VIEWS OF THE NEWS

BY LEONARD F. JAMES

When the Big Four foreign ministers sit around the conference table to discuss Germany less than two weeks from now there will be a substantial ghost seated with them. It will be the haunting spirit of two Russian-German alliances since 1920. And throughout the negotiations on Germany's future that ghost will haunt England and France, but particularly France. For the Gallic mind, with crystal clarity, will cut through the trappings of diplomatic double-talk and hear the underlying tones of a possible future Russian-German alliance and all its inherent dangers. Enemies though Russia and Germany may have been in the past, there is one tie that national differences have never entirely severed—interdependent economic interests.

Germany—Towards Russia in 1922

After the first world war Germany was regarded as an outlaw and barred from membership in the League of Nations. Disarmed and helpless, she was still remembered with fear and apprehension, although she had adopted a mod-

Legion Gives Town New Resuscitator

In order to give the town the best possible protection in the case of drowning accidents, Andover post, 8, American Legion, voted at its meeting last Tuesday night to purchase an additional resuscitator of the "Eve" type.

This action was taken on motion of Stafford A. Lindsay who said that he would raise the money by subscription. Part of the fund has been secured, Mr. Lindsay stated today, but he will be pleased to receive donations from interested townspeople until the $125, which the apparatus costs, is obtained.

The new resuscitator is one of the "see saw" type recently demonstrated here and which proved so effective in the rescue of aviators downed in the British channel during the past war.

The annual election of post officers will take place at the meeting June 2.

Second Break In Restaurant

A second break was made in the Howard Johnson restaurant on Route 28 at the by-pass early Monday morning but this time an attempt to get into the safe was unsuccessful.

The break was made in the same manner as the one about six weeks ago when entrance was gained through a skylight. At that time the safe was opened and its contents taken.

The recent break was made sometime after midnight Sunday when the restaurant was closed, and the opening hour Monday morning. An attempt had been made to knock the combination off the safe but was unsuccessful. State troopers, whose headquarters are nearby, are investigating. Lincoln Stack of 18 Summer st., is manager of the restaurant.

Police Find Two Men Lurking In Doorways

Police in a cruising car early Tuesday morning discovered two men acting suspiciously in the doorways of downtown stores but the pair ran off in different directions as Officers Calvin Derymond and Russell Berthel stopped to question them. One of the suspects was spotted in a doorway on Main st., the other in a doorway on Park st., nearby. Police found that the door of the latter establishment had been tampered with. It is believed the other man was acting as a lookout.

Moderator Names Planning Group

The committee authorized by the recent town meeting to study probable town needs for water and sewer extensions and new school construction has been appointed by the moderator, Arthur Sweeney.

The members are: Roy E. Hardy, chairman of the selectmen and assessors; Sidney P. White, chairman of the board of public works and member of the board of selectmen and assessors; Gordon L. Colquhoun, chairman of the school committee; Howell L. Stillman, chairman of the finance committee; Fredric S. O'Brien, Wallace E. Brimer and Joseph A. McCarthy.

Appointment of such a committee was voted at the town meeting upon recommendation of the finance committee for a planning committee to recommend annually those developments that seem needed and which the town can afford.

New Signs Planned For Town Offices

Two new hanging signs extending outwardly from the building are to be installed at the town house, one at the door of the tax collector's office and the other at the door of the town clerk's office. Two other signs are to be placed indoors, one at the door of the selectmen and assessors, the other at the entrance to the town clerk's office.

This action was taken Monday night by the selectmen in order to

Veterans Prepare For Memorial Day

Plans for the observance of Memorial day will be completed Thursday, May 19, at a meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion and other veterans' organizations to be held at 8 p.m., in the V.F.W. post rooms, with representatives of all other organizations that are to participate in the parade.

It will be the final meeting of the Memorial day committee. Chairman Thomas P. Eldred of the V.F.W., and co-chairman Kenneth L. Sherman of the Legion, announce that this meeting will by an open one to allow all interested to share in the completion of arrangements.

According to plans made to date, Commander Lawrence N. Shields, USNR, will be the speaker at the Phillips academy tower. Commander Shields, member of the Legion post and a veteran of two wars, is now serving as alumni secretary at the academy.

It has also been announced that a contingent from the naval reserve battalion stationed at Lawrence, would take part in the parade with Commander Donald D. Dunn, USNR, commanding.

Questions Actions In Wage Dispute

Claiming discrimination in the selectmen's refusal to grant him an increase in salary as tree warden and moth superintendent, G. R. Abbott has issued a statement in which he points out the number of increases recently granted to other town employees.

"While the board of selectmen refused an increase in salary to the tree warden and moth superintendent," Mr. Abbott says in his statement, "all other town employees have received an increase in pay and shorter hours."

"All firemen receive the same pay for 14 hours less work per week. All police receive the same pay for eight hours less work per week. All board of public works employees receive eight cents an hour more and work 2½ hours less per week."

"All tree department tree climbers receive 11 cents an hour more and work one hour less per week. All cemetery employees receive the same pay for four hours less work per week."

"The tree warden and moth superintendent on call seven days a week received no increase whatever. The only one in the above group singled out by the selectmen as not being worthy of an increase."

Albert Cole, Jr. Heads List For Deputy Chief

Four Other Members of Fire Department Also Pass Recent Examination

Results of a recent civil service examination for promotion to deputy chief in the fire department have just been released with the name of Albert Cole, Jr., of 14 Foster circle, heading the list.

Five passed the examination. The others were: Henry L. Hilton, 182 Shawheen rd., John W. Crowley, 118 Salem st., William Coutts, 34 High st., and Charles H. Murnane, 56 High st., Ballardvale.

Lieut. Albert Cole of the fire department is acting deputy at present, and Kerr Spark, a permanent man, acting lieutenant.

Andover men who passed the police entrance examinations held last March have been announced by the civil service commission as follows:

Duncan McE. Cairnie, Jr., 64½ High st.; Roger C. Davidett, S. Main st.; Daniel P. DeFlorio, 29e Essex st.; James M. Gorrle, Jr., 105 N. Main st.; Franklin K. Haggerty, 264 Andover st., Ballardvale; Edward P. Pettoruto, 90 N. Main st.; George A. Porter, 29 Main st.; Frederick K. Welch, 35 Dufton rd.

More Complaints Of Fast Driving

More complaints are reaching police about speeders on Lowell street and although Police Chief George A. Dane has officers stationed at different locations along the road at various times in the day and turns in several names to the registry each week, the fast driving still continues.

Chief Dane observes that officers standing out in the open are conspicuous and easily spotted by motorists who are inclined to "step on it."

With a police officer in sight traffic moves along at a reasonable rate but with none in view many drivers speed along at a high rate. Among recent complaints are several about the high speed of trucks that use the street daily.

Police are constantly alert to fast driving and each week a list of names is sent into the motor vehicle registry for action.

Ballardvale Man Uses 1902 Auto

Still chugging along under its own power a 1902 Stanley steamer occasionally furnishes transportation for its owner, Leonard F. Colpitts of Oak st., Ballardvale. Seen from time to time on the streets of the town the ancient model cruises along at about 15 to 18 miles an hour furnishing quite a contrast to the present day auto, particularly to those who never had the opportunity to see the "horseless carriage" of bygone days.

