VIEWS OF THE NEWS

By LEONARD F. JAMES

The navy may have good reason to criticize the defense department. The American people certainly have obvious cause to question our whole defense system. Because something is radically wrong with it, as the present scrap indicates. If it is true that Navy morale is undermined, then leadership either in the service itself or in the defense department is to blame.

More Than An Inter-Service Scrap?

There is an obvious and unfortunate conclusion to be drawn from the recent outburst. Personal opinions and ideas seem to take precedence over carefully considered policy. If the fight is merely an inter-service one, then proper reprimands can be given. There is undoubtedly that element present; there is also a deplorable service scrap in the Navy between the "battleship" group and the "air force" supporters, each trying to get superiority. On that issue the navy can be disciplined into its proper place as a servant of the nation. The navy would be derelict in its duty if it should continue to permit internal strife to take precedence over national service.

Hallowe'en Party Plans Progressing

Plans for the gala Hallowe'en party to be given in the Memorial auditorium the night of Monday, Oct. 31, for all the school children of the town point to a grand evening of fun for all who attend.

The committee on arrangements is doing its utmost to get every youngster there to enjoy the festivities.

Children living in the outer districts will have no excuse for not being present as drivers of the three school buses have volunteered their services for the occasion. Consequently, suitable transportation will be available through the courtesy of Alva Wright, Rudy Johnson and Chester Abbot, who will operate their buses over the usual routes. The times will be announced later by the committee.

Meanwhile, Police Chief George A. Dane has wholeheartedly endorsed the idea of having the big community Hallowe'en party which has proved to be so successful in other places.

"I think it is a good thing for the children to have this party," he said, "and give them something to do instead of going around on Hallowe'en night bothering people."

"They should appreciate the fact that people of the town are"

Punchard Rallies To Beat Reading

Punchard High won its third game in succession Saturday afternoon at the local playstead beating a rugged Reading High eleven 19 to 7, before some 1500 spectators.

Reading took the opening kickoff after winning the toss and elected to receive. Returning the ball to the 27 the Reading force marched from there to a score. With Morris, Heggarty and Gibson carrying the ball to the Punchard 3 yard line when Gibson called a quarterback sneak which was good for the score. Surrette rushed the point and Reading lead 7 to 0.

A short time later after an exchange of kicks, found the Blue and Gold on its own 22 from where it marched to a score a few moments before the period closed. Collins scored a first down on the Punchard 32. Then on an off-tackle play Collins rushed to the enemy 49. Two plays later a Dwyer to Wilkinson pass in the end zone was good for a score. A Dwyer to Lawrence pass was good for the extra point. There was no further scoring in the first half. The half time score 7-7.

Patent Granted Local Mill Man

Robert C. Wilkie of 221 S. Main st., who is engaged in engineering research for the Pacific Mills, Mills, Lawrence, has been granted a patent on a "silver collecting means." Mr. Wilkie, who came here from Newton, has been a resident of Andover for about 12 years.

As one of the processes in the preparation of cotton or wool fibers for use in textile operations, such fibers are passed through a carding machine that separates and parallels them, removes impurities, and delivers them in the form of a loose, continuous, rope-like, untwisted strand that is referred to usually as a "silver". Subsequently, this silver may be passed through a "drawing-frame" comprising a series of rollers, in order to improve its uniformity.

However, in either case, the modern practice is to transfer the silver to a "coiler head" that inserts it in the form of a coil into so-called "silver cans". The latter are deep and round receptacles, about 14 to 18 inches in diameter and from about 36 to 42 inches deep and because they have served as containers or storage vessels for the silver, large quantities of them have been required.

Obviously, substantial savings may be attained if the use of these silver cans for storage purposes were to be eliminated, and it is therefore the object of Mr. Wilkie's invention to accomplish this end. As a principal feature of his

Outline Plans To Oppose Automatic Gates In 'Vale

VALE COMMITTEE ISSUES STATEMENT ON R. R. PETITION

The committee of the Ballardvale PTA formed to lead in the protest against installation of automatic crossing gates at the Andover street crossing, has issued the following statement about the number of 'Vale residents using the crossing:

COMMUNICATION

Since the residents of the Ballardvale section of Andover have become so irate over the proposed automatic gates at the Andover street crossing, a compilation of pertinent facts and figures has been made.

The two Protestant churches, three stores, post office, playground, library and local meat market are all located on the westerly side of the crossing. To reach any of these destinations, it has been computed, the members of the 140 families living east of the crossing, must pass over the tracks and return.

In these 140 families there are 440 individuals, of whom 160 are children. Most of these children, who are of school age, must cross the tracks in order to get to Bradley school. A few, on the plains section, are picked up by the school bus. Children from several families who attend the parochial school also have to cross the tracks to board the school bus in front of the post office.

