ALL OUT FOR ALLEN AND COLLINS

It's been nice having a representative from Andover in the General Court; it would also be nice having a Senator from Andover at the State House. Whether or not we have both depends a good deal on whether Andover's voters have enough civic interest and town spirit to go to the polls on Tuesday.

In both contests, the town's candidates are undoubtedly the best of the field. Everett Collins has been at the State House for several years now as Andover's first Representative in a couple of decades. His record is such that he should be returned by a good majority. However, for the three positions there are six candidates, four of whom come from Methuen. If the voters in our neighboring town have more loyalty to their town than to the Republican party, a Methuen Democratic candidate might conceivably be elected along with the two Methuen Republican candidates. The only way this can be prevented is by Andover's voters, Republican, Independent and Democrat, going out en masse to insure the town's representation in the General Court along with the two Republican Methuenites, Frank Giles and the former Andover resident, Ray Schlapp.

A newcomer, but a very welcome newcomer to the political field is Phil Allen, whose victory over Clifford Cusson in the Republican primaries gives Andover its first chance of having a State Senator of its own. Mr. Cusson, though defeated by his own party, managed to have enough people write in his name on the Democratic ballot to insure his nomination as a Democrat. He hopes thereby to keep his old Republican votes and also to pick up some Democratic votes. When a man campaigns under two banners, he's very probably true to neither.

Phil Allen is the type of man we've needed so desperately in public life. He's young, he's aggressive, he's had a good education, and he has an ability to use his common sense. We're sure that his actions as a Senator will stem only from a desire to do what he thinks is right, regardless of political expediency. The town, the district, and the State need Phil Allen in the Senate. Andover's voters must do their part to make that possible.

TWO WORTHY DEMOCRATS

There are two places on the ballot where Andover's voters should seriously consider a departure from the Republican column. The present Governor's Councillor, Robert V. O'Sullivan, although a Democrat, showed that he had the best interests of the public at heart when he himself departed from the Democrat standard to promote the reappointment by a Democratic Governor of Andover's Republican Trial Justice, Walter Tomlinson. Mr. O'Sullivan, who is one of Lawrence's rising young attorneys, felt that despite the presence of Democratic candidates for the Trial Justice, Mr. Tomlinson was the best qualified for the position. The town should show its appreciation by voting to re-elect Governor's Councillor Robert V. O'Sullivan.

For Register of Probate, this end of the County has an opportunity to elect its first registrar since some time in the late 1700's. John Costello of North Andover won the Democratic nomination in June, and the Governor appointed him to serve out the year in the position made vacant by the death of William Shanahan. Costello holds a B.S. degree in Public Administration from Harvard and a Master's Degree from the Boston College Graduate School. He is now secretary of the Boston Municipal Research Bureau and has held several public offices in our neighboring town. Since the office is one on which political affiliation has no bearing, Andover's Republican voters would be doing this end of the county a favor by voting for Costello.

YES ON ALL THREE

Way down near the end of the ballot, Andover voters will find three liquor questions which are voted on biennially. It's a terrifically long ballot, and if anybody bothers to read through the old age referendum, chances are that he or she will have fallen asleep before arriving at the liquor question. But it is important to vote on these three questions again. Those opposed to a license in Andover will most certainly make it a point to go that far on the ballot; those in favor of it should not be lulled into a sense of false security by the lack of public opposition to licenses.

We haven't had many complaints about mishandling of liquor during the last two years. Those that we have had have been about the same men who years ago in the days before Andover had licenses or even in prohibition days, used to go to Lawrence for their liquor, legal or otherwise. Whether Andover has licenses or not, these men will still get liquor and they will still be unable to handle it properly. Because of the inability of a few to handle what they consume, those who are able to drink liquor properly should not be penalized by having the privilege of public drinking in Andover taken away from them.

The sale of liquor in Andover, both for consumption on the premises and in packages has been very well handled. The proprietors of the various establishments realize that their licenses are privileges, and that they carry with them certain responsibilities. They have endeavored to make the sale of liquor worthy of a town like Andover, and they have very well succeeded in this endeavor. They are to be commended for their attitude and for their management of something that in less responsible hands might become a nuisance.

It's time again for a vote of confidence. Don't fail to go all the way down the ballot and vote YES on these three questions.

TOO MUCH QUANTITY — TOO LITTLE QUALITY

Those of us who hoped a couple of years ago that there would be fewer and shorter referendum questions are in for a big disappointment. There's a huge question on the ballot about old age assistance. It's so very long that the voters might very well be justified in automatically voting NO just to stop the inclusion of such terribly involved matters on the ballot. After all, we do elect a group of Representatives and a group of Senators, and on matters like this it should be their job to work out the solution. This particular referendum question apparently has very little that can be said in its behalf. It looks like a very expensive re-organization of the entire old-age administration.

*It's a nice feeling,
especially when you
didn't have to wash
them yourself.*

CLUB ACTIVITIES

Smith Alumnae Guests of P. A.

Phillips Academy will be host to the Smith College Alumnae of the 10th District, comprising North-eastern Massachusetts, on November 7, at 8:15 at Peabody House, Andover. Chief speaker of the evening will be Mrs. Katharine Whitmore, Associate Professor of Spanish at Smith, who has directed three groups of Smith juniors at various times in their years of study abroad, and who is speaking in behalf of the Smith College 75th Anniversary Fund.

