Regarding conditions at the Bradlee school where the enrollment of 139 is the same as last year, the committee decided to split the pupils in one room where Miss Helen McCarthy has been teaching two classes, and empowered the superintendent to obtain a new teacher for the other class.

The superintendent was also given permission to obtain three noon-hour supervisors, two for the Central schools and one for the Bradlee. It was voted that the pay for all noon-hour supervisors be set at $1.80 a day.

Water In Haggett's Down 58 Inches

The water in Haggett's pond reached its lowest point of the season Sunday when it went down to 58.7 inches below the high level. Last year 57 inches below was the lowest point reached.

Rains in the latter part of August and early September cut down the amount of daily pumping from the pond. For the week ending Aug. 18, the average was better than 2,800,000 gallons daily. For the week ending Sept. 8, it was about 1,250,000 gallons a day.

Couple Rescued Off Marblehead

Rescued by an unidentified man from sea-swept rocks off the Marblehead shore to which they had managed to swim in Monday night's gale from a floundering 60-foot ketch that later sank in the heavy seas, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brucato of 75 Highland rd., were reported unscathed after their harrowing experience.

Seniors at St. Lawrence university both had been spending the summer at Marblehead, Peter as skipper of the boat owned by Kenneth S. Magoon of Winthrop, and Mrs. Brucato as lifeguard and swimming instructor at the Corinthian Yacht club.

Peter lived on the boat and had been joined Monday afternoon by Mrs. Brucato. They had received storm warnings but had remained aboard and struggled through the night to keep the boat from crashing on Bowdich rock at the entrance of the harbor.

The storm became so bad that the vessel was floundering and both started to swim for shore. They had gone about 50 yards and reached other rocks from which the unidentified man led them to safety after he had crawled there with a rope around his waist. He afterward disappeared.

Both were taken to a nearby home and later communicated with Mrs. Peter Cunningham of Highland rd., with whom Peter had lived most of his life. Both were reported unharmed.

Voters of Massachusetts will go to the polls Tuesday, Sept. 19, to choose party nominees for state, congressional and county offices. This year there are more candidates than ever before, 1006 Democrats and 734 Republicans, seeking office.

The names of four Andover men will appear on the ballots. On the Republican will be John Adams, 15 Stratford rd., candidate for secretary of state in a field of seven; Rep. J. Everett Collins, 35 Summer st., candidate for re-nomination and Arthur E. McCabe, Porter rd., candidate for representative, in a field of six. The name of the latter is also on the Democrat ballot together with Joseph A. Horan, 6 Avon st., candidates for representative in a field of six.

The large number of candidates for these offices and for district attorney, county commissioner and sheriff, as well as the scramble in both parties for offices at the head of the tickets, should stir up a livelier interest in the electorate than as yet has been shown.

The polls here will be open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. and 7116 persons are eligible to vote. At the state primaries two years ago 6957 were eligible to vote but only 2032 went to the polls, 1685 Republicans and 347 Democrats.

The Townsman in cooperation with the League of Women Voters of Andover today presents brief sketches of candidates for district attorney and sheriff. These sketches were compiled from information furnished by the candidates to the local organization.

Among the new books are:
Elephant Bill Williams
 Delightful, informal study of the habits and accomplishments of the elephants who haul teak in Burma. The author was in Burma twenty-five years and knows elephants!

Captain Sam Grant Lewis
 The real Grant emerges from the pages of this book which was to have been the first in a series about Grant which will not be completed due to the death of the author, a student of the Civil war period. The period covered is from the early years on the Ohio frontier to 1861 when Grant was made colonel of an Illinois regiment. Documented, scholarly, readable.

Sunrise to Sunset Adams
 Against an authentic background, the development of cotton mills in upper New York state in the 1830's, the author weaves his story of Obedience Webb, a young factory girl and Guy Roy, a wealthy manufacturer.