Conversely, the attendants at St. Joseph's Catholic Church who live on the west side of the town, must pass over the crossing to attend their church services. In 55 of these families there are 160 members, nearly 60 of whom are youngsters. Included in these groups on either side of the crossing there are many families who have no car and must pass on foot, which means more people would be tempted to duck under the gates. Many do that now and are reprimanded or warned by the crossing tender if a train is nearing the crossing.

For many years parents of small children have worried about their offspring crossing the bridge that spans the Shawshien river where it enters the mill pond. No matter how warned, children, especially small boys are adventuresome. The railroad crossing is another matter, for the parents know the crossing-tenders keep an eye on the children and on many occasions have restrained them from ducking under the gates and crossing in front of an on-coming train. Crossing the tracks in itself is something of a problem since 75 to 80 trains a day pass through the town—not only those on the main line run from Boston to Portland, but also around the "Y"

Residents of District To Attend Hearing At State House Oct. 19

Plans for opposing the petition of the Boston & Maine railroad to install automatic crossing gates at Ballardvale were outlined Monday night at a hearing before the board of selectmen.

Present at the discussion were Sen. John W. Coddalre, Jr., of Haverhill, Rep. Frank S. Giles of Methuen, the board of selectmen, the Rev. Henry B. Smith, O.S.A., representing St. Joseph's church, the Rev. Philip M. Kelsey and the following 'Vale residents, Mrs. James Schofield, Mrs. Ralph Sharpe, Albert T. Warner, Mrs. Paul Payne, Charles Scobie, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown and William D. McIntyre, the latter group representing the Ballardvale PTA.

The petition will come before the department of public utilities for hearing at 10 a.m., Wednesday, Oct. 19 at the state house.

Letters which the railroad sent to the selectmen describing the operation of automatic gates were read and several members of the committee related incidents in which they say accidents were prevented by the presence of a gateman at the crossing.

The committee named Roy A. Hardy chairman of the delegation which will present the local opposition at the Boston hearing.

Ballardvale residents are basing their opposition on what they consider the safety of the school children who have to cross the tracks four times daily. They have a petition signed by more than 300 residents of the district opposing the removal of the gateman and the present gates.

Prizes On Display For Boosters' Day

The big 16-inch tube television set to be awarded as the major prize on Boosters' day in connection with the project to furnish 100 new uniforms for the girls' band at Punchard high school is now on display at Dalton's pharmacy together with several of the 41 prizes valued at $1750 which will be awarded at the Punchard-Lexington game at the playstead Saturday, Oct. 29.

The new uniforms to be made for the girls will be identical with the ones now being worn and which have been in use since they were made 10 years ago. They will be of the same color and design that has been associated with the band since its organization.

Members of the committee and various individuals have tickets which may be purchased by all who want to "pitch in" and aid the Boosters get the $3000 needed for the uniforms.

Praises Punchard Eleven And Band

Punchard's football team, girl band and cheer leaders are given nice compliments by John Lemire, Jr., sports editor of the Danvers Herald in his column of Oct. 6, in which he makes the following comment about the recent Punchard-Danvers game:

Although there were many things that could be written about last week's Danvers-Punchard grid tilt at Holten Athletic field, one thing that has long behooved this observer is the general spirit and make-up of the Danvers high student body — indifferent and cold to say the least — which fact was never better illustrated than here last Saturday.

Punchard high, one of the best dressed and equipped smaller schoolboy elevens seen hereabouts in many days, brought with them an all-girl 40-piece band and baton squad. (Apparently the boys have to go out for football or else.) This musical aggregate, both attractive in the school's colors of gold and blue, and mellow in tone, "put on quite a show" for the fans before the game and during the half. During the half they staged a well drilled and precise routine before the Holten high cheering section that should have Andover's quota for the 1950 community chest campaign has been set at $18,027. Miss Miriam Putnam, chairman of the Andover division announced as she prepared plans to get the local organization off to a good start in the drive which opens Monday, Oct. 17.

Quotas for the various divisions have been allotted as follows: Districts, $3500; employee (which includes industrial, school and governmental) $3649; clubs, $111 and special gifts, $10,767.

"The ultimate success of the drive," says Miss Putnam, "will depend not only upon the workers who are so generously volunteering their time and effort but upon the whole-hearted support of every Andover citizen who is able to contribute."

Assisting Miss Putnam as chairmen of the various groups are: Kenneth L. Sherman, vice-chairman; Roy E. Hardy, special gifts; Arthur W. Reynolds, industry; Mrs. Howell M. Stillman, residential; Deputy Fire Chief Albert Cole, Jr., town government; and John B. Hawes, Phillips academy.

Also on the local committee are: Stafford A. Lindsay, the Rev. Thomas P. Fogarty, pastor of St. Augustine's church, and the Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, minister at Phillips academy.

