Free Church Pastor to Assume Duties in Sept.

Rev. Levering Reynolds, Jr., who preached at the Free church June 3 and later received a call from the committee, will begin his duties as pastor of that church on Sunday, September 10.

He is a graduate of Harvard college, class of 1931, where he was a member of the choir and glee club. He received his B.D. degree from Andover-Newton Theological seminary in 1934, meanwhile preaching in Franconia, N. H. After his graduation he remained there as pastor for a little over a year, later going to Colebrook, N. H., where he served the Monadnock Congregational church for four years. He was then called to East Jaffrey, where he has been preaching up to the present time, a period of six years.

His wife, May Louise, is a graduate of Portia Law School in Boston. They have a five-year-old son, Levering, III.

Churches Plan for V-J Day Service

Because of the events of the past few days, the Andover Council of Churches announced Thursday that when peace comes, a union service of thanksgiving will be held in Christ church.

If the announcement comes before four o'clock in the afternoon, the service will be held that evening. If not, it will be held the following evening, the time in both cases being 7:30.

JOINS WAVES

Miss Maroy Dunn left Thursday morning for Hunter college, Bronx, New York, where she will undergo training in the WAVES.

She graduated from Punchard high school, and attended Westbrook Junior college and the Portland School of Fine and Applied Arts. She also studied music in Boston under a private teacher.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dunn, 49 Summer St.

ASMFA Carnival Plans Now Nearly Complete

Plans are almost completed for the gala three-day carnival of the Andover Servicemen's Fund Association to be held at the playstead August 23, 24 and 25.

The tickets, which are in charge of Mrs. W. Spencer Hutchinson, Jr., and Leslie Hadley, are being sold by the children who attend the playgrounds, with cash prizes to be awarded to those selling the largest number. Tickets may also be secured from Miss Birdsall in Mr. Winslow's office at the Town House or at the Shaw House on Main street.

Admission to the carnival is free, the price of the ticket representing a donation to the Servicemen's Fund.

Special Tin Collection Planned for Next Week

A tin can collection will be held Sunday, August 19, starting at 1 p. m., and householders should have the cans on the curb by noon.

The salvage committee had not planned to hold any collections until September, but due to the large number of calls made to the salvage headquarters, it was decided to hold a summer collection for tin cans only. There will be no paper collection until fall.

It is hoped by the committee that the Junior high school boys who assisted with the collections previously will report to the parking area at the playstead by 12:30 p.m.

Officer Gillespie Resigns from Force

Police Officer David Gillespie, involved in an altercation in South Lawrence two weeks ago, submitted his resignation to the Selectmen on Wednesday. It was accepted by the board.

The resignation was given by Officer Gillespie voluntarily, it not having been requested either directly or impliedly, by the Selectmen. After examining the report submitted by Lawrence Police Chief Martin V. O'Sullivan, the Selectmen had decided on Tuesday to give the officer a formal hearing some time next week. However, the officer, who has been on the force for 21 years, preferred to resign and let the matter drop.

WEDDINGSCoupe—Callahan

Miss Eleanor Callahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Callahan of Medford, formerly of Swan street, Lawrence, became the bride of Sgt. Clarence Coupe, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Coupe of Cassimere street, at an impressive ceremony held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Immaculate Conception church, Malden, Mass., with Father Doherty officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown combining a lace bodice with a sweetheart neckline, long tight sleeves and a bouffant skirt of ninon. A finger-tip veil of illusion was attached by a wreath of stephanotis to a cap of matching lace. She carried a cascade of bridal roses and stephanotis. Miss Helen O'Mally, close friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Mary Coupe, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore matching bouffant gowns of fuchsia faille and Lily Dache hats with pansy streamers. They carried pansy colored asters and baby's breath.

Sgt. Coupe was attended by his cousin, Ensign Edward J. Pacious, and the ushers were Harry S. Webster of Brockton and Andrew Innes of Lawrence.

The bride's mother wore a Reteur model of purple and white and a hat of matching ostrich, and stephanotis. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue sheer with hat to match and pink accessories, and a corsage of day-break roses.

