THE AN

Steak for Vets Fun for All At Ballardvale

A little thing like the bonfire being touched off beforehand by some inconsiderate prangster did not burn up any of the enthusiasm for Ballardvale's 4th of July and "Welcome Home" celebration for returning servicemen. If anything, the incident served to kindle more interest in the affair—if that is possible. However, Howell Shepard, chairman of the committee, has been heard to say that if the torch bearer is ever tracked down, that there will be a special tar and feathering event and he'll bring the tar.

The great pile of railroad ties, laths, papers and other inflammable materials standing in the Woburn-Andover street playground Sunday night proved to be too much for the unknown pyromaniac and at 10:30 an alarm brought all but Engine No. 3 from the Andover fire department and the Ballardvale piece to the scene in a vain effort to save some of the material for the scheduled date of the bonfire, July 3. Members of the bonfire committee under the chairmanship of Ralph Greenwood and his assistant, James Butler, worked hard and long during last week-end to have everything in readiness. Monday night they were recommencing their labors, but this time there is a guard stationed at the playstead to make sure that the firebug doesn't ring twice.

The schedule of events will commence Fourth of July eve with "A Night in the Vale" the opening activity. This will consist of a canoe parade that will start at the river flats and proceed as far as Andover street. At midnight, the bonfire will be ignited for all to see.

On the 4th, a horribles parade, featuring an Indian band from Boston, will begin at 8:30 a. m. followed by a ball game between the Vale town team and a worthy opponent. A vehicle parade of doll carriages and other toy vehicles is on the program for 1:30 with land sports at 2:00. More cooling will be the water sports at 4:00 which will include swimming and canoe tilting.

A steak dinner will be served in the community rooms at 6:00 with all Vale servicemen as guests. The banquet will be unique, not only because of the steak, but also because there will be no speakers. The servicemen and women will have an opportunity to enjoy a good meal, greet each other and just have a good time. At 8:00, a band concert will conclude the day's program.

Preparations for the celebration began back in January when a group of Vale citizens got together for the purpose of considering a "Welcome Home" party. Howell Shepard was elected chairman to be assisted by William McIntyre as treasurer and Howard Coon as secretary.

All through the remainder of the winter and the spring, the group, divided by streets, held whist parties, minstrel shows, auctions, raffles, modern and old fashioned dancing parties to raise the necessary funds for the celebration. The quota was earned with a resulting treasury of over $1700.

COMING! COMING! COMING!

Step right up and get your ticket to the world's best carnival. Twenty-five cents pays your admission for any or all of the four nights, July 11, 12, 13 and 14, AND may bring you good luck in the prize drawing that will be held every night at 10:45, AND such prizes!

Thursday night it's a $50.00 Victory bond!

Friday night it's a club chair and so comfortable!!

Saturday night it's a combination radio and record player!!!

Sunday night it's the grand prize of a frigidaire!!!!

Any of these stupendous prizes can be won with a twenty-five cent piece, just one fourth of a dollar.

Booths are being run by various town organizations pitching in to make this carnival king of all carnivals. Rides with plenty of thrills will be furnished by Will Demers from the World of Mirth Show. Music all four days will be by the incomparable Harold Phinney.

The gates will open on Thursday night at 6:00, and the prize drawing will be held at 10:45. Saturday's opening time is 1:00, with field day activities beginning at 2:00. There will be a 50-yard dash for boys and a separate race for girls, a wheelbarrow race for boys, a scramble shoe race for both, and lastly, but not leastly, a tasty pie consumption contest.

Children up to seven years may compete in a doll carriage parade for the three prizes offered, and there will be a special prize for the best decorated bicycle. The age limit of the contestant is 14 years.

On Sunday, the show will begin at 1:00, and a ball game between two local teams, possibly the Ballardvale town team and the American Legion, will be held at 3.

The closing event on Sunday night will be an amateur show at 7:45. Anyone wishing to take part may contact Benjamin Brown at the Fire Station.

DON'T MISS IT!

The committee has made every effort to contact all boys and girls who were in the Armed Services during World War II but because of possible error in the records, there may have been some omissions. Therefore, if any one knows of veterans who should be included on the following list, it is requested that they contact the committee to make the correction.

VETERANS' SCHOOL OPENS ON TIME WITH AID OF SERVICEMEN'S FUND

The opening of Andover's summer school for veterans went off smoothly, although it almost didn't. The period of study had been set for June 24 through August 17, forty-five veterans had enrolled and five teachers had organized their classes, when word was received just three days before the opening that there would be no state funds available until July 1. The State Department of Education had granted $300,000 to start state-wide regional schools which included the one in Andover.

