Forum at Library Monday; "Outlook for Europe"

A short film entitled "UNRRA; in the wake of the armies," will precede the discussion of next Monday's forum, in the library, at which time "The outlook for Europe: problems of reconstruction" will be the subject under consideration.

This is the third in this season's series of forums, and will begin at 7:45, Monday evening, November 19, under the leadership of Mr. Alston Chase of the Phillips Academy faculty. Mr. Chase was in France and Germany last spring, and can give first-hand information on the conditions there.

The following articles and pamphlets are suggested for those who may care to come more informed about the situation:

"What is UNRRA Doing?" by F. K. Hoehler. Survey, April, 1945, pp. 99-102.

"Reconstruction of World Agriculture," by Karl Brandt. (book) 1945.

"Europe: From Freedom to Want." Fortune, May, 1945.

"The Rehabilitation of Europe." Yale Review. Summer, 1945.

"UNRRA: Organization, Aims and Progress. (pamphlet) 1944.

"The Outlook in Europe: the Potsdam Conference and Europe's Future. Current History. October, 1945.

"Our Settlement with Germany," by Henry Brailsford. 1944. (book)

"The Anatomy of Peace," by Emery Reves. (book) 1945.

The final forum, "Labor and Management Cooperation," will be held on Monday evening, November 26, in the form of a panel discussion. Mr. Bernard Kellmurray, director of guidance at Punchard High school, will serve as chairman.

The public is invited.

Andover Community Orch. Annual Christmas Concert

As always, this will be the big event of the Christmas season, featuring unusual musical attractions and a more extensive and colorful program than in former years.

The concert will be held on Sunday evening, December 2, which is really only about two weeks from now. For this, the first concert in the seventh season, the Orchestra will have as guest artists the Andover Male Choir, and one of the most interesting numbers on the program will be a composition by a modern American writer, Philip James, who has written a fantasy on old French Christmas songs.

Those who hold season tickets will be interested in the second concert of the Orchestra, which will be held in May as a part of the Andover Tercentary celebration. For this concert Percy Grainger, internationally known pianist and composer, will be the guest soloist. On the same program, the orchestra will play an original composition by one of the community's most distinguished musicians, Mr. Walter Howe, of the music department of Abbot Academy. Another interesting part of the Tercentary concert will be the orchestra's playing of music composed at the time Andover was founded.

On March 10, in the afternoon, a concert will be presented which will be aimed for the enjoyment of children especially. It certainly looks like a successful season for the Orchestra!

The next meeting of the literature department will be held November 21, at the home of Mrs. Thaxter Eaton, 49 Abbot street.

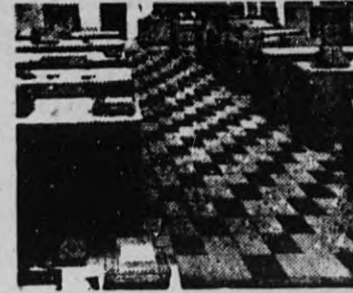

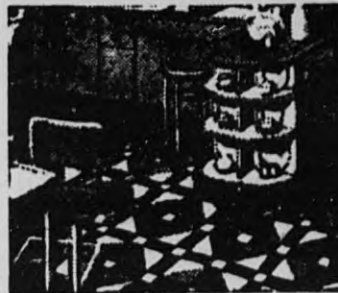

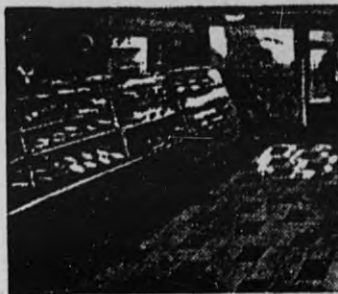

The first in a series of four book reviews will be presented by Mrs. Marion Tucker Rudkin at the November Club house on Locke street, Wednesday morning, November 28, at 10:00 o'clock. Mrs. Rudkin is well known and well liked for her dramatic and clear analysis of the books she chooses to review, and in the four lectures she will give a variety of subject matter—current best-sellers in the field of the novel, biography, and timely topics of general interest.

These lectures are open to the public, and tickets may be purchased from any member of the November Club. There are single tickets or season tickets to cover all four talks.

"Tis the voice of the lobster; I heard him declare,
 'You have baked me brown, I must sugar my hair.'
 As a duck with its eyelids, so he with his nose,
 Trims his belt and his buttons, and turns out his toes."

