VIEWS OF THE NEWS

By LEONARD F. JAMES

It was the custom in the Middle Ages to destroy an enemy by sticking pins into his wax image. That method is somewhat elementary today. The more effective one is to smother him in words. At least, that appears to be the Pentagon method.

The Myth of Unescorted Bombers
The navy is the enemy—the enemy of wishful public thinking. The navy won't accept the popular notion that a future war could be a push-button affair of a few days. That's the kind the public wants, if it has to have any. And it's not entirely our fault that we are so hopeful. The air force has cleverly felt the pulse of public opinion and prescribed a large dose of B-36. Consulting physicians are not only discouraged; they are in danger of losing their license to practise.

Many Get Permits For New Building

Report of Building Inspector Ralph W. Coleman for the week ending Oct. 29 showed permits for new buildings issued in that period were estimated to cost $69,350 and alterations $1000.

The report received by the selectmen was as follows:

Five Elms Prey To Tree Disease

Five of Andover's historic elms have been prey to the dutch elm disease this year, Tree Warden Richard G. Abbot reports in a statement in which he discusses control of the disease in town. This makes 10 elms that have been destroyed here in the past few years by this disease.

In his statement Mr. Abbot says: Five elm trees were found infected with the dutch elm disease this year. One on Summer street, one on York street, one on Balmoral street, one on Essex street, and one on North street.

All these trees were removed and burned with the exception of the trunk of one tree on Essex street which holds a supporting cable from an electric wire and telephone pole across the street.

Contributions To Date Represent Only 95% Of Town's 1950 Quota

The 1950 community chest campaign is over. At the present time Andover has raised $16,064 which represents 91% of its goal of $17,627.

Despite Andover's failure to achieve its quota there are grounds for optimism, Miss Miriam Putnam, chairman of the Andover division says. The residential division with its fine organization and splendid spirit and its corps of some 200 workers raised about $3800. This amount is $300 more than its quota and some $1300 more than was raised by this division last year.

Author To Speak At Library Event

Guest speaker at the annual open house of the Memorial hall library, to be held the afternoon of Nov. 20, is to be one of Andover's former residents, John Horne Burns, author of "The Gallery" and "Lucifer With A Book". There will be the usual informal period for browsing among the new books, which will be on display on the tables, where Mr. Burns makes his address. His subject will be "Italy: Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." He has published articles dealing with Italy in a national magazine in recent months, and feels particularly qualified to discuss that country.

John Horne Burns went into the infantry in January, 1943, as a private. He became a corporal, and then went to OCS. In 1943 he went overseas as a second lieutenant and served for a year in Casablanca and Algiers as a military intelligence officer with the Allied force headquarters. He spent the next year and a half in Italy, and returned to the United States in February, 1946.

Methuen-Punchard In Holiday Battle

Punchard meets Methuen tomorrow afternoon "Armistice Day" at Searles Memorial stadium with the kick-off slated for 2 p.m. Both teams have a very commendable record this season. They each have won 6 and lost 1. Methuen is much bigger than the Blue and Gold but the locals make up for this in their fleetfulness and aggression. This is expected to be the feature game of the football season in the Greater Lawrence area.

Both teams have a good backfield with the local one being a bit better than the Methuen. The Methuen line is much heavier and a very experienced one. The Blue and Gold line is expected to show just as much strength as that of Methuen. The passing of both teams is very good but Methuen's is considered a little better as they have very capable ends in catching passes.

"Stunt Night" Held By P.H.S. Seniors

"Stunt Night," presented by the Punchard class of 1950, was a great success. Held in the Memorial auditorium, Thursday, Nov. 3, this entertainment included a variety of acts such as skits, pantomimes, song and dance specialties. Members of the school faculty sponsored the performance, with David Wetterberg serving as chairman, and Audrey Dyer as mistress of ceremonies. The program was as follows:

Edith P. Sellars Called By Death

Miss Edith P. Sellars, 55, one of the town's best known employees and clerk of the board of selectmen and assessors for many years, died Monday evening at the Lawrence General hospital where she was taken after being suddenly stricken ill at her home, 13 Brook st., Saturday night.

Her sudden death was a great shock to the community which she served so faithfully for many years, to her many friends and her associates at the town house.

Miss Sellars was but a year old when she came to Andover from her native Dundee, Scotland and lived here ever since. Educated in the public schools she first entered the service of the town doing part time work while a student at Punchard high school, from which she graduated in 1913. She became a full time employee of the town in 1919 and for a long time was the only woman clerk employed at the town house.

She held the positions of assistant town clerk, and town treasurer for four years. Her last duties also included those as clerk of the board of trustees of Spring Grove cemetery.

The deceased was a member of Christ Episcopal church and the auxiliary to Andover post 8, American Legion.

Fire Extinguishers Should Be Checked

Fire Chief C. Edward Buchan has received notice from the state department of public safety that certain fire extinguishers of 1 1/4 gallon capacity, because of the instructions printed on them, may have a faulty charge. If any such extinguishers have a weakened part the overcharge may cause them to explode.

Plowing Operations Same As In Past

Announcement that the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company will discontinue its snow removal operations will not make any difference in the type of service the people of Andover have been accustomed to receive, Sidney P. White, chairman of the board of public works said in discussing the situation yesterday.

Police May Confiscate Boats Left On Pond

Boats now on Haggetts pond may be confiscated by police if their owners do not remove them soon.

One of the restrictions made by the board of public works in granting boat permits is that they must be off the water and shores by Nov. 1.

Police have been notified and Chief George A. Dane issues warning that for all boats his department has to move the owners will have to pay for the carting and storage.

The board of public works this year has issued 82 boat permits and 355 fishing permits. They also call attention of those holding permits that any violation of the rules under which they are issued calls for a revocation of the permit.

