THE AN

Considerable interest among independent voters has been aroused by the candidacy of Philip K. Allen of Highland road for the office of state senator from the 4th Essex District. Mr. Allen, who symbolizes the entrance of a new generation into politics in Massachusetts, is seeking the seat now held by Clifford R. Cusson of Haverhill.

Mr. Allen, an instructor at Phillips Academy, before he went into service, rose from the rank of private to that of Lt. Col. during the course of his army career. He shares the feeling of many servicemen that they should take an active part in preserving the Democratic principle of Government which they served to protect during the war.

In entering political competition, Mr. Allen, who is thirty-six, says that he has always wanted to serve in government, and that the present time seems to him an opportune occasion to run for public office.

Philip Allen Symbolizes Entry of New Generation Into State Politics

His work in the army has been clearly related to the problem of government, since in many of his assignments he was engaged in administrative affairs and in the leadership of large groups of men.

When Mr. Allen was separated from the army last fall, he returned to Andover, and then took a position at Harvard University as an assistant counsellor in the Office of the Counsellor for Veterans, where his work involves interviewing and advising returned servicemen who are applying for admission to Harvard under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Mr. Allen, who was born January 3, 1910, in Walpole, the son of Philip R. and Anne K. Allen, began his education there in the public schools, and went through the eighth grade. Then he attended the Noble and Greenough School, and afterwards came to Andover to spend four years at, and graduate from Phillips Academy in the class of 1929. In 1933 he received his B. A. degree from Yale, and then spent one year studying English at the Harvard Graduate School.

For two years after this he taught English and was Director of Athletics at the Cambridge School in Weston, Massachusetts. In 1936 he came to Phillips Academy and remained there until his enlistment in December, 1940. While at Andover, he taught English, coached golf, baseball and football, and was assistant registrar, in which last capacity he was in charge of all boys on scholarship earning their way through the academy.

All this time, Mr. Allen was bringing up a large family. Just after his graduation from Yale in 1933, he married Elizabeth Warner of Pine Orchard, Connecticut. At the time of his entering service, there were three children in the family; now there are four: Nancy, 11 1-2; Wendy, 10; Martha, 7; and Philip K. Jr., a strenuous 2 1-2.

Mr. Allen's father, retired president and chairman of the board of Bird & Son, paper manufacturers, of East Walpole, is a member of the Board of Directors of the Boston and Maine Railroad, and President of the New England Conservatory of Music. Mr. Allen Sr.'s service in Massachusetts institutions is directly related to the fact that the Allen family has lived in this state since the early part of the 17th century.

The war service of the present candidate for state senator, goes back to October, 1940, when he volunteered among the first ten men to go from Andover. He was the first member of the Phillips Academy faculty to leave for service. He volunteered in October, but did not wait to be called up.

He enlisted in the 26th Division as a private in the 51st Field Artillery Brigade, Headquarters Battery, and went to Camp Edwards in January 1941. Here he went to Officers Candidate School, and was commissioned a 2nd Lt. in June. He then spent three months on maneuvers in North Carolina, where he served as aide to Brig. Gen. William Howe of Weston, Artillery Officer of the 26th Division. After Pearl Harbor, he went to Fort Sill for further schooling and was promoted to 1st Lt.

Later, on duty on coast defense at Ipswich, he became Battery Commander of Battery "B," 211th Field Artillery Battalion (originally Battery "B" of the 102nd Regiment) which contained many men from Lowell and Haverhill. He was promoted to Captain, and served in this capacity until April, 1943, when he was transferred to the Officer of strategic Services in Washington. Here he became involved in training men destined for duty as "guerilla bands" behind enemy lines, and special operations in Europe and the China-Burma-India Theatre.

From April, 1943, until October, 1945, he served the O. S. S. in various capacities; he was promoted to Major as executive for training, and then became a Lt. Col. while serving as the Chief Training Officer of various training centers. He is now a member of the Officers' Reserve Corps.

Punchard Alumni Hold First Peacetime Banquet

The Punchard Alumni banquet in the high school cafeteria was a scene of mixed emotions Wednesday night as the attendants enjoyed the good fellowship of the annual reunion and paid honor to twenty-eight alumni who had given their lives in World War II.