Thus recites Alice to an astonished gryphon and a weeping turtle. This is a drawing by John Tenniel, among the pictures in an exhibition called "Other Worlds" now at the Addison Gallery. Coming from New York, where it was collected by Maynard Walker at the American British Art Center, it is a group of pictures of the dreams and fantasies of artists from the fifteenth century to the present, pictures of pagan legend and modern surrealism, of Moby Dick and Shakespeare, of the witch's Hallowe'en and the terrors of a sinner's hell. The Gallery has included appropriate works by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Morgan and pictures from the collection. The exhibition will be here until November 26.

Here's a fight that's far from over—against tuberculosis, the dread plague that still kills more Americans between 15 and 45 than any other disease.

Your annual purchase of Christmas Seals since 1904 has helped cut the TB death rate 75%! And TB can be wiped out—some authorities say by the year 2000.

Yet wartime conditions give TB a new lease on life—human life.

So please, help us bring up the reserves. This year, buy extra Christmas Seals. Remember, there can be no peace treaty with tuberculosis.

Town Mourns Loss of Former Punchard Principal Nathan C. Hamblin

For 35 years a tall stately figure, the personification of everything a gentleman should be, took a prominent place in the life of Andover. Monday evening, having had only four years of a retirement that deservedly should have been much longer, Nathan C. Hamblin, beloved, respected and revered by three decades of PUNCHARD students, passed away at his home, 115 Chestnut street.

Andover's flags flew at half-mast on Tuesday and Wednesday and on Wednesday the public schools were closed for the entire day, out of respect to the late high school principal.

He was born in Chelsea, May 7, 1871, and after attending the public schools in Revere, he went to Harvard. For a number of years he was a teacher and principal at Tabor Academy in Marion, but in September, 1910, he came to Andover to be principal of PUNCHARD High school. At that time PUNCHARD was housed in the old building which was torn down when the Memorial auditorium was erected several years ago. In 1917, the new high school was built, with Mr. Hamblin being a member of the building committee at that time. For many years he taught Latin, but in the later years his ever-increasing duties as principal made it necessary for him to give up his teaching.

Several times during Mr. Sanborn's periods of illness, Mr. Hamblin served as acting superintendent of schools.

For over 30 years, Mr. Hamblin served on the Board of Trustees of the Memorial Hall library, and he was chairman of the board when the building was re-modeled and enlarged. He was the first president of the old Andover Lions club, the predecessor of the Service club. He was also one-time president of the Andover Public School Teachers' Association and also of the Harvard Club of Andover. He was a member of Marion lodge, A. F. & A. M.; the New England association of Secondary School Principals; the National Education association; Quindeped Club of Headmasters of Massachusetts, and the Massachusetts School Principals club.

He was very active in the affairs of the South church, having held several of the church offices.

When he retired in June, 1941, he was tendered a banquet by the alumni association, representatives of all the town groups being present to pay tribute to him. At that time he was elected a life member of the PUNCHARD High School Alumni association.

Surviving are his wife, Ruth Russell (Jennison) Hamblin, one daughter, Miss Elizabeth Dow Hamblin of West Barnstable; one son, Captain Francis Dow Hamblin, U. S. Navy, stationed at the Newport, R. I., Naval Training station; two grandchildren, Francis Dow Hamblin, Jr., and Elizabeth Anne Hamblin.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the South Congregational church, with services conducted by Rev. Frederick B. Noss, pastor.

PUNCHARD High school faculty, trustees, students and alumni, and town officials attended the funeral to pay a final tribute to Mr. Hamblin.

Burial was in Spring Grove cemetery, where Rev. Mr. Noss conducted the committal services.

DEPARTMENT OF PEACE

WASHINGTON. — This columnist recently proposed that we begin thinking a little more about the Sermon on the Mount in our international relations, and among other things establish a Department of Peace.

It was suggested that along with the Department of War and the navy department, we set up as our first line of defense a Department of Peace to promote the idea that the only alternative to the atom bomb is to teach the world and ourselves that we must get along with each other.

One aftermath of this idea is significant. It occurred in the appropriations committee of the house of representatives the other day when its members voted appropriations for the state department.

It happens that the nearest thing we have to a Department of Peace is the Department of State. That organization is by no means perfect, and might not be ideal to operate a Department of Peace. But its new chief, Jimmy Byrnes, has some good ideas and is working hard to establish new bureaus for spreading goodwill and helping peace.