Now spic and span the 1902 Stanley represents considerable effort and research on the part of Mr. Colpitts who spent a year to get all the parts required to restore it. The tires, especially made by the Firestone Rubber company, are the real non-skid variety with

The selectmen have written a formal protest to the department of public utilities against the recent ruling which increases the phone charges between Andover and Lawrence from five to ten cents.

This action comes as the result of a great number of complaints in the past several days and follows receipt of the first monthly bills which have been issued since the increase went into effect.

A revision in the Massachusetts telephone rates was put into effect Apr. 1 due to a decision issued Mar. 18 by the department of public utilities.

The increase applied to minimum station to station toll rates throughout the state and resulted in making the local minimum rate 10 cents where the distance between scaling points of exchange is less than six miles.

Bills for April have just been received by local telephone users and show the jump in the cost per month for toll calls between here and Lawrence.

The selectmen in their letter to the department of public utilities suggest that further study be made of the situation and a poll of subscribers regarding separation from the Lawrence exchange. Two or three polls have been

Uncle Sam Says

Far too many of your dreams have a habit of vanishing into thin air. But that doesn't have to happen to you. You can hold onto your dreams and have them come true at just the right time to enjoy them most. The answer is—Invest in U. S. Savings Bonds. They are a sure, safe investment, for your money grows and in ten years you get back $4 for every $3 you put down now. There are two automatic ways of getting onto safe financial ground and that is through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or if self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank.

Shawsheen P.T.A. Elects Officers

The Parent-Teacher association of Shawsheen Village held its annual banquet and meeting Wednesday evening at the Shawsheen school.

The annual reports were read and election of officers took place. Members elected to next year's executive board were as follows: President, Herbert Ortstein; first vice-president, Mrs. Byron Wiener; second vice-president, Mrs. Gerald Pelletier; secretary, Mrs. Allen Flye; treasurer, William McCarthy; directors, Mrs. Joseph Tangney, Miss Vera Thurston, Paul McKinnon, Mrs. William Sullivan, Mrs. Frank J. Leone.

The president, Herbert Ortstein conducted the business meeting after which followed the program for the evening.

Carleton Shulze, a master of magic, performed many unbelievable tricks. Children comprised a great part of the audience and were ever attentive to the magic that was being displayed on the stage. Mr. Shulze has performed before many audiences and always holds the attention of both young and old.

James Dobbin had his audience in gales of laughter at his antics. He is an interpreter of "Spike Jones's" records and it is fascinating to watch him perform in split second timing to the records.

The banquet was a huge success and as in years past the sixth grade graduating class was the guest of the evening. Miss Barbara Eldridge, teacher, gave a toast to the class.

The head table was honored with the following, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sherman, Miss Anne Harnedy, Miss Vera Thurston, Miss Florence McCarthy, Miss Barbara Eldridge, Miss Leary, Miss Ethel Anderson, Miss Eunice O'Donnell, Mrs. A. Donovan, Herbert Ortstein, Mrs. Gerald Pelletier, Mrs. Allen Flye, William McCarthy.

taken in other years. The last was made about six years ago and at that time the results were so close to 50-50 that the department decided to make no change.

This particular increase is brought about by the fact that Andover has a separate exchange.

The selectmen's letter to the department reads as follows: Department of Public Utilities State House Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: We wish to enter our very strong protest against the 100% increase in the charge for telephoning from Andover to Lawrence. There is no apparent reason why the cost of this service has been doubled. We are informed that in some similar areas that there has been no charge in the rates. We believe that with the great increase in this type of business that the increase is entirely out of line.

We would appreciate receiving a copy of your decision as far as it affects the Town of Andover. The decision would seem to create a new situation concerning the unification of telephone service in Lawrence and the surrounding towns. We believe that a new study and a poll of the wishes of the phone subscribers is in order.

Our citizens desire the earliest possible answer to the above questions.

Very truly yours,
Board of Selectmen

GIRL SCOUTS

The girls of Troop 27 met Wednesday May 4 in the Christ church parish house. A short meeting was held. The notebooks on good grooming were passed in to be checked. Plans were made for the Memorial day parade, and the work on the tree badge has begun. Each girl has an article to look up on tree care and a poem on trees to find for her notebook. Saturday May 14, weather permitting, the troop is going to climb Mount Monadnock.

During World War II, U. S. pennies were made largely from shell cases, with only a small amount of virgin copper added to bring the alloy up to legal standards.

PIONEER GIRLS

The Pioneer girls met Wednesday, May 4, in the Baptist church vestry. During the recreation period they made lovely Mother's day cards. Each is also planning to make a "mad money" purse which snaps on the wrist, a bunny out of powder puffs, and a "Dinah door-stop." Shares were taken and the girls were called to "catch up" by Mrs. Thompson. The girls meet every Wednesday at 2:30 p.m., and any girl wishing to join is welcome.

B. P. W. Discusses Water Extensions

Proposed new water extensions on many streets were discussed for more than three hours Wednesday night at the meeting of the board of public works with the finance committee.

Chairman Sidney P. White, Secretary Edward A. Doyle, P. LeRoy Wilson and Alexander Henderson of the board sat in with the finance committee represented by Howell M. Stillman, chairman, Stanley F. Swanton, secretary, Dr. Harry V. Byrne, Victor Mill, Jr., and Harold G. Bowen, to go over all the phases of new installation.

Both boards were of the opinion that the installation of new water extensions in the streets increases the value of property. The area adjacent to the new water lines will be reassessed by the board of assessors to bring the taxation in line with the improved property.

Some of the streets discussed in connection with new water lines from the present pipes included Beacon street, Canterbury street, Flint circle, Gould road, High Plain road, Princeton road, Wildwood road and Spring Grove road.

Many more streets as well as the proposed extensions will be discussed at length at a later meeting of the two boards to be held at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, May 25, in the town house.

Bids will be called for on 4000 feet of 6 inch water pipe and 1200 feet of 10 inch water pipe so that the board may have an idea of the cost of the material.

Relative to the water extensions on the various streets questions brought up concerning the subject included the number of people that would be served, the approximate cost of new houses there, the value of property and dwellings, income to the town regarding tax collections, wild life served and irrigation purposes for orchards and trees.

The board reported that several new lights had been installed on High Plain road and one on South Main street.

Wide Distribution Of Savings Bonds

Figures compiled by the treasury department on the geographic holdings of U. S. savings bonds by individuals at the end of 1948 show the wide extent of the distribution of this major personal thrift medium throughout the country.

These figures show the ten states in the northeastern section of the country in first place with combined holdings of $16 billions of savings bonds. Second in aggregate dollar holdings are the 14 states in the Middle Western group with combined holdings of $10 billions of savings bonds, followed by the four Great Lakes States with $9.5 billions. The seven Far Western states, and the 13 Southern states, together with the District of Columbia were tied with $6 billions each.

On a per capita basis, however, the ranking varied somewhat from the above order. The Northeastern states were first with approximately $406 of savings bonds per capita. The Far Western group was second with ownership of about $372 per capita. Third came the Great Lakes states with $357 per capita, followed by the Middle Western group with $340 and the Southern states with $173 per capita.