The World of Gilbert and Sullivan Darlington
 A Savoyard from his early days, the author, in this avowed labor of love, shares his knowledge of the fascinating background of the Gilbert and Sullivan world.

Italy from Napoleon to Mussolini Albrech-Carrie
 What this book attempts to do is to "give an interpretive survey of the development of Italy from the beginning of the nineteenth century, leading to the climax of Fascism, with the question in mind: how and why did it happen?"

Diamond Wedding Steele
 The story of Gowd Skinner and Hope Wheelwright and their struggle for survival and success in the colorful days of the Colorado boom.

How to Read for Self-Improvement Levin
 A book for those who want to get the most from books and the most from life—for the two go together according to the author.

Berlioz and the Romantic Century Barzun
 A monumental work in two volumes which is at once an estimate of Berlioz and his music and a detailed cultural history of the period. The author suggests that the book will be read in several ways when he writes: "(The general reader) can, so to speak, carve from these pages several different books: the life of a man who was at once artist, thinker, and doer; a concert or record guide to twelve great works, increasingly valued by connoisseurs; an essay on esthetics; an account of nineteenth century culture; and, I dare say, a tract for our times as well!"

SPEEDERS FINED
 Four persons charged with speeding were arraigned before Trial Justice Richard K. Gordon in the local court Saturday. Three paid fines. The fourth was found guilty and fined $5 but appealed.

PUNCHARD HIGH

By JANET THOMPSON

OPENING DAY

The Punchard portals opened again Wednesday, Sept. 6, with a half day, (perhaps to allow the students to adjust themselves by degrees to the "strenuous" routine!) Opening exercises were held in the auditorium with Headmaster Harold Howe II, welcoming the pupils of both schools and giving an effective talk on "Why" we go to school.

Faculty

Several members of the Punchard high faculty are teaching classes in the Junior high, and some Junior high teachers, in turn, are participating in the high school curriculum.

Teachers doing work in both schools this year are Miss Helen C. Munroe, Mrs. Genevieve Murray, Miss Ida Grover, Walter C. Roberts, and Owen Hinkley.

Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders have been working hard these past few days in an effort to get their cheers perfected before the opening game against Maynard at the playstead this Saturday. Game time is 2.30 p. m. Let's have a big turnout to root the "Blue and Gold" to victory. Good luck, boys!

The girls who will lead the cheers Saturday are Captain Marion White, Bettianne Locke, Constance Coleman, Betty Sunderland, Grace Engel, and Frances Ratyna.

The reserves on the squad are as follows:

Catherine Anderson, Maureen McKay, Majorie Retel, Claire Van Coppenole, Claire Nadeau, and Lucille Spinella

Student Council Dance

The student council has begun its year's work with several meetings so far. One of the matters being discussed is the student council dance which will be the first of seven school dances this year. It will be held in the Memorial gym Friday, Sept. 22. Everyone is invited to attend.

Officers and members of the council are: Clifford Lawrence, Janet Fieldhouse, Raeburn Hathaway, Barbara Hook, James Dolan, Shirley Murray, Marion White, Donald Valz, Charles Dwyer, Thomas Wilkinson, Richard Bramley, Scott Gerrish, Janet Thompson. Faculty members are Miss Margaret Hawksworth, Bernard Kellmurray and Kenneth McKiniry.

Notes
 School was operating on the "messenger system" Tuesday morning because of lack of electricity due to Monday's storm.

Coffey Running For Councillor

Edward A. Coffey, former mayor of Salem, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of governor's councillor, Fifth Essex district.

As a member of the General Court of Massachusetts he was cited by state representatives for his outstanding service to the state as a member of the committees on municipal finance and public service. A graduate of Boston college and Harvard Law school, Mr. Coffey has been identified with the Red Cross, community chest, and other charitable organizations.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

OUR SCHOOL POPULATION

The public school attendance on the opening day of school reflected the great increase in the school population that is being experienced throughout the nation.

