School Bells To Call 3790 To Studies Here Next Month

Large Increase Over Year Ago Due To Influx of Boxford Pupils and New Class at Merrimack College

POMP'S ENDS SEASON WITH WATER SHOW

The two-day aquatic celebration of a successful season at Pomp's pond municipal bathing beach was enjoyed on the weekend of Aug. 20 and 21 by a huge crowd of patrons and interested spectators. The weather was ideal throughout the presentation with sunny skies, cool breezes and dry atmosphere prevailing. Entertainment was the feature of the Saturday program while on Sunday competitive swimming wound up the season's schedule.

Saturday, with Head Lifeguard Donald D. Dunn as master of ceremonies, a sketch entitled "The Origin of Swimming" depicted the early caveman's attempt to overcome water barriers. The stage of the play was the Pomp's pond

The school bells of Andover will ring out next month summoning 3790 to their studies in the various schools of the town.

This number is an increase of more than 300 over the number that responded last year, the greater part of the difference being due to larger enrollments in the high schools and in Merrimack college.

The attendance at both Pynchard and the Junior High school will take a big jump this year by the acceptance of pupils from Boxford to both schools. At Merrimack college a new class of freshmen will add about 150 students to the rolls.

The first call of the school bells will be sounded Wednesday, Sept. 7 for pupils of the public schools and St. Augustine's school. Enrollment in the public schools this year is expected to be near 1650 in comparison with the 1537 enrolled at the opening last year. Part of this jump is due to the annual increase of children reach-

VIEWS OF THE NEWS

By LEONARD F. JAMES

The popular name of "talking shop" was long ago given to parliament, before that body could alone legislate for the people of England. In this sense the town of Strasbourg in eastern France has become the talking shop of Europe. It is now officially the capital of Europe. It has probably earned this right over most European towns, for it is one of the oldest on the continent and it has had a chequered history of strife. Repeatedly has war disrupted its life and turned its people and its wealth over to the victor. In the last seventy years alone it has changed hands four times, alternatingly being German and then French.

But the events of this month give hope to its citizens that never again shall enemy troops cross the two miles from the west bank of the Rhine and destroy its peace. Today it is the home of the Council of Europe, a parliament that is not a true parliament and yet may one day become one in fact. Today it is only a talking shop where opinions may be expressed and registered but not enacted into law. But this puny child's step may grow stronger until it lengthens into the mature stride of a United

Lynn Firm To Build Homes For Veterans

Awarded Contract On Low Bid of $549,546 For Morton Street Work

The Benoit Construction Co., of Willow st., Lynn, with the low bid of $549,546 has been awarded the contract for construction of the veterans' housing project on Morton street.

This action was taken at a meeting of the Andover Housing authority Friday night and is subject to approval of the state housing authority.

Approval of the state board was received Wednesday. The local authority will issue a proceed order for the work to start Aug. 29.

At a meeting of the local authority with Mr. Benoit Tuesday night the latter agreed to accept the lower sub-contractors for plumbing and heating, thus reducing the total amount of the bid to $546,453.

This means that the heating will be done by A. E. Pearley of Haverhill at a bid of $67,022; the plumbing by John J. Gaffney & Sons, Lawrence, at a bid of $33,390; and the electrical work by J. F. Bulger of Lawrence, whose bid was one of those included in the Benoit Construction Co.'s original bid.

Speeders Stopped On Main Street

The names of 25 speeders have been sent to the registry of motor vehicles during the past few weeks for suspensions of their licenses.

Most of these speeders have been stopped on Main street, Police Chief George A. Dane said. "Some of them were going 50 miles an hour in a 40 mile zone and some were going 40 miles an hour in a 30 mile zone," he added, as he recalled the protest he made about increasing the speed limit from 25 miles an hour in the North Main street and Shawheen Village area.

Engineers from the state traffic engineer's office were here about three weeks ago checking traffic in Shawheen Village for about two hours but the local police have received no new information about their findings.

RUMMAGE SALE

The March circle of the Free church Woman's union will sponsor a rummage sale in the lower vestry at 9 a. m., Saturday, Sept. 10.

Church To Have Interim Pastor

The Rev. George F. Beecher, retired, former pastor of the Calvary Baptist, Lawrence, will serve as interim pastor of the local Baptist church until the successor to the Rev. Wendell L. Bailey is chosen.

The Rev. Mr. Bailey last June submitted his resignation as pastor of the Baptist church to accept a call from the Green Street Baptist church, Melrose. The resignation is effective Sept. 1.

The Rev. Mr. Beecher for many years served the Calvary Baptist church and is widely known outside the Greater Lawrence area. He makes his home at 42 Olive st., Methuen.

Burke To Receive USMC Commission

James W. Burke, of 383 N. Main st., is among those who will receive degrees at the summer commencement exercises of Marietta College, to be held Sunday, Aug. 28.

Mr. Burke majored in sociology and will be awarded the bachelor of arts degree. At Marietta, he played on the football team during 1947-48. Following his graduation, he will receive a commission in the marine corps.

Serio Appointed Town Sealer

Joseph Serio of Lowell junction was appointed sealer of weights and measures by the board of selectmen at Monday night's meeting. The appointment is effective Sept. 1.

Mr. Serio, a veteran, was the only one to qualify in the recent civil service examination held to establish an eligible list for the office vacated by Lewis N. Mears. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Carter, and Henry Boulanger requested the board to have Stevens street, a private way, plowed out next winter. There are three houses and a camp on the street at the present time. It was voted to request the board of public works to have the plowing done.

Albert E. Gilman of Lowell st., and Franklin T. Ellis of 109 Elm st., were drawn as traverse jurors for a session of superior court opening at Lawrence Sept. 19. The next regular meeting of the board will be held the evening of Monday, Sept. 12.