Under the well-known Smith Plan, which makes it possible for students in their junior year to study in a foreign country of their choice, in groups, Mrs. Whitmore has supervised study groups in Spain and in Mexico City. While these trips were suspended during the war, they are now being resumed, the most recent one being last year, when 16 girls studied at the University of Mexico.

All Smith College alumnae in the district, which includes 21 towns, from Lowell in the west to Newburyport in the east, are invited to attend.

November Club

The opening meeting of the November Club will be held Monday afternoon, November 4, at 3:00 o'clock. The speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. James K. Romeyn, whose subject will be "Where I Hang My Heart." There will be an informal reception for new members.

Men's Club

The Men's Club of the Union Congregational church enjoyed a Halloween party in the vestry Wednesday evening following the business meeting. Robert and George Mitchell had charge of the refreshments.

Women's Union

The Woman's Union of the West church will hold their monthly meeting Wednesday, November 6, at 2:30 in the vestry. The ladies of the Ballardvale church are to be invited guests. Mrs. William Oliver of Boston will tell of her work for the blind, her topic being "Children of Darkness." The hostesses will be Mrs. Sidney Batchelder, Mrs. John Fielding and Mrs. Richard Williams.

Lafalot Club

The Lafalot Club will hold their monthly meeting next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Earl Slate, Argilla road. Mrs. Roy Hood will be co-hostess.

TOWN EXCEEDS QUOTA IN CHEST DRIVE

Andover's contribution to the Community Chest total of $163,320 raised in this year's drive that ended Monday was $15,423. The report was made by Stanley Swanton, chairman of the Andover Division, and the amount was well over the quota for the town. The total amount was the highest percentage of goal ever attained by the Lawrence Community Chest.

Small Gardens Subject of Talk

The November meeting of the Andover Garden Club will be held Tuesday, November 5, at the Andover Inn at three o'clock. Miss Elizabeth G. Pattee will talk on the subject of "Design for the Small Garden." A graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology School of Architecture and the Lowthorpe School of Landscape Architecture in Groton, Miss Pattee is now affiliated with the Rhode Island School of Design as head of the Landscape Department. She has done work locally in gardens in Andover, and is an authority in her field. Members and guests are assured of a very pleasant and profitable afternoon.

On Thursday, October 24, the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts held its annual meeting and election of officers at the Copley Plaza Hotel. Miss Bessie Goldsmith was appointed co-chairman of the Conservation Committee of the Federation. The Andover Garden Club was awarded the only blue ribbon prize presented for small table arrangements — a colorful and unusual center piece arranged by Mrs. Charles Hollis. Mrs. Philip Graham, president, and several members of the Andover Garden Club were present at the meetings held in the morning and afternoon.

The King's Daughters

The Courteous Circle of The King's Daughters will hold their monthly meeting on Monday, November 5, at 6:30 p. m., with the Junior Circle as their guests. Supper will be served by a committee headed by Mrs. Arthur Bassett. Devotions will be led by Mrs. L. D. Powers.

Following the business meeting, Dr. Powers will show his pictures of Andover's Tercentenary observance.

WILL YOU HELP US?

The writer of this article "started" at the last of the "horse and buggy" days of the grocery business, 1922 — In those days and for many years prior, it was necessary for the grocer to go around town, call at customers' homes and "pick up" orders. Good reason why it was done that way — probably four out of ten customers had telephones! So, we'd pick up the orders—back to the store, assemble them—pack them on the wagon, and away we'd go at a "gallop." If we were lucky we'd probably get home (after making "sure" the horse got his supper) about 7:30 or so. Those days are gone.

NOW HERE'S WHAT "WE'RE" GOING TO DO:

Practically all of our customers have telephones. We are going to give you extra home delivery from what you are now receiving. The War—Gas Rationing—Tires—Lack of Help—No Replacement of Trucks, etc, were the REASONS that our truck delivery was disrupted. Now a call by telephone will acquaint you with our schedule of delivery for your section of the town. All we ask of you is to place your order the day before delivery — Will you help us?

The Eyes of the World Are On The Eyes of Massachusetts

"Will we have World Government by agreement or by conquest?" was the thought-provoking question put to the audience at Memorial Hall library Tuesday night when Thomas H. Eliot urged consideration of the last question on next week's election ballot. The Commonwealth is the only state which will sound out its voters' attitude regarding the strengthening of the United Nations to make it a World Federal Government able to prevent war, and Mr. Eliot emphasized that "the eyes of the world are on Massachusetts."

In describing himself as a "frightened man," Mr. Eliot said that his fright went back to August 6, 1945, when the first atomic bomb was dropped. He was stationed at Guam at the time and the news of the bomb and its toll of 100,000 lives brought an atmosphere of gloom to the island. His personal gloom or "fear" saw no hope for the future until his return to Washington and he began to hear talk about World Government.

"The United Nations charter," he said, "was drawn up before the world knew about the atomic bomb, and now it is necessary to give the U. N. new power to cope with new and terrifying weapons."

"Scientists agree that other nations will have the secret of the bomb within five years, fifteen years at the most, and they date the beginning of the term from the explosion of the first bomb in 1945."

In summarizing the causes of wars since their beginning, Mr. Eliot stated that the seeds of war are planted when "social units of unlimited sovereignty are in contact with each other," and that wars disappear only when these "social units combine into a larger unit living under a rule of law."

