VIEWS OF THE NEWS

By LEONARD F. JAMES

The recent appointment of Montgomery of Alamein as Generalissimo of the five Western nations of Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg is a significant action in international politics. It is important for two reasons. It clearly indicates that the five nations have agreed upon common interests and measures to secure those interests. It may force the Presidential candidates to take a stand on America's position in relation to Western European union.

Mr. Dewey has already recognized that America's main domestic problem is world peace, that every discussion of our home problems leads inevitably to foreign problems. How specific he will be on foreign affairs remains to be seen. But not much longer should leading statesmen avoid taking a definite stand on what form American support of Western union will take. For Western union and American foreign policy cannot be treated separately.

Two Worlds
Certain facts of twentieth century politics are undeniable. We are no closer to "one world" than we were in 1945. In fact the issue is most clearly drawn. The United States and Russia face each other as two "worlds," each suspicious of the other, each fully aware that its future can be greatly affected if not determined by the other. Events of the past three years indicate beyond much doubt that Russia has followed a carefully prepared plan of pressure throughout Europe and against us as "guardian" of several nations there. So far the United Nations has not been able to lessen the tension, in fact it has

Photo To Be Made Of Service Club

A picture of all members of the Andover Service club is expected to be taken at the second meeting of the fall season which is scheduled for Thursday, October 14 at 6:15 at the Andover Inn.

The guest of the evening, Colonel Charles P. Howard, county treasurer of Middlesex County, will present a discussion "Facing Soviet Russia" which promises to be of vital interest to all.

Members who were present at the well-attended meeting two weeks ago might suggest this important meeting to those who were not present at that time.

Punchard Rallies To Top Danvers Makes Gallant Surge In Last Period To Win, 12-6

By JACK MCCARTHY

Walter Robert's Punchard High outfit chalked up its second consecutive victory of the season last Saturday by scoring two touchdowns in the final period over a strong Danvers eleven before a large gathering of enthusiastic spectators.

The Blue and Gold fell behind in the opening moments of the game when Deveaux's opening kickoff was returned by Ronan to the Danvers 30. On the first play from scrimmage, Ronan traveled around right end to the Punchard 30 yard marker before being knocked down. Ronan again carried the leather for another first down at the Andover 19. Berin hit off tackle for 2. Voohees ran through guard for 6 and Ronan carried the pigskin over the goal for the first score of the battle. The attempted placement failed.

Although it was an up hill fight, the Punchard boys fought back, marching from their 20 yard line to the Danvers 38. Lawrence returned the kickoff 29 yards to his 49 and Dwyer made a first down to the opponent 41. Deveaux then ran off tackle all the way into the end zone, but the touch-

Mrs. Abbot Feted On 89th Birthday

It was an unusually delightful occasion for Mrs. Hattie B. Abbot of 7 Cedar road last Sunday when she celebrated her 89th birthday.

Although the anniversary fell on Monday, October 4, she was pleasantly surprised Sunday, to receive a number of calls and visits from friends whom she has known and loved for many years. Many cards, flowers and other gifts were received from relatives and neighbors. During the afternoon, tea was served by her daughters.

Mrs. Abbot is a remarkable woman, and may be seen often at the morning service in the West Parish church, of which she has been a member for many years, and often attends meetings of the Senior Women's Union.

Model Plane Meet To Be Held Sunday

The annual flying meet conducted by the Andover Model Airplane club will be held Sunday afternoon, October 10, at the playground. All model airplane enthusiasts are invited to attend.

An Ohlsson 23 engine will be awarded as a novice prize. Requirements in this event will be that the modeler has never won a prize in a model airplane contest and that he must make an attempt to fly his entry.

A prize for the CO-2 (carbon dioxide) powered flight of longest duration will be $2.50 worth of model plane merchandise.

All entrants will be eligible for a prize of $5 worth of model merchandise.

A large and diversified number of entries is expected for this meet which will give a splendid opportunity for townspeople to inspect the miniature planes.

Faced with an increased school enrollment over the past few years, Superintendent Kenneth L. Sherman recommended to the School committee at its meeting Tuesday night that a building survey of the local schools be conducted.

Carried on under the direction of the School committee, Mr. Sherman explained, such a survey would give the members benefit of expert advice on the subject, and even if it was found that new building would not be necessary at this time, the committee would have this expert knowledge at its disposal. Action was deferred to a future meeting.

All members, except the Rev. John S. Moses and Dr. Malcolm B. McTernan, were present when the meeting was called to order by Chairman Gordon Colquhoun.