New Lighting For Business District

Area To Have 18 New Vapor Lights Similar To Those In Shawheen

Employees of the Lawrence Gas & Electric Co. are engaged in installing 18 new mercury vapor lights in Elm square and the adjacent sections of Main street.

The lights will be erected on new standards at a minimum height of 25 feet and will be similar to those installed earlier in the year in Shawheen square.

The Shawheen lights, Sidney P. White chairman of the board of public works says, have drawn many favorable comments from residents of the village and motorists who drive through there at night time. The police department, too, is pleased with the improvement as it illuminates a busy thoroughfare which in comparison has been but dimly lighted after dark.

The new lights in the town will be placed about the square and through the heart of the business district. It is expected that their installation will take several weeks.

Miss Bailey Joins Methuen Faculty

Miss Mary G. Bailey, 86 Elm st., prominent in the business and fraternal life of the town for several years, has been appointed supervisor of drawing in the Methuen public schools. The appointment is for one year. Miss Bailey will assume her duties at the opening of school next month with a starting salary of $2600.

The action was taken at a meeting of the Methuen school board Monday night in filling a vacancy caused by a resignation. The new appointee is a graduate of the art department of Boston university and attended the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. She taught in the local schools from 1932 to 1942. Long identified with veterans' affairs she was one of the founders and the first commander of the All-Woman's post of the American Legion.

Four Candidates For Town Engineer

The board of public works Wednesday night interviewed three candidates for the office of town engineer which will be vacated Sept. 1, when the resignation of Charles T. Gilliard takes effect.

Another candidate for the position was interviewed at a recent meeting. The board will meet next Monday night at which time it is expected that the appointment will be made.

Final Programs On Playgrounds

The town playgrounds closed last week with a large number of youngsters taking part in the final programs.

Highlight of the events that brought activities to a close was the street carnival held at Ballardvale. An elaborate program had been arranged by the committee in charge headed by Bart Smalley. Originally scheduled for Thursday night it had to be postponed until Friday because of rain.

Part of Andover street was blocked off for dancing, various booths for the sale of foodstuffs and cold drinks were arranged on the side, and on the playground youngsters enjoyed pony rides. Also on display during the evening were various products of handicraft which showed some of the work of the children during the season.

The gold medal for the most outstanding work on the playground was awarded to Miss Rita Rouillard. Mrs. Clyde Mears won the salad set drawn during the evening. All equipment was taken down last Friday after the closing

Housing Authority Seeks Delegate

With the work on the veterans' housing development to start soon the Andover Housing authority is looking for a qualified man to represent it on the project during construction.

Applicants should be familiar with plans and specifications and must have a record of experience in the supervision of building construction. The man selected will work on the site under the supervision of Clinton F. Goodwin, the architect.

Persons having the necessary qualifications should communicate with Atty. Charles G. Hatch, 301 Essex st., Lawrence, chairman of the authority, and should be prepared to furnish in letter form a statement of qualification and experience. The salary will be arranged.

Pynchard High school will be well represented this fall in the number of 1949 graduates entering institutions of higher learning.

Records at the office of Bernard M. Kellmurray, guidance director, disclose that 42 per cent of last June's graduating class will continue their education at advanced schools. This is an increase of eight per cent over a year ago.

Scholarship awards have been widely distributed to entering students by various groups and by the schools selected. A total of $2775 was granted to several of the graduates by the Pynchard Trustees, Pynchard Alumni association, Andover Grange, the Andover Service club, Mt. Holyoke college, Russell Sage college and the full tuition scholarship inherent in admission to the Massachusetts Maritime academy.

As far as guidance department records show, all of the students who applied for admission to advanced study have been admitted.

The final list is as follows: Colleges and universities—David Anderson, Northeastern university; Patricia Black, Russell Sage college; Janice Bowen, Russell Sage college; Sebastian Cavallaro, University of Massachusetts; Ruth Ann Chadwick, Mount Holyoke college; Betty Jane Cronin, Boston university; Herbert DeVeaux, Howard university; Russell Doyle, Colgate university; Carl Gahan, Jr., University of New Hampshire; Robert

Need Spray Guns To Paint Bleachers

Several members of the Boosters' club who have been painting bleachers at different times during the summer in order to have them ready for the first football game next month are anxious to get a few spray guns to accelerate the work.

The bleachers are the portable ones obtained last year and erected on the east side of the football field for the closing games of the season. They are now stored in one of the school buildings.

About 3000 feet will have to be painted twice. Volunteers have been doing the work on and off during the summer but there remains so much to be done in the next few weeks that the use of several spray guns would be welcome. Anybody who has one to loan is asked to get in touch with James P. Christie, town tax collector.

SCHOOL OFFICE OPEN

The Junior high school office will be open week days from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. to allow parents to discuss pupils' courses. Benjamin F. Dimlich, a member of the school faculty acting for the principal, will be available to go over matters with newcomers to town or the parents of children who are entering junior high. Milton H. Nelson, principal of the school for the past two years, has resigned to become superintendent of schools in Nahant.

Urges Study Of Traffic Signs

Can you read sign language? If you can't, then it's a matter of life and death that you learn it quickly, the National safety council says.

You don't have to be an Indian, though, to learn this sign language. It is the kind that appears on signs along the highway to warn you of danger.

Almost 60 per cent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents were violating a traffic regulation at the time, according to the council. And three out of every four pedestrians killed were violating some regulation.

Such disregard of the "signs of life" is the reason for a nationwide campaign to impress upon the public the standard shapes of signs so that their meaning will be easily recognized. Better understanding of the meaning of sign shapes, signals and pavement markings will promote better observation and increased safety, the council believes.

