Open Bond Drive With Ringing Of Town Bells

The opening of the U. S. saving bond Independence drive will be marked here at noon Monday, May 15 by a blast on the fire whistles and the ringing of bells.

The selectmen at Monday night's meeting voted at the request of the U. S. treasury department to request all churches and schools to help gain public support of the Independence drive by the ringing of bells for one minute at noon.

At that hour the pealing of bells throughout the nation will dramatize the opening of this important campaign.

In this connection Roy E. Hardy, chairman of the board of selectmen and chairman of the bond drive, says; "I urge all who are able to help the volunteer savings bonds committee of this town reach every possible bond buyer during the campaign."

"The more we exceed our Independence drive quota and the more we spread the habit of regular saving, through the payroll savings plan or the purchase of bonds at banks and post offices, the more we shall have done for ourselves, our community and our nation."

Andover's quota for the drive is $52,650. Opening May 15, the drive will continue through July 4. The slogan: Save for Your Independence — Buy U. S. savings bonds.

Visiting Nurse Assn. Formed

The first step in the formation of the Visiting Nurse Association of Andover Inc., was taken Tuesday night when the committee appointed by the Andover Service Club met to make organizational plans.

The committee members, Irving J. Whitcomb, chairman, Chester W. Holland, Dr. William V. Emons and Atty. Roland H. Sherman, will be on the board of directors which will be enlarged to take in about 50 men and women.

The directors will make plans to solicit funds and administer the affairs of the association.

Considerable interest is shown here bearing on the individual service of the visiting nurse which has been operating in Andover for a great many years.

Valuable assistance in organizing has already been given by Mrs. R. D. Mayo of Dascomb rd., who has had previous experience with the Lexington Visiting Nurse

War Against Dumping Refuse On Highways

The police campaign against those who dump refuse and paper on public streets has the unanimous support of the board of selectmen.

At their meeting Monday night the selectmen noted that two violators have already been brought into court and fined and they are requesting the police department to continue its drive until the nuisance has been stopped.

A request has also been forwarded to the police department to make sure that all vehicles carrying refuse to the public dump are covered. The board also asks the aid of townspeople in identifying offenders who indulge in this promiscuous dumping of refuse on the town highways.

Complaints signed by residents of Canterbury street regarding dumping conditions have been referred to the board of health.

The board of public works has offered to cooperate with the selectmen to see that conditions on Canterbury street may be improved immediately and that dumping may be stopped.

Open Campaign For GOP Funds

Mrs. Charles P. Howard of Reading and Boston, secretary of the Republican National committee, addressed a large gathering of Andover women at the Peabody House Monday evening.

The occasion was the kick-off meeting for the Andover workers in the Essex county Republican women's grass-root campaign for funds.

The group of about 75 workers who were present started yesterday on their drive to ask all woman Republican and independent voters in Andover to invest $1 in the future of their party.

The grass-root fund raising policy is a new idea in the Republican party.

FIREMEN DOUSE FIRES AT FIREMEN'S HOMES

Firemen are getting a little service now from the fire department.

Monday afternoon Gordon Coutts answered the phone, learned his auto was on fire at his home on High st, drove Engine 1 there in record time and helped extinguish the blaze caused by a short circuit.

Tuesday afternoon another still alarm called Engine 1 to the home of Fireman Ralph Baker on Stimson rd. for a flooded oil burner. Ralph was off duty at the time and the crew of Engine 1 rendered the required service.

4-Year-Old Wins Trout Derby Title

The best juvenile angler in town is David Markert, 4, of Chestnut st.

David won his laurels at the trout derby held over the weekend at Hussey's pond under supervision of the Andover Sportsmen's club and is now sporting a new reel, line and hook as a trophy of his achievement.

The little four-year-old pulled out a beauty that measured 11½ inches and got credit for catching the target fish in the derby that drew over 200 boys and girls to the pond during the two days.

Edward Mueller, 125 High Plain rd., won second prize with a catch of 10½ inches. S. Nadeau, 210 Main st., and Alice Jo Mooney, 12 Sutherland st., each with a catch of 9½ inches won third and fourth prizes.

The rods and fishing tackle awarded to the winners were donated by the W. R. Hill Co.

Boosters Club To Fete High School Teams

The Boosters club will have various Punchard high school athletic teams for its guests at its annual banquet to be served at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 17, in the high school cafeteria.