He brought out that in the early beginning of our country's history, individual sovereignty, the right to do as we please, was transferred to three layers of control, the community, the state and to the Federal government. In providing a World Government with the necessary amount of control, we are merely adding another layer to "the cake" and the main sovereignty that we shall be giving up is the "right to declare war."

Pointing out the inadequacy of the U. N., he said that in the general assembly each nation has one vote and it has the right only to discuss and to recommend but not to make laws. The security council is crippled by the big power veto and the court can not make a decision unless the powers involved agree. To provide the organization with enough power to meet the urgency of the atomic bomb, the assembly must be able to make laws, and this would probably necessitate a reconstruction of the assembly to a more representative basis. In providing the security council with the power to enforce laws, it too would have to undergo reconstruction, changing it to an elective body more responsive to the will of the people. The court, on the other hand, should have the power to interpret the laws and to protect the members. He also advised a Bill of Rights which would insure the individual countries of a sovereignty of establishing within their own boundaries the economic, political and social system of their choice.

A world government, he agreed, would present many difficulties, but the world is now smaller and no more diverse than our thirteen colonies were at the time they formed a united government. The smaller nations, he said, are anxious to transfer their sovereignty to a world government. France provides for such a transfer in the preamble of her constitution, in England both major political parties go on record as favoring world government, and China has been a strong agitator for it as early as the San Francisco conference. That leaves only Russia and the United States. According to Mr. Eliot's statements, the indications are that Russia will favor a world government, dominated as she is by a "fear psychology," and she has been one of the proponents of collective security. In the United States there are many organizations that are devoting their energies towards our country's participation in the promotion of world government, and in Massachusetts it was a small group of interested citizens who first worked for placing the referendum on the ballot. The eyes of the world are watching the results of next week's vote on the last question. It will be the "vote heard 'round the world."

Upon the conclusion of Mr. Eliot's talk, a discussion period followed with the audience taking an active part. The general trend of the questions was whether or not communism and capitalism could go hand in hand in a world government with each maintaining its own economic, political and social system, and the answer was that in an atomic age, it is a possibility and the only hope for continuance, the only alternative being a world government by force and as a result of a third and destructive world war.

In the Swim

Exercise and swimming are guaranteed to take off the extra pounds where you don't want them and put them where they should be — If you work at it and deny yourself the between-meal snacks that are apt to become quite a habit. These are some of the gems picked up Thursday at the exercise course at the academy that is a lot of fun and WORK. There is a wee suspicion that Mr. Johnson has tipped the scales at the gymnasium just a little to make sure that his class will take their exercising seriously. One young lady made the disappointing discovery after following the prescription for weight losing for a week, that the scales indicated a gain of one pound!

Maybe an answer to that is that after a two-hour workout in the gym and pool, the class members find their hunger greater than their recollection of the diet they plan to follow and so stop at the nearest eatery.

Posture - correction is another phase of the class work and the feat of tucking in your hips and maintaining balance at the same time does not come easily in one lesson. It takes backbone!

Punchard To Play Needham Saturday

Punchard
High
Football
Squad

By JACK SHERMAN

The Punchard squad, with two victories, three defeats and one tie, will line up against Needham at Needham Saturday, with play beginning at 2:30. Overpowered by Stoneham last week, 6-0, the Blue and Gold is looking forward to balancing their wins Saturday.

Joint Assembly

Last Thursday, October 23, Irwin G. Williamson, noted author, lecturer, and deep sea diver spoke to a joint assembly in the auditorium. He is the discoverer of the Spanish galleon Santa Rosa, which was the last treasure ship Cortez sent from Mexico to Spain. It has a reputed cargo of $30,000,000 aboard. The great Aztec king, Montezuma, placed a curse on this ship and Williamson and his crew defied this curse and recovered $150,000 worth of gold from the wreck.

Mr. Williamson showed films of the preliminary part of the voyage, but the other films along with the gold and much of the equipment were confiscated by the Cuban government. Mr. Williamson informed us that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, the motion picture company, had notified him that they were willing to continue the expedition to the Santa Rosa.

Needham Game

The Needham game will begin at 2:30 instead of 2:00 so that the Punchard fans may get there on time.

Senior Pictures

The seniors had classbook pictures taken on Monday and Tuesday. A studio was set up in Punchard by Purdy, a photographer of Boston.

Teachers' Convention

There will be no school Friday, November 1, as the teachers are having a convention in Boston.

JACK SHERMAN

Communication From P.H.S. Alumnus

Andover, Massachusetts
To the Editor:

I wonder if you and I can do anything about the Punchard cheerleaders? Not the cheers—they were perfect—but those sweaters!

Not even the whole sweater (although they were various shades of white)—but the sleeves!

Some sleeves pushed up — some sleeves down — some up at the start of the cheer, but down when it was over — only to be shoved back up again — and repeated after each cheer.

What a contrast to the chic outfit the Stoneham girls had!

How about a snug-fitting, all-wool jersey? Anything would be an improvement on those sloppy sweaters with the sleeves that go up and down.

