Vincent Treanor Looks 'em Over

The winter Olympics are only a week away. You can look for the American team to lose the ski events. But, we should win the short (500 meter) skating races. Also, our team should take the bobsled event. We have a chance (slim) in the 5,000 meter skating race, but there's a fellow named Lee (no relation to the Virginia Lees), who have from Koron and who seems to be the Dark Horse Hive Change. hails from Korea, and who seems to be the Dark Horse. Hiyo Chang Lee breezed over the 5,000 meter course in 8:51.7 in his first practice run. He is Captain of the Korean team.

Incidentally, speaking of Captains, have you seen our first shipment of Captain's Chairs, made by Conant Ball? You can bet that they are winners!!

The big Boat Show in New York City just closed. More people attended than ever before, and show room sales topped all previous figures. Looks like interest in boats never wanes. Why not have some Sail Boat contests on Haggett's Pond? There's plenty of room for 12 footers, cat boats or half raters. Sailing is a great sport, and one doesn't need a 60 footer to have a lot of fun.

The bank side Commodores could sit on "Captain's Chairs" . . . we've got them!!!!

Gus Lesnevich, world lightheavyweight champion, was honored Wednesday in New York City, as the man who did the most, in 1947, to advance boxing in the U. S.

The honor was the presentation of the "Edward J. Neil Memorial ue," an annual award given by the New York Boxing Writers Plaque," an Association.

Did you know that the award is in memory of the late Edward J. Neil of Methuen, and incidentally, a Phillips graduate. Ed, or "Ted," as he was known in these parts, was a boxing writer in New York, for the Associated Press, before turning into A.P.'s ace War Correspondent in the Ethiopian "war" and the Spanish revolution, where he was killed, along with two British correspondents, when a fire inches hit their Press car. five incher hit their Press car.

Maybe they are running the Kentucky Derby in Florida this year. At any rate, the present favorite, Calumet Farm's "Citation," and second choice, the Circle M Farm's "Relic," are turning in brilliantperformances at Hialeah. $50,000 Flamingo Stake Race on February 28th and the Widener on March 6th. These are two rich stakes both horses can contest for prior to a meeting between them in the Derby. Perhaps there will be a repeat of the War Relic-Whirlaway rivalry of 1941.

It is interesting to note that Relic is a son of War Relic, the horse that nosed out Calumet's Whirlaway in the Narragansett Special of 1941, and, in turn, was nosed out by Whirlaway the following week in the Travers Stakes at Saratoga. There are plenty of people around who, despite photos of the finishes, dispute the official people around who, despite photos of the finishes, dispute the official results of both these races. Teddie Atkinson rode War Relic in both Saturday last, Atkinson rode Relic to win the Hibiscus Stakes.

Undoubtedly he will ride Relic in the Derby.

Nothing does Teddie's heart more good than to beat a Calumet Farm horse. For it was Calumet Farm, owned by millionaire Warren Wright that held Atkinson's contract when he was an apprentice jockey. Mr. Wright held Atkinson at the farm as an exercise boy. Teddie wanted to be booting in winners. To do so, Atkinson had to buy his contract from Mr. Wright, and pay for it in installments. Failure to pay would have meant being barred from racing. Teddie didn't fail to pay — but it meant going without a lot of food and

Atkinson could buy that contract now (which was for $1,000) a few hundred times over — and Warren Wright is still a millionaire. So, if both horses are equal, and Atkinson is riding Relic, I'll take Dixie Walker plays with the Pirates this year, having been signed at a salary of $25,000. Pretty soon the Pirates will have the whole Dodger team. Ex-Dodger men now in Pittsburgh include Kirby Higbe, Stan Rojek, Ed Stevens, Vic Lombardi and Hal Gregg.

Maybe General Manager Roger Hainey can sign Burton Edwin Shotton to manage the Pirates. Shotton, a 68-year-old scout for players, pinch hit as manager of the Dodgers last year. He did a better job than Durocher could have done with the same material.