Total holdings of savings bonds by individuals at the end of last year came to an estimated $47.5 billions, or approximately $325 per capita.

Ownership figures of savings bonds are significant since the widest possible distribution of the public debt among individuals and the non-banking public is a cornerstone of Federal debt management policies. The treasury will conduct another savings bond drive from May 16, through June 30.

Parade Committee Announces Plans

Further plans for the Memorial day observation were made by the various committees at a meeting Tuesday night in the Legion rooms.

Chairman Thomas P. Eldred reported that all participating organizations are asked to fall in line at 8 a. m. The parade will start from Park street at 8:15 o'clock and move to Elm street, to the library where the Disabled American Veterans will conduct the service.

Proceeding up Main to Chestnut and Whittier streets the Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold a service at the Memorial auditorium, after which the parade will move to Bartlett street, Punchard avenue, Main street and Salem street to the Memorial tower at Phillips academy where the Legion will conduct the service.

The parade will then move to Main and School streets to the South church cemetery where the All Women's post of the American Legion will hold a service. The parade will disband at this point and the various organizations will go to veterans' lots in different cemeteries for additional services.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion and the All Women's post of the American Legion will then proceed to the Spring Grove cemetery arriving about 11 o'clock, where the American Legion and the All Women's post of the American Legion will hold a joint service at the veterans lot on the hill, then the groups will proceed to the G. A. R. lot where the Veterans of Foreign Wars will conduct a service.

Meanwhile the Disabled Veterans chapter will proceed to the Indian Ridge school where they will hold a memorial service at the Memorial tablet on the lawn. On leaving the Spring Grove cemetery the American Legion and All Women's post of the Legion will proceed to St. Augustine's cemetery, estimated time of arrival, 11:45 a. m. and the Veterans of Foreign Wars will proceed to West Parish cemetery, estimated time of arrival, 11:45 a. m. where they will hold a memorial service.

At this date, the bands to participate in the parade are as follows: the Clan MacPherson Bagpipe band, the Andover Brass band and the Sacred Heart school band of Shawsheen Village.

A body of men from the naval reserve unit in Lawrence, consisting of a number of Andover boys, have been notified and will participate in the parade, and also a platoon of men from Fort Devens have been promised for the parade.

A platoon of officers from the Andover Police department and the Fire department have also acknowledged their participation in the parade. The selectmen of the town have also been contacted and also troops of the girl and boy scouts.

Variety Is Feature Of Summer Fashions

There is still time, in May, for you to make your summer clothes and have them all hanging neatly ready in your closet at the beginning of the season. The perfect summer wardrobe would include a little bit of everything, as far as new fabrics and style notes are concerned, says Marian Corey. Writing in McCall's for May, she mentions, among other things, bare necklines, nice buttons, butterfly capes, stripes, checks and white eyelet.

"What should be present in a perfect summer wardrobe? Well, things like these: Some dresses in prints, more in plain colors. One dark costume among all the pastels. Something in stripes, in checks, and at least one dress in beautiful iridescent chambray. Something with a splash of white eyelet across it, and something with a touch of white waffle plaid.

"Huge pockets should appear on some of your clothes, and the bigger the smarter. Cool bare necklines are a must, round ones, squares, and the deeply plunging V's. Have plenty of buttons on everything, nice ones. Find dresses with impressive backs. Also, think about all-round pressed pleats, for they are back in style. And graceful cape collars and little standing fly-away collars. Three-quarter length sleeves with fly-away cuffs, as a change from the eternal short sleeve. Sashes with big bows, worn cummerbund high. And among your wraps, it would be smart of you to include the famous 'butterfly jacket' with the flare back or its counterpart the 'butterfly cape'.

"Speaking of splashes of eyelet and white pique, one dress has a waffle pique yoke which will be increasingly becoming as one's summer tan deepens. It is in iridescent chambray, and has the fly-away collar just mentioned. A grey linen has the splash of eyelet, and that is such a good idea with grey. As for stripes, they are ever so important. One striped mode is interesting because its stripes run in all directions. It has the cool bare neck mentioned above, and the wide sash."

TIME SLIMMING EXERCISES WITH FAVORITE SONGS

If you are having the usual beginning-of-the-season trouble in fitting into new clothes, you can whittle off several inches in a course of home exercise. All you do is turn on the record player and exercise to the rhythm of your favorite popular swing tune, says Dolly Reed, who describes a few key exercises for you to start on, in McCall's for May:

"The waistline exercise almost does itself when accompanied by 'On a Slow Boat to China.' Stand with your feet apart, raise arms over your head, bend to the right, then to the left, keeping shoulders back, hips straight and moving only at the waistline. Don't overdo this or any exercise at first. Ten times each is a good starter. 'For a flat tummy: rock in sitting position with arms high, diaphragm raised, tummy in. Your legs should be straight, toes pointed. Rock from side to side, rolling up on edge of each hip, to several bars of the tropical rhythm of 'So In Love.'

"Lie down so that your entire back touches the floor and raise your legs still straight in a slow, alternating scissors-like movement to the music. Try not to let heels touch the floor. If you tire, relax and listen to the music.

"For the firmer hips: clasp knee keeping other leg extended. Now rock all the way back so that your shoulders are on the floor and your extended leg points over your head. Relax, reverse, repeat. 'Far Away Places' is perfect for this and the next.

"Lying flat, raise leg slowly, cross over other without bending either until your toes touch the floor. Repeat with other leg.

"For better carriage: thrust right arm up and back. Slide right foot back. Now drop forward quickly, holding onto a chair-back for balance. Repeat movement with left arm, left leg, to the snappy rhythm of 'Cruising Down the River.'

"Next, stand up, fling both arms up over head, stepping back simultaneously with right foot. Relax, repeat, moving left foot back. Fall forward, balance and repeat with alternate side."

It's none too early to start thinking of picnics and camping trips. Added to the list of foods that can be purchased in self-heating cans are chili con carne, corned beef hash and frankfurters in brine. These are ideal for outdoor meals where you don't have access to a fire.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

PROMPTNESS OF FIREMEN

A drowning tragedy in the Shawsheen river last week brought sadness not only to the family of the young boy who lost his life and the Brothers of Sacred Heart school, but to all the people of Andover.

A group of youngsters from the school, including fourteen-year-old Richard Gordon of Detroit, Michigan, were gleefully disporting in the cool waters, in seeking relief from the unseasonable warm weather. Indulging in carefree frolics the boys were shocked when their companion, rated as a good swimmer, failed to come to the surface after immersing.

An emergency call to the Andover fire department met with a quick response and within five minutes the lad's body had been recovered and heroic efforts started in an attempt to revive him. Human efforts were futile, however, and the splendid work of the responding firemen were in vain. A young life had been snuffed by a regrettable accident which occurred in one of the most innocent of youthful pastimes.

In extending sympathy to those near and dear to the young victim it is also fitting that commendation be also extended to the fine work of those firemen who tried so hard to save that precious young life.

ANDOVER'S ELMS

The Elms of Andover are beautiful.

Elm trees anywhere are beautiful and stately and are oft included in both prose and poetry, particularly that pertaining to many of the older New England towns.

