Veterans To Occupy New Homes During July

Work on the veterans' housing has progressed to such a point that the local housing authority believes that the first tenant will move in soon after July 15, and all others will be able to follow shortly afterward.

Douglas R. Crockett, chairman of the Andover Housing authority, expects that all of the 56 dwelling units in the 12 buildings off Morton street will be occupied by the middle of August.

Final touches are being put upon the nearly-completed units and the grounds about the buildings being graded in preparation for landscaping.

Letters have gone out to practically all of the successful applicants for the new apartments. They will be notified as to the actual date of occupancy.

Meanwhile the Andover Housing authority is looking for a maintenance man who will have general charge of the buildings, take care of minor maintenance duties and look after the furnaces which will be run on a year round basis, as hot water will have to be furnished occupants at all times.

Douglas R. Crockett, chairman of the local board, also announces that the authority is looking for a young man with accounting experience to do part time accounting. This work, which will consist mainly of bookkeeping in connection with the project, could be done evenings at home.

Open Fourth Celebration With Parade

The Fourth of July celebration in Andover will get underway Monday night with a "Night Before" program that includes a horribles parade, band concert, fireworks and bonfire which will open a week's carnival on the playstead under the auspices of the Police and Firemen's Relief associations.

The "Night Before" program will open about 7.30 p. m. with a parade which will form on Florence street, facing Elm street, and which will proceed to the playstead where the famous Redmen's band of Wakefield will give a concert and entertain with maneuvers on the field.

This will be followed about 10.30 p. m. by fireworks and at midnight the huge bonfire will be lighted.

One of the features of the parade and the carnival will be the participation of the New Car Dealers of Greater Lawrence. Not only will they have their new cars in the parade Monday night

Join Campaign To Cut Holiday Accident Toll

Andover has been asked by the National Safety Council to join in the nationwide campaign to reduce the annual Fourth of July accident toll.

"This is an invitation we cannot ignore," says Chairman Roy E. Hardy of the board of selectmen, "and I know that in accepting it I have the whole-hearted support of the citizens of the town."

"The Fourth and the weekend preceding it can be free of accidents," he added, "if citizens of the town and the nation accept personal responsibility for a safe and sane celebration."

Police Chief George A. Dane says that an intensive traffic safety program will be launched to reduce accidents over the Fourth.

Ends Long Service At Phillips Academy

Miss Alice Thacher Whitney of Highland rd., is retiring this summer as recorder of Phillips academy, after 48 years of devoted and able service to the school.

The high esteem in which Miss Whitney is held by the members of the student body, alumni, faculty and office has been manifest in the tributes paid her during the past month.

A few weeks ago, on the lawn at the residence of the headmaster, John M. Kemper and Mrs. Kemper, the senior class and faculty gave a supper in her honor. At a morning assembly near the close of the school year, the student body presented her with a combination

Visiting Nurse To Act Under New Sponsor

The Visiting Nurse Assn. of Andover, Inc., will on June 30, and thereafter assume the responsibility of the salary and general expenses of the visiting nurse whose services are so well known in town.

In the past year the visiting nurse in attending to her local calls made 1687 visits. The performance of her duties included care and comforting of the sick, supplementing the work of doctors, care of the new born, surgical dressings, hypodermic injections, and treatments that can be handled in the home.

Formerly done under the sponsorship of the Red Cross which must give up this service, the work will be continued under the new sponsors so that the people of Andover will not lose the valuable professional care which has been rendered for so many years.

Many who have received this comforting care have paid for the service, but those unable to pay will still have the benefit of her help through the new organization.

MacKenzie To Retire From Fire Department

Alexander MacKenzie will retire from the fire department Friday after a lengthy service which extends back to his appointment as call fireman in 1913.

EXPOSED

An actress on tour became tired of paying railway fares for her small dog, so she bought a basket with ventilation holes.

On the first occasion when she attempted to use it, the ticket collector at the station barrier asked what was in the basket.

