army. For meritorious services in support of combat operations in Italy from August 20, 1944, to October 23, 1944. Master Sergeant Dodge, as operations sergeant of a Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, Field Artillery Group, through his leadership and devotion to duty achieved and maintained a high degree of combat efficiency in his section. His meticulous work in keeping records, charts, and plans constantly correct and current was of great assistance to the officers of the Group Headquarters in planning artillery fire in support of combat operations. Master Sergeant Dodge's services are deserving of great praise and are in keeping with the high traditions of the Armed Forces of the United States."

In a letter from Bunny Manning "somewhere in Luxembourg" he said "Here's something for the Towsman — My company was awarded the Presidential Citation for extraordinary work against the enemies of the U. S. Also, we are the first outfit in the 3rd Army to win this award. We were given our bronze stars for the invasion of Germany a while ago. Okay, huh?"

WITH THE 12TH ARMORED DIVISION OF THE SEVENTH ARMY IN FRANCE: Edmund D. Skea, husband of Mrs. Estelle Skea, 400 No. Main street, has recently been promoted to the rank of staff sergeant. The local soldier's division is one of the newest on the front of Lieut. General Alexander M. Patch's American Seventh Army.

Clifford W. McKee has been promoted from private to corporal. He has served five months with the First Army in Germany and is now on a rest period in France. Clifford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Davis McKee of 6 Cuba street and the husband of the former Doris Bradshaw.

Cpl. Sebastian M. Cantanzaro, brother of Binnie Cantanzaro, 22 Corbett street, has been awarded the Sharpshooter's Medal for his score on the rifle range at the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, Pa. Cpl. Cantanzaro entered the service on March 7, 1941, and was previously stationed at Camp Ellis, Illinois, and Camp Edwards, Mass. He has received the Good Conduct Medal, and has served in the southwest Pacific.

Robert Welsh, Jr., of 3 Cheever Circle was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps on January 1, and is now stationed in Quantico, Virginia. Lt. Welsh enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserve on April 15, 1942.

Award for Kasserine Pass

Capt. Harold A. Rutter Jr., of Canterbury street received a most welcome citation when on Christmas Day the Veteran Light Bomber group to which he belongs received official orders awarding it a War Department citation, the highest organizational honor bestowed by the U. S. Army. The award entitles Capt. Rutter to wear the Distinguished Unit Badge over his right blouse pocket. The citation was granted for action on Feb. 22, 1943 at Kasserine Pass, when with Allied positions overrun by the enemy, A-20 Havocs of the group repeatedly drove home bombing and strafing attacks through rain and fog and finally brought about an enemy retreat through the pass, thus saving the Allied holding in Algeria and Tunisia. Capt. Rutter went overseas in November 1942. He has been with the 47th Bombardment Group since August 1942.

Mrs. Walter Pike has received word that her son, Flight Officer Pike left Mitchell Field recently for overseas duties.

Mrs. Karl Haartz has received word that her husband, Tech. Sgt. Haartz has recently left Norfolk, Va., for overseas duties.

Mass For Mother In Belgium

A high mass of requiem was sung for Mrs. Mary Ryan by a Belgian priest on February 6. Many buddies of her son, Pfc Tom Ryan, attended. Tom learned of the passing of his mother through the Red Cross.

Andover-Exeter Teams to Meet

Three Phillips teams are scheduled to face Exeter on Saturday.
The basketball team, led by Captain "Brot" Bishop at guard, and Tom Raleigh, high-scoring forward, travels to Exeter to meet the Red and Grey. Both teams have been weakened by mid-winter graduations. Exeter lost their captain, Bill Foster, and another starting player. Phillips loses Ed Mead, a sensation at guard all season, who graduates tomorrow. Yesterday
Phillips defeated an outclassed Belmont High team 68-29, while Exeter lost to Medford High. Although the season officially ends on Saturday with the Exeter game, Coach Frank DiClemente has booked a game with Somerville High and more may be added in the future. The team will continue to play during the supposed spring recess.

The swimming team will try to avenge its previous defeat at the hands of the Exonians. This 49-17 beating was administered in the Exeter pool and Coach Duke hopes to better the team's showing in today's meet at the York Pool at the Academy. Captain "Chips" Lazo will be Andover's chief contender in the 50-yard free-style.
Coach Richard Pieter's varsity wrestling team will be out to turn the tables on the Exeter team, which defeated Phillips in the initial meet 20-3.

Cpl. Clarence P. May, Jr., has returned to an air field in North Carolina after spending a short furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence May of South Main street. On January 13 he received a diploma as a Radar Mechanic, Navigation, at Boca Raton Air Field, in Florida.