Many To Attend Kemper Inaugural

Over a thousand people will be present October 15, at the inauguration of John Mason Kemper as Headmaster of Phillips Academy, according to the estimate of M. Lawrence Shields, Academy Alumni Secretary, and Chairman of the Inauguration Committee. This number does not include approximately four hundred delegates from schools, colleges, universities, learned societies and other organizations, who will march in the academic procession.

Delegates will be attending from 44 states and from the District of Columbia, and consular representatives of six foreign countries will be present.

The committee in charge of arrangements extends a cordial invitation to the people of Andover to attend the exercises to be held in the large quadrangle outside Samuel Phillips hall. These will begin with the academic procession shortly after 2 o'clock and will continue for a little more than an hour.

Veterans Housing To Be Discussed

A large turnout is expected tonight at the meeting of Andover post, 8, American Legion, when Atty. Frederic S. O'Brien, chairman of the local Housing Authority, will discuss the work being done to provide Andover veterans with low-rental housing.

All veterans of the town are invited to attend the meeting and to participate in the question period which will follow. Commander Kenneth L. Sherman has arranged for this discussion so that all former servicemen interested in the housing project can get first-hand information from the chairman of the board.

AT THE LIBRARY

There has been some very good fiction published in recent months, much of it historical in nature, some satirical and some pastime material and nothing else! Any book listed here may be borrowed from the library:

THE WORLD IS NOT ENOUGH

Oldenbourg
A vivid picture of a baron's castle and the life of those in it in twelfth century France. Allis, handsome fourteen-year-old is married to Anslau, two years her senior, and the next forty years of their life together paints a detailed, intimate picture of the feuds, feasts, tournaments, wars and hunts, of family life with its troubles and joys so similar to those of today.

THE LOCUSTS HAVE NO KING

Powell
A Manhattan comedy of manners, beginning for Frederick Olliver, a scholar and recluse, absorbed by medieval research, on an autumn night in 1945 with the celebration of the end of the war. From the safety of his sheltered study, he finds himself in a mad city, in amazing company and in utter chaos. Out of the turmoil the truths of his own way of life emerge in new value.

Meersch
BODIES AND SOULS
A story of the medical world—long, serious and convincing. It deals mainly with a young doctor's struggle against those who betray their profession. Excellent piece of work.

REPEAT WITH LAUGHTER

Kaup
Against a theater background, this tells the story of Nellie Gall, actress and mother of Kate, the clever, and Ellen, the beautiful. Modern, fast-moving story.

BY THIS STRANGE FIRE

Pargeter
An odd tale of an English countryside home and a woman who writes, almost as though her pen dictated, the story of a man who lived 300 years before.

THE LOVED ONE

Waugh
A story difficult to place, explain or evaluate, concerned with the present day burial customs. Satire without much humor.

THE STUBBORN WOOD

Harvin
An uncomfortably realistic bit of writing of the torture undergone by a woman who was kept, because of convenience, in confinement in mental hospitals. A holding story that demands the reader's attention to the last page.

JUNGLE MAN

Pretorius
General Smuts wrote the foreword to this book which was written largely from notes set down by Pretorius, and enlarged by a friend. Major Pretorius was the chief scout for Smuts' forces during the East African Campaign. He served without question and with a loyalty that made him invaluable. His greatest genius was for big-game hunting and jungle life, where his unusual insight—"sixth sense," as Smuts called it.

GATHERING STORM

Churchill
Winston Churchill knew that everyday matters in his life were the stuff of which future history would be made, and in this, the first of the proposed five volumes, he uses that carefully sorted and edited material which he had put on file as it occurred. Here is the period at the beginning of the war, up through the moment when Churchill became Prime Minister. Excellent literature and accurate history.

V.F.W. AUXILIARY

Plans for the monster Penny sale to be held October 22 at the Memorial auditorium are progressing very nicely, and the committee reports that many more prizes have been obtained.

Mrs. Eva Symonds, co-chairman of the social, has reported very good results. Those wishing to assist by making donations may contact Mrs. Symonds, 45 Maple street, or Mrs. Yvonne Hines, County road. Proceeds are to be used for hospital and charitable funds.

The Auxiliary will not hold its weekly whist next Monday, October 11, on account of the holiday. The parties will be resumed Monday, October 8, with two prizes for each table, a door prize and two consolation prizes.

LIBRARY COURSE

A trip to the Memorial Hall Library was made by two of Miss Louella Dunning's sophomore English classes Monday morning. This trip was the first in a series of three, a course for instruction in the use of the library. The librarians were very helpful in explaining to the students the card catalogue, and the arrangement of books in the library and their use. After the instruction period, time was allowed for the student to roam as he pleased and explore the many parts of the library.