The enrollment of 1721 was 90 more than the enrollment a year ago, and that number was 101 more than the 1530 who reported on the opening day in 1948.

As was expected the greatest increase in these years has been in the elementary grades which are feeling the impact of the expanding birth rate and population increase during the 1940's. This increase is expected to continue for several more years.

The school department is preparing to do something about the crowded classrooms with the proposed new elementary school buildings.

Meanwhile, the expanding school population presents a teacher problem. To take care of the anticipated increase this year one new teacher for an additional third grade in the Central schools has been appointed. One teacher is hardly enough to take care of 90 pupils and it looks as though the school committee will soon have to appoint at least one more.

WHAT IS SOCIALISM ?

We have a number of officeholders in Federal and state governments who are actively spending their time and the taxpayers' money to promote government ownership of some of the nation's basic business such as electric power production and medicine. They use public funds taken from private enterprise in the form of taxes, to propagandize and lobby for government-owned business which pays no taxes.

They object to private enterprise fighting to keep from having its throat cut by subsidized government competition.

They become highly indignant at having their own plans to put government into business called socialistic.

Government has taken over the basic lines of business in England and there is no argument about that being socialism.

Why try to fool the people of our country into thinking our government can go into commercial business at public expense, to the ultimate exclusion of private citizens, and still not have socialism here ?

It would be well for proponents of these plans to look up the definition of socialism in the dictionary before they object too strenuously to having their projects called "socialistic."

VIEWS OF THE NEWS

By LEONARD F. JAMES

Last month full-scale civilian defense measures were being revived in Britain. The government printing office was republishing its pamphlets on first-aid and fire-fighting, and issuing a new series on atomic defense measures. Shades of 1938 and Munich! Gas masks for babies in 1938; civilian defense in 1950.

Slogans To The Fore

Now as then the western world has a slogan to protect it from danger. Then, it was "collective security." Now, it is "integrated defense." In 1938 collective security was supposed to operate between independent nations acting together were one attacked. Today independent nations are supposedly integrating their defensive measures as protection against attack. Not yet has the world really learned that whatever the name, any really collective action must subordinate national interests to those of the group. Not yet has there appeared an effective organization for common action.

This dangerous facility for accepting neat paper protection is a serious failing of the democracies. Atomic bomb apart, there is no defense against Russian aggression westwards in Europe. It is obvious that the Korean method can at any hour be applied to Europe. A Kremlin-trained, armed and directed East German army can cross the frontier to invade Western Germany to unite the country in a "people's democracy." And there is practically nothing yet that can prevent such forces from advancing to the channel and across it. At a moderate estimate Russia has 200 divisions available on short notice. Europe still has merely a handful. The much-publicized "integrated defense" has a commander-in-chief but no forces. As it stands today integrated defense would be less useless than the futile collective security of 1938. And the Atlantic Alliance, admirable though it is, cannot succeed if it is to be a paper organization dependent solely upon American arms.

Don't Alarm The Public!

The observer in Europe has the curious sensation that he is watching the fascinated rabbit about to be struck by the weasel, just waiting. In Britain the Opposition requested the Government to hold secret debates on the state of the nation's defenses. The Government refused because, as it said, the people would become alarmed. The succeeding debates were public and platitudinous. And the people presumably remained unalarmed. What good that state of contentment would be in an emergency, the Government did not say. So the sand seems to pile higher around the buried necks. Parliament adjourned before mid-August, a sign that the situation couldn't be too serious, mumbled the average citizen drawing fairy circles around his feet. In the meantime, as something to occupy the mind, the citizenry is called upon to hold itself in readiness for civilian defense. Buckets and stirrup pumps as the modern version of the thin red line!

The preoccupation with the Welfare State is blinding the government to primary matters.