A week's delay in opening the school would have necessitated extending the session to the latter part of August, an inconvenience to teachers and veterans alike. Many of the prospective students, completing their credits for a high school diploma or reviewing subjects to facilitate their entrance into colleges or universities, had made plans for the period immediately following the close of school which a change in the schedule would of necessity upset. The situation looked dark until the local school authorities appealed to the Andover Servicemen's Fund Association for suggestions and assistance. The board of directors, feeling that the case involving the interest of a large group of veterans deserved the financial assistance of the fund, unanimously voted to contribute $300 to cover the expenses of the school until the state funds should be available and the untangling of the red tape tied around the state appropriation could be accomplished.

With the A. S. F. A.'s assistance, forty of the veterans began their courses on Monday morning. The enrollment of five others has been accepted and will become effective the first of July. Two of the servicemen will not have received their discharge until that date.

Miss Lillian Fox is teaching English, Sutton Monroe is holding classes in physics and advanced mathematics, William L. McDonald is teaching chemistry and U. S. history, Kenneth McKiniry, elementary algebra and typing, and Donald Dunn is in charge of the physical training program. Mr. Kellmurray, who is in charge of the school, is not instructing, as his helpful guidance to junior and high school students, as well as to the veterans, will continue through the summer and monopolize his time and efforts.

He stated that most of the veterans attending the summer session are planning further education, although he doesn't look forward with much optimism to a solution of the crowded conditions in the schools in the near future.

However, of the Punched class recently graduated, 98 percent of the students pursuing further education were placed and a majority of the veterans seeking college training have been enrolled. "We have been lucky," he said, but in actuality, it wasn't as much luck as persistence and wise guidance that have made it possible for Andover's youth to go on from Punched and military service to higher education.

INDIAN RIDGE COMMUNITY WELCOMES HOME 118 SONS

A community spirit that started in Abbot Village when the 118 boys from that section left for military service during the war reached its culmination last Saturday night when a "Welcome Home" banquet was given in the high school cafeteria with the veterans as guests.

John Deyermond was elected president at the inception of the organization, and with hard working committee members, the public spirited group held beano parties, penny socials, card parties, a lawn party, and an outdoor dance to raise funds for a welcome that would be worthy of the large group of returning veterans upon the close of the war.

Two hundred and ten Abbot Village residents and invited guests were present with 112 servicemen and women receiving gifts of $10.00 presented by John Deyermond and Mrs. John R. Sullivan. Gold star pins were presented to Mrs. Charles Valentine, mother of Charles L. Valentine, killed during the war, Mrs. Alexina Goutherie, mother of John Goutherie, Mrs. Albert Winward, Mrs. Julius Ceislik and Mrs. John White. The last three were wives of servicemen who paid the supreme sacrifice. Mrs. John Sullivan, chairman of the banquet committee, received a bouquet.

Giving welcoming speeches to the servicemen and women were Very Rev. Thomas B. Fogarty, O. S. A., pastor of St. Augustine's parish, Selectman J. Everett Collins and William A. Doherty, speaking in behalf of the school board.

During the remainder of the evening, modern and old-time dancing was enjoyed in Memorial auditorium, with vocal selections by John Deyermond, Alexander Duke and William Wolfenden.

Servicemen receiving gifts were: William Anderson, Donald F. Arthur, John S. Auchterlonie, Norman H. Auchterlonie, Robert L. Auchterlonie, Thomas Auchterlonie, Joseph S. Auchterlonie, George Bateson, Alfred Boucher, Henry Boucher, Wilfred J. Boucher, Arthur J. Bourassa, John A. Bradish, George W. Brackett, John F. Broderick, William P. Broderick, Alexander J. White, Miss Edith A. Valentine, Edward L. Valentine, James B. Valentine, Ronald M. Valentine, William B. Vannett, Malcolm Yaghmorian.

Two of the group were also veterans of World War I, George Bateson and James B. Valentine.

In cases where the veterans were not present, the gifts were received by a member of the family.

erett Collins, School Committeeman William A. Doherty, William M. Clark, Gold Star Mothers Mrs. Alexina Guthrie and Mrs. Charles L. Valentine, Gold Star Wives Mrs. Helen Cieslik, Mrs. John C. White and Mrs. Albert V. Winward; two teachers from the Indian Ridge school, Mrs. Lena Dodson and Miss Dorothy Kyle; and the following members of the committee: Mr. and Mrs. David Milne, Mrs. John Keith, Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. James Ruxton, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Anderson, Miss Mary O'Hagan, Mrs. Isabella Valentine, Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Hagan.

The committee, chairmanned by Mrs. John Sullivan, consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anderson, Mary O'Hagan, Mrs. Isobel Valentine, Mr. and Mrs. David Mills, Mr. and Mrs. James Ruxton, Mrs. Joe Keith, Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell.

Besides the veterans and gold star mothers, Rev. Frederick B. Noss, Selectman J. Everett Collins, Very Rev. Thomas B. Fogarty, William Doherty, William Clark, the oldest man in Abbot Village at the age of 92, and Misses Dobson and Kyle, teachers at Indian Ridge school, were guests of honor.