LIBRARY COURSE

The other sophomore classes will go Friday for their first class. Due to a conflict between intramural sports and the band, a schedule has been arranged in order to take care of this difficulty. The fall intra-mural and girls' band schedule for 1948 will be as follows:

Boys' Schedule — Junior High

boys, Tuesday and Thursday; Senior High boys, no intra-murals. (Varsity, track, and football provide sport. Five days a week gym for those not taking sports.)

Girls' Schedule — Senior High school, Monday; Junior High school, Tuesday; Band, Wednesday; Band, Thursday; Friday, optional.

Reading Game

The game next Saturday will be played with Reading on their field. The game will start at 2:30. Student tickets will be sold in the home rooms for 35c.

Assembly

The seventh period today was devoted to a joint assembly on fire and fire prevention. A demonstration of fire hazards met in the home, together with a movie on fire prevention made up the interesting program presented by a representative of the Mutual Fire Inspection Bureau of Salem, and arranged through George H. Haselton of Smart & Flagg, Inc. Class Elections

The sophomores have now completed the election of three of their class officers. They are: president, Clifford Lawrence; secretary, Janet Fieldhouse; social committee chairman, Beattie Christie. The vice-president and treasurer are still to be elected.

Driving Course

Two classes in pre-driver education are being given by Owen Hineckley. The driver training car now has dual controls and is being used to teach those students who have finished the pre-driver course.

Ashland Team

The Ashland team who will play football with us on October 16 is coached by Harold (Sol) Walker, a former Punchard High school athlete. Sol was captain of one of the strongest baseball teams that Punchard ever had.

down was nullified because of a clipping penalty inflicted upon Punchard. During the remainder of the first period little action occurred.

Both teams were unable to register in the third period. Late in the third quarter, however, Co-Captain Phil Gaudet of Punchard recovered a fumble on the visitor's 22 yard line giving the home club a great break. After Deveaux was halted at the line of scrimmage Danvers was penalized 15 yards, which placed the ball on the visitor's 7. Collins hit center for 3, while Dwyer went off tackle for 2. Punchard was penalized 5 yards on the next play as the third period ended.

On the first play of the final period, Deveaux scooted over left end for Punchard's first tally. Watson's attempted conversion was incomplete. Punchard 6, Danvers 6. The Andover crew got another break when Allan Chetson recovered a Danver's fumble to give Punchard possession of the ball on the Danver's 40. Charles Dwyer carried the oval in two plays to the 28, as Collins, Deveaux, and Lawrence shared the honors of advancing the ball to the 3.

Collins was halted on the one yard marker, but Punchard was off side bringing the ball back to the 6. Deveaux then picked up 4 and Dwyer crashed over the goal line for the final TD. The placement kicked by Sidney Watson was short of its mark. Punchard 12, Danvers 6.

Boosters' Day Program To Be Held November 11

Committees in charge of the "Boosters' Day" program to purchase equipment for Punchard High school have decided to make the date Thursday, November 11, when Methuen High school will be the opponent.

This change from the proposed date of October 16 will furnish a long-time rival for the game and will also give the committees more time to sell tickets and to arrange a more attractive program.

Prizes, which are to be given to lucky ticket holders, will be on display in downtown stores.

Harold Wennik and James P. Christie are on the ticket committee; Frank G. McCarthy, Jr. and Frank J. A. Humphrey on publicity. Those in attendance at the recent meeting were: Eugene V. Lovely, James P. Christie, Harold Wennik, Charles O'McCollum, Robert Prescott, Dr. George E. Fraser, Roger Whitcomb, Justin Curry, Selectman J. Everett Collins, Frank Caverly, Robert Meadowcroft, Dina Valz and James Hart.

In the closing seconds of this exciting game Punchard held possession of the pigskin.

This Saturday, Punchard treks to Reading where they hope to continue their winning streak. The Blue and Golds record to date: 2 wins, 1 loss.

Recommends Building Survey For Schools

Following the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting by the secretary, William A. Doherty, Bernard M. Kellmurray, director of guidance, reviewed for the committee the present testing program.

He explained that children of Andover were given intelligence tests every two years and achievement tests periodically through the elementary school. He stated that aptitude and preference tests were confined to the High school.