The altar of the church was attractively decorated with gladiolus. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Royal House, Medford, after which the couple left on a wedding trip to the White Mountains and Canada.

The bride is a graduate of Lawrence high school and the Massachusetts School of Physiotherapy in Boston. She is employed in the office of the Boston Tow-Boat company. Sgt. Coupe graduated from Punchard high school and the Massachusetts School of Physiotherapy. He recently returned after serving 32 months overseas with the 312th Station hospital. After a 30-day furlough he will report to Fort Devens for reassignment.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Nelligan and family are vacationing in Gloucester.

NEWS OF OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Lieutenant Paul McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard L. McDonald of Chestnut street, recently received a promotion to lieutenant, junior grade, in the Naval Air Force. He is serving as a pilot in the Pacific area. Paul entered the service two and a half years ago while attending Tufts college, and graduated from the Navy Air school at Pensacola, Florida, where he received his commission. He graduated from Punchard high school in 1939.

Photographer's Mate, 3/c, Alvin H. Towne graduated on July 28 from the Naval Training school in photography at Pensacola, Florida, after a five-month course in photographic combat duty. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Towne, Jr., of 7 York street, and has been in the Navy 31 months, having served overseas for 25 months on the U.S.S. Ranger. He graduated from Punchard with the class of 1943.

Lt. James T. McClellan, stationed on Luzon in the Philippines, has been promoted to the rank of first lieutenant.

Captain James F. Robjent, Engineering Officer of the 313th Fighter Squadron, arrived recently on the Queen Mary, and is now at home on a 30-day leave. He has five battle stars on his ETO ribbon and holds the Bronze Star medal for meritorious achievement in direct support of combat operations. His outfit, which was based in England, France and Germany, was one of the first Air Corps groups to operate from bases on the continent shortly after D-Day, and the group holds a Presidential Unit Citation with oak leaf cluster. Capt. Robjent graduated from Phillips Academy and Worcester Polytechnical Institute. He received his military training at Yale University and Boca Raton, Florida, and has been overseas since March, 1944. His wife is the former Margaret Brick of Crosswicks, New Jersey. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Robjent, 62 Elm street.

Tech/Sgt. Warren A. Lewis, 15th Army Air Force, reported at Fort Devens on Saturday after enjoying a 32-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R.

Mrs. Walter True has received word from her husband, who is somewhere in the South Pacific, that he has been promoted to the rank of captain in the U. S. Air Forces.

Patrick Charles Risner, 25, who is married to the former Ruth Winward of Andover, is at the Naval Training Station in Newport, R. I., preparing for another tour of sea duty. He has participated in five major actions.

PFC William C. Moore recently returned from Germany, and enjoyed a 32-day furlough at his home before reporting to Fort Bragg, N. C., for further training for Pacific duty. He received the Combat Infantryman's badge.

Robert L. Sanborn, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sanborn, 59 Maple avenue, received the Air Force's flight engineer wings and a flight officer appointment at the graduation held at the Hondo Army Air Field, Hondo, Texas, on July 30. The rigorous 36-week course which he has successfully completed vindicates the reference to these young airmen as "third pilots," "efficiency experts," or "insurance men" of the Superfortress.

With the 254th Engineer Combat Battalion, called the "Snorting Bull" battalion when they stemmed the German breakthrough at St. Lo on the Normandy beachhead, was PFC Augustine J. Connolly, 2 Punchard avenue. The 254th built Camp Miami, near Chalons, France, one of the 17 redeployment camps under the Assembly Area Command. This was their last big job for Uncle Sam, as they are coming home for discharges. The 254th received the Presidential citation for its fighting at Bullingen, Belgium, when it caught the German breakthrough head-on. It held off the 1st S. S. Panzer Division through three determined attacks before the enemy tanks broke through, but by that time 300,000 gallons of gasoline and food dumps in the American rear area had been moved to safety.

