THE AND

LIFE in Andover

Top right — The crowd at the Firemen's Ball on Thanksgiving Eve. They certainly enjoyed the performance, as can be seen from the vigorous hand-clapping. Insert: Chris Murphy, has spent a good part of his Army life entertaining wounded soldiers. Chris is a tap dancer, while John Buss, shown next to him, is a singer with many years of theatrical experience.

Bottom left — Two of Andover's young men who assisted in the paper collection drive Sunday. It has been through the efforts of such boys as these, and the truck drivers who gave their time Sundays that Andover has been enabled to chalk up one of the finest paper collection records in the territory.

Bottom right — This one's easy. Last week's was hard, but some people were able to guess it. It was a prayer garden at the St. Francis seminary in West Andover, with the stations of the cross at the outer edge of the outer circle.

These youngsters are learning good health habits early. Sturdy, well-nourished bodies do not invite such diseases as tuberculosis. The importance of nutrition to health is emphasized in health programs supported by the sale of Christmas Seals.

The Great Red Dragon and the Woman Clothed with the Sun, by William Blake, an illustration of a vision recorded by Saint John in the Book of Revelations, is one of the outstanding pictures in the exhibition, "Other Worlds," at the Addison Gallery. Although it is a watercolor and only a small picture, Blake has by means of the rhythm and sweep of lines and the poetry in his conception, lost none of the power and grandeur of the mysterious vision. In the same exhibition are visions from Greek mythology, from medieval poetry, from nineteenth century opera and from Shakespeare. The exhibition closed last week.

Still Serving Uncle Sam...

Signalman 2/c Albert Batchelder, who has been quite seriously ill in the Navy hospital at Treasure Island, Cal., is reported to be much improved, according to word received from his wife, who flew to his bedside several weeks ago.

Corp. Burton Abbott arrived recently at his home on Dascomb road from San Francisco, Cal.

T/5 Edward Groleau arrived on the S. S. General Collins Thanksgiving Day, and is now at his home on Corbett street.

Aviation Radioman 2/c George Douty of the U. S. N., who is stationed at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Douty of Salem street.

Chief Petty Officer Edwin J. Watts, who is attached to the Navy Recruiting station at Bangor, Me., spent the holidays at his home on Dartmouth road.

Andrew Baillie, 9 Carlisle street, recently sailed for Europe as a special representative of the American Red Cross. He is a doughnut machine technician and plans to train operators for these machines. He expects to be overseas for about six months.

Captain James F. Dolan is on terminal leave at his home on High Plain road. He arrived on Tuesday after service at Clark Field, Luzon, P. I. He is a member of the 5th Air Force and was overseas 21 months in New Guinea and the Philippines. He has the American Theatre, Southwest Pacific, Philippine Liberation and Victory ribbons. He was at an Army Air Field in California before going overseas.

Seaman, second class, Walter Robert Selfridge, Jr., of 127 Abbot street, was serving aboard the destroyer Guest off Okinawa when a Jap suicide plane crashed into the ship's mast, sheared off one of its wings, and plunged into the sea. His ship, which remained in action after undergoing minor repairs, had operated with the escort carriers which helped neutralize airfields and destroy enemy defense installations both on Okinawa and the Sakashima Islands, between Okinawa and Formosa. During the First Battle of the Philippine Sea, his ship was part of the famous Task Force 58, which broke up the Jap fleet's attempt to attack our invasion forces off the Marianas. His other major Pacific actions include the northern Solomons, the Bismarck Archipelago, Palau and Iwo Jima.

Thomas P. Eldred, 22 Washington avenue, has returned home after serving three years and four months. He has the European theater ribbon, Good Conduct and Victory medals. While in the service he held the rate of sergeant.

Captain James F. Dolan, High Plain road, arrived home recently on terminal leave after service at Clark Field, Luzon, P. I. As a member of the Fifth Army Air Force, Captain Dolan was overseas 21 months in New Guinea and the Philippines. He has the American theater, Southwest Pacific, Philippine Liberation and Victory ribbons. Capt. Dolan entered the service in August, 1942 and attended officers' training school in Miami, Fla. Later he was assigned to an army air field in California before receiving his overseas orders. Prior to entering the service he was sales supervisor of the Lawrence Gas and Electric Company. He is married to the former Rita R. Sirois, R. N., and has one son, John F. Dolan.

Lieutenant (j. g.) Bisset, writes that he spent Armistice day at the N. A. A. S. Mayport, Florida. His ship the U. S. S. Flaberty, a Destroyer escort, was tied up with a Kaiser built jeep carrier. He expects to become a part of the reserve fleet at Green Cave Springs.

Lieutenant G. A. Cole, writes from the 1st General Hospital at Bremen, Germany, that he has received his Christmas gift sent by the Andover Servicemen Club.

Chaplain David Segerstrom, writes from the General hospital in the vicinity of Manila to say he has had the pleasure of meeting two home town boys, Robert Mears and Dick Moody. Robert is on his way to Japan, but he does not know whereabouts of Dick.

Word has been received from Lieutenant William Urquhart who is now stationed near San Fernando in Luzon. He writes that he has received his Christmas gift sent by the Andover Servicemen's club, and says "thanks a lot."

Another card has just been received from Private, first class, Joseph Richards who is now stationed in Potsdam, Germany. He too says thanks for his Christmas gift.

First Sergeant Henry Grillo is among the thousands of American troops on occupation duty in Seoul, the capital of Korea. Sgt Grillo was formerly with the 779th AAA Battalion but for the occupation of this recently liberated country he has been assigned to the Military Government, Headquarters Section. His wife, Mrs. Lola Grillo and their son live at 277 North Main street. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Grillo live at 46 Kensington avenue, Haverhill, Mass.

Private Charles T. Williamson, writes from Washington D. C., with a new address, to ask that the Townsman be sent to him. He has been in the Marine Corps for about six months. While stationed in Washington he has met one of his school mates, John McGrath, who is also stationed there. Both young men graduated from Punched High school with the class of '45.