This was the first banquet in many years that was not graced by the presence of the late principal of the school, Nathan C. Hamblin and the resolution passed at his death were read by Mervin Stevens.

The text of the resolutions was as follows:

A true educator and scholar, a loyal friend, and a perfect gentleman, Mr. Nathan C. Hamblin guided the destinies of Punchard High School for thirty-one years. In his passing on November 12, 1945, the Town of Andover, and especially her schools, suffered an irreparable loss. For his many years of unselfish and devoted service, the Punchard Alumni Association pauses in grateful recognition, to honor his memory and to pay lasting tribute to the man whose high ideals and outstanding wisdom long served as an inspiration to the youth of Andover and who played so large a part in moulding her future citizens. To any one who knew him, Mr. Hamblin's name is synonymous with what is noblest and finest. It was a rare privilege to be associated with him, and those who enjoyed the privilege could not help being better for it. Mr. Hamblin's presence graced any assembly. Never at a loss for words, he possessed the gift of saying just the right thing and of making others feel at ease. His graciousness of manner and his kindly smile will live long in the hearts of his friends, and the influence of his noble life will long be felt in the finer character of those whose lives he helped to shape.

It is, then, highly fitting that these resolutions be spread upon the records of this meeting and that a copy of them be sent to Mr. Hamblin's family.

Respectfully submitted:

E. Marjorie Smith
Lillian J. E. Fox
Gertrude W. Hardy

It was voted that the President of the Alumni association would appoint a committee to look into the possibilities of a suitable memorial to Mr. Hamblin and report their findings at the next Alumni banquet.

The gathering of about 140 loyal alumni members included at the head table, Principal and Mrs. Eugene V. Lovely, Superintendent and Mrs. Kenneth L. Sheman, School Committee Chairman and Mrs. Arthur L. Lewis, Rev. and Mrs. John S. Moses, executive committee officers William Doherty, Mary Gates, Bessie Dantos and Ruth Anderson.

Oscar Timlin, class of 1885, coming from North Reading, was the oldest grad present with William Trow, representing 8 1-2 per cent of the class of 1886 being awarded a bouquet for the reunion class of over 25 years having the highest percentage present. Mr. Trow brought forth a round of applause when he recalled a Punchard-Johnson football score of 96-0 back in the days when he was one of Punchard's eleven.

The class of 1921, holding its 25th reunion, was the recipient of a second bouquet with 20 per cent of the original class present. Harold Johnson, president, received the prize in behalf of his class.

Association officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Harold Bendroth; vice president, Mary Simeone; recording secretary, Ruth Anderson; treasurer, Bessie Dantos; statistical secretary, William Doherty; executive board, Marjorie Gates, Donald Spinney, Raymond Lunch, James Doherty, Betty Buchan, Irving J. Whitcomb, David McDonald, and John McGrath; trustee of trust fund for 3 years, Agnes Dugan.

Principal Eugene V. Lovely, first speaker of the evening praised the Punchard student body for its aptitude in readjusting itself to the unsettled conditions of war and peace with special tribute to the graduating class, which had maintained a high scholastic average.

Mr. Lovely, celebrating his fifth year as principal of the high school and his 30th year as a teacher at Punchard, stated that the last year had been his happiest as principal and pointed with pride at the fact that three veterans attending day classes had been awarded diplomas a Tuesday night's graduation, 10 veterans, taking classes in night school, had also graduated with seven others, making up credits while in the service, also receiving diplomas by the close of the year.

Arthur Lewis, representing the school committee, thanked the association for its co-operation in the past and pointed out that the strength of the alumni could contribute even more in the future toward the improvement of the school. He praised the teachers and executives of the public schools for their fine work commenting on the success of the Tercentenary Pageant, a strong indication of the co-operation of student body and teachers alike.

Rev. Mr. Moses, who gave the invocation, also said a few words with Kenneth L. Sherman, the final speaker, terming the Alumni as "unique" and a "source of inspiration." Returning to the school after his years of service, Mr. Sherman stated that he felt that he could now evaluate the school personally and he commented on its high standing in the commonwealth, saying that it is rated high by the State Department of Education.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Punchard Ode played by Mr. Kilmurray and dancing was enjoyed in the gymnasium.