He is trying to carry on the ideas of the office of war information which furnished propaganda to newspapers, aimed toward a better understanding of the USA. Byrnes is also trying to raise salaries. For years state department officials have struggled along on starvation wages. This is partly the fault of the wealthy career clique which wanted to keep wages low and thus operate a closed shop for themselves. So Secretary of State Byrnes is trying to raise diplomatic wages as the first step toward having alert diplomats guard the peace front.

However, when Byrnes' appropriation bill got up before his old friends in congress the other day, the house appropriations committee slashed it to ribbons. They particularly cut the new agencies patterned on the general idea of a Department of Peace.

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S TRAVELS

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will soon be off on another globe-girdling tour designed to help international relations. This time Mrs. Roosevelt plans to visit Russia as well as other war-ravaged nations in Europe.

In recent weeks, she has been taking a more vocal, outspoken position on public issues. Although she denied having blasted Secretary of State Byrnes publicly for his handling of the foreign minister conference, Mrs. Roosevelt has been very sharp in private conversations about the way Truman and Byrnes have been rocking the ship of state, especially when it comes to foreign affairs.

Mrs. Roosevelt claims age is creeping up on her, but to an outside observer she gives no evidence of slowing down. She is now almost as active as she was before her husband's death — certainly still the most forthright lady ever to live in the White House.

WHY MEN LEAVE NAVY

Worried about the failure of men and officers to remain in the navy, Secretary of the Navy Forrestal recently put out an order to naval separation centers to interview the next 100 reserve officers who came up for discharge. The result showed bitter resentment on the part of reserve officers against the Annapolis clique. Here are some typical interviews quoted verbatim:

"The only reason I would join the navy again would be if I were starving."

"It's mighty late for the navy to try to sell itself to reservists."

"I think the officers of the regular navy are grasping, pushing and self-centered."

"The attitude of the majority of Annapolis officers to reservists is that they are to be endured only for the time being."

"The Annapolis grads should cast aside their childish attitude."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Judge Samuel Rosenman, one of Franklin Roosevelt's closest friends, has become a staunch defender of Mississippi's George Allen, who holds a similar position with Harry Truman. To his skeptical New Deal friends, Judge Rosenman protests, "But George is a liberal." Allen, a protege of the late Senator Pat Harrison and an insurance executive, spends part of every morning with Truman going over his problems.

The White House is quietly passing the word around to newsmen not to pack their bags. There will be no more presidential junkets for quite a while. Truman got enough kidding about his journey to the Missouri county fair to last him a long time.

OPA estimates that 700,000 veterans and their families have no place to live. Their wives and children have been living "doubled up" while the G.I.s were out fighting. Now the veterans want a home of their own and can't find it. Reports coming to me say that homeless veterans will stage a demonstration in New York City.

The house committee on un-American activities has investigated ex-Sen. Robert Reynolds' Nationalist party. But, according to Investigator George McDavitt, it found nothing wrong with this group.

Salvage Continues For Service Fund

The Andover Salvage committee is planning a series of waste paper drives for the benefit of the Andover Service Men's Fund. It is in the interest of the remaining nine hundred men and women from Andover still in the service. The first drive will be Sunday afternoon, November 25, starting at 1:00 o'clock from Punchard High school. Anyone who has a truck and would like to donate it for the drive, and any servicemen wishing to help on the drive would be welcome. The rear of the basement in the Town hall will be used as a depot. Rowland Luce is chairman of the drive

Academy Hour To Start in January

Continuing his policy of the last two years, Mr. Colby hopes this year to leave even more of the actual performance of the Academy Hour broadcasts to the students themselves by decreasing the number of speakers imported from outside the school. His plan is highlighted by student participation in all the programs arranged thus far, and by the use of student moderators, one of whom is Joel Nixon, in at least two of the broadcasts. The first program of the series of eight will take place in mid-

The participants will be small groups of students directed by Messrs. McCarthy, Johanson, Allis, and Howes, and will be organized by Mr. Colby, Nixon and one other student will have their own groups with which they will give broadcasts.

Budgets Coming Up— And Going Up?

It's budget time. Many of the departments haven't done much work on them so far, but they've all been thinking of them, and chances are that they've all been wondering if they can get more money this year. You don't blame them; they were elected to take care of their own departments, and it is up to them to present their ideas of just what they feel their department needs to be operated efficiently.