ADMIRAL SHERMAN IN NAVY DAY SPEECH

Last Sunday was Navy Day. On Monday, Vice-Admiral Forrest P. Sherman spoke to the students in another joint assembly. The admiral graduated from Melrose High School in 1913 and entered the United States Naval Academy at the age of 16. He commanded destroyers in the first war, and in the second war he has been one of the Navy's outstanding officers. Wearing the ribbons of the Legion of Merit, The First World War, The Purple Heart, The Pacific Area, The America Area, The European Area, The Bronze Star, and The American Defense Ribbon, the admiral made an impressive picture as he was piped over the side by one of Punchard's Navy veterans while the Girl's Band played "Anchors Away." He is now the Deputy Chief of Operations for the entire Navy. The admiral spoke of present day problems and their effect on the future of modern youth. He also commended the school department, noting with pleasure the number of veterans on the faculty and among the student body. He explained that Navy Day is the anniversary of the day when, in 1775, the Continental Congress approved the forming of a U. S. Navy. It is also the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt, who was instrumental in building up our present day navy.

Admiral Sherman narrated the history of the war and told of his part in some of the more important phases of it. In August of 1940 he, with several others, was summoned to the White House for a new assignment. This assignment was to a board for the defense of Canada and the U. S., and later, at a convention in Panama at which our South American neighbors joined, the whole Western Hemisphere. He was present, in August of 1941, at the Atlantic Charter Convention and at the signing of that document, which insures the four freedoms to all of us. After Pearl Harbor he was assigned to the aircraft carrier WASP and was her captain when she was sunk by the Japanese off the island of Tulagi.

He was wounded during this action and received the Purple Heart. After this he served on Admiral Nimitz's staff and was the Navy's representative at the Manila surrender. He told us that Manila was very warm, even at 9:00 p. m., and that some of the Japs were arrogant but for the most part seemed to be doing what they thought was best for Japan. He was also present at the signing of the armistice in Tokyo Bay. He said that the Prime Minister signed for Japan, and McArthur and Nimitz both made speeches in which they expressed hope for a better world. After the surrender had been signed, Nimitz and Sherman went sight-seeing in Tokyo. They visited the Shinto God of War unarmed, where they saw a Japanese officer with his sword, and wondered what he thought of the unarmed Americans.

He said that after the surrender they all thought that there would be very little left to do. He was mistaken, however, and said that there is more to do now than before, if we want this peace to be lasting. During his recent visit to Europe he confirmed the theory that there was much to be done and he believes that we should strive to give all the countries of the world the advantages we have in the U. S. He emphasized the fact that there was no need for another war, but that we must keep a navy for our own national security.

After the admiral finished he was piped over the side and the students returned to their classes. The impressive ceremony was heightened by the fact that most of the veterans were in uniform.

Jr. High Defeated Once In First Season

Junior
High
Football
Squad

The Junior High football team organized this year under Robert Ness, captain, for a successful season with only one defeat. Their final game was played last Monday when they topped North Reading, 25-0. The season was brought to a premature close because "No other team will take them on."

By RAYMOND COLLINS and CHARLES CALDWELL

Junior High Defeats North Reading

The final game of the Junior High School Representative football team was played on last Monday, North Reading being defeated by a score of 25 to 0. Robert Ness was elected captain for the game and did an outstanding job. The season was a successful one, with two wins, one defeat, and one tie. All the boys are to be congratulated for the spirit they have shown in coming out to practice regularly and for the cooperation and good sportsmanship shown in their games. The value of this season should be a great help to the High School varsity next year, as the boys now know the fundamentals of football and system used by Coach McKiniry.

Lineup against North Reading: le, Cormey; lt, Mauceiri; lg, Morin; c, Caldwell; rg, King; rt, Dwyer; re, Brucato; qb, Watson; lhb, Donovan; rhb, Collins; fb, Ness.

Mrs. May Bess Gibson substituted for Miss Alice Bisbee on Monday and Tuesday in teaching Social Studies in the eighth grade.

Last Thursday afternoon the Junior High football team played the High School third team and held them to no score.

Three new members have joined the Secretaries Club. They are Allston O'Hara, Ernestine Bellisle, and Alice Goudin.

Our Cover Navy Day

It was, indeed, a rare treat for the people of the Junior and Senior High Schools when Admiral Sherman of the United States Navy was "piped over the side" and inside the Auditorium. Both schools were assembled for the event, and the very colorful Girls' Band was on the platform, ready to play "Anchors Aweigh" after the piping. As the Admiral entered, he was accompanied by his brother, Kenneth L. Sherman, superintendent of schools, a former high ranking officer in the United States Navy.

They entered between the two rows of uniformed men, crossed the room, and ascended the platform, as the entire school was standing.

Marking Time

What a sanctified, yet scared, look one sees on students about the corridors and in the classrooms these days! It's no wonder, for grades close on November 1, and they go home on November 8. That is the day when —

Some will be happy,
Some will be sad;
For marks, you see,
Are either good or bad.

But good or bad, all must keep on working. If you get good grades you have to work hard to keep them, and if you get poor ones you must work hard to make them good.

Due to a death in her family, Miss Alice Bisbee was called to Vermont, and she did not return to Andover until Monday afternoon, thus making it necessary for a substitute to take her place.

Whether the Weather

This has been such a beautiful Fall that most pupils have stayed out-of-doors in the morning until the very last moment. Weather permitting, they are urged by the Administration to do so, unless for some reason they must enter the building. It is to be assumed that poor weather, as well as very cold, will be here very soon, therefore, they may enter the building upon arrival after November 4.

Quiz

After the regular business meeting of the Library Club on October 24, there was a library quiz between the girls and the boys, with the girls winning. The score was 24-20.