Chief Dane made a visit to the pond recently and reports that in one spot alone he observed 14 boats still in the water. Others have been reported in the water and on the shores at different parts of the pond. If they remain much longer they will be removed and owners will have to pay all charges involved.

Police Blame Boys For Minor Breaks

Boys are believed to be responsible for a number of minor breaks that have occurred in the town recently.

Last Thursday morning the Barron filling station at Haggetts Pond road was entered. A few cartons of cigarettes and about $2 in cash were taken together with candy bars. Entrance was gained by breaking a rear window and opening the catch.

On the night of Nov. 4 a break was made in the J. W. Robinson Co. service station, 43 Park st. where 50 cents was taken from an open cash drawer. A rear window was broken and the catch opened to gain entrance to the place.

On the same night about 10 o'clock Officer Russell Berthel found the rear door opened and after searching the place left it secured. It is believed that the break occurred before the officer's visit.

Also on the same night a break was made in the service station of the Clark Motor Co., 41 Park st. Here entrance was gained through a rear window and $53 in cash taken from an open safe.

Dr. Leslie S. Jolliffe reported to police that on the night of Nov. 5 he had parked his convertible coupe outside his house on Windsor street and in the morning found the canvas top slashed and articles valued at $150 taken.

They included a brown brief case with medical papers, valued at $30, a top coat valued at $50, and a slide binder in a bag valued at $50.

Women residents of the upper end of Summer street have lodged a vigorous protest with police and with the state game warden against the discharge of firearms near their homes in the past few weeks.

"It is getting so that we hardly dare go into our own back yards," one indignant woman complained after reporting that her life and that of her children and others in the neighborhood have been jeopardized by shots from hunters in the district.

Only a few days ago, she complained, she was in her back yard picking flowers when she was startled by the blast of buckshot from the gun of a hunter standing just across a stone wall in the back of her house and that she could hear the buckshot rain down on her garden only 15 feet from where she was standing.

She ran into the house but caught a glimpse of the hunter on the other side of the wall which is about 100 feet from her home.

Police were called and although they arrived promptly the hunter had disappeared in the woods. Later in the day other shots were heard in the woods on the other side of the road from her home.

According to the state hunting and fishing laws the discharge of firearms is prohibited within 500 feet of an occupied dwelling or 50 yards of a hard surfaced highway.

At various times in the past, the woman reported, different men have been seen gunning in the streets and shots have come dangerously close to persons and homes in the vicinity.

Recently several shots have been heard early in the morning since the opening of the hunting season, and at times again in the early evening.

"These men call themselves sportsmen and go on disobeying the rules," she said. "It's a shame that some of them can get a permit so easily."

In the latest shooting episode, Harold Crosby of Dracut, state game warden, was notified. Mr. Crosby in other years has had several deputy game wardens in this area but owing to a change in the law he now has only three deputies to assist him in covering the 225 square miles of territory that lies in parts of Essex and Middlesex counties.

history of the D.A.R. from its small beginning, with a group of six members who banded together in Washington, D. C. in July 1890, to the present day group of 200,000, with members in all 48 states and many foreign countries. At this meeting, held at the home of Mrs. John Stewart, Bancroft rd., Mrs. McQuesten pointed out the work the D.A.R. does to foster love of country and to encourage education of immigrants among its American-born citizens.

The meeting was opened by the regent, Mrs. Guy B. Howe, and scripture was given by the chaplain, Mrs. Harold Hathaway. The members then joined in the salute to the flag and the American creed. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read, and accepted, and a report by the historian was given.

Mrs. McQuesten gave a very interesting account of the beginning of the society and told how many prominent women had been members. The charter was granted in Washington in 1896 by President Grover Cleveland, and among women of national and world-wide renown, who had been members were: Clara Barton, famous as the foundress of the Red Cross; Julia Ward Howe, who wrote "The Battle Hymn of the Republic"; Mrs. Harrison, wife of President Benjamin Harrison; and Mrs. George Patton, widow of the World War II general.

Mrs. Harrison was the first president general of the society. Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood of Washington was the woman who started the society after being aroused by the action of the Sons of the American Revolution in voting down a motion to admit women to their society.

Three new members and an associate member have been admitted to the chapter since the last meeting and it is hoped more of Andover women who are eligible will join.

Following the meeting tea was served by Mrs. George Glennie and her hospitality committee, and the gathering was shown over the house and grounds, which Mrs. Stewart has restored and made into such a charming home.

Andover-Exeter Renew Old Rivalry

Renewing the nation's oldest schoolboy football rivalry that began in 1878 the Phillips academies—Andover and Exeter—will meet Saturday at Plympton field, Exeter, in the 69th contest of this long series. Andover holds the edge in this series with 34 victories against Exeter's 29. Five games were tied.

On the basis of the 1949 season's record, Andover looks slightly favored, but this traditional scrap frequently ends in an upset, and it's often anybody's game until the final notes of the last whistle die away. Andover has won from Massachusetts Maritime academy, Harvard freshmen, and Williams freshmen, dropping games to Yale freshmen and Springfield freshmen. Exeter defeated the Williams freshmen, but lost to Brewster academy, Worcester academy, Harvard freshmen and Cheshire academy, probably the heaviest prep school team in New England.

Winner of last year's game at Andover by the score of 28-7, the Blue team of Coach Steve Sorota, has the majority of last year's starters back in their same positions. The Exeter team of Coach Bill Clark, thirteenth in the long line of Exeter coaches since 1897, has had an up-and-down season during an unusually heavy schedule.

Coaches Clark and Sorota were both appointed in 1939, and in the ten games since that date, Sorota has the edge with six victories to four wins for Exeter's Clark. No Sorota-coached team has ever failed to score against Exeter, although the team of 1940 scored only a safety in the 20-0 Exeter victory of that year.