Chief Boston, varsity football coach at New Hampshire university will be the guest speaker. Members of the football, baseball, track, basketball teams, the dramatic club and the All-Girls' band and cheer leaders will attend.

James Dobbin of Methuen, who made such a hit in the recent minstrel show, will be among the entertainers. Rep. J. Everett Collins is chairman, and Tax Collector James P. Christie is treasurer of the committee.

Legion To Stage Spring Musicale

A full evening of magic, mirth and mystery is promised in the Spring Musicale which Andover post, 8, American Legion will sponsor in the Memorial auditorium Friday night, May 12.

Proceeds of the show, which will start at 8 p.m., will be used to support the child welfare and community service programs, and to try to purchase uniforms for the post firing squad.

These magicales have been presented in various places throughout the nation and have been favorably received. This is the first time such an evening of entertainment has been offered to the people of Andover. Tickets are now on sale and may be obtained from the members or at the door the night of the performance.

Awards will be made to winners of the poster contest in which students of the junior high school participated. A feature of the evening will be the award of a lady's or gentleman's tailored suit as a door prize.

Curtail Andover Postal Service

Curtailment of Andover's postal service went into effect yesterday and today with deliveries cut to one a day in almost all residential districts.

This change from two deliveries a day follows instructions which Postmaster Stephen A. Boland has received from the postmaster general for readjustment of mail service ordered in a recent economy move.

The general plan here, Postmaster Boland explained, is for three carriers to deliver the routes formerly covered by four men, thus absorbing one out of every four routes in town.

Such a plan will result in four or five temporary employees losing their jobs, in fact two have already been dropped in the changes that have taken place to date.

The one delivery a day was put into effect in Shawshen two weeks ago and postal authorities report it is working out well.

Wednesday saw the one delivery plan going into effect on Andover hill, School and Central streets, Abbot Village and the Johnson acres sections.

Today other cuts were made affecting the whole town except for Morton, Bartlet and Chestnut streets. These will be reduced to one a day early next week.

Deliveries in the business section will continue to be two a day. This area included Main street from Punchard avenue, up Elm street as far as the Elm St. filling station, Essex street to

Taxpayer's Assn. To Meet Often

Directors of the Andover Taxpayers' association at a recent meeting voted that due to the ever increasing tax raising problems confronting the home owner they would be better able to serve their purpose by meetings held once a month from September to June.

The directors felt that only by the sincere cooperation of all the taxpayers and home owners alike they will be more efficient in keeping with the ideals that have been the guide in maintaining the high respect which their predecessors built up in the past.

Vincent Treanor, president, would appreciate any comment or suggestions that would further the progress of the town or the association.

The association is a group of local residents interested in maintaining the high standards of the town of Andover, not in spending money, but zealously watching how it is spent.

Interested persons may join by sending the $1 dues to the treasurer, Lyman Appleton, at the Andover Savings Bank.

Postmaster Boland explained that while the department appreciates that all citizens would prefer to have deliveries of mail made to their places of residence during the early morning hours, the necessity to prescribe one delivery to all strictly residential areas makes it impossible to grant this convenience.

A large percentage of the patrons will receive mail at their homes in the afternoon under the one-trip delivery arrangement.

Wind Causes Slight Damage

Sunday's high wind which left damage and disaster in its wake as it swept over New England and fed 200 forest fires in Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts, also damaged local trees, brought down electric light wires, ripped awnings and caused a quick spreading of several seasonal grass fires.

Part of the town was without electric power when a large limb of a tree on Elm street was blown down carrying with it a high tension wire.

A large tree was felled across Woburn street and blocked the thoroughfare until removed by the tree department employees. Large limbs were also blown down on Central street and Maple avenue.

Numerous brush and grass fires throughout the afternoon gave the fire department considerable work. The first of eight alarms burned over about eight acres off River road before being extinguished.

Box 341 at Holt road and Vine street was sounded at 5:28 p.m. for a fire that destroyed a boy scout shack off Wildwood road. The department later in the afternoon was called to assist the North Reading department extinguish a big brush fire near the state sanatorium.

 rates are standard...

our attitude toward
YOUR FURS
 is strictly individual

We make furs, and we wouldn't dream of handling them en masse. We know what personal, hand-picked possessions they are. And we don't believe in assembly-line treatment. Whether your furs need only careful storing, a hook replaced, or you've a complete remodeling in mind—we believe in going over them with you personally, unhurriedly, and finding out exactly what kind of care they need. (A stitch in time saves nine is truest of all about furs.) This kind of personal handling takes time and it takes trained personnel, but that's our business — it costs you no more than routine fur storage elsewhere, and it pays off in years of added pleasure and wear.

