Two Temporary Principals Named

Charles A. Gregory And Benj. F. Dimlich Acting Heads of High Schools

Two temporary appointments were made by the school board Tuesday night to carry on the duties of principals in the senior and junior high schools.

Charles A. Gregory, teacher of social studies, was appointed acting principal of Punchedard High school in the absence of Eugene V. Lovely who is detained at his home by illness, and Benjamin F. Dimlich was appointed acting principal of the Junior High school until the permanent successor to Milton H. Nelson, resigned, is named.

Both were granted increases of $300 annually while serving in their temporary positions.

The school board Tuesday night also interviewed Mervin E. Stevens, teacher of English, in connection with the permanent appointment of a principal of the Junior High school.

The contract for oil was awarded to the Andover Coal Co., Inc., the lowest of five bidders, at a price of .1105 per gallon for No. 2 oil, and $2.8365 per barrel for No. 5 oil.

The resignation of Ralph B. Wilkinson as a member of the school survey committee was received. The board voted to invite Charles F. Dalton of Summer St., to serve.

Mr. Gregory, now acting principal of the senior high, has been

Punchard 21-20 Victor At Danvers

Punchard eked out a close 21 to 20 victory over a rugged Holden high eleven of Danvers Saturday in a hard-fought contest that was decided by a safety.

Following the opening kickoff, Punchard took the ball on its own 20 and with Charles Dwyer, Raymond Collins and Clifford Lawrence alternating, marched to the Danvers 25, chalking up two first downs, on the next play Co-Capt. Collins hit off tackle and behind some effective down field blocking scampered all the way for a score. Co-Capt. Nick Maucerie's attempted conversion was low.

In the middle of the second period Punchard took possession on its own 45 when a Danvers kick went out of bounds. Wilkinson and Collins alternated carrying the ball and registered three first downs in reaching the Danvers 15. A Dwyer to Valz pass scored the second touchdown. Maucerie placekicked the extra point leaving 13 to 0 at the half.

Danvers trailed following the second half kickoff. Begin and Leathe alternated in carrying the ball to the Punchard 35. Here Norman Leathe passed to brother Paul who went 15 yards for the touchdown. P. Leathe kicked the extra point.

After an exchange of kicks Danvers was forced back to the 5 by Punchard's forward wall. On

Court Sessions To Open Here In Few Weeks

Court sessions will be resumed in Andover within a few weeks with the new Trial Justice Richard K. Gordon presiding.

The former AMVETS room on the second floor of the town house is being made over for the court. The benches have been painted, some of the new furniture has arrived and the rest is expected to be here shortly.

Trial justices have concurrent jurisdiction with the superior court and district court of all crime which may be subject to the penalty of $50, or six months in jail, or both. Atty. Gordon stated. They have jurisdiction over various breaches of the peace and certain cases of larceny which may be sentenced up to one year, all fish and game laws, violation of town ordinances, and over felonies of juveniles under 17 which are not punishable by life imprisonment or death.

They may bind over for trial by the superior court any crime over which they have no jurisdiction, but may handle drunkenness cases, and hawkers and peddlers who have not the proper licenses.

Under a new law just passed they may make payment of witness fees to police officers.

Atty. Gordon expects that the new court room will be ready in about two weeks after which he will be prepared to serve the town in his capacity as trial justice.

Chief Buchan Asks Home Fire Check

A single afternoon or evening will be enough time to rid your home of the most common fire hazards. Fire Chief C. Edward Buchan said today in urging local citizens to join in the nation-wide observation of Fire Prevention week, Oct. 9 to 15.

"The first step is to clean out the cellar," Chief Buchan said. "Most families have stacks of old magazines, piles of discarded clothing, and even pieces of furniture stuck away down there."

"All it takes is a spark from the furnace, or a defect in the wiring, or a carelessly dropped cigaret to start a fire in the cellar. Once it is started, it is particularly difficult to bring under control if those piles of fast-burning paper, cloth, and wood are there to supply fuel."

Gala Hallowe'en Party Planned

Sponsors of the gala Hallowe'en party to be held in the Memorial gym for all the youngsters of the town are planning a fine entertainment program for their guests.

All youngsters of the town are invited. There will be two divisions, one for those up to the sixth grade, the other for those in the seventh through the high school.