A total of $1180 was presented in gifts, and the successful affair was a source of enjoyment for all those who attended. It is the hope of the Indian Ridge Community association that the organization will continue and broaden the community spirit that has developed during the war. Other activities are being planned for the future.

THERE'S NOTHING LIKKA CIRCUS

Dear Boss,

Sorry I couldn't get to work on Tuesday, but I ran into a big story that called for complete coverage and it looked like an important scoop.

It was like this — I was walking down Bartlett street with every intention of wending my way to the Townsman office when a hand-written notice sticking on a tree attracted my attention. It was an announcement for a circus, and it was just like that old story of the man biting the dog — NEWS! It said:

CIRCUS at 1:30

Backyard of this House

Cool-ade — 1 cent a glass Peep Show — 2 pins apiece

On account of the chair shortage, there are only 4 chairs. Reserved seats are 1 cent.

ANYBODY MAY COME

HURRY! HURRY!

Well, if you don't believe me, you can ask Robert Deyermund, because he came along behind me and stopped to read the sign, too, and if I'm not mistaken, he was planning to show up at 1:30 with a penny looking for a reserved seat.

You know how it is when there's a shortage of something; everybody and his brother sets their heart on it. You can see for yourself that the sign said four chairs and there were two of us already planning on a comfortable seat and it was still early in the morning. So I decided to hang around and be on hand with my cent when the box office opened. The circus was to be right across from the park and it was nice and cool there waiting.

When I woke up it was 1:30 and the sign was down. The tree was still there but there was nothing on it but an empty pin. I looked around for the elephants (they always have elephants at a circus, don't they?) but there were no elephants. No monkeys either, unless I had been made one out of. I stayed around a while longer, and this fellow, Jimmy McGrath, went into business down the street, so I wandered down to his stand.

"Where's the circus?" I asked.

"How about a glass of orange-ade? Only 5 cents," he answered.

"O. K." I said, "but what about the circus?"

"What circus?" he said. "I'm having one in July."

"There was an announcement on that tree up there," I said, "all about a circus with four chairs, and now it's gone, everything has gone. What about it?"

"How about another glass of orange-ade?" he suggested.

"O. K." I said, "but what about the sign?"

"Oh, that was nothing," he said. "Wait until you see my circus in July, the 5th and 6th, grand stand and everything."

"I want to go to a circus today, not two weeks from today," I said.

"That's too bad," he said. "How about another glass of orange-ade?"

"O. K." I said, "but I wish I knew what happened to that sign."

"Oh, that," he said. "Wait a minute and I'll make you some more orange." With that he disappeared on his bike

Choosing a good hot day to open his business on Bartlett street Tuesday afternoon, Jimmy McGrath, with Mary Oliver assisting him, was selling his second pitcher of orangeade to passersby when The Townsman photographer snapped the picture of his stand. Donnie McBride is the enthusiastic customer who can't wait until he pays his nickel before sipping the home-made nector, and Elaine Naughton is waiting her turn for a treat.

Butch McGrath is the thirsty pup on the left, wishing he had a nickel.

and came back with a bag which he took into the house, and soon he brought out a fresh pitcher of orange. "Here," he said.

"Thanks," I said. "Now what am I going to do about a picture for this week's cover?" I mourned.

"Well," he said, turning into a business man, "What's the matter with this stand?"

There wasn't anything the matter with it. So I called Look Studio, and Donald came over to take a picture.

"How about a glass of fresh orange-ade?" Jimmy said.

"O. K." Donald said.

"It's too hot to go to a circus, anyway," I said.

"July's a good time for a circus," Jimmy said. "The 5th and 6th of July."

"O. K." I said.

Just then the school bus came along. "How about a glass of orange-ade?" Jimmy said.

"O. K." the driver said.

The pitcher was getting empty. "I'll be going along," I said.

"See you in July," Jimmy said.

So there wasn't any story on the circus and I didn't like to come to work without a story, so I thought it might be a good day to take a look at Poms pond, you know, where they SWIM? It's opening again. So that's why I didn't come to work, and you know what? Orange-ade floats!

NEWS FROM BOYS' STATE

Seven Andover boys left for Boys State for a course in town, city, county and state government at Massachusetts State college. The attendance of each boy was sponsored by a local organization, the whole program coming under the sponsorship of the American Legion.

Attending the school are: Charles Brennan of 77 School street, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association; George Colloton of 119 Main street, by the League of Women Voters; Richard Morrissey of 7 Temple place, by the Fire company; Joseph Watson of Woodland road, by the Andover Police Relief association; Alex Meek of 4 Cuba street, by the Service Club; Lyndon Gilman of 88 Lowell street, by the American Legion; and John Cronin of 8 Summer street, by the Society of Inquiry, Phillips academy.

Letters have already been received from two of the students, reprinted below, and indicate that the worthwhile course is also "great fun."

