By LEONARD F. JAMES
One of the greatest mistakes we could make today would be to rearm Germany. Nazism is gathering momentum and is awaiting the opportunity to revive the Hitler program under another name. A series of dispatches and reports from Germany since last December is proof of this.

In Bavaria of the nearly one handred new newspapers put into circulation since September 1949, many are owned by the men who published them under Hitler. They are defending Hitler Germany and critizing the occupying nations for infringing on the sovereignty of the West German government. Some papers even blame the western allies for the creation of eastern Germany and the permanent division of the German nation. Increasing space is being given to news items unfavorable to the occupation powers. Dismantling of upation powers. Dismantling of adustry, occupation costs, lack of lousing, unemployment are plamed upon the allies.

Returns for the 1949 sale that have reached the Essex County Health association headquarters in Beverly amount to $57.174. This money is "invested" in such projects as x-ray surveys, Miss Mary C. Dinsmore points out and the work of the association is limited to the amount of funds collected. "There is still time to answer seal sale letters." Miss Dinsmore said today. "Although seals are placed on Christmas letters and packages the seal sale money works the year round, financing tuberculosis prevention and control projects in the interests of Essex county residents. So payment for Christmas seals now still provides powerful ammunition against tuberculosis."

"Oh, we aren't encouraged to use such ianguage," she answered, "but if you want to say all the bad words you know, I'll tell you when you come to it."

The Third Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!

Is it a crime to give people more good food for their money? For 90 years A & P has devoted all its energies to this end. For so years A & P has devoted all its energies to this end.

For many months now the anti-trust lawyers from Washington have been giving stories to the newspapers, making speeches and talking over the radio about this company.

They have been making serious and damaging allegations about the methods that enable A & P to give its customers better food

We have already told you about other times the anti-trust lawyers made charges against us that were proved utterly false

In the left-hand column on this page you can read what the federal judges had to say about those two cases.

Now we are going to tell you about the third time a federal judge decided against the anti-trust lawyers.

What Has Gone Before

Today's ad is the third in a series telling about times the anti-trust lawyers made serious and damaging charges against A&P that the courts decided were not

In the first ad in this series we told you about the time the anti-trust lawyers charged that A&P, and other good American citizens, conspired to fix the price of bread in Washington. These charges were false.

That was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawvers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all.

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one

But that was not the only time the anti-trust lawyers made such serious "allegations" against A&P which were false.

In our second ad we told you about the time in Wilson, North Carolina, they charged A&P's fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, and other good American citizens, with conspiring to fix and depress prices paid farmers for potatoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Here again, as in the Washington bread case the charges were false.

This was the time Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty"

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I have studied this case from the very outset. In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes.

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case.

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

So here were two cases in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against A&P, in which the judge decided that there were no facts to support those charges.

Today, we want to tell you about the third time—this time in Dallas, Texas -the court decided against the antitrust lawyers.

The Dallas Anti-Trust Suit

In 1942 the anti-trust lawyers went out to Dallas, Texas, 1,400 miles from the homes of most of the defendants, and instigated criminal charges

About this case one thing was sure.

Their previous experience did not deter the anti-trust lawyers from making more inflammatory and damaging allegations, just as they had done before.

They made practically the same allegations they are making today.

Federal Judge W. H. Atwell ruled that the case should not even be tried. He said that the indictment contained in-flammatory statements that he would not permit to be

Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

'If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning. God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

Judge Atwell also said to the anti-trust lawyers: 'If the indictment is not good then it is better to find out before an expensive trial than it is after an expensive trial. I do not think it is good, and thinking that, it is my duty to sustain the demurrers and motion to quash."

In short, Federal Judge Atwell threw the antitrust lawyers and their case right out of his court.

So that makes three times that the anti-trust lawyers made damaging allegations against A&P. In two of these cases federal judges said they were all wrong. In the third case a federal judge said that the indictment was inflammatory and he would not even permit the case to be tried.

The anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with the Dallas

Neither were they satisfied with the two other decisions in which federal courts administered stinging rebukes to them.