Several organizations who endorse the plan to have such a party on Hallowe'en have come forward with contributions to enable the sponsors to arrange a splendid program and to provide plenty of refreshments to be served during the evening.

VIEWS OF THE NEWS

By LEONARD F. JAMES

Behind the determination of the United Steelworkers to strike there seems to be the attitude that labor unions have special privileges in society. The steelworkers make a demand; if it isn't met they call upon the country to witness the justice of their claims. This is a well-known technique of propaganda. Put your opponent in the wrong, rather than prove the correctness of your own position. So Philip Murray, not apparently concerned about the general economic effects of a strike, blandly proclaims his strike as in the national interest. His contention is that United States Steel "in complete disregard of the national interest has said no . . . to the union and no to the President of the United States and to the American people."

And What Is "National Interest"?

Since the strike is claimed to serve their best ends, the American people should examine the causes and try to estimate the results. If Philip Murray won't then the nation he "serves" should. They may then reach a conclusion that another technique of propaganda is being pulled on them. The strike is described as serving the public, not just the steelworkers. It is the sympathetic approach guaranteed to cloak real intentions. The fact is that 1,000,000 steelworkers want to benefit themselves. That may be a worthy end, but if in reaching it they destroy the livelihood of millions of others, that's a very different matter.

What's the strike about. It was ready to break out last spring when the steelworkers considered a fourth round of collective bargaining since the war. The first three rounds netted them a total wage increase of between 41 1/2 and 48 1/2 cents an hour. Since the fourth round was to begin at a time of economic uncertainty, the objective was not to be an outright wage increase but security through industry-paid pension fourth down Malski of Danvers was tackled behind the goal line for a safety while attempting a kick.

PUNCHARD 21-20 VICTORY AT DANVERS

Late in third quarter another pass from N. Leathe to his brother Paul was good for another T.D. Paul again kicked the extra point. Midway in the final quarter Francis Brennan of Punchard recovered a Danvers fumble on the Danvers 15. Punchard took to the air and a Dwyer to Rayball pass placed the ball on the Danvers 6. Then Dwyer hurled to Brucato who was all alone in the end zone for the score. The try for the extra point failed. The score was now 21 to 14.

With two minutes to play Norman Leathe again passed to Ed Bates who weaved in and out of the arms of the Punchard boys, for a 35 yard touchdown. Fredrickson and Rayball chased him to the goal line but couldn't catch him. Paul Leathe's attempt to placekick the extra point failed. The game ended a few plays later. Punchard winning by a score of 21 to 20. Collins, Dwyer and Brucato stood out for Punchard while the same was for the Leathe brothers, Begin, and Bates for Danvers.

BOOSTERS OFFER AWARDS OF $1750

At a meeting of the committee last week a representative of a Boston firm was present to discuss the uniforms. Later the committee voted to have the uniforms made locally in the same pattern and colors as those in use at present.

The original uniforms were made 10 years ago by the parents of the girls who were in the band at that time. They have been handed down from time to time since then and their present condition shows they should be replaced.

The committee also appointed Roger H. Whitcomb as chairman of its publicity committee to handle all details in connection with this phase of its activities.

At a meeting last night more books were distributed and announcement was made that anybody in town who wishes to assist in any part of the work may do so by contacting James P. Christie at the tax collector's office.

With Miss Putnam on the local committee are Kenneth L. Sherman, Roy E. Hardy, Stafford A. Lindsay, the Rev. Thomas P. Fogarty, pastor of St. Augustine's church, and the Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, minister at Phillips academy.

Miss Putnam, speaking as Andover chairman, stated: "The community chest, it seems to me, is a thorough American way of restoring to our time the kind of neighborliness that our forefathers practiced as a matter of course when they helped at a house raising or aided a neighbor in temporary distress."

What we need more than anything else these days is more understanding of and sympathy with one another. We need it at the world level; we need it at the community level just as much.

It is my firm conviction that the best way to build enduring peace is to build that peace first in the community by seeing to it that we build together sound community living and by meeting with intelligence and creative service the same problems which appear on the national and international scene."

MERRIMACK COLLEGE

Plans for the building program at Merrimack college are going along rapidly. The new science building, first in the proposed nine-building campus, opened Sept. 29. This is a four-story building, with an amphitheater seating more than 325 to be used for lectures and experimental purposes. The building is equipped with the most modern apparatus for research work in chemistry, physics, optics, and electronics.