"Hats," replied the actress, and went on to the platform.

Before she had proceeded many yards, she was recalled by the grinning ticket collector, who, pointing to a stump of fuzzy tail which wagged joyously from one of the ventilation holes, remarked: "You'll have to pay for that one with the feathers."

Valuations Up Over Last Year

A moderate increase in valuations was reported by the board of assessors in announcing a $36 tax rate similar to that of a year ago.

The new valuation figures are: personal $2,747,314, real $17,603,710, total $20,315,024. This compares with the 1949 figures of personal $2,744,064, real $17,155,074, total $19,899,134. This is an increase of $451,890.

In addition there will be income from some 4000 poll taxes to add to the revenue.

The anticipated revenue from the state this year has been set at $235,468.65, as compared with the 1949 receipts from the commonwealth of $186,264.18, an increase of $49,204.47, which did much to offset the increase in the town's operating expenses and the increased demands of the county.

The total appropriations for operating the town for the year 1950 amounted to $1,154,862.53 to which must be added a state tax of $3,790.44 and a county tax of $84,115.95 for a total of $1,242,768.92. Similar figures for a year ago were $1,094,479.68 in appropriations, plus a state tax of $2,342.76 and a county assessment of $61,609.81, for a total of $1,158,432.25, or $84,336.67 less than the 1950 expense.

Henry F. Long, commissioner of corporations and taxation, sent the assessors the following message:

"Approve with keen satisfaction $36 Andover 1950 tax rate. My heartiest congratulations go to you and through you to the people of Andover for splendid way in which you have kept colors flying in continuing sound municipal finance in Andover. Recapitulation sheet is very intelligently developed and tax rate fully reflective of increased costs of government as well as economic capacity of Andover to meet impact of present day local governmental requirements. Development of recapitulation sheet shows in creating $36 tax rate may well be a model for other communities as all may look to what Andover has done and profit materially thereby. Warmest regards to each of you."

radio and record player. Mr. Kemper, on behalf of the school and its alumni, paid tribute to Miss Whitney at the exercises following the alumni luncheon, during commencement weekend. The faculty, at their last meeting, presented her with a beautiful Paul Revere bowl bearing an inscription of respect and affection. This past week the library and office staffs presented Miss Whitney with a cameo, at a supper party held in her honor at the Log Cabin, with many of her past and present associates in attendance. To many alumni and co-workers, Miss Whitney and Phillips academy are synonymous. Her thousands of friends wish her every happiness.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

OUR TAX RATE

The taxpayers of Andover received welcome news in the announcement from the assessors that the tax rate for 1950 would be $36 per $1000, the same as it was last year.

In these days of mounting expenses and in view of the soaring tax rates in many other communities this is quite an achievement.

Due recognition of this kind of sound municipal financing has come from Henry F. Long, commissioner of corporations and taxation, who sends the assessors his warmest congratulations with the added remark that "development of the recapitulation sheet in creating $36 tax rate may well be a model for other communities, as all may look to what Andover has done and profit materially thereby."

In arriving at the tax rate to cover governmental expenses which are about $58,000 more than last year, the assessors had a moderate increase in valuation to help them plus larger receipts from the state than in 1949.

Although most of the costs of running the town are embodied in the schools, the activities of the board of public works, aid to the aged and needy, and the protection of persons and property, the town has not lowered its standards anywhere nor curtailed the services in any department.

More credit then to the town officials for the cheering announcement that even with increased costs all along the line there will be no boost in the tax rate.

Andover is well served by many capable and conscientious public officials. The record shows that money is carefully budgeted and that vigilance and vision has been exercised in meeting the 1950 problems

CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH

For the first time in many years Andover will have a Fourth of July celebration.

Sponsored by the Police and Firemen's Relief associations it will have all the fun and entertainment of the traditional observance. A horribles parade, fireworks, and a bonfire will enliven the "Night Before," while a carnival with a midway and other attractions will continue on the playstead for a week.