Parking Serious Menace to Town

Police Chief George A. Dane has issued an appeal to automobile drivers to park their cars with a view toward allowing traffic to proceed as normally as is possible.
It is feared that in the event of fire, apparatus will be unable to move as expeditiously as possible to the scene of the blaze, if streets are made impassable by parked cars.

On the night of the blizzard a huge trailer truck broke down on Main street at the Park street intersection. Had there been a fire, the apparatus could not have gotten out of Park street. Conditions in other parts of the town have been just as bad since the blizzard however, with motorists parking on both sides of streets already much too narrow.

Andover's fire department sent a piece to Lawrence Wednesday afternoon to fill in at one of the engine houses after a general alarm for a fire in a hobbin shop.

OFFICER JOWETT ILL

Arthur Jowett, popular member of the Andover Police department, is detained at his home, at 6 Binney street, with bronchial pneumonia.
Officer Jowett collapsed Monday while on duty in Andover Square and was removed to his home in the Fire Department ambulance.

WHIST PARTY POSTPONED

The whist party which was to have been held tomorrow night under the auspices of the Indian Ridge Community association has been postponed until a later date, since the schools are out on vacation this week.

Andover Grange will meet in Grange Hall on Tuesday evening, Feb. 27 at 8:00. The entertainment will be in charge of the Home and Community Service committee.

Free Church Presents Organ, Violin Recital

An excellent program of unusual merit will be presented to Andover music lovers Sunday night at the Free church, when Per Rabe, talented local violinist, and Ivar Sjostrom, church organist, collaborate on compositions of Handel and Biber.

The recital is divided into four parts, with the first part devoted to organ music of the 17th and 18th centuries. Mr. Sjostrom will play "Dialogue in D minor" by DeGrigny, "Elevation" by Cuperin, "AFancy" by Stanley, and "Air in Variations" by Felton. The second and third parts will jointly be offered by violin and organ. Mr. Per Rabe and Mr. Sjostrom will offer Handels Sonata in D Major No. 4, and Biber's Sonata No. 6 in C Minor. The fourth section will see Mr. Sjostrom offering contemporary works, including First Movement Sonata No. 3 by Hindemith, "Scherzo" by Peeters, "Poeme" by Benoit, and "Toccata" by Sowerby.

A general invitation is extended to the public to attend this unusual recital, which marks another milestone in concerts and recitals offered by the Free church under Mr. Sjostrom's direction.

The recital begins at 7:30 p. m. and the doors will be opened at 7 o'clock. The offering of the evening will be given to the Servicemen's Committee of the church to further the work being done for boys and girls of the church in the armed forces.

DEATHS

Mrs. Mabel Johnstone Trott, 48 Salem street, widow of Emery E. Trott, passed away Tuesday night after a long illness. Born in Acton, Quebec, she lived in Andover over thirty years.

She is survived by one son, Emery J. Trott, a grandson, a granddaughter, several nieces and nephews.

The funeral is being held from the Lundgren Funeral Home, Thursday afternoon with the Rev. Frederick B. Noss, of the South Congregational Church officiating. Burial will be in West Parish Cemetery.

Mrs. Myles West, (Marguerite Donovan) passed away Monday night at her home, 98 Chestnut street, following a long illness. Born in Andover, she had lived here all her life.

Funeral services were held on Thursday morning with a solemn high mass of requiem in St. Augustine's church, with burial to be in the church cemetery.

Besides her husband, who is the well-known local station agent, she is survived by a daughter, Jane, a Cadet nurse at Lawrence General hospital; two sons, Seaman, second class, Charles West, U. S. Navy, stationed in Norfolk, Va., and Robert; a sister, Mrs. Thomas Reardon of Andover, and a brother, George Donovan of St. Louis, Mo.

ARRANGING FOR BOYS' STATE SESSIONS

At a recent meeting of Andover Post No. 8, American Legion, arrangements were made for attendance by a number of youths this year at the Boys' State sessions in Amherst. Commander Bernard L. McDonald presided at the meeting. Last year, three youths were sent under the sponsorship of the local Post, Phillips Academy, and the Andover Service Club. Formerly each boy attended for seven days, while this season the Post is planning to send six boys for ten days. The Post is attempting to secure additional interested organizations to sponsor one boy each. The cost per boy is $20 plus travel expenses and spending money.

Any one interested in sponsoring a youngster for the ten-day period may contact Arthur Coleman, Carl H. Stevens or Charles Gregory.

Four Weeks on a Fifty-Two Week Job

"We sometimes read or hear about lack of efficiency in town departments; quite often the town does not furnish equipment to make it possible for efficient work. It seems satisfied as long as the yearly appropriation is the same regardless of the need for improvement."