What price free teeth and pills and better-fed babies if there is no army to defend them. Defense measures are costly and painful. But that is no reason to turn a blind eye to them. Economic strength may be important for a nation's existence. But it must be subordinated to immediate necessity. And it is high time that some plain talking was done. The United States may be the democracies' arsenal, but it must also be their leader. And leadership frequently demands that punches shall not be pulled.

It is probably no exaggeration to say that the state of Europe's defenses is worse than it was a year or two ago. Precisely for the reason that glib and worried statesmen substitute words for action. It is a sad commentary on the Government's appreciation of international affairs that they can apparently find no substitute in the foreign office for Mr. Bevin. In many ways an admirable man, but for months a sick man who has left his hospital bed for the conference table. In 1938 Mr. Chamberlain found that there were no teeth in collective security. Today Mr. Attlee must be less than honest if he believes in the efficacy of integrated defense.

Forceful Leadership Essential

There is far too much pussy-footing around in international politics, too much cloaking of real thoughts behind polite diplomatic phrases. The Americans are not bold enough in their insistence upon more than words from Europe. Let's have less gentlemanliness and a sight more honesty. The British citizenry accepts too much red tape, too much regimentation because it is not quite the thing to make a fuss. The old school tie can lead to the downfall of the country. Democracy functions in proportion to the criticism it meets. And the observer in Britain gets the uncomfortable feeling that the people are apathetic, that they hope there won't be another war. It is perhaps idle speculation now to wonder what Europe alone would have done about Korea. If the man in the London street is any guide, not much.

Someone has got to jolt Europe out of the Maginot Line mentality of hiding behind the illusive "integrated defense" that can lead to catastrophe. The United States has led the way in the Korean affair. It must now have the courage to tell Europe what it must do. Our assistance should be premised on their own self-help. We won't be thanked for our so-called interference. It takes courage to speak frankly, even necessarily brutally sometimes. But no one ever learned to stand on his own feet by being constantly propped up. There is still time to tell Europe forcefully to get down to brass tacks and organize themselves. Integrated action has been accepted in Korea. It must be adopted in Europe. The alternative is clear. Invasion and defeat at the hands of Russia.

An Open Letter

from

ROBERT H. W. WELCH, JR.

Candidate For The Republican Nomination For Lieutenant Governor

To Republicans And Independents Of Essex County:

Will you please consider these facts when you vote in the primaries on Tuesday:

1. You are paying the bills.

The total assessed valuation of Essex County is seven hundred and eighteen million dollars. During this fiscal year the state and local governments in Massachusetts will spend nearly eight hundred million dollars. (And the spending of the local governments is largely determined by legislation or coercion from the State House.) This means that we would have to sell all the factories, all the stores, and all the homes, in Lawrence, Lynn, Salem, and the thirty-one other cities and towns in Essex, once every year, to meet this tax bill—largely to pay for the squandering and political machine-building of the Devercrats on Beacon Hill.

2. The outlook is worse.

Almost nobody wants to put a new plant or expand a business in Massachusetts—despite our skilled labor and excellent labor relations. Last year the businesses which closed down or moved elsewhere, against new ones which opened, accounted for a net loss of 27,916 jobs—largely due to our unhealthy political climate. We have an Unemployment Insurance Fund, Old Age Assistance Fund, and Veterans' Fund, all heading for bankruptcy. Taxes will have to be raised still further because of these and other state services, largely because of the waste and political patronage involved in their administration. This would be bad enough under normal conditions. It makes no sense at all when, even if we can escape actually getting into a new World War, we are having to pay for one. And it makes less sense to leave in power, during a war-atmosphere period, a gang that actually wants to use the war-atmosphere as camouflage for its political conniving.

3. Part of the answer is easy.

Our state government is a huge business. But no business would dream of wasting manpower on superfluous jobs; of buying rotten, overpriced, or useless materials; of squandering money wildly in administration; of adding on useless departments; of propagandizing its stockholders with their own money; or of hiring men utterly unqualified for their particular jobs. But specific illustrations of these and of other stupidities, and of the unwholesome deals now perpetrated on Beacon Hill, are almost endless. And there is really no sound reason why our state government could not be run like a business, with at least ordinary honesty and common sense.