The following men have recently been released from the service at the Separation Center in Boston: Norman F. Hansen, yeoman, second class, 123 1/2 Main street; Laban E. McComish, chief machinist's mate, 21 Elm street; and Joseph L. Poirier, machinist's mate, second class, 11 Topping road.

Richard W. Abbott, Upland road, a discharged veteran of World War II, with eight months overseas as a flight engineer and maintenance mechanic in the Air Force, has secured a position in the maintenance department of Northeast Airlines. While in the service he was awarded the Good Conduct medal and the European theater ribbon with battle stars for the Appenines, Po Valley, Balkans and Central Europe campaigns. Before entering the service he was employed as an airplane mechanic. He was discharged from the Air Force in October on points.

Joseph L. Hendrick, a former Lieutenant Junior Grade in the Navy, has returned to his home at 10 Pasho street, after an absence of forty-two months, of which a year was spent on Anti submarine patrols in the Atlantic. His last duty being at the Naval Air Station at Glenview, Illinois. Before entering the service he was a student at the University of Vermont, Burlington, Vermont.

Alfred R. Miller, 16 Canterbury street, is home after serving four years and two months in the U. S. Navy. His last duty was on the Destroyer escort, USS Peiffen. During his time in the navy he spent a year and a half in the American European, Pacific and Philippine theater of operations. He held the rank of Lieutenant. Before entering the service Miller was a student at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H.

John F. Giblin, a former Lieutenant in the Navy, has returned home after serving three years and three months of which a year and eight months was spent in the Atlantic and Mediterranean theater of operations. His last duty being a Navy Cargo Ship, the U. S. S. Selinun. Prior to entering the service Mr. Giblin was employed by the U. S. Army Ordnance, Los Angeles, Calif.

Word has been received that Kenneth B. L'Antiga, formerly of Andover, but now of Nashua, N. H. has been promoted to Sergeant. He is stationed at Oahu, Hawaii at the present.

Irving J. Whitcomb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Monte Z. Whitcomb, 3 Main street terrace, received his discharge from the Army November 19 at Fort Devens. Sgt. Whitcomb entered the service June 17, 1942, and reported for duty at Fort Devens. He was assigned to the signal corps and took his basic training at Fort Monmouth, N. J. He left for overseas after only ten weeks in the service, and arrived in Northern Ireland, September 7, 1942.

After four months with the 839th Signal Service Company in Northern Ireland, he was assigned to the southern base headquarters near Salisbury in England, where he acted as section chief in the signal staff section, in the office of the signal officer. Next he was with the signal officer of the southern district headquarters, and from there was transferred to the 15th Army headquarters and was assigned for duty with Plans Group G at Versailles, which set up the communications system for Berlin district headquarters. He was then advanced to the rank of technical sergeant. The unit next moved to Namur, Belgium, where the Berlin district headquarters was activated.

Show Boat Minstrels Thursday, Friday Nights

There will be fine entertainment in the Community Rooms, Ballardvale, Thursday and Friday nights, November 29 and 30, when the Show Boat Minstrels will be presented by the Friendly Guild of the Congregational church.

Christie Murphy will again be in the show with songs and tap dancing. Mr. Murphy is known to all as an excellent entertainer, and is considered the finest in specialty performances. James Sheard will give vocal selections, and several specialties by local talent promise to add greatly to the show.

End men will be Ruth Sharpe, Lillian Myers, Anna Bauleau, Lillian Bisset, Helen Harrington, Winnie Butler. Fred Cronin will be pianist and Clyde Mears director. The chorus consists of several charming young ladies.

Tickets for Friday night are sold out, but there are plenty available for Thursday, either at the door or by calling Mrs. James Schofield, 898-M.

Legion Whist and Bridge Friday, November 30

Do you like to play whist and bridge? Then here's your chance, for the American Legion and Auxiliary are sponsoring a whist and bridge party to be held Friday evening, November 30.

There will be worthwhile prizes, too! Some of the prizes that have been contributed by the merchants of the town are: a floor lamp, fifty gallons of oil, a braided rug, choice of a topcoat or a lady's suit, and many more. The party will be held at the Memorial gymnasium, and the proceeds of the affair will go into the veterans' rehabilitation fund.

Live Reptiles and Movies At Phillips Friday, Nov. 30

A lecture with movies and live reptiles will be given in George Washington Hall, Friday evening, November 30, at 8:15 by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Babbitt, who will tell some of their experiences in collecting biological specimens. Mr. Babbitt is curator of reptiles at the Worcester Museum of Natural Science. He has spent many years in the study of animals in their natural habitat, and has traveled many miles in search of them.

Thornton Burgess, in speaking of the Babbitts' lecture, says: "The motion pictures in natural colors with which Mr. and Mrs. Babbitt illustrate their delightful nature talks are as unusual in subject matter as they are educational and entertaining. Made in the field in natural surroundings and under natural conditions, they represent hours of infinite patience and a thorough knowledge of the habits of their unusual subjects."

The public is cordially invited to attend this lecture and to view the reptiles which Mr. Babbitt will have on display.

Christmas Concert This Sunday

(SEE FRONT COVER)

This Sunday, Dec. 2, is the date of the first concert of the Andover Community Orchestra. This concert will be featured by a presentation of Christmas music, and by the only appearance this year in Andover of the Andover Male Choir. The time of the concert is 8:15; the place, the High School Auditorium.

The orchestra is larger and better this year, with the addition of new and competent players. In this new group are several discharged servicemen who will add considerably to the orchestra's abilities. Mr. George Brown of Melrose, conductor of the Melrose Symphony Orchestra, is again leading the Andover group.

Patrons and subscribers are reminded to get their tickets early in order to assure them of a choice of seats, not only for this concert, but for the special Tercentenary Concert in May.

Infantry Symphonette Here December 14

A Victory Loan Concert will be held at the Memorial Auditorium, on December 14, by the Infantry Concert Group, the famous Army Ground Forces musical organization. The soldier-musicians of which there are 21 in number will appear in a program of popular and light classical music as part of Andover's War Loan Drive, the final drive of the series.