Since 1878, only three years have passed in which no game has been played. These were 1889, 1894 and 1895. Fifty-four consecutive years since then have seen these traditional rivals meet annually. Exeter holds the edge in total points scored in the series with 783 to 693 for the Blue. The highest score in the series was the 78-7 victory of the Exeter team of 1914 led by the Yale immortal, Cupe Black.

Broadcast Problems Of Aging Americans

Underlined by the fact that the number of Americans over 65 has increased more than 21 percent in the last eight years to a total of nearly 11,000,000, a true life dramatization of the problems of one aging father will be presented on the ABC network public service series "Family Closeup" over Station WLAW at 9:30 p. m. Saturday, Nov. 12.

The "Family Closeup" series, written by Abram S. Ginnes, is being presented by the American Broadcasting company in cooperation with family service agencies from coast to coast, including the Family Service association of Greater Lawrence, a Red Feather service of the Greater Lawrence community chest.

For many listeners, this program will suggest that there are communities agencies near them, where the problems of older people can be worked out if there is a willingness to seek the help of professionally trained family counselors.

FIVE ELMS PREY TO TREE DISEASE

The wire companies were requested to remove this cable from the tree on August 10, but to date have failed to cooperate in saving the town from possible infection and loss of other elm trees.

Ten elm trees in Andover have now been destroyed by the dutch elm disease in the past few years. The disease has been held fairly well in check when it is considered that one infected elm tree left standing could infect 50 or more other elm trees.

The Massachusetts legislature this year passed a law placing jurisdiction and control work on the dutch elm disease in the Massachusetts department of conservation. This new law will be carried out by the state moth department which also has charge of insect control in the state.

The shade tree disease laboratory at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, will still carry on the work of testing samples from elm trees suspected of having the dutch elm disease.

Funds for the control of the dutch elm disease in towns must be appropriated as a separate item and should be requested as a separate article at a town meeting.

Funds will be needed for the removal and burning of diseased trees both private and public, for spraying public trees, the removal and burning of all weak and dying elm wood and other approved practices to retard and control this terrible tree disease. There is also a provision in the law whereby private trees infected with the disease must be removed by the owner or in certain cases by the town, the expense charged to the owner, the town and the state.

Punchard Harriers
Lose At Melrose

In a recent cross country meet held at Melrose the "hill and dalers" from that city easily outdistanced the local Blue and Gold team. The locals all readily agreed that the team from Melrose that had eight letter men from last season, had the hardest course the Punchard harriers have run on in their two seasons of cross country. The Melrose team incidentally finished fifth in the state cross country meet, held last Saturday at Franklin park in Boston. The way they finished at Melrose in the dual meet: 1 Murray (M), 2 Boyd (M), 3 Copson (M), 4 Conn (M), 5 Freeman (M), 6 Arnold (M), 7 Munroe (P), 8 McCarthy (P), 9 Tyler (P), 10 Wetterberg (P). Winning time was 15 minutes and 56 seconds.

WINS CONTEST

Sincere congratulations to Barbara Ann Doyle of the ninth grade. In the recent community chest contest Barbara Ann's essay, "I am My Brother's Keeper" was awarded third prize in the ninth and tenth grade group. As her prize she received a lovely inscribed trophy and a $25. war bond. Barbara Ann was a guest at the last community chest dinner, Miss Beatrice L. Stevens of the English department and Benjamin Dimlich also attended.

In each grade winners were chosen in the various divisions by the English teachers for the recent community chest contest. The winners in the various divisions are: seventh grade, Mary Oliver, Eleanor Eastern, Judith Hall, and Sara Paisley; eighth grade, Gall Thompson, Maxine Wainwright, John Harding, Gloria Dupuis; ninth grade, Mary Ellen Bishop, Barbara Ann Doyle, Shirley Murray, Sylvia Carter, Jack Rose, and Robert Henderson. These pupils will receive certificates from the community chest.

Open House

Many parents attended "open house" held last Tuesday evening. Teachers were in their rooms at 7:30 o'clock and received parents. A display of pupil's work, charts, etc. made the rooms more attractive looking, and ideas explaining what teachers are doing in various subjects were put on the blackboard in an effort to enlighten many parents. Mary Lee Adriance, Virginia Bigelow, Helen Andrew, Sidney Tavern, Ruth Sullivan, Mary Ellen Bishop and Elizabeth Hatton acted as guides around the school during the evening.

Juniors Lose

Another defeat was chalked up against the junior high by Wilmington High freshmen, the score being 6-12. Due to the Armistice day holiday the regular Friday game will be played Wednesday afternoon in a return game at Wilmington at 3 o'clock.

Soccer

Boy's intramural soccer started last week with a large number of boys turning out. The results of the first games are Blues 2, Reds 3, and Golds 1, Greens 1.

Notes

Elementary school teachers are having the opportunity to bank in the junior high. This new arrangement was started last week.

A reminder to all parents, friends and relations that the junior high bazaar is just one week away. Whatever your desire there will be something for all. The ninth grade academic division is working very hard on stuffed dolls for the bazaar.

The next indoor lunch period will be used for a much needed locker clean-out period. In the future time will be given to locker inspection only, so pupils must take the responsibility of having their lockers always neat and clean.

Report cards were issued Thursday and honor cards awarded in a short assembly.

College 3 division started its new schedule last Monday.

OFFERS RELIEF FOR
MIGRAINE SUFFERERS

Relief for sick headache for the 12 million Americans who suffer from it is here at last in the form of a little pill called Cafegone. Although this combination of two simple drugs will not prevent or cure migraine, it does constrict the arteries of the head so as to reduce the agonizing throbbing, according to Morton Sonthheimer. Writing in McCall's for November, he describes the characteristics of migraine and points out that it attacks two and a half times as many women as men!

