URGE GREATER TRAFFIC SAFETY IN SHAWSHEEN

VIEWS OF THE NEWS

By LEONARD F. JAMES

"When I use a word," said Hampty Dumpty to Alice, "it means just what I choose it to mean."

"The question is," said Alice, "whether you CAN make words mean different things."

Some of our travelling congressmen could answer Alice. They'd presumably say: Yes. More than twenty have recently returned from their European investigations, and they've come up with a beauty of an illustration. The United States is doing a fine job in Germany, says the majority. And then, making words work for them, they add that Nazism is as strong as ever in Germany. Germany a Focal Point in Cold War

It is to be sincerely hoped that their judgment won't carry too much weight with their colleagues or with the American people. If Nazism is as strong as ever, then we haven't accomplished one of our main purposes. Perhaps we are not to be blamed for that. No doubt the situation in Germany is far tougher than we realize. But that is no excuse for continued self-deception about conditions. We'd better face up the facts. For events of recent months in Germany (Continued on Page Six)

Anyone who is eligible to donate blood and who was unable to do so earlier in the week is urged to volunteer Friday to insure the success of this extra visit of the bloodmobile.

Appreciation of the large number of donors was expressed today by Chairman Mill who also paid a tribute to the large staff of volunteers who aided in the program.

Friday Is Toy Day In Local Schools

Friday, Jan. 20, will be toy day at the local public and parochial schools.

Every child who would like to contribute a used toy to an unfortunate child in Europe may bring it to the school on that day. The toys will be collected and the two American Legion posts of Andover aided by the ladies' auxiliary, will pack and send them to Philadelphia for shipment abroad.

Distribution of the toys will be in the hands of CARE which has an organization in most European countries.

The two fire stations have also been designated as toy collection centers. Cards or letters may be attached to the toys if donors wish to let the children abroad know the names and addresses of those participating in the "Tide of Toys" for Europe.

Summons Driver In Fatal Accident

A summons to appear in district court at Lawrence Jan. 24 to answer to a charge of operating to endanger has been issued for Daniel Coughlin of Somerville whom police say was the operator of the truck involved in the Shawsheen Village accident last Thursday which resulted in the death of Suzanne Winters, 11, of 11 Binney st.

The action was taken by Police Chief George A. Dane after several days investigation by police and George E. Hancock, inspector of the registry of motor vehicles.

Chief Dane announced that the operator of the passenger car, which the little girl had signalled to stop for other youngsters to cross North Main street, has been located.

After the passenger car stopped Suzanne ran back to the sidewalk. A truck, traveling behind the passenger car, swerved to the right to avoid a collision, ran up over the sidewalk where Suzanne was hit, and toppled over on an embankment.

The accident happened on North Main street near the Lawrence line shortly after 5 a. m., when several children were waiting to cross the street.

Plans Public Tour Of Public Schools

See our schools. Judge the buildings for yourself. Join the tour on Tuesday!

This is the invitation issued by the League of Women Voters, in considering the immediate need for new school buildings in Andover and the large appropriation which the town must vote for their construction.

The league feels that every citizen should have an opportunity to see the public schools which will be discussed at town meeting. Kenneth L. Sherman, the superintendent of schools, will conduct two tours Tuesday Jan. 24, one in the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and one in the evening at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. John Crichton Brown and her league committee on town affairs will assist Supt. Sherman.

On Tuesday afternoon and evening transportation will be available for any who wish to look at the outlying schools.

These buildings, together with the West Center and Indian Ridge schools have been found by the school survey to be overcrowded, because of Andover's recent growth, and inadequate for modern teaching methods.

The tours will start at Supt. Sherman's office in Pynchard High school near the Bartlet street entrance.

Four Permanent Men Named To Fire Dep't

The appointment of four permanent men to the fire department has just been announced by Fire Chief C. Edward Buchan who took the four names that were on top of the civil service list.

Lieut. Albert Cole is back at the central fire station and is devoting his time to fire inspection work.