Mrs. Howell M. Stillman, chairman of the residential division, is busy putting the finishing touches to her organization which will go into action next Monday, the opening day of the drive.

Solicitors are urged to save Friday evening, Oct. 14, for a brief meeting which will be held at 7:30 o'clock at the Memorial Hall library. This will provide an opportunity to get essential information about the chest and the 13 Red Feather services which are directly in the Greater Lawrence area. Solicitors also get their kits at this time.

At the meeting there will be brief talks by Jerome Cross, general chairman of the campaign, the Rev. Mr. Baldwin, and Thomas Cudmore, executive director of the community chest.

A report center will be set up in the selectmen's office for the convenience of solicitors. Mrs. J. Lewis Smith will be in charge of this center which will be manned daily, except Saturdays and Sundays, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

In this area 13 agencies will benefit from your contributions.

PUNCHARD RALLIES TO BEAT READING

In the beginning of the third quarter the Punchard team came on the field as if the game was just beginning again. Immediately they started several drives that looked like sure touchdowns. But each time they were stopped till in the dying minutes of the game when they scored two quick ones and a victory, their third in four starts.

Punchard downed a Reading punt on its own 39 from there it marched to the first of the two scores. Each of the four starting backs alternated in carrying to the Reading 36, from where Dwyer on a line buck showed one of the most beautiful pieces of broken-field running ever seen on the Punchard field. The rush for the point failed, giving Punchard a 13 to 7 lead.

Stopping the visitors after the kickoff saw the home eleven in possession of the pigskin on its own 40. Lawrence picked up 3 and Dwyer 1. Then Collins hit off tackle for 56 yards and the final score, making it 19 to 7. Collins, Dwyer, and Fredrickson stood out for Punchard and the same was for Morris, Gibson and Peterson for Reading.

Punchard at Ipswich Saturday
Punchard and Ipswich have met one mutual opponent in Danvers. Danvers beating Ipswich 14 to 2 and Punchard beating Danvers 21 to 20.

Punchard again showed their great passing offense Saturday against Reading completing 5 out of 8. Coach Roberts has strengthened the defensive playing of his ends. The only weakness the locals seem to have is pass defense and Coach Roberts and Dunn are gradually strengthening their defensive backfield in this. Punchard has lost the services of their stellar right guard, Bob Brennan who has a dislocated shoulder and is out for the rest of the season. As it looks the locals are the favorites but the boys aren't underestimating anyone.

to Lowell and New York. Moreover, the several industries in this town are all located east of the crossing, and almost all of the employees have to cross and recross four times a day, to and from work.

A few years ago the writer of this article saw a crossing tender intercept a 3-year old boy who had slipped away from home in an attempt to visit his father at the latter's place of employment. Thanks to the tender's alertness, the youngster was detained until his parent could be notified. He might have crossed the bridge and track safely, and again, he might not have. Another instance is that of an elderly resident of the Vale who has been forcibly deterred from crossing in front of trains on several occasions. These are examples of the value of human attendance at the crossing.

won a big hand. All they got was a very faint applause from a half a dozen persons, all adult.

A few moments later, the Punchard cheer leaders danced across the gridiron to the Danvers side, were introduced to the local "megaphone warblers" so fast that it was hardly noticeable and then boisterously proceeded — as the average schoolboy cheer leaders habitually do to lead a "rah, rah, rah" for "Coach Radulski and the boys of Danvers high" but all one could hear taking part in the cheer were the visiting cheer leaders themselves. Not one — and it is repeated, not one student in the Danvers cheering section could find the common courtesy, effort, or time to cooperate.

If ever a visiting school was coldly received it was this Punchard team by a grossly indifferent and apathetic Danvers high student body, which, it might also be said, renders its own cheer leaders very little more support. This demonstration here Saturday, by no means the only one this writer has noticed by local students, may seem a little trivial but to me it spells the general athletic spirit of the school. Why it defeats the very idea of the cheering section and cheer leaders and might just as well be given up.

P.A. Preparing For Yale Fresh

Steve Sorota's regulars, who trounced the Harvard Freshman last week, 26-13, met yesterday for skull practice and review of slow-motion movies of Saturday's game, in preparation for the meeting with Yale freshman on Oct. 15.

The Andover team, which before its meeting with Harvard, looked potentially good, but ill-coordinated, came through with a blazing attack which dominated the play for four periods. Pete Gardere's passes and long gains, Bob Kimball's pass-snaring and broken-field running, Doug Graham's evasive running and Bob Doran's signal-calling and blocking, all added up to a pretty potent backfield combination.

In line play, Captain Danny Wight was outstanding at right tackle, and Erick Mack and Curt Franklin, alternating as offensive and defensive centers, were at the forefront of every play. Harry Berkowitz, rangy left end, caught a bullet pass by Pete Gardere for the Royal Blue's second touchdown.

