"Peace On Earth" Reality As Churches Proclaim Holy Birth

The first peaceful Christmas, after four years of war, will be celebrated in all its solemn beauty in Andover's churches starting Sunday, as thankful people of all denominations hail the Christmas Season in places of worship. "Peace on earth, good will to men" once more has a more profound meaning to those who gather to pay homage to the new-born King.

Special Christmas music will be featured in all the churches on Sunday. A solemn high mass at midnight will be held in St. Augustine's church, and a Christmas dawn service will be held in the South church. At Christ church a communion and carol service will be held on Christmas eve, and both Christ church and St. Augustine's church will hold masses on Christmas day.

SUPPORTERS of the Ivy League policy of no football scholarships or pay, and those who believe in such scholarships and big-time football, are still tangled up in an argument that is now 40 years old. The correct answer is that there is room enough for both but there is no reason why they should meet in competitions that are almost certain to be uneven and unfair.

Football needs badly the restraining influence of the Ivy League and other conference leaders to keep from running completely wild in the scramble for talent all over the map. But there is also something to the argument that many poorer students would be unable to get a college education except from the rewards that football offers through scholarships and other financial aids.

"Why," one of the leading coaches in the country asked me, "shouldn't a poor boy have the chance to use his football ability to pay his way through college? I have been a football coach for well over 20 years and I could tell you of hundreds of such boys who have received college educations and moved far up in life, who except for football would have had no such chance to improve. Why should so many of these be barred simply because they are poor? It is much easier on the football coach to have this steady pressure of developing a winning team every season removed. Today in many cases, this matter of digging up material is the toughest part of a coach's job. It is much easier to build character than it is to build a winner."

Give Help to Local Boys

"This part of your argument is O.K.," we replied. "But what about this ranging for material 1,000 to 2,000 miles away, scouring the country for prep school or high school stars in a hot competitive race—where many are only given courses they can handle without risking any brain collapse?"

"This," said the veteran coach, "isn't right. Players in the main who draw scholarships or help should be taken from nearby places. But how are you going to stop the alumni from cutting in? Or certain colleges who have smart but well-covered recruiting systems that look after the job? I like to see southern teams made up of southern players, eastern teams of eastern players and western teams of western players. But I don't see how you are going to stop it."

It is for this reason that college conferences or groups are needed to establish certain set standards. Otherwise all competition will be cockeyed. Colleges that don't allow football scholarships have no business playing against those that do. They are not evenly matched. This also applies to scholarship standards. I could give you any number of examples concerning young stars who tried to enter certain colleges and failed to make the grade. They then entered other colleges with much lower scholastic standards to return and run over the stricter schools.

This is strictly unfair from every angle. Any one can see that. It is for this reason the stricter colleges should play together and let the big timers fight it out among themselves.

The first and main purpose of college should not be sport but education. Sport, however, is a strong and important sideline. There are many who are equipped to handle a much higher form of learning or education than others are. But the main idea is to give both groups a chance to improve—even if many can only work along elementary lines.

It is for this reason that laxity in the way of scholarships and other help has its place for certain groups that otherwise might be barred from any form of college or educational life.

Room for Ivy League

But this doesn't mean there isn't a major spot for the Ivy League or Eastern conference or any conference that decides to set up certain higher standards and see that these are enforced, as far as they can be enforced in a human world.

Some time back one of our leading educators, who loved football, made this important point, "There is too much 'sock and not enough Socrates' in our college life today. I am afraid there is a danger of our century's athletics going the way they did in ancient Greece, where they were developed to the point of becoming a thorough abuse."

We are now moving rapidly into a new age where brain is going to be much more important than brawn. This doesn't mean that there isn't still a tremendous need for better physical improvement and development. As a nation, outside of our limited top athletic crust, we are still far shy in the way of physical improvement for the mass, for those who need it most. But this situation isn't going to be helped by giving most of our time and attention to the winning stars, who need it least. After all "A fair field and no favor" is the basis of all true competition.