"Doctors think the tortures of migraine, which afflict about one in every twelve of us, result from a surge of blood to the brain. During the migraine attack arteries in the head are distended and swollen. Efforts to relieve the resulting agony have aimed at constricting these arteries. Once they are reduced the pain subsides.

"The two drugs which have been combined to do this are a derivative of ergot and caffeine. Ergot, a fungus that grows on rye, has been known to constrict the blood vessels, but it nauseated many patients and had to be injected for best results.

"Caffeine, the substance in coffee that gives you a lift, when it was injected into humans, always expanded instead of constricting the blood vessels. Scientists now know that when it is taken by mouth it works in harmony with the ergot to reduce the arteries with the least unpleasant effects. They have combined the two drugs in a pill called Cafegone.

"Dr. Bayard Horton of the Mayo clinic says it has brought relief to 88 per cent of the patients he has tried it on. Other headache specialists report similar successes. Moreover, Cafegone takes effect within 15 to 30 minutes, not only relieving the agonizing pain, but appreciably reducing the accompanying nausea.

"The greatest hope of preventing attacks of 'sick headache' as it is known to most people, lies in avoiding difficult emotional situations, in reducing the inner tensions. In some cases a psychiatrist is needed to bare the fuse of the explosive emotions and extract it.

"More than three out of four patients have had other cases of migraine in their families and about half of them recall having had their first attacks before they were 15. The attacks are commonest between the ages of 20 to 40, but they can begin at any age.

"What happens in these explosions of migraine? First, consider the fact that the human brain, which makes up only one-fifth of the bodily weight, uses one-fifth of the blood the heart puts out. Under the pressure the migraine sufferer builds up, the arteries serving the brain grow tense and constricted. When they relax they become distended, allowing unrestricted quantities of blood to go pounding into the head. That is why migraine often strikes when the pressure goes off—on week-ends and holidays, at parties."

Shrapnel was first used extensively by Wellington's forces in the Peninsular War against Napoleon.

Workers Raise $16,911
For Community Chest

Its success seems to point up the fact, Miss Putnam reports that people will respond quite wholeheartedly to the chest appeal when reached as individuals and when it is possible to tell them as individuals of the community chest and its work.

The governmental division also went over the top raising $233, a little over its goal of $203. The other employee groups with higher quotas to reach fell short of their goals. The employee division comprising schools, industry and government has so far raised $3002, with a quota of $3649.

The special gifts division with a quota of $10,767 has raised to date $9192.

There are undoubtedly many factors contributing to the failure of these divisions to reach their goals. Probably the economic uncertainty played a part in this failure, particularly as it effected employee giving. Final returns are not in for these groups and it is quite probable that they can improve their showing somewhat during the next few days as more employee groups and individual givers are heard from.

The actual number of Andover people contributing to the campaign is not known at this time. It is possible that this year a larger number of people contributed than has ever been true before. If so, it is a most heartening sign since if the community chest is to survive the basis of its support must be broadened.

The fact that more than 200 voluntarily gave of their time to work for the community chest drive speaks eloquently for the basic community acceptance of the community chest idea.

As chairman of the Andover division, Miss Putnam wishes to take this opportunity to thank each and every worker who made possible the degree of success achieved this year.

Plowing Operations
Same As In Past

The street railway company in a drastic economy move is shifting snow removal to the 73 communities it serves. Officials estimated that it cost the company nearly $2,000,000 for plowing in the past 10 years, including the expenditure of $1,000,000 during last season's mild winter.

Mr. White said that with snow storms there is usually a bad situation on the Main street grades. Beginning with each snow storm the board of public works uses salt on the roadways and this keeps working as the snow continues and usually has a soft, slushy lane open on both sides of the street during the storm and when it ends.

When a quick freeze comes the public works equipment has several bad spots in town it must reach quickly as well as those on Main street, and these operations will be continued as usual.

In past years the excellence of Andover's highways during and after snow storms has been the subject of much favorable comment of motorists from other towns.

The action of the street railway company will have no effect on the cost of snow removal to the town. The company's announcement said that it would continue to sand roads and plow out stops and terminals.

The company has excellent equipment, Mr. White said. Approximately 25 of the snow plow trucks will now go on the block.

GEORGE D. PETTEE

George D. Pettee, formerly a student and later registrar at Phillips academy, died on Oct. 30, in Brookline. Graduate of Andover in 1883 and of Yale in 1887 and master of arts at Yale, Mr. Pettee was secretary of the faculty from 1890 to 1900, and acting principal in the temporary absence of Dr. Bancroft, principal at Andover during that period.

On leaving the academy, Mr. Pettee became principal of the University school, a college—preparatory school for boys in Cleveland, Ohio. At University school, Mr. Pettee developed his concept, later incorporated in many junior high schools, that boys in the last two years of grade school and in the first year of high school work, are psychologically receptive to, and need, the stimulation of personal creative activities in the fields of natural science and handicraft.

Mr. Pettee's monograph on the junior high school was one of the early expositions of this idea in this country, and the concept was put into concrete form in his founding of Berkshire Hills schools at Mount Washington and Great Barrington, in 1908.

This school was taking the triple form of lower school, middle school (junior high school) and upper school at the time the project was terminated by a disastrous fire in 1914. Subsequently, Mr. Pettee carried on the family business founded by his father, Daniel Webster Pettee, in Sharon, and after his retirement from this activity, he joined his wife, Rose Lombard Pettee, in the erection and management of the college Club Inn at Searsport, Me., for 25 years.

He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and was listed in Who's Who in America (1908-1911).