CARNIVAL A SUCCESS

As always the people of Ballardvale cooperated with the members of the playground committee to carry through a successful carnival.

Bart Smalley as chairman had many willing parents as workers on the various tables selling everything from white elephants to hot dogs.

The children had their thrills with rides on the pony and donkey. The young and old enjoyed the block dancing including new and old dances. A fortune teller was also present to add to the merriment of the evening.

The large sum realized from the carnival will be used to purchase playground equipment.

VISITED SISTERS

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Greenwood Sr., of Tewksbury st., and Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson (Ruth Greenwood) of Ballardvale rd., visited Mr. and Mrs. Merton Hunt (Flossie Greenwood) of Chester, N.H., last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Oska (Mable Greenwood) of Randolph, Vt., were visiting at the Hunts. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Colbath formerly of Ballardvale and now living in Plainsfield, N.J. were also visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hunt over the week end.

Held Family Party

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bouleau and family of Andover st., and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Frost and sons of Reading spent Sunday at Crane's beach where corn and hot dogs were roasted over the fireplaces.

Lynn Firm To Build Homes For Veterans

The bid was received at a largely attended meeting at which Atty. Charles G. Hatch, chairman of the authority, presided and read the bids.

Other members of the authority present were Douglas Crockett, vice-chairman; Winthrop Newcomb, treasurer; Ernest M. Hall, assistant treasurer, and Atty. Joseph M. Corwin of Boston, executive director. Also present in the interest of the state was John Thornton of Somerville, construction engineer for the state housing authority in charge of Essex county.

Bids were submitted by six general contractors. They each contained a general bid and bids of sub-contractors on plumbing, heating and electrical work.

They were as follows: Benoit Construction Co., general work, $413,641, sub contracts, $135,905, total, $549,546; S. S. Carter Co., 77 Riverdale st., Methuen: general work, $486,188, sub contract, $133,812, total, $620,000; George Fichera, 3 Maple st., Lawrence general work, $513,800; sub contracts, $132,812, total, $646,612; Champy Construction Co., 83 Jackson st., Lawrence: general work, $516,935 sub contracts, $134,212, total, $651,147; Davison Construction Co., Elm st., Manchester, N.H., general work, $539,688; sub contracts, $132,812, total, $672,500.

Bids of the various sub contractors were: plumbing: James R. Tetler, Inc., Lawrence, $34,535; L. W. Baddock & Sons, Haverhill, $45,652; Henry B. Byers, Marblehead, $39,935; John J. Gaffney &

Sons, Lawrence, $33,390; M. T. Walsh Co., Andover, $44,748; Modern Plumbing & Heating Co., Lawrence, $34,940; John Ventura Co., Lawrence $40,000; Francis H. Maroney, Haverhill, $40,200; Domenick Mangano & Sons, Lawrence, $39,200.

Heating: John Ventura Co., Lawrence, $69,000; Francis H. Maroney, Haverhill, $68,900; Domenick Mangano & Sons, $77,000; Arthur E. Perley, Haverhill, $67,022; Industrial Heating and Piping Co., Reading, $89,760; Bride Grimes & Co., Lawrence, $75,250.

Electrical: Juba and Alad, Lawrence, $33,800; Joseph F. Bulger, $32,400; Mandi Electrical corporation, Lawrence, $35,554.

The project includes 12 buildings of 56 dwelling units with a central heating plant.

Actual breaking ground for the new development is expected to take place very soon, probably early next week.

NEW DECLINE IN INFANT MORTALITY REPORTED BY U. N.

Although infant mortality figures still vary greatly from country to country, all babies born since World War II, regardless of the place of their birth, have a much better chance of survival than those born before the war.

This contention is upheld by the latest issue of the U.N. monthly bulletin of statistics, which shows a marked decline in infant mortality throughout the world during the past decade.

The most dramatic reduction in infant mortality since 1937 occurred in countries where pre-war mortality rates were exceptionally high and where, therefore, there were correspondingly great possibilities for improvement.

Notable examples of such countries are Chile where infant mortality declined from 241 deaths per thousand in 1937 to 160 in 1948; Costa Rica with a reduction of 50 per 1,000; Portugal; Puerto Rico; Trinidad, and Venezuela.

The decline in infant mortality rates during the past decades was less spectacular in countries where the infant mortality rate had already reached a relatively low level before the war.

The mortality rate in New Zealand, for example, declined from 31 infant deaths per thousand live births in 1937 to 22 in 1948—the lowest rate recorded. In the United States the rate fell from 54 in 1937 to 32 in 1948.

Approach to the Ballet Franks

In this book on the ballet A. H. Franks, assistant editor of the "Dancing Times", has addressed himself particularly to the newcomer to ballet, believing that only as it is studied and understood can it be fully appreciated.

Well Illustrated.

Must we Hide Lapp

In this book, the author hopes to clear away much of the misinformation and lack of information that most Americans have about the atomic bomb. He has attempted to present the whole truth, for the main facts are not top secrets and can be told.

Homemaking can be easy Toig

With the application of common sense and the principles of planned home management, home making can be made easier, according to the author, who considers in this book, time budgets, room arrangements, planned housekeeping, washing and ironing clothes, kitchen management and meal planning. Illustrated.

Overcoat Meeting Chamberlain

Although their families are feuding, two young people, Jeddo and Mit, devoted to one horse, Spring Hannover, manage to become great friends. With a background of trotting races in Southern New Jersey, this book will be especially enjoyed by racing and horse enthusiasts.

Off to College Emerson

Good for the college bound girl in the wide range of subjects it covers: reasons for going to college, the choice of a college, the questions of clothes, budgets, the problems of dates and sororities and other non-curricular activities.