Andover's Elms compare with the most beautiful anywhere and its Elm lined streets are like many in towns throughout New England which thrill and inspire visitors from other sections of the country.

It is indeed refreshing to learn that the theme of the Andover Garden club's flower show on May 25 is "Neath the Elms." The proceeds of this event are to go toward the preservation of Andover's magnificent old Elms which the garden club members look upon as among the town's greatest assets.

This proposed program of protection and preservation of the town's beautiful Elms is a most commendable one and the members of the Garden club are to be lauded for the splendid manifestation of town pride represented in the preservation program. It is hoped that the show will be well patronized and that townsfolk in agreement with the idea will be liberal in their support of the project.

RECREATION PROGRAM

Andover may well be proud of its summer recreational program and of its devotion to the welfare and best interests of the youth of the town.

The Recreation committee recently announced appointments to the staffs of play instructors and life guards of those who will supervise activities on the town playgrounds and swimming beach this summer. Three male and nine female instructors were named to assist Supervisor James D. Doherty in the playground program and five guards and a matron were designated to assist Donald D. Dunn, head life guard at Pomp's pond.

The committee has chosen able leaders in Mr. Doherty and Mr. Dunn and the assisting staffs have been chosen with care and with every thought of their ability to carry on the sacred work to be entrusted to them. It is tentatively planned to open the recreation season late in June and to extend it somewhat longer than last year's season which ran until mid-August. Improvements are also planned before the openings at both the playgrounds and the swimming beach.

The recreation committee is rendering a great service to town children and a season of great benefit to the youngsters is assured by the fine program mapped out and by the efficient staffs named by the committee.

'PHONE RATE PROTEST

Andover's board of selectmen has struck a popular chord of public response by its protest against the recently announced one hundred per cent increase in telephone rates between Andover and Lawrence.

The board filed its protest in the form of a letter to the state Department of Public Utilities and asked for a new study and poll of the wishes of the telephone subscribers. The letter points out that there is no apparent reason why the cost of the Andover-Lawrence service should be doubled. The board bluntly states its belief that the increase is "entirely out of line." The letter concludes, "our citizens desire the earliest possible answer to the above questions."

The Townsman, within a few days of the public announcement of the increase in rates, analyzed the situation and predicted the probability that the forces favoring the inclusion of Andover in the Lawrence exchange area would soon get into action, and renew activity toward amalgamation. The resentment against the new rates and the sentiment for some concrete action has increased steadily to the extent that the selectmen took the initiative in the protest program.

The protest of the selectmen is assured plenty of support by those citizens whose telephone bills have jumped sharply under the new rate schedule.

erately republican form of government. She found herself faced with two alternatives, a Western policy tying her more closely with her former enemies across the Rhine, or friendship with Bolshevik Russia. In 1922 she alarmed Europe by signing the Treaty of Rapallo with another "outlaw" nation, Soviet Russia, whereby they resumed mutual trade facilities. France immediately felt that her security was menaced by German revenge and Russian Bolshevism, and very naturally demanded the security of a "sanitary cordon" against Russia.

And In 1939

That demand played no small part in causing a re-orientation of foreign policy whereby Germany was won over, politically at least, by a series of agreements that virtually isolated Russia from the rest of Europe. But Hitler's rise to power broke the slender and suspicious ties between France and Germany; France's desperate fears were presumably justified when Russia and Germany made their pact of 1939, a few weeks before the start of another world war. What curious intuition it was that caused Hitler to attack Russia in 1941 may never be decided, but the fact was that each nation during the short duration of the alliance could supply the other with much-needed materials and supplies.

A Possibility Of The Future?

And that situation holds true today. Germany and Russia need each other's supplies and markets. Or it would be truer to say that for the moment the Marshall Plan can enable Germany to do without Russia. But the day will come when Marshall Plan aid ceases, when European nations are presumably back on their own economic feet. And when that time does come, the Germans will in all probability decide that Eastern Europe and Russia offer a vast market for their finished products. Without doubt, Russia will suggest economic treaties, and the probability is that they will lead to political commitments.

Two Probable Soviet Propositions

The French minister to the conference will never for one moment be able to forget that three times within a century his country has been invaded by a strongly centralized Germany. The memory of grim occupation days is still vivid, and France must be sympathetically understood if she should appear to consider her own security as her chief concern. France is doubtless quite aware that Russia will present to the conference a series of propositions which will indicate a revival of the struggle for Germany, because that is the basic reason for Russia's astutely-timed offer to open negotiations. The French anticipate two propositions that worry them exceedingly, one, the setting-up of one centralized Germany and, two, the withdrawal of Big Four troops from Germany. The French are distinguishing black from white when they compare what the Russians hope to do with Germany and what the Allies are trying to do.

A Central Germany

The so-called Bonn Constitution as formulated by the Allies is designed to fit the new state into Western Europe, to give it a federalized system leaving a certain degree of local rule to its component parts, and certainly to provide for a degree of control by the Allies for some years to come. Once a going concern, it will be the nucleus of a new Germany ready to accept adherence by other German areas. In undiplomatic language, the Russian zone of Germany could join when ready. Presumably German nationalism plus the superior size of Western Germany would absorb whatever communist ideology the Russians have planted in their zone. The French doubtless feel that the Russians do not anticipate a solution so favorable to the Allies. The French probably anticipate a Russian request for such revision of the Bonn Constitution that the nature of the German government will favor Russian purposes.

And Withdrawal Of Troops

The other issue of withdrawal of troops from Germany is of equal concern to France. That country certainly understands that

MEET—

BARBARA A. LOOMER

Parents of the school children of Haverhill are deeply indebted to Miss Barbara A. Loomer, who, through her position as assistant director of the Haverhill School Savings Banking department, has been instrumental in developing the program for the education for thrift and encouragement of regular savings among children of school age.

Miss Loomer and several other highly interested people introduced this plan into the schools three years ago and it has grown and developed into an extremely worthwhile and constructive system. Each school child is a potential depositor into the department which is under the three savings banks of Haverhill. Student tellers are appointed from the sixth and seventh grades to take the deposits all down through the lower grades. Each child has his own bank book, which, when it has a certain amount in it, may be transferred to a regular savings bank book. The plan has aided the children, not only in matters of thrift and saving, but in giving them a feeling of responsibility and importance.

Formerly teacher of mathematics at Robinson seminary, Exeter, N.H., and in the Haverhill High school, Miss Loomer was born in Ballardvale and has lived there or in Andover for all her life. She was educated in the public schools and is a graduate of Abbot academy and Wheaton college.

A former member of the Andover school board, she is actively associated with the Merrimack Valley Wheaton college club, the November club, and the A.P.C., sorority of South church. An avid reader and expert welder of the knitting needles, Miss Loomer, whose sister, Mrs. F. Tyler Carlton is also identified with many of the town's activities, resides at 27 Summer st.

the Allied forces could not hold off a determined Russian attack. The French know that an invasion could not be presented. But the presence of United States and British troops in Western Germany is a pretty sound guarantee that the Atlantic Alliance would go into quick operation. The French—and other nations of Europe—cannot be satisfied with mere signatures on the pact. Allied troops in Germany not only can help to keep Germany militarily impotent; they are in effect a guarantee of active support.