Massachusetts State College at Amherst
June 24, 1946

Dear Editor,

The other boys and I wish to thank the American Legion, Fire Department and other organizations that had to do with our coming out to Boys State at Amherst. The college grounds and buildings are of the best out here. They have a very good swimming pool, athletic field and good dining halls. The political conventions and caucuses are in full sway now.

Primary elections for Boys State are tomorrow (Tuesday). The finals are Wednesday. There are 450 boys here from all over the state and, believe me, this is a great accomplishment for the American Legion.

The college has very fine food and dormitories. There is plenty of time for sports here, but there is also plenty of work, such as attending conventions and assemblies. The main thing up here is the election of the "constitutional officers," who are the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Attorney General and Auditor. There is also the naming of other officials, such as judges, sheriffs, clerks, police officers, etc.

I think everything is coming along fine and will end up that way.

Yours truly,
CHARLES BRENNAN
June 25, 1946

Dear Editor,

I am very grateful to represent the American Legion at Boys State.

We are separated into different towns and cities, named after famous battles in the First and Second World Wars, which consist of two parties, the Federalist and the Nationalist. Some of the boys are in state government, and the others are in county caucus.

Today we are having primary elections and tomorrow we have the general elections.

The college campus is equally distributed with beautiful buildings.

During our organized recreation of two hours in the afternoon we enjoy swimming, basketball, volleyball, tennis, and track.

ACCEPTS TEACHING POST AT CREIGHTON UNIVERSITY

Captain George A. Hey of 72 Haverhill street has been appointed an instructor of English at Creighton University, Omaha, Neb., and has already started on his new duties. He will study law at the university where he is teaching.

Captain Hey is on terminal leave from the U. S. Army, where he was with the field artillery. He received the Army commendation ribbon for meritorious service as assistant to the executive at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Previous to entering the service in May, 1942, he taught for 12 years at the Lenox school for boys in Lenox, and served for four years as a member of the Lenox school committee. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree and Master of Arts degree at Trinity college, Hartford, Conn., and also studied at Brown University.

Bonus Increase To Be Mailed In September

Frank Markey of the Veterans' Service office has received a letter from John E. Hurley, State Treasurer, that a check covering the increase in the Massachusetts state bonus will be mailed to eligible veterans in mid-September, since a 90-day duration is necessary before the recently passed bill becomes a law.

It will not be necessary for veterans who have already received the original amount of the bonus to file a new claim.

Veterans are asked not to write to the state treasurer regarding the additional bonus except in cases of a change of address since the date of the first application.

Rev. and Mrs. Reynolds Active in Conferences

DURHAM, N. H. — More than four hundred people are attending four conferences running simultaneously on the University of New Hampshire campus this week. They are the fifteenth annual New England Institute of International Relations, the New England High School Institute of International Relations, the Senior High and the Junior High Pilgrim Fellowship Summer Conferences.

Sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee, headed by Leslie H. Barrett of Cambridge, Mass., the New England Institute has taken as its theme, "Shaping Things To Come."

In session at the same time will be the New England High School Institute of International Relations, which has as its theme, "Pledging Allegiance to the Planet." Approximately 250 students registered for the two conferences, with enrollees representing seven foreign countries and fifteen states.

Both the Senior High and Junior High Pilgrim Fellowships are under the auspices of the New Hampshire Congregational-Christian Conference. Registering for the senior fellowship were 116 students and 74 enrolled in the junior conference.

In the staff of five directing the Senior High Fellowship is Mrs. Levering Reynolds.

Courses in "World Service," "Preparing Young People's Programs," "Worship Patterns" and other subjects will be led by Rev. Levering Reynolds. Dr. Paul T. McClurkin, consulting psychologist from Hadley, Mass., will be the main speaker at conference assemblies.

Transferred to Cushing

Among the eighteen members of the WAC who have reported for duty at Cushing General hospital is T/4 Katherine McGlynn of 22 Pasho street.

The group, which was transferred from Lovell General hospital upon the de-activation of that installation, will be added to the 28th WAC hospital company at Cushing. They will take up duties as medical and surgical technicians, clerks and typists.

Waves Adieu To the Waves

Yeoman 2/c Florence Paterson Nicoll became plain "Miss" on June 14 when she received her honorable discharge from the Waves in Washington, D. C. She was recently stationed at the U. S. Naval base in Philadelphia. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Nicoll of 72 Essex street.

Eisenhower's Report Available at G. P. O.

General Eisenhower's forceful report as supreme commander to the allied chiefs of staff will be available to the public in printed form, the Government Printing Office has announced.

The report covers the period from D-day to VE-day and is printed on heavy enameled stock with maps in two colors. This official description of the operations in Europe contains 123 pages and is for sale at $1.00 per copy. Orders should be addressed to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

Three decisive battles were listed by General Eisenhower, which, coupled with Allied teamwork and German mistakes, clinched victory in Europe. The three decisive actions were the battle of Normandy, the battle of the Falaise pocket, and the battles west of the Rhine.