The meeting adjourned with many members remaining for dancing in the Memorial gymnasium.

Abbot Graduates Welcomed At Annual Alumnae Meeting

The annual meeting of the Abbot Alumnae Association was held on Saturday, June 8 at 11:30 a. m. in Abbot Hall. Two hundred and fourteen alumnae gathered from all over New England were present to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Association.

The president, Mrs. Roberta Kendall Kennedy called the meeting to order. Annual reports of the officers were given as follows: That of the clerk, Mrs. Susan Hildreth Goodwin, was read by Mrs. Constance P. Chipman; that of the treasurer, Mrs. Laura Cheever Downs, was read by Miss Marion McPherson, who included the report of the auditor, Mrs. Jean David Blunt.

Miss McPherson, executive secretary, reported on the results to date of the Abbot Second Century Alumnae Fund, $2738 having been contributed for alumnae scholarships to be used for alumnae daughters. Mrs. Constance Parker Chipman, social secretary, reported on the work of the office in its close relationship to undergraduates, to clubs, and to all alumnae by means of the Alumnae Bulletin sent three times a year gratis to 2800 alumnae. A special motion was approved which expressed appreciation to Mr. Burton S. Flagg for faithful work as treasurer of Abbot for forty years, and especially for his staunch support and stimulating interest in the alumnae office.

The senior class, according to the yearly custom, marched in singing, wearing yellow sweaters, their class color with white skirts, and were duly presented to the association by Miss Hearsey who assured the association that it would find them most acceptable new alumnae.
Mrs. Kennedy accepted them in the name of the association. After singing to the classes of 1886 and 1896, they left the Hall.

The alumnae trustees, Miss Margaret Van Voorhis and Mrs. Helen Allen Henry, were called upon for reports, and the presidents of the New York and Boston Abbot clubs told of their successful meetings during the year. Miss Gertrude Holbrook came from New York and Mrs. Gwendolyn Bloomfield Tillson came from Wellesley Hills.

Mrs. Kennedy expressed deep appreciation to the Commencement committees through their chairmen for their unusually successful work, to Mrs. Marion Mellor Dean of the luncheon reservations committee and to Mrs. Ruth Clark Weaver of the flower committee who decorated the alumnae headquarters and the luncheon tables.

The alumnae approved the recommendation of the Board of the Alumnae Association to give $200 to the Alumnae Fund in honor of the special anniversary, said gift to be used for alumnae daughter scholarships.

Mrs. Helen Abbott Allen was asked to report as chairman of the nominating committee. She presented the ballot of new officers for the years 1946-1948. One ballot was cast, and the following new officers were declared elected: President, Mrs. Virginia Gay d'El-seaux, 1929; vice-presidents, Mrs.
Edith Johnson Donald, 1911; Mrs.
Martha E. Ransom Tucker, 1937
and Mrs. Polly Francis Loesch; clerk, Mrs. Frances Flagg Sanborn, 1926; treasurer, Mrs. Rosamond Castle Olivetti, 1930.

The new president took the chair and declared the meeting adjourned.

At one o'clock the John-Esther Art Gallery was a gay scene with the alumnae assembled for luncheon. Class banners, a large 75th anniversary cake, and garden flowers on every table formed attractive decorations. After the luncheon the guests adjourned to Abbot Hall for the program. Past presidents of the Alumnae Association, the alumnae trustees and Miss Jane Carpenter, retired general secretary, were present. Miss Hearsey received an enthusiastic welcome, particularly on her tenth anniversary as principal, and in warm appreciation of her cordial hospitality and interest in all alumnae of every period.

The folowing chairmen of the reunion classes were then called upon for reports: 1886, Mrs. Harriet Raymond Brosnan; 1891, Mrs.
Annie Bull Hardenbergh; 1896, Mrs.
Lillian Franklin Carr; 1901, Mrs.
Evelyn Carter Giles; 1906, Mrs.
Ruth Adams Downer; 1911, Mrs.
Dorothy Bigelow Arms; 1916, Miss Esther Kilton; 1921, Mrs. Marion Kimball Bigelow; 1926, Miss Alice Perry; 1931, Mrs. Doris Allen Carroll; 1936, Mrs. Genevieve Wright
Poole and 1941, Mrs. Sue Long Kremer.