But it's up to us, the taxpayers, to see also that they get only as much as WE think they need and as WE think we can afford. Their job is one department; our job is all departments. Their job is to spend the money given them; our job is to provide the money. We're the final judges, and we have to be organized effectively in order to make our wishes felt.

Probably this year the departments will suggest quite a few increases, some caused by the return of workers from the service whose replacements the departments still wish to keep on. If they need all the extra employees, well and good—but if they don't, they'll have to act just like every business has to act. Replacements during wartime knew full well that they were replacements, that they were taking the place of a man who had entered the service and who would have his job back when the war was over. Therefore, there should be no attempt to enlarge a department because of this, unless the additional help is absolutely necessary.

It is to be hoped that this year the departments will start early enough on their budgets so that the finance committee and the Taxpayers' association can make an exhaustive study of the requests. Events of the past year, particularly in connection with the surprise B. P. W. wage increase after last year's town meeting, have made both the committee and the Taxpayers' directors quite wary, and chances are that all budgets will be scanned pretty carefully.

You as a citizen will have the real job to do. You should join the Taxpayers' association now and lend your full support to its very worthwhile activities. When town meeting comes, you should be there, prepared to act and act wisely.

Keep Saving Your Waste Paper

It will continue to be collected for the Service Men's Fund. Watch the Townsman for the time of the collections.

But It's True

When the turkey's on the table
Who can say that they were able
To refuse a tasty drumstick or a wing?
For although we all are grateful
When we see a heaping plateful
We forget Thanksgiving means another thing.
But when the meal is finished
And the turkey is diminished
You don't even want to see a turkey coop
But although you've overeaten—
The turkey can't be beaten
For he'll turn up Friday in a turkey soup!

A truck can't drink? You've seen a truck take water, of course, but you've never seen it take anything harder. Oh, well, a little alcohol now and then, maybe, but, all in all, trucks don't usually imbibe.

But this particular truck was loaded last Tuesday night, loaded to the gills. It was beer. But it couldn't have been beer that the truck drank, because beer makes you burp and not burn. It must have gotten something else at the last spot it stopped, for by the time it got under the railroad bridge on Central street or Andover street (never did know where one ends and the other stops) the truck was just burning up inside, as if it had some 100 proof bourbon instead of just beer.

By the time the fire department arrived, it was half-lit—the truck, not the fire department. (We're having an awful time keeping ourselves from saying "the truck left, sadder Budweiser). It was a wet night, raining like the very dickens, and you can't blame a truck for getting burned up at having to work on a night like that.

MRS. MARY McDERMITT LOWE

Mrs. Mary Jane (Higgins) McDermitt Lowe, wife of Robert W. Lowe, 3 Lewis street, who was born in Johnstone, Scotland, 76 years ago, and came to Andover 44 years ago, died Thursday afternoon at the family home, following a long illness.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Elizabeth, wife of Elijah Fraize, and one son, John McDermitt, both of Lawrence; eleven grandchildren and four great grandchildren; also several nieces and nephews.

Thanksgiving morning at 10:15, Johnson will come to Andover to play Punchard in one of the biggest and, incidentally, the final game of the season. Johnson has a season's score of three wins, four losses and one tie, while Punchard has won three games, tied, two and lost three. Both teams have played the strong Reading eleven, with a loss for each team. Johnson scored 33 to Ipswich's 0, while Punchard was only able to tie. Johnson was defeated by Methuen by a score of 13 to 7, and Punchard won over Methuen, 7 to 0. In the Concord games, Concord never scored, whereas Punchard had a score of 19, and Johnson 7.

Matching the scores of both teams, it looks as though Punchard might have the edge over Johnson, providing the Punchard eleven can fight as it did in the Methuen game.

On the local team the line-up is the same, except McCollum will be back in the game as fullback. The man to watch on the opposing team is Mitchell, number 33, who is high scorer on the Johnson team.

The Punchard gridsters are determined to win next Thursday, to make up for last year, when they lost to the Johnson team. Johnson is just as determined to keep the title this year, but they have lost several good men, including Jackie Wilkinson, who broke his shoulder in last week's game with Ipswich.

Andover Defeats Exeter, 18-7

Last Saturday afternoon Phillips' football team defeated Exeter in their 65th meeting. There was no scoring in the first period for Andover, but plenty of rough playing. However, about midway through the second period, Johnny Clayton, quarterback, advanced a punt from his own 40 to the Exeter 40, then hurled a long pass to Jim Mead, the left end, on the six. Clayton reached the two, and then Fullback Rick Hudner climbed over center for the touchdown. Walt Horne tried to boot the ball from placement, but it went wide. At the half, the score was 7 to 6 in favor of Exeter.