Library Popular

Students are being given the opportunity to use the library every day for reference work except for two periods in the week. It is interesting and gratifying to know that much advantage is being taken of this chance, and to know that more and more people are taking books from the school library. At the last counting a total of 113 books had been issued per week, of which 73 were fiction, while 40 were non-fiction.

Donations

The school has donated to the veterans in hospitals, a total of 36 packs of playing cards: Room 4, three packs; Room 6, three packs; Room 7, two packs; Room 10, seven packs; Room 11, eight packs; Room 12, five packs; Room 13, four packs; Room 14, four packs.

Guidance Meeting

Miss Katherine Sweeney and Mr. Arthur Weiss of the Guidance Department attended the Essex County Guidance Association supper and meeting in the Y. W. C. A. building in Lawrence on Tuesday night. Mr. Edward Gibbs, Director of the Guidance Department in the Saugus High School, spoke of his experiences in the Army and the guidance program in the Saugus schools.

Teachers' Convention

For many, many years the children of Essex County have been looking forward to a holiday on the first Friday in November. That is the day when the teachers all over the county attend their convention in Tremont Temple, Boston. As usual, there will be a convention, but the Junior High teachers have the choice this year of attending the convention or visiting school in some other town.

Turkey Dinner

On Monday night the members of the Andover Public School Teachers' Association met at Fieldstones, where they were served a dinner consisting of either turkey, scallops, or broiled swordfish. Everyone had a delicious dinner, after which community singing was enjoyed by all. Mr. Donald Dunn, who served as M. C. for the evening, led the singing, while Miss Mabel Marshall played. Later Mrs. Betty Campbell Saunders entertained the group with a list of readings, interesting and humorous, and quite different from the general run of readings heard upon platforms. All in all, it was a very fine evening of relaxation.

Dance Fun

The first Junior High School dance of the year was enjoyed by a goodly number from the student body. Members of the Dance Committee brought records which Mr. Dunn announced and played. Everyone had an enjoyable time and it was said to be one of the very best dances ever held here. Refreshments of Hoodsies and cookies were served in the cafeteria, and the dance broke up about 4:30.

Janitor Assistants

"Bill" Snyder, the Junior High School janitor, is finding that he does not have to work quite so hard this year as in previous years, due to the fact that thoughtless people who become traffic offenders are sentenced by the Traffic Court to stay after school and "help Mr. Snyder sweep rooms, corridors and stairways, empty waste baskets, wash blackboards, dust, or any of the sundry jobs that he may have for them to do."

Membership Drive

Although the membership drive in the P. T. A. was scheduled for the week of October 14-18, dues were being accepted all last week. In the event that anyone overlooked payment, dues will be accepted at any time.

Camera Club

The Camera Club, with Mr. Owen Hinckley, has been very fortunate in receiving slides from the Eastman Kodak Co., illustrating the various lessons they discuss in the handling of the camera and its unlimited possibilities. The first set was on the use of photography in crime, and the second showed how photography was used in wars.

Yum, Yum

Had you been in the cafeteria on Monday you could have had frankfurters and rolls and lots of relish with them. The special on Tuesday consisted of meat loaf, mashed potatoes, carrots and peas, bread and butter, and milk, and all for twenty cents. Instead of the special, students could have had tomato and cucumber salad and a roll. There was delicious snow pudding also.

Girl Scout Week Celebrated . . .

Four Andover troops will participate in Girl Scout Week, celebrated annually by more than a million Girl Scouts throughout the United States, which opened on October 27 (designated as Girl Scout Sunday) and continues through November 2, according to Mrs. John A. MacGilvrey, Commissioner of Girl Scouts in Greater Lawrence.

The theme of the seven-day program highlighting Girl Scout activities and ideals will be "Citizenship in Action Around the World," which was selected because it typifies the widespread interest and effort of the Girl Scouts in behalf of world friendship and understanding.

Girl Scout Week traditionally takes place during the week which includes Hallowe'en, the birthday of Juliette Gordon Low, founder of the Girl Scout movement in the United States. Mrs. Low was born on October 31, 1860, and died January 17, 1927. The last fifteen years of her life were devoted to organizing and establishing Girl Scouting in this country.

Following the major interests of the Girl Scout program, the seven "service days" of Girl Scout Week are devoted to highlighting some special phase of Girl Scouting. Sunday is Church Going Day; Monday, Home-making Day; Tuesday, Citizenship Day; Wednesday, Health and Safety Day; Thursday, International Friendship Day; Friday, Arts and Crafts Day; and Saturday, Out-of-Doors Day. On each day of the week, Girl Scouts make a special effort to show their families, friends, and the community what they are doing and what their organization stands for.

Mrs. MacGilvrey estimates that nearly 1100 Girl Scouts will take part in local Girl Scout observances this year. She stated that the week of October 27-November 2 will be observed as Girl Scout Week for the twenty-seventh time in Greater Lawrence.

Brownie Cook Out

The Brownies held a cook out in the fireplace at the Abbot school last Thursday, with frankfurters toasted over the glowing coals.

Twenty-two youngsters enjoyed the hike to the fireplace and the open-air picnic.

Troop No. 37

The troop met at 3:30 Monday afternoon in the Christ Church Parish House. Instruction in formation and singing was given, and registration was discussed.

The following girls passed their laws: Janet Gleason, Nancy Friel, Betsy Sparks, Elizabeth Hatton, Mary Lee Adriance.