The foreign ministers will have to weigh the issues exceedingly carefully. Should the Russians propose withdrawal of all troops, the Allies cannot refuse consideration of the suggestion. Should the Allies refuse, the Communists would be ready to use the propaganda value of the refusal. On the other hand, past experience has not demonstrated that Russia can be completely trusted. If the Allies agree to these possible professions of good faith they may virtually throw in their hand.

Russian Sacrifice Play

The foreign ministers know that Moscow is making a sacrifice play, giving up the blockade—which can easily be re-enforced whenever the Russians so decide—in order to get the greater advantage. The "cold war" is now "cold diplomacy," but the objective is the same, get United States troops out of Europe, take over Germany. The sacrifice has perhaps come sooner than the Allies wanted.

And what does Russia offer for what she hopes to get? She gives 22,000,000 underfed, exposed-to-communism Germans in exchange for a voice in the management of 65,000,000. In any man's language that's a smart sacrifice play. And what the French fear is that "cold diplomacy" is far more difficult to counteract than is a "cold war" of obvious moves and counter-moves.

What Our Readers Say—

PRaises FIREMEN

Editor of The Townsman:

The prompt and effective work of the fire department at the recent drowning accident in the Shawsheen river is receiving meritorious praise from numerous people who had occasion to observe the service they rendered.

Arriving at the scene within a few moments after receiving the call at the central fire station two members, James Deyermond and George Williams, jumped in partly clothed while others who responded lost no time in launching the emergency boat for grappling operations.

Almost before anyone realized it the boy was brought to the surface by Mr. Williams in his second plunge into the river, seemingly a matter of only two or three minutes after they arrived.

It was prompt and courageous work which speaks well for the whole department. It is a source of pride to me and to the whole town to know how effectively the department operates in such an emergency.

Yours truly,

REPORT from the State House

The division of personnel and standardization, headed by Director Joseph K. Burns, of Milton, is under the commission of administration and finance. While the director is appointed by the commission and the appointment is approved by the governor and council, the division is primarily subject to the governor and council.

Historically, the department was originally run by a supervisor of administration, but in 1922 the commission on administration and finance was established. A director was then appointed and the director of the division of personnel and standardization was given a separate function.

This division is responsible for the establishment of positions, the classification of positions, and the determination of salaries to be paid for those positions in state service. It is important to note that this division is not interested in the individual who holds the job. That duty lies largely in the civil service commission, which has the responsibility of recruiting state employees.

The classification and salary scales established by this division is an extremely important and difficult task. Including temporary help which averages some 2500 a year, it is responsible for the classification of state employees approaching 28,000 in number. Prior to 1948, Massachusetts had in its classification system over 300 salary ranges, but in 1948, a standard salary schedule was established which reduced the number of ranges to approximately 50 and effected uniformity in annual increments and step rate increases. All the classified employees in state service fall into these ranges.

The unclassified employees, numbering about 1000 and including the legislature, the judiciary, the executive branch, etc., have their salaries set by statute.

Having established the fact that there are now 80 salary ranges, let us consider the salary ranges themselves. Each salary grade has a minimum salary and five step rate increases to reach the maximum salary for that grade.

The first three steps are reached annually. The next step is reached by the end of the seventh year; the next by the end of the eleventh year with the maximum being reached at the final step by the end of the twelfth year of service.

Grades 1 to 30, inclusive start with a Grade 1 minimum salary of $1200 with five step rate increases of $120 to a maximum of $3540 in Grade 30. Actually, the increase in these grades only has been split in such a way that the employees within its category receive a $60 increase for three months for the first six years.

Grades 31 to 48, inclusive, start with a Grade 31 minimum salary of $3000 with five step rate increases of $180 to a maximum of $4920 in Grade 48.

Grades 49 to 57 start with a minimum Grade 49 salary of $4080 with five step rate increases of $240 to a maximum of $6240 in Grade 57.

Grades 58 to 74, inclusive, start with a minimum Grade 58 salary of $5100 with five step rate increases of $300 to a maximum of $11,400 in Grade 74.

Next week we will continue with the division of personnel and standardization.

MERRIMACK COLLEGE

Appointment of the Rev. John J. Kelly, O.S.A., Ph.D., professor of romance languages, as moderator of the freshman class has been announced by the Very Rev. Vincent A. McQuade, O.S.A., president. Fr. Kelly, a native of DuBois, Penn., came to Merrimack last February from Catholic university of St. Thomas of Villanova, Havana, Cuba. In addition to his new appointment, Fr. Kelly is also prefect of discipline.

Plans are nearly complete for the second annual Family day to be held at Merrimack college, Sunday afternoon, May 22, at 2:30 o'clock under the direction of the Rev. James E. Hannan, O.S.A. The event inaugurated last year by Fr. Hannan will include a religious conference, blessing of children, and Solemn Benediction. Students are invited to attend with their families, parents, relatives, and friends.

Leonard Colpitts of Oak street, Ballardvale, poses with two of his children, Priscilla, at the throttle, and Robert, at the tiller steering apparatus, beside the Stanley Steamer which he restored from wreckage to its present usable state, as part of his hobby of tinkering. Many of the parts used in restoring the 1902 roadster shown above were made by him, while others were purchased after diligent search.

Student Drowns In Shawsheen

Richard Gordon, 14, of Detroit, Mich., a student at the Sacred Heart school, was accidentally drowned Thursday afternoon while swimming with a group of classmates in the Shawsheen river.

The accident occurred in the old brickyard section of the river near Burnham road, about a quarter of a mile from the school, on the hottest day of the year. According to Brother Peter, S.C., headmaster of the school, seven other students and two members of the faculty were at the scene.

Dr. Julius J. Burgiel, medical examiner, said the youth, an excellent swimmer, had evidently caught his foot in the underwater brush and was unable to get to the surface. The boys were playing a splashing game at the time.

The accident was reported to the central fire station at 5:46 p. m. The ambulance with the resuscitator was dispatched immediately. The emergency boat, which is kept suspended from the ceiling at the station, was dropped onto Engine 3 which made a quick run to the river.

Arriving at the scene James Deyermund, call fireman who was at the station with a state forestry truck, and Fireman George Williams, stopping only long enough to remove part of their clothing, plunged into the river while other firemen launched the boat. In the second attempt Williams succeeded in reaching the boy and bringing him to the surface.

Fire Chief C. Edward Buchan, who was at the scene with other members of the department, noted the time and reported that it was just five minutes after the call had been received at the central station.

Williams and William F. Buchan, both veterans of World War II, attempted artificial respiration before the boy was pronounced dead by Dr. William G. Thompson, who had been called to the scene.

Other fire department members who responded were: Ralph Baker, J. Woodrow Crowley, John Cole, Gordon Coutts, Francis Sparks, and Joseph Connors. Officers Frank Koza and Alfred Robb investigated for the police.

Prior to sending the body to the family home in Detroit, absorption services were conducted in the school chapel Friday by the Rev. Edward J. Burns, O.S.A., of Merrimack college. Earlier in the day the students had viewed their classmate's body at the M. A. Burke funeral home.