As a specimen of printing, the report is one of the best jobs ever produced in the Government Printing Office. The cover stock is heavy antique paper and features the supreme headquarters shield, which is printed in five colors.

NAVY DAY TO BE CELEBRATED

GLENVIEW, ILL., — Thousands of Naval pilots and enlisted men, former combat armmen who have returned to civilian life, again associate themselves with the Navy Monday, July 1, when the Naval Air Reserve peacetime program for national air security is activated at 22 Naval Air Stations throughout the nation.

The national peacetime program for these men, who will spend approximately one day a week in refresher flight training, will be participated in by more than 6,000 Naval pilots and more than 20,000 enlisted men.

Open house will be the order of the day on all the 22 Naval Reserve air stations on Sunday, June 30. Additional information on the program will be given in a nation-wide broadcast over the CBS network Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m., EST, with ranking Navy officers and movie star Wayne Morris, one of the Reservists who will be participating, on the program.

Air groups, which will furnish the flight personnel for inactive units of the fleet, will be kept in training on these stations so that in the event of another national emergency a potent Naval air striking force will be available within 30 days. Made up entirely of Reservists on inactive duty, the Naval Air Reserve will provide a "second team" of "minutemen" to back up the regular units of the fleet.

Strategically located throughout the United States to serve the largest centers of population, the air stations are situated in every section of the country, the Massachusetts station being in Squantum.

Men who participate in the regular part-time duties will be enlisted in the Organized Reserve of the Navy, and will be paid on the basis of their rank and rate for the time they serve.

In addition, there will be a large group of inactive Reservists who will serve in the Volunteer Reserve without pay. They will not be on a definite schedule and will report whenever possible to participate. Included will be both officers and enlisted men.

The stations where the Air Reserve program will be in operation are manned by stationkeeper personnel, Reservists on active duty, who enjoy the privileges of active duty in the Navy, but still are not subject to transfer to other stations.

V. A. Is Seeking Neuro-Psychiatrists

Fifty neuro-psychiatrists are needed by the Veterans Administration in New England, according to an announcement by Dr. Winthrop Adams, medical director, who pointed out that the salary scale of VA doctors will be increased 14 per cent on July 1.

Although VA doctors, dentists and nurses are no longer appointed under Civil Service regulations, they do participate in the general Civil Service increase voted recently by Congress and in many other Civil Service benefits. More information is available at the office of the Medical Director, 55 Tremont street, Boston.

Psychiatrists who have had three years experience, including internship, in either civil or medical practice, are being recruited in the associate grade, the new scale of which is $4902 to $5905.

Those with five years experience, either military or civil, who have specialized towards board certification, are being given full grade scales ranging from $5902 to $6862. If they have passed their specialty boards, their basic salary is increased 25 per cent.

The VA hospitals at Bedford and Northampton, Mass., need the majority of the psychiatrists being recruited, but others are wanted for offices in Boston, Idence, R. I., VafB outpatient and mental hygiene clinics in Boston, Providence, R. I., Bangor and Portland, Me., and White River Junction and Burlington, Vt.

AMVETS POSTPONE ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Holding their last meeting of the year, the Amvets recently voted to postpone their election of officers until the first fall meeting, to be held Tuesday, September 10, in the Memorial Library hall. The decision was the result of the still indefinite plans of many members who are hoping to increase their value as citizens by obtaining further training under the G. I. Bill of Rights, and it was decided that a clearer picture of the veterans free to take on the responsibility of office in the organization would be obtainable in the fall.

Plans for a picnic in August were formulated.

Vets May Pay Insurance Premiums In Lawrence Office

Greater Lawrence veterans are now able to pay their premiums on National Service Life Insurance at the Veterans Administration office, Blakeley building, 477 Essex street, Lawrence, Manager William J. Blake of the Boston Regional office, announced recently.

Insurance clerks will be at the office weekdays from 8:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. to accept payments from veterans who would rather pay their premiums over the counter than by mail.

Counter receipts will be issued for each payment, which insures veterans that their policies are still in effect. Later these counter receipts will be replaced by remittance envelopes from the Boston branch office.

WHERE TO GO ..AND WHEN

Francis Lederer In "Angel Street"

When the curtain rises on opening night, July 1, for the North Shore Players' debut in Beverly, the audience will enjoy the mystery stage presentation, "Angel Street," with all the settings of a modern New York theatre with internationally known stage and screen celebrities portraying characters of London's gaslight era.

No effort or expense has been spared by Blake Johnson, managing director of the North Shore Players, in the installation of the new lighting and amplifying system in the Beverly High school auditorium in order to make certain that Francis Lederer, Bramwell Fletcher and Helen Shields will be performing under the finest possible conditions.