They were still determined to destroy A&P.

In our next ad we will tell you how they continued their campaign in this case in the Circuit Court of Appeals and subsequent proceedings.

We will show you how, once again, they disagreed

Everything that has happened since this suit wanted proves that the American people don't want A&P destroyed.

A deluge of letters from people in all walks of life and thousands of editorials in newspapers and magazines convince us that the public has faith in A&P.

The housewives of this nation, whose patronage has made this company big, are buying from us in increasing numbers and increasing volume.

Our suppliers, whom the anti-trust lawyers allege we have exploited, are rushing to our support.

Labor leaders, mindful of the fact that A&P employees enjoy the best wages, hours and working conditions, are taking a stand against the suit.

Even many of our good competitors, who the anti-trust lawyers allege are hurt by our competition, have taken ads to tell the public that they don't like this attack on A&P.

All this indicates that the American people realize that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency, against low prices and against real competition.

Apparently most Americans do not want to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on any businessman who does a better and more efficient job and grows big in the process.

No one can make them believe it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

ELECTION CONTESTS

When the time for filing nomination papers for town offices expired last Thursday it appeared that the voters would have only six contests to decide when they go to the polls next month, and that several condidates for re-election were going to retain their posts unopposed.

In the race for seats on the school committee there will be two contests, the first for the three-year terms for which two are to be elected, and the other for a two-year term to which

For the three-year term two of the present incumbents are seeking re-election and are being opposed by two new condidates. For the two-year term one present member of the board seeks to be returned but two others are contesting for that

The board of public works presents another contest as three candidates have filed for the single seat to be filled. Sidney P. White, who first announced his retirement from the board and then decided to reconsider at the insistence of various citizens, will have two opponents for the three-year term.

One member of the important Andover Housing authority comes up for re-election this year and one new candidate is in the field against him for the five-year term.

To fill the office of tree warden the present incumbent is running for re-election and he will have one opponent contest-

The final contest on the ballot will be for constable. There are three to be elected and one new candidate has entered the field against the three who now hold the office and who are running for re-election.

Several other offices are to be filled but the officials now holding the posts are unopposed for re-election.

The fact that no new candidates have appeared to contest for such important offices as moderator, selectman, assessor and town treasurer may be due to the indifference on the part of competent citizens who are reluctant to give their time to the duties and responsibilities connected with these offices, or it may be that lack of opposition is another way of expressing satisfaction with the way the present officials are doing their

AVERAGE FAMILY FACTS

Most of us at one time or another have enjoyed the experience of possessing $75, says Wheeler McMillen in Pathfinder News magazine. We know little about millions and billions, and nothing about the trillion that one now sees mentioned. But $75 any of us can comprehend

A family that managed to save $75 last year was about average on that score. The Federal Reserve board reported on a survey of how much people saved in 1948, and $75 was the medium figure. Of course many did much better than $75, while many others saved nothing. Quite a few spent more than they received, and either drew on savings or went into debt."

Another easily understood figure is $86. That would represent the average family's share in the savings which could be made by modernizing the operations of federal government. If the report of the Hoover commission is fully adopted, as it should be, the $4,000,000,000 economy would average out at about $86 per family

The report, you will remember, does not propose to reduce the functions of government. It assumes that the government will continue to do everything it now does. The changes suggested offer only to do these things in more orderly, efficient and economical ways; to adopt, as Mr. Hoover has often and apily expressed it, better housekeeping methods.

In other words, the average family cost for sloppy government is $86. And that is $11 more than the $75 which the average family has been able to save.

WHAT ABOUT THE PROBLEMS?

One of the most thoughtful commentaries on the President's legislative proposals was recently made by Walter Lippmann. He wrote: "Truman's technique is never to deal with problems, but only with the excellent results that would be achieved if the problems had been solved. . leaving the critic no target to shoot at, no antagonist to get hold of, only the thin air to thrash around in.