The Very Rev. Vincent A. McQuade, O.S.A., Ph.D., president, has stated that construction on a faculty house will begin this fall, and a liberal arts building will be started next spring. Both are expected to be ready by September, 1950.

A rapidly increasing enrollment makes this quickened construction necessary. Present enrollment in the day school numbers approximately 450. The pioneer class, now juniors, numbers 135; sophomores total a similar number; 180 new freshmen were admitted this year.

Evening and Saturday classes bring the present over-all enrollment for the college to more than 600. Saturday classes are new this term, and present enrollment is exceptionally large.

Established in 1947 by the Augustinian Fathers at the request of Archbishop Cushing, Merrimack has made rapid strides in its short existence. Present college land totals 150 acres. A gymnasium, an eight class-room building, with laboratories, and offices, and the new science building have been constructed. 1950 will see two more buildings ready.

Catholic Club Holds Opening Meeting

The Andover Catholic club opened its new season Monday night with a dinner meeting in St. Augustine's school hall. About 75 members were present.

At the short business meeting that followed with President Frederick E. Griffin presiding, it was voted to donate $50 to the sisters to provide suitable films for the school.

Arthur McCabe, formerly with the United States secret service was the guest speaker. In his talk on "Presidential Protection" he gave a number of interesting stories of his experiences during the war and told of the numerous notable personages to whom he was assigned at different times during his service.

At the conclusion of the meeting an army picture and a football picture were shown, using the projector the club gave to the school last spring.

P.A. SPORT

After last Saturday's 13-0 victory over Massachusetts Maritime academy, which was marred by fumbles and by poor timing on offensive plays, Coach Steve Sorota's Andover eleven has been getting thorough drill in offensive play and on the elimination of fumbles.

Three inexperienced quarterbacks saw action against the Mariners—Ed Johnson of Agawam, Jerry Schaufier and Leigh Quinn. Defensively, the Andover outfit looked much better than on the offense, with Captain Dan Wright, and George Petchel at tackle, and Pat Esmiol and Tim Anderson at guard, Harry Berkowitz and Ed Moran on the ends, and Erick Mack, rangy Californian at center.

The Andover eleven points for one of its toughest games of the season against Harvard Freshman here, Saturday, Oct. 8 at 2 p.m. Coch Frank DiClemente's soccer squad is getting in shape for its first game here this Saturday against Tilton. Last year they lost a close one to Tilton, 1-0.

DiClemente's starting line-up, while not final, stacks up about as follows: Ricardo Fajardo, c.f.; Peter Hubbell or Frank Capra, l. inside; Walter Kohler, r. inside; Billy Lee, l.w.; Bill McKim, r.w.; Dick Neville, r.h.; Captain Ev Rose, c.h.; Charlie Platt, f.b.; Mike Palmer, f.b.; Todd Terry, l.b. and George Webb, goal.

Ev Rose of Sewickly, Pa., is starting his second season as captain of Andover's soccer team.

Miss Murray To Sing At C.D. of A. Breakfast

Miss Genevieve E. Murray, 29 Bartlett st., will be the soloist at the state communion breakfast to be held Sunday Oct. 16 in the Hotel Statler Ballroom, sponsored by the Catholic Daughters of America. Archbishop Richard Cushing and Bishop John Wright and other church dignitaries throughout the state will be present.

Miss Murray has recently returned to Radcliffe college for her junior year which includes science work at the Harvard laboratories.

Too Much Football Playing In Streets

"There's all together too much football playing in the streets," Police Chief George A. Dane said yesterday, "and wherever we see it we will stop it."

"I like to see them playing football in the right place where no one will get hurt, but I don't want to go arresting anyone for hurting a child who is playing football in the street."

Chief Dane suggested that parents can do much to stop the practice and asked householders to call the station if boys are playing in the streets near their homes. The names of persons calling the station will not be made public.

WAR ON SPEEDERS

Police have been conducting a campaign against speeders on River road in West Andover but despite the number of times officers have been stationed there no cases of fast driving have been reported.

The campaign to cut down speeding on streets in other parts of the town is being carried on daily with the result that many drivers had their licenses suspended for several days. One motorist from Hyde Park recently paid a fine of $15 in district court at Lawrence after pleading guilty to a speeding charge.