Doug Graham, a powerful youngster from Erie, Pa., chalked off several long gains and made some crucial blocks and tackles before taking off for a 68-yard touchdown caper that sewed up the ball game for good and all.

"Family Life" Series To Be Heard Saturday

A university professor and wife who underwent a period of intense soul-searching over the question of whether to have a second child, will be the subject of the weekly search of American home life in the "Family Closeup" radio series over Station WLAW Saturday, Oct. 15 at 9:30 p.m. The series is being presented by the public affairs department of the American Broadcasting company, the Family Service association of America and family service agencies across the country — including the Family Service association of Greater Lawrence, a Red Feather service of the Lawrence community chest.

The story of Prof. and Mrs. White will serve to emphasize the deep emotions often brought to the surface when married couples face the decision of parenthood. Based on an actual case from the files of family service agencies, the drama is true to life, but names and situations have been altered to protect identity.

Sorority Greet Past Presidents

The Alpha Phi Chi sorority of the South church was happy to welcome nine of its past presidents at their first meeting of the new term held last week, and was very pleased to have greetings from the ones unable to attend.

After a delicious supper, the new officers were installed in the customary impressive candlelight service. A short but important business meeting followed. The main topic of discussion was the choice of a 1949-50 project which would most benefit the church. Several interesting suggestions were discussed and after further study a decision will be made in the near future. It was the unanimous belief that for any project to be a success there must be the 100 percent cooperation of the whole organization.

The Rev. Frederick B. Noss, pastor, made the evening complete by his helpful and inspiring message rich with "food for thought."

The next meeting of the A.P.C. will be held in the vestry at 8 p.m. Oct. 20, when Mrs. Trescott T. Abele, vice-president of the North Middlesex district of women's work, will speak on a subject pertinent to all, "Life Begins—When You Want It To".

Prospective members are cordially invited to join for an evening of inspiration and sociability.

YOUTHS HAD RECORD

Two of three Roxbury youths picked up here early Tuesday morning were found to be on parole and were returned to parole officers after being detained by local police.

Officer Raymond Collins first observed two youths on Park st. near an automobile. He kept them under surveillance and they disappeared.

About 2:23 a.m. officers Joseph E. O'Brien and Richard Caldwell, were cruising on South Main st. near Ballardvale rd. when they came upon three youths in a car. As they could not answer questions satisfactorily they were brought to headquarters where it was learned through further investigation that one was on parole from the Shirley school and a second from Norfolk. The third had no record.

LITTLEST LISTENERS

The Littlest Listeners and the mothers' group will have their second meeting of the season at the Memorial Hall library at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 19. Because the group was so large and the mothers shared the same room with their boys and girls, there was no special time for the dis-

Mrs. David Darling, who will be in charge, will lead the informal talk on the subject of "What Shall We Do With The Pre-School Child When The Others Go To School?" About 45 of the three, four and five year olds attended the first meeting.

The committee decided that all junior and intermediate team players must leave the gym by 8 p.m. unless accompanied by their parents.

New Aquarium for Biology

We are naturally curious about the world in which we live. Small children often try our patience with incessant questions about things they cannot see and understand. As they grow older, biology answers many of those questions, whenever possible with actual examples.

For this purpose a new balanced aquarium has just been added to the equipment of the biology laboratory at Punchard.

This in a small way furnishes the best illustration of the balance of nature that is maintained in life.

Every plant and animal society tends to establish and maintain this balance. In respiration animals breathe out carbon dioxide as a waste material. This in turn is used by the plants in making carbohydrates. Photosynthesis, as this process is called, gives off oxygen as a waste material, which is of course used by all living cells. Thus life will go on in this little tank as in life itself—plants and animals living together—each essential to the welfare of the other.

Pembroke Representative

Tuesday, Oct. 18, Miss Katherine Irwin, admission officer of Pembroke college, Brown university will visit Punchard to speak with the girls interested in attending Pembroke.

TEACHER ILL

Mrs. Dorothy Sanborn, art class director, has been ill at her home for the past two weeks. During this period, Leo Panagopoulos and Richard Coffey, from a Boston art school have been acting as substitutes in her classes.

Sports Program

Boys' intramural sports program commenced last Thursday with soccer games between the Reds vs. Blues and Green vs. Golds. Red and Blues came through with no score and Greens won 18 to 0. The junior high is a very sports-minded school as proved by the fact over half the boys in school were on the field participating in one sport or another.

Papers on Campus

Junior high members have been asked to be careful about dropping papers on the school grounds, this also applies to persons outside the school who are visiting for sports activities. Papers flying around make an untidy campus and they must be picked up by junior high students.

Historical Trip

All members of the seventh grade social studies classes will visit Andover Historical Society in an effort to learn more about Andover's past. They will go in four groups accompanied by Miss Mabel Marshall of the social studies department.