During the war years, semi-annual and final examinations were dropped as part of the High school program. Mr. Kellmurray felt that these examinations should be re-instated. Mr. Kellmurray spoke in favor of standardized objective achievement tests for the final examinations. Mr. Kellmurray, however, explained that there were two schools of thought on the subject of standard tests and he gave several arguments in opposition. He stated that both he and the Superintendent of Schools favored standard objective tests for the final examination tests.

Mrs. Katharine A. Baldwin spoke in favor of standard tests in the High school and explained to the committee the advantages now being enjoyed by the testing program already installed in the school system. Mrs. Baldwin had made a thorough study of testing and urged the committee to give consideration to the re-instating of examinations in the High school. Committeeman Vincent Stulgis moved that the testing program be left entirely in the hands of the superintendent to proceed as he deemed wise. This motion was seconded by Mrs. Baldwin. Mr. Doherty said that he had always felt that such matters should be left in the hands of the Superintendent. The committee voted unanimously to leave this problem in the hands of the school officials.

Chairman Colquhoun made a report on the progress of the work on the Shawsheen grounds. He stated that a bulldozer had been working and that the work was coming along as planned.

Mr. Colquhoun informed the committee in regard to a Booster's Day program sponsored by a group of citizens interested in Punchard High school athletics. Mr. Doherty also spoke to the committee regarding the enthusiasm of this group of men. On the motion of Mr. Stulgis, it was voted that the Superintendent write a letter of appreciation to the Chairman of the Booster's Day committee, J. Everett Collins.

Supt. Sherman presented to the committee a carefully prepared analysis of the receipts to the Town of Andover for the School department. He explained that the estimated receipts from the General Education fund would be $25,000 for the coming year. While this sum would go directly to the Town treasury and would not be "earmarked" for the School department, it would be considerable toward reduction of the tax rate. He stated that the refund from the State for transportation would be approximately $2,500. He went on to analyze the situation regarding tuition and said that money paid out for tuition by the School department was refunded to the Town treasury by the State. The total estimated receipts for the coming year were approximately $30,000.

The following books were adopted by the committee: "Correct English," by William M. Tanner, Ginn & Co.; "Mastering Your Language," by McKee-Blossom - Stratton - Lamphear, Houghton-Mifflin Co.; "Ginn and Company Basic Readers and Workbooks," by Owsley and Russell, Ginn and Company.

Chairman Gordon Colquhoun reported that he had received a congratulatory letter from the Registry of Motor Vehicles in regard to the Punchard High school Driver-Training program.

Supt. Sherman informed the committee regarding the new Ford Driver-Training car that was being furnished the department by the Shawsheen Motor Mart. Mr. Stulgis moved that Superintendent Sherman write a letter to Ellsworth Lewis thanking him for the use of the car.

The Superintendent of Schools made the following report to the committee regarding a building survey:

"The increase in enrollment over the past few years would indicate that serious consideration be given to the possibility of the necessity of a building program in the near future. The Superintendent recommends that the committee give this time at some future meeting. A building program takes long-range planning and, at the best, years to accomplish. The Superintendent recommends to the committee for your consideration at a future meeting the following procedure:

"A request from the 1949 Town Meeting for funds for a building survey. This survey could be carried on under the direction of the School committee or by a special building committee appointed by the moderator or the Selectmen.

"Such a survey is advisable because the committee would receive the benefit of expert and specialized service. In the event that such a survey found building not necessary for a number of years, the School committee would find it extremely advantageous to have this expert knowledge at their disposal."

The Superintendent repeated that he was not asking for a building program, but was suggesting that the committee investigate the possibility of the necessity of a survey. Mrs. Dorothy Partridge spoke at length regarding the possibility of a survey conducted in a large measure by the present School committee. Mr. Sherman said that this had been done in many cases. The School committee unanimously agreed that serious consideration should be given the housing problem and at the suggestion of the Superintendent this was put forward to a future meeting.

The Financial statement was read and accepted and the committee decided to have a special meeting October 18th to discuss the financial situation of this year and to start to work on next year's budget.

The Warrant of Bills and Accounts was read and accepted for the amount of $1,875.86.

The meeting adjourned at 9:35 p. m.

A.P.C. Sorority Plans For Bazaar

Mrs. Roy Hardy and Mrs. Winston Blake are co-chairmen for the Bazaar which the A. P. C. Sorority will hold in the South Church Vestry November 20. The committee is planning to have something to interest all tastes and ages, and there will be hand work of all descriptions.

The Fancy-work and Apron sub-committee headed by Miss Beatrice Henderson and Mrs. James Corey is meeting frequently, and the selections at that table will be numerous and varied.

A Smorgasbord Supper in charge of Mrs. Sherwood Kelley and Mrs. Arthur Covell will be one of the greatest attractions of this affair.