Truly there will be enough going on here to entertain and amuse those who want to stay out of the holiday traffic and its hazards by staying at home.

The town itself is taking no official recognition of the 174th anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence by the Continental Congress.

In days like these when individual liberties are being suppressed in so many places throughout the world a patriotic observance should be almost mandatory in every American city and town to call attention to the great blessings we have in these United States.

The document adopted July 4, 1776, at Philadelphia, that stated the right of all men to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," was a startling declaration, one of the most astonishing ever published by man.

America needs a restatement of these ideals to recall the sacred occasion that resulted in the birth of the nation.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - June 1900

The heavy thunderstorm in Lawrence did not reach Andover but its effects were felt. A street railway car was disabled by lightning when the sun was shining brightly. One motor was burned out near the Tyer Rubber factory and the other at the ink-factory turn-out. Not a drop of rain was falling when the bolt came that disabled the car.

Miss Grace Burt is home from Wellesley college. She has been offered and has accepted a position as teacher of mathematics in the Bridgewater High school.

The temperature in the afternoon, June 27, reached 92 degrees.

John Greenwood will make one of a party of four young men, two from Lawrence and one from N. Andover who will camp out at Hagetts pond for two weeks.

The engagement was announced yesterday of Alfred Stearns of Phillips academy to Miss Kate Dean of Springfield.

Dr. C. H. Shattuck has recently purchased two fine new boats for service on the river.

On and after July 5, the grocery stores in town will close at 6 p.m. except Saturdays.

The league cricket game between the local team and the Merrimacks aroused considerable interest and the supporters of the Andovers had the satisfaction of seeing Andover win handsomely. The fielding of the home team was clean and sharp, not a chance being missed.

The Fourth of July posters which will be on display at Shawshen, Andover, Wilmington and Ballardvale, were made by Mrs. T. S. Haggerty.

VIEWS OF THE NEWS

By LEONARD F. JAMES

STOCKHOLM — We had our baggage examined by the customs officials yesterday in Gothenburg. It was with a certain apologetic air that our official asked us to open each piece. With great care did he replace any item that he disturbed in the course of his duty. Our ten pieces were cleared in as many minutes, and we were out in the street within half an hour of leaving the ship. This sort of treatment—differing slightly from the somewhat more rigorous American method — is not just to encourage American dollars. We have experienced this for the past twenty years.

Democracy—Swedish Style

And it is a typical introduction to Swedish democracy. Yes, there is democracy outside the United States. Perhaps not quite the free enterprise kind which we have in the United States. But we can learn something from it. How can we describe it in a few words? Shall we say that its elbows are less sharp, that it is less aggressive? The people here are not always asserting their rights. They have them, and they recognize that every other fellow has individual rights too. People here do not insist upon their rights by shoving the next fellow around. There is time for courtesy. The Swedes understand that freedom means respect and consideration. In Scandinavia, democracy carries obligations as well as rights. Sometimes we forget the obligations.

Edward Noyes of Summer st.

The Andover Legion Junior Drum corps will take part in the monster parade which will be a feature at the Haverhill Tercentenary.

On June 25, 1890, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Greene were married in the Old South church. This year they quietly passed the fiftieth milestone of their married life at the old homestead, 96 Central st., where Mrs. Greene was born and which has been in her family for over 200 years.

Miss Bernice Stimpson, junior high school teacher, is vacationing at her summer home in Limerick, Me., where she entertained 30 of her home-room pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anderson of Ballardvale rd. have announced the engagement of their daughter, Helen G. Anderson, to Alfred E. Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Webb, S. Main st.

Miss Kate Meredith Boyce of Baltimore, Md. became the bride of Robert Whittemore Sides of the Phillips academy faculty at a ceremony in the Baltimore Emmanuel church. The couple have left on a wedding trip to Honolulu and will make their new home in Andover.