Villagers Have Plan To Reduce Accidents

Act On Wave Of Protest Following Death of Child

The wave of protest which swept over Shawsheen Village following the highway accident that crushed out the life of little Suzanne Winters on North Main street resulted in a delegation from that district waiting upon the selectmen Tuesday afternoon with a safety plan to cut down traffic accidents in the village.

Numerous accidents, traffic hazards and instances of speeding on North Main and Union streets were recited during the conference in which various suggestions were made particularly for the protection of children going to and from school.

The Shawsheen PTA was represented at the meeting by Herbert L. Ortstein, president; Paul S. McKinnon, Alexander M. Wilson, Edmund A. Sorrie and Mrs. Byron Weiner of its safety committee.

Also present were Kenneth L. Sherman, superintendent of schools, Miss Anne M. Harnedy, principal of the Shawsheen school, and Selectmen Roy A. Hardy, J. Everett Collins and Sidney P. White.

It was stated at the meeting that all of North Main street in Shawsheen Village is a state highway, consequently all traffic lights, signs and markers are under control of the state.

This section of the street is also part of Route 28 on which the state last July installed speed zones of 30, 35 and 40 mph and which draw objections from Police Chief George A. Dane who did not want the speed raised above 25 mph, especially through that area where there were numerous intersections.

As many of the proposals made by the delegation pertained to North Main street the selectmen said they would place them before the proper state authorities for action.

Several of the suggestions for greater traffic safety related to other streets in the district besides North Main and Union streets.

The plan advanced by the delegation was outlined as follows:

1. Figurines at; a. No. Main and William sts.; b. No. Main and Poor sts; c. Union at crosspath to Poor; d. Poor at William.
2. Cross walks; a. No. Main at Haverhill; b. No. Main at Kenilworth; c. No. Main at Poor; d. Union at cross path to Poor.
3. "School" signs at; a. No. Main below William; b. No. Main above Poor; c. Union north of cross path.

Other suggestions were: Speed zone on Union raised to 30 mph and enforced; enforce 30 mph speed limit on No. Main st., pro-

As everyone knows among the many things Franklin was first to introduce was start a Thrift campaign. A new school savings calendar poster given to every teacher is intended to convey the idea that Franklin's life is an inspiration to youth.

Health Association Opens Campaign

Receipts for Christmas seals in Essex county totalled $51,863. up to date Mrs. Frank L. Brigham, chairman of the Andover Christmas seal committee announced in making her report that Andover contributed $2830 in this sale.
"We are still short of our goal," Mrs. Brigham added, "and those who have forgotten or overlooked paying for their 1949 Christmas seals are urged to do so."

She also announced that the Essex County Health association has launched its 1950 tuberculosis prevention campaign with meetings in various towns where X-ray surveys will be conducted this spring. "The association's work," Mrs. Brigham stressed, "has been made possible by the recent 1949 campaign. To realize fully its plans for an improved program of case finding, health education, and rehabilitation during the year, however, the association still needs to reach the county quota of $65,000. We are still short of our goal. However, if every county resident acknowledged his seal letter, we would be able to meet our quota."

WITH THE SCOUTS

DISTRICT MEETING

An important meeting of the Andover district committee will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Memorial library. Officers have been notified and all troop, explorer, and pack committeemen and leaders are invited.

Council Executive Board

The executive board of the North Essex council, Boy Scouts of America met Wednesday Jan. 18 in the Lawrence council office, with representatives from Andover attending.

Unit News

A separate meeting for scouts and explorers was held for Troop 72 and Explorer post 72 of the Free church Friday, Jan. 13. There was a good attendance in spite of a number of other local attractions. Scoutmaster David McCord and Explorer Advisor Fred Schaberg were assisted by Roger Dea, assistant scoutmaster.

Troop 73 of the South church met also on the same evening with Leslie Mullin, scoutmaster and the Rev. Frederick B. Noss, troop committeeman present. The three patrols enjoyed a sport and game period followed by a short business meeting and patrol meetings. The troop was very well uniformed.

Troop 75 of St. Augustine's church is meeting weekly with between 30 and 40 registered scouts. With the largest group of troop committeemen in Andover and a competent scoutmaster staff the troop is advancing steadily in scouting.