Tree Warden G. Richard Abbott, who has had a notable lack of success in his appeals to town meetings, makes a very worthwhile complaint in his annual report, a complaint which is worthy of careful consideration followed by some definite action. Too often, as Mr. Abbott says, the town leaders are prone to give a rapid "OK" to any appropriation that is the same or lower than the previous year, and at the same time to turn thumbs down on any request for additional money.

The action taken and the recommendations made prior to town meetings by the various financial advisory bodies are very, very important, because more often than not the town meeting follows blindly the decisions of these groups. That, frankly, is as it should be, for the individual voter cannot possibly delve into all the details of a given problem or a budget, and he has to lean on someone for an interpretation. It does, however, mean that the advisory groups do have a very serious responsibility to do their job thoroughly and with a due regard to the town's best interests.

Mr. Abbott would serve again as a good example of the need for good recommendations backed by a thorough study of town affairs. There is probably no town official who is more conscientious and more deeply interested in his work than Dick Abbott; yet he is not forceful enough in his town meeting speaking to get his ideas across. Put him up against our finance committee chairman, Harvey Turner, and he's licked before he starts. Harvey is, without doubt, probably the best choice the town could make for a finance committee chairman, because he can put just about anything across. Therefore, it leaves his committee with a grave responsibility, for it has the power through Harvey to change its recommendations into positive town meeting action. It's up to that committee to make sure that what they give Harvey to recommend to town meeting is just about as perfect a piece of judgment as any town board can give.

But to get back to Dick Abbott's written complaint. We know the difficulties that the finance committee has, and we know the difficulties that the selectmen have, and we know the difficulties that the directors of the Taxpayers' association have. In a short period of time, a month or so, busy men who have their own private matters to take care of, have to peruse the budgets and the special articles with a view of giving to town meeting recommendations based on common sense thinking and careful investigation. It's not always possible, and therefore the tendency does exist to give approval without too much thought to any request that isn't bigger than last year. Inevitably lack of economy must result, for every budget should show yearly justification for its continuance in all its features.

There are two possible solutions. The finance committee and Taxpayers' association directors could meet frequently during the year and make a thorough study of all expenditures. If this were done, economies surely would result. The other solution would be to pass a resolution under the "any other business" article asking the appointment of a special committee to make a survey of town government. From such a committee recommendations for elimination of functions, consolidations of departments and officers, even replacing of inefficient officials or help, might be made to a later town meeting or to the respective departments. It would take men of courage, men who think first of the town's interest. And it would mean a well-run town.

Sober Town

They're still chuckling here at The Townsman Press about an incident that occurred several weeks ago on one of those bitter cold Saturday nights. Each tenant in this building takes care of his own heat, and one of the men on our Saturday night shift took it upon himself to keep the shop warm. He was rather puzzled, however, because he had ten pounds of steam on the boiler, but the radiators just wouldn't warm up. It wasn't until a few days later that he learned that he'd done a fine job of firing the boiler that heats the Legion hall next door.

We're sorry about one thing, and glad about two. We're sorry that the Free church is going to lose Rev. Frank Dunn, because he had done such a splendid job there, and we're glad that in his new position he will still be able to live in Andover. We're also glad that the new post as director of finance and public relations with the Massachusetts Council of Churches is such a real promotion in every sense.

Forced to leave the tank he was driving when water in the fuel line caused it to stall, Pvt. Abe Fortner of Livermore, Ky., later returned, cleaned the fuel sediment bowl and got the machine in operation, while still under heavy fire. The tank, repeatedly hit, stalled and Fortner repeated his cleaning until it finally went up in a blaze. The private has a bronze medal for his feat but War Bonds must be sold to replace the tank.

Flood Possible In Near Future

A serious possibility of a recurrence of the floods of several years ago has arisen as a result of the winter's huge accumulation of snow without any gradual melting. Army engineers and geological officials have been expressing anxiety.

The great flood of a few years ago had a similar beginning. Snowfall had been heavy, without any appreciable melting, and early in March there was a sudden thaw, and a torrential downpour. Flood control reservoirs have been built in New Hampshire, and these may be able to at least diminish the effect of the floods.

There have been several threats of further snow since the blizzard of two weeks ago, but there has been no appreciable new accumulation. Early this morning a freezing rain developed, causing perilous going, both on foot and by car. In the later morning some portions of streets were under a few inches of water, the drains not having been sufficiently cleared to take care of the rain.

"I don't want to say Moo!"