Feted By Friends On 89th Birthday

Mrs. Annie MacLeish, 39 Washington ave., celebrated her 89th birthday Thursday. She was a guest of her niece, Mrs. Donald Laurie, 59 Whittier st. at a small supper party. Mrs. MacLeish received many cards and gifts from her many friends.

Among those present at the supper were, Miss Ruth Denholm, a grandchild, Misses Ruby and Margaret Laurie, Misses Jessie and Mary Fowler, Miss Grace Lake, Miss Maude Brown, Mrs. Donald Laurie and Mrs. MacLeish.

ABBOT ACADEMY

Throughout the school year the students and faculty of Abbot academy devote a portion of their time weekly to philanthropic objectives. Wednesday evenings group meet in different living rooms, halls and labs to work at some special assignment which will finally come into production at the time of the Abbot bazaar.

The service groups started Wednesday. The activities include art, dance, music, dramas, science, knitting and sewing. Other groups study current national questions. Each time one of the groups provides an entertainment voluntary contributions are made by the school to the general fund for philanthropic purposes. At the end of the year these gifts plus the generous support from the Abbot Birthday bazaar are apportioned to a number of charitable organizations, some of which are in the community.

Under the direction of Miss Barbara Humes, administrative assistant, the school will participate in the Community Fund drive.

Abbot academy is very happy to announce the presence in the John-Esther gallery of an exhibition of twenty-five works by William Abbott Cheever, instructor in art at Abbot. Most of the pictures are landscapes and winter scenes from subject material found in North Andover, Boxford, and Crane's Beach, Ipswich. The exhibition includes water color, oils, and lithographs. The public is cordially invited to come to the gallery at any hour of the day, and in the evening by appointment, to view the works. The showing will remain open throughout the month of October.

As a gift to the school from the Class of 1949, Miss Hearsey announced that the stage in Davis hall has been provided with a handsome new backdrop. The color is a soft gray. Friends attending the evening programs in Davis hall will enjoy the new curtain which was a very needed acquisition, many will recall. An opportunity, to view the gift will come Saturday, Oct. 15, when Abbot will present Beth Cary, distinguished monologist, in a series of readings. The program is open to the public, and begins at 8 o'clock. There is no admission charge.

A varied program of events and genuine hospitality combined to make the visit of the United Nations secretariat to Andover over the past weekend a most interesting and appreciated event for all who had an opportunity to share in it.

Through the courtesy of the Andover Garden club Mrs. Charles Arnold and Mrs. Mitchell Johnson of Central st., and Mrs. Ames Stevens of North Andover opened their gardens to the visitors. Secretariat members were guided on the sightseeing tour by Jane Hall, Arvilla Mason, and Geneva O'Hara, of Troop 19 of the Girl Scouts, but a few took bicycle rides escorted by members of Troop 73 boy scouts, Wendy Allen, Barbara Gibson, and Sidney Tavern were the junior hostesses at the tennis courts at Phillips academy.

During the afternoon most of the secretariat attended the football game at Phillips Academy. Guests also enjoyed visiting Holt Hill farm, where Mrs. Charles W. Ward was "at home".

Cars to meet the secretariat in Boston Friday evening, were furnished by John Kemper, headmaster of Phillips academy, Malcolm Lundgren, the Rev. Levering Reynolds, Jr. and George Westhaver. The volunteers for the afternoon drives through the countryside were Mrs. Thomas Emmons, Miss Barbara Loomer, Mrs. Roland Sherman, and Mrs. Vincent Stulgis.

It was a particular pleasure to welcome Mrs. Margaret Otis, director of the U.N. volunteer services. Under her direction, and with the assistance of a large number of volunteer ladies, hospitality trips are planned. Mrs. Otis was the guest of Mrs. Joseph Tavern over the weekend.

Transportation to the south station Sunday afternoon was provided by members of the League of Women Voters. The arrangements were made by Mrs. Harold Howe, and cars driven by Mrs. Alan R. Blackmer, Mrs. Wallace E. Brimer, Mrs. C. Edward Buchan, and Mrs. John B. Hawes.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters estimates that one out of every three home fires begins in the cellar, the chief said.

"The next step is to clean out the attic, which is another danger spot," he said. "By cleaning up your home this week, you may keep it from burning up next week."