A number of boys and their parents have indicated to Walter Caswell, district commissioner, that they are interested in re-activating Cub Pack 71 of the Shawsheen Parent-Teachers association. A list of the parents has been sent to the Lawrence headquarters and a schedule of meetings for them will be arranged in order to explain the cub scout program. Miss Anne Harnedy, principal, has given valuable assistance in connection with preliminary organization work at the Shawsheen school. Pack 71, which has been inactive for about a year, previously had an uninterrupted registration period of five years, following the organizing of the unit by about 20 parents.

National Jamboree

40,000 scouts will camp at historic Valley Forge the first week in July. Tentative plans call for scouts in this section of the country to leave New England about

June 28 and return July 7. The cost to each boy will be about $80 to $90. A troop of about 40 boys and adult leaders will go from the Andover, Methuen, North Andover, and Lawrence districts of the North Essex council. Scouts who are interested should notify their scoutmaster and he will get any necessary information. Outdoor camping will be the keynote of the jamboree, and each troop will have a camp site, cooking area, and display area. Scouts from all over the United States will be encamped and it is likely that a boy would never forget his experience at this monster camp.

FRIENDLY CIRCLE

The Friendly circle of the Andover Baptist church will sponsor a rummage sale to be held from 9 to 12 o'clock Saturday morning, Jan. 21 in the church vestry. Those having donations may leave them at the church Friday evening from 7 to 9 p.m. or contact Mrs. Thomas Woodhead, chairman of the affair. Those assisting her are Mrs. Everett Ward, Mrs. Lucille Allen, Mrs. Janet Smith and Miss Patricia Stocks.

Business Advisor Addresses Club

Bert Welbourne, national affairs advisor of the U. S. chamber of commerce, discussed factors in the present economy before the Andover Service club at its meeting Thursday evening at the Andover Service club at its meeting Thursday evening at the Andover Inn.

President Walter E. Buxton was in the chair. The dinner was opened with blessing by the Rev. Levering Reynolds, Jr. pastor of the Free church. John M. Murray won the door prize.

Dr. Charles Hollis, chairman of the medical advisory committee working with the Red Cross, explained the visit of the blood bank here earlier in the week.

During the evening Ellsworth H. Lewis presented the club with a silk American flag and standard in memory of the late Foster C. Barnard, which was accepted with thanks.

Mr. Welbourne explained that the U. S. chamber of commerce is not connected with the government. It is a private enterprise which embraces 35,000 organizations throughout the United States and acts as an intermediary business and congress.

He referred to two main factors in the present economy, first, the type of pressure that comes along occupational lines, which he said is strong, powerful and important; and second, the trend toward socialism. There is not a very good name for this, he told his audience, although some now term it the "welfare state."

In discussing the latter he stated that a large portion of the general public does not yet realize that you can't get something for nothing. He said it was one of the objects of the chamber to mould public opinion so as to get a better understanding of what business and the professions mean to this country.

He said that groups like those represented by the chamber should take action on specific pieces of legislation, particularly those bad for the people and bad for the economy. In discussion some of the bills he said that there is no doubt some corrections should be made along certain lines but asked them to consider first whether the cure in the proposed legislation is not worse than the disease.

POLICE ASSOCIATION ELECTS

At its annual election last week the Andover Police Relief association named the following officers for the ensuing year: Joseph E. O'Brien, president; Sergt. David L. Nicoll, vice-president; Roy A. Russell, secretary and treasurer; Frank Koza and Richard Caldwell, auditors; Sergt. W. Raymond Hickey, Robert V. Deyermund, Henry E. Smith, William F. Tammany and Frank C. Hughes, directors.

WRITES OF ANDOVER

John Horne Burns, Phillips Andover academy alumnus, is the author of an article on his alma mater and his hometown which will appear in the March issue of Holiday magazine. The article is titled Andover: The Town and The School.

Radio U. N. Events To World's Press

Eight short-wave radio transmitters, using Morse code in three languages, now carry a weekly summary of United Nations events to all parts of the globe, making such information available quickly and free of charge to newspapers, news services, radio stations and other interested agencies which maintain or have access to receiving equipment, as well as to private "hams" who spend their free hours scanning the ether for unusual items.