After individual examination, your furs will be given whatever care we've agreed on together, and stored right here on the premises in our scientific vaults. They'll have plenty of elbow room and cold air.

You pay no more at Weiner's—Why not have the best in Fur Storage! Call Lawrence 25293—Andover Enterprise 5343 for our bonded driver or bring them in yourself if you'd rather.

P. S. We also accept Woolen Coats as well as Men's Overcoats and Suits for storage at very reasonable prices.

This Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Won A Case Against A&P

As almost everyone now knows, the anti-trust lawyers in Washington have brought a civil suit to destroy A&P.

They ask the courts to order the dissolution of this company.

They say that this suit is based on the fact that they won a suit against us at Danville, Illinois, in 1946.

They did. In that case, Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley made a decision against A&P.

Immediately thereafter, in a letter explaining his decision, Judge Lindley wrote:

*"I have not condemned the A&P system.
I have not made a finding which could be the basis for a suit of dissolution."*

So, now we have the anti-trust lawyers saying that their suit to dissolve A&P is based on Judge Lindley's decision; while Judge Lindley himself says his decision could not be the basis for a suit of dissolution.

In previous ads we told you about the cases against A&P which the anti-trust lawyers lost. We promised to tell you about this case they won.

On the next page is the story of the Danville case.

What Judge Lindley Objected To

At Danville, the anti-trust lawyers made all of the charges which they are again making against A&P today. They were substantially the same charges they had made and dropped at Dallas, Texas, after four federal judges had objected to some of them as "inflammatory."

In his decision Judge Lindley was critical of some of our activities. He threw some of the charges out of court. He did not make any decision on others.

He even took occasion to praise A&P for the efficient job of food distribution it had done.

Judge Lindley said:

"To buy, sell and distribute to a substantial portion of 130,000,000 people, one and three-quarter billion dollars worth of food annually at a profit of 1½ cents on each dollar, is an achievement one may well be proud of.

"No place in the world I take it are people so well fed as in the United States. Nowhere else, I suppose, do food distributors accomplish efficient distribution at so low a margin of profit. In contrast, we are told in other nations the problem is not one of an adequate diet but one of no diet at all."

But Judge Lindley did find us in violation of the Sherman Act. He based his ruling on the dual role played by our fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, the Atlantic Commission Company, whereby that organization acted both as buying agent for A&P and as selling agent for growers.

Judge Lindley said:

"If I assume for the purpose of disposition of this case that in general the policy of A&P was to operate within the law and attribute to defendants a desire to comply with the law, there still remains the conscious, knowing adoption by all defendants of a plan of action by the Atlantic Commission Company affecting every department of A&P and every retail store which cannot be squared with the intent and purpose of the act."

In his letter explaining the decision, Judge Lindley wrote: "I have condemned their practices through the Atlantic Commission Company."

Judge Lindley imposed fines totaling $175,000. When his decision was upheld by the Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago, we paid the fines. This ended the case — but we did not stop there.

Why, Then, Do They Want To Put A&P Out of Business?

Ever since this suit was filed, the anti-trust lawyers have been making damaging statements that could seriously hurt our business if they were believed by the public.

They say that we were found guilty at Danville of all the charges they are making today.

This is not true. Judge Lindley did not sustain all of the charges of the anti-trust lawyers.

They say this suit is designed to enforce the law.

But A&P has clearly demonstrated its sincere desire to abide by the spirit, as well as the letter of the law.

What, then, is the real reason why the anti-trust lawyers want to destroy this company, which for 90 years has pioneered the methods of distribution which have given the American people more good food for their money?

What We Did To Correct This

In the light of the decision, we immediately set about reviewing our activities to be sure that there could never again be any criticism of our operations.

First, the Atlantic Commission Company abandoned the dual role to which Judge Lindley objected and which he said was the basis of his decision against us.

We did this even though the Atlantic Commission Company had been licensed for many years by the United States Department of Agriculture to act as both a buyer and seller of fresh fruits and vegetables.

The Atlantic Commission Company now only buys for A&P. In other words, we stopped doing the thing which Judge Lindley said put us in violation of the Sherman Act.