The chief also suggested these "Seven Steps to Fire Safety":

Have the complete heating system inspected, cleaned, and repaired by an experienced repairman.

Provide covered metal containers for ashes and trash.

Avoid hanging extension cords over bare nails or running them under rugs, as this causes dangerous wear. Replace worn extension cords.

Always call in an experienced electrician for necessary home wiring, because "home handymen" have been responsible for many fires traced to faulty wiring.

Oil and clean motors of electric appliances, and check to be sure that belts are in proper condition. (This does not apply to refrigerators which have sealed-in motors.)

Place a metal screen in front of the fireplace, to guard against flying sparks and hot ashes.

Never clean with gasoline—it's dangerous. Fire experts suggest that cleaning be sent out; if you must clean at home, use cleaning fluids bearing the U.L. label of Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.

In addition to these specific steps, the chief emphasized that "careless handling of cigarettes and matches is still the No. 1 fire cause."

He said that the National Board of Fire Underwriters estimates that nearly a third of all fires, in homes, factories, and elsewhere, are caused by careless smokers. "This week and every week, you should make certain cigarettes are out before throwing them away, avoid tossing cigarettes or matches into wastebaskets, and especially make certain that no member of your family ever smokes in bed."

Statistics for 1948 show only two unmistakable cases of lynching.

"HELLO NIGHT"

By A LOST MINSTREL
(With Apologies)

Lives there one with lot so sad
Who never to himself has said,
"This town is mine, these children, too."
Whose heart has ne'er within him burned
As home his aching feet have turned

From dancing in Memorial Gym.

If such there breathes, go, note him well,

He knoweth not our teachers well.

Whate'er his work, whate'er his name,

Empty his lot less he can claim

Memories of "Hello Night" gay.

He lives, but why we'll never know.

He's neither parent, teacher, friend,

For all of them their way will wend

To "Hello Night" held in the gym.

October 19th, 1949
7:15 is the time

Dessert and coffee, a concert by the Pynchard High School all girl band, and square dancing with friends old and new are all yours at "Hello Night" Wednesday, Oct. 19, beginning at 7:15 p.m. at the Memorial auditorium. A cordial invitation to one and all to attend is extended by the Central Parent-Teacher association.

A&P, TOO, TAKES OFF ITS HAT TO MR. C. WHIT BLOUNT

OF WAYNESBORO, GEORGIA

—AND TO ALL OUR OTHER GOOD COMPETITORS
WHO HAVE TAKEN A SIMILAR STAND

[An Editorial From The Atlanta Journal,
Thursday, Sept. 29, 1949]

Competitor Denounces Suit Against A&P

THE BOLD three-column advertisement in the current issue of the Waynesboro True Citizen catches the reader's eye. We quote it in full.

To our notion that advertisement by C. Whit Blount states the economic and governmental aspects of the case against A&P with a clarity and forcefulness that most of the editorial comment has lacked.

Also it strikes us as a fine example of sportsmanship in business.

Incidentally, it is about as effective an advertisement as could have been written for Mr. Blount's "Groceteria".

Makes you sort of wish you were in Waynesboro to trade with him, doesn't it?

[An Advertisement From The
Waynesboro True Citizen]

A Word For Our Competitor The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

There has been a move by the anti-trust department of the Federal Government to destroy our leading competitor, the A&P Food Store.

It may seem odd, but we are opposed to this move.

The A&P Co., is definitely our strongest competitor - they keep us hopping. But, we are still in business - And Expanding. We do it by selling quality merchandise, buying at a close margin and selling at CLOSER margin.

The so called "trust-busters" charge that the A&P Co. control some of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they hold the cost price down on foods.

WELL, WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS??

If A&P holds the costs down, it makes our suppliers hold their costs down to the same competitive level. They can sell cheaper, AND SO CAN WE.

We intend to continue to try to sell better merchandise than A&P; We also will continue to have competitive prices.

BUT, We don't believe the government, or any individual should try to break up a firm that is doing a good, clean, efficient job of serving the people of this country.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

ANDOVER CAN NOT STAND STILL

Report of the consultants engaged to make a study of the town school buildings made it clear that Andover is confronted with a pressing elementary school problem.

Their solution envisioned the replacement of most of the older elementary school buildings and the expansion of the school plant to a maximum of 43 elementary class units by 1954.