Andover scored again in the second, with the combination play of Clayton, Hudner and Phelps, who took turns in handling the ball, and with the aid of two pass catches by Jim Mead, Clayton again made a touchdown. Pete Brooke again blocked the point try. In the same period, Clayton made a long run from Exeter's 30 to the four. A penalty pushed the Blue eleven back five, but this did not stop the attack, and Dick Phelps raced around the end to score. Walt Horne made his third attempt from placement, but the ball again went wide of the mark.

Captain Bill Lange of the Exeter team made their only touchdown, in the first half. Exeter tried to rally with a last period passing attack, but was unsuccessful.

This was Phillips' final game of the season. The summary:

Andover—Gross, Griffith, le; Anderson, Trowbridge, lt; Horne, Harrison, Barss, lg; Nourse, Tait, c; Rosenau, Edge, Black, rg; Budge, DePriest, rt; Mead, Rogers, re; Clayton, Rublee, qb; Phelps, Carter, lhb; Reiner, Cowley, rhb; Hudner, Pugh, Richardson, fb.

Exeter — Alexander, Stockham, re; Bernart, Reeves, rt; Cousins, Reeves, Stevens, rg; Gormley, Sisk, c; Rohrer, Reeves, Spaulding, lg; Seymour, Bernart, lt; Smith, Brooks, Wood, le; Chase, Morrell, qb; Matthews, Ellis, rhb; Ladd, Ellis, McConnel, lhb; Lange, LeClaire, fb.

Touchdowns — Lange, Hudner, Clayton, Phelps. Goals after touchdown — Alexander (placement).

Punchard Victors Over Methuen, 7-0

Punchard defeated Methuen Saturday, by a score of 7 to 0. The losing team tried hard to hold their line against the victorious Punchard team, but were unable to score, although they were within a few yards of a touchdown. Punchard scored in the first half, when Parsons caught a pass hurled by Waterman. The game was the twenty-eighth game that Punchard has won from Methuen, while Methuen has only won seven games from Punchard. The local team went into the game without McCollum, whose leg injury kept him out of the game.

The summary:

P. A. Jayvees Win

The Andover Jayvee "A" team was defeated by the Phillips Exeter Academy's second team, Wednesday afternoon by a score of 12-0. Exeter tallied their first score in the second period, and again scored in the third period.

The Andover Jayvee "B" team defeated the Exeter All-Class eleven by a score of 20-19, at Exeter on Wednesday afternoon. There was close playing in all four periods, neither team wishing to give up.

LIFE in Andover

Upper left—Here is another mystery spot in Andover. We'd give you some hint as to where it is, only we don't know ourselves. We'll know by next week's issue, however, and we'll let you in on it then if you can't guess.

Last week's "Where Is It" picture was taken at Rabbit's Pond, the little building in the background being the Academy Hockey shed.

Upper right—You haven't seen a bad accident in Andover like that for a long time. This one happened five years ago, and we haven't had anything terribly serious since. However, with the advent of new cars, police officials are becoming increasingly concerned at the possibility that there will be another epidemic of fatal accidents.

Lower right—"To the Glory of the Sun" by Eugene Berman, from the exhibition "Other Worlds" at the Addison Gallery, is a haunting landscape evoking with its green earth, flaming skies and unending distances a poignant nostalgia not for remembered places or events, but for forgotten moods and emotions that lie in the consciousness of all people. It has caught in the representation of actual objects not what we have seen but what we have felt in moments of conscious dreaming or psychic detachment.

By contrast are several pictures illustrating directly well-known literary works whose subject matter is in some way fantastic. Among them are Alice in Wonderland with the Gryphon and the Mock Turtle, a battle with Moby Dick, Ariel from The Tempest singing from a cloud, and The Great Dragon and the Woman Clothed with the Sun by Blake from the Book of Revelations. The exhibition will continue until November 26th.

We Have the Equipment

It's really an inspiration to watch it, and to remember what it used to be. Six presses humming along, little ones, big ones, automatics — two linotypes, one very new, pushing out type at a gratifying speed — a Ludlow typesetter, setting our big type from brass molds, giving an unlimited supply of clean type — yes, it's quite a sight, quite a transformation.