The Evening and the Morning Sorenson

The lives of three generations come into vision in this story of three generations in a period of six days during a Mormon celebration—but it is mostly the story of Kate Alexander, daughter of Scotch Irish immigrants and of Peter Jansen who loved her.

Children Discover Stern

An Introduction to Structural Arithmetic. Of interest to teachers particularly although some parents may find help in this book which explains the methods and aims of the new system of education in number work.

Quartet Maugham

Interesting because of the English film of this title which has been recently released. A collection of four unrelated episodes: The Facts of Life; The Alien Corn; The Kite; The Colonel's Lady.

Steelwork on eighteen of the 39 stories of the United Nations Secretariat building in mid-Manhattan, New York, was completed in July when this picture was taken. A contract was signed by U.N. and the American Bridge Company for the furnishing and erection of structural steel for the meeting hall area of the Permanent Headquarters. The contract calls for 10,500 tons of structural steel at a cost of $2,225,000. Delivery is to be made by next October, and erection is expected to be completed by April or May 1950.

LET BOY BE A BOY

There comes a time in the early life of every aspiring Frank Buck when his world revolves around a milk bottle containing a frog or lizard which he has "captured" with a boy's ingenuity. So, for childhood Heaven's sake, don't order him to get rid of his new pet while he remains under its spell. To him, it is as precious as your first cake-baking prize or bridge trophy is to you. Furthermore, the What's Good for Pets columns of Good Housekeeping magazine says that tree toads are easy-to-care-for and that their singing in the early evening is pleasant to hear. The August issue tells how to keep them in outdoor cages.

About 13 per cent of the live weight of a pig is lard.

Couple Observe Golden Wedding

A large number of relatives and friends gathered Sunday, August 14 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Donald, 22 Wolcott ave., as the couple celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

A large anniversary cake decorated with candles and roses was one of the features of the affair at which the couple received a large number of gifts.

Married in Andover Aug. 15, 1899 by Prof. John Wesley Churchill, uncle of Mr. Donald, Mr. and Mrs. Donald have two daughters, Miss Jean J. Donald and Helen Coupe, wife of Edward Coupe of Marblehead.

Mrs. Donald is the former Jean S. Ritchie of Andover. Mr. Donald operates a leather business in Boston and has been commuting for 57 years.

In China and Japan, windows are usually covered with paper, cloth or shell.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

OUR WATER SUPPLY

That the town has an adequate water supply to provide for all needs was amply demonstrated during the past weeks during the worst drought on record.

A long and heavy drain on Haggetts pond saw the surface gradually getting lower until it was 41 inches below normal, yet the capacity of the spring-fed pond was so great that the intake pipe was still 12 feet under water.

It was back in 1879 that the question of "an adequate water supply for fire extinguishing purposes" was first agitated in the town. Subsequent investigations led to a committee recommending at a town meeting in April 1889 that water be taken from Haggetts pond. The recommendation was adopted, appropriations made, and on March 3, 1890 the pumping engine was started for the first time and on March 11 water was first pumped into the reservoir from Haggetts pond.

That the choice back in 1889 was a wise one is shown by the way the body of water, the surface of which with a full pond covers 217.6 acres, has served all uses of the town. It provides water for industrial, commercial, municipal, agricultural and domestic purposes. The amount used by the first three groups are comparatively small, according to a survey made a few years ago. Water for agricultural purposes has been increasing as well as that for domestic purposes, the latter due to the town's growth and the increasing use of plumbing fixtures.

It is estimated that the domestic use is 40 — 50 gallons per person daily. This includes lawn sprinkling, watering vegetable and flower gardens, washing autos and private use.

Here in Andover where the average rainfall of 36 inches yearly may be less this year, the pond may be slow in getting back to normal, yet with the annual consumption totalling better than 505 million gallons the pond is considered by engineers to be capable of furnishing sufficient supply for years to come.

BEST SELLERS

No longer can it be rightly said that publications turned out by the United States government are dry, dull books filled with statistics that interest only a few.

That old belief is certainly belied by the figures of sales just released from the government printing office at Washington indicating that some of Uncle Sam's publications have a widespread audience that places them high in the class of "best sellers."

Listed in the number one position is "Your Child From 6 — 12" of which nearly 50,000 copies were sold in June. "Care and Repair of the House" is placed second with an output of better than 9000 a week. "Parental Care" is now selling at better than 5000 a week and "Infant Care" has sold more than 5.5 million copies and is still averaging 5000 a week.

Scanning the list it is of interest to note that four of the first five "best sellers" are publications about the care of children and the other, number two on the list, concerns the care and repair of the house.

These government figures would seem to indicate that with all the isms, fads and foibles that besiege us, the nation is still greatly interested in the family and the home and is striving to improve them.

WHO GETS THE BENEFITS?

In 1948 one of the biggest automobile manufacturers made profits of 9.4c per $1.00 of sales. This profit—less than 10% — is the incentive that keeps this business at work. Let's look at the people it benefited.

First were the employees, who collected $1,343,000,000 in wages and salaries.

The next group that benefited was Federal, state and local governments that took $464,000,000 in taxes.

Finally the owners—434,000 of them—received $211,000,000.

This is the way the cash benefits from this company were shared: Owners, $1.00; Government Tax Collectors, $2.18; Employees, $6.37.

The customers bought better automobiles than they could buy forty years ago, and they paid only a little more than half as much for them.

Profit keeps this company going. The employees receive the largest share of the benefit. Government takes the next largest share. The stockholders who put up the money to build this corporation and who run the risk of loss, receive the smallest share of all.

Thirteen Nations in the Council

Like a parliament or congress the Council of Europe has in effect an upper and a lower house. When it opened in the great hall of the University of Strasbourg on August 8, the upper house consisted of the committee of ministers—the foreign minister of each of the charter members. Within a few days thirteen nations had joined and sent 101 delegates in proportion to the populations of Great Britain, the Benelux countries of Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, and the nations of France, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Italy, Ireland, Greece, Turkey and Iceland.

