Many Parents Attend PTA Tea Held in Junior High

A tea for the Junior high school parents was held on Wednesday afternoon, September 26, at 2:30 o'clock, by the P. T. A. Prior to the tea a meeting was held in the music room. Mrs. T. John Johnson, president of the association, opened the meeting with a greeting to all, and stressed the theme of the association for the year, "Our Responsibility to Youth."

Miss Evelyn Banning, principal of the Junior high school, gave an interesting and instructive talk on the topic, "Today Is Ours." Tea was served and a social hour was held. Mrs. Justin Curry, chairman of the tea, was assisted by Mrs. Leroy T. Markert and Mrs. Henry Dolan.

Mrs. Bertil Ryberg, chairman of the hospitality committee, was assisted by Mr. Carleton Shulze, school mother, and the following grade mothers: Mrs. George Adams, Mrs. Robert Hatton, Mrs. Charles McCabe, Mrs. Walter Tomlinson, Mrs. Edward Douglas, Mrs. Irene Foster, Mrs. Richard Sears, Mrs. Montville Peck, Mrs. Harold Bowen, Mrs. Walter Demers, Mrs. Edward O'Connor and Mrs. Charles Wait.

Foreign and Sculpture Paintings at Gallery

Fourteen paintings by Vincent Van Gogh, from the collection of V. W. Van Gogh of Amsterdam, are on exhibition at the Addison Gallery, Phillips Academy, until October 22. They came to Andover through the courtesy of the Netherlands Information Bureau and will be returned to Europe shortly. If Mr. Van Gogh could be present today (55 years after his death) to hear himself acclaimed as a great painter and artist, he would never sell any of his paintings during his days on earth, when people actually spat on his works of art when they were exhibited in public.

Four drawings by men whose customary medium is sculpture are among the pictures in the exhibition. It is interesting to see that there are no backgrounds or settings for the pictures; in each case the artist has limited himself to use of line and mass. The Acrobats, by Chaim Gross, The Mother and Child, by Cutler, The Nude, by Lachaise, and many other great works of art will be on display. The spectators will have an excellent chance to study third dimension, water-colors, and shading or overlapping contours while the exhibition is in progress.

Well-known Local Man, Rev. George Frost, Dies

Rev. George Benjamin Frost, 85, 50 Chestnut street, well-known resident of this town, died at the Long Rest Home Monday afternoon.

He was born in Durham, New Hampshire, on October 2, 1854. He attended the public schools there, and entered the Theological Seminary in Andover in 1879, graduating in 1882. He was married to Amelia Adelaide Betts of Chelsea in 1881, and his first parish was in Oxford, Mass., where he was ordained in 1883. He had several other parishes during his pastorate, in Cooperstown, North Dakota, Newcastle, New Hampshire, and Littleton, Mass.

He is survived by his wife Dora; two nephews, Horace Frost of Cambridge and Harvey Frost of Somerville; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Hollister of Tarrytown, N. Y., and one niece.

The funeral was held from the South Congregational church Thursday afternoon with services at 2:30. Rev. Frederick B. Noss, pastor, officiated.

Burial was in Spring Grove cemetery with Rev. Noss conducting committal services.

Reception Held for New Pastor of Free Church

About 250 people were present at a reception given in honor of Rev. Levering Reynolds, Jr., new pastor of the Free church, and Mrs. Reynolds Wednesday evening in the parish house. Among those at the reception were: Rev. George E. Brown, D.D., president of the Lawrence Ministers association; Rev. Newman Matthews, pastor emeritus of the West Parish church; Rev. John S. Moses, rector of Christ church; Rev. Frank E. Dunn, former pastor of the Free church and now director of public relations and finance for the Massachusetts Council of Churches; and Rev. Arnold Kenseth, pastor of the Union Congregational church in Ballardvale.

A musical program was given by a Boston trio under the direction of the organist and choir director of the church, Mrs. Rush Dunleavy.

The gathering adjourned to the lower vestry for refreshments and a social hour following the reception.