Red Cross Appoints New 1946 Chairman

C. Carleton Kimball, chairman of the Andover Chapter, American Red Cross, has announced the appointment of Howell M. Stillman, president of the Bay State Merchants National Bank in Lawrence, as the chairman of the 1946 campaign, which will commence on March 1 next. Mr. Stillman will succeed Stafford A. Lindsay who, because of the urgency of other responsibilities was unable to continue as chairman of the Red Cross War Fund Campaign in Andover.

Mr. Lindsay acted as chairman of the campaigns throughout the war years, and before the war acted as Roll Call Chairman since 1934. Under his direction, Andover has never failed to exceed its quota by a substantial margin. In each year of his chairmanship, the Andover Chapter received an honor certificate from the National Red Cross for its fine performance.

This year's campaign is being sponsored by the Andover Service Club, of which Mr. Stillman is a member. The club volunteered its support of the campaign and some of the key positions will be filled by members of the club. Two other appointments have been announced. Walter E. Mendale will serve as vice-chairman of the drive and the Rev. Frank E. Dunn has been appointed public relations and publicity director. The quota assigned to Andover has not yet been announced, but is expected to be announced very soon.

Mrs. C. Edward Buchan who has served long and faithfully as secretary during previous campaign solicitations will again serve as secretary for the drive and at the same time will act as chairman of the house-to-house solicitations campaign.

As usual, Philip F. Ripley, treasurer of the Andover Chapter, will act as treasurer of the campaign fund.

FRIEND OF ENLISTED MAN

WASHINGTON. — If there were more men in the army like General Eisenhower, this newsman would not be so swamped with soldier mail.

The other day Sgt. Samuel Cohen of Philadelphia, stationed in Berlin, received a cable telling of a serious emergency at home. Physicians advised his return immediately. Two weeks passed and all Cohen got was the usual army run-around. He couldn't get a furlough. Finally, a friend suggested that Cohen call General "Ike" directly.

"What can I lose?" Cohen asked, going to a telephone.

When he asked the G.I. operator for General Eisenhower, the operator asked with no surprise in his voice whether he should ring the general at his home or his office. Since it was then about 10 o'clock in the evening, Cohen said to try the general's home.

An aide to Eisenhower answered and listened to Cohen's story, excused himself for a few minutes, came back to the telephone and said, "Sergeant, if you will call the office of General Clay, perhaps something can be arranged for you."

"You had better wait about 10 minutes before calling General Clay," he added. "to give General Eisenhower a chance to talk with him first."

Ten minutes later, Cohen called General Clay, where an aide said, "Oh, yes, sergeant, we've been expecting your call. Now can you come in at eight o'clock tomorrow morning? We'll see about transportation then."

Cohen took off by air the next day before noon.

TRUMAN TURNS REPORTER

Congressional leaders who met with President Truman recently to discuss serious legislative problems got a chuckle over Truman's story about his surprise flight to see his mother on her 93rd birthday.

Newspapers have already told how Truman called the Kansas City Star to announce his arrival in Grandview, Mo. But in addition, here is what Truman told his congressional leaders really happened:

It was Sunday afternoon and the usually bustling city room of the Star was in a lull. Only a skeleton editorial force was on the job, and a young reporter answered the phone.

"This is the President," said Truman.

"Who?" said the reporter.

"This is President Truman."

"The hell it is," exclaimed the newsman, convinced that somebody was pulling a practical joke. "Mister, who are you trying to kid?"

Finally the call was transferred to another writer on the paper, who knew Truman personally and could identify his voice. Highly amused, the President told him the news of his visit.

FOGGY FOREIGN POLICY

Harry Hopkins, now hospitalized in New York, is not improving. Always a living skeleton, Harry kept himself alive because of his love of FDR. Now that FDR is gone, Harry has no more zest for work.

Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida is returning from a three-month tour of Europe to blister the administration's handling of foreign policy. Coming on top of Senator Fulbright's two-fisted attack, perhaps somebody around the state department will wake up to the fact that the seeds of World War III can be planted right now. . . . The strategic services unit of the war department (it was formerly the "Oh-so-secret" office of Gen. "Wild Bill" Donovan) has just set up a very interesting project which will not keep the peace. It is working on a "plan for an order of battle for a war with Russia." The job is under direct supervision of Maj. Raymond Cromwell, former Tokyo correspondent for the Wall Street Journal.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Former Coast Guard Comdr. Joel Fischer was in Germany trying to root out hidden Nazi funds. Cross-examining war criminals, he found them anxious to get American lawyers to act in their defense. When asked his views on the best American lawyers, Fischer, with straight face, replied: "You ought to try to get Clarence Darrow or Perry Mason." Fischer's victims took careful notes, not realizing that Darrow has been dead for more than five years and that Mason is a fictional character in Earle Stanley Gardner's mystery stories.

Government press officials recently beat down a second attempt by War Mobilizer John Snyder to maintain a peacetime censorship over the statements of their bosses. They rejected all censorship schemes flatly during a secret session at the White House, promising to check among themselves to be sure major policy statements of cabinet members and other key officials are not too far apart. . . . Randolph Paul, one of the ablest tax men the U. S. treasury has ever had, is completing a book on taxation, written for popular reading.

Board of Public Works Calls for Bids

A call for bids on a new heavy duty tractor, a large truck and a road grader has been made by the Board of Public Works. All three machines are to be fully equipped with heavy-duty snow removal apparatus.

The town appropriated the sum of $35,000 for this new equipment at the special town meeting held Monday night.

New Equipment Voted For Snow Removal At Cost Of $35,000

Rebutting everything that came his way—and plenty did—Board of Public Works chairman Sidney P. White steered his way to a $43,000 victory at the special town meeting Monday night. The $8,000 that the Board had asked for snow removal, and the $35,000 asked for new equipment went through successfully, with the chairman carrying the load for the Board against opposition thrown at him by the finance committee and the Taxpayers' association directions.

The $8,000 was easy, but on the $35,000 considerable verbal opposition developed on the purchase of a grader. President Joseph A. McCarthy of the Taxpayers' association recommended an appropriation of only $23,000 in accordance with the finance committee proposal, and then it started. The grader was the sore point, it being generally conceded that a new tractor and a new heavy truck would be a good investment. The first argument put up was that since the grader couldn't be purchased immediately, it should be put off until the annual town meeting. Mr. White backed by John F. O'Connell argued that since it would take quite a while to get the grader, it would be better to put the order in now instead of next March when other towns would be putting their orders in.

Later the argument turned to whether or not the grader would be a wise purchase. The Iron Make which had been a bone of contention at town meetings years ago because of the unusual method that the then Board used in attempting to purchase it was frequently referred to, but Chairman White pleaded that the Austin 77 had earned its way and that the proposed Austin 99 was a much more satisfactory unit. He referred to the savings made in the past years with the purchase of the small trucks, and quoted the prices for hiring heavy duty units.

At one time there was considerable bandying back and forth between Mr. White and Harvey Turner of the finance committee with reference to what was or was not said at the Board's meeting with the finance committee, Mr. Turner claiming that Mr. White had said the heavy hired trucks were under contract for the balance of the year and Mr. White denying that he had ever said it or could have said it since any one of the truck owners could cease at any time to serve the town. He even asked Moderator Shepard, who has a couple of Watson-Park trucks equipped for snow removal, and the moderator shed his moderator's cloak long enough to tell the meeting that Mr. White's interpretation of his arrangement with citizen Shepard was correct.

A standing vote was required, and Mr. McCarthy's $23,000 amendment was defeated by a fairly comfortable margin.

The attendance was poor, with only six from Precinct three being present.