The members of the group are all former radio, movie, recording and symphony instrumentalists. The group is conducted by Sgt. Richard Freitas, noted New York musician, and is now under the command of 1st Lt. William F. Holderman. Soloists are Sgt. Alvin G. Rudnitsky, formerly with a Philadelphia Orchestra, and Sgt. Joseph Stephansky.

Most musicians are startled when they see the program of the Infantry Concert Group. They can't understand how a 22 man group can play music written for symphony orchestras of 100 or more.

The secret, according to the members of the group, lies in the special arrangements, and in the musical powers of the individual musicians.

Movie Premier For Bond Drive

Movie patrons of Andover will have their opportunity to participate in a great VICTORY BOND DRIVE, Thursday, December 6, 1945, to raise funds for the return of servicemen to this country, to pay for rehabilitation of wounded veterans and to head off disastrous inflation, through the co-operation of the Theater Manager of the Andover Playhouse who has again joined forces in the Drive. The movie will be "State Fair."

The BOND SHOW will be presented next Thursday evening at the Playhouse where every seat in the house will be contributed to purchasers of VICTORY BONDS.

The Playhouse has been appointed official issuing agent for VICTORY BONDS which may be purchased at all hours of the day or night.

Details of the VICTORY BOND SHOW are now being worked out by Manager Resnik in conjunction with the Chairman of the local War Finance Committee.

Tickets to the VICTORY BOND SHOW will be available at all VICTORY BOND issuing agents in the town of Andover.

Labor-Management Subject of Forum

The fourth and last of a series of discussions which were given in a panel form was held at the Memorial Hall library Monday night starting at 7:45 o'clock. The topic under discussion was "Where Can Labor and Management Meet?"

The meeting opened with Mr. John Broadhead introducing the members of the panel, who were: Mr. Ralph Arivella, Textile Workers of America, Local No. 477; Mr. Wallace E. Brimer, Treasurer, Tyer Rubber Company; Mr. John F. Wade, Lawrence Typographical Union, Local No. 51; and Mr. Ralph A. Edson, Personnel Director, Arlington Mills. Mr. Bernard Killmurry, Director of Guidance, Pynchard High School, served as chairman.

After each had given his version of the subject, the discussion was opened to the public. Many interesting examples of current importance were used in the discussion, such as the General Motors Corporation which is now on strike, and the local textile mills.

Thirtieth Anniversary

With all but one of their ten children home for the occasion, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Richard of Boston road, observed their 30th wedding anniversary at the family home Thanksgiving day. The couple ad their five daughters, and all but one of their five sons with them r the occasion. The other son, Private, first class, Wilfred Richard, is in Berlin with the paratroopers.

Their ten children are: Mrs. Anne Springer, Mrs. Marguerite Keyes, Lorraine, Mildred and Ella Richard, Harold, Private, first class, Wilfred Richard, Francis, who was a technical sergeant and served with the army quartermaster corps at Guadalcanal; George Richard, metalsmith, second class, U. S. N. R., and William, recently discharged as a pre-aviation cadet. George was able to be home through the efforts of the Red Cross. He flew from Pearl Harbor to San Francisco in 20 hours, to be home for the occasion and to be with his mother who has been in failing health.

Mr. Richard is a carpenter by trade and is employed by Fred W. Doyle, local contractor.

Large Audience at Ballet Russe

Brilliant choreography wove a spell of enchantment over the audience in George Washington Hall Tuesday evening when Leonide Massine's Ballet Russe Highlights were presented by the Music Department of Phillips Academy.

Most of the dances were arranged by Mr. Massine, and he also led many of the choreographies himself. While the program could not compare to a corps de ballet performance, the standard of the individual presentations was excellent, and for those not familiar with ballet, it was a delightful evening's entertainment. The lack of scenery was partially compensated for by the colorful costumes worn by the dancers.

Although all the pieces were well-received, the "Russian Dance," a choreography by Massine in the second part of the program, was the favorite of the local audience.

Town Clerk's Mother Dies

Mrs. Marcia May (Schumway) Winslow, wife of Henry Francis Winslow, died early Sunday morning at the family home, Lowell street, following a long illness.

Born in South Dedham 80 years ago, Mrs. Winslow resided in Norwood for several years before coming to Andover 12 years ago. She was past president of the Norwood Womans club, a former member of the Norwood school committee for several terms, a member of the Norwood Historical society, the Norwood Literary society, the Massachusetts Horticultural society, the Daughters of the American Revolution, and the West Parish church Women's union.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, George H. Winslow, Andover town clerk, and Herbert S. Winslow of Wollaston; three grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, and one niece.

The funeral was held from the Lundgren funeral home Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, with Rev. Leslie J. Adkins, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Highland cemetery, Norwood.

David A. Doig, 35 Main street, died Thursday morning at his home following a short illness. Born in Scotland, he came to Andover 25 years ago, and was employed in the Shawsheen mills.

Surviving are one son, David, Jr., and one daughter, Mrs. Alexander Meek, both of Andover, and several grandchildren.

The funeral was held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Meek, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. J. Levering Reynolds, pastor of the Free Congregational church, officiating.

Burial was in SpringGrove cemetery.

Butcher Killed On Union Street

John Ryding, 65, of South Lawrence, a butcher by trade, was instantly killed Tuesday evening about 7:15 o'clock, when hit by a machine driven by Willey Rehe of Argilla road. Ryding was making a delivery in Andover, and was crossing Union street near Binney street when hit.

Sgt. William R. Hickey and Police Officers James Walker, George Dufton, and Reserve Officer Robert V. Deyermond immediately reported to the scene of the accident. The ambulance was called, and the body was taken to Lawrence General hospital. Upon arrival at the hospital, Dr. Julius J. Burgiel, medical examiner, reported Ryding dead, and stated that he had received a fractured skull, compound fracture of the left leg, as well as abrasions of the body.

Board of Health Member Dies

Franklin Horton Stacey, 9 Brook street, secretary of the Andover Board of Health, a chemist prominent in the field of pharmacy for many years, died Monday morning at the family home. He had been ill about two weeks.