Community Orchestra
Decides To Disband

The Andover Community orchestra, which managed to survive for 10 years, has been finally forced to disband, principally because of the very small audience which appeared at last Sunday's concert, according to Mrs. Theodora Ward, manager of the orchestra. Barely a hundred persons attended the youth concert, and the financial loss incurred was so heavy that the orchestra is forced to close its career.

STAMP MAP ON EXHIBIT

Stamp collectors will be interested to see the large map of the stamp world on display in the exhibit case in the young people's room of the Memorial Hall library. It has 170 full size illustrations of stamps, gives unusual information about the histories of the stamps of each country, and has a good number of actual stamps displayed on its surface by the owners of the map, Robert and Arthur Domingue. The map may be seen for a short period of time.

Souter Hurls 5-4
Win For Punchard

Charlie "Bud" Souter, taking to the mound for the first time of his high school career, pitched his Punchard mates to a 5 to 4 triumph over Tewksbury at the Tewksbury diamond in a Merrimack Valley clash last Friday afternoon.

Although the home club tapped out 11 bingles, Souter, time and again pulled himself out of a hole, by mowing down 12 batters upon the right occasions. He also exhibited good control walking only two Tewksbury opponents.

Punchard's big inning came in the fourth, when trailing by a score of 2 to 1, Beauchesne beat out an infield hit and stole second. After Deyermund fled deep to center, Nick Mauceri poked a single into right field scoring Beauchesne and going to second after the throw home. Mauceri also continued to third when the Tewksbury pitcher threw wild to home. Walsh singled to center, driving in Mauceri, stole second and crossed the plate on a clean safety by Souter. Tewksbury finally snuffed out the rally, but not until three important runs had been scored by the Andover boys.

Punchard scored what proved to be the winning run in the sixth when with one out, Walsh singled, stole second and was sacrificed along to third by Watson. Gerrish promptly lined a drive into right scoring Walsh with the game winning run.

Abbot Notes...

The Abbot birthday bazaar has had its eighth successful season, and again the several causes, international, national, and local will share in this success.

Miss Marguerite C. Hearsey, principal, joined by all her associates, both students and faculty of Abbot take the opportunity afforded by the press to thank all who supported the bazaar: some with gifts to be sold as white elephants, some with material additions to the various booths, such as the homemade cakes, and delicacies for the day scholars' booth, and the variety of items either given or consigned by the business firms in Andover, Lawrence, Boston, and from the more distant patrons of the school. It is evident that the success of the bazaar is one to be shared in by the entire community. The afternoon seemed to be one of general enjoyment for those who came to Abbot, a thing in itself which makes the bazaar an event to which the community and the school as well look forward each year with pleasure.

The coming weekend will bring to Abbot two distinguished visitors who will take part in the programs to be presented: on Saturday evening, Dr. Randall Stewart, professor of English literature, Brown university, will make the annual Cum Laude address to the school, honoring the 1949 members of the Abbot chapter of the Cum Laude society. The address will take place in Abbot hall. On Sunday evening, instead of the customary vesper service, there is to be an organ recital at 7:30 o'clock in Davis hall to which the public is cordially invited. H. Frank Bozayan, assistant organist at Yale university, will play a program which will include works of Bach, Handel, Brahms, Hindemith and Mendelssohn. Mr. Bozayan's daughter, Ellnor, is a member of the class of 1949 to be graduated on June 6.

Opportunity Drive Opens In Andover

The treasury department's Opportunity drive opens across the nation today and finds Andover prepared to do its part and raise a sum substantially above the quota assigned.

Chairman Roy E. Hary today announced that Andover's quota, to be raised in the period from Monday, May 16 through June 30 amounts to $88,549.

This will be largely accomplished by means of increasing payroll deduction in the several industrial and mercantile plants, through intensifying the use of the Bond-A-Month plan in commercial banks and the increase of individual bond purchases through the banks and post offices of the town.

The volunteer committee will be assisted this year by the officers and members of the several service, veterans, fraternal, farm, and civic organizations of national scope, all of which have pledged the help of their membership.

Four Movie Stars Agree On Women

Men are so often the strong, silent type that it is not always easy to get their reactions to women's clothes and make-up styles. But now four masculine movie stars — Van Johnson, Ray Milland, Zachary Scott, and Gregory Peck have come forth with what they think about women. Writing in McCall's for May, Bertha Jancke Lueck tells you that they like short fingernails, sweaters and skirts, and very little makeup.

"Van Johnson likes the simple, tailored woman with no frills or bows: I like girls who — have freckles and aren't afraid to let them show, look as if they scrubbed their faces, wear simple, tailored suits, carry shoulder-strap bags, have natural-looking haircuts, keep their fingernails short, use light perfumes or toilet water, always wear stockings (and wear them straight)."

"I wish girls wouldn't — wear platform shoes or wedges or bows on their shoes, go in for elaborate hairdos, wear jewelry with shorts."

"Ray Milland likes pale, interesting women but hates too much mascara: I like girls who — have that pale, interesting look, talk intelligently, dress their hair to suit their faces, especially when they can pile it on top of their heads."

"I wish girls wouldn't — fiddle with their hair, wear ballet slippers, go in for matching accessories, go without stockings, wear slacks if they're short or shorts if they're tall."

"Zachary Scott prefers independent girls, but he hates gossip: I like girls who — underdress — don't try to hide their faces and figures with fancy clothes, cut their fingernails before they look like claws, use makeup to correct flaws, not to conceal their faces, wear sweaters and skirts, contribute something to the conversation."

"I wish girls wouldn't — follow the leader in clothes, hair and makeup, talk about themselves or gossip about other people all the time."

"Gregory Peck admires peaceful women, dislikes life-of-the-party types: I like girls who — are at peace with their own virtues and faults, dress to suit themselves, keep their fingernails inconspicuous, wear sweaters and skirts, don't worry constantly about the competition of other women, have a talent for homemaking."

"I wish girls wouldn't — wear bangs, ballet slippers and peasant skirts, knock themselves out being the life of the party."

Obituary

MRS CLYDE A. WHITE

Mrs. Ellen Marguerite (Ganter) White, 55, wife of Clyde A. White, 33 Washington ave., and a noted musician, died Saturday at the family home after a long illness.

A native of West Medford she came to Andover 22 years ago and was for many years identified with musical and social organizations in this area. She was a member of the Andover Community orchestra, the November club, the Chadwick club and the Boston Musicians' club. She was also a flutist in the famous Boston Fadettes.

Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Miss Jocelyn A. and Miss Carolyn M. White; a son, James A. White, all of Andover; two sisters, Miss Hazel Ganter of Boston and Mrs. Wilhelmina Worswick of Brookline; a brother, William D. Ganter of Winchester and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held Tuesday at 1:30 p.m., with services in the South Congregational church conducted by the Rev. Frederick B. Noss, pastor. Burial was in Vernon Grove cemetery, Milford. The bearers, all nephews, were: Leslie, Willard, Harold and Allen Ganter.

Even Chinese foods are showing up among frozen foods these days. It's now possible to buy foods such as shelled shrimp, shrimp chop suey, fried rice, chicken chow mein and Chinese egg roll.