Parents Seek Reopening Of Vale Kindergarten

The proposition of reopening the kindergarten in Ballardvale was brought before the school committee at its monthly meeting held Tuesday evening. Mrs. Mitchell, on behalf of the parents who are interested in the undertaking, asked that the committee consider the opening up of the top floor of the Bradlee school for the purpose of establishing a kindergarten class there.

Superintendent Kenneth L. Sherman advised the committee that it would be necessary to open up the entire top floor of the school, which has been boarded up, thus making it necessary to heat the upper corridor as well as a classroom. This would present a heating problem which would run to five or six hundred dollars.

In view of this expense and other changes which would have to be made, it was voted to abandon the idea for the present, due to lack of available funds.

Garbage Contract Awarded By Board to Lone Bidder

The contract for the collection and disposal of garbage which has long been the subject of controversy has at long last been awarded by the Board of Health to Roy Early, pending the filing of a contract bond to insure the contract. The award of the contract has met with the approval of the town selectmen.

Mr. Early, the only bidder, submitted a bid of $4,000, which was the amount appropriated at town meeting.

Mr. Early has in the past been associated with Mr. Thomas MacDonald, owner of a large pig farm on the Ballardvale-Wilmington line. The farm, which is quite large, has at the time about 225 pigs and two large trucks which were used in the removal of garbage from the Springfield area.

Three teen-aged youths who escaped Saturday from the South Portland, Me., school for boys, were apprehended here Monday morning and are to be turned over to the Newburyport police for the larceny of an automobile. The boys, Kenneth White, 14, 849 Congress street, Portland, Me.; Edgar Snowman, Old Bath road, Brunswick, Me.; and Wesley Woodbury, 40 Baldwin street, Livermore Falls, Me.; informed the Andover police that they had stolen a car in Newburyport Sunday night and abandoned it in Lawrence Monday morning because of lack of gasoline.

They were spotted by Officer Deyermond of the local police while he was on duty at Elm square. Their uniforms aroused the suspicions of the officer, and he notified Chief George A. Dane and then proceeded to chase the trio in the cruiser. He trailed them down Central street and overtook them on Brook street, where the boys broke into a run. Officer Deyermond drew his gun as a threat and, seeing this, the boys stopped and were taken into custody. They were put in the cruiser, and the aid of Robert Mailloux, Topping road, employed as a driver by the Townsman Press, Inc., was enlisted to watch them on the trip back to the police station. Back at the station the boys told of their unsuccessful bid for freedom when a mass break of 37 boys was planned at the Portland school. However, only the trio escaped Saturday afternoon. They ran down an embankment and into a swamp and then escaped into the woods. After climbing a tree they watched officers from the school searching for them. They descended later and after crossing a road they hid in the brush until it was dark. From there they went to the Rigby Freight Yards and, finding a car, they drove it to Kittery, Me., where they abandoned it with a flat tire.

You'll tap a hidden "heat mine" of extra heating units in the new, heavier oil — but a great many oil-burning plants may need major changes to burn it. Some can't use it at all.

The owners of G-E units can use the new oil and get correct performance — as usual. G-E compressed air atomizing makes it readily burnable.

It's proof of the kind of designing you'll want in your heating plant of the future. "Catalytic oil" is the fuel of the future—it will give you more heat for your money. Wait until you can get a G.E.—from us.

A search in Kittery for a car with keys proved fruitless, but they did find three blankets which they took to keep warm while sleeping in the woods Saturday night.

Sunday night they walked the railroad tracks from Kittery to Newburyport and arrived in the city some time Sunday night and found another car which they took. They informed police that from another car they appropriated a flashlight, wrench, and six cans of tuna fish and salmon. After spending Sunday night sleeping in the car in a cemetery in or near Newburyport, they drove to Lawrence Monday, where their car ran out of gas. The boys said they abandoned it on a side street but were unable to name the exact street.

From the neighboring city they walked to Andover and were spotted by Officer Deyermond as they came up the hill into the square.

A belt attachable drinking cup was awarded to Lewis Skeirik for participation in a recent contest.

The troop will not meet Friday night, but an outdoor meeting and weenie roast has been planned for Saturday. The boys will meet at the church at 5 o'clock with flashlights. From there they will hike to an unannounced spot for their meeting.