Born in Lynn 65 years ago, Mr. Stacey had made his home in Andover for the past 42 years. For 34 years he was in the retail drug business, but gave up his store several years ago because of illness. He was a registered pharmacist in Massachusetts and in New Hampshire, and held the degree of pharmaceutical chemist. He also held a degree of doctor of pharmacy and a certificate in bacteriology from Harvard Medical school. For 38 years he was connected with the town board of health, serving as inspector of milk, and for a time as chairman of the board. During World War I he served as registrar for the draft board and as head of the Legal Advisory board, as well as recruiting officer for the Merchant Marine.

Mr. Stacey was a member of St. Matthew's lodge, A. F. and A. M., and Aleppo Temple Shrine, Boston.

He is survived by his wife, Ellen (Bradbury) Stacey; a son, Alfred C.; his mother, Mrs. Sarah H. Stacey of Winchester, and two sisters, Lillian Stacey and Mrs. J. Foster Foresman, both of Winchester.

The funeral was held from the Lundgren funeral home, Wednesday at 2 o'clock, with Rev. John S. Moses, rector of Christ Episcopal church, officiating. Burial was in Bellevue cemetery, Lawrence.

TIRE RATIONING

If you are an automobile owner in search of tires, here is one thing to keep your eye on. The tire industry is pulling all sorts of wires backstage to lift export restrictions.

At present they are permitted to export 400,000 truck tires and 100,000 passenger tires during the last quarter of this year. They would like to export a lot more. In the first place, they don't have to worry about OPA ceiling prices when selling abroad. Secondly, they can build up their postwar markets by getting in on the ground floor.

So they would rather sell more tires abroad. But if they do, they sell less tires at home. And today a tire certificate issued to a person desiring to buy a tire is nothing more than a hunting license. He can go out and hunt for a tire. If he's lucky enough to find one, his certificate entitles him to buy it.

DEPARTMENT OF PEACE

When the house foreign affairs committee heard testimony on the Randolph bill to create a department of peace, the star witness was a 64-year-old former mule-driver from Morgantown, W. Va.

Chairman Sol Bloom and members of his committee listened with rapt attention as Raymond M. Davis read a 16-page statement on why the United States should take the lead in establishing a new cabinet post to spread the gospel of peace throughout the world.

After he finished, white-thatched GOP Rep. Charles Eaton of New Jersey declared:

"Mr. Davis, you may be unschooled, as you tell the committee, but you certainly are not uneducated. That is one of the finest documents I have ever listened to."

World Peace is not just a hobby with the West Virginia coal man, though he describes it as such. It is a burning ideal. A self-made business man who now operates two coal mines employing more than 500 workers, Davis had made many speeches at his own expense throughout the country urging a government department of peace. He also has written a proposed constitution for the United Nations that has attracted wide attention.

The state department thought well enough of his ideas to invite him to the San Francisco conference as an observer.

Rep. Jennings Randolph of West Virginia, freely admits that Davis was the chief spark plug behind his peace resolution.

"When I was looking at the rear end of a mule all day in West Virginia coal mines," says Davis, "I never thought that one day I'd be instrumental in having such an important piece of legislation introduced in congress."

Note—The second initial of Davis' name stands for "Moses." Perhaps what we need are more plain, garden-variety Moses' of the Davis type, instead of striped-pants diplomats, to lead us out of the international wilderness.

BOWLES HOLDS INFLATION FLOOD

OPAdministrator Chester Bowles is one of the most abused men in Washington. Everyone is badgering him. Congressmen demand that their constituents increase the price of this or that. Farm groups want to raise the price of milk or cattle. Business groups want to abolish all ceiling prices.

Probably the common man doesn't appreciate it, but here are some things which will happen if Chester Bowles loses his battle to stop the inflation flood:

1. Every person putting his money in life insurance does so with the idea of getting his money back—100 cents on the dollar. But if there is inflation, the insurance dollar will be worth 75 cents, 50 cents, or even 30 cents.

2. Every person on a retired pension, whether a railroad employee, a college, a school or a big corporation employee, will see his income shrink if there is inflation.

3. Every widow living on money left by her husband will see that income shrivel.

4. Every school teacher will have great difficulty having her salary move up when the value of the dollar moves down.

5. Every civil servant, whether working for city, state or federal government, will be in the same boat as the teachers.

6. Every college endowment, every charity or other enterprise with fixed invested capital stands ready to have its investment evaporate with inflation.

"Gee whiz, Uncle Joe, sounds as if Hood's is awful particular!"

That's right . . . Hood's rigid standards of cleanliness demand that barns and milk houses be spotless; that they be free of insects at all times. Proper care of farm equipment and buildings insures uniformly pure milk.

Try Andover First

Christmas shopping season is here. You're going to spend the next few weeks wondering what to buy for whom and where to buy it.

Boston's a big city. It's twenty-five miles and one hour away. Thousands of people, tens of thousands of people, are planning to travel in there from all over the state to do some Christmas shopping. But before you go to Boston, why don't you try the local stores first? You may be surprised to find that your contemplated trip to Boston is not at all necessary. You can do pretty well right here in town, and if you can't find it here, you can certainly find it in Lawrence. You'll probably find that the prices here are not far different from the prices elsewhere. You'll probably find, as a matter of fact, that a good many of the nationally advertised items are priced on a standard basis, not one cent less in Boston than in Andover.

The lot of the local businessman is not an easy one. His field is somewhat limited, but it is his earnest desire to serve and to build up his business despite a number of small town obstacles. Our local businessmen can probably be divided into three classes; those who have been here long enough to be doing pretty well, those who have had vision and ambition and are getting ahead despite some of these small town obstacles, and those who have not been given the proper encouragement and are just muddling along. But all three classes can stand your support. To make our town a prosperous town, try Andover first. Do everything you can for local business.

Snippy Town Employees

Every once in a while we hear of a regrettable incident in which someone employed by the town thinks that he or she has a right to be a bit on the snippy side because of his or her employment by the town. The holding of a town job or a town office does not entitle anyone to be overbearing or sarcastic with any of the town residents. Many, in fact most, of the town employees do avoid this manner of dealing with the townspeople. There are some, however, who seem to think that their position gives them a right to do or say just about what they please.