Recently he has been living with his daughter, Frances H. Pettee at 160 Salisbury rd., Brookline. Mr. Pettee also has a son, Allen D. Pettee, living at Summit, N. J., and three grandchildren, Barbara Pettee Kovar, of New York, Daniel Starr Pettee, junior at Yale, and James Starr Pettee, junior at New York university.

A brother, L. Gardner Pettee, also a Phillips academy graduate, was for many years assistant principal at Westminster school at Simsbury, Conn., where he now resides.

Fire Extinguishers Should Be Checked

The communication from Ex-er-ett L. Flanders, state fire marshal, stated that it had been found that two makes of 1 1/4 gallon capacity soda-acid extinguishers had incorrect charging instructions printed on them for the reason they were the same instructions as used on the extinguishers of 2 1/2 gallon capacity, thereby causing an over-charge.

"In view of this information," the communication read, "it would seem advisable that all makes of soda-acid extinguishers of 1 1/4 gallon capacity be checked regarding instructions printed on them."

Fire department officials say that none of the smaller extinguishers are used in public buildings and places they inspect. The smaller type is usually used in homes. They will be glad to check any fire extinguisher to see if the charging instructions are correct.

New Trial Justice Holds First Court Session Here

One of the first cases was that of Benjamin Wilkshie, a farmer of Wilmington, who was charged with allowing a horse to graze at the side of the road. The alleged offense occurred last August. Wilkshie pleaded not guilty. Police testified that he had allowed his horse to roam about Lowell Junction where damage was done to gardens. He was found guilty and with a warning to keep the animal tied up the case was filed.

Martin J. Lebow, 23, of Brookline, pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding on Main street and was fined $10.

Dorothy F. Craddock of Methuen, charged with speeding and passing through a red light, pleaded not guilty but was found guilty and the case was filed.

Morris M. Hark of Mattapan, pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding and was fined $5.

The new trial justice will have concurrent duties with the superior and district court in cases subject to a fine or forfeiture of not more than $50 or imprisonment of not more than six months. It is expected that he will hold sessions here regularly.

ADVANCEMENT

Dr. Nathaniel Stowers, chairman of advancement, met with a committee at his home recently, to examine several explorer scouts of Troop 72 for Star and Life scout rank. The committee consisted of Troop committeemen Joseph McCarthy of Troop 75 of St. Augustine's church, Merrill Burnett of Troop 72 of the Free church and Walter Caswell, district commissioner. Star scout Russell Johnson appeared for Life scout recognition, and First Class scouts Arthur and Alan Schwarzenberg, and Richard Parker were examined for star scout rank.

New Regulation

It is no longer necessary for a scout to be examined in the troop for merit badges. It is therefore very important that a boy review the requirements of merit badges he has already passed before appearing for Star, Life or Eagle scout recognition at a district advancement committee meeting. When a scout is being examined for any of these ranks, the committee may ask questions about any merit badge that has been passed. It is expected that one or two boys will appear for Eagle scout recognition before the end of this year, with more becoming eligible during 1950.

Camping Trip

Scouts of Troop 72 of the Free church met at 10 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 5 for an overnight trip to the new district campsite on the Tewksbury line. The return trip was made late Sunday. Two scouts, one an experienced scout and the other a new scout, made up a series of partnerships during the camping trip. In this way the newer boys were better able to both enjoy the trip and gain camping knowledge. The twosomes of scouts each brought their own supply of food, blankets, utensils, and camping equipment.

Unit Meetings

Troop 76 of Ballardvale met Tuesday evening Nov. 1. The explorer scouts in the troop met on Friday evening Nov. 4 in the scout room of the firehouse.

Troop 73 of the South Congregational church met in the vestry Friday evening Nov. 4 with Leslie Mullin, scoutmaster in charge.

There was no meeting of Troop 72 of the Free church Friday Nov. 4 because of the annual church fair which started at 2 p.m. on that day.

GIVE YOUR JEWELS SPECIAL ATTENTION

Do you know that it takes just a few wearings to soil your gems? And that the inside of your handbag can be a more dangerous storage place for your watch than a glass of water? And that certain stones, like the opal, require special care?

Seven rules for good grooming for your jewels are listed in the October issue of Good Housekeeping magazine. Here they are, in brief:

1. Keep jewels clean. Perspiration, cosmetics, dust, soap—all may cloud your gems; 2. Keep jewelry out of the kitchen. Steam from cooking may leave grease on your jewelry, rust your watch; 3. Keep jewelry out of your handbag. Volatile perfume oils on the metal parts of jewelry react chemically and harmfully; 4. Store jewelry safely. Whether you use a smart case or a cigar box, make certain the pieces are separated by velvet, felt, or a layer of sawdust; 5. Give each jewel special care. Pearls should be wiped off with a soft cloth after each wearing. Opals are porous and should occasionally be wrapped in oily cotton for several days; 6. Insure valuable gems, whether you own a crown fortune or just that beloved diamond ring; 7. Know what to do in emergencies. If you accidentally sprinkle your watch, immediately place it in a glass of water or alcohol. The chemical reaction of water and the oxygen in the air forms rust, which damages the watch's works. So, if you have forgotten to keep the water away, you must at least keep the air away until your jeweler can clean out the damaging moisture.

In one area of Peru the humidity is so high that matches will not ignite unless kept in airtight boxes

MAKE-UP COLORS FOR NEW FASHIONS

With more color around this year—in hats and rich, lustrous dresses—you can accent your hair, eyes, and nails more vividly than ever before, says Dolly Reed, who gives you tips in McCall's for November, on shampoos, rinses, nail shades, eyebrow pencils and mascaras:

"If winter has begun to dull the highlights in your hair, you can bring them back again with new shampoos and rinses. The latest one from a Fifth avenue salon magically steps up your own hair color. For an even richer brilliance, break a capsule of vegetable coloring into the final rinse water. You can buy them in packages with shampoo and a tube of hair-grooming cream.