What Can It Do?

The foreign minister of each member nation is automatically a member of the upper house, because the council's chief function is foreign policy. This committee has so far retained the right to draw up the agenda of subjects which may be discussed by the assembly or lower house. The assembly delegates are selected by the member nation either at the prime minister's appointment or by parliamentary election. If the latter method is used the representation is generally along party lines in proportion to party strength. The assembly has no law-making powers; it can merely recommend action. And no government of member states can be obliged to accept such recommendations. Matters recommended by the assembly can be dismissed by the Committee of Ministers without explanation.

What Caused It?

Is the Council of Europe merely a paper program? Of what use is it if its recommendations do not bind member governments individually or collectively? The reason for its existence may explain why it was created and what for. The nations of Europe know that they are faced with economic and political and social problems that cannot be solved by the little independent areas that make up the patchwork pattern of the continent. War has drained them of full vigor, and the threat of possible war strangles initiative and effort. Separately each nation can stifle itself within its own borders or be trampled upon by the enemy from outside. United together they can achieve a common end of security and well-being. No outsider can do the job for them. Although assistance may come from outside, initiative must be theirs alone.

Certain events of the post-war years have put into operation this Council of Europe. Three factors have largely contributed to the incentive. Russian truculence has convinced free peoples that continued freedom must be earned, not merely expected. United States aid of the last decade has provided much of the inspiration. That service to Europe we can be proud of, particularly since it has been generous and without niggardly demands and restrictions. The third factor is the growing realization that separate nations can no longer depend upon their own wish for neutrality or their independent efforts for protection.

What Can We Expect From It?

So the spirit has developed. But what of its promise for real union? The answer is not simple. And too much cannot be expected yet. The truth may be that governments dare not refuse to join the council. The people want security, and history points clearly to future union of interests and ultimately of action. There may be pessimists, there will certainly be cynics, who will say that the enterprise is so vast and difficult that nationalistic governments need not worry about interference from the council, for agreement will never be reached. Some will say that the young emotion and enthusiasm of early days will wilt in the face of hard-headed politics. But it should be considered that emotion is by no means the driving-force behind the Council of Europe. Practical instinct for self-preservation is the motive force that instinct will strengthen because of dangers yet to be faced.

The Council of Europe is supposed not to be concerned primarily, if at all, with military and

JAMES P. SCOBIE

Safety first plays a prominent role in the life of the James P. Scobie family of High Plain rd. for Mr. Scobie is safety engineering supervisor for the Employers' Liability Assurance company. Born in Dundee, Scotland 36 years ago, he has made his home in Andover since 1923.

After graduation from Pynchard High school, he attended Northeastern university where he received his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering in 1934. Prior to his present position he was associated with the U.S. Rubber company and the Mason Neilan Regulator company as sales engineer, and during the last war he served as a Lieutenant in the navy, which rank he now holds in the naval reserve.

An active church man, he is a member of the South church Men's club, treasurer of South church, and for the past two years has played on the inter-church basketball team.

Also president of the Safety Engineering societies, Mr. Scobie and his wife, the former Helen Foster, have two sons, Robert and James P. Scobie, Jr.

economic issues. These are presumed to be covered by the Atlantic Alliance and the Organization for European Economic Co-operation. The concern of the council is supposed to be primarily political, the common action of members on foreign affairs of interest to them all. As a beginning such a restriction may be wise. Yet inevitably all phases of inter-nation life must be of prime consideration. And although the council can be labelled a mere debating society, even an expression of its opinion must carry considerable weight.

The council has a value that is not yet too apparent. Through it the British and the French may be influenced to pull together on the problem of Germany. France fears a revived Germany, and is worried that Britain fails to appreciate her concern. If the council develops, then Germany must some day be admitted. When that time comes, France will outgrow her fear of the Rhine boundary and will be interested in the broader problems of Europe. Britain must inevitably become less insular and see beyond the channel.

Progress Will Be Slow

The United States should not criticize Europe for its slowness in arriving at common action, for the difficulties to be overcome are not easily eliminated. There is still a strong carryover of political rivalries that separate parties at home and nations abroad; there are generations of thinking in terms of geographical boundaries to be unlearned, and there are barriers of language and racial rivalries. But the driving force of security can eventually overcome these difficulties. This is the continent's first experiment in a common talking shop. Its members sit as individuals in alphabetical order of names national groups do not sit together; there are no national signs or banners to emphasize blocs of delegates from each country. For the first time Europe sends men supposedly to represent ideas, not nations. Some day the talking shop will become a real House of Commons or Communities speaking for the whole. The Council of Europe is young and shaky. But it has a tremendous opportunity for growth and profound contribution to peace.

Building permits issued in 142 Massachusetts cities and towns during the first seven months of 1949 show 11,403 new dwelling units started and 1,387 family accommodations created by improvements to existing buildings, as reported by the department of labor and industries. This total, 12,790 units, was 11.6% more than in the same months last year, but included some 3,000 publicly built veteran dwellings, so that private home building for the seven months totaled about 11% fewer dwellings than a year ago. . . . Massachusetts people have more than $6 billion in liquid available savings, an amount equal to the state's entire retail trade over nearly two year's time. It is distributed among more than 70% of all residents who have incomes, according to estimates based on the federal reserve board's national survey. . . . The state housing board now has executed contracts for financial assistance with 78 cities and towns of the commonwealth, providing for 9,033 new veterans' dwelling units, estimated to cost $112,212,000. Of these, 879 units have been completed and 3,158 are under construction. . . . ing school age, and part to the vote of the school committee last January in deciding to accept the high and junior high pupils of Buxford, approximately 55 in number.