Hike Held

The girls in Troop 27, with their leaders, enjoyed a hike to Camp Maude Eaton at Poms Pond Saturday morning. Games were played, and instruction in marking trails and fire-building was given. The nose-bag lunches were supplemented by toasted marshmallows.

The troop hiked home in the early afternoon.

Wednesday afternoon the regular meeting was held in the Junior High School. Coral Stanton was elected scribe, and a health talk was given.

Following the business meeting a Hallowe'en party was enjoyed.

Boy Scout Notes

District Elections

The following officers were elected at a meeting of the Andover District Committee of the North Essex Council, Boy Scouts of America, held Monday evening, October 28, at the Town House: V. Malcolm Latiinen, chairman; Calvin E. Metcalf, vice-chairman; Rev. John S. Moses, clerk; Alan F. Dunlop, organization and extension; F. Tyler Carleton, leadership training; Winston Blake, camping and activities; Byron H. Smith, health and safety; Dr. Nathaniel Stowers, advancement; Roy E. Hardy, finance; Harold Rutter, civic service; William A. Harnedy, reading; Walter C. Caswell, public relations; John Carver, Cubbing; Walter C. Caswell, district commissioner; Ronald R. Reader, Arnold Schofield and Bruno E. Prevost, neighborhood commissioners.

Troop 71 Advancement Hike

At the regular meeting held Monday evening, October 28, it was planned to hold a hike at 9:30 a. m. on Saturday morning with a tentative camping place at Camp Dad Sargent. This will give an opportunity to the Scouts to pass tests in cooking, firebuilding, nature, knife and hatchet, and other out-of-door games were enjoyed at the meeting, and a signal practice was held with new semaphore and Morse flags, and blinker signals. Charles Koza was presented his cloth Tenderfoot insignia. Walter Tomlinson completed safety requirements toward Second Class rank.

BUTTONS AND BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY

Not all hobbies fall into the popular classifications of coin collecting, stamp collecting or even the acquisition of etchings! The exhibit at the Memorial Hall Library has brought to light, among other things, the fact that there are goldfish breeders, horse picture enthusiasts, geologists, greeting-card collectors, buckle and bird nest, comb and fan and even bottle collectors abroad, some here in our own community!

Button collecting is the hobby of one of our readers, Mrs. George Goff, and the results of her interest make a brilliant and fascinating beginning of what we hope will be a series of local hobby exhibits. Among her treasures, in both cases in the main reading room, are the jets, goldies, story buttons, laminated, pearls, glassies, ringers and calicoes—all familiar words to the person who shares her enthusiasm. A special sheet of military and naval buttons tell a story of a series of wars and the uniforms that were worn by those who served.

If you haven't a hobby, we suggest that you begin with reading a few issues of Hobby Magazine, a well-humbed monthly to which the library subscribes. From that contact will come an idea or inspiration to join the quest of the collectors—a sure protection from present boredom and a superlative investment for old age!

If you HAVE a hobby, and it is a portable, exhibit-case affair, why not mention it at the library? Please, however, no automobiliana!

We wish to remind those of our readers who are taking courses with the Andover Evening Study Groups that books recommended for additional reading are arranged in a separate case in the main reading room at the Memorial Hall Library. Books for those taking the Teaching of Poetry course are also filed here.

FICTION

Double Wedding Ring Lawrence
Inner life of an American family and their friends, chief of whom is Minnie Fearing, in whose family the tensions and hopes of postwar living result in situations both humorous and tragic.

Animal Farm Orwell
A political satire in which a "communist revolution and dictatorship is enacted when the animals of an English farm drive out the human owners and take over."

Dark Wood Weston
Stella, a young war widow, encounters a man so like her dead husband that she transfers her affection to him in a kind of "fixation," thereby creating emotional situations and problems before a satisfactory solution is found.

Joy in the Morning Wodehouse
Steeple Bumbleigh was a quiet English village until Bertie and Jeeves arrive upon the scene to help Uncle Percy against a rival American shipper.

NON-FICTION

Our Son Pablo Gordon
While making a documentary film in a Tarascan Indian village in Mexico, the writers came to know Pablo, an Indian boy, and made it possible for him to fulfill his dream of going to an American college. Pablo lived with them as a son, and the writer paints a picture of his personality, the tragi-comedies of his adjustment to life at the University of California, and his return to his village.

Honorable Titan: Biography of A. S. Ochs Johnson
Biography of the man who "raised The New York Times from bankruptcy and a circulation of less than 10,000 to the position of the greatest journal of the country and one of the greatest journals of the world."

Brandeis: A Free Man's Life Mason
Biography of Louis D. Brandeis, son of immigrants, who became a Supreme Court judge. "A personal appraisal of his character, the influences that shaped him... the impress that he made on law and life. And... of his fight to make law serve democracy."

Oscar Wilde: His Life and Wit Pearson
A "biography of Oscar Wilde, which removes the sensationalism of previous accounts, restores the balance and perspective to the life, the man, and revives 'the conversationalist, not the convict.' Wilde as a boy, Oxonian, lecturer, actor, critic, artist, dramatist, raconteur and talker."

The Colorado

Waters
A study, not only of the Colorado river itself, but also of the whole river system and the vast country it drains. "A portrait, in terms of geography, history, human endeavor and achievement, of an outlaw river that dominates not only the land but the men."