The most unique exhibit was that of the class of 1886, which showed a volume containing the yearly class letters and photographs kept in circulation by the faithful class secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Harriet Raymond Brosnan of Haverhill.
Also on exhibition were books by Alumnae authors from 1865 to 1946.

The climax of the program was the presentation of a skit, "Madame Abbot Returns," written by Mrs. Helen Danforth Prudden, 1913.
Each reunion class was represented by a character in the costume of the period, each character bringing to Madame Abbot the proof of loyalty expressed by gifts all through the years since 1829. The celebration closed with the singing of "Alma Mater."

EMMONS—READING

Amid a setting of white snapdragons and palms, at a pretty candlelight ceremony held on Saturday, June 8, at 7:00 p. m. in Christ church, Miss Anne Helene Reading, 303 Andover street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Reading, became the bride of Albert Winston Emmons, Daytona Beach, Florida, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cheney Emmons. Rev. John S. Moses, rector, officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white net and faille, with finger tip veil, coronet of orange blossoms and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis, centered by gardenias. Her maid of honor was her sister, Miss Carol Reading, who wore turquoise blue and carried red roses. The bridesmaids, Mrs. John Walter Reading of Boston, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Shirley Rhodes of Andover, Miss Joan Pasakarnis of Dorchester and Miss Betty Alexander of Brockton, all classmates of the bride, were gowned in pale blue and pale yellow. They carried bouquets of larkspur and tea roses. The flower girl was Judith Connor, a cousin of the bride from Summit, New Jersey, and she wore a gown of pale blue net and carried a colonial bouquet of sweet peas. The best man was Lt. Leonard C. Nelson, U. S. N. R., of Iowa.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Reading wore a costume of Nile green with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. E. A. White of Providence, R. I., wore a gown of grey-blue crepe and wore a corsage of gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Parish house, which was also attractively decorated with ferns, palms and snapdragons. The couple left on a wedding trip through the White Mountains, and on their return will make their home at Daytona Beach and Gainsborough, Florida, where Mr. Emmons will attend college.

The bride is a graduate of Boston University, College of Liberal Arts, where she was a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. The bridegroom graduated from Monmouth Junior College and attended the University of Florida, prior to his enlistment in the Navy.

EASTMAN—RIDINGS

Declared or Non-declared - Vote!

A good turn-out of Andover's voters at the State Primaries on Tuesday is just as important to the whole of our representative and senatorial districts as it is to us here in town. The plain fact that we have to face is that in both these campaigns, the primary is the election: the persons you nominate for representatives and the person you nominate for senator on the Republican ballot will be the ones who will be elected comparatively easily in November. So, if you're going to be lax in your duty as a voter, be lax in November rather than on next Tuesday.

We are offering the representative and the senatorial districts their two best choices in both those fields, Ev Collins for representative and Phil Allen for senator. Unfortunately, local sentiment in some of the other more populous towns may be so strong that both will be defeated unless the Republicans and the non-declared voters of Andover get out en masse Tuesday and mark their ballots for these two men.

And don't forget: voters who are registered as independent or who have not declared themselves at a primary will be able to vote on Tuesday for Mr. Collins and Mr. Allen. They simply have to ask for a Republican ballot, and as early as the next day they can have their status changed back to independent if they so desire. Andover needs the independent vote in order to have these two men elected; the district needs Andover's independent vote, because our two men are the men the district needs.

Ev Collins has been serving the town, officially and unofficially, for many years. For several years now he has been acting as representative, the only representative the town has had in the State Legislature since the town fell victim to a gerrymander in the twenties. Again this year Everett is our only hope for continued representation, but he can't do it alone. In fact, with the State Legislature tied up as it has been day after day, he has been able to do no campaigning—so it's very much up to us. The Methuen candidates all recognize that Andover should have a representative; we also recognize that Methuen should have a couple. But don't forget, local sentiment in Methuen might be so much in favor of local candidates that three Methuenites may win. Last time that almost happened; it will happen this time unless Andover's voters, Republican and non-declared, get out and vote.