"Hands and nails are a wonderful fashion accent if you care for them properly. Hands should always look as creamy and soft as your favorite lotion can make them. Nails should highlight the color of your clothes. Vibrant new shades will give colorful accents to your winter wardrobe. And don't forget lipstick to match.

"The color of your eyes will be twice as effective, if you pay attention to brows, lids and lashes. Pale brows can be beautifully outlined with one of the new fine-pointed pencils. There's even one model with a built-in sharpener. Look for new shades of light and dark brown in pencils and mascaras. Don't overlook eye shadow in jewel or iridescent tones."

Dolls To Be Displayed At APC Sorority Bazaar

Children and grown-ups alike will be pleased to see the lovely dolls in Mrs. Paul Simeone's shop "Around the Village Green", at the harvest bazaar of the A. P. C. sorority, in the South church vestry Nov. 19. The shops will be open at 2:30 p.m., and in this particular one there will be baby dolls, clothes for dollies of all sizes and dolls that will be a wonderful addition to any collection. The committee has made many stuffed animals and have thrown in some bean bags, along with many other things that would delight any child. Mrs. William Emmons is in charge of tickets for the smorgasbord supper which will be served with the first sitting at 5:30 p.m. and a second at 6:30 p.m.

development of air-sea power. The navy has not been able to get that point across. It's all very well for critics to talk about everybody on the team pulling his weight. But it's not much good to have midgets as guards.

The issue has been hidden behind "unification," service morale and accusations of service rivalry. It is fortunate that the country is served by men willing to risk their careers for their convictions. They may finally make the public realize that defense depends upon integration of three fighting services, not upon the magic of the word unification.

We are faced by ruthless men in Moscow. Men who estimate shrewdly every move they make. They mean to extend their frontiers wherever they can. Every risk is calculated. They respect only power. It is doubtful whether they'd be too afraid of the Maginot Line mentality of prime reliance upon unescorted bombers. If they should make war, it won't be only on our terms.

In relation to livestock prices, the prices for milk and its products in 1948 were the lowest on record.

★ ★ ★ ★ Isn't America

Who hollered for Uncle?

Who wants him to break up A&P?

COULD IT BE INDEPENDENT GROCERS? Doesn't seem likely. In ten years America's independent storekeepers almost tripled their business. In 1938 they did just under 5½ billion dollars worth of food business. Last year the independent storekeepers handled over 15 billion dollars worth of food.

WHOLESALE GROCERS? Hardly. For many of them are directly or indirectly engaged in or supporting some form of voluntary or cooperative chain to match chain economies.

THE EMPLOYEES? That would be funny—except that some folks probably believe it. Actually, less than 25 years ago many food chain stores could have paid all expenses—rent, heat, light, wages, etc.—out of the money a store manager alone gets paid now. And the store manager of 25 years ago would have been happy to get what a clerk gets today.

PRODUCERS? Well, take farmers. Certainly part of their prosperity must be attributed to the markets that big chains create for them. The big chains buy the entire pack of many a cannery. Those canneries pack the farmers' crops. What would the farmer do with his highly perishable crop if the food chains were eliminated as big volume buyers?

COMPETING CHAINS, MAYBE? No. Practically every chain in the grocery business had more sales last year than the year before. One chain that we know a lot about increased its food business 21% last year and is up 19% in the first eight months of this year.

THEN IT CERTAINLY MUST BE THE PEOPLE! Like fun. If the people hated food chain stores, would they have spent 9½ billion dollars in them last year? Folks like the low prices and high standards of chains—and the better the chains are run, the better folks like them.

Does This Sound as Though We Need Help? Thorofare Super Markets came into existence 10 years ago. The food chains Thorofare replaced were doing about three million dollars worth of business a year. Housewives liked our policies well enough to boost their purchases in our 90 stores to about 30 million dollars a year.

We call that a vote of confidence. And we're going to keep right on proving that as long as we stick to good brands and better-than-average selections at rock-bottom prices, we can compete with anybody in the business. And keep right on growing, too!

We don't believe any chain will be punished for being efficient, or for pleasing housewives so well that it is forced to grow. We, too, believe that it is a storekeeper's duty to bring the public the best food at the lowest possible prices, and hope to see the chain store way of doing business vindicated.

And as long as the producers, the employees, the customers, the wholesale grocers, the independents and the competing chains thrive so well, we will continue to think it's a good way to do business.

All over the world today there are people teaching bitterness and hate.

Here in America we have learned to live together in friendship.

For us here at A&P, it has been a wonderful and thrilling experience to get from those with whom we compete day after day such astounding evidence of friendship and respect.

The things that have happened since the anti-trust lawyers from Washington brought suit to destroy A&P have amazed us.

While we sincerely believed that we had earned the friendship of millions of consumers for whom we have provided better food at lower prices, and the friendship of millions of farm families for whom we have provided a better market for their produce, we were not prepared for the avalanche of offers of support.

But most of all, we have to confess that we had underestimated the fine sportsmanship of many of our competitors all over this country.

Can anyone believe that these competitors would rush to our defense if, as the anti-trust lawyers allege, we had been trying to put them out of business?

We and they have fought hard for business.

There are nearly 350,000 individual grocers competing with us. They have a larger share of the nation's grocery business today than they had ten years ago or twenty years ago.

Many of them do as good a job as we do, and they make it plenty tough for us.

Now, day after day, these same competitors are letting us know that they are in our corner.