Ruth Hardy, Nacy Burns and A. Rita Burke will act as councilors this season at Camp Westwind.

We liked the way the immigration fellows checked our passports. We stood in line for twenty minutes, and the officials were not too bored or unlicked to be courteous. In fact they thanked us as they passed them back. Perhaps our memory is short, but we can't remember thanks in New York. The Scandinavians like courtesy, so they give it. A sort of two-way affair—which is what democracy must be to remain such.

We got the same kind of treatment from the taxi-driver and the porter. Each had a job to do and did it with dignity. The porter sets the price for his job. We gave our baggage checks to our porter to get five bags from the check-room. He got the bags, put them into our compartment in the train, waited for us to arrive, and charged us fifty cents. We figured that he deserved another fifteen cents for service, and he took the tip with obvious thanks. We get quite a respect for a fellow who does a job and doesn't bend us over a barrel.

Attention American Railroads!

Traveling on Swedish trains is a pleasure. One word of caution. The railroads are state-owned. One might therefore expect them to be poorly run. But we think that Messrs. Pullman, New York, Hartford, and Boston and Maine might learn just a little from these trains. We had ample room for five suitcases for the two of us, and enough hooks to hang everything on. Someone in the railroad system had travelled himself, so he obviously knew how large a suitcase might be. The racks were large enough to hold each suitcase comfortably. The authorities assumed that the traveler might like a wash en route and so provided a wash-room that really was one. Soap, linen towels—not blotting paper—a carafe of cold water, and a shoe brush. Lunch was good. For a dollar, including tip, we got hors d'oeuvres, four kinds of bread, all the butter we wanted, a superb salmon trout, dessert, beer and coffee. And not cooked by a hash-slinger!

One interesting political touch. As the train left Gothenburg we noticed that one six-man compartment was piled high with diplomatic pouches. As we looked in, two cold-eyed characters quickly pulled down the shades and locked the doors. We found out later that they were typical Russian officials guarding the pouches. The Swedes

Hospital Aid Association Performs Many Services

A new volunteer organization recently began to function at the Lawrence General hospital and is already established as a much appreciated aid.

The Lawrence General Hospital Aid association, as it is known, is comprised of volunteer workers of the Greater Lawrence area and in its ranks are many women of Andover who are willing to give half a day a week, or more, in some line of hospital work not requiring nursing training.

Headed by Mrs. Dean K. Webster Jr., the general chairman, the organization has already established messenger and escort service, takes care of flowers, conducts diversional therapy in the children's wards, and distributes reading material.

Women volunteer auxiliaries are being recognized as a very valuable asset in hospital work everywhere. In most hospitals the nursing staff is unable to give the time to the many small services which are of great benefit to the patient.

More volunteers are needed. The hospital hopes that all Andover women who can find time for this work of interest will contact Mrs. Webster or Mrs. Charles H. Hollis and Mrs. George F. Sawyer, Andover area chairmen; or Mrs. T. E. Andrew Jr. and Mrs. Richard Quint, Shawsheen area chairmen.

The association does not aim to limit its activities to volunteer work within the hospital. Its mission is three-fold: to enlist the interest and support of the community, to raise funds to finance projects of benefit to the hospital, and to train a valuable corps of volunteer workers.

The association offers everyone in Greater Lawrence an opportunity to aid the hospital.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

OUR TAX RATE

The taxpayers of Andover received welcome news in the announcement from the assessors that the tax rate for 1950 would be $36 per $1000, the same as it was last year.

In these days of mounting expenses and in view of the soaring tax rates in many other communities this is quite an achievement.

Due recognition of this kind of sound municipal financing has come from Henry F. Long, commissioner of corporations and taxation, who sends the assessors his warmest congratulations with the added remark that "development of the recapitulation sheet in creating $36 tax rate may well be a model for other communities, as all may look to what Andover has done and profit materially thereby."