Phil Allen is new in politics, and he's running for a position where we definitely need somebody new. Haverhill pretty much dominates the senatorial district, and ordinarily if the city of Haverhill were to put up a good candidate, the town of Andover would be only too glad to support him. However, the man who has held the position the last two years never should have been elected, and for that reason it is very urgent that the Andover candidate be elected since Mr. Cusson is the only opponent Phil Allen has.

We're offering to the district a man who has the qualifications which are so sorely needed these days in public service. Phil has ability, integrity, courage, intelligence; he'll do what he thinks best for the state, and he has the necessary brain-power to make that thinking right. If you can get a man to run for office these days who is able to maintain a progressiveness that veers not one iota toward either radicalism or standpatism, a young man with steadfastness of purpose and with a zealous desire to serve, it's up to us to do everything we can to see that he gets into office.

Cusson's a nice enough fellow, as a fellow; he's a heck of a senator, though. Phil Allen can give us the dignity that should go with being a senator from our district or any district. The Bay State will be better off for having a fellow like Phil in the upper-chamber, but he won't make it unless all of us, Republican and non-declared, go to the polls Tuesday and vote for Allen.

County Omission

Don't overlook some of the other positions on the ballot. The county commission contest is very important, because frankly the county commission has been a disgrace since Fred Butler passed away.

Everybody knows what we think of Nelson Pratt. In fact, we don't think anything of him. He never should have been elected, and when he comes up again, we hope that the voters of the county will again retire him to public life as they have done before.

BUT — even Nelson Pratt can't be wrong all the time. The things he suggests should, some of them, anyway, be talked over. He's offered many motions, but on a three-man board nobody seconds his motions, and there's no further discussion. It's inspired politics on Mr. Pratt's part; it's insipid politics on the part of the other two members. They're playing right into his hands, because Mr. Pratt knows that a certain class of voters will support him, and feel sorry for him.

The Gazette Says—

The Haverhill Gazette of June 12 contained an editorial which endorsed the candidacy of Philip Allen over Haverhill's Clifford Cusson for State Senate. In it Mr. Cusson is pictured as a jovial fellow, heavy-weight physically, but physically only, who doesn't "know beans about the job."

The editorial follows:

THE ALLEN-CUSSON CONTEST

When Philip K. Allen of Andover first called on us to talk about his campaign against Senator Clifford R. Cusson for the Republican nomination to the State Senate from the Fourth Essex District, we told him we thought the odds were about 5 to 3 against him.

Cusson, we said, lives in the only city in the district and the tendency to vote for the hometown man would make him hard to beat, even for a well-known man from a town.

Furthermore, we said, no matter what you think of Cusson's fitness to sit in the Senate—and we don't think much of it—you must recognize he's a man with a lot of friends because he's a mighty friendly fellow.

He whoops it up loudly and sometimes effectively for groups in his district who want something out of the State House. He thinks this is his job and the enthusiasm he puts into it makes friends for him. But he makes friends just naturally. He has a heart as big as his belly, and anything he can do for anybody needing anything, he'll do because he likes doing things for folks.

A man like that is tough to beat, even if he doesn't know beans about the job he's after. Voters go for the jolly fellow with little thought about his brains, because too often they don't know beans about the job they're filling with their votes.

If Allen were the Haverhill man and Cusson the man from a town, there wouldn't be any doubt Allen would win next Tuesday.

Why the motions aren't seconded for the purpose of discussion and definite defeat, we don't know.

The members of that board should act on all questions on their merit, and in the unlikely chance that Mr. Pratt will once in a while offer something worthwhile, his proposals should be given some attention.

Look over the list of candidates. Maybe a turn-over on that board would be a good thing, provided we turned over the Pratt end of it two years hence.

Probate Register

We have to elect a register of probate this year. Two of the candidates, Mayor Coffey and Mr. White, have been up to talk things over with us. Both are very likeable, and apparently both are qualified for the job. However, Mayor Coffey's Harvard Law background, his experience in legal work and in public life, should give him the edge.

If voters thought only of the better man, forgetting jollity and residence in the district's largest municipality, the odds would be 5 to 3 against Cusson.

Allen has got something we haven't noted in a candidate for political office for a long time. It isn't revealed by pointing to education and background, but these are important. It isn't defined by pointing to his youth, although it is characteristic of youth.