EUROPE GETS GOOD CROP, BUT MORE FOOD NEEDED
Europe is now harvesting one of her best grain and hay crops since the end of the war, but there still is a shortage of food on the continent, the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations reports here.

FAO statistics, disclosed here at the first meeting of joint FAO-U. N. Economic Commission for Europe committee, show that Europe's population west of the Soviet frontiers is now 13,000,000 more than it was before the war. Recently, says FAO, Europeans have not been getting enough to eat, either in terms of calories or in desirable and nutritious food like meat, dairy products, oils and fats.

European countries, FAO reports show, plan to step up the amount of land under cultivation to match the pre-war level by 1950. In addition, the nations plan to raise the level of nutrition by increasing consumption of the most desirable foods above pre-war levels.

Promptly at the stroke of midnight on September 30, 9000 New England Electric System men and women started their 17th annual campaign against accidents. The campaign will aim to complete the 31 days in October without a single disabling injury.

Prior to the inauguration of this annual drive, October was the worst month for this large group of public utility people of industrial and highway accidents. As a result of past campaigns, October is now the safest month throughout the system.

William E. Casey, Manager of the Lawrence Gas & Electric Company announced that the Lawrence Company will enter its employees into this State-wide campaign, determined to do its share to complete the month with a perfect record.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

FOR BETTER DRIVING

High School pupils in Andover have an opportunity to learn how to drive a car, thanks to the co-operation of the Central P. T. A., the school authorities and the Shawsheen Motor Mart. The course is now in its fourth year, but it is the first time that a car has been available at all times. Because of the interest in the course, the classes are limited. Only those who do not have driving licenses among the seniors and juniors are eligible.

It almost goes without saying that this town is already combatting an evil which, insurance companies say, is a menace — the carelessness of young drivers. Indeed, because there have been so many accidents in which young drivers have been involved it has been suggested that the assessing of compulsory insurance costs be according to the age of the motorist. It has been specifically stated that drivers under 25 years of age should pay substantially higher rates than those over that age.

Of course there may be several ways of making better drivers of the young, but certainly one of the best is to give them plenty of instruction.

The plan is not unique here, of course. The number of American high schools offering driver education courses almost doubled during the past school year, and the number of students enrolled almost trebled.

Better drivers mean fewer accidents, and fewer accidents mean less headaches for the insurance companies and all concerned.

DINING COSTS

A Massachusetts man — not from Andover, but from a town not very far to the south — recently returned from a vacation trip, and he brought home with him the memory of several very satisfactory meals. They were excellent meals, he said, in quantity, in quality and in price.

He even cited some examples: porterhouse steak for $1.50; filet mignon for the same amount; grilled chops, lamb or pork, 70 cents. And the prices included potatoes and vegetable. It was an a la carte menu.

The full-course dinner menu was satisfactory, too. Best meals were only 85 cents; fried scallops, chopped steak and onions, pork chops, 55 cents.

If you would like to try the food, and the prices, just go where this man went.

It was in Canada!

NO FIX TAGS

There seems to be some merit to the suggestion that something be done about the present regulations which provide that Andover autoists whose cars have "no fix" tags on them must take the tags to the Lawrence police station.

Granted, "no fix" tags are put on automobiles only when a car has been left too long in a metered area, or for some other infraction of parking law. The person who has violated the parking laws could be dealt with just as conveniently, it would seem, in Andover as in Lawrence. And the convenience to the autoist, it goes without saying, certainly deserves some consideration.

THE 40-MILLIONTH CUSTOMER

In the second week of September, the 40-millionth customer of the electric industry came on a power line somewhere in this country. During the working hour in which that customer was given service, some 1,200 other new users also started to receive electricity. This year has witnessed a record number of new connections. During the first six months of 1948 they totaled 1,123,000, of which the great majority were rural and urban residential consumers.

This country has come remarkably close to the goal of complete electrification. About 97 per cent of all the occupied family dwellings in the United States now have power available, and 94 per cent are actually taking service. The industry is giving particular attention to completing the job of electrifying the farms. Within a relatively short time, practically every farm in the country will have central station service at hand.

And now the Fifth Horseman! The official poster for this year's Fire Prevention Week shows the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse — war, famine pestilence and death — while in the foreground, carrying a flaming band, rides the Fifth Horseman — fire. Don't let that Fifth Horseman ride in Andover!

Remember when there was only one car in every garage instead of two families?

Parents of Boston's school children are being polled to find out whether they prefer two sessions or a single session of school each day. If the children were polled and they could go that far they'd probably go all out for no sessions.