Corporal John W. McGrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McGrath of 21 Bartlet street, is now serving as an aerial gunner on a B-29, and is at present stationed at Alamar-Gordo, New Mexico. He attended the local schools and graduated from Punchard with the class of 1944. He was inducted into the service shortly after, and assigned to the Air Force. He received his training at Shepard Field, Tex., Fort Myers, Fla., and Lincoln, Neb.

Corporal Arnold Schofield, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Schofield, Tewksbury street, Ballardvale, arrived at his home recently for a 30-day furlough before reporting for re-assignment. He is a veteran of 16 months' service with a heavy mortar battalion of the First Army in Europe, and has participated in five major battles. He attended Punchard high school, before entering the service two years ago.

'Course no one can do that, but Junior's ma does squeeze a lot of electricity out of every nickel. As a thrifty homemaker, she makes full use of my low-cost services to run all her electric appliances, 'cause she knows the more electricity she uses the less each unit costs.

In the face of rising living costs she thanks her lucky stars that electricity has been getting cheaper . . . even since Pearl Harbor. Yes, in terms of electric purchasing power, the lowly nickel is really "big dough" today.

Remember . . .

Summer 1935

"Gee, I've got an awful sunburn, Daddy."

Summer 1945

"Oh, it's just a few blisters, Dad."

The volume of long-distance telephone calls here in New England always goes up in the summer vacation season.

But this wartime summer of 1945 brings another big user to the long-distance telephone lines—the homecoming fighting man. Whether here for hospitalization or redeployment to the Pacific, or for discharge, the first and practically universal desire of these veterans on debarking is to telephone back home.

You can readily see then, why your long-distance telephone call may be delayed these days. Whether you're at the shore or in the city, you can help our returning veterans get home quickly by telephone by making only necessary calls and keeping them as brief as possible.

Serious Obligation

The recent incident in the police department which resulted in the resignation of one officer for an off-duty breach was regrettable, but if it will serve to emphasize in the minds of public employees the obligation they have to be pretty careful how they conduct themselves, it may have served a good purpose at the expense of hurting one man and his family.

That obligation is incurred when they accept a municipal position, whether it be police work, fire department work, teaching or even laboring. Hard though it may seem, their me really isn't their own any longer. They are working for thousands of employers, with twice that number of eyes to watch them, twice that number of ears to hear about them, and exactly the same number of mouths to talk about them. It's hard—but it's true, and they must recognize that when they take the job. If they don't like it, they mustn't accept it. If after having accepted it, and it wears on them, they should give it up to work somewhere else where they'll have more personal freedom.

The police officers of course have a more serious obligation to maintain an exemplary degree of self-respect off-duty as well as on. If an officer is involved in a brawl when off-duty, he's not going to find it too easy to do his duty when he's attempting to break up a brawl while he's on duty. Those who are brawling will with more or less justification contend that if an officer can do it, they can. The same thing applies to running into a traffic beacon while intoxicated; if an officer can do it, he's going to have quite a time doing his duty to anyone else who runs into a traffic beacon.

An officer on accepting an appointment accepts with it the obligation to so conduct himself off-duty that he will serve as an example to the rest of the community. The arm of the law cannot break the law without undermining the whole law enforcement structure. They're no longer average citizens when they become officers—they've got to keep themselves well above the average. That should be emphasized to them by the leaders of the department, and for the sake of law enforcement in general, punishment should be swift in the event of infractions.

This Sober Town

The Haverhill Gazette in a recent little piece of editorial comment suggested that Representative J. Everett Collins of Andover would probably appear on the county ballot in the next election. Representative Collins is also selectman and assessor, plus director of the Andover Male Choir, plus director of Lawrence's Calvary Baptist church choir, plus director of the Andover Service Men's Fund association, plus something on just about everything connected with Andover. He sleeps at 35 Summer street on nights when he sleeps. So chances are that unless Ev can shed some of the multitudinous duties which seem to come his way, the county office that the down-river paper seems to think he'll run for will be open from 11:15 p. m. to 7:30 a. m., at which time Ev would have to stop for his Wheaties.