Every little detail has been a major subject, and the scenery is being designed in such a manner as to suggest intrigue and suspense.

"Angel Street," which enjoyed a sensational three-year run on Broadway, has a background as spectacular as its success.

The original producer was faced with humiliation and financial embarrassment on "Angel Street's" opening night when he was unable to make the final payments on scenery and costumes.

He appealed to his friends for funds, without success. Just two hours before curtain-rising time, he finally persuaded an acquaintance to purchase one-third interest in the show for $3,000.

The show opened on schedule and within one week was the talk of the theatrical world.

New York dramatic critics termed it "the biggest dramatic hit of the theatrical world."

The New Yorker magazine summed it up as "a masterpiece of . . . suspense."

The New York News' dramatic critic said, "I have just seen the theatre really come alive for the first time this season. One of the most satisfying theatre adventures of the last decade."

And, the New York Herald-Tribune's dramatic critic voiced the opinion of the authorities of the theatrical world by his review, which read, "There is particular reason for welcoming with open arms the excellent new melodrama, 'Angel Street.' It really can keep you anchored to your seat bolt upright—a work that is everything one could hope for."

Playing to capacity audiences for three years, and with motion picture right and royalties, the initial $3,000 invested by the acquaintance of the producer netted him more than $2,000,000.

It's Cool at Pomp's

A few months back when we were talking about a Heat Wave in Andover, we meant a horse, and the breezes were so cool—let's be honest, cold—that we could afford to be amused about the pun. But a different kind of heat-wave has us at its mercy now. Wistfully, we look around for cooling places to go and note with appreciation that Pomp's pond is officially opened for the season. The hours are from 11:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m., when the pond is guarded with an efficient staff consisting of Donald Dunn, head lifeguard; Warren Deyermond, assistant lifeguard; Misses Claudia Nicoll and Rita Surette, Jack Arabian and Paul Curry. Added to the bathing pleasures is the big 32-foot pontoon which was one of the main attractions in the Tyler Rubber company's exhibit in Memorial gymnasium during the Tercentenary celebration. It was presented to the town by Wallace E. Brimer, treasurer of the company, and officially accepted by Stafford Lindsay of the recreation committee.

It's a long walk to Pomp's and the consideration of Cross Coal company has once more come into effect with a company truck transporting swimmers from Elm square every afternoon at 1:00 and returning each evening at 4:45.

Hussey's pond is open every day except Sundays from 11:00 a. m. until 6:00 p. m. with Harry Duke as lifeguard.

Dead-End in Development?

We sat in our car on Park street the other night and watched a section of young America come down the street toward the bowling alleys. They were dressed slightly different, not quite all alike, with the one exception that no matter what they were wearing, they all looked sloppy. They had a football which they hurled around without much regard for any person who seemed to think that he or she had a right to walk on Park street's sidewalk. One of them felt that it would apparently make him look more like a man if at every third step he spit on the sidewalk. (Ugly word, but an even more ugly sight.) Another whose avoirdupois prevented him from being quite so energetic as the others strolled along grinning with something akin to admiration at the antics of his chums. They all acted as if people were looking at them as if they were something worth looking at; people were looking at them, but it was with disgust.

It brought back a memory to us, a memory of a picture we once saw. And we couldn't help but call them "Dead End Kids," for that is just what they looked like. They've been called that quite often, we understand, by people in the town, people who realize that at their age these youngsters have much more growing up to do than boys of a comparable age ten or twenty years ago.

Wherein lies the trouble? There's no one answer. You can't blame it on advancing civilization, because as far as these boys are concerned, civilization just hasn't advanced. But there are a good many component parts of this so-called advancing civilization that have acted to impede or misdirect the development of the young boys and the young girls of our present world. The radio can be blamed for a lot of it, the movies for more, cheap magazines, comic books that seem a product of and a cause of subnormal distorted minds, an educational program that makes a fetish of good times—but most of all a discouraging attitude on the part of parents, a feeling that "nothing's too good for the kids," that "boys will be boys," that their pockets should be well-lined, that at their age they should have no pressing duties like studying or working around the house. Educators and parents alike seem to want to make life just as easy as possible for the young people, and that's what makes life so hard for educators and parents.

Sometimes they want extra pocket money, for a prom or something important like that. So they get a job, and there are very few of them who'll measure up to any decent standards of production. Sometimes when you hand them a broom to sweep up a place, you almost feel as if you should apologize, and when you see them start to push it, you wonder if maybe you should outfit it with a motor and a seat. They come to work when they want to, take a day off when they want to, and then get fired and go home to a probably very sympathetic mother.

Something has to be done, and it should start at home with the schools redirecting their programs to make our young people real decent, clean-cut young Americans instead of dead-end kids.

At The Library...