In arriving at the tax rate to cover governmental expenses which are about $58,000 more than last year, the assessors had a moderate increase in valuation to help them plus larger receipts from the state than in 1949.

Although most of the costs of running the town are embodied in the schools, the activities of the board of public works, aid to the aged and needy, and the protection of persons and property, the town has not lowered its standards anywhere nor curtailed the services in any department.

More credit then to the town officials for the cheering announcement that even with increased costs all along the line there will be no boost in the tax rate.

Andover is well served by many capable and conscientious public officials. The record shows that money is carefully budgeted and that vigilance and vision has been exercised in meeting the 1950 problems

CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH

For the first time in many years Andover will have a Fourth of July celebration.

Sponsored by the Police and Firemen's Relief associations it will have all the fun and entertainment of the traditional observance. A horribles parade, fireworks, and a bonfire will enliven the "Night Before," while a carnival with a midway and other attractions will continue on the playstead for a week.

Truly there will be enough going on here to entertain and amuse those who want to stay out of the holiday traffic and its hazards by staying at home.

The town itself is taking no official recognition of the 174th anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence by the Continental Congress.

In days like these when individual liberties are being suppressed in so many places throughout the world a patriotic observance should be almost mandatory in every American city and town to call attention to the great blessings we have in these United States.

The document adopted July 4, 1776, at Philadelphia, that stated the right of all men to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," was a startling declaration, one of the most astonishing ever published by man.

America needs a restatement of these ideals to recall the sacred occasion that resulted in the birth of the nation.

The heavy thunderstorm in Lawrence did not reach Andover but its effects were felt. A street railway car was disabled by lightning when the sun was shining brightly. One motor was burned out near the Tyer Rubber factory and the other at the ink-factory turn-out. Not a drop of rain was falling when the bolt came that disabled the car.

VIEWS OF THE NEWS

By LEONARD F. JAMES

STOCKHOLM - We had our baggage examined by the customs officials yesterday in Gothenburg. It was with a certain apologetic air that our official asked us to open each piece. With great care, did he replace any item that he disturbed in the course of his duty. Our ten pieces were cleared in as many minutes, and we were out in the street within half an hour of leaving the ship. This sort of treatment—differing slightly from the somewhat more rigorous American method—is not just to encourage American dollars. We have experienced this for the past twenty years.

Democracy—Swedish Style

And it is a typical introduction to Swedish democracy. Yes, there is democracy outside the United States. Perhaps not quite the free enterprise kind which we have in the United States. But we can learn something from it. How can we describe it in a few words? Shall we say that its elbows are less sharp, that it is less aggressive? The people here are not always asserting their rights. They have them, and they recognize that every other fellow has individual rights too. People here do not insist upon their rights by shoving the next fellow around. There is time for courtesy. The Swedes understand that freedom means respect and consideration. In Scandinavia, democracy carries obligations as well as rights. Sometimes we forget the obligations.

Ruth Hardy, Nancy Burns and A. Rita Burke will act as councilors this season at Camp Westwind.

We liked the way the immigration fellows checked our passports. We stood in line for twenty minutes, and the officials were not too bored or unlicked to be courteous. In fact they thanked us as they passed them back. Perhaps our memory is short, but we can't remember thanks in New York. The Scandinavians like courtesy, so they give it. A sort of two-way affair—which is what democracy must be to remain such.

We got the same kind of treatment from the taxi-driver and the porter. Each had a job to do and did it with dignity. The porter sets the price for his job. We gave our baggage checks to our porter to get five bags from the check-room. He got the bags, put them into our compartment in the train, waited for us to arrive, and charged us fifty cents. We figured that he deserved another fifteen cents for service, and he took the tip with obvious thanks. We get quite a respect for a fellow who does a job and doesn't bend us over a barrel.

Attention American Railroads!