Listen, Bright Angel

Corle
A panorama of the Southwest, the region of the Grand Canyon, which contains many dramatic incidents, odd bits of history, portraits of early explorers, scientists, pioneers, daredevils and fools, and tales of the country's past and present.

Seeing Things

Brown
A collection of recent articles, which appeared originally in the "Saturday Review of Literature," giving the author's ideas on the world of the theatre, the arts and everyday living. Discussions of such personalities as Fiorello LaGuardia, the Lunts, John Van Druten, Harry Brown, Tennessee Williams, Danny Kaye, Walt Disney.

Tour of Duty

Dos Passos
"A series of short graphic cameos covering the period from late December, 1944, to December, 1945... The author seeks to give a comprehensive view of life and times on the fronts and in occupied countries and to show what the American soldier... thinks about war and the policy of the United States in Europe."

While Time Remains

Stowe
The author explores the problems confronting a world which has ended a war but is not yet at peace. He appraises the factors responsible for world uneasiness—among them the ambitions of the great nations and the hopes of the small ones—and confronts Americans with obligations and responsibilities in shaping the world to come.

Years of Wrath: A Cartoon History, 1931-1945

Low
"Nearly all of the cartoons... first appeared in the London 'Evening Standard.' Approximately half of them have also been reproduced in two other collections of Mr. Low's work... 'Cartoon History of Our Times,' which appeared in 1939, and 'Low on the War'... in 1941."

Arsenal of Democracy: The Story of American War Production

Nelson
The author's story of the work of the War Production Board and of the Board's work in mobilizing American industries during the Second World War.

A Lesson To Remember!

Nothing "lightens" homework more than good light. And good light safeguards eyesight... one of nature's priceless gifts. First, be sure you use the right-size bulb in the right type of reading lamp... mother will see to that. Then it's up to you to keep bulb, reflector and outside shade nice and clean. ## Main Street to Show Local Paintings During Art Week

The transformation of Main street to a rue d'art will take place on Monday when local artists, photographers, sculptors and poets will exhibit their works in Andover's store windows.

Mrs. Charles Dole will show examples of her tapestries; Dirk van der Stucken will exhibit some of his poems illustrated with wood engravings by John Bishop; Ernest Morineau and Mrs. Darling will show samples of sculpture; Donald B. Look, Donald Surette, Mrs. T. Dennie Pratt, Kenneth Minard and Ralph Robbins will have photographic exhibits, and the local artists showing their paintings will include Howard Coon, Dean Walen, Dr. James Janney, Mrs. James Janney, K. C. Patrick, J. E. Collins, Mrs. Scott Paradise, Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. Willis Tewksbury, Maud Morgan, Patrick Morgan, Alicia Atkinson, Stephanie Sorota, Mrs. Frances McClellan, Abbott Cheever, Mrs. Whitehill, Frank McLanathan, Mrs. Dorothy Sanborn, Alice Bell, Ethel Farrington, Mrs. Margaret Jones, Cornelius Wood, Maroy Patrick, Kent Donovan, Mrs. Florence Heyn, Mrs. Clara Knox, John G. Wolcott, Winthrop Boutwell and the committee members, Harry Sutton, Jr., L. V. Goriensky, Wayne W. Groves, and Frances L. Dalton. The artists are from greater Andover or North Andover, with the exception of Dr. and Mrs. James Janney, who spent last summer painting in town and were invited to exhibit by the committee, and John G. Wolcott, who is the State Chairman of the American Artists Professional League.

The show, which will continue through November 11 in connection with American Art Week, will appear in the following store windows: Morrison Hat Shop, Carriage Trade Shop, Mrs. Handy, Co-operative Store, Harold Phinney's, Harbor Shop, Colonial Food Shop, Hartigan Pharmacy, Andover Book Store, Playdon's Florists, Arrow Cleaning and Dyeing System, Elan-der's Clothing Store, Andover News, Stratford Shop, Dame Shop, John Grecoe's, Hood's Creamery, Wonder Cleaners, Walter Billings, Dalton Pharmacy, Ford's Bakery, Irma Beene, Simeone Pharmacy, Livingston Flower Shop, Cross Coal Company, Lawrence Gas and Electric Company, Burns Clothing Company, Andover Lunch, Andover Coal Company, Ande's Beauty Salon, City Cleaners, Michael Jay Shop, Hill Hardware, Reinhold Shoe Store, Curly Top Beauty Shop and the Andover Home Appliance.

Merchandise of all types will gracefully give way to the supremacy of art as shopping becomes not a chore but a delightful experience to be anticipated with pleasure.

"OBJECT OF WEEK"

In connection with a course given by Patrick Morgan in the Andover Evening Study Program for Adults, the Addison Gallery is featuring an "object of the week" to provide original examples of the various phases of the history of art about which Mr. Morgan speaks in lecturing on The Backgrounds of Modern Art.

Last week a small African figure from Liberia was exhibited as an example of primitive art in which form is exaggerated for the sake of magic symbolism. This week a figure of a warrior from Cyprus illustrates archaic classical sculpture in which the artist is concerned more with the problems of form than with the workings of the human body and simplifies his figures into an aesthetic rather than a scientific unity. This piece, lent by the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, stands in dramatic contrast to the paintings usually on exhibition at the Gallery.

Next week, in connection with the study of color, the object of the week will be a Japanese screen of the seventeenth century.