If they only realized that by acting the way they do, they are hurting the cause of all town employees, they might act differently.

This Sober Town

Sometimes when you write a newspaper obituary about a person, a big one about a big man, a little one about a little man, you wonder if maybe in his own small way the little man hadn't been and done enough to deserve something more than the cut-and-dried: "So-and-so died; he was born on such-and-such a date; he is survived by—; funeral services were held—etc."

Well, of course a newspaperman can't know everybody, and all the little things done by people who never made the public eye. But there was a chunky, little round-faced fellow over 60 years of age, not even a resident of Andover, who got picked off by a car on Union street Tuesday night. John never did much but sell meat. He had a little truck which used to wind up its day's journey at Wallace's up beyond Haggetts. There John would deliver his hamburger, his ham and his chickens—and pretty soon if he saw the dishes getting ahead of Mrs. Wallace, Betty and Myra, he'd roll up his sleeves and go to it, all the time talking along in his very, very broad cockney, with the "hatches copping" up where they hain't'ad no business to be."

But one night John's dish-washing was taken over lock, stock and barrel. It was the night that the state guard was out looking for a North Andover woman who was lost and was later found dead. Headquarters for the Lowell battalion were established at Wallace's, with the bus loads of uniformed men stopping down the street a way, while the men prepared to search all West Andover's roads. About 11:30 sandwiches were in order, and with some 50 men to feed it looked like a bit of a problem, both from a supply and help standpoint. But out to his truck went John and soon the necessary supplies were on hand, while the mess sergeant and crew took over the preparation and serving of sandwiches, with Mrs. Wallace having a grand time watching someone else do the work for a change.

Few will forget the moment when John looked out the kitchen window into the fog, and saw under the eerie light of a neon Ruppert's sign a long single file of uniformed men marching along Lowell street. Said John, summoning up every bit of nasalness that his voice could summon: "My God, there's a 'ole army hout there!"

The Farmer's Almanac and the first big snowstorm of the year came to us about the same time, and it reminded us of an incident that happened during the very, very big storm of last winter.

On page 17 of the Almanac it says: "Now is the time of the deep snows—and thrice blessed is the neighbor who will plow you out. A mug of good steaming coffee or something bracing from the bottle behind the clock will be just the thing for him when he has bucked out your drifts. A touch of neighborly kindness goes a long way—and there'll be more storms coming."

Three local citizens had been out of town the night of the big storm last winter, and finally managed to drive back into town about 3 a. m. They had left at 7, fortified only by a pint of brandy. Before they left for the return trip they picked up some sliced ham and some bread, just in the event that the car decided to stay in a snowdrift all night, but they did get through all right. After a cup of hot coffee at the lunchroom, they started out for their various homes on foot, with one of the fellows who lived farthest out in the country pocketing the brandy, just in case.

But along came a friend who happened to have a plow on front of his truck—and in the eyes of the Farmer's Almanac he became thrice blessed. The friend had another friend with him, and the three started down a street that hadn't been broken out, stopping at the front door of the first man's house. Grateful? Of course he was. The bottle wasn't behind his clock, but it was in his pocket, and he pulled it out, offering to the friend in the front seat. Back went he man's head, up went the bottle, and the look of expectancy on his face gradually withered away. Sure—there wasn't a drop left!

in the food business, or any line of endeavor, as far as that's concerned, depends upon full co-operation by everyone.

(This title suggested itself after listening to a vigorous, fighting, two-fisted speech by Bill Cunningham of the Boston Herald, at Lawrence, the other night.)

Don't forget (and how quickly we humans are prone to) the terrific beating every merchant in America has taken in the past three years. Jingos, it seems an eternity that we were under the neck-yoke of points, shortages, pressure of customers looking for articles impossible to secure, delays, help shortages, break-down of machinery (break-down of humans, too), extra hours of labor entailed counting those POINTS and TOKENS, point inventories, point changes. Wow! Those were something! Oh, yes, it's all over the dam — almost — Where does teamwork enter into this picture? No one here suffered as much as others in far-away countries did. Teamwork, in the food business, starts at the source — the ground — nature itself — and consecutively through many hands until it is placed upon your table.

That's where we take this occasion to state publicly the full co-operation that the people of Andover gave this store during those trying years — "Team-work", with everyone carrying out assignments and sticking to the rigid rules.

During the Green Bar Meeting the patrol leaders were presented with their new patrol flag poles and stands which will be painted and decorated in time for the beginning of the patrol contest on Friday December 7.

The instruction period next week will be on first aid. Plans are being made for a three day camping trip to Pomp's Pond during the Christmas vacation.

Woman's Alliance of Free Church

—With an intimate and sympathetic knowledge of the Oimundu women and children of West Africa, among whom she lived and worked for over 30 years, Mrs. Elizabeth Logan Ennis of Sachikela, educationalist under the American Board of Foreign Missions, will speak Thursday, December 13th, at 2:30 p. m., at the meeting to be held in the Free Church. She has worked closely with the Umbundu Christian church which faces pinching poverty, superstition, witchcraft, drink and many "imported" evils, and she sees the tragic need of more workers in the mission.

Woman's Union of West Church

—The annual covered dish Luncheon will take place on Wednesday, December 5th at 1:00 p. m. in the West Church vestry. After the luncheon, the annual reports will be read and election of officers for the coming year will be held. Each member is asked to bring a small gift to be exchanged at the Christmas tree.

West Parish Men' Brotherhood

—"Religion in Today's World" will be the subject of Otto Raymond Laverude of Lowell, in his talk at the November 29th meeting. The meeting will be held in the church vestry.

Mr. Laverude is known throughout the state as a popular speaker and lecturer, for he has a happy and dynamic style. He has traveled much in Europe and America, and has a first hand knowledge as background for his talk.

The meeting will open at 8 o'clock and following Mr. Laverude's talk, refreshments will be served by Burke Thornton.