St. Augustine's again will have its capacity enrollment of 380 youngsters the same attendance as last year.

Next to open will be the Sacred Heart school in Shawsheen Village where 230 boys are expected to return Sunday, Sept. 11. This means an increase of five over the 225 attendance.

The Pike school will open Wednesday, Sept. 14, with a capacity enrollment of 170, the same as last year. Pike school enrollment includes youngsters from the nursery class to the eighth grade.

The Phillips academy will welcome another capacity enrollment on Monday, Sept. 19 when 725 boys will start the new term, the same number as a year ago.

The next day, Tuesday, Sept. 20, will find 185 girls ready to start classes at Abbot academy, 150 being the regular number of boarding students and 35 day students. This is the same total enrollment that Abbot had last September.

The last to open will be Merrimack college. Registrations will be held from Sept. 22 to 24 and classes will begin Thursday, Sept. 29. Merrimack next month will be starting its third season. It will welcome a class of 150 freshmen together with its former students to the sophomore and junior classes, a total of 450 compared with the 300 who enrolled for the opening in 1948.

SACRED HEART SCHOOL

An enrollment of 230 students is expected at the Sacred Heart school on the opening day Sept. 11.

Brother Claver, formerly at Mt. St. Charles academy, Woonsocket, R.I., has been made headmaster, succeeding Brother Peter who has gone to the Sacred Heart academy at Central Falls, R. I. There will be other changes in the teaching personnel when school opens.

Personals

June and Jean Steinert, popular daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Steinert, are joining the other college-bound girls in their preparations for the fall term. They will be members of the sophomore class at Virginia Intermont college, Bristol, Va., where they are majoring in journalism and creative writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward King have moved from Watertown, N.Y., to Andover and are now living at 13 Binney st. Mr. King is credit manager at Sears Roebuck company in Lawrence. One of their children will enter the first grade at Shawsheen school in September. Their other child is two years old.

John Caswell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Caswell, 5 Dumbarton st., and Robert Beauchesne 29 Pearson st., have been notified by Capt. J. D. Wilson, U.S.N., superintendent of the Massachusetts Maritime academy, that they have been accepted as midshipmen in the Merchant Marine Reserve, U.S.N.R. Upon completion of the training, the academy grants the degree of bachelor of nautical science, a commission as third officer in the U.S. maritime service and an Ensign's commission, U.S.N.R.

Friends of Mrs. Ralph B. Wilkinson, 24 Canterbury st., popular member of the Shawsheen Women's club are happy to know that she is "on the mend" after her fall suffered while vacationing at Rye beach. She is now at home after having spent two weeks in the Portsmouth N.H. hospital, undergoing treatment for her broken ankle.

Peter Caswell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Caswell, 5 Dumbarton st., and Tommy Wilkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Wilkinson, 46 York st., are back from the boy scout camp, Camp Onway, Raymond, N.H.

Early Tuesday morning, the Everett MacAskills, 8 Sutherland st., and their two children, left for a week's trip through the White mountains.

Recent visitors to Canada were Mr. and Mrs. Alan Woodcock of ing relatives as they travelled to many of the places familiar to them from the years when they lived in Canada.

Mrs. William H. Hearne, Jr., and children, Betty and Billy, 4 Dumbarton st., are vacationing at North Hampton, N.H.

Dr. Malcolm I. Humphrey, well known young podiatrist of 240 N. Main st., has been ill at his home for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lowe and their two children returned to Andover Sunday from North Salisbury where they spent a week at the summer home of Mrs. Lowe's mother. John, Jr., remained at the beach for an extended visit with his grandmother.

Playground Notes

The Shawsheen playground held its annual weenie roast Wednesday, Aug. 17, at 6:30 p.m. There was an unusual amount of interest shown in this year's outing as witnessed by the fact that more than seventy parents and children attended the gala affair.

All those present cooperated with the three instructors, the Misses Betty Jane and Rosemary O'Connor and Vincent Dorey, to make the evening a complete success.

The final day of playground activities saw a large number of the regular playground attendants gathered to witness the awarding of the gold medal to William F. Mooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Mooney, 32 Burnham rd. The outstanding sportsmanship and excellent conduct displayed by him at all times earned William the unanimous vote of the instructors for the award.

Playground activities for the season closed at 12 noon, Friday Aug. 19.

waterfront on which was constructed a crude lean-to and a few bushes suggesting the caveman's residence. With this scenery, the origin of the side-stroke, breast-stroke and crawl was presented with the following cast: Egea, the caveman's wife, Miss Mary Lou Sullivan Ooga, the caveman, Guard Clark Ofis; Brat, the child, Guard Donald Whyte; Mallethead the villain, Guard Joseph Ratyna; Mossback, the turtle, Miss Nancy Cooke and the Thought, Joseph Morgan. Guard Jack Arabian was narrator for the script written by Guard Joseph Ratyna.

Following the pageant, "A Water Ballet" with an all-girl team demonstrated rhythmic swimming and aquatic formations, all set to music in three-quarter time. The ballet swimmers formed water fountains and pinwheels, swam in picturesque circles and concluded with a design entitled the grand left and right. Under the direction of Donald D. Dunn and Jack Arabian, the following girls were the first to ever present a musical water ballet to an audience at Pomp's pond; Maureen Darby, Mary Brennan, Mary Lou Sullivan, Patricia Mc Lay, Nancy Cooke, Ruth Sullivan, Joan Diamont, Frances Ratyna and Mary Hennessey. Much credit is due these capable performers who had practiced intensively during the cool weather and traveled long distances every day to attend rehearsals.