Smith Rally

On Thursday, October 24, there was a Smith College rally held at the Log Cabin of Phillips Academy. Mrs. Frederick W. Stott, chairman of District 10, which includes Lowell, Haverhill, Newburyport, and Andover, as well as 17 other towns in this vicinity for fund raising activities, presided; and spoke of the great needs of the college for increased professors' salaries, more scholarships for students, an addition to the library, a new science building, new dormitories, and a central heating system already in the midst of construction. Twenty-one Smith alumnae from Andover, North Andover, and Lawrence were present. A committee to work on projects for raising money for the college was appointed, consisting of: Mrs. D. A. Fleming, Mrs. James K. Selden, Miss Anne Selden, Mrs. J. B. Harriman, and Miss Eleanor Rafton. Coffee, cider, crackers and doughnuts were served at the rally, which bristled with enthusiasm and ideas for ways to help the college in this time of its need for action on the part of its grateful alumnae.

P. T. A. Membership Drive

Bishop Lane Honored By St. Augustine's Men

His Excellency, Most Rev. Raymond A. Lane, M.M., D.D., Bishop of Fushun, Manchuria, and superior general of the Maryknoll Missions, was a dinner guest of the officers of the Men's club of St. Augustine's parish recently at the Andover Inn.

Following the dinner, Bishop Lane spoke before a large gathering in St. Augustine's church on his experiences with the Chinese and Japanese during the war years. He was introduced by Father Fogarty, and at the close of the program Father McDonald, moderator of the men's club, thanked Bishop Lane in behalf of the club.

Luigi Vena of Holy Name parish, West Roxbury, accompanied by Frank Mohler, also of Holy Name parish, sang Schubert's "Ave Maria," "Spirit of God," by Neidlinger, and "Prayer Perfect," by Olney Sparks. James Sheard, soloist of St. Augustine's parish, sang "Juravit" and "The Holy City," accompanied by Miss Mary F. Lanigan, church organist.

Those present at the dinner were as follows: Very Rev. Thomas P. Fogarty, O. S. A., pastor of St. Augustine's parish; Very Rev. Daniel W. Driscoll, O. S. A., pastor of St. Mary's church, Lawrence; Rev. Matthew F. McDonald, O. S. A., Rev. Philip A. Holland, O. S. A., Rev. Henry B. Smith, O. S. A., and Rev. Joseph F. Flaherty, O. S. A., all of St. Augustine's parish, Rev. Roland T. Cookson, C. S. Sp., and the following officers and committee members of the club: President, John H. Kelly, Lewis Lane, William A. Doherty, Philip A. Costello, Frank A. Nelligan, T. Augustine Farragher, Francis J. O'Connor, Jamse J. Faggiano, Joseph A. McCarthy, Robert Leete, Edward H. Lefebvre, George J. McCarthy, Edward J. Dowd, Louis E. Gleason, Joseph Cardella, Stephen A. Boland and William Corey.

GRADUATES AT KEESLER

Pvt. George W. Brackett, son of Mrs. J. Brackett, 1 Main street, this week was graduated from one of the world's greatest educational programs — one of the Air Training Command's airplane mechanics training courses at Keesler Field.

The training he received in the mechanics school covered basic airplane and engine mechanic operations. The technical course extended over a period of approximately 42 days and included instruction in aircraft electrical systems, engine operation, fuel and oil systems, propellers, structures, instruments and basic inspection. This qualified him for additional specialized training in the maintenance of heavy bombers, cargo planes, jet and rotor aircraft.

Obituaries . . .

THOMAS H. MANION

A high mass of requiem was held in St. Augustine's church Monday morning for Thomas H. Manion of 18 Walnut avenue, who died last Friday. Rev. Matthew F. McDonald, O. S. A., officiated.

The funeral was held from the late home, and burial was in St. Augustine's cemetery, where committal services were conducted by Rev. Thomas B. Fogarty. The bearers were Thomas O'Brien, Daniel Danahy, John Regan and Frank Daly.

HERBERT E. NOWELL

Funeral services for Herbert E. Nowell of Shawsheen will be held from the Raymond V. Keefe funeral home in Lawrence, Friday afternoon with burial in the Bellevue cemetery.

The well known resident of Andover died Tuesday night at the Lawrence General hospital after a short illness. He was born in Lawrence and lived in Andover for the past 35 years. He made his home at 119 Haverhill street, Shawsheen.

He was employed by the American Woolen company as a carpenter for 41 years and was a member of the William B. Gale lodge, Knights of Pythias.

Survivors are a daughter, Madeline L. of Andover, and a sister, Mrs. Harry Brendlin of Lawrence.

Proud To Serve...

Two years ago the voters of Andover showed their appreciation for the way the license situation has been run in this town by voting to continue all forms of license. In the intervening two years we have continued to justify that faith. We like Andover. We're proud of the town, and we want the town to be proud of us. That is why we have zealously pursued a policy which we have felt is in keeping with the high standards of our town.

Our presence here in Andover has brought considerable income to the town and has provided a living for many Andover residents. But realizing that even additional revenue is not sufficient reason to warrant a lowering of Andover's grand reputation, we have co-operated with the selectmen and the police department in endeavoring to preserve Andover's fine name.

In the belief that we have continued to maintain these high standards, and with the pledge that the next two years will find us equally as determined to be worthy of Andover's trust, we once again request the town's voters to