Hospitals May Have Self-Service Rooms

Running a hospital has become so expensive that today many of them are on the brink of bankruptcy. And the shortage of nurses and orderlies, because of low pay and long hours, has put out of service, 32,100 of the 385,000 beds in voluntary hospitals, says Pathfinder news magazine.

Since the medical profession hasn't been able to do much about these problems, two Boston industrial engineers, Frederick Markus and Paul Nocka, decided to have a try. They spent a year studying every detail of hospital operation, but concentrating on the manpower-wasting private room. Recently they displayed models and blueprints of a new "self-service" room for private patients.

Smaller, simpler and more cheerful than standard rooms, it is designed to cut costs and to free nurses from constant attendance on patients who are well enough, given the right set-up, to take care of themselves. A similar but simpler set-up was developed and used in Army hospitals during the war.

The new room uses 112 square feet—30 per cent less than the present average. At the head of the bed are placed control of daylight (through a glass wall), artificial light, sickroom accessories, and a two-way microphone connection with nurses.

Toilet facilities are conveniently placed between adjoining rooms and privacy is assured by an arrangement which automatically prevents opening of the toilet-room from one side, when it is occupied by a patient from the other room.

Boston's Peter Brent Brigham Hospital is converting an old dormitory into a new $250,000 wing, consisting of 32 of the Markus-Nocka self-service rooms.

Start Solicitation For Building Fund

Solicitation in the Catholic parish phase of the $1,000,000 Merrimack college building fund campaign began this week in the more than 100 participating parishes of the northern sector of the Archdiocese of Boston. The volunteer parochial workers, exceeding 7000 in number, who will seek contributions from more than 60,000 of their fellow parishioners in the next few weeks have been asked to stress the memorial system of giving in their solicitation.

Trial Justice Charles W. Trombly, general chairman of the campaign stated, "In the new college there are many opportunities for the erection of attractive memorials dedicated in the memory of a loved one or in the name of a business concern. I can think of no greater tribute which could be paid to a mother or father, living or deceased, than to set aside a portion of the new college to perpetuate their memory. Nor could a business concern choose a better means of honoring its founder than the selection of a suitable memorial in this institution so necessary to the future well-being of our people. Every Catholic family and business concern should avail themselves of this seldom given opportunity to perpetuate the memory of someone who is dear to them."

"The memorials range in price from a few dollars to many thousands so that everyone can find a memorial to suit his means whether it be for a vital piece of equipment or an entire classroom," Judge Trombly continued. "A bronze plaque bearing your chosen inscription will be placed on the memorial to designate in whose honor the memorial has been taken."

Swiss guides often insist on silence when crossing dangerous spots because noise can loosen masses of ice and snow.

Phillips academy's athletic teams came out almost even in the weekend's contests, losing to Deerfield in lacrosse and tennis, winning over the Dartmouth freshmen in baseball by the tight score of 7-6, and splitting the honors in an unexpected triangular track meet with Northeastern and Boston university freshmen.

Andover's lacrosse team, which began the season by winning decisive victories over Governor Dummer and Manhasset (L.I.) High dopped a tough one to Harvard '42 last week, 13-11, as Harvard scored twice in a second overtime period, and lost again Saturday to a powerful Deerfield academy team.

Coach Steve Sorota's trackmen, who began their season by winning a decisive meet from the Tufts freshman team, only to take a pasting from Dartmouth '42 the following week, were all set for Northeastern freshmen last Saturday, only to find that the B.U. freshman team had come along too, under the impression that it was their day. In a sense it was, too, for in the triangular meet that followed, with Andover taking on both opponents, the B. U. team won, 70 1/2 to 55 1/2; Andover defeated Northeastern, 98 to 37.

The Andover baseball club maintained a margin of wins over losses, when, in the traditional seventh-inning of Saturday's game with the Dartmouth freshmen, Joe Wennik of Andover singled, Ed Ryan walked and Pete Gardere, whose performances on the gridiron last fall made eyes pop, singled again to load the bases. At this point Captain Ed Smith of Marblehead scored two runs with another single, and Curt Franklin scored a third run with another single. To date Andover has turned in six wins (over English, St. Sebastian's, New Hampshire freshmen, Brown freshmen, Brewster academy and Dartmouth freshmen) against losses to Dorchester High and Northeastern freshmen.

Do You Know Massachusetts?

DO YOU KNOW THAT.....A new directory of manufacturers just published by the department of labor and industries lists 187 of the 351 cities and towns in Massachusetts as having at least one manufacturing establishment employing 50 or more production workers....Of the 2,121 establishments named, 47% had 50 to 99 workers, 90% had fewer than 500 and 96.4% fewer than 1,000....The March total of real estate sales in suburban Boston was 32% larger than a year ago and even 9% more than in April last year....The New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, which received its charter from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts on April 1, 1835, was the first chartered mutual life insurance company in America....Records of the registry of motor vehicles show that in the motor vehicle accidents that killed 445 people in Massachusetts last year, 93% of the drivers at fault were male; 75% of the fatalities occurred in clear weather and 67% on clear, dry roads—impressive ratios even when we remember that the miles driven by males far exceed those by females and that clear driving weather predominates....The Worcester chamber of commerce reports a net increase of 118 industrial concerns in the Worcester area since 1945....The Boston public library has 31 branches in the city....The town of Middleton at its recent annual meeting adopted a comprehensive revision of its zoning bylaw.

Loans For Many Summer Needs Made Available

Prompt loans on several popular plans is the service offered by the Andover Finance Company in the Musgrove Building, Elm Square.

This local loan organization is owned and operated by Arthur Helfetz, a resident of Andover for over 30 years. A graduate of M.I.T., Mr. Helfetz served with the Army in World War II and held the rank of Lt. Colonel at the time of his discharge.

Mr. Helfetz states that the Andover Finance Company makes loans for practically every need. Vacations, the payment of taxes, auto repairs and home repairs are a few of the most frequent loans made. These loans, as is the case with all loans at this Finance Company, are made promptly without lengthy investigations, according to the management, and convenient monthly payments are arranged to suit individual requirements.

Recreation Committee Prepares For Season

As it prepares for the opening of the town's recreational facilities sometime late in June the Recreation committee is looking forward to providing the best possible programs that its budget will permit.

Last season it operated on an appropriation of $7914 which has been slightly increased this year to $8164, of which $5595 is for salaries and $2569 for supplies, equipment and repairs.

The committee operates five playgrounds. Last season the attendance on them was as follows: Ballardvale, 5400; Central 8670; Indian Ridge, 3300; Shawshoehn, 1800; West Center, 1530, a total of 20,700.

At the two bathing beaches last season attendance records show that more than 30,000 persons took advantage of the facilities there.

The skating program last winter was somewhat curtailed due to the lack of freezing weather, but the committee enlarged the central area, obtained a fair size darea for skating near Carter's corner, and at Ballardvale flooded part of the playground when conditions permitted. Shawshoehn residents had permission to use the fine skating area at the Sacred Heart school.

Floral Tributes For Memorial Day

Flowers and plants, the color voices of spring, are now to be seen in glorious array at the shop of J.H. Playdon, florist, at 60 Main st. and at the Playdon greenhouses at 35 Lowell st. Shawshoehn.