At the recent meeting of the Board of Selectmen it was voted to increase the charge of using the public scales at the Town House from 15 to 25 cents. For the year 1946 the town collected $44.10 for the use of the scales.

To comply with instructions from the office of Frederic W. Cook secretary of the Commonwealth, the Board of Registrars of Voters will meet February 10, 17, 24 and March 2 to certify signatures on nomination papers for the presidential primaries. Ralph A. Bailey is chairman of the board. Other members are Walter F. Mc-Donald, Eugene A. Zalla and George H. Winslow, clerk.

With the very light vote usually cast here in the presidential primaries (50 or 75) it is expected that the selectmen will request permission from the secretary of state to have the voting done in just one precinct.

After rejecting a suggested constitution in 1778 by a popular vote of about 5-1, the people of Massachusetts voted to call a constitutional convention February 1779 in Cambridge. A committee of thirty was then appointed to draft that constitution. Apparently realizing, however, that this was an unwieldy group this body put the responsibility on three of their members, James Bowdoin, Samuel Adams and John Adams. As is quite frequently the case one man takes the full burden and so we find John Adams drafting the papers practically single-handed. By November when he sailed for Europe the greatest part had been written and shortly after was submitted to the convention for amendment. That winter was a severe one. Attendance dropped off, with the result that amendments were made by a comparatively small number of convention members. By March 1780 the new constitution was submitted to the people for ratification. Interesting to note is that about one in four of those entitled to vote cast ballots and that some clever juggling of votes took place in order to insure passage by a two-thirds majority. Quite clearly, opinion was divided squarely on at last two of the articles, especially the third which practically made Congregationalism the State religion. Yet despite this fact, the constitution was ratified and the first General Court under that constitution met in Boston on the 25th of October 1780 with 200 members. (Anyone who wishes to look further into the acceptance and manipulation of the Massachusetts Constitution might read S. E. Morrison in Massachusetts Historical Society Proceedings, 1917, pp. 353-411.)

As pointed out last week Massachusetts has been operating under this original document since that time. There have been of course, 76 amendments accepted finally by the people after two successive legislatures have approved, but the framework has remained a tos-

Item of interest: After the General Court in 1888 and 1889 had adopted an article of amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor, it was rejected by the people on the 22nd of April 1889.

Story of the Week

Justice Lawrence Brooks of Medford, faced with no transportation after the heavy snowstorm. last week put on skis and set out bravely for the Malden court house where he has served as special justice since 1928. Although he moved right along, time caught up with him so when an officer in a prowl car offered to give him a ride he accepted. The occupant of the rear seat, obviously the worse for wear and showing evidences of a tough night, was moved over to make room for the kis and the Judge climbed into the front seat. Arriving at the Court House and donning his robe, he opened the court, called the first case, and fined his erst-while companion of the prowl car, $10. Legislation This Week

Rather quiet although there is certainly the feeling among old timers that the session will be shorter this year than previously. This is due to the fact that Speaker of the House Willis and Senate President Richardson have urged committees to hold hearings promptly and get their reports in as soon as possible. In connection with this during next week, January 26-30, the following petitions, among others will e given public hearings before gislative committees, and may be of interest to readers of the Townsman:

House 551 before Committee on Cities—petition for the Police of Boston to organize for certain purposes . . . January 28

House 457 and others before committee on Constitutional Law—petition that persons committed to penal or reformatory institutions be disqualified from holding elective or appointive offices . . . January 28

Mr. Copell does parking meters on Main street and not favor angle parking to solve several streets adjacent to the busi- traffic problems unless the street is 85 feet wide for angle parking quested by the board of selectmen on one side only, or 100 feet wide for angle parking on both sides. No In a discussion of the proposal streets in the proposed area are of that width.