We made additional changes in other methods of operation which Judge Lindley had questioned at Danville, even though he did not base his decision on them.

We did even more than this!

We went down to Washington and asked the anti-trust lawyers what else they thought we should do to conform to their new interpretation of the vague anti-trust laws.

The only answer we ever got was that we should break up this company!

Despite their claim that they were not opposed to A&P's size, they insisted that we destroy this size.

Despite their claim that they were not opposed to our manufacturing operations, they insisted that we get rid of our factories which produce many of the fine foods you buy at A&P.

Despite their claim that they were not opposed to our low prices, they insisted that we destroy many of the efficiencies that make these low prices possible.

In other words, they insisted upon the dissolution of A&P.

We were still trying to find out from the anti-trust lawyers what else they thought we should do to conform to the law when they filed the current suit to destroy A&P.

They say they are seeking to "enjoin" A&P from engaging in certain "alleged" practices.

Actually, the whole purpose of this suit is not to "enjoin" us, but to put us out of business.

They say that this suit for dissolution is based on the decision handed down by Judge Lindley in Danville.

But Judge Lindley has said of his decision: "I have not made a finding which could be the basis for a suit of dissolution."

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

SMALL LOAN RATES

A bill before the legislature to reduce from two to one percent the interest rate which small loan companies may charge seems at first glance like one that merits approval. Closer study, however, reveals that in all likelihood passage of the bill would drive the legitimate lending companies out of business and leave the state's small borrower at the mercy of the loan sharks.

Better Business Bureaus and some similar organizations have reported that the present law is working well and they are fearful of legislation which would reduce the rates to the point where they are unprofitable for the regular agencies to continue. Instead of helping the small borrower it would actually do him a disservice.

Small loan companies in Massachusetts have established a commendable record in the past. Do we want to swap them for the loan sharks?

HORACE MANN

The birthday of Horace Mann which was observed last Thursday may well serve to remind citizens of Massachusetts that eternal vigilance is needed in holding the gains for which he labored to secure public education for the youth of the nation. So effectively did he work that today he is known throughout the world as the Father of the American Public Schools.

Not unlike those who labor for better educational conditions today he visited every hamlet in the state to talk with the people about their schools. He knew the value of education to industry, to the merchant, to the statesman. Because of his persuasiveness people came to see that free public schools are necessary to the success of self government and a free democracy.

VIEWS OF THE NEWS

BY LEONARD F. JAMES

The much-proclaimed Communist Youth congress slated by the Russians for Berlin on May 28 is a deliberate step in Russian foreign policy. It is a good illustration of the difficulties facing any administration in the United States, whatever the party label.

WHY THE PARADE?

The demonstration is typical of Russian methods, an example of the fact that Moscow never loses sight of its objective even though the means sometimes seem devious. What is this projected demonstration and what is it supposed to do? It is ostensibly a parade and gymnastic demonstration of East Berlin Germans who have requested, rather announced, their right to cross into the allied or West sector of Berlin and continue their demonstration there. Behind these youthful Germans stands the full force of Russian organization, ready to take advantage of whatever opportunity offers. The organization behind the front of puppet Germans is an ostensible police group called the Bereitschaften or 'readiness group.' It has a double role. It provides terroristic power to suppress opposition and it is designed as the nucleus of a German Communist army to forward Russian purposes. If the anticipated 500,000 marchers should be permitted to enter allied Western Berlin they could virtually take over. Once in, they would be hard to turn out.

And if they did march in, how would that fact forward Russian plans? It must be remembered that this demonstration is not planned as an isolated event. It is the follow-up of the Berlin blockade of more than a year ago. The Russians have one main objective - to get the allies out of Germany. The first attempt, by cutting off all road, rail and water routes from Western Germany into Western Berlin, proved unsuccessful. Such a blockade could be enforced again, but it would probably fail. So the Russians have changed their method but not their purpose.

OBJECTIVE OF BERLIN BLOCKADE

When the Russians originally blockaded Berlin they counted on winning over to their side the Western Berliners who would suffer because the allies could not supply them with fuel and food. But the air-lift spiked Moscow's hopes. As a counter measure the allies withheld from Russian-controlled Eastern Germany much-needed supplies of manufactured goods. As a result, the contrast between Russian exploitation of their zone of Germany and allied policy in Western Germany became only too evident. The Russians immediately appreciated the difference and set about to find another way of discrediting the allies. Since the air-lift days,

Heinrich Rohrbach returned to his home on Sunset Rock rd. from the Hartford hospital where he had been recuperating after a recent automobile accident. Mrs. Rohrbach returned last week.