One president in the White House is worth two galivanting all over the country.

Not been the success that many hoped, although it has done no worse than permitted by the limitations with which it was born. World Federation is still an ideal with little hope of success in the near future, for its sole chance for success depends first and foremost upon the honest good intentions of all nations. And recent events demonstrate that an honest intention of peace and good will is still only a thin hope. That hope may yet become a reality, but it cannot be depended upon as a present guarantee to present safety.

Maintenance of Strength Essential

As the pressure points of power politics multiply, the United States is forced to the decision that national safety must be sought in preparations against any eventuality. We are reluctant to take that stand, but we can see no sure safety in methods already tried since the war. Of course, it must be admitted that preparations for defense are no absolute guarantee. But there are no absolute guarantees, and any method is a gamble. What becomes increasingly apparent is that the present shows us not Wendell Willkie's "One World," but two great power groupings, with middle-of-the-road nations uneasily trying to decide, if they have any choice, which way to go.

Russia — Rival World

The United States is the world power able to help others without depriving them of their rights and independence, anxious to set them on their feet. It is the exporter nation able to supply them with essentials. It is the source of the industrial might which won the last war, the industrial might without which they cannot begin to hope to protect themselves against aggression. The United States is the one power that can contain Russia, because she has the ability and the resources to cause Russia to hesitate. For Russia is the rival power, the other "world" already in conflict with the Western world. The frictions of the past three years are not isolated incidents. Each is part of the pattern of power politics. Both great nations feel the need to secure bases beyond their frontiers; both have world-wide political interests. Each feels morally bound to extend its political ideas wherever possible, the one peacefully, the other by any means at its disposal.

Military Lend-Lease Again?

The United States with its great responsibilities must inevitably assume the burden for the weaker ones. And as inevitably, the United States must back the union of five comparatively weak nations joined together for common protection. Without American support Western union could be swept backwards into the Atlantic. Support does not necessarily mean military alliance, but it may well necessitate the revival of military lend-lease, the spending of vast sums of money for that purpose. For our defense starts not with our seaboard, but far across the oceans. We are a great nation, we are a danger to Russian expansion, we are in danger from Russian ambitions and philosophy.

Two great powers face each other, watching for advantage. To leave Western European union to its own devices would indicate weakness to the Russians. And in their philosophy weakness invites pressure. Our future safety depends upon the maintenance of our strength, upon military preparedness. And an essential factor in that preparedness is active support of Western union.

The U. S. Navy now has a total of 271 combatant ships in an active status. These include 13 carriers of various types, seven escort carriers, two battleships, seven heavy cruisers, 13 light cruisers, five anti-aircraft cruisers, 135 destroyers, 13 destroyer escorts and 76 submarines.

MEET —

WILLIAM SHIRLEY BARNARD

A direct descendant of Robert Barnard, one of the first ten settlers of Andover, W. Shirley Barnard, whose real estate and insurance offices occupy the corner of Main and Barnard streets, was born in Andover in 1901 in the house at 12 High street where he now lives with his wife and two daughters, Nancy and Patricia.

Educated in the local schools and at Mitchell Military Academy, he was, for some time prior to the establishment of his offices, engaged in the shoe manufacturing establishment founded eighty-five years ago by his grandfather, Jacob W. Barnard.

He is a member of the Boston Real Estate Exchange, the Law-Real Estate Board of Casualty Underwriters and the National Association of Insurance Agents. His clubs include the Andover Service Club, the Andover Country Club and St. Matthew's Lodge, A.F. and A.M.

The name of Barnard has been almost synonymous with that of Andover through the years and W. Shirley Barnard, through his deep and sincere pride in both names, has done much to maintain the tradition that is Andover's.

By SEN. PHILIP K. ALLEN

The State Prison at Charles-town is an archaic institution which it is fondly hoped will be replaced by a modern State prison in the next few years. As a matter of fact, plans have been prepared and bids will be let this fall. Originally established in 1805, it operated until 1878 when, because of overcrowding, it was abandoned and the inmates were transferred to the new State Prison at Concord. In 1878, when the new State Prison became the Reformatory, the old structure was somewhat renovated and was then reopened. At the present moment, for example, there is no plumbing system in the majority of cells—the bucket system is still in use. There are no dining facilities, and the inmates after getting their food from the cafeteria, eat in their cells.

To this institution are committed men who are given what are known as minimum-maximum sentences, i. e., 3 to 5 years; 10 to 25 years, etc. Here also is the electric chair. The present prison population is 600.