News Of Our Men And Women In Uniform

James M. Gorrie, Jr., shipfitter, second class, USNR, whose wife Marion lives at 65 Red Spring road, is serving on the USS Yorktown off Japan, which is assigned to the Japanese occupation forces. The Yorktown climaxed a war career of 36 major Pacific operations by standing off Japan and sending her planes over the USS Missouri as the surrender terms were being signed. Pilots based on this ship shot down 457 Jap planes, destroyed 695 and damaged 923 on the ground, and sank or helped to sink many warships, including the battleship Yamato and the heavy cruiser Agano.

C. M. M. Melvin Davis Hutchings, 30, was honorably discharged from the Navy recently after serving overseas for 29 months. Before entering the service in November, 1942, he was employed in the General Electric plant at Lynn, Mass. He graduated from Punchard High school. While overseas he served in the Brazil and North Atlantic areas.

His wife Isabelle lives at 8 Brechin terrace. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Hutchings, 7 Brechin terrace.

Lt. Col. Gustav Kaufmann, who was assistant physician in the Department of Health at Phillips Academy before entering military service in 1942, is now with the 133rd General hospital on Leyte in the Philippines. He was recently awarded the Bronze Star.

Captain H. N. Manthorne, of Andover, has been assigned to a station in Portland, Maine, where he will be in charge of recruiting and induction.

Sgt. Jack Moynihan, Townsman editor, on leave, recently arrived in Formosa, having flown there in a B-24 from China. He seems quite satisfied in his new station, and writes: "I just wish you could see the luxury I'm living in now. When we landed yesterday, we thought we were doomed to weeks and months of living in tents and on K rations. However, a big Packard (honest) drove up and took us to Talhoku's classiest hotel. I haven't tasted better American-style food west of Boston. I haven't drunk better water since I left the States. The hotel—nobody but the Army and Navy is here now, of course—is completely Eastern. The main lounge is furnished only with a few wicker chairs, highly ornamental screens and elegant little end tables. We park our shoes at the outside door and pad around in our stocking feet. We walk with a perpetual stoop, to avoid crashing the cranium on beams and door-sills that weren't constructed by anybody with an idea how tall people grow in our corn-fed country. We eat, sitting on the floor, from little foot-high tables." He expects to get home some time next spring.

Major Duane Treeman, A.A.F. who has recently returned after much service in the Pacific area, is spending a furlough with his family on Main street.

S/Sgt. Burton Batcheller has returned from Camp Hale, Colorado, and is spending a 21-day furlough with his family on Lowell street.

First Lieutenant Irene Curtis, daughter of Mrs. Ella Curtis of Park street, is now on terminal leave while awaiting her discharge from the United States Army Nurse Corps in January. Lieutenant Curtis enlisted in March, 1942, and received her training at Fort Devens, Mass. She embarked in September for foreign service and served in England with an army surgical unit during 1943. Lieutenant Curtis attended the local public schools and graduated from Punchard high school. She received her training at Lowell General hospital. Prior to her enlistment she was engaged in private nursing.

Wilfred James Boucher, 23, gunner's mate, third class, USNR, 30 Shawsheen road, serving on the USS Marcus Island, today landed men and equipment to take over and rebuild this former Japanese island-fortress which was surrendered recently. Helping in the unloading process are Japanese landing barges and trucks—manned by Japanese sailors and soldiers, under guidance of Americans. Others of the former garrison of more than 2000 are busy removing land mines from the beaches.

To Remind You To
"Be Careful of Fire"

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK - OCTOBER 7-13

- ☆ Last year 10,000 people said, "It can't happen to me — my house is safe." Today these same 10,000 people are dead — by fire.
- ☆ Did you say that too? Are you still saying it? How long do you think your luck will last?
- ☆ You can reduce the fire danger to your family and your property. Make a systematic search of your house from cellar to attic for fire hazards. Replace frayed or broken electrical cords. Throw out all cleaning fluids not marked "Non-inflammable." Check your heater and chimney for danger points. Burn all oily rags or put them in covered metal containers. Clean the rubbish out of your cellar, attic and closets. And let your good sense keep you from smoking in bed.
- ☆ Do these things and you'll minimize the danger to your loved ones and to the possessions you cherish.
- ☆ Be ready for the unforeseen emergency too. Let us show you how to get complete protection if the unavoidable fire does come.