Four of the transmitters—two located in New York and two in Manila—transmit in English; two, both in New York, in Spanish; and two, also in New York, in French. An English text of the broadcast is relayed from New York to Manila via radio-teletype and radio printer equipment, making it possible for San Francisco and Manila newspapers to obtain written copies of the service, as well as to "pick up" the radio-telegram transmissions themselves.

The network, which was launched on an experimental basis during the recent sessions of the General Assembly and will be continued at least into 1950, makes use of private transmission facilities, but the material sent is prepared by writers on the U.N. staff and is in all cases carefully verified for accuracy and authenticity. It is presented in "package form"—that is as a complete, unified feature column, which may be used by receiving newspapers either "as is," or used as a basis from which users can prepare their own articles and columns. Good reception has been reported from places as far apart as Manchester, England; and Montevideo, Uruguay; and from Sydney, Australia, and a mobile radio truck cruising behind Arab-Israeli armistice lines in Palestine.

The galleries of the United States senate chamber seats 682 persons.

Here Is Another Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!

Ever since the anti-trust lawyers filed their suit to put A&P out of business, they have been making, in the newspapers and over the radio, various "allegations" about how they think this company does business.

Please remember that "allegations" are charges that have not been proved.

In this case they will be disproved.

There have been times in the past when the anti-trust lawyers made very damaging "allegations" about this company that the courts eventually decided were utterly without foundation.

In our last advertisement we told you about the time the anti-trust lawyers charged that A&P, two other food chains and two labor unions conspired to fix the price of bread in Washington, D. C.

And yet, when this case came to trial, it was revealed that the defendants were actually selling bread cheaper than most other stores in Washington, and there was absolutely no evidence that they had ever engaged in any such "alleged" conspiracy.

That was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

But this was not the only time that the anti-trust lawyers made such serious "allegations" against A&P which were false. Again, and still again, they brought cases against A&P and suffered defeat.

As we have said, we think you are entitled to know about these other cases. And now, we are going to tell you about the second time the anti-trust lawyers were wrong.

The North Carolina Potato Case

In December, 1941, the anti-trust lawyers brought a criminal suit in Wilson, North Carolina.

They charged that A&P's fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, and other good American citizens, had conspired to fix and depress prices paid farmers for potatoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Can anyone imagine any charge calculated to be more damaging to a retail grocery business that must rely on farmers, day after day, for the food we distribute to our customers?

In this case the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers, telling millions of farmers that we were the kind of people who would force their prices down, deprive them of a decent income, and lower their families' living standard.

These charges were false.

They made these charges despite the fact that it has always been A&P's policy to pay our farm suppliers fair market prices for all produce; to aid agriculture through better distribution of its products; to narrow the spread between farm and retail prices; and to help farmers build better markets for their products.

That is why many thousands of farmers all over the country are now coming to our support.

When the case finally came to trial, the anti-trust lawyers put on as their first witness a potato expert of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This expert, who was the anti-trust lawyers' own witness, testified that contrary to the anti-trust lawyers' "allegations," the defendants made every effort to help the Department of Agriculture in its efforts to aid the potato farmer in better marketing of his products and in getting a better price for his products.

When the anti-trust lawyers had put in their evidence and had argued their case Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

Judge Wyche said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I have studied this case from the very outset. In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

So, here was a case in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against A&P in which the Judge decided that there were no facts to support those charges.

That is why we say the anti-trust lawyers can be wrong and have been wrong.

That is why we say that they are wrong again, just as they were wrong in the Washington bread case and the North Carolina potato case.

We are going to show the American people that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency and against real competition.

The real question involved in this suit is whether businessmen are going to be encouraged to do a better and more efficient job; or whether we are going to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on anybody who gets big by giving the people more for their money.

No one can make us believe that it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

WHITE TO LEAVE B. P. W.

The announcement of Sidney P. White that he will not be a candidate for re-election to the board of public works will remove from that body next March a capable and efficient official who has been a distinct asset to the town.