Here at State Prison the auto registration plates of the Commonwealth are made. Also there are shops for the making of gloves and underwear, for metal work, for foundry work, and printing. Visitors are allowed each inmate one hour twice a month.

The State Prison Colony at Norfolk, on the other hand, is an institution of which Massachusetts can well be proud. When one gets through the security belt of electrically operated doors—and efficient-looking guards—one feels as if he were on a college campus. There are six dormitories, each with a capacity of 150, divided into three units, all in a grassy quadrangle. In each unit there is a room in the basement for wood-working and other hobbies. The first floor has a cafeteria, dining room, a common room for games and radio, and housing arrangements for officers. The inmates live on the second and third floors in individual cubicles, or rooms.

Under the able direction of Maurice N. Winslow, there are 180 employees. There is a present prison population of 900, including what is known as the youthful offender group. This latter group is made up of those boys who have been transferred from Shirley School and Lyman School to Concord and who in turn have been transferred to the State Prison Colony and occupy a separate dormitory.

Here at the Prison Colony in an up-to-date and modern industrial setting, the inmates make brushes, clothing, concrete articles, mattresses, metal containers, shoes, and process the tobacco for all State institutions.

Also there is a Grade A hospital where all the major medical work for the county and state penal institutions is conducted.

It is a matter of sober thought when one realizes that in the Massachusetts correctional system in September of 1948, there are over five thousand men and women over 21 years of age under the direct custody of the State.

READING PROGRAM

Last June, the Library outlined a little reading program, which, if followed closely would give the reader an excellent background in reading, modern and ancient. From the list ONE HUNDRED BOOKS compiled by Nathan Goodman of the Enoch Pratt Free Library and arranged in order of their popularity with the one hundred men and women who chose them, the second four titles are presented. If you have been faithful to the plan, you have now read some of Shakespeare's plays, The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, by Mark Twain, Vanity Fair by Thackeray and Don Quixote, by Cervantes. Your next steps are Franklin's Autobiography, Les Miserables, by Hugo, Emerson's Essays, and Robinson Crusoe, by Defoe. Ask for them at the library.

P. H. S. Alumni Open Dance Series Friday

The Punchard Alumni has a triple bargain in good times planned for the fall season which will get off to a good start Friday night, October 8, with the Annual Fall Frolic. Follow-ups will be a Barn Dance October 15 and a Bit Rally and dance, November 20. Tickets for the whole series may be bought at a special price, while single tickets for each event will be at 50 cents. Even at the regular amount, the parties are a bargain as the committee has a store of specialty numbers, prize dances and events with a Halloween flavor that they are planning to spring on the frolickers.

David MacDonald, chairman of the committee, advises all interested to get in on the whole series of good times. With him on the committee are Henry Albers, Mabel Broughton, Morris Krinsky, Evelyn Foster, Bessie Dantos, Ruth MacDonald and John MacGrath. Tickets may be obtained from the committee members or may be purchased at the door.

Come early so that the football team may have their share of the fun before their curfew rings at 9 o'clock. The parties will start in Memorial Gymnasium promptly at 8:00.

Railroad Fares Cut For Sunday Travel

Andover is one of the 20 Massachusetts communities in which a 50 per cent cut in railroad fares for Sunday travel will be established by the Boston and Maine railroad beginning next Sunday.

The new rates will be effective for Sunday travel in either direction. Fares will be the regular one-way fare for the round trip. The reduced fares will be available at ticket offices only and will not be sold by conductors on the trains, Palmer said. Children's tickets for those under 12 and over 5 years of age will be sold at half price of the cut-rate tickets.

The communities in which the experiment will be tried are Haverhill, Lawrence, Andover, Newburyport, Lowell, Greenfield, Orange, Athol, Gardner, Fitchburg and Ayer in Massachusetts; Dover, Exeter, Portsmouth, Concord, Manchester and Nashua in New Hampshire, and Portland and Biddeford in Maine.

"The 50% reduction in fares for travel between Boston and the 19 communities we have selected for the trial," said C. F. Palmer, Passenger Traffic Manager, "is intended to encourage more railroad travel on Sundays when patronage is much lighter than on week-days. The tickets will be good in coaches on all regularly-scheduled trains with, of course, the round-trip being made the same day.

"The reductions are intended to meet the competition of the private automobile and, of course, to provide more revenue for the railroad. Because of the bookkeeping involved, the tickets will be sold at ticket offices only, but may be purchased in advance. They will not be sold by conductors on the trains."