The Andover post-office ranked fifth in the state last year in per capita sale of the United States Savings Bonds.

At the annual meeting of the Andover association of Congregational churches and ministers the Rev. Frederick B. Noss was elected to attend the national council in Berkeley, Cal.

Moscow has permitted a measure of economic recovery in their zone but have systematically tightened up on political control. And now they are ready to try their luck.

RUSSIAN BAIT FOR GERMANY

Moscow has two kinds of bait for the Germans. Unity for all Germans, and revived trade for the whole nation. The bait is cleverly selected. The Germans want to be a nation again, and they certainly want the prosperity that expanding markets bring. What has the May 26 demonstration got to do with unity and prosperity?

Whether it comes off or not is not so important. Such demonstrations can always be rigged whenever the moment is opportune. The psychology of this or any other such affair is that it creates unrest. The allies are blamed for it because the Russian plan certainly suggests that if the allied armies are withdrawn then Germany could go ahead on its own. As a result the Western Germans get restless and worried, for always the Russian danger threatens. Moscow is saying in effect: 'Germany can be united, but the allies stand in your way. Support us and we will work for your interests.' This is clever propaganda, because it is true that Germany could prosper if left alone to her own devices.

On the face of it, the allies can lose out on such propaganda. Russia is prepared to pull her armies out of Eastern Germany. For a very good reason. She has the military Bereitschaften of communist-trained Germans ready to take over when she gets out. She has organized in East Germany the National Front which claims to work for all Germany, which is working to enroll Germans throughout the nation and includes all Germans, especially ex-nazis, who oppose the Western powers.

HAS RUSSIA THE ADVANTAGE?

The Allies are in a difficult position. They know that Germany cannot be permanently divided, but they are caught in a net. Russia can set up a puppet communist regime without compunction. The allies cannot create any such organization which would protect Western Germany if they pulled out. It would seem that a dead-end has been reached. Can the allies propose a coalition government of eastern and western representatives? If occupation armies were withdrawn, civil war would certainly result. The communist forces would certainly win, and a general war might easily result.

WOULD A CONFERENCE WORK?

Is there any alternative? One proposal is a conference of foreign ministers to discuss unity and neutrality for Germany. What chance would such a conference have? Bluntly, none. Because the allies would insist upon free elections for all Germany as a basic minimum. If they asked for less they would openly surrender Germany to the communists. The Russians will categorically refuse to agree to free elections because free elections don't mean

SMALL LOAN RATES

A bill before the legislature to reduce from two to one percent the interest rate which small loan companies may charge seems at first glance like one that merits approval. Closer study, however, reveals that in all likelihood passage of the bill would drive the legitimate lending companies out of business and leave the state's small borrower at the mercy of the loan sharks.

Better Business Bureaus and some similar organizations have reported that the present law is working well and they are fearful of legislation which would reduce the rates to the point where they are unprofitable for the regular agencies to continue. Instead of helping the small borrower it would actually do him a disservice.

Small loan companies in Massachusetts have established a commendable record in the past. Do we want to swap them for the loan sharks?

HORACE MANN

The birthday of Horace Mann which was observed last Thursday may well serve to remind citizens of Massachusetts that eternal vigilance is needed in holding the gains for which he labored to secure public education for the youth of the nation. So effectively did he work that today he is known throughout the world as the Father of the American Public Schools.

Not unlike those who labor for better educational conditions today he visited every hamlet in the state to talk with the people about their schools. He knew the value of education to industry, to the merchant, to the statesman. Because of his persuasiveness people came to see that free public schools are necessary to the success of self government and a free democracy.

VIEWS OF THE NEWS

BY LEONARD F. JAMES

The much-proclaimed Communist Youth congress slated by the Russians for Berlin on May 28 is a deliberate step in Russian foreign policy. It is a good illustration of the difficulties facing any administration in the United States, whatever the party label.

WHY THE PARADE?