4. I believe I could help a little.

While I certainly do not claim to be any genius at business, I have at least had top-management experience in a highly successful company for a great many years. I do have some idea of what makes sense and what does not when you are handling large sums of somebody else's money. As a Republican candidate for Lt. Governor I believe that I could convince a majority of the people of this state, including many Democrats, that they do not really want—or have to have—what is happening at all. And after being elected I believe that I could bring some business judgment to bear and exert some worth-while influence on the conduct of the state's affairs.

It is for these reasons, and on these grounds, that I am asking for your vote.

Sincerely,

Robert H. W. Welch, Jr.

Rep. Collins Endorses Coolidge For Governor

As an experienced Republican legislator, I point out to Republicans and Independents the urgent need of nominating a Republican candidate for Governor, who thoroughly understands the problems, functions and duties of the General Court — so he can get swift, whole-hearted cooperation of Republican Representatives and Senators in clearing up after Dever Squander-mania.

Of all the six able candidates,
only former Lieutenant Governor Arthur W. Coolidge has been a member of both the House and Senate and Senate President. He has the immediate know-how to promote the passage of sound legislation.

Coolidge is the only candidate already experienced in defeating Dever. He did it in 1946. He'll do it again in 1950. I heartily recommend that Republicans and Independents nominate Coolidge for Governor on Primary Election Day,
Tuesday, September 19.

My father was a lonesome man

I can remember the excitement in our house when we first got a telephone. Up to then, my father and mother had lived a lonesome life. They had to work long hours and sometimes they'd go for days without ever talking to a neighbor.

At first there weren't many calls we could make, but more and more people kept putting in telephones. Now it's hard to think of anybody who hasn't one. And because there are so many new telephones we can call each year, ours becomes more and more valuable to us.

Just the other day when my father broke a plow point, he saved himself hours of driving around in the truck because three telephone calls located a new one for him.

It makes me stop and think when I notice that although the cost of our food and lumber and help and a lot of other things has gone sky high these past few years, we still get the safety and time-saving and pleasure of 24 hour a day telephone service for less than a penny an hour.

Day and night the telephone is there to keep you in touch with your doctor, your friends, the plumber, the store down the street, and people all over the world. And today, with telephones in three quarters of all the homes in New England, the telephone is a bigger value than ever before.

FEDERAL JURY
Rowland L. Luce of 19 Summer Street has been drawn to serve as a juror on the session of the U. S. District court opening at Boston Sept. 26.

Town of Andover
Public Hearing
M.L. POWERS having petitioned the Board of Selectmen for a license to keep and store inflammable fluids for paint mixing, flash point 95-105, in the amount of 500 gallons, in containers aboveground on the land of JACK BRAMAN at the River Works, Railroad Street in the said Town of Andover, a public hearing on said petition will be held on Monday, September 25, 1950 at 7:30 P.M. at the Town House, in accordance with provisions of the General Laws relating thereto.
By order of the Board of Selectmen
GEORGE H. WINSLOW, Town Clerk

Storm Causes Slight Damage

Small branches of trees were blown down and electric service disrupted in several parts of the town Monday night as a 60-mile gale lashed the coast from the hurricane which had moved northward along the Atlantic coast during the day and passed out to sea about midnight.
The south end of the town seemed to be the most badly hit as it was without lights almost all during the night. Power lines were down in other sections of the town but service was restored promptly.
About 7:30 p. m., an electric light pole was blown down on Haverhill street and fell across the automobile which John F. Morrissey had parked in front of his house, 22 Haverhill st.
The tree department worked during the night and early morning hours removing tree branches that had been torn down during the height of the gale.
Heavy rain accompanied the storm almost all during the evening and early morning hours but no reports of damage by water had been reported to the board of public works.