A member of the board for 12 years and its chairman for the past 11 years, he has always had interests of Andover and its taxpayers in view in the performance of his official duties.

He has had a guiding hand in the development of the department and has watched its various divisions expand with the town, carrying out their increased functions without losing any of their effectiveness.

A familiar figure at town meetings where he always had a ready answer for questions thrown at the board, "Sid" White by his clear and painstaking explanation of matters needing clarification showed how well-versed he was in all affairs of the department.

Mr. White will not lose interest in the operations of the department or its plans for the future. As a member of the board of selectmen and assessors, to which he was elected last year, and as chairman of the planning board of survey he will retain an active part in town affairs. Retiring from the B.P.W. will give him a little more time to devote to his dairy farm in which he takes so much pride.

BLOOD DRIVE A SUCCESS

Effective organization of capable workers has brought marked success to Andover chapter, American Red Cross, in its preparation for the visit of the blood bank here earlier this week.

The record response of men and women to the appeal for blood donors is a tribute to their untiring effort to aid others, and a credit to Victor J. Mill Jr., general chairman, and all the workers on his committee.

Those who unselfishly gave to the blood bank deserve high praise for contributing to this project which may save many a life.

Thanks to the effort of all concerned, Andover's fine record for generosity in this endeavor will rank high among the communities who have shared in this humanitarian cause.

BACK OF THE NATIONAL DEFENSE

Quite naturally, most of us think of national defense in terms of armies and navies and air forces, and of the weapons of war. Yet there is much more to our military security than that. Back of the whole defense system are the key industries which are essential to the maintenance and operation of military machines.

One of these is the railroad industry. In the last war, it handled 97 per cent of all organized troop movements, 90 per cent of all kinds. In the words of General Edmond H. Leavey, "The railroads were the first and the primary link in the chain of movement which carried our military strength against the enemy in all corners of the earth."

The railroads have been with us so long and have served with such efficiency that we tend to take them for granted. They are one of those great enterprises, which, in peace or war, constitute the strength of the nation.

WILL CONGRESS SELL OUT?

The new session of congress may do much to decide whether we are to continue down the road that ends in statism and dictatorial government, or whether we are to reaffirm the principles and the ideals that made us a great, free and prosperous people.

A determined effort is being made to fasten the welfare state idea upon the country. Congress will be asked to appropriate billions for cradle-to-the-grave security measures — all of which, of course, would be compulsory. The only logical reasoning behind proposals of this character is that the American people are no longer capable of taking care of themselves, that independence, thrift, self-reliance and pride are obsolete virtues, and that we must follow the sorry example of near-bankrupt England and dictator-ridden Russia.

An equally determined effort will be made to extend government ownership and domination of industry and enterprise. This naturally goes hand in hand with the welfare state — the cloth is cut from the same bolt. The principal target of the socialists is and has long been the light and power industry. Inasmuch as electricity enters into almost every industrial, domestic and agricultural activity, political control of it would create, in effect if not in name, a monopoly over land, water, basic natural resources, and the instruments of production. The completed and proposed valley authorities are perfect examples of this.

many indicate the very distinct possibility that Germany is to become one of the key spots in the cold war between Russia and the West. And despite the cheerful assurances of United States High Commissioner McCloy that all is well, the opposite is very much the case. Cold facts contradict Mr. McCloy. And these facts become more startling when examined against the background of a book published some five years ago in this country.

Heinrich Hauser, the author, was a refugee who left Germany before the war, made his living in the United States, and returned to his native country in 1945 to help rebuild it. As a parting gift—by no means appreciated at its true worth—he gave us "The German Talks Back". Mr. Hauser doesn't profess to speak for all Germans, but he doubtless reflects an important point of view. At any rate, he so claims. And what has happened in recent months to substantiate him. Because his "predictions" place Germany actively and willingly on Russia's side, his statements should be examined with much more than passing interest, and with particular reference to the actual record.