Library Organization

The school library is almost all organized as all books are now catalogued. This was done in the past week with the help of Shirley Clegg, Marilyn Dickson, and Marjorie Retelle, under the supervision of Miss Katherine Sweeney, director of the library. It has been a very busy place this week due to the community chest contest and social studies reference work.

Detention Room

A detention room has been in enforcement these last weeks of school as punishment for tardiness to school in the mornings and to classes, and misbehavior in the corridors and the cafeteria. Pupils having to report to the detention room after school are provided with the opportunity to do the next day's homework. Pupils must stay the length of time assigned to them by the office.

Plan Bazaar

Homerooms have voted and decided to hold a bazaar the week of Thanksgiving on either Monday or Tuesday, in an effort to increase the school treasury so more dances and socials may be given. Each homeroom will set up its own prices, nothing over 50 cents, and have its own sales force. It is permissible to contribute to other homeroom tables and to receive contributions from others. The music room will be used for this event and the hall if necessary. The ninth grade business group will carry on the advertising, act as guides and take care of the guest book.

Election Campaign

Last Friday, at the assembly, campaign speeches were presented by those running for class offices, and also by their campaign managers. Speakers for the contestants for presidency were: Louis Mirisola for Robert Erler, Elbert Weaver for Elinor Mondale, and Sandra Guertin for Mary Alice Shea.

The vice presidency: Gilford Efinger for James Curry, David Glendenning for Larry Lewis and Sidney Tavern for Ruth Sullivan. Secretary: Mary Anne Doherty for Barbara Ann Doyle, Francis Henrich for Richard Lawrence, Alan Vaughn for Ruth Morgan, and Gladys Thompson for Joyce Williams.

For treasurer: Marilyn Early for Marilyn Davis, Alan Hughes for Robert Henderson, William Dean for Richard Ccharberg, and Barbara Stone for Betsy Sparks. Shirley Murray acted as chairman of the program.

The voting and campaigning was carried on as in the rest of the world, for the junior high employs a democratic election. The voting booths which were stationed in the library and the music room were made by the ninth grade academic division. Ballots were printed by Raymond Reed. George MacCafferty, David Gordon, Ray Doyle, and Shirley Murray were the election day ballot keepers. Assisting Miss Alice Blisbee, in charge, were James Dolan and Louis Mirisola.

School Eleven

After a hard decision by Coach Carl Martini, the following boys have been chosen to make up the first football team, and are working hard to assure us of a victorious football team: Q.B. James Curry; R.H. Roger Barous; F.B. Raymond Reed; L.H. Raymond Yancy; L.E. John Hill; L.T. William Emmert; L.G. Frank Hebert; C. Richard Holmes; R.G. Bruce Stewart; R.T. Leo Ruel; R.E. John Carver.

Merrimack College

New and former members of the faculty will be presented to members of the Merrimack College association at the first meeting of the current year to be held at 7:45 p.m., Oct. 14, in the college gymnasium.

Composed of parents and wives of Merrimack students the association was formed to foster greater understanding between members and the faculty. Meetings are held regularly to provide opportunity for discussing means of promoting the best interests of students and of the college.

Edward A. Lawlor, of Lawrence, president, will preside.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

TOWN OPPOSES PETITION

Parents of school children in Ballardvale are leading the opposition to the proposal of the Boston and Maine railroad to install automatic signal gates at the grade crossing in their district.

Aroused by the contemplated removal of the crossing tender, whom they credit with being responsible for the prevention of many accidents, they expect to present a strong case against the petition at the hearing before the department of public utilities next week.

Concerned chiefly with the safety of their children they call attention to the fact that approximately one-half of the pupils enrolled at the Bradlee school must cross the tracks four times a day. In summertime the immediate area is the congregating place for children awaiting arrival of the truck that takes them to the bathing beach at Pomp's pond.

In a recent statement voicing their determination to vigorously oppose the road's petition they aptly point out that Andover proper may have a stake in this issue. They ask, if the road is successful in having automatic gates installed in Ballardvale, would the Essex street crossing be next on the list?

While in sympathy with the problem of the railroad's endeavor to operate its system as economically as possible the committee of the Ballardvale Parent-Teacher association which is leading the protest against the change, feels that while such gates may serve in areas with little rail or pedestrian traffic, the center of Ballardvale is not a place where such conditions are true.

The town, through its selectmen and elected representatives in the General Court, will oppose the petition which, in the interests of safety, parents of young children hope to see denied.

A NIGHT FOR YOUNGSTERS

The observance of Hallowe'en in Andover is going to be marked with something new this year, — a gala community party for school children.

The night for the bobbing for apples, the appearance of hobgoblins, and the parade through the streets of youngsters in grotesque attire is one that should be full of fun.

Everybody knows that youthful energy needs some outlet. Too often that energy in the past has led to damage and the destruction of property, so sponsors of the party hit upon the idea of providing a wholesome entertainment for all the youngsters of the town so they could have an evening of fun without getting into mischief.