Punchard in Tie With Chelmsford on Wet Field

While most of the spectators left the field of contest for the dry and warm comfort of their homes, Punchard and Chelmsford struggled through four scoreless periods on a rain-soaked, mud-covered gridiron Saturday at Andover. Fumbling due to the rain and mud was an unavoidable occurrence on both teams. The visiting team scored only once during the game, only to have it nullified by Head Linesman Torby MacDonald, who detected an opposing lineman offside on the play. Lovett, right halfback of Chelmsford, crossed the Punchard goal line.

On several occasions Punchard had the opportunity to score but was stopped just in sight of the marker.

Co-captain Fred McCollum was absent from the lineup, being confined to his home by illness. His position was well played by John Yancy, a Sophomore who played the entire game and gave a fine exhibition of ball carrying on the mud-soaked field.

During the course of the game two players were ejected for unsportsmanlike conduct.

PUNCHARD NOTES

Punchard and Chelmsford had quite a time Saturday. Just as the Punchard Girls' Band started down the field prior to the kickoff, the rain came down in torrents. After the completion of the "Star Spangled Banner," however, the band, like everyone else, fled to shelter. The rain caused extensive damage to their instruments and equipment. The kickoff was at 2:30 as scheduled and the boys played hard. Many people returned when the rain lessened. The score was 0 to 0.

The Junior class held a meeting last week and elected their officers for the coming year. They are president, James Gillen; vice-president, Joseph Watson; secretary, Alan Petty; treasurer, Genevieve Murray.

Some World War II veterans have returned to Punchard to resume their interrupted studies. Among these boys are Philip Wood of the Navy, who served for one and a half years, spending some of the time in England. He was a gunner's mate, 3rd class, at the time of his honorable discharge and is enrolled in the Sophomore class. Joseph Keith of the Navy served two years aboard a destroyer doing combat duty at Saipan, Tinian, and the Philippine Islands. He was a seaman, 2nd class, at the time of his discharge and is now in the Junior class.

Under the direction of Miss Miriam Sweeney, the Glee club held its first meeting and elected the following for officers: president, Dorothy Valentine; vice-president, Carolyn Maylum; secretary, Genevieve Murray; treasurer, Shirley Smith.

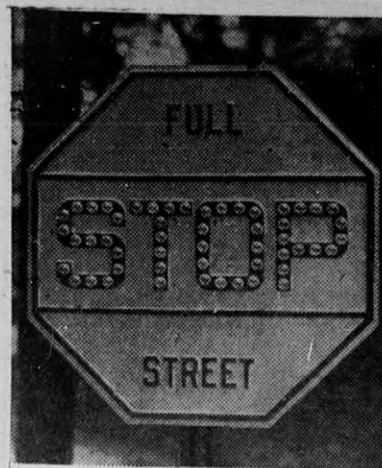

The Library Club for the coming year will hold its first meeting on October 4. It is composed of students who volunteer to help Miss Fox in the library. The president of the Library Club is Mabel Broughton, and the vice-president is Barbara Johnson. Other members are Barbara Hudon, Ruth Gillespie, Mina Beck, Marguerite Shaw, Marjorie Miller, Marion Skeirik, Jean Fowler, Marjorie Paine and Jeanne Curtin.

Abbot Academy Notes

Service groups which have during the war years contributed to a number of different national as well as local relief organizations are again beginning their work. The need for clothing and knitted articles, urgent as it is, gives the students and faculty a busy program for the coming months. Each group is under the direction of a leader, and each student has an opportunity to join the group in whose objective she is most interested. Along with the handwork, there will be readings and discussions in connection with national problems and international affairs.

Corridor stunts will be the program for the week end. Abbey, Homestead, and Sherman will offer their combined talent to present a show.

Dr. Raymond Calkins, pastor emeritus of the First church in Cambridge, will speak at the Sunday evening vespers service at 8:30 in Abbot Hall.