It may be called vision. It may be called idealism. It may be called the urge to do things.

Folks who have not forgotten their youth and folks who still have their youth know what we are trying to say.

They recall the days or they are living the days when the innumerable chances for good and the unceasing challenges of bad charged them with mighty urge to grapple with the world and remake the sorry scheme of things.

When this quality is attended by the power to see the place one seeks to fill in its relation to the whole, to see it as a place to serve wisely for the common good rather than as a place principally for self-advancement or gratification of vanity, there is a man really worthy of the public service.

Reading the paragraphs we have written, we note we've got rather enthusiastic about Allen, which may strike you as an unusual performance for us. But once in a blue moon, a man appears who seems to deserve our enthusiasm. When the blue moon arises, who are we to suppress our whoops?

Only fear we have about our outburst of enthusiasm is that we have presented Allen as a dweller in a remote and lofty ivory tower far from regular folks.

Such a picture would be wholly wrong. Allen is as good and common a fellow as we have met.

If he knew we were hard up and needed a shirt, he'd give us his quite as readily as Cusson, but first he'd find out if the size were right.

Local Musician Of National Fame Active In Subscription Campaign To Recondition "World's Best Organ"

Arthur W. Howes of the Phillips academy department of music is one of an ever increasing number of sponsors planning to reconstruct and recondition the former Serlo hall in Methuen and its famous organ, which have for many years deteriorated from lack of use. The group will form an Organ Institute whose program will include a wide variety of free concerts and also courses of instruction in the organ.

The three-week campaign for subscriptions will begin on June 17, and the proceeds received will become part of a capital and maintenance fund required to convert the Music Hall into a cultural and youth center. There will be a subscription plan for payment in quarterly installments.

Mr. Howes, who is himself a nationally famous concert artist and the former Dean of American Guild of Organists, made his debut at the age of fourteen on the great Wannamaker Organ in Philadelphia and it is logical to find him supporting this cultural endeavor and youth movement that will bring enjoyment and instruction not only to Methuen residents, but to all nearby towns.

Speaking of the project, Mr. Howes says:

"Having given recitals on a large number of organs in many parts of the United States, I know of no other organ for which so much care has been taken to insure its maximum effectiveness. The local concert hall was built and rebuilt in order to provide exactly the right acoustical environment. Its walls of heavy masonry are doubled to insulate against outside noises, and its interior surfaces are treated so as to enhance the organ's tone. Inside the elaborate and costly organ case, the chests and pipes have each been allotted such space and position as allows them the greatest freedom of speech and resonance. Such planning is especially rare in the installation of an organ, as many organs have to occupy the minimum space for which architects can find no other use. The resulting overcrowding of pipes prevents proper speech and resonance.

"It is fitting, therefore, that this building and instrument should be devoted to the highest possible musical objectives and that it should be made to serve as many different purposes in this connection as possible. Unencumbered by the usual restrictions surrounding organs in churches and other buildings where the presence of an organ is only incidental, this organ should be put to a full and comprehensive use. Accordingly, there is to be formed an Organ Institute. Its program will include a wide variety of fine concerts and also courses of instruction for aspiring young musicians.

"During several years of inactivity, the organ has deteriorated. In addition, the mechanical and tonal characteristics of the organ are in certain respects dated and stand in need of modernization. Our present plan is to replace all pipes and other elements that are no longer useful, and also to provide certain modern mechanical features which will greatly facilitate the artistic performance of organ music.

"The old action is now slow, so that pipes speak at an appreciable interval after the organist has depressed the keys, and their tone ceases at a still greater interval after the organist has released the keys. This and all other defects will be corrected, and a new modern console will be installed.

"It is the intention of the Board of Trustees to make this organ second to none, ready to respond perfectly to any organist's every demand. When this is accomplished, we shall invite, each year, a number of the most distinguished organists to give concerts here. It is probable that a number of them will also be asked to conduct master classes for organists during the summer months."