The program being arranged will have two parts, the first one early in the evening for the younger children, the second to follow immediately for boys and girls from the seventh grade upward through the high school. Good entertainment and good things to satisfy the inner man are going to be the chief attractions.

Similar events on Hallowe'en have been highly successful in other places and have drawn high praise from community leaders where they have been tried. The purpose is to let the youngsters know that the holiday can be celebrated without creating damage to the property of others.

Sponsors of the party are doing the town a worthwhile service and deserve the support of all. Several organizations have cooperated with the committee in a substantial way but a few more contributions are needed. Checks are to be made payable to the "Hallowe'en Party Committee" and may be sent to Stafford A. Lindsay or James D. Doherty, prime movers in this event.

All boys and girls of the town are invited to attend this party at the Memorial auditorium the night of October 31. The sponsors are doing their part to make this first celebration of its kind a success. They cannot do it all. Parents can help by passing word along to all the potential guests of the evening.

AMERICANS IN RETREAT

Thoughtful observers express wonderment at the apparent ideological inconsistency of the American people. They resort to military measures without stint to uphold the free civilization. They condemn the philosophies of socialism and communism. And yet they seem to accept with fatalistic calm the deadly growth of government in this country. They work on the average of one week out of four to pay taxes. And definite proposals are under consideration to spend additional billions in taxes to socialize or to place under government control industries and professions, and reduce American citizens to the status of subjects.

One of the clearest explanations of this apparent inconsistency comes from a member of congress itself. Rep. Ben F. Jensen of Iowa points out in an article in Public Utilities Fortnightly, that federal planners "have the security and prestige of public office. They can think about methods of influencing congress and the public all day long, while on the federal payroll. On the other hand, the average citizen, busy attending to his own family, his own business, church, lodge, or other matters that occupy his waking hours, gives very little time to thinking of how to counteract such a trend. He may not even be aware that it exists, or how his own interest is affected by it. That is why a few are able to impose their will upon the many."

Unquestionably the people in this country are against totalitarian government. They have never knowingly retreated before its threat. It is threatening them now and they are retreating—unknowingly.

B-36: All Eggs In One Basket?

But the navy performs an important service by bringing to very curious public attention the issue of the B-36 bomber. The navy argues that national defense is now based upon a weapon rapidly becoming obsolete. It thinks that the air force has been allowed to sell the public on the idea of a quick and easy atomic war. And if the public thinks the B-36 solves all the problems or even the major ones then the public has been fooled, says the navy. Not only is the B-36 far from the weapon that the air force has ballyhooed it to be. Strategic bombing is merely one phase of operations that must include land and sea power. In effect, we're putting all our eggs into a questionable air force basket.

Now even if it is true that the navy is making a noise partly because it resents losing its own effective air arm, there's still a great deal to be said in support of its criticism of the air force as the preponderant defense branch. The air force issues all information about the B-36, and it is quite possible that having invested to date about $160,000,000 at least in the B-36 it can't very well back-track. And so it is claimed that quite a little of the publicized reputation of the plane is to be taken with much salt. Outsiders watching the fight think that the air force has sold the country a bill of goods and now hasn't the nerve to admit high pressure and questionable salesmanship.

The Navy Questions The B-36

Air force claims for the B-36 are questioned by the navy. The machine is said to have a 40,000 feet service altitude, thus beyond effective radar range; fighter pilots are supposed to have difficulty in finding the target; interception is said to be very difficult, and interceptor planes are presumed to lack performance and maneuverability at the 40,000 feet altitude. The navy protests that it is not allowed to attempt to disprove these claims. It further states that its Banshee fighter can knock off the B-36 bomber. The navy doesn't say so, but disinterested observers claim that the air force is talking in terms of its own fighters and is shutting its eyes to far superior foreign fighters.

And So Do Others

What makes the navy's criticism more interesting is comment published some months ago in the official journal of the British Royal Aero club. The British say that contrary to the American claim of 350 miles an hour for 10,000 miles and a 10,000 pound bomb load, the B-36 under operational conditions can do only 250 m.p.h. with an 8,000 mile range, at little more than 28,000 feet. And to lend substance to this statement is a long-distance test made by the U. S. air force last March. With a simulated atomic bomb to be dropped in the Gulf of Mexico the B-36 attained an elapsed-time average speed of only 220 miles per hour. The British say that even if the plane maintains a cruising speed of 290 m.p.h. the jet fighter can get it. The bomber, under combat conditions, has to stay and slug it out, whereas the fighter can break off the action and come in again. If the fight lasts long enough the B-36 would have to open up to full power, would consume fuel excessively, and be unable to return to base. Of course, it could be argued that atomic bomb carriers would obviously be suicide squads. And the argument that the B-36 outranges fighters is questionable. The Russians probably have a jet fighter capable of more than 40,000 feet altitude if the B-36 can get so high. The British already claim one with 56,000 feet service altitude, capable of climbing 40,000 feet in 8 minutes.