The evaluations that rated all elementary schools except the Shawsheen as inadequate are based largely upon the structure and functioning of the buildings.

That so many of the buildings rated so poorly may be somewhat of a shock to Andover citizens, yet the school committee some years ago was considering the modernization of the school plant and had gone to the point of having a set of plans prepared for the central schools.

However, the picture here is no different than that seen across the nation where parents are getting a close-up of overcrowded classrooms and out-of-date buildings. The situation will grow worse, according to all estimates, as by 1956 there will be some seven million more children in elementary schools than there are now. The war and other conditions caused a long period of drought in school building.

Andover has experienced a healthy growth. New homes are being built to accommodate the increase in population and the growing birth rate has now reached the enrollment in elementary grades.

The school committee is to give the report more study and it may be safely assumed that it will call for a special town meeting to seek an appropriation enabling it to employ an architect to prepare plans from which it will be possible to estimate the cost of future construction.

With the report before it, Andover can not stand still.

CONGRATULATION, BOOSTERS

They call themselves the Boosters but they act like Fairy Godfathers to the youngsters they set out to help.

Last spring it was the boys at Punchard who received the benefits of the magic wand by the Boosters club to provide uniforms, sweaters and other equipment necessary in carrying on the athletic program of the school. Now they are going all-out to help the girls of the band get new uniforms.

They have made a great start toward their objective. Numerous citizens have joined to help and merchants have generously contributed about $1750 in prizes to be awarded when the Boosters have their "day" at the Punchard-Lexington game October 29.

They are out to raise $3000 more for the uniforms and knowing how well they have succeeded in past ventures it is safe to say they will get the money.

Uniforms which the girls wear were made 10 years ago by the mothers of the girls, in the band at that time. They have been repaired and handed down from year to year and should be replaced.

With the help of their Fairy Godfathers the girls will step out with spick and span new regalia October 29 and make everybody who "pitched in" feel proud of them.

PRESERVE OUR DEMOCRATIC WAY

"It is the feeling of many responsible citizens in every community that the education of our youth for social responsibility is one of the primary needs for preserving our democratic institutions. There is nothing more urgent today than teaching good citizenship to youth."

These are the splendid words spoken by Edward Bower, chairman of the prize essay contest sponsored by the community chest, Rotary club and Kiwanis club of Greater Lawrence. The essays which are now being written by tomorrow's community leaders in the Andover schools, from grades V through XII, will give these pupils a practical conception of our network of social services whose basic responsibility is helping people.

Our great country was founded by people who helped one another through many trials and tribulations. Our school children now have a real opportunity, through this essay contest, to learn this philosophy of neighbor helping neighbor by their active participation in this community enterprise. This knowledge of our free and democratic institutions cannot help but preserve them for the future.

LET'S DO OUR PART

Man learns everything the hard way, including how to save his skin from fire. It has taken some big conflagrations and large death tolls to make people realize that the time for fire prevention is before the fire, instead of just after.

The cost of fire to every man, woman and child in the United States has doubled over the past eight years, the National Board of Fire Underwriters points out in a statement for Fire Prevention week, October 9 to 15. The fire bill of every American was $5.08 in 1948, compared with $2.32 in 1940.

The careless handling of cigarettes and matches is still the leading cause of fires in this country, the board says in noting that approximately one-third of all fires are traced to this hazard.

Fire destroys homes, businesses and food despite the army of more than 800,000 municipal fire fighters maintained throughout the United States on a full-paid 24-hour basis to guard against such losses. Fire annually destroys enough timber and lumber to build 85,000 five-room houses.

Man has learned his fire lesson the hard way. Fires don't happen. There is a reason for them. Use a few hours during Fire Prevention week to clean up cellar and attic, and then keep them clear of quick-burning cloth, wood, and paper.

Views of The News

and welfare plans. This wasn't a new idea. The miners had some years earlier won the same right disguised in the so-called "royalty" on coal mined.

Steelworkers Won't Bargain

In July a special presidential board was appointed to avert a steel strike. At the beginning of September the board made its recommendation: no wage increase, but a pension plan costing industry 6 cents per worker per hour, and a welfare plan costing 4 cents similarly. Both to be non-contributory by the worker. The union demanded the full recommendation; management offered to meet the plan if the workers made an additional contribution to the plans. That is, the workers were asked to assume same responsibility for their own welfare and retirement benefits. Labor contends that workers' security should be as much a part of operating costs as is the replacement of machinery.