Traveling on Swedish trains is a pleasure. One word of caution. The railroads are state-owned. One might therefore expect them to be poorly run. But we think that Messrs. Pullman, New York, Hartford, and Boston and Maine might learn just a little from these trains. We had ample room for five suitcases for the two of us, and enough hooks to hang everything on. Someone in the railroad system had travelled himself, so he obviously knew how large a suitcase might be. The racks were large enough to hold each suitcase comfortably. The authorities assumed that the traveler might like a wash en route and so provided a wash-room that really was one.

Soap, linen towels—not blotting paper—a carafe of cold water, and a shoe brush. Lunch was good. For a dollar, including tip, we got hors d'oeuvres, four kinds of bread, all the butter we wanted, a superb salmon trout, dessert, beer and coffee. And not cooked by a hash-slinger!

One interesting political touch. As the train left Gothenburg we noticed that one six-man compartment was piled high with diplomatic pouches. As we looked in, two cold-eyed characters quickly pulled down the shades and locked the doors. We found out later that they were typical Russian officials guarding the pouches. The Swedes

Bus For Bathers Going To Pump's

Although the Cross Coal company has given up its long-standing practice of transporting children to Pump's pond during the bathing season it has made a monetary contribution to enable the Andover Recreation committee to have the practice continued.

Consequently Stafford A. Lindsay, committee chairman, has announced that with the opening of Pump's, a school bus will make the usual stops to pick up youngsters seven days a week.

The start will be made at 1 p.m. from Poor and Lowell streets in Shawsheen, passing through Andover square to pick up the town group at 1:15 p.m. at Central and Essex streets. The bus will then proceed to Pump's and then go to Ballardvale to pick up children there. The return trips will be made each afternoon starting about 4:30 p.m.

In behalf of the committee, Mr. Lindsay has sent a note of thanks to the company for its many years of service to the youngsters and for the contribution that is making continuation of the service possible.

The committee also announced that the bus will be operated by Alvah Wright, school bus driver, and that they feel honored in obtaining his services because he has been transporting children 45 years in Andover and never had an accident.

Impressions of Stockholm.

Water everywhere, for the city is built on five islands. No automobile horns. They may not be blown except in utmost emergency. And speaking of automobiles. We went out to dinner to a famous hostelry. A sign outside informed us that the attendant would take care of parking, washing the car, and driving the guests home if necessary! If a driver is caught with the slightest indication of liquor on his breath, not only is he fined but his guests also! In the suburbs one may park on side streets all night. But one must be careful to learn which side of the street on which night. Because on alternate nights the streets are washed down on one side. My forgetful host paid five dollars the other day for picking the wrong side! Impressions again. Pale blue street cars that run almost silently. And clean. Mail boxes on all street cars that pass the central post office, and cleared each time the street car passes it. Buses with bicycle racks in front. Taxis that carry everything from trunks to bicycles without a staggering super tariff for the service. Taxis available almost instantaneously by telephone. Pick up the phone, say 'Taxi' and the operator calls the nearest taxi stands in turn. Give your address, and by the time you get outside the taxi is there.

And while on the subject of telephones. Dial a certain number and you get the exact time. Dial another, and the weather report comes through. Ask the operator not to ring between whatever hours you designate, and the phone is quiet. Later, the operator will tell you what numbers tried to call you.

Out Into The Sun.

Today is Sunday, and the city is half-empty. Let's go down to the docks. Here in Stockholm one of the city's best streets is on the water-front, clean and picturesque. Hundreds of small boats are pulling out. Small white ferries are taking people out to country places down the archipelago towards the Baltic.

A steady stream of little power boats is headed the same way. And across the town go literally thousands of bicycles. The average Stockholmer may not have a car but he has a little boat or a bicycle. For he worships the sun, and he gets way into the country at every opportunity. Next Friday is Mid-summer eve, one of the biggest festivals in Sweden. We are going out to the country with our Swedish hosts for the week-end. It promises to be interesting.

Back in the '80's, when major transportation was carried on by boat or rail, it was stylish and pleasant to ride leisurely through picturesque shaded streets...