Will It Soon Be Obsolete

And there are other considerations which add weight to the navy's protest to leaving the nation's defenses chiefly in the hands of B-36 minded air force exponents. Some 170 B-36s are on order. By the time these are all ready they will be opposed by jet fighters easily able to shoot them down. There will probably by that time be guided missiles operated to the target by radar.

Police Ask Public For Cooperation

All too often, information which might aid the police in the prevention and detection of crime reaches them too late to be of much use to them.

This is emphasized in a statement issued by Police Chief George A. Dane advising the public how to cooperate with his department.

Chief Dane says:
You can aid in the detection and suppression of crime and thus protect your property, and welfare, by being alert and telephoning the police whenever you observe suspicious persons or happenings or hear unusual noises, either at your house or in the neighborhood.

Do not attempt a personal investigation, nor turn on additional lights in the house or make a lot of noise, that will only put the person in question on guard and prevent his capture if he is a criminal, this is especially true if you return home and find that the lighting arrangements have been changed during your absence.

Don't delay, don't look for an officer in the vicinity, go to a telephone and quietly say to the operator, Andover police station, Emergency 390, when connected with the police station, state clearly and quickly:

1. The location where police needed.
2. What has happened.
3. Your name, address and telephone number from which you are calling.

If possible obtain the description of the person or persons involved, if known give names, sex, color, age, height, weight, clothing worn, etc. If an automobile has been used, secure the registration number, make and type of car, color and number of occupants.

Cover as many of the above facts as you can, additional ones are always useful. Be observant. In getting a description always look for distinctive marks and peculiarities of physical appearance, manner and dress.

police, police cruisers are immediately directed to the scene by radio. No time is lost, a cruiser will be at your door shortly after you have hung up the telephone receiver. If the information has been received in time, there is a very good chance to apprehend the person or persons sought.

If you witness an accident or crime, don't take it for granted that the police have been called. Telephone your police station if no officers are about. No harm has been done if the incident has already been reported. If it was unreported, your action in telephoning may prevent or clear a crime, even save a life.

Discuss Plans For Sale Of 1949 Christmas Seals

The Andover Christmas Seal Committee held its first meeting of the 1949-50 season Monday, at the home of the new chairman, Mrs. Frank L. Brigham. Present were Miss Helen Eaton, Mrs. Thaxter Eaton, Mrs. Kenneth S. Minard, Mrs. George K. Sanborn, Mrs. Elbert S. Weaver, Mrs. Will G. Brown, Jr., and two new members, Mrs. Carl E. Elander and Miss Louise R. Kelsey.

Miss Mary C. Dinsmore, executive director of the Essex County Health association, discussed plans for the 1949 sale of seals, which starts in November. She also described the chest X-ray surveys which are being conducted in various cities and towns in Essex county. These surveys are financed by the annual sale of Christmas seals.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Brigham at the close of the meeting.

Women Voters League Plans Fall Luncheon

The annual fall luncheon meeting of the League of Women Voters of Andover will be held at 12:45 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 18, at the Andover Country club. The speaker, Franklin N. Flaschner, was an assistant to Claude B. Cross when he defended Dr. Miriam Van Waters last year. His subject "Reform of the Penal Laws Concerning Women Offenders" is one on which he is an authority, and one which is, of course, of vital importance right now. Members may bring friends who do not belong to the League. The arrangements are in charge of Mrs. James H. Grew of Abbot house.

Varied Program For "Hello Night"

Parents, teachers and friends of all children attending the central schools, from kindergarten to high school senior, are invited to gather Wednesday evening, Oct. 19, at the school cafeteria, to enjoy themselves at "Hello Night" festivities. Dessert and coffee will be served at 7:15 p.m. in the cafeteria, and patrons of the event are requested to enter at the lighted door facing the parking area.

After dessert the Punchard High school All-Girls' band will give a concert in the gymnasium. The girls, who have already demonstrated their ability at the football games, are looking forward eagerly to this opportunity to show off their skill, acquired under the enthusiastic leadership of Mrs. Frank J. McArdle, music supervisor in the Andover schools.

During the square dancing which will follow under the direction of Harold Phinney, the attendance will be taken according to rooms. The room with the most parents present is awarded the banner, which is displayed until the next Parent-Teacher association meeting.

The winning posters advertising "Hello Week" are in local store windows, and much credit is due all the young people who participated in the competition, under the direction of Miss Frances Dalton.

Tickets for "Hello Night" are now for sale by the students in the several central schools. The charge has been kept very low. It is hoped that fairly complete returns on ticket sales may be in by the end of the week to aid the chairman of the refreshment committee, Mrs. Almon Daniels and Mrs. Arthur Covell, in preparing the dessert.