BLACKOUT

The shrew was being tamed in a Shakesperian manner at Davis Hall last Saturday night by the Draper Dramatic society when the elements took to putting on a show of their own, a real wild show, and it looked as if no amount of taming would quiet the wind or the rainfall. Trees and branches fell between the cars parked on School street and the lights went out, but within Davis Hall there was no motion to leave the shrew untamed until a later date. After all, in preparing the float for the Tercenary parade, the Abbot students had found out that their Alma Mater had not always been a modernly equipped school. No, indeed, they wanted to tame the shrew in the worst way and if that was the only way it could be done, that's the way it would be done. She was tamed—by flashlight.

So Long — Nylons!

The nylons that were to be awarded to the lucky ticket holder at the Ballardvale penny social and dance last week have been put away — no, they won't say where — for safe keeping but they will come out of hiding next Saturday night at the Watson-Park auditorium when some lucky person may claim them. Every one who had purchased a ticket for last week's event may consider it a rain check and turn up this week instead. Those who didn't still have time and besides the nylons, there will be cloth for a new suit, canned goods, poultry and—WELL, LET'S GO!

Going To The Dogs?

With the greyhound racing season opening again, there will be many who will whippet to Wonderland and platoons of painters, carpenters and landscape gardeners are readying the racing plant for the 100-night session which begins Friday.

Farewell Party

William E. Barron, 4 Virginia road, who graduated from Puncard high school Tuesday evening was given a farewell party and reception at his home on Sunday. He leaves this week for Bainbridge, Maryland, where he will begin training at the Naval Training station.

A buffet lunch was served on the lawn by Mrs. William F. Barron, Jr., and the guest of honor received many gifts.

BAPTIST MUSICAL TO BENEFIT VETERANS HOSPITAL PROGRAM

"The Hymn Singer of the South," Pat Withrow, Jr., and Richard Maxwell, well-loved radio character, will combine their talents in a program to be presented in the Baptist church at 8:00 June 20, sponsored by the returned servicemen of the church. There will be no admission charge but a free will offering will be taken for the benefit of the veterans Hospital Program.

"Entertainment with a Religious Purpose" was the title given Mr. Withrow's Army Camp program which included singing and an inspirational message urging men and women in the service to take a definite stand for the Church and what it stands for in America.

As a natural sequence to this work in the Army camps, Mr. Withrow has been made National Director of a new organization, Veterans Hospital Programs, designed to make good, clean, wholesome entertainment into the Veterans hospitals as well as give radios to the wounded men. The Veterans Administration is arranging the tour of hospitals along with a representative of the Special Service Office and the Chief of Chaplains' Office.

The hospital tours are financed by church people throughout the United States as a result of Mr. Withrow's findings that the sick and wounded in the Veterans hospitals appreciate the better type of entertainment and do not go in for off-color or obscene shows.

Mr. Maxwell for six years played the role of "John" on the Seth Parker broadcast over NBC and for seven years following was heard in a program of his own, "Songs of Cheer and Comfort," over the Columbia broadcasting system. For the past four years his time has been given to Army and Navy camps throughout the country and at present he may be heard during the noon hour, Monday through Friday, augmented by a choir under the direction of William Wirges over the Mutual Broadcasting system.

His appearance in the Baptist church concert will be in the interest of Veterans Hospital Programs.

KELLEHER'S NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR'S COUNCILLOR BEST FOR G. O. P.

By MAYOR DANIEL E. McLEAN OF BEVERLY
Dean of Mass. Republican Mayors

A significant fact about the Republican contest for the office of Governor's Councilor is that only one of the five candidates has a proven record of continuous and conscientious service to the People of Essex County and to the Republican Party.

In fact, the only candidate for this office who has the confidence of every Republican City Chief Executive and Selectman in Essex County is Mayor John M. Kelleher.

There is a reason for this confidence in Kelleher — and the reason is that the Mayors and Selectmen of Essex County know that Kelleher's nomination will safeguard and provide for the future of the Republican Party in Essex County.

Selectmen and Mayors are close to the people and they realize that a True, Progressive, and Aggressive Republican must be nominated for the office of Governor's Councilor in order to be victorious in November.

The Republicans of Essex County can make certain of having a Republican Governor's Councilor during 1947 and 1948 by nominating Mayor John M. Kelleher on June 18th.

Mayor John M. Kelleher is the only Republican candidate for the office of Governor's Councilor who possesses the known qualifications and the excellent reputation of an outstanding public official which is needed to appeal to the Independent voters to vote the Republican ticket in November.