Vacation Loan

We wish to remind our friends that the summer vacation loan is now in effect, and to extend that privilege to those who may not have known about it before. Any books may be borrowed for the vacation period except those in unusual demand and those purchased within the year. There is no set limit to the number that may be borrowed by a person at one time, and books borrowed under this ruling need not be returned to the library until September 16.

New Books

Here are a few of the books recently added to the library:

Spoonhandle Moore
A story of Maine and of the people who stand for those things that make up the American way of life. By way of contrast is the introduction of the element who are easily tempted to drop the old manners and ideals for the quick rewards.

Honolulu Story Ford
Another Leslie Ford mystery — with the well-known Colonel Primrose and Mrs. Latham combination that is as exciting as usual.

Love Story Incidental Kerr
A seventeen-year-old girl makes the trip to Hollywood to see her father, an actor, and fails to be lured by the superficial life she finds there.

Two-Faced Murder Leslie
Good dialogue, atmosphere, plot and setting, as Dr. Peter Ponsonby and Mara, his fiancee, run into a faculty murder at the Californian university where they visit.

His Days Are as Grass Mergendahl
By the Waters of Babylon Lister
Portable Faulkner
Wine for My Brothers Faulkner

Wedding Bells Are Ringing

Pretty Summer Wedding Culminates War-time Romance

(Look Photo)

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howes Proctor receiving guests at their wedding reception in the Andover Country Club last Saturday. The bride is the former Miss Barbara Smith of Ipswich, England. Meeting during the war, the couple were not reunited until May 30, when she arrived in the United States.

Bob Proctor Takes English Bride

Culminating a war-time romance which began in England when the bridegroom was stationed with the 820th Aviation Engineers, Miss Barbara Adalaide Smith, daughter of Mr. Thurgill Smith of Ipswich, Suffolk, England, became the bride of Robert Howes Proctor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Proctor of 50 Summer street, Saturday afternoon, at a pretty double ring ceremony in Christ Episcopal church.

Wearing a white gown of lace and net, a becoming fingertip veil of illusion caught with a coronet and carrying a white orchid surrounded with white roses and baby's breath, the bride was given in marriage by Dr. E. Henry Yeo of Lynn.

She was attended by sisters of the bridegroom. Miss Laura E. Proctor, the maid of honor, wore a blue net gown and matching net headdress in soft contrast to her bouquet of pink roses and blue larkspur, while Miss Priscilla Proctor, the bridesmaid, wore an identical gown and headdress of pink.

One brother of the bridegroom, Howard M. Proctor, was the best man, while another brother, Seward Proctor, was an usher with Lester Haddock, Jr., a cousin.

The church was decorated with white peonies and palms, forming an effective background for the light gowns and white palm beach suits of the wedding party.

Rev. John B. Moses performed the ceremony, and George Hunsche was the organist. Mrs. Suet Proctor, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" prior to the ceremony.

A reception was held in the Andover Country club, after which the couple left on a wedding trip. Upon their return, they will reside in Brockton, where Mr. Proctor is in charge of production at the Barbour Knitting Mills.

The former Miss Smith arrived in the United States on May 30, and the bridegroom was recently discharged from the Army after five years of service.

Engagement Rings

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Patterson of 24 Johnson road have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jane Elizabeth, to Albert Arthur Tilney, II, son of Mr. John Mason Tilney of New York, and Mrs. Tilney of this town.

Miss Patterson attended Abbot academy and was graduated from the Katherine Gibbs school. Her fiancé attended Nichols Preparatory school and is planning to enter Yale in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Picard of Topping road announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Louise, to Kenneth Hird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hird, 5 Hill avenue, Methuen. Miss Picard is a graduate of the Sacred Heart High school and attended the McIntosh school. Mr. Hird graduated from the Edward F. Searles High school and is now attending Lincoln Institute, Boston.

TWO WEDDINGS IN TOWER FAMILY WITHIN WEEK

Miss Shupp Is Wed To Charles Tower

The garden of Andrew Mellon Hall on the campus of the Pennsylvania College for Women was the scene of the marriage of Miss Barbara Ruth Shupp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Shupp of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Charles Henry Tower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Tower of Andover, Mass., on June 15 at high noon.

The bride wore a gown of blush ivory satin with a sweetheart neckline outlined with a ruffle. A tight bodice and full skirt ending in a ruffled train and a fingertip veil completed her attire. She carried a bouquet of talisman roses and lilies.

Miss Nancy Richter was the bride's only attendant. She wore aqua marquisette and carried June garden flowers. Oswald Tower, Jr., was his brother's best man.

After a family reception in Mellon Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Tower left for a wedding trip to New England. They will reside in Pittsburgh.

Miss Tower Bride In Garden Wedding

On Saturday, June 22, Miss Helen Henrietta Tower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Tower of Andover, was married to Mr. Joseph David Stritmatter of Hoquiam, Washington.