Facts Won't Yield To Force

What kind of curious economics is this? Is there some magic self-perpetuating "operating" fund divorced from the everyday operating costs of a business? Can more and more cash be removed from a business without effect upon prices, even the existence of the business? If Labor will follow this perpetual carrot-on-a-stick leadership it will find itself over a precipice eventually. Perpetually increasing costs without equivalent increase in production means higher prices. And that would simply lead to another round of wage demands. There's one lesson that Labor here and in Great Britain must learn eventually. It is that while employers may yield to force, facts will not. Some day facts must catch up with fancy.

The Magic of Words — "Take-Home-Pay"

There is another peculiar propaganda line which has undermined clear thinking. The phrase "take-home-pay" has now acquired almost sacrosanct meaning. If the worker is asked to contribute to what Murray calls "private" pension plans, he suffers, according to Murray, a cut in take-home pay. That the so-called cut is purchasing him extremely cheap insurance—far cheaper than the individual citizen can buy—is completely ignored. This cut pays for welfare emergency for worker and family, and the take-home envelope is spared what can be a sudden overwhelming financial burden. In effect, under the United States Steel welfare offer the single worker pays about $2 a month, the married worker $3, for a welfare plan which provides against sudden financial loss. He would be entitled to up to $26 a week for accident or sickness for a maximum of 26 weeks, surgical expenses for self and family up to $160, and hospitalization for 31 days at $7 a day, $5 for dependents. The pension plan offer foresees a similar sort of contribution from the worker.

Society Includes Capital And Consumer Too

It may be argued that since coal miners and auto workers have gained a non-contributory plan, then the steelworkers have the same right. But the steelworkers aren't prepared to use the presidential board finding as a basis for compromise and negotiation. They want all or nothing, and if they don't get it then they excuse their strike on the grounds of national interest. They forget that American society is a fine adjustment between groups with special interests: labor, capital, and con-

MEET—

BENJAMIN F. DIMLICH

Closely identified with the public school system of Andover for fourteen years, Benjamin F. Dimlich, one of the Towns well-known educational leaders, has devoted much of his time to activities in many other civic fields of the community.

He was director of the playground system from 1945 to 1948, superintendent of the Andover guild, 1944 to 1948, and director of the boy scouts at Camp Onway in 1943. During the war he served as first lieutenant in the Massachusetts state guard, and was president of the Andover Public School Teachers' association in 1945.

Mr. Dimlich, who lives with his wife and three children on Salem st., was born in Lawrence thirty six years ago, and moved to Andover at an early age.

He was educated in the Andover public schools and graduated from Bates college in 1935. Assistant to the junior high principal for the past two years he has been doing graduate work at Tufts college and is expected to receive his masters degree in education in January.

summer. If one group is too powerful, the others may suffer seriously.

The steelworkers have started this strike, a trial of economic strength in which millions of other citizens can be seriously squeezed. The national interest is greater than the present demands of the 1,000,000 workers involved.

The whole economy can slow down to a standstill. The steelworkers may win their point. They may get the $3 a month for the welfare plan, perhaps another $3 for a pension plan. It may cost them weeks in wages. It may cost other millions of workers their jobs. Not only will the United States suffer. Steel is a key industry for much of the world economy, and factories may grind to a stop in Europe. But Murray accepts no responsibility. He refuses to recognize the fact that leadership moulds opinion, else it is not leadership.

It would indeed be a bitter commentary on twentieth century democracy if over the paralysis of the nation's economy there should fly the triumphant banner bearing Philip Murray's message to the steelworkers. "Pursuant to the authority vested in me . . . I hereby call a strike against your employer . . ." Is the 20th century slogan to read: "The part is greater than the whole"?

The announcement of the engagement of Louise Ann McDonald, 8 Chestnut st. to Peter McParland, son of Peter McParland and the late Mrs. Marguerite Collins McParland was made by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard L. McDonald, parents of the bride-to-be.

Miss McDonald was graduated from Marymount academy, Tarrytown, N. Y. and the Katherine Gibbs school, Boston.

Mr. McParland is a graduate of Harvard university and is now attending the Harvard Graduate school of Business administration. He is a member of the Pi Ete club.

During the war, he served in the marine corps in the Asiatic-Pacific theater.