A cordial invitation to attend "Hello Night" is extended to all parents, teachers and friends of students at the central schools by the Central Parent-Teacher association.

And The Army Is Worried

The army is getting worried about its plans for air-borne and air-supported operations. Russia places great emphasis upon air-borne forces and supporting aircraft. Her tactical air force is estimated at 14,000 planes. Our own fighter forces are reduced to something under 1,500 at a time when Russian jet-fighter strength alone is reported to be some 5,000. If past experience is to be considered it should be remembered that 14,500 sorties were flown by fighters and light bombers in support of the Normandy D-Day invasion. If bombing alone is not conclusive, the U.S. ground forces could face quick defeat through lack of air support.

What the navy is today attacking is the change in defense plans ordered by the defense department. Secretary Johnson is literally altering the weapons and roles of the services by reducing the navy and Marine air and sea power below what the navy regards as minimum for safety.

Uneasy Unification

There may have been squabbles between the services under the old system, but they did not reach the proportions that "unification" has produced. One might conclude that centralization guarantees efficiency. Dictatorship is often confused with efficiency. But it should be remembered that inefficiency in a dictatorship never permits criticism; consequently there appears to be no inefficiency. Democracy may look clumsy, but the decisions it arrives at are the synthesis of many points of view. What is needed today is leadership rather than dictation, responsible leadership willing to accept constructive criticism. If the B-36 has been oversold, let's discuss it freely. That's what the navy wants. Let's not choose unification only to find the remedy worse than the ill it is supposed to cure.

The potential water power of Africa is nearly equal to that of any other three continents combined.

Celebrity Series To Open Friday

MARGARET WEBSTER

Margaret Webster and her celebrated Shakespearean company will come direct from Broadway to open the new Andover celebrity series in George Washington hall, Phillips academy, this Friday evening, Oct. 14. This series which includes three of the most noted attractions before the public today offers residents of this vicinity the opportunity of hearing, in addition to "The Taming of the Shrew" which has been chosen to open the series, the noted "Four Piano Quartet" and the "Vienna Choir Boys".

Since Miss Webster's company will be the first event, a few words about the genius who made this great venture in taking Shakespeare "on tour" possible will be of interest here. In a few, hectic, memorable and shining seasons, Miss Webster made William Shakespeare Broadway's leading playwright. Indeed, this very play, "The Taming of the Shrew" might well be called the original version of that current hit, "Kiss Me Kate" since the latter is based upon it. The daughter of distinguished English parents, Dame May Whitty and her actor-husband Ben Webster, Margaret Webster has been proclaimed by all the leading critics in New York.

Mail orders for the series of three are now being received at the Ticket Office, Phillips academy.

Couple Observe 46th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Carter of 6 Wolcott ave. observed their 46th wedding anniversary Friday, Oct. 7, when their son, Russell A. Carter and his family of Exeter, N. H. visited them.

A family dinner was held at a restaurant in North Andover, and a beautifully decorated anniversary cake, given by Mrs. Russell Carter was enjoyed when the gathering returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter were married at the home of Mrs. Carter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Russell, by the late Rev. F. A. Wilson, then pastor of the Free church, and they have, until recently, been very active in church affairs. Mr. Carter's health has not been too good lately, but he enjoys his radio, and having friends in to call.

Besides their son, the couple have a grandson, Russell A. Carter, Jr.

Both marriage and divorce rates declined throughout the world in 1948.

Library Asks Clubs For Official Lists

Will the presidents or secretaries of clubs or organizations who have received one of the questionnaires from the library at some time this summer please fill it out and bring or mail it in?

This questionnaire of membership, attendance, officers, and elections is of much more interest to the community than it may seem on first thought. Many times during the year, this information is asked for at the library, and an up-to-date file with accurate statistics and information is very valuable, and often saves hours of searching by those in need of it.

A WORD TO THE WISE:

Oily rags, mops and waste may take fire spontaneously. Don't let them collect around your house, especially in the attic or basement. These fires are the most difficult to extinguish.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean K. Webster is enrolled at Vassar.

On Saturday evening in Davis hall a program of readings will be heard when Betn Cary, distinguished monologist will be presented to the school at 8 o'clock. On the following Saturday evening, October 22, the program will be one of violin music provided by Bela Urban who has won great distinction in this country after having achieved success before European audiences where he was a member of the Brussels

Symphony. His concert career in the United States was interrupted by the war. Mr. Urban served in the U.S. army air force. His accompanist is his charming wife who is an accomplished pianist in her own right. Both programs are open to the public without charge.

Vespers will be conducted on Sunday evening by the Rev. Hans Sidon, pastor of Christ Presbyterian church, Lawrence. Mr. Sidon is the teacher of Bible at Abbot academy.