Christmas Mail Sets New Record

After having set a new record for local mail, the Andover post office felt confident that by five o'clock on Saturday afternoon every piece of incoming mail would have been delivered. A train tie-up in Lawrence Saturday morning delayed several pouches, or the local office would have been cleared by noon.

Twenty-seven veterans were put on as extras in the herculean task of getting out the mail, and an army truck was borrowed from Devens. The incoming parcels for rural delivery proved quite a terrific load.

Receipts were up about nine percent over last year's record December figure. Ten or eleven pouches constitute the usual average, but on Tuesday there were 27 pouches of first class mail and 26 on Wednesday. Tuesday there were 36,242 cancellations and on Wednesday 32,474.

More Than Machines

A motion was offered by the President of the Taxpayers' association at the close of the special town meeting Monday night which had considerable merit but which went down to defeat mainly because the meeting had rallied to the support of the Board of Public Works chairman and decided to keep on supporting. Mr. White had presented an effective case for his board's articles, and it did not appear to the voters that any special committee need be set up to investigate the department's needs.

There was a proviso in the wording of the motion, however, that was interesting, and shows the general feeling that something should be done within the department itself in the way of reorganization. The town meetings have been generous with the board, but it's not been because of the running of the department but rather because the chairman has put up such a good story for the department, despite the fact that he knows probably better than most that its administration is very poor. For instance, Andover saved some money Monday night by voting to purchase a heavy duty truck, but it will be able to realize the greatest return on its investment if the man that has charge of the department is able to organize the work and handle his men for the greatest possible efficiency. The hired heavy duty trucks have had some queer assignments, being routed up streets for plowing where they were unable to turn around for the return trip. Those streets should be assigned to the small trucks.

We're wasting money, a lot of it. We need a man who can run a department. The present superintendent is a swell fellow and a capable engineer, but as far as organizing work and bossing men is concerned, he just can't do it, possibly because he is so easy-going. We would be better off with a man of less technical ability but with an ability to boss, and if the Board of Public Works wants us to keep on buying new equipment, it should do something to prove to us that it is intent on having the manpower part of its department handled efficiently, too.

We sometimes think it would be fun
To see who's up at six o'clock
To get downtown before the sun
And walk along the business block.

Several groups in cold abhorrence
Are waiting for the bus to Lawrence
Janitor's lights add a ghostly gleam
As the furnaces slowly gather steam
Then the postal employees begin their day
And the newspaper trucks bring the news our way.

The rest of the town begins to stir
Just when the dawn begins to break
But these are the privileged, the ones
Who work before the world's awake.

This Sober Town

We've just got to write to Gluyas Williams, the cartoonist of "Life's Embarrassing Moments" fame.

Town meeting was going along at a fast and furious pace. It wasn't so quiet that you could hear a pin drop; in fact, it was once or twice quite bombastic, but just the same, when some of your knitting accessories fall onto a pitched floor and everybody in front of you leans precariously over seats to try to stop the headlong rush of the knitting gadget (it's a man that's writing this), it does make you feel as if everybody was looking at you and had heard the noise.

As a matter of fact, everybody was, practically. While Bob Deyermund was spinning a yarn, everybody else was watching the yarn, or whatever it was that this particular lady was using, spinning down toward the stage under the seats. Even Moderator Shepard cocked the watchful Shepard eye in the direction of the disturbance, but the jigger stopped before he had to throw his gavel at it.

The gentlemen who finally retrieved whatever it was were apparently more embarrassed than the lady, for she kept on knitting with perfect aplomb, although we suspect that she was knitting her brows also.

Combined Choirs Sing In Lawrence

J. Everett Collins directed the combined choirs of the Free Christian church, and the First-Calvary Baptist church, Lawrence, in a service of Christmas music Sunday night at 7 o'clock, in the First-Calvary Baptist church, Lawrence.

Raymond Wilkinson, organist at the First-Calvary Baptist church, was at the console, and Frances Dunlevy, soprano, sang "Rejoice