Service Club Opens Season

The Andover Service club opened its 1949-50 season last Thursday night at the Andover Inn with its new president, Walter E. Buxton, in the chair.

Featured during the evening was a technicolor film presented by William Miller of Quincy on the preservation of the home by paint. After the showing of this instructive movie the speaker answered many questions on the subject.

The Rev. Philip M. Kelsey of Ballardvale offered prayer as the dinner opened. In the drawing the free dinner was won by Samuel Osgood.

Harold E. Heseltine explained the purpose of the gala Halloween party which is being proposed for the youngsters of the town and for which many organizations are making contributions.

The club voted to donate $25 to the affair.

The club also voted to cooperate with the community chest drive by appointing its merchant's committee to act with Miss Marion Putnam, local chairman, in soliciting funds from the local merchants. The committee is Guy B. Howe, Jr., John D. Hill, John Grecoe and Forest Noyes.

As a tribute to the late Foster C. Barnard, a club member who died earlier in the week, the members stood for a minute of silence.

Victor Mill, Jr., discussing the club's vote to be of service to the town, announced that it could assist in the improvement of Ponds pond by cutting a trail from the road to the bathing beach.

There is but one road now for an entrance and in summer time this is so busy with autos that it often becomes hazardous for young children to use it.

Donald D. Dunn, head life guard at the beach, said that in the eight weeks the beach was supervised it was patronized by 39,761 persons, an average of over 700 a day. He also informed the club that the pond is all spring fed, there is no sewage going into it, that the water is tested regularly and it is an ideal place to develop. Many adults visit it during the summer, it has a fine picnic area and the trail would be a great help.

When the Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, minister at Phillips academy, inquired if members of the school outing club could assist it was thought that the boys with club supervision might be recruited to do the work.

Use New Tests For First Time

A test which measures not only several physical qualities but being used for the first time in this region at the Andover Junior High school. The score of the test is obtained by timing the students as they go through a continuous series of eight physical activities each of which demands the use of a different skill and coordination.

At the beginning of the test the student lies flat on his back arms outstretched over his head. At the signal, he rises, runs forward doing a forward roll. He vaults or climbs over a horse, interchanges two bowling pins which are fifteen yards apart, does a flank vault on the parallel bars, and finishes with a back circle on a low horizontal bar and sprints five yards to finish. The test measures agility, speed, strength, and coordination. The times have varied from 28 seconds to incompletion of test.

The test score gives each boy a goal to work for. He may improve his score by practicing to overcome his own particular weakness.

load of the main line, but also the numerous freight trains routed via the cut-off at Lowell Junction which must pass through Ballardvale. The speed-up of train schedules, coupled with the blind approaches to Ballardvale obviously aggravates the hazard. There have been instances only recently where trains have roared through Ballardvale while local trains have been stopped discharging passengers.

While automatic crossing gates may have merit from an economy angle in sparsely settled rural areas with little rail or pedestrian traffic, the citizens of Ballardvale feel that their town is certainly not one where this condition would be true. The distribution of the population on both sides of the Shawshen river with the bottleneck of the bridge and crossing in between, funnels the foot and vehicular traffic over the crossing in order to reach the stores, post office, churches, library, school and railroad station.

The attendant has on several occasions demonstrated his value in safeguarding children and older people at this crossing. Only the other day a boy wedged one foot in the rail so tight that it was necessary for the attendant to unlatch the shoe to free his foot before arrival of a train.

A commonly expressed view point of the Ballardvale residents is, "Let us not jeopardize the safety of our most prized possessions, our children, by elimination of the crossing attendant at Ballardvale. If the Boston and Maine must save money, they can certainly find other phases of their operation which can be improved without endangering the general public."

It was also pointed out that the people of Andover proper have a stake in this issue. If the Boston and Maine should succeed in forcing this threat upon the resident of Ballardvale, would the Essex st. crossing in Andover come next?

A representative committee of the Ballardvale Parent-Teachers Association has enlisted the assistance of the Andover selectmen, Senator Coddair and Representatives Collins, Giles and Longworth, to vigorously resist the petition of the Boston & Maine which is scheduled for consideration by the department of public utilities in Boston, Oct. 19. A circular opposing the proposed revision to automatic gates has been wholeheartedly endorsed by the citizens of Ballardvale.