It is estimated that with the installation of parking meters traffic would flow much more freely than at present, the estimated rate being two-and-a-half to three-and-ahalf times faster. This is due, it has been explained, to the fact that the installation of meters is the same as increasing the traffic area, as drivers move out of the space

Under present plans the selectmen expect to have the meters in operation from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily, with an officer on duty at all times to see that provisions of the ordinance were enforced. Meters would not be operative Sundays.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

NEW ENGLAND ISN'T STATIC

(Boston Traveler)

Not infrequently in the past, and not without reason, the flight of industry from New England has been lamented. Not half frequently enough has it been stressed that New England's Italy. Mrs. Olivetti will join him at economic skies are open to two-way traffic and that many an a later date. industrial enterprise makes a happy landing in some New England city or town.

During the first quarter of 1947 the New England Council reports that seventy-seven new manufacturing firms were established in these six states. They represent 2190 new jobs and that much new prosperity for New England communities. The break-down by types is interesting.

Sixteen of these new firms manufacture clothing. This section, which always was pre-eminent in certain types of clothing, is gradually rounding out a major industry. Leather and leather products account for another ten. Here we are holding fast to a position always strong. Iron and steel products, never our strong point, are strengthened by nine new businesses. Textiles, supposedly on a one-way street leading south, are showing two-way traffic. In three months eight new textile industries were opened in this area.

Summing it up, New England is more than holding its own in the race for post-war markets. The streams from which floods of low-priced labor once gushed have slowed down to home recently. mere trickles. Now the New England qualities of intelligence and dependability show more strikingly their lasting values. This still is as good a region in which to do business as the the rest of the winter months. "SEEDS OF PEACE" SOUGHT FOR EUROPE

The National Council of Garden Clubs at its annual meeting accepted a project to supply seeds to the nations of Europe who have signified their desire to help themselves through the Marshall plan. The Council is offering each state the opportunity of sharing in a plan to help these people to help them selves by growing their own food. The Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts has asked the Horticultural Committee to handle this "Seeds of Peace" project for our Massachusetts clubs.

The plan calls for the sending of garden units containing 13 kinds of vegetable seeds, each to plant 600 square feet of land, enough to sustain a family of five. These units will cost only 50 cents. The Church World Service, Inc., has been chosen as the shipping and distribution agent. All money will be received and all seed orders handled by the treasurer of the national council. The contributions of individual Garden clubs will be handled by the treasurer for each state.

All local contributions should be sent to Mrs. Charles W. Arnold, 88 Central street. No contribution is too small. Any member or any nonmember may make a personal donation. A wide-spread response is desired to held alleviate the suffering in Europe due to starvation.

Want Oil Burner at Shawsheen School

After a lengthy discussion of the subject, the school committee voted Tuesday night to sponsor an article in the town warrant for the installation of an oil burner in the Shawsheen school.

With all members except Mrs. Katherine A. Baldwin, in attendance, it was decided to have Supt. Kenneth L. Sherman prepare an article asking authority to make such installation. Considerable attention has been given this question during the past few meetings as one of the phases involved concerns the savings of man hours, and it was suggested that the oil burner may go part way toward the solution.

It is possible that the committee will retain one of the coal burning

What Our Readers Say-

Editor of the Townsman:

The supreme question before us and the entire World is Peace.

We must each realize fully the fearful fact that within a few years death from the Atomic Bomb threatens us all, and that our only hope for survival is a United Nations powerful enough to Enforce Peace. THE FACTS .

There is No Defense against the Atomic Bomb. One Bomb destroyed Hiroshima-killed and injured over 200,000. Now there are more and more powerful Bombs. The Sword of Damocles hangs over the entire Andover. World.

THEREFORE ...

Right Now and until the United Nations can enforce Peace, We the United States must have the most powerful Atomic Bombs and the swiftest and longest-distance bombers. We must seek to Prevent War by having such power that no Nation will dare attack us because of the swift and sure destruction that Nation will get. AND .

Right Now and with grim determination, we must work to have the United Nations powerful enough to enforce Peace. Individual Nations must disarm and the United Nations must arm. Until The United Nations Can And Will Enforce Peace, There Is No Peace.