The A. P. C. Sorority of the South Church

—Annual initiation of new members will be held on Thursday, December 6. There will be games in charge of Miss Barbara Loomer, and refreshments will be served by Mrs. Elven Gilfoy, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Peter Dantos, Miss Elizabeth Hodge, and Mrs. Sherwood Kelly.

The Young People's Department of the West Church

—A meeting of special interest will be held on Sunday at 4:45 p. m. at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Leslie J. Adkins, 15 Lowell street. Mrs. Adkins will speak on the subject: "Light and Shadow in Turkey and Syria." She will wear costume and will also have other curios of these countries. It promises to be one of the most interesting meetings of the year, and all young people of the parish, ninth grade and upwards, are cordially invited. Refreshments will be served.

West Parish Church Canvass

—The annual financial canvass of the West Parish church for pledges from its members and friends to underwrite its opening expenses for 1946 is arousing a considerable amount of interest and enthusiasm. The canvass committee, consisting of Lathrop Merrick, Frederick Doyle, and William Stewart, have enlisted twenty-six volunteer visitors, who are organized into seven teams, each under a captain. All of these visitors will meet at the West Parish vestry at 1:30 p. m. on Sunday, December 2. They will be addressed briefly by Rev. Frank E. Dunn of Andover.

Nearly thirty years of work in Japan, plus over three years in the Philippine Islands, most of them spent as a Japanese prisoner of war, gives Rev. Frank Cary, New England born Congregational missionary, an unusual background of knowledge for discussing Japan. He will speak Monday evening, December 10 at 7:30 P. M. at a meeting in the Free Christian church.

Mr. Cary was the American internnee who executed the dangerous assignment of carrying to the Japanese officers, caught in Santo Tomas prison camp, Manila, Philippine Island, the United States Army terms under which they could leave.

Andover Grange — A meeting was held in the Grange Hall Tuesday evening, and the third and fourth degrees were imposed. The third degree was put on by Mrs. Eleanor Hall, and the fourth degree was put on by the officers of the Grange. On November 30, there will be a square dancing party at the Grange Hall, to which the public is cordially invited. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, December 4. It will be visitors night, with guests from neighboring Granges, and movies will be shown. The meeting is in charge of Mr. Richard Williams.

Lafalot Club — The annual Christmas party will be held on Thursday evening, December 6, at 8:00 p. m. at the home of Marion Abbott, Cedar road. Each member should bring a gift.

Central P. T. A. — The final drive for membership in the Andover Parent-Teachers Association is now on, with letters being sent to the parents of the students in all the schools. It is hoped that all parents may be enrolled during this drive, thus creating a stronger relationship between parent, teacher, and child.

Magician Will Perform at November Club Guest Night

The November Club — The annual guest night will be held Monday, December 3, at 8:15, when an entertaining program will be presented by Richard Du Bois, recognized as one of the foremost of wonder workers and magicians. His deft manipulation, expert misdirection and his extraordinary ability to create mystifying illusion have brought him wide acclaim. His performance is one that his audience will not forget, not merely a series of magical exhibitions, but a performance which apparently defies physical and psychological laws, presented in a delightful manner by an accomplished artist. Above all, it is great fun.

The Drama Department will have its next meeting on Friday, December 7, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Frederick Hulme, 7 Punchard avenue. At this meeting the second part of "A Bell for Adano" will be read.

The next meeting of the Literature Department will be held on Wednesday, December 5, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Tyler Carlton, 18 Cheever circle.

The Andover Garden Club — "Christmas Beautiful" will be the subject of a talk with demonstrations to be given at the Andover Inn on Tuesday afternoon, December 4, at 3 o'clock, by Mrs. Charles S. Pease of Melrose. Tea will be served at the close of the meeting.

Scottish Clans — A victory drive banquet will be held December 1 at the Memorial auditorium. At 4 o'clock a class of forty will be initiated into the clan. The charge to the new clan members will be given by Rev. Archibald L. MacMillan, chaplain of Clan MacPherson, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. Dinner will be served at 6 p. m. Members will attend the banquet from Lawrence, Manchester, N. H., and Lowell, as well as Andover.

American Legion, Post 8 — The annual Christmas party will be held Thursday evening, December 13, in the Legion hall.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to Clan Johnston — A successful whist and domino party was held Monday evening at the home of Miss Georgina Petrie, Chickering court.

Clan Johnston, 185, O. S. C. — A meeting will be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and at 4 o'clock a class of forty new members from the clans of the Merrimack valley will be initiated into the order at the Square and Compass club hall.

The clansmen will parade to the Memorial auditorium at 5 o'clock for supper, to be served in the school cafeteria. They will be led in the parade by the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary Pipe band.

The Ladies Auxiliary to American Legion — A social was held on Wednesday, and during the evening a shower was given to Miss Frances Jayne, who received many beautiful gifts. Games were played and refreshments were served.

THE AND

GRAY frost-brown stubble — and the green of the pines—but even better looking the black and white or the brown and white of a pointer or setter freezing into action on the covey point — the only competitor who reaches top competitive form as immovable as marble. Quail hunting with a good dog may not be the king of sports, but a good many millions think so and their day isn't far ahead. And the dog is really the king of this autumn and winter thrill.

This occurred to us when we ran into Andy Sage, the Long Island sportsman, who owns and develops more champion field trial dogs than anyone we can recall off hand. His dogs have won the national championship six times, four of them in a row against the former record of two in a row.

They have also won the big futurity seven times in a row and they will be just as hard to beat in the coming tests on ahead.

"My best dog," Mr. Sage said, "is Ariel, winner of six championships. Ariel is now seven years old but can still range with the best. There are three fundamental qualities that make a great bird dog—scent, speed and stamina. In field trial tests there is also the matter of ranging class or form to be considered. In my opinion it is harder to breed and develop a champion dog than it is a champion horse. There are many good bird dogs, of course, but few great ones that can win championships against the best. Ariel is my pick but Luminary isn't far behind."