The program for Sunday commenced with every visitor signing a numbered ticket without charge, entitling them to a drawing of a beach prize which was a set of horseshoes. With youngster Thomas Collins doing the drawing, the prize was won by James Curry. Other prizes won in the affair were: flashlight, Stephen McKittrick noseclip, Mrs. Joseph Cardella; earplugs, James Ross; fishing line, Priscilla Garneau and Leo Boucher; cohsistle, Mrs. Emily Christinson; earplugs, Mary Brennan; fishing fly, Stephen Black; set of fishhooks, Florida Dubois and Brenda McKittrick.

Winners of the various events were: Boys' breast stroke, 1st., Richard Graves; 2nd., Alan Dodge; Girls' breast stroke, 1st., Noel Farnsworth. Boys' crawl stroke, 1st., Joseph Morgan; 2nd., Jerome Farnsworth. Boys crawl stroke, over 13 years of age, 1st., Richard King 2nd., Calvin Hatch; Boys' freestyle, 1st., Glenn Williams; 2nd., Jerome Farnsworth. Boys' freestyle, over 13 years of age, 1st., Calvin Hatch; 2nd., Leonard Ruel. Girls' freestyle, 1st., Maureen Darby; 2nd., Noel Farnsworth. Underwater distance swim, 1st., Roger Dea; 2nd., Richard King. Rowboat filling contest, winners: Alan Dodge, bucket handler and Ralph Arabian, oarsman. Penny Toss, 1st., Arthur Clegg; 2nd., Nancy Lee Wilhelm. Watermelon scramble, winner James Walch, assisted by Richard King, Harold Wells and Roger Dea.

Party Manners for pleasant party lines

It pays to be poised. Party line neighbors are quick to respond to those who are calm and collected when they ask for the line in an emergency. By sharing courteously, everyone benefits... and party line service is smooth.

It's good to be gracious. When a series of calls must be made, it's nice to remember the others on the line by allowing time between calls. This, too, helps give all party line neighbors their fair share of service.

It's polite to be prompt. Answering the telephone as quickly as possible shows consideration for the person who is calling. Telephoning at "off peak" hours—in the middle of the day, or evenings after 8—is also appreciated.

A NOTE to all party line users

As a general thing, party line service is good enough to meet the requirements of most party line users.

Right now, however, many people who would normally have individual service are on party lines—because this is the only way in which we could supply telephones to the thousands who have asked for new service in the past three years.

Until the time comes when we can provide everybody with the exact grade of service desired, won't you remember that party line service is largely what you make it. We'll do our best to handle your calls smoothly and efficiently. But, in the long run, the quality of party line service depends a great deal on how it's used.

LIKE PUBLIC LIBRARY

In Los Angeles county, Calif. a child can borrow toys as grownups borrow books, says Pathfinder news magazine.

Once he has his parents' okay and a registration card, he can go to the nearest toy lending center, look over the stock on the shelves, and then check out his choice with the toyarian. She marks the due date on the child's card and tells him how to take good care of the toy.

If the borrower returns it on time and in satisfactory condition, he gets an "S" on his card. Twenty such "S's" entitle him to an "honor" toy. This means he has graduated and can borrow bigger, more valuable things like tricycles, wagons, skates and dolls. A girl "honor" borrower is eligible for the doll adoption plan. If she takes good care of her charge for six weeks, she may become its legal guardian with adoption papers to prove it.

The first of the centers started back in 1935 as WPA projects. There are 36 now, all sponsored by the county board of supervisors and co-sponsored by the county probation department and federation of community coordinating councils. Each center has also a local sponsor such as the PTA, Rotary, Civic or Kiwanis club.

This group furnishes the staff (many of them volunteers) and the toys, generally used ones collected in special drives. Some are turned over by department stores, from unsalable stock. At the toy loan workshop headquarters, the playthings are repaired to A-1 condition, painted and then sanitized.

In the past month, Los Angeles county toy libraries have served 50,000 customers, from 2 to 14 years old. So pleased are both borrowers and lenders that several new centers are to open soon, probably three in as many months.

Fall Flower Show For Topsfield Fair

Built around the largest natural rock garden with waterfall ever attempted in Horticultural hall, the fall flower show at the 125th anniversary Topsfield fair Sept. 4-10, will have several notable innovations and promises the usual riot of color and beauty despite the difficult outdoor growing season.

Alexander Heimlick of Woburn, who has won top honors at the Boston and Philadelphia flower shows, will install the central rock garden and has assured the committee it will be replete with the always-prized fall flowering rock garden plants.

A new feature will be an educational display by the New England Rose society, designed to stimulate home gardeners to grow more roses, particularly fall-blooming varieties. Another innovation will be special displays by the Lynnfield Center, Boxford and Topsfield Garden Clubs. The flower arrangement competition among garden club members of Essex County, a highlight the past two years, will be continued on a more extensive basis with six daily exhibits, changed three times during the week. A new touch in this contest will be the placing of the judges' criticisms beside the exhibits.

The python swallows whole animals the size of small pigs.

WINDHAM PLAYHOUSE

"Three's a Family" is playing to very enthusiastic audiences this week at the Windham Playhouse, and is running through Saturday the 27th. The fun begins almost at the rise of the curtain when the married daughter of the house comes home to mother with a four months old infant and all the baby furniture. The small apartment is slightly cluttered up after that, but when the stock makes a hurried visit to the daughter-in-law who is visiting, the situations become more involved and more hilarious.

For next week, Producer A. Everett Austin has announced the presentation of the suspense story "Rope" by Patrick Hamilton, the author of "Gaslight". The stage version is considered by critics as being better than the movie. A. Everett Austin will be seen in the role that James Stewart played. Director Bill Butler will be seen in his second stage appearance at Windham this season. Chevi Colton is the ingenue in next week's production which opens Tuesday Aug. 30 through Saturday Sept. 3.