While a member of Special Services, Miss Boeckmann supervised the installation of the recreaational center in Iceland and IS ANNOUNCED coached an Air Force basketball team there that won championships both in Iceland and the British Isles. Later she went to China and India where she performed much the same duties for our forces in that section of the world. She took the American Ollmpic teams to the games twice, in Holland in 1932 and to the Berlin games in 1936,

Miss Boeckmann illustrated her talk by dolls dressed in the native costumes of several of the different countries she has visited, and a fund of anecdotes. The theme of her talk is that anyone can travel around the world through sports if he is willing to give a little extra time to perfect his talents. This talk was another in the annual series paid for from the student government fund.

TUBERCULOSIS PATCH TESTS

Next Monday the students of Punchard will be given the patch tests to determine whether or not they have been exposed to Tuberculosis. The tests will be paid for by the Essex County Health Association out of money collected through the sales of Christmas seals. Those persons who show a positive reaction will be given Xrays. These tests will be given only with parental consent, which was obtained by having the parents sign slips which the students took home. It should be understood that a positive reaction does not necessarily mean that the person has TB, but only that he has been exposed. Xray pictures are then taken, free, to determine if TB.

The patch tests are very simple. A patch, simular to a band aid is left on the arm for 48 hours. After 't has been removed for 48 hours more, the skin is examined. However, only a very small percentage of people ever show a positive reaction, and those who do, do not always have the disease. Xrays are used to diagnose the result of the test.

Don't wish too hard for no school, because you'll wish you hadn't, come June.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

The annual football banquet was held last Tuesday evening in the school cafeteria, at six o'clock. Speakers were Mr. Steve Sorota, coach at Phillips Academy, Mr. Arthur Lewis, chairman of the school committee, Mr. Kenneth L. Others at the head table besides the speakers were Mr. Joseph Doherty, faculty manager and MC, Mr. Kenneth McKiniry, last year's coach and present basketball coach, and Doctor John J. McArdle. The cheer leaders were also present. Football letters were awarded by Mr. Roberts to those boys who Thunder In The Valley earned them during the season.

UNIVERSITY OF LIFE PLANS PROGRESSING

Plans for the University of Life series of meetings to be held under the auspices of the Andover Council of Churches, February 1, 8, 15, 22, 29 and March 7 are progressing well.

The churches uniting under the Andover Council in this fine series of Sunday evenings are: the Academy Church, South, Christ, Andover Baptist, Free, West Parish and the Union Congregational and Methodist Churches in Ballardvale. The first three main meetings will be held in the South church, with the Youth Interest group meeting in Christ church, and the last three main meetings will be held in the Free church, with Youth Interest group at the Baptist church.

It is important that all who desire to attend these meetings, register for the series as admission will be by course ticket. There will be no admission for individual sessions. A prospectus with an application for registration will soon be issued. Mr. Herhert Otis is handling the registration through a committee made up of one from each church to receive the registration application. The first three hundred registered will make up the group for the course. Mr. Otis will mail registration tickets to all applicants. First come, first served, so do not delay. The tickets include admission to the buffet supper, the main meeting of the evening and one interest group.

The interest groups will be limited to 100 each. The interest group named in the registration will be the group assigned for the course.

Additional speakers secured for this series are Prof. John J. Mahoney, Professor in Boston University, Director of the Harvard Boston University Extension Courses. He was instrumental in the working of the Springfield plan of developing good relations between races and nationalities through the medium of public education. Another speaker will be Prof. Carl Wallace Miller of Brown University, author of a recent book, "A Scientist Approach to Religion". All of the speakers will lead one of the interest groups. Other speakers for interest groups are: Miss Kathleen C. Hodgson, recently returned from Labrador. She will talk on the work of the Grenfell Mission at the youth group. Mr. Edward Malins, exchange teacher from England at Phillips Academy will also lead the youth group. Others are in process of being secured for the interest group discussions. The buffet suppers are being arranged by women's groups represented in the Andover Council of Church Women. Further details on dates and arrangements will be given later. This all adds up to a wonderful opportunity for the people of Andover to spend their Sunday evenings through February and the first Sunday in March in a most profitable and inspiring manner. Remember, first come - first