Well, here we are again. Mother's got that silly picture book out, and I can tell by the look in her eye that I'm going to have to make a fool of myself as usual.

Let me see. There's that offensive alley cat again. What does the kitty say? Meow! Next page: pigs. Nasty creatures. All right, Mother—the piggy says Oink! Now what? Oh, good—cows. What does the bossy-cow say? MOO! MOO! And here's one that's not in the script, Ma . . . what does the baby boy say? BOOOO-HOOOO! There, I thought that'd get her. At last she's remembered that it's time for my Hood's Milk! Thanks, Ma . . . guess you do know the way to a baby's heart after all!

EVERYBODY CAN HAVE MORE MILK

Thanks to the continuous efforts of New England farmers more milk is now available. Order extra supplies from your Hood Route Salesman or ask for it at your neighborhood store.

SERVICE CLUB NOTES

The Andover Service Club will hold its regular meeting on Thurs- day evening, March 8.

State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley, who served four years during the Saltonstall administration, will be the guest speaker of the evening. He is expected to talk on the road construction bill for post-war projects.

The speaker for the second meet- ing in March will be Rev. Newton H. Fritchley, pastor of the Pleas- ant Street Methodist church, Salem Depot, N. H.

Rev. Fritchley's talk will be on India. His talk promises to be a very interesting one, since he was born in India, the son of a mission- ary, where he spent the greater part of his life.

He graduated from St. Xavier's College in Calcutta in 1936; taught in high school from 1937 to 1940; came to Boston University in 1940 where he did graduate work in edu- cation and studied for the Metho- dist ministry at the B. U. School of Theology.

STATE GUARD NOTE

At Sunday's regular drill period the men of the Andover company received preliminary instruction in rifle marksmanship. They were taught how to adjust slings and the proper manner of assuming the prone position.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
LAND COURT

Suffolk, ss.
To the Honorable the Judges of the Land Court for the Commonwealth of Massachu- setts.

Respectfully represents Esther Byington, of Florida, Elizabeth Nadeau, William J. Corey, and James F. Corey, all of Andover, in the County of Essex and said Common- wealth; that they are owners of a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Andover, in the County of Essex and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows:

A certain parcel of land, with the build- ings thereon, situated on the easterly side of Cuba Street, in said Andover, and bounded: Beginning at a point on the easterly side of said Cuba Street at land now or once of George Saunders; thence running Southerly by said Cuba Street sixty-nine (69) feet to land of the Smith and Dove Company; thence South about 65° East by said Smith and Dove Company land one hundred eighty-seven and 5/10 (187.5) feet to land now or once of Dear; Thence Northerly by said Dear land sev- enty-one (71) feet to land of said Saund- ers; thence by land of said Saunders North about 65° West one hundred eighty-eight (188) feet to the point of beginning, be said measurements more or less.

That the record title to said lot of land is clouded by a mortgage given by Joseph Corey to Smith and Dove Manufacturing Company dated November 6, 1919, and duly recorded Book 411, Page 385, in the North Essex District Registry of Deeds, pur- porting to secure a note for $200, payable in one year, with interest semi-annually, which mortgage appear to be undischarged, unassigned and unforclosed on and by the record—or not properly or legally dis- charged of record.

That for more than twenty years after the expiration of the time limited for the full performance of said condition no pay- ment has been made and no other act done in recognition of said mortgage; and

That the mortgagor named in said mort- gage and those claiming under have been in uninterrupted possession of said land for more than twenty years after the expiration of time limited in said mortgage for the full performance of the condition thereof.

WHEREFORE your petitioners pray that after appropriate notices a decree may be entered on the foregoing allegations as au- thorized by Section 15, Chapter 240 of the General Laws as amended by Chapter 20 of the Acts of 1924.

By their Attorney
THOMAS J. LANE

New Position

In the financial department Mr. Dunn will be charged with the responsibility of the annual budget, the development of an endowment and bequest program, and the extension of the resources of the budget to assure an expansion of the Council's activity in the State. In his program Mr. Dunn anticipates considerable travel in order that he may coordinate the work now being done as well as to suggest new objectives for cooperating agencies in the field.

Mr. Dunn first came to Andover in May, 1943, and was elected duration minister at the Free church, to occupy the place of Rev. Herman C. Johnson, who is a chaplain in the armed forces. During this time the fortunes of the Free church have been greatly advanced due largely to Mr. Dunn's seemingly indefatigable energy and his ability to stimulate the interest of his parish members. Financially the church is much better off and its several organizations have gained new life.

Mr. Dunn and his family will continue their residence in Andover and he will commute to Boston, where the headquarters of the State Council of Churches are located.

BAKED BEAN SUPPER