INFIRMARY MATRON RESIGNS

The resignation of Mrs. Bertha Thornton as matron of the Town Infirmary has been accepted, to take effect December 1, 1945. Miss Eva Ivarson, for many years assistant to Mrs. Thornton, will continue as temporary matron. Mr. Thornton will also continue in his duties at the Infirmary, maintaining his residence there. WEDDINGS

Buck—Bernard

Miss Florence E. Bernard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bernard, South Main street, was united in marriage with Kenneth T. Buck, son of Mrs. Mary Buck of Main street, Chatham, at a pretty ceremony performed in St. Augustine's church at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, September 23. Rev. Matthew F. McDonald, O. S. A., officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white net over taffeta with a fingertip veil caught up with a coronet of orange blossoms. Her attendant was her sister, Evelyn Bernard, who wore a pink net over taffeta with matching headdress. She carried a bouquet of blue larkspur.

Best man for the bridegroom was Hervey Bernard, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a black dress with a corsage of American Beauty roses, while the bridegroom's mother wore a green suit with brown accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, after which the couple left on a wedding trip to Rhode Island.

The bride is a graduate of Pynchard high school, and was employed at the Pacific Mills. The bridegroom was recently discharged from the Army after serving for two years, and was wounded at Aachen.

RED CROSS APPEAL

The Red Cross is urgently appealing to Andover women to do sewing at the Chapter House Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 to 4. Andover has a large quota of layettes for liberated countries, as well as dressings for the wounded. The Red Cross also needs women to knit.

Personality Lecture at Shawsheen Woman's Club

The first meeting of the 24th season of the Shawsheen Village Woman's club was held Monday evening at the Shawsheen school.

Mrs. Edwin L. Bramley, president, conducted the business meeting and welcomed 23 new members into the club. Each new member was presented with a tiny flower corsage.

The guest speaker, Maude Preston, spoke on "Personality Plus." She said personality is hard to explain, easy to recognize, and lucky is the individual who possesses it. It is a creative quality which makes an ordinary woman into a distinctive individual, who stands out in a crowd.

Good health is the first requisite toward personality. The body or house we live in must be well cared for in order to have a sparkle in our eyes, a spring in our step, and a feeling of being alive and interested.

Clothes which express your character come next. This requires study. Find your style, then buy fewer clothes of better quality, but keep them basic and functional to your needs. She demonstrated many changes for a basic dress which would carry you through any occasion during the day.

Mrs. Arthur Steinert exhibited a Christmas bag for the disabled veteran and told what is put into each bag. She then introduced Stafford A. Lindsay, past commander of the Andover American Legion. Mr. Lindsay said that he thought it would be a worthwhile effort on the part of the club to do all they could for the disabled veterans, 30,000 of which is roughly estimated will be in our hospitals by Christmas. A gift from a stranger often-times means more to one of these than a box from his own people.

Mr. Lindsay touched briefly on the fine job the Guidance department of the town of Andover was doing for the returned soldier in getting adjusted to school or vocation. The work of transporting sick soldiers once a week to hospitals by the motor corps of the Legion, this work having been taken over by the Red Cross, making trips twice weekly, was mentioned. Since certain specialists are only at hospitals certain days, there really should be daily trips, and he suggested that the club might be able to do something along this line.

Fall flowers decorated the hall and Halloween decorations graced the tea table.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. T. E. Andrews and her committee.

TO HOLD WHIST PARTIES

The first in a series of whist parties was held on Monday evening by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary. Play started at 8:30 and was preceded by a penny sale at 7:45 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Spinney was chairman of the committee on arrangements. A similar party will be held each Monday

More Housing

Something must be done soon in the matter of housing here in Andover. More and more people seem to want to live here, or find an apartment here—but there aren't enough homes or apartments to take care of the people that are already living here.

It's a very serious problem. We invite a minister to come here to serve, and in three months no place can be found for him to live. A teacher accepts a position in the local schools, and then has to later decline it because she can't find any place to live. Thanks to the OPA, also, it's practically impossible to buy a house and move in, because there are miles of red tape and months of delay and many legal technicalities before you can make the previous tenant move. In some cases here in Andover, people are actually living in camps until they can get into their own house or one that they have rented.