No one — including the President's most aggressive political opponents — is opposed to such generalized goals as better housing, better health, a vastly increased family income, and happiness and prosperity on an almost sublime scale. In fact, these are goals toward which the nation has been making consistent and remarkable progress for generations. But what many people do object to is Mr. Truman's belief that the only way to attain these goals is to let the government of a constant of the saar region to its "legal ownway to attain these goals is to let the government of a constant of the saar region to its "legal ownway to attain these goals is to let the government of a constant of the saar region to its "legal ownway to attain these goals is to let the government of the saar region to its "legal ownway to attain these goals is to let the government of the saar region to its "legal ownway to attain these goals is to let the government of the saar region to its "legal ownway to be said t way to attain these goals is to let the government do everything.

One columnist said acidly that virtually limitless "social security" may be necessary — for the reason that soon the people will have no money left to do anything for themselves! Every time the government gives us its own particular version of social progress, it digs deep into our pockets to pay for it.

As an example, it would certainly be splendid if everyone had the $12,000 a year income the president forecast for the future. But it wouldn't help much if the government took $10,000 of it in taxes. It is all very well to deal with wonderful objectives. But what about the immediate problems?

Views of The News

Are Germans Interested in

United States High Commission United States High Commission-er McCloy reports that recent elec-tions indicate the development of political responsibility among the Germans. Yet this optimism is directly and flatly contradicted in the findings of the Information Services division of the U. S. High commission. This survey states that there is "little evidence of participation in political affairs or the desire to participate." In fact 30% of Germans interviewed did not know that the Christian Democrats won the election, and 60% ocrats won the election, and 60% did not know that Adenauer is Chancellor of West Germany. McCloy's optimism was directly refuted by his own organization which found that 60% of those asked why Germans were not par-ticipating in politics answered "lack of interest."

Evidence Suggests the Contrary

The Office of the Land Commissioner for Bavaria gives some startling facts. In 1945 about 12,000 teachers were dismissed for Nazi affiliation. Today 11,000 are back in their jobs, indicating a renazification of education. And officials say that Bavaria is neither better nor worse than other states in West Germany. The U. S. High Commission Office adds that only small privileged class of children is allowed to proceed to secondary education.

Of 20,000 Nazi members moved as civil servants in Bavaria are back again at the old stand. "There is no indication that these officials have learned anything about tolerance of opposition, that they are inclined to use authority in such a way that it deserves respect rather than de-mands it."

Evidence of Nazi Regeneration

A dangerous challenge by re-vived nazism to democracy is a growing connection between various rightist organizations in the British and United States zones. The German Right Party origin-ates in the Viking Youth, reminiscent of Hitler's Youth Group, Its leader Franz Richter argues for compensation from public funds for all who suffered from denazification and displacement! Another leader, Dr. Meissner, informed correspondents that the only dif-ference from the Nazi Party is views on racial discrimina-

The German Union Party aptheir rights—refugees, denazified, unemployed, veterans, b o m b e d -It criticizes the Adenaue government for doing nothing for Germany.

No one party is strong but the British fear that the similarity of appeals may unite all discontents into one group with a decisive na-tionalist nazi program. The British emphasize their fears when they express an opinion that 10% of the total electoral vote would be enough to expand eventually into a triumphant authoritarian party. If the various programs are consolidated there will emerge a simple and attractive platform: end denazification, restore person-al losses, withdraw all occupation

The Cold War As A Weapon

The Germans are naturally shrewd enough to use the cold war to their own advantage. They agi-tate for increased industrial production and rearmament. us fairly," they say, "and we will never turn eastwards." They press for recovery of the land they lost to Poland. Because they claim that there are 8,000,000 refugees from Eastern Germany in the western zone they talk about the need some day for Danube countries to care for' Germans expelled from zechoslovakia. European nations know what it means to have Germay not be the old brutal Lebens raum, the objective doesn't change

Do the Germans feel any obligation to those who were deprived of their property by the Nazi? The their property by the Nazi? The Restitution Law designed to remedy this condition is "exceedingly Unpopular." The United States ad-visor to the U. S. occupation authorities on Jewish affairs reports that organizations have banded together with the "avowed aim to mobilize sentiment against the law." And very significantly, observers find that in recent elec-tions no party competing for votes found it politically expedient to denounce Hitler and his vicious anti-

Jewish policy.