All we can say is, thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

The Anti-Trust Suit Against The Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

This suit is another threat against our great American system of free enterprise. The A&P Co. has always been clean, above board competition and any successful independent merchant, if he is honest, will admit that they have taught him a great many things regarding merchandising, reducing overhead, better buying, etc., thus lowering food costs for the great American Public.

TRAFFIC ON THE HILL

195 Main St.

Nov. 6, 1949

Editor of the Townsman:

As a resident of Main street and the father of three small children, I'd like to say something about the proposed plans for changing Main street on the hill.

Much of the talk about this change focusses on the need for eliminating the "bottleneck" which supposedly exists somewhere on the hill. I have lived on Main street for eleven years, seven of them at the corner of Main and School, and there have been very few real jams there, certainly not enough to warrant any major alteration of the street. I have seen many major jams, but most of them occur between Lawrence and Andover, not on the hill.

The one thing that sometimes stops cars on the hill is the system of traffic lights at Chapel ave. and Salem st., and they were installed to protect pedestrians from fast and reckless driving. What I want to say most emphatically is that the wisdom of any change will depend on whether it increases or lessens the present menace from irresponsible drivers.

I would protest very strongly any change that would speed up traffic. It sounds like a crazy thing to say, but I would almost like to see a "bottleneck" created to slow up traffic, especially after Rockingham park opens. It is ridiculous that no boys, children or adults have been killed by the wild driving that starts when the betting at Salem starts. They speed through at 50 and 60, drive two and three abreast, and ignore red lights. And the problem is aggravated when traffic to "The Rock" is augmented by regular weekend travel.

There are a great many children living on or near the top of the hill, and they deserve first consideration. When I think of them crossing Main street, it seems as if, instead of opening up the roadway, the town ought to put up a road block.

The following recordings have been added to the collection in the Memorial Hall library and are already in circulation:

Harold In Italy; Berlioz; Concerto No. 1 In D Minor Op. 15; Brahms; Harpsichord Recital With Ralph Kirpatrick; Concerto In E Minor Op. 64, Mendelssohn; Medium And The Telephone, Menotti; Concerto No. 2 In E Minor Op. 18, Rachmaninoff; Symphony No. 2 In D Major Op. 43, Sibelius; Lawrence Tibbett program; Music Of The Sioux And Navajo; Music Of Equatorial Africa; Kiss Me

Kate, Cole Porter; Symphony In C Major, Bizet.

This Bizet recording is the first long-playing record added to the library. It must be used only with LP equipment.

Book Week Program

There is a fine program of fun planned for boys and girls of the young people's room of the Memorial Hall library, beginning Monday, Nov. 14 and running through the week, which is being observed throughout the nation as book week. Different age groups have special days and entertainments planned for them, and are reminding ed that all during the week the new books will be on display, and may be reserved.

Monday, Nov. 14. There will be a story hour, especially for grades 1 through 6, at 3:35 p. m. Much of the hour will be devoted to animal heroes.

Tuesday, Nov. 15. Clarence W. Anderson, who is so well known both as writer and sketcher of horses, will give a talk and sketch as he goes along; there is but one ruling—only real horse-lovers, young or old, may come to this meeting, and each person must come beforehand to the library and get one of the free tickets, which will be ready after Nov. 6. This meeting will be at 3:45 p. m.

Wednesday, Nov. 16. Songs and records about animals will be enjoyed at 3:35 p. m.; two members of the Punchard High school band will lead the singing, and there will be an accordion accompaniment. Grades 1 through 9 are invited.

Thursday, Nov. 17. All people interested in this day's fun must come to the library any time after Nov. 6 and get a free ticket. It is planned for grades 4-9, and will take place at 3:45 p. m. It is a movie program, the "Adventures of Chico," an animal film that runs almost an hour. It is the story of a ten-year-old Mexican boy who has no playmates, and who therefore makes friends with the quail, possum, racoons, fawns, armadillos and other animals around him. The high point of the story is the daring flight of a bird with a rattlesnake.

Friday, Nov. 18. There will be book games in the young people's room, especially planned for grades 3 through 9.

It's to be a busy week for everybody, and especially animals, who appear in some part of every activity planned for the week.

PREPARE NOW FOR CHRISTMAS

This is the month before Christmas, but don't wait until the day before to start sewing your gifts. Nightgowns, lounging pajamas or hostess gowns make wonderful presents, says Marion Corey. Writing in McCall's for November, she also describes some exciting dressy dresses for dates and parties:

"A pair of look-alike pinafores for mother and daughter with fly-away shoulders is an inspired gift. They are very pretty in pastel chambray with rows of rick-rack. A pajama ensemble is something for the glamour girl. The coat is twice useful, as it can be worn as a robe with sleeping pajamas. It's quilted—quilted crepe can be purchased with the quilting already done for you.

"Look-alike night gowns are super de luxe in crepe, quaint in batiste with eyelet. Daughter, especially, will be thrilled to have a gift exactly like mother's. A hostess gown in red faille is The Gift Divine. And it isn't such a big undertaking after all. Few pieces make it, and they go together easily. It will look very gay in its Christmas box, fluffed out with tissue.

"There's lots of flare in the new five-o'clockers and party dresses. One design in bengaline has just one out-jutting pocket—this to make the skirt smartly one-sided. Such asymmetrical ideas are being given a big display by Paris. Exit interest is something another dress has lots of. It has one of the prettiest backs in the entire mode, and one of the most unusual, slim, straight skirts.

"Bigger and better collars are here for date dresses too. Under a coat, you merely fold it, scarf-wise. One model with a big collar has a skirt that's slim but not plain, with dog-ear pockets and lines of buttons. Beautifully simple, and simply beautiful, is a party dress for juniors or small women. It has scalloped yokes and a wide skirt, and is very easy to make.