WITH THE SCOUTS

Campers Return

David Haartz, Thomas Merrick, Douglas Hardy, Alan and Arthur Schwarzenberg of Troop 72; Rene Theriault, Norman Gallant, Bernard St. Jean, and Paul Cronin of Troop 75 have returned from camp as it closed on Sunday Aug. 21. Several patrol leaders returned including Peter Caswell of Troop 70. Senior patrol leader Thomas Wilkinson of Troop 79 and patrol leader Thomas Burnett of Troop 72 will return before the end of the week. Arnold Schofield, camp director, and member of the senior staff will officially close up camp.

Beach Trip

The last side trip for campers was a trip to Hampton beach on Friday, Aug. 19. The scouts went for a swim, visited amusement spots, and generally had a good time.

Camp Awards

The Camp Onway "CO" was awarded to David Haartz, Allan and Arthur Schwarzenberg of Troop 72. A good percentage of the "CO" awards have been earned by Andover boys throughout the camping season.

Office Closed

As has been the custom for a number of years the boy scout headquarters in Lawrence will be closed from Aug. 27 to Sept. 6 to give the office staff a vacation.

Camp Health

Camp Onway was fortunate in being able to keep open the full season this year. Some camps in New England found it necessary to cut the season short because of illness.

Investigate Break In Shawsheen

Police are investigating a break made Sunday at the home of Weston F. Eastman, 20 William st. when the house was ransacked, cash and jewelry untouched and only a man's watch reported missing.

Entrance was gained by breaking the glass in a rear door through which the intruder turned the lock. The occupants had been away during the afternoon and discovered the break upon returning in the evening.

Officer Calvin C. Deyermund and Alfred M. Robb investigated together with a finger print expert from the state police.

Twedd-Duet

Any resemblance between this girl's outfit and her beau's sport togs is purely deliberate—for sentimental as well as practical reasons. The odd jacket is a distant version of his favorite wool tweed, and the skirt, of similar material, will keep in fashion stride with his slacks. She chose the jacket from a gray, green or brick assortment—for about $18—and the skirt, in black spoked with red checks or green with gold, was hers for about $11. This Tilly Schanzer ensemble is from four pages of "I wear fabrics like his" in the August issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

Information For Veterans

Q—What effect has a bad conduct discharge on burial allowance of my husband?

A—There is no allowance in his case, since the legal requirement for the type of separation from service is not met.

Q—I was honorably discharged from the Women's Army Corps, and am assured I meet eligibility requirements for Federal benefits. In case of emergency, will the Government assume my hospital expenses in a private hospital without prior VA authorization?

A—The Government will pay for such emergency treatment in a private hospital for a service-connected ailment, or for a non-service-connected condition determined as aggravating the disability from the basic service-connected disorder, or for treatment to prevent the interruption of vocational training under Public Law 16, provided Government facilities are not feasibly available and delay would be hazardous.

Q—My daughter married while in the service and after her discharge died of a service-connected disability. Is the surviving husband entitled to accrued monetary benefits?

A—Yes, provided claim for compensation has been filed by the veteran during her lifetime.

Q—My compensation has been cut, although my disabilities are worse. How can I get another examination?

A—You may submit a statement from your attending physician, giving in detail the symptoms which he finds on examination together with a complete diagnosis of your condition. This should be forwarded to the Adjudication Officer of the Regional Office having your case folder. If, in the judgment of the Rating Board, a re-examination is warranted on the basis of such evidence, one will be requested.

Engagements

Medolo — Gaudet

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gaudet, 17 Cuba street, announce the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter Olive B. to Salvatore F. Medolo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Medolo, 2 Highland street. The ceremony will take place August 28 at 4 o'clock in St. Augustine's church.

Miss Gaudet attended the local public schools and at present is employed in the Shawsheen mill. Her fiancé also attended the local schools and was recently discharged from the U.S. army where he served overseas with the army occupation forces.

Gerraughty — Gillen

A wedding is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, Sept. 11 at 3 o'clock in St. Augustine's church when Miss Janet Anne Gillen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Blaine Gillen of Carisbrooke st., will become the bride of James Vincent Gerraughty, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Gerraughty of Great Pond rd., North Andover, according to announcement made by Miss Gillen's parents.

Miss Gillen is a graduate of Pynchard High school and the Charles school, Boston. Her fiancé is a graduate of Wellesley High school, Tilton school, Tilton, N.H. and the University of Massachusetts.

In honor of her coming marriage Miss Gillen was honored at a buffet supper and shower recently at the Andover Country club. The hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Edward F. Ellard and Mrs. Walter McDonald.

West Parish Man Attains 93rd Year

Alfred Kimball of Lowell st., one of West Andover's well known and highly respected residents, enjoyed his 93rd birthday Tuesday, Aug. 23 with a number of neighbors and friends who dropped in to extend their good wishes.

Born in Bradford in 1856, Mr. Kimball has resided in Andover for 48 years, and for the past 33 years has lived on Lowell street. Up to two years ago he could frequently be seen walking the mile and a half from his home to the town. He is still in good health and manages to get about his place every day.

His appetite is still good and he enjoyed his birthday cake and ice cream with some of the friends who stopped to bring their felicitations on the event. Mr. Kimball has one daughter, Miss Alice Kimball, with whom he resides.

Windmills first became common in Germany and the Netherlands.

4. Special Ford Equipment

HERE'S WHAT WE CHECK:

1. FOR SAFETY—Brakes, tires, horn, lights, steering, glass, muffler.
2. FOR GAS SAVINGS—Carburetor, distributor, spark plugs.
3. FOR COMFORT—Shock absorbers, springs, and all those little things that could go wrong somewhere out in South Oshkosh.