Is this the kind of Germany we should re-arm? With all due reference to Field Marshall Montgomery and his desire to see Germans defend Western Europe, it must be doubted whether he appreciates the political situation. Policy should still remain in the hands of

Small Colleges Show Quality In Achievement

In the 1949 edition of Who's In the 1949 edition of who's who in America, there are proportionately three times as many small-college graduates listed as there are alumn of the larger colleges and universities.

"There never has been a time in our nation's history when graduates of these colleges have not occupied positions of trust in the national government," says Good Housekeeping magazine in its annual report on small colleges, published in the February issue.

The eight-page article includes a list of more than one hundred men's, women's and coed colleges with enrollments of under two thousand. Purpose of the listing, in the words of the editors, is "to show that it is possible for a worthy boy or girl to obtain a through training in a first-rate college at a moderate expenditure."

All colleges listed enjoy high academic standing and are in the "thousand-dollar range" for the pasic costs of board, room, and tuition.
"Small-college administrators," says the article, "are on the alert for sensible ideas in education. As a result, there is a wide variety of offerings, and in some cases divergent patterns of thought are re-presented."

Among special fields of study available in some of the small colleges on the survey list are: oc-cupational therapy, petroleum ornithology, marine-biology, geology, bacteriology, radio communi-cation, music, handicapped and problem children, pulp and paper technology, engineering, library science, recreational leadership

The workman calmly stepped up on the jaywalking auto's fender, onto its hood and down the other side. While the driver stared, speechless, at the scratches his heavy soled shoes had made, the pedestrian walked nonchalantly away.

Shawsheen Women Enjoy Program

The regular monthly meeting of the Shawsheen Village Woman's club was held in the school hall Monday evening, Feb. 6 with the president, Mrs. Norman Miller presiding.

Announcement was made of the mid-winter state federation meeting to be held at the Hotel Statler in Boston Friday, Feb. 17. This is a one day affair instead of two as in previous years, and it was urged that as many members as possible make an effort to attend this worthwhile function. Because of the mid-winter meeting, the dramatic department meeting has been changed from Friday to Thursday, Feb. 16, at the home of Mrs. Hartley Bailey, 11 Carliste street.

After the conclusion of the business meeting, Mrs. Frank McArdle, music chairman, presented Miss Beatrice McKenzie of Methuen and Mrs. Therese Mahoney in Lawrence. Mrs. Donovan accompanied Miss McKenzie in a delightful group of songs.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs. David Lewis, who very graciously and capably pinch hit for her husband, Dr. David Lewis. Dr. Lewis, who was the scheduled speaker for the evening was unable to be present because of a sudden and serious illness.

Mrs. Lewis took as her subject "A Blue Print of Creative Living". She said that we are subjected to three worlds—the physical world with its noise and confusion, the economic world and the striving to better ourselves in business—and the emotional world in which the three strongest emotions which tend to break us down are anger, worry, and fear. She said we must plan our lives so that these three worlds would not over burden us and bear us down, but rather that we should be able to live within them in some measure of peace and security. In conclusion she said that we fail to fulfill our pattern on earth if we fail to live and grow creatively.

P. H. S. Students To Get TB Test

At an assembly at Punchard High school Thursday the students were acquainted with the purpose of the tuberculin testing program.

The patch test will be given Monday, Feb. 27. This is done by simply applying a strip of adhesive containing tuberculin to the skin. The test will be removed Wednesday and the results read Friday.

X-rays of all positive reactors will be taken by Henry P. Wilson, X-ray technician at the Essex county sanatorium The entire school personnel will have the op-portunity to be X-rayed at the same time

Since only one student in 2000 is found to have the disease there is no expectation that a case of

TB will be found. However a gram of this kind does find early cases in time to cure the disease.

The program is made possible financially by the Andover Christmas seal sale committee.