The M. T. Walsh Plumbing Co. at 28 Essex street has been in business since 1885. It is a well known and reputable company, doing not only plumbing, but sheet metal work and air conditioning.

Explains Housing Project At Salem

Harry Miller of the Salem Housing Authority told the Veterans' Allied Council at its meeting on Friday evening, Oct. 1, how Salem, Mass., is solving the housing problem for veterans. "Everything," he said, "depends upon your committee. If it is apathetic, waiting for a move from the state, you'll get no houses for at least a year, but if your committee is a live-wire group that is not afraid to go to work, you can have your emergency cases taken care of almost immediately. It can be done, because it's being done in Salem."

Air conditioning is getting to be pretty important these days. The store with the air conditioning plant attracts more customers in hot weather, and an air conditioned home makes a grand place to be in very hot or frigid weather. M. T. Walsh can give you an estimate and tell you more of the benefits in health and efficiency in the home, store and factory.

PLAN RUMMAGE SALE

The Ways and Means committee of the Shawsheen Village Women's club, under the direction of Mrs. Walter Caswell, will hold a rummage sale in the Grey Stone house on the Sacred Heart school grounds, Friday, October 15. The opening hours will be from 10 a. m. throughout the day.

This committee is noted for the splendid sales they conduct and all are urged to at least drop in and look around at their collection of articles.

The shop will be open Thursday, October 14, for the receiving of articles from 9 to 11 a. m.

The first meeting of the Shawsheen Village Women's club was held Monday evening in the auditorium of the Shawsheen school with Mrs. Norman Miller, their newly elected president, presiding. Prior to the business meeting a reception to the new members was held with the club officers in the receiving line.

A fashion show was the feature of the evening, presented and modeled by A. B. Sutherland Co., with Mrs. Ella McQuade as the commentator for the evening.

The latest in fall and winter fashions were shown with accessories, and the stage was set in a beautiful fall scene and made a lovely background for the beautiful shades of the gowns, coats and robes that were modeled.

Miss Claire Archambault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Archambault, formerly of Andover, entertained at the piano with a beautiful composition. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening and the hostess chairmen for the evening were Mrs. Charles Currier and Mrs. William Edwards.

Executive Board
At the recent Executive board meeting of the Shawsheen Village Women's club, the new officers of the club were appointed as follows: Mrs. Norman Miller, president; Mrs. Walter Caswell, first vice-president; Mrs. G. Edgar Best, second vice-president.

Mrs. Frederick Higgins resignation from the office of first vice-president was read and Mrs. Higgins will take over the unexpired term of director, for one year, formerly held by Mrs. G. E. Best, Sacred Heart School.

The students of the Sacred Heart school are well into their studies at this time and all their programs for the coming year are now in progress. They are planning to once more present one of their very fine concerts which last year was held in the High school auditorium.

Shawsheen P.T.A.
The first meeting of the Shawsheen P.T.A. will be held October 13 at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the Shawsheen school with the new president, Herbert Ortstein, presiding.

There will be a business meeting and a welcome to the new parents of the school. Mrs. Gerard Pelletier is hospital chairwoman for the meetings.

The speakers for the evening will be Miss Andrews, the Rinehart Writing System representative, and Miss Hopkins, Reading instructor. Mrs. Joseph Tangney is the program chairman for the meeting.

The musical for the evening will be given by William Chaff, zylphonist.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening by the sixth grade mothers with Mrs. Martin Finnerty and Mrs. Francis Henrick in charge.

Personals
Miss Nancy Shulze, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Shulze of 1 Carlsbrooke street, has entered her Senior-mid class at Abbot Academy. Nancy is a member of the choir that sings at the Vesper services every Sunday evening.

John Hathaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Hathaway of 7 Carlsbrooke street, is registered at Boston University. He is taking a general course. He graduated from Punched High school with the class of 1948 and was an honor student all through his senior year. He also held honors in his junior year.

Mrs. Stanley Chart and her two children, Harold and Geraldine of 1 William street, flew to Atlantic City, N. J., where they are spending a week with Mrs. Chart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lewis. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gens and their son, William of 437 North Main street, recently visited Lawrence Academy, Groton. Their son, Harold, has commenced his studies there as a freshman.

Gerald Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Young of 10 Argyle street, has resumed his studies at Merrimack College.

DOROTHY DIX KNOWS BEST because she has had confidential letters from thousands upon thousands of American women (and men, too) who tell of their domestic joys and troubles. Her advice is read daily and Sunday by thousands of New Englanders in THE BOSTON GLOBE. There's a reason, when so many readers follow Dorothy Dix, year in and year out. (Adv.)