Field Trial Thrills

Clyde Morton trains the Sage entries in a secluded hamlet known as Alberta, Ala., which isn't far away from Selma. These championship field trials range all the way from Saskatchewan and Duluth to East Tennessee and while there are no mutual windows, no football or baseball cheering, they have just as great a thrill for those who love the hunting dog and who travel far distances to see the best at work. The judges in these championship tests give their time, attention and devotion to their work without any pay and they contribute a big part to any field trial's success.

Thousands of ex-servicemen and millions of others now in the woods and fields enjoy a double thrill.

The first is the work of the dogs, without any question the most eager form of life in pursuit of the quarry.

The next thrill comes at the covey's rise when the tense silence is suddenly broken by the whirr of many wings—an easy looking target but elusive except for the experts. The first average tendency is to shoot too quickly and also to blaze away at the covey in place of selecting a single or double target.

One of your correspondent's greatest shocks is to fire and see no feathers fall where so many feathers seemed to be at a close and unmissable range.

When you take up the major thrills of sport, the football player can offer a long run through a broken field or a long completed pass. The golfer has his long iron dead to the pin. The baseball player can counter with the home run or the triple. The horse player will take his chance on hitting a 50 to 1 shot on the nose—or winning a husky daily double.

The Elusive Turkey

You can hear the clamor of the 10 million fishermen, moving from trout to bass to salmon to tarpon. But the nearest thrill to the dogs working and the covey rise is to see a wild turkey light in a tall pine close to your hide-out—and then try to spot him later only 20 yards away, as all 20 pounds of him suddenly vanish and yet you know he is there. Here is the greatest of all camouflage artists. The incomparable will o' the wisp.

Yes, even with a few occasional diamondbacks thrown in, I'll take turkey hunting and give you the memory of a 40-foot putt with the match all squared on the 18th green.

No wonder Andy Sage would rather have Ariel than another Man o' War. Or would he?

Field trials now cover a big part of the country. For example, Duluth has become a leading center in this respect where next spring Duluth sportsmen expect to hold one of the leading trials of the season. The East also has its trials and its share of good dogs.

For here is sport in the final meaning of the word.

Beau Jack Warms Up

On the way to another football gathering we got offside and bumped into Bowman Milligan and Chick Wergeles, who are handling the pugilistic destinies of the returning Beau Jack.

"We have sent Beau Jack back to Augusta to ready for his next fight," Chick Wergeles said. "He weighs 144 pounds now and will soon be down to 140. Beau Jack is to meet the winner of the Janiro-Greco fight late in December.

THOUGHTS ON MONEY

Money has few friends these days. The sticking kind, the sort of people who want to cling to it tenderly. Coin has become almost a synonym for confetti.

Americans are behaving as if they thought it a reflection on their character not to be spendthrifts. The old slogans have been revised thusly:

1. Take care of the daily-doubles and the pennies will have to take care of themselves.
2. A fool and his money make a perfect parlay.
3. If money burns a hole in your pocket, remember that it saves the moths a lot of work.
4. Waste not, have not!
5. A good race tip is rather to be had than great riches.

Frugality has become a word out of an old dictionary. The man who used to wince at the idea of paying over 75 cents for an ordinary lunch now pays $2.50 and brings his own butter and sugar. Give a waiter only 10 per cent today and you automatically become Scrooge II.

Pull that old one about saving something for a rainy day today and you get a snappy. "Phooey! If it rains I can get an umbrella from the government."

Thousands of people seem to believe that money not only grows on trees, but that the trees can be counted on to make deliveries.

If Ben Franklin were around today delivering epigrams on thrift he would be denounced as a reactionary, a Tory and an enemy of the people.

The questions of the hour are: Is cash a good thing to have around the house? Should a five-dollar bill be regarded as something for the long pull or a quick turnover? Can a man be thrifty and maintain the respect of the community?

Good News for Light Sleepers

We don't know what we would have done if we hadn't had a chat today with Albert H. Chandler. We hadn't been getting much sleep and it worried us. Counting sheep hadn't been of the least help. There had been times when we had been on an eight-hour sheep-counting night. A fellow couldn't go on like that.

Then it happened. We heard a commotion in the corridors and found office associates congratulating Chandler on his 91st birthday. Ninety-one and on the job every day as office receptionist! Sixty-seven years on the paper!

"Ah!" we thought, "Chandler must sleep well. In him there is the secret of repose after hitting the haypile. He can help us."

"Sleep!" exclaimed the hardy veteran. "There's nothing in it! It's the bunk!"

We assume the celebration had upset him somewhat.

"Forget that sheep stuff," he continued. "That's bad. I used to count 'em. Probably counted more sheep in my time than any living American. I even numbered 'em front and rear. Put plates on 'em. Things came to a head back in the '70s, in 1878. I think that was one of the biggest sheep years I ever had. There were so many to be counted that I never slept a wink. So I quit. Haven't tabulated a sheep since."

"But what do you do about 'em?""Ignore 'em. All except one. That sheep's been with me over half a century. I call it Old Two Million Eight Thousand and Ninety-four. I had counted that high when I met it. This sheep and I get about the same amount of sleep. Why? Because we forgot the whole business years ago, and know there's nothing to it. All the other sheep keep on hopping back and forth all night waiting for me to start counting and they've gone nuts. They don't get any sleep at all!"

SUN GOD CLIPPED COUPONS

Hirohito, it develops, had a finger in all the financial pies of Japan and is a millionaire many times over. A descendant of a sun god on his banker's side.

Under tradition, nobody in Japan could ever look down on the emperor. Well, if we had all his money, we would not have permitted anybody to look down on us, either.

The emperor's horse, informed of Hirohito's wealth, exclaimed, "That ain't hay!"

New automobiles have been freed of rationing. All you will need to get one now will be:

- 1—About $2,000.
- 2—The name of a dealer who has a car.
- 3—A letter from the President.
- 4—Patience and fortitude.

All-Night Parking To Stop Saturday

Chief of Police George A. Dane announced Wednesday that car owners will not be allowed to park their cars on the streets at night starting Saturday, December 1. He expressed a belief that, as in the past, the citizens will cooperate. He said that the night officers will be instructed to start checking on December 15, and any cars left parked all night at the curb will be towed to a garage. If there is a snowstorm between the first and fifteenth, the night officers will be instructed to have cars left at the curb towed in so as not to interfere with the plows.