Our County must progress with the needs of the people. John M. Kelleher is the only one of the five candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor's Councilor who understands the needs of our County. He is the only Republican candidate with a proven record of ability. Kelleher has the experience and courage to help solve our County problems — through intelligent action as a Governor's Councilor.

Unite on Kelleher for Governor's Councilor to aid the Republican Party to obtain another able leader to carry on a liberal and progressive program for 1947 and 1948.

Seven Andover Boys To Seek Office in Model Governments

The State Department of the American Legion will this year resume their promotion of a course in town, city county and state government at the Massachusetts State college to be attended from June 23 through July 2 by specially chosen boys in their junior year of a Senior high school.

In the interest of a better self-government, the American Legion nationally adopted the program in 1938 and Massachusetts began its promotion of the plan in 1944. Dropped last year because the inadvisability of conducting such a program in the face of war shortages, the course will be resumed again this year with seven local boys sponsored by different organizations of the town attending.

The morning program at the school gets off to an early start with reveille and lecture courses from 8:30 to 11:30. In the afternoon the governments are set up and each boy conducts his own political campaign with such things as cardboard and ink being provided for the prospective officials to carry on a complete public relations program. When the results of the elections are known, the various town, city, county and state governments are then authentically set up and if any misdemeanor is committed, the guilty one is arrested, brought to court where his punishment is meted out by men he has put in office. Immigration boards are also trained presenting to the young students the process of becoming a citizen of the United States.

Six of the young men to go from Andover are students at Punchard high school while the seventh is at Phillips academy. All stand in the upper third of their class and were selected because of their high character and industry. Their names were then submitted to the Legion State Committee chairmanned by Arthur Coleman, who is assisted by Charles Gregory and Stafford Lindsay and the group delegated the names to the organizations sponsoring each attendant at the school.

The boys and the organizations sponsoring them are as follows: Charles Brennan of 77 School street sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association, George Colloton of 119 Main street by the League of Women voters, Richard Morrissey of 7 Temple place by the Fire company, Joseph Watson of Woodland road by the Andover Police Relief association, Alex Meek of 4 Cuba street by the Service club, Lyndon Gilman of 88 Lowell street by the American Legion and John Cronin of 8 Summer street by the Society of Inquiry, Phillips academy.

During their stay at the State College, the young men will receive caps and lapel buttons which they will keep as souvenirs of their venture into politics. Mr. Coleman will meet with the group in the Legion rooms next Wednesday to make final preparations for their departure on Sunday the 23rd when they will be driven to the college by private car.

Lady Luck and Weather Man Conspire To Bring Robert Nealey a New Ford

For two consecutive nights a large percent of the populace of Lawrence and Andover, taking heart from temporary glimpses of the sun, wended their way to the Memorial stadium in Lawrence to see if—just by chance—they might be the winner of one of the prizes offered in the mammoth penny social conducted by the Kiwanis club. For two consecutive nights, rain, and that's putting it lightly, turned the prospective winners away.

The first night was last Friday, and it was announced that the affair would be held again on Saturday when a double dose of fireworks would make up for the absence of them on the opening night. Saturday night, there was a double dose, but they were put on by Mother Nature. Crowds gathered in spite of the threatening clouds and when the deluge broke, many had to swim to shelter.

Finally on Monday night the weatherman cooperated and the fireworks and the wards went off as scheduled. The Ford and the Chevrolet were, of course, the jack-pot prizes, and although all of the 10,000 present were hopefully listening for the announcement that would mean no more waiting for their names to come up on the long priority list for new cars, the applause was whole-hearted when the Ford tudor sedan went to Robert Nealey of 38 Corbett street.

Mrs. Mary L. Nealey, the winner's mother, had purchased the ticket in the name of her son who is at the Burke Memorial hospital recovering from a brain tumor operation. The young Andover man was blinded as a result of an injury from an automobile accident and those who had hoped to win became the best of good losers at this sudden smiling of good fortune on one who could use it.

The Chevrolet went to a Methuen resident and other Andover people with lucky numbers were Virginia Stevens of High Plain road and Pearl Black of 12 Ridge street.