Noted for the excellence of their stocks of floral beauty, Playdon's teems with plants of all varieties as Memorial Day approaches. For this important holiday, Playdon's will, as in years past, present an excellent selection of floral tributes in the forms of cut flowers, sprays, wreaths and potted plants.

Of particular interest to gardeners at this time of year are the Playdon shrubs and plants of every description. The selection is so complete that it permits the gardener to plan for just the right color harmonies to produce desired garden effects.

Playdon's features a prompt delivery service and telephone requests receive immediate and careful attention.

aid persons who have business with the town officials. Many residents who visit the town house to pay taxes have wandered into other offices in search for the tax collector, whose office has but one entrance, that fronting Main street. Other visitors to the ancient edifice have spent some time going through the corridors in search for an office and it is expected that the new signs will help them expedite their business with as little delay as possible.

Women Voters League To Meet At Log Cabin

The League of Women Voters of Andover will hold its annual meeting at the Log Cabin at Phillips academy, at 12:45 p.m., Tuesday May 17. Members are asked to bring a box lunch; coffee and dessert will be served.

Mrs. Alan J. Morse, president of the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts, who has recently returned from the council meeting in Washington, will give members the latest developments in league affairs. Prospective members are cordially invited to attend.

TELEVISION SEEN
REVOLUTIONIZING
OUR HOME LIFE

Television is not only here to stay, but it is fast taking over the entertainment field, and completely revolutionizing home and family life. Experts estimate that there will be more than 3,000,000 television sets in American homes by the end of this year, as against 8,000 three years ago, and that three years from now about half the country's homes will be equipped with TV. How this has changed, and will change the pattern of family living and what effect it will have on American movies and sports is graphically told by James Poling, Writing in Redbook magazine for May, he also tells you what to look out for before you take the final plunge and buy a set for your own family.

"By the end of this year, fifty per cent of our population will be within range of one of the 100-odd stations that are then expected to be on the air; the federal communications commission expects 400 stations to be telecasting from 140 cities by 1953. An East-Midwest network is now in operation, and the two coasts should be linked by the end of 1950. However, if you live in a sparsely populated area, such as Nevada or upper New York State, TV may be many years in reaching you.

"Once your set is installed, television will proceed to rearrange your home life and social activities for you. On the producing end, TV is in a state of confusion from which it is best to avert the mind. But on the receiving end discernible patterns are beginning to emerge. And they strongly indicate that, for better or for worse, your home will never be the same again.

"To show you how probable this is, here are some hitherto unpublished figures, compiled by Columbia university bureau of applied social research. Under the guidance of Drs. Paul Lazarsfeld and Leo Strole, both pioneers in the study of the effect of mass media on our social life, the bureau conducted an intensive pilot study of the effects of television on a medium-income group of set owners in the New York metropolitan area. Here are some of the findings:

"The principal effect of ownership is a tightening of the family bonds.

"Two-thirds of the families spend far more time at home than ever before, but lead a far more active social life within the home.

"Half of the families report that, because of increased entertainment of guests, they are spending more money.

"On the nights the family has guests they average seven for sport telecasts and five for other events.

"Two-thirds of the families report engaging in conflict, to varying degrees, over the programs to be viewed.

"Sixty per cent have changed either their own or their children's dinner hour, and in one out of eight families, one or more members of the family eat in front of the screen.

"One-quarter of the adults and fifty per cent of the children have had their sleeping-hours affected.

"Although the children are being kept off the streets, their school homework is being affected.

"Families average more than three hours a day spent with their sets; these hours are deducted from other social and home activities.

"Furthermore, no unbiased study made to date has uncovered any real evidence that TV's appeal wears off with time. Over ninety per cent of the set owners still think television is either 'wonderful' or 'good'.

"A not-unlikely prediction is that Hollywood will be forced into the production of fewer but much better pictures, in an effort to sustain attendance at the first-run houses while devoting the major part of its time to the making of pictures specially designed for telecasting.

"Sports promoters are another sad-faced group at the moment. They have occupational nightmares of empty stands, even though they know that sports have been given disproportionate time on TV because they are the most convenient and attractive time-fillers available. The fact that NBC, because of commercial commitments, has dropped its New York Giants baseball telecasts indicates that sports will eventually seek the same level in TV that they now have in radio.

COTTON CHAMELEON

Here's a versatile, new season dress which can change its effect at the drop of a piece of scenery. With a skyscraper backdrop, it's the crisp and appropriate affair shown in the picture. Switch the backdrop to country club or sand dunes and — presto — the jacket comes off and the wearer looks smart while catching the sun. The dress is of Raycrest cotton, available in oxford, blue, brown or green, and sells for about $18. It's one of the new cotton fashions shown in the May issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

"In actually buying a set you should check it carefully for:

"Ability to provide a good picture from a signal of minimum strength.

"Resistance to interference.

"Lack of distortion, steadiness and clarity of detail in the image.

"Quality of sound.

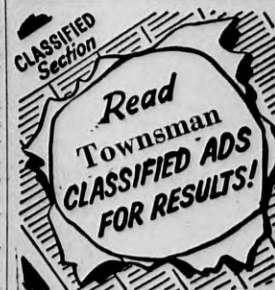

"Convenience of controls.

"Don't buy a set unless you can be guaranteed expert installation, servicing and parts-replacement; your local radio repairman doesn't automatically qualify as a television trouble-shooter. Be at home when your set is installed and check the installation with a 'test pattern' to be sure the machine is functioning as advertised. Don't be surprised if, later, your machine occasionally produces snowfalls, ghosts or geometric nightmares."

CLAN AUXILIARY

The Ladies auxiliary, 42 to Clan Johnston held its regular business meeting recently in the Square and Compass hall. A successful white elephant sale was held following the meeting and refreshments were served. Two new members will be initiated at the next meeting which will be held at 7:45 p.m. Thursday, May 19.

Peppy sea food cocktails make an impressive beginning for dressed-up dinner menus. To make them even better, cut ripe olives into quarters and include with the dressing.

Who pays the rent and taxes of the out of town pedler, door to door solicitor, mail order house and big city stores? We have exactly the same expenses in this community.

By raising the assessment value of our town, we lower the tax cost per individual. The larger the volume of business done here, the higher the assessment value of our town.

Isn't it better economy to spend your money in town?

CHRIST CHURCH FAIR

Christ church will again have an all-day spring fair with a supper on May 21.

All the committees are very busy at work making plans for this gala fair that was such a success last year. There will be a delicious supper served at 5:30 p.m., and again at 6:30 p.m., by the supper committee whose chairmen are, Mrs. Irvin Wilkinson and Mrs. Edward Dean. Tickets for the supper may be obtained from the ticket committee in charge of Mrs. Winsor Gale and there will be absolutely no tickets for sale at the door. The presale of tickets shows that they are going very fast and there is a limited seated capacity. There will be many attractive booths and also for the children's enjoyment, there will be pony rides and balloons for sale.

POLICE NOTES

Boys playing around the board of public works yard off Buxton st. Sunday broke windows and moved some of the equipment around, according to reports made to the police.

Sometime between Saturday noon and Monday morning tools and equipment belonging to the board of public works were taken from a room in the basement of the John Dove school.