The demonstration is typical of Russian methods, an example of the fact that Moscow never loses sight of its objective even though the means sometimes seem devious. What is this projected demonstration and what is it supposed to do? It is ostensibly a parade and gymnastic demonstration of East Berlin Germans who have requested, rather announced, their right to cross into the allied or West sector of Berlin and continue their demonstration there. Behind these youthful Germans stands the full force of Russian organization, ready to take advantage of whatever opportunity offers. The organization behind the front of puppet Germans is an ostensible police group called the Bereitschaften or 'readiness group.' It has a double role. It provides terroristic power to suppress opposition and it is designed as the nucleus of a German Communist army to forward Russian purposes. If the anticipated 500,000 marchers should be permitted to enter allied Western Berlin they could virtually take over. Once in, they would be hard to turn out.

And if they did march in, how would that fact forward Russian plans? It must be remembered that this demonstration is not planned as an isolated event. It is the follow-up of the Berlin blockade of more than a year ago. The Russians have one main objective - to get the allies out of Germany. The first attempt, by cutting off all road, rail and water routes from Western Germany into Western Berlin, proved unsuccessful. Such a blockade could be enforced again, but it would probably fail. So the Russians have changed their method but not their purpose.

OBJECTIVE OF BERLIN BLOCKADE

When the Russians originally blockaded Berlin they counted on winning over to their side the Western Berliners who would suffer because the allies could not supply them with fuel and food. But the air-lift spiked Moscow's hopes. As a counter measure the allies withheld from Russian-controlled Eastern Germany much-needed supplies of manufactured goods. As a result, the contrast between Russian exploitation of their zone of Germany and allied policy in Western Germany became only too evident. The Russians immediately appreciated the difference and set about to find another way of discrediting the allies. Since the air-lift days,

Heinrich Rohrbach returned to his home on Sunset Rock rd. from the Hartford hospital where he had been recuperating after a recent automobile accident. Mrs. Rohrbach returned last week.

The Andover post-office ranked fifth in the state last year in per capita sale of the United States Savings Bonds.

At the annual meeting of the Andover association of Congregational churches and ministers the Rev. Frederick B. Noss was elected to attend the national council in Berkeley, Cal.

Moscow has permitted a measure of economic recovery in their zone but have systematically tightened up on political control. And now they are ready to try their luck.

RUSSIAN BAIT FOR GERMANY

Moscow has two kinds of bait for the Germans. Unity for all Germans, and revived trade for the whole nation. The bait is cleverly selected. The Germans want to be a nation again, and they certainly want the prosperity that expanding markets bring. What has the May 28 demonstration got to do with unity and prosperity?

Whether it comes off or not is not so important. Such demonstrations can always be rigged whenever the moment is opportune. The psychology of this or any other such affair is that it creates unrest. The allies are blamed for it because the Russian pian certainly suggests that if the allied armies are withdrawn then Germany could go ahead on its own. As a result the Western Germans get restless and worried, for always the Russian danger threatens. Moscow is saying in effect: 'Germany can be united, but the allies stand in your way. Support us and we will work for your interests. This is clever propaganda, because it is true that Germany could prosper if left alone to her own devices.

YOU CAN SEE how an extension telephone would help in this kitchen! Convenient, too, in bedroom, den, upstairs hall, or in the basement.

If yours is a rambling ranch house, large apartment, or two-story home, you'll find that an extension telephone is a great step-saver day in, day out. Enjoy this extra convenience for only pennies a day — generally less than your daily newspaper. Call your telephone business office for details.

Putting in extensions does not delay service for people waiting for telephones, nor does it delay filling requests for changes in existing service. An extension involves only an instrument while in other cases central office equipment or cable may be required.

merely the right of people to go to a ballot box. Free elections necessitate the right of parties to put up candidates, the dissolution of militarized police, the right of dismissed anti-communists to return to East Germany and stand for election, and all adequate safeguards for free elections. Would the Russians permit non-communist candidates to run? Would they agree to the abolition of their puppet police, adequate safeguards for honest elections? Categorically no. The Western allies can agree to free elections because the democratic processes would win. That is precisely the reason why the Russians can't accept them.

THE ALLIES CAN STILL WIN

Can the allies win German support? They have one ace in hand. They can offer Germany freedom and equality among nations. The offer of free elections would clinch their earnestness. The Western Germans must be freed of their puppet position under the allies. And this is the real test. It would be easier to decide to make Western Germany merely a buffer between east and west. But this is not a solution. If the allies honestly confer upon Western Germany the rights of a nation, Russian tactics will be unable to discredit the West. This is the decision we must face. The sooner the better.