The Attraction of Prussianism

It should be understood that Hauser didn't like us in 1945, but did like Germany and the spirit of Prussianism, which he believes made Germany a great power once and may do so yet again. And he doesn't limit Prussianism to mere militarism. For him and his Germans it has the virtues of obedience, discipline, and submission to authority. And such submission is called self-denial, the belief that the individual has significance only as a means to an end, never as an end in itself. As he expresses it, the common man can only learn from authority what he ought to know. This is the essence of Prussianism—and Nazism. And neither is dead.

Democracy is "Perplexing"

For American democracy Hauser has no use, because it cannot succeed in Germany. It simply hasn't a chance against Prussianism. He asserts that democracy lays itself open to Prussian attack because democracy is vulnerable where Prussianism is safe. Let us take particular notice of the reason—and don't let us ever forget it. Prussianism is safe because its aims of regimentation and authority are recognizable and certainly able to be achieved. And why cannot democracy succeed, according to the author? Because its claims of freedom and equality cannot be completely achieved. Authority can be enforced; democracy cannot. Therefore since ideals cannot be completely attained they are inherently worthless. Democracy is difficult because it requires thought and personal decisions. Whereas Prussianism is easy because it requires only obedience. Prussianism Causes No Doubts

To the German, democracy has lost the war because the spread of post-war communism has proved the power of totalitarian beliefs. The yardstick is not humanity, decency, or ideals but sheer brute strength. According to Hauser, so little use have the Germans for democracy that they regard communism as the unavoidable road down which Germany must march in order to shake off the yoke of western democracy.

The Germans won't want American democratic teachings merely because of the so-called convulsions and confusions of its educational system, but because of its much-disputed values and heavy burden of perplexities. That last phrase explains the whole matter. The Germans don't want to be bothered with perplexities, with the individual job of arriving at conclusions. They prefer the ordered society. Big boots, rasped orders, fuhrer worship, no questions asked. Then there can be no questioning of the right to murder whole nations if the objective is Germany's benefit.

Does this perhaps disturb one's sympathy for the underdog? Adolf Hitler once blue-printed his intentions in "Mein Kampf". But few people bothered to read it—until too late. It can't happen again? Mr. Hauser has other comments which may prove disillusioning. And if one man's opinion is not to be given too much weight, perhaps the factual record will add emphasis. Perhaps. (This is the first of a series of four articles on Germany.)

Seek Revocation Of Appointment
A petition for the revocation of the appointment of a guardian for Smith Lee of Lawrence, returnable Jan. 30, has been filed in the registry of probate at Salem.

Last June 13 Judge John V. Phelan signed a decree in which Barbara Lee Mill of Andover was named guardian "by agreement." She replaced a previous guardian, Harry M. Dracos of Arlington.

Jane Lee Hart of Lawrence and Janet Lee McCallagat of North Andover are petitioners for revocation of the June 13 decree. They declare that the court named Barbara Lee Mill as guardian without their knowledge and consent and without notice having been given them.

They contend the decree was erroneous because they were not heard and the "by agreement" entry is erroneous because they never agreed to the appointment.

Wedding . . .

Thompson — MacDonald

Miss Frances Tenney MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacDonald of St. Louis, Mo., and Donald Gordon Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Thompson of Hidden Field, were married Saturday, Jan. 7, at the Church of St. Michael and St. George, in St. Louis.

Dr. Edgar Curtis Taylor, headmaster of Taylor school and a close friend of the bride's family, officiated in one of the largest of the post-holiday ceremonies.

Candles gleamed from the sides of the nave and on the altar at the afternoon ceremony. Miss Joan Sweeney of Andover was the maid of honor.

Mr. Thompson was attended by his brother, David M. Thompson, of Andover as best man. The ushers were Edmund F. Leland III, New York; Arthur Sweeney, Jr., South Freeport, Me.; John Henske, Midland, Mich.; and Edward B. Stevens, Tewksbury.

Mrs. MacDonald wore sapphire blue crepe with a matching maline hat and yellow spray orchids fastened to her purse. The bridegroom's mother was in seafoam crepe with which she wore a flower hat and a corsage of gardenias.