With construction restrictions relaxed, it is hoped that building will soon be resumed here in Andover. We have a low tax rate and a nice town, and it's little wonder that people want to make their homes here. * * *

The passing of George Frost will remove from the Andover scene a figure which had long exercised a salutary influence on town affairs. His interest in what was going on in town was often shown by his remarks at town meeting and by his communications to the Townsman. Through both he managed to make of himself a counterbalance offsetting those who wanted excesses in the way of spending. Despite his advent into the nonagenarian group, he had remained very much interested in town affairs although his activity had necessarily been curtailed. The tall, erect, white-bearded figure will be greatly missed here in Andover. * * *

Those of us who know Walter Lamont and have followed his career regret the illness which has made his resignation necessary from the post of resident manager of the Wood Mill in Lawrence. One of the most important of the American Woolen company's mills, the Wood Mill has long been under the wise guidance of Mr. Lamont. His interest in things civic in Andover has always been paramount; the zoning law under which the town can now grow in an orderly, well-planned manner, was pretty much entirely his doing. The people of Andover trust that before long he will be well enough so that he can enjoy a retirement that he very much deserves.

Membership in Shawsheen P.T.A. Enlisted by Pupils

The Shawsheen Parent-Teacher association will start the year with an outstanding membership of 203, due to an intensive week's drive by the children of the Shawsheen school.

The several grades in the school competed, and the fifth grade was the winner, with 52 listed members, receiving a prize of servings of ice cream.

The other grades received the following scores: sixth, 46; fourth, 32; third, 22; second, 26; first, 25.

The first meeting of the Association will be held on Wednesday, October 10, at 8 o'clock in the school hall. Blake Russell, well-known lecturer, will speak on a subject of great interest to parents as well as teachers.

RED CROSS TO MEET

The annual meeting of the directors of the local Red Cross chapter will be held on October 7 at the headquarters on Main street. All members of the Red Cross are invited to attend this meeting.

Miss Ruth Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett Hayes, who has been running a club-mobile for the Red Cross in France, will speak.

Rev. Frank E. Dunn of Andover, director of public relations and finance at the Massachusetts Council of Churches, was the guest speaker at the weekly convocation of the Boston Universalist Ministerial Association which was held on Monday, October 1. His topic was "Public Relations for the Church Today."

Carl Stevens is convalescing at his home after being confined at the Lawrence General hospital.

This Sober Town

It looked very much as if it had just been announced over the radio that the OPA was going to put fresh parsley on the ration list, but actually the run on parsley in all the local stores on Tuesday morning was the aftermath of the meeting held the night before by the Shawsheen Village Women's club.

The speaker at that meeting spoke on "Personality Plus" and even those with plenty of personality felt that they wouldn't mind a little plus. She had all manner of suggestions, but those that seemed to bear the most fruit, or rather sell the most vegetables, were concerned with such things as the health-giving, strength-giving, pep-giving qualities of parsley, apple juice and a few other things, all of which fall in the category of "the best thing in the world for you." Seems they don't make you plump either; if your bones are covered not too sparsely, don't hesitate to eat parsley. The juice of carrots is also the best thing in the world for you, gives you pep and vitality—and certainly must build up a degree of patience, too, trying to get the juice out.

Funny what one speaker can do to a thing like parsley. On Tuesday it was one of the most popular items in the vegetable market, and the day before it was just something you put on top of something you cooked, only to be later brushed aside ignominiously. And we'll bet that within a week or so, parsley will be back in its old realm, with Andover's women having just as much pep as if they had never tried to cauterize their mouths and throats with the stuff.

New England Farmers "Go to Market"

BY TELEPHONE

War has speeded the changes which have been coming over America's farms in recent years. The telephone in its day-to-day role of service throughout the war has helped make these changes possible.

In a recent survey, New England farmers told us that they depend on the telephone for such business activities as ordering repairs; keeping in touch with buyers; handling produce; selling direct to consumers; contacting the veterinarian; ordering feed and supplies. It isn't surprising, therefore, that 86% of those questioned listed the telephone as a "necessity" in their work.

To help make further farm growth possible, we are making extensive plans now for bringing the telephone to more New England farm families and improving the service which has become necessary in the business of so many New England farmers.