THE CENTER OF OUR FAMILY CIRCLE

We wanted to build a home but we didn't see how we could afford it. But, thanks to a Lawrence Co-operative Construction Loan, it's now being built.

Interest is only charged on funds as advanced. And, we'll make no principal payments for the first six months. This avoids paying 'two rents' while our house is being built.

Why don't you stop in the Lawrence Co-operative. They'll be glad to help you, too.

Sid Watson's single in the ninth with two on gave Punchard a 5 to 4 win over Tewksbury Friday. The latter team, which has not won a game this year, gave Punchard a battle up to the closing inning.

Tewksbury resorted to hunting in the third, which upset Dan Millay, a sophomore pitcher, in his first varsity appearance on the mound, and scored twice. They were still in the lead going into the last inning and it looked like an upset until Punchard put on its rally to score three runs.

Friday's victory boosted the team's chances of winning the Suburban League title. The revised line up for the rest of the season is expected to be: Gerish, c; McCaffrey, 1b; Botsch, 2b; Lawrence, 3b; Murray, ss; Wilson, lf; Maucerie, cf; Wilkinson, rf.

Annual Meeting Of D.A.R. Held

The annual meeting of Priscilla Abbot chapter, N.S.D.A.R., was held Tuesday afternoon, May 9, at the home of Mrs. Vasco Nunez, Sunset Rock rd. At 1:30 p.m. dessert was served with Mrs. Herbert McQuesten pouring.

Mrs. Howe gave a resume of her week in Washington, where she attended the continental congress of the Daughters of the Revolution. As this was the first time Priscilla Abbot chapter has had a representative at the congress, Mrs. Howe's remarks were especially interesting.

The following reports for the year were read, secretary's—Mrs. Roland Weeks, treasurer's—Mrs. Howard Johnson, showing a growing cash balance in the treasury; historian's—Mrs. Walter Mondale; registrar's—Mrs. Wilson Knipe, Jr.; chaplain's—Mrs. Harold Hathaway; librarian's—Mrs. Will G. Brown; program chairman's—Mrs. Myron Clark; good citizen's—Mrs. Myron Clark with remarks by Miss Jean Dumont, the good citizenship girl, who was a guest; approved schools, Mrs. Harry Donovan; Ellis Island committee, Mrs. Ernest C. Edmands; press relations, Mrs. Mary Edmands; finance committee, Mrs. John Murray; hospitality committee, Mrs. George Glennie.

Mrs. George Glennie has resigned the position of hospitality chairman and Mrs. George Cobb accepted the nomination. Mrs. Walter Mondale was appointed genealogical chairman.

Mrs. Wilson Knipe, Jr. gave a report on national defense after Mrs. Howe talked about her trip. A penny social concluded the meeting.

4 YEAR OLD WINS TROUT DERBY TITLE

opened members of the Andover Sportsmen's club purchased 200 brook trout, all of legal size, and put them in the brook. Ten were from 12 to 15 inches. Tally kept by the club showed that 83 percent of the fish were caught.

The idea of the derby was suggested by David Markert of Chestnut st., chairman of the club's fish committee. The event was sponsored by the club and proved to be very popular with the youngsters.

RECORDINGS AT LIBRARY

Several new recordings and a second album of the ever-popular 'Peter and The Wolf' by Prokofieff have been added to the Memorial Hall library and are ready for circulation. They are: Mozart, Quartet In G Major, K 387; Strauss, Tod Und Verklarung; Debussy, Sonata number 2, (Trio for flute, harp and viola); Rimski-Korsakov, Scheherazade.

There are no long-playing records in this group although the library has bought the following, all of which require long-playing equipment: Bizet, Symphony In C Major; Chopin, Concerto No. 2 in F Minor; Debussy, Two Nocturnes; Grieg, Concerto In A Minor For Piano and Orchestra; Grieg, Peer Gynt Suite No. 1; Haydn, Quartet in D Major.

Fined For Burning Without Permit

Arraigned in the local police court Saturday on a charge of burning without a fire permit Frank Babicki of High Plain rd., was fined $10 which he paid.

Fire Chief C. Edward Buchan told the court that on the morning of Apr. 15 the fire department was called to the defendant's property near Wood Hill and investigation showed the man was burning over a meadow. Chief Buchan said that on the previous morning he had warned Babicki against setting a fire without a permit.

In answer to an inquiry from the court, Babicki said he was familiar with the purpose of the law.