Fire Damage at Hardy Brush Co.

Three fire engines were called to extinguish a blaze at the Hardy Brush shop and the Raffold Corporation laboratories, Shawsheen Village, Saturday afternoon. The fire broke out in the plant which is located on the floor above the chemical company. Damage to the equipment and furnishings is estimated at approximately $1,250. Fire Chief C. Edward Buchan attributed the cause of the fire to an electrically heated glue pot being left switched on after employees left the building for the day.

Flames damaged a table, the side of a desk and burned a hole in the floor. The remaining $1,000 damage resulted from water loosed by a sprinkler head released by the heat.

The fire department was called to the home of Mrs. R. H. Goodwin, 320 Andover street, Ballardvale, shortly after noon Friday to an oil burner fire. Mrs. Goodwin had turned off the oil before the firemen arrived, and the fire was responded when the alarm was one and two, and ladder truck No. 1 soon brought under control. Engines sent in.

Receives Head Injuries In Accident

An accident occurred on North Main street, at the south entrance to Tom Greene's service station early Friday morning, when William J. Kane, R. F. D. No. 1 Lowell, employed at the Johnson farm on Haggetts Pond road, was apparently hit and knocked down by an automobile driven by Stephen Delisle, 77 Arlington street, Lawrence.

Kane was observed walking in a northerly direction on North Main street, below the old rubber factory at about 12:30 a. m. by officers Deymond and McBride, who reported that he was walking alright and seemed to have the appearance of taking care of himself. When he reached the spot where the accident occurred, Mr. Delisle, was driving slowly along the street, having just left the Marland Mills, when suddenly he felt a bump and stopped to find a man lying on the ground to the right of his car. The ambulance arrived and took the man to the Lawrence General hospital, where nine stitches were taken in his head. He was later released and told to report back later for X-rays.

Weddings

KERR—SEIGLOCH

At a beautiful double ring ceremony Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock Miss Marlys Seigloch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bowen, of Seattle, Washington, and Pocatello, Idaho, became the bride of Captain Colin H. Kerr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Kerr, 109 Central street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Archibald L. MacMillan, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, Lawrence at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The bride wore a gown of pale pink satin and net skirt over satin with a Dutch cap of fresh carnations and carried a Bible from which hung streamers of pale pink ribbon and pink carnations.

Mrs. Gordon Brainerd, of Lowell, cousin of the bridegroom was matron-of-honor and Julie St. John, of Suffield, Conn., an old friend of the bridegroom was best man.

The bride, a former Lieutenant in the Army Nurse corps, served 18 months overseas in Sicily and Italy, and was honorably discharged in October. Captain Kerr, now on terminal leave, arrived home early in November from three years service overseas. He entered the service July 7, 1941, and was stationed at Bradley Field, Windsor Locks, Conn., for several months as base morale officer, then was transferred to Mitchell Field, Long Island, N. Y., where he remained until he went overseas in January, 1942. He served in Africa, Sicily and Italy, attached to the Army Air Force Headquarters, Mediterranean theater of operations. The couple met overseas in the Mediterranean theater of operation.

Before entering the service, Capt. Kerr was graduated from North Carolina State college in 1935 and was a member of the faculty and athletic coach at Moses Brown school, Providence, R. I.

BURR—EATON

Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Eaton of Cabot road, announce the marriage of their daughter, Charlotte, to Mr. Malcolm Southack Burr of Winchester, on November 2, at Exeter, New Hampshire. Mr. and Mrs. Burr are living in Ithaca, New York until ex-Lieutenant Burr of the Army Air Force completes his course at Cornell University.

EMMETT—HARRISON

Miss Shirley Ann Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton R. Harrison, 61 Chestnut street, and Walter Charles Emmett, AMM 1/c, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Emmett of Calais, Maine, were united in marriage at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Grace Episcopal church. The double ring service was performed by Rev. Archie H. Crowley, rector of the Grace Episcopal church, Lawrence.

The bride wore a gown of white satin that had a fitted bodice with long tapering sleeves, a fragile net yoke outlined with seed pearls and crystal embroidered and a skirt that formed a long full train. Her veil of illusion covered the train of her gown and was draped from a Juliet cap of net appliqued with satin flowers. She carried a spray of white roses and bouvardia centered with an orchid.

Miss Nancy Harrison, a sister of the bride was maid of honor. Lt. Charles J. Owens, Jr., USA, of Baltimore, Md., and Lawrence, uncle of the bridegroom, was the best man. The reception was held in the Grace church parish house which was decorated with variegated fall flowers.

After a short wedding trip the couple will leave for Pensacola, Fla., where the bridegroom is stationed and they will reside there for the present.

The bride attended Abbot academy, and was graduated from Kendall Hall, Peterborough, N. H. She also attended Vesper George School of Art, Boston. The bridegroom was a student at Dartmouth college when he enlisted in the naval service.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Mudd, Jr., of South Shore Drive, Chicago, Illinois, announced the engagement of their daughter, Anita, to Lt. (j. g.) Guy Butman Howe, Jr.,

U. S. M. S., son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy B. Howe of Andover, Mass.

Miss Mudd is a junior at Rosemont College, Rosemont, Pennsylvania, where she is majoring in art.

Lt. Howe attended Phillips Andover and Suffield Academies and received his commission from the aine Maritime Academy, and has since served in the Atlantic and Mediterranean theaters.

There are no immediate plans for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. MacMackin, 17 Carisbrooke street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Pauline, to Midshipman Llewellyn W. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Winfield Cooper of Damariscotta, Maine.

Miss MacMackin is a graduate of the Northfield School for Girls and is now in her senior year at Bates college. Midshipman Cooper is a graduate of Lincoln college and attended Bowdoin college before entering the Navy. He attended Bates college under the V-12 program and at present is studying at Tuft's Medical school. No date has been set for the wedding.