"Juniors love jersey, and that fabric is so right for tailored day-timers. One model has a widely-flared skirt and the slim fitted bodice that all juniors insist on. As for the collar and the pocket flaps, they are velveteen."

A Wonderful Country!

A COMPETITOR'S OPINION of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

The self-styled "trust busters" of the government recently made headlines as a result of a move to destroy the A&P.

Frankly, we don't like it.

A&P is charged with having control of SOME of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they can offer foods at low prices.

So What...

And if monopoly of the food business is charged, that sure hands us a laff. We...at P.M. are growing like wildfire. Seems like we're able to sell better foods at better prices.

Your increasing patronage of our stores is positive proof that A&P has no monopoly on the food business. Let's get down to good old American horse sense. A&P is doing a good job of serving the people of this country. They're no bogey men. We are for them 100% in this controversy.

William F. Britton, Pres.

PROVIDENCE PUBLIC MARKETS
PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND

WHY ARE THEY MONKEYING WITH THE A&P?

In all sincerity, we wish to go on record as standing squarely in back of a leading competitor now fighting a battle for its very existence.

For what it's worth, we offer our moral support to the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, target of a federal government action aimed at destroying this firm.

The anti-trust authorities want A&P broken up on the grounds that it controls certain phases of production and processing in the food industry.

We see no crime in this. A&P is one of the leaders in holding food costs down and rival suppliers, INCLUDING OURS, are compelled to meet their competition. This means we can buy at lower prices and sell to our customers at lower prices.

Because we are first and foremost concerned with giving our customers the most for their food dollar, we regard this threat to the A&P as a threat to us.

We are opposed to all efforts, by government or any other group, toward destruction of a competitive system of business enterprise.

I Welcome A&P Competition BECAUSE

... like myself, many hundreds of independent grocers got their start with the TEA COMPANY.

... The great A&P is not detrimental to the progress of the grocery business. On the contrary, A&P has always been beneficial to any open-minded businessman who believes in FREE ENTERPRISE. Founded on the principle of FAIR PLAY and FAIR PRICES, A&P developed from a humble start to its present commanding position in the field of retail merchandising.

... My experience as a former employee of the TEA COMPANY has served me well. I attribute my success to the ideas and methods tried, tested and proven by the A&P stores—at a great cost.

... A&P upholds the rights and privileges of a good worker. I know this from personal experience. A&P is ever on the lookout to promote sincere and ambitious employees to trustworthy and important positions and has never crossed the efforts of any employee to enter into business for himself. A&P helped me to start in business... IS THAT BUSINESS? NO!

A&P taught me to serve the public BETTER—MORE ECONOMICAL and MORE EFFICIENT, thanks to the start given me by B. F. VINSON.

... During the depression of the thirties, A&P paid higher wages than any other chain. A&P has striven to keep up the standard of living in this country. I shudder to think what would happen to its 110,000 employees if it was forced out of business.

... I am not afraid of A&P competition—I welcome it. It's democratic—it's the American Way.

We Agree With A&P

Yes, we want our A&P competitors to stay in business on their present scale because we know what it would mean to the American people without them.

We are only one store and are striving to serve our community with good food at low prices, but the A&P is a nationwide organization serving the American people everywhere with good food at low prices.

Destroying the A&P would mean eliminating competition nationally in the food field which every poor man knows consumes the major portion of his salary.

We congratulate the A&P for a job well done. Keep up the fight.

We welcome any fair competition which helps us bring lower food prices to the consumer.

We Don't Want the A&P Put Out of Business

The owner of the undersigned store is an independent merchant in this community. We run our own store, set our own prices, maintain our own policy.

We consider the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. as a chain store. Because they are a chain they give us stiff competition.

The competition offered by the A&P keeps us on our toes.

The Department of Justice has brought a suit against the A&P claiming that the A&P is a monopoly.

Whether it is or not we are in no position to judge.

What we do know is that the A&P doesn't do all of the grocery business in this area. We are here and ready to serve local customers.

WE DON'T WANT TO SEE THE A&P PUT OUT OF BUSINESS.

The A&P is keeping food prices down. We in turn keep our prices down; and that helps us to sell more goods.

West Center PTA

The regular meeting of the West center PTA was held at the West center school Wednesday evening, Nov. 2.

The program started with the speaker for the evening, Miss Mary O'Rourke, from the State Teachers college at Lowell, discussing reading. She first stressed the importance of reading to the American way of life and then presented the new progressive method which has a psychological approach, bringing out that point. Her presentation was most unique. She selected a few persons from the audience to represent a class then proceeded to show the position the child is in by using symbols unknown to all, in place of the alphabet. This also gave a good understanding of how this method works. Miss O'Rourke's demonstration was exceedingly educational and also interesting and entertaining.

After the speaker, a short business meeting was held at which a new member was added to the playground committee making it as follows: Mrs. John Dolan, Alexander Dixon, Lathrop Merrick, Geoffrey Nicoll, The president, Arthur Peatman announced that the West center PTA is sponsoring a radio program to be given Saturday, Nov. 12, from 11:05 to 11:30 a. m. This broadcast will be a panel discussion of the survey board's findings concerning the school situation in Andover, by prominent persons connected with the problem. He also announced that the next meeting of the West Center PTA will be held Wednesday, Dec. 7, at the West Center grange hall, and will be an open meeting to discuss this same problem. All persons in the community are invited and urged to attend this meeting.

The evening closed with refreshments and a social hour.

In the death of Miss Edith P. Sellers the Town of Andover has sustained an irreparable loss. She had served her town devotedly for over thirty years. According to Mr. Burns, the months in Italy were profoundly arresting, and from his reactions to the people and the places grew his war-novel, "The Gallery." Of this best-selling book John Dos Passos said, "... It is written with a reality of detail and a human breadth and passion of understanding."