A small group of relatives and friends attended the ceremony, which was held in the garden of the bride's parents at 6 Hidden Field. Mr. and Mrs. Stritmatter will make their home in Winslow, Wash.

Bible Schools Sponsored at Three Locations

Children from four to 14 years of age are cordially invited to at-tend one of the three vacation Bible schools sponsored by the Andover Council of Churches. The registra-tion fee is 25 cents, and enrollmen may be made by contacting Rev Wendell L. Bailey, pastor of the Baptist church, or Mrs. C. Edward Buchan on Central street.

Classes will be held from July 8 through 19 at the South church, July 22 through August 2 at the Shawsheen school, and from July 22 through August 2 at Ballardvale. Sessions will be from 9 a. m. to 12.

The program will include wor-ship, study, craft work and recre-ation, and an exhibition at each school will be shown after the school term.

Going On Vacation?

Don't let anything spoil it this year. Come in and let's fix it so that if there's an accident to your car, theft of your belongings or trouble at home while you're away, you won't have to worry.

INADVERTENTLY —

We may have neglected to contact organizations whose histories should be included in the Anniversary Book. Such an oversight was not intentional. It would be appreciated if the presidents of any organization not yet represented in the book would notify us or send their historical data to the Townsman office as soon as possible.

Special Assembly Honors Mr. Todd

Henry Todd, recently retired janitor of the Shawsheen school, was tendered a reception, June 14, by the teachers and pupils of the school.

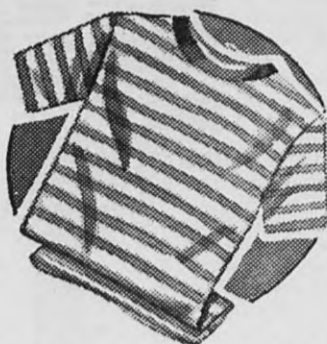

Putting in words the sentiment of all who had worked or studied in the school since it was opened 20 years ago, Miss Harnedy, principal, spoke of how much he would be missed as she presented him with a billfold containing a sum of money from the school. During his twenty years at Shawsheen, Mr. Todd has been more than the school janitor. In all the activities presented in the school auditorium, he has been on hand to lend his assistance. He accepted the token of the school's appreciation and said sincerely how much he would miss the children and the faculty.

Mrs. Walter Caswell, president of the Shawsheen P. T. A., presented him with a check from the association in the special assembly held in his honor.

Mr. Todd resides on Poor street in the Village, and will be replaced by Alexander Campbell, 23-year-old Marine Corps veteran.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Troop 72 of the Free church met Friday evening, June 14, and emblems were awarded to the Scouts who attended the North Essex Council Camporee. Registration cards were also distributed. An outdoor softball game and competition in compass and knot tying relays were also on the evening's program.

Troop 72 met for the last time until next September on Friday evening, June 21. A two-night bicycle trip was enthusiastically voted for the latter part of August. Scoutmaster Edmond Sorrie appointed a committee to plan for the hike, consisting of Scouts Douglas Hart, Maurice Shea, and Jack Arabian. A trip to Boston to see a big league baseball game is also under consideration.

Troop 71 Notes

The troop met on Monday evening, June 24, at 8 Sutherland street. The last regular meeting until September will be held on Monday evening, July 1. Scoutmaster MacAskill announced that there will be several meetings in July and August, but boys who are at camp or away will be excused. Scouts were instructed to notify the Scoutmaster or Committeemen if they were ready to pass tests during the summer. The following Second Class tests were passed: Jimmy Baillie, tracking and compass; Alan Barlow, compass; Arthur Botsch, tracking; Peter Dunlap, thrift; Louis Fiedler, tracking, thrift and compass; Scott Gerrish, compass; Louis Hamilton, tracking; Louis Mirisola, tracking; Arthur Mooney, compass and thrift; and Emery LeTourneau and William McKay passed part of the Tenderfoot requirements.

Patrol meetings are being scheduled to decide on patrol names and to elect patrol leaders and assistant patrol leaders. The troop voted to use a shoulder name strip with Shawsheen on it.

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America.

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation. We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its powers on such forms, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all reference hath hitherto been to the modification of our former Governments. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce us to absolute Tyranny, it is our right, it is our duty, to throw off such Government, and to appeal to the Supreme Judge for the rectification of our Grievances. We have submitted to a course of injuries and oppressions, which have been increasing upon us, and which we have patiently borne, till now we have no alternative left us, but to declare our independence, and to defend it by the sword. We have petitioned, we have remonstrated, we have supplicated for redress of our Grievances, and have received for answer, that our petitions were frivolous, and our remonstrances impertinent. We have petitioned, we have remonstrated, we have supplicated for redress of our Grievances, and have received for answer, that our petitions were frivolous, and our remonstrances impertinent. We have petitioned, we have remonstrated, we have supplicated for redress of our Grievances, and have received for answer, that our petitions were frivolous, and our remonstrances impertinent.