Today, however, with city streets the main arteries of local trade, a pleasure car in commercial areas is as out-of-place as the surrey.

Today—decide to be community-minded, economy-minded. Ride the bus for workday, weekday travel, and save your pleasure car for pleasure driving.

THE BORDEN might be called a "big little house". It has two bedrooms, a living room and a kitchen, located in an area of only 720 square feet. No space is wasted throughout this compact little house. The Borden's four rooms open on a hall only 3 feet by 7 feet. There is also an unusually large amount of closet space. Closets in The Borden are conveniently located. There are generous wardrobes in each of The Borden's two bedrooms. The Borden's modern, efficient kitchen has a broom closet.

The living room is provided with a handy coat closet. And there is also a linen closet in the hall. The Borden contains a full basement.

Exterior walls of The Borden are constructed of 8-inch concrete blocks. They are lined on the inside and plastered on the outside. The Borden may also be constructed of frame with siding, if desired. The Borden's roof is covered with asphalt shingles. The Borden's width is 30 feet. The depth of the Borden is 24 feet. There is an area of 720 square feet. The house has a volume of 14,184 cubic feet.

For further information about THE BORDEN, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

CAN DO

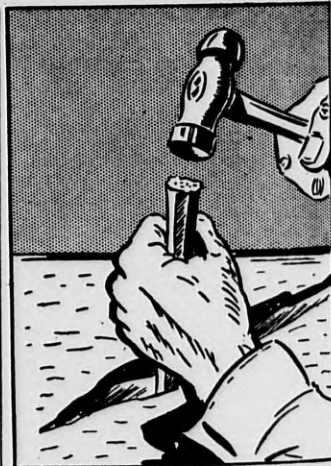

Let's Fix Up the Basement!

ONE OF THE dangerous things about basements is that when you stroll down there for a moment you're as likely as not to find something about it that needs overhauling, patching or repairing.

How about that big crack in the wall that you vow to fix or have fixed every time it rains and the leakage makes a mess out of your floor?

Why not fix it now . . . here's how!

Using a hammer and a cold chisel, first widen the crack where the leak occurs, making the sides of your groove as straight as possible, at the same time keeping the sides rough enough to retain the "plug." As you chisel out this groove along the crack, be sure to get it at least one inch deep, preferably a little more.

Next you brush out all loose particles from the groove you have made and then wet the inside of the crack with water just before you begin the actual patching operation.

The basic patching compound should be a stiff mortar mixture of one part portland cement and three parts of clean, coarse building sand, with enough water to produce a stiffish, workable consistency. Now pack the mixture well into the crack and keep the patch damp by applying water for several days.

If you wish, and many home repairmen do, instead of preparing your own patching mixture you can get a ready prepared patching mortar, on sale at your hardware store.

? DO YOU ? Lock every Window and bolt every door and then hope that burglars won't pay you a visit. Locks seldom keep them out when they call. The one sure defense against theft losses is insurance which we can "tailor" to fit your needs. And we have a hunch that the low cost of such insurance may surprise you. May we quote?

AT THE LIBRARY

On Annual Vacation

Miss Miriam Putnam, librarian, and Miss Mary F. Zecchini, catalog librarian, of the Memorial library, are enjoying their annual vacation.

Exhibit At Library

A local resident has loaned the library a most interesting exhibit of Chinese belt buckles which may be seen in the case in the main entry. These girde clasps, as they were called, were worn by the well-dressed Mandarin during the Ching or Manchu dynasty, (1644-1912) though as "belt hooks" they were probably known much earlier than that. The belt buckle, like the button on his hat and the embroidered square on his official robe, was an indication of rank.

Chinese art is one of the most symbolic forms of art known. Each line and figure has a definite meaning, sometimes used in order to bestow the imagined benefit of the symbol on the person who wore it. The buckles will be on display for two or three weeks.