Among the Andover guests were Mrs. Russell Sargent Fenn, an aunt of the bride; Mrs. David M. Thompson, wife of the best man; Miss Margaret Curran, Dr. and Mrs. Charles P. Gabeler, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sweeney, parents of the maid of honor. Mrs. Arthur Sweeney, Jr. accompanied her husband from Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will live in Andover. A former debutante and member of the Junior League, the bride attended Abbot academy, and was graduated from the Masters school, Dobbs Ferry, N.Y., and Bradford Junior college. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Phillips academy and Yale, 1945.

The campfire girls will present a 15-minute program over WLAW at 7:15 o'clock tonight. The broadcast will deal with the purposes and aims of the campfire girls and will outline their various activities. The girls will take part in singing, and there will be several speaking parts.

Local Man Patents Garment Hanger

The U.S. patent office has granted a patent on a garment hanger to Edward F. Hogan of Lowell st., formerly with the Bolta company of Lawrence.

On the conventional type of hanger, heretofore in use by dry cleaning and pressing establishments, certain of the lighter sleeveless garments such as men's trousers, vests, skirts, items with shoulder straps, etc., must be pinned to the hanger. Otherwise, they are likely to slide off or be shaken off during delivery; or they may become wrinkled in those instances where a garment bag is also employed.

Obviously, the pinning of these articles involves certain disadvantages. There is the matter of time and labor, the formation of unsightly pinholes in the fabrics, the tendency to wrinkling, and the likelihood of delicate materials becoming torn or damaged if some of the pins are overlooked and not withdrawn prior to removal of the garment.

Mr. Hogan has devised a novel hanger whereon a number and variety of garments may be hung conveniently. Simple in construction, his contrivance is made of resilient thermoplastic material and comprises an array of hooks and clamps that are positioned on an ordinary hanger.

In other words, he starts with the usual neck portion from which a suspension hook extends upwardly, and a pair of arms project downwardly in opposite directions. However, the upper mid-portion of each arm is provided with a slot for holding shoulder straps; the end portion of each arm is built with a hook and with a clamping arrangement for gripping a garment; and additional hooks are set up on the underside of the neck. It is claimed that the device of this invention is adapted to independently support, without danger of snagging or tearing, a larger number of garments than hangers of the prior type. Furthermore, it may be molded at a minimum cost of production, has no adjustable parts, and, as a particular feature, it is declared to be the first hanger that makes use of its own resilient material to clamp the articles positioned therein.

Basketball
Punchard has only one game scheduled for this week that being a return match with Woburn Friday night at the local gym. The games are slated to get under way by 7:30 p. m. General dancing will follow after the varsity game. Punchard is a favorite to win this game as they trounced the visitors recently on their own court. The local varsity team is enjoying a 6-2 record. Watson and Stack have been the top scorers for the varsity, while in the junior varsity Deady has been top man along with Jimmy Dolan.

Track

The local track team has been holding daily workouts and is starting to show good form. The running of Joe Ratyna, Ray Collins, Phil Dantos, and Jack McCarthy has been outstanding. Mr. Dunn is still not decided what his relay team will be but most likely he will pick four boys out of this group that has shown the ability to carry the baton this year: Joe Ratyna and Joe Rayball, both veterans of last year's relay team; Ray Collins, last year's alternate, and Louie Fiedler, Greg Arabian, Hilton Cormey and Clark Otis.

"THE RED SHOES" NOW PLAYING IN LAWRENCE

"The Red Shoes", one of the first films in which the story, the dance and color have been given equal importance in the balance of the finished product, is currently showing at the Broadway Theatre, Lawrence. The present engagement brings this celebrated film to the Greater Lawrence area for the first time at popular prices.

The story of "The Red Shoes" is an ever-living classic, written by one of the world's best-loved and most widely-read authors, Hans Christian Andersen. The dancing in "The Red Shoes", created specially for the picture by Robert Helpmann, is performed by Moira Shearer, Leonide Massine, Ludmilla Tcherina, Helpmann and a score of the world's other most famous ballet interpreters. The "Red Shoes" is in Technicolor's latest process, which combines to a degree not achieved before the clarity of the sharpest focus photography with the delicacy of life-like color.

The development of machine tools since the middle of the nineteenth century has been rapid.
