Tribute Paid Former Pastor

Parishioners of St. Augustine's church were joined by the Catholic clergy of Greater Lawrence and other members of the Augustinian order Monday morning in paying final tribute to the Very Rev. Thomas P. Fogarty, O. S. A., former pastor of the church, whose funeral was held there at 10 o'clock.

Fr. Fogarty, who was 62, died Oct. 4 at the Bon Secours hospital where he had been a patient since Sept. 23. Last June he was assigned to a parish in Waterford, N. Y., but because of illness had

Says Flat Rate Would Be Costly

A flat rate for compulsory automobile insurance would cost the town of Andover some $100,000 a year in increased insurance premiums, for its compulsory automobile insurance, Gordon H. Strang, of Winthrop, an executive of the United States Fidelity & Guaranty company, told the Andover Sportsmen's club at a meeting in the Peabody House, Tuesday night.

"Unless the flat rate is defeated by the voters on election day, it will mean money gone from Andover just as surely as though it were a state tax," Mr. Strang pointed out. "It is money that would otherwise help make jobs and stimulate business in the community. But under a flat rate, it would go to pay for the cost of accidents caused by drivers in other communities. Nothing could be more unfair than that."

Mr. Strang emphasized that the present community merit rating system is based not on where accidents occur, but on who causes them.

"If passed, the flat rate scheme will cost every Andover car owner between $12 and $15 more each year for his compulsory automobile insurance. For this reason, if for no other," he said, "the interests of Andover will be best served by defeat of the flat rate scheme at the polls on election day, Nov. 7"

Parade In Costume To Feature Opening Of Hallowe'en Party

Representatives of various organizations interested in sponsoring the annual community Hallowe'en party the night of Oct. 31, met Monday evening to further plans for the event. Last year the party attracted a capacity crowd to the Memorial auditorium.

It was decided that the event would get under way this year with a parade beginning at 6.45 p. m., which would start at the square and proceed up Main street, to Punchard avenue, to the auditorium.

Prizes will be awarded for the best and funniest costumes. There will also be door prizes and numerous novelty prizes. As before, the evening's entertainment will be divided into two parts, the earlier hours for children up to the sixth grade and the rest of the evening for those of junior and senior high school age. The first group will be served refreshments. The latter group will conclude the evening with a dance in the gym.

Among those at the meeting were Stafford, A. Lindsay, chairman, George A. Stanley, Jr., and Alan F. Dunlop of the recreation committee; James D. Doherty, supervisor of the playground instructors; Donald D. Dunn, head life

B & M Conductor Suffers Injury

Andrew Hickey of Lawrence, B. & M. railroad conductor and former Andover resident, suffered an injury to his left hand while boarding a train at the Andover station Tuesday night.

It was reported that he slipped on the step of a coach and fell with his hand going under one of the wheels. He boarded the train after the accident and went to Lawrence where he was taken to the Lawrence General hospital for treatment. He almost lost two fingers and suffered other bruises.

A 40-year employee of the road, Mr. Hickey is currently on vacation.

Blood Donation Need Stressed

The tremendous urgency and importance of the Red Cross blood program was stressed at last week's meeting of the local chapter workers in preparation for the visit of the bloodmobile to Andover Nov. 8 and 9.

Mrs. Margaret Dillard, volunteer field consultant for this district, reported that speedy and massive blood transfusions have already proven extremely valuable in combating shock suffered by the wounded in Korea, sometimes as many as 20 pints of whole blood, or blood and plasma, being administered to one man.

Civil defense authorities urge stockpiling against possible atomic disaster and meanwhile the needs of civilian hospitals and doctors cannot be overlooked. The Red Cross blood program is now serving 1900 hospitals and will

Air Defense Test Planned

A full scale test of the observation corps of civil defense will be held over the weekend of Nov. 4 and 5, Albert Cole, Jr., local director of civil defense has been informed from the eastern air defense command.

A meeting of the air-ground observation corps of Andover has been called for 7.30 p. m., Wednesday, Oct. 18, to discuss plans for the test and instruction booklets will be distributed at that meeting. All members of the corps who have signed up are asked to be present for instructions and any others who would like to join the group are invited to attend.

Director Cole anticipates that the civil defense organization of Andover will eventually require the services of 3000 to 4000 persons. Application blanks for volunteers to the many divisions will be ready about Nov. 1. Further information on the local program may be obtained at the office of the director on the second floor of the town house, or telephone 1713.

Many New Voters For State Election

Andover's high interest in the coming state election is evinced in the large registration here since the state primaries Sept. 19.

In the various sessions of the board of registrars of voters since then a total of 238 registrations have been made causing a jump in the total registration from 7116 to the 7277 now eligible to vote Nov. 7.

This represents a net gain of 161, the difference being due to the 77 names that had to be dropped from the lists due to deaths and changes of address within the town.

A study of the registrations shows that the largest gain was made in precinct 6 with precincts 3 and 2 following in that order.

Besides the usual interest in the state election this year Andover voters will find the names of two of its citizens on the ballot. Rep. J. Everett Collins is one of the three Republican candidates running for re-election and Joseph A. Horan of Avon st., is one of the three Democratic contestants for representative.

Further interest in the voting is the large number of questions which will have to be decided by the electorate as well as the numerous contests for state and county offices.

A comparison of the registration for the state primaries and the number eligible to vote at the Nov. 7, election is as follows:

Pct.	Sept. 19	Now	New Gain
1	1587	1608	21
2	1459	1487	28
3	1470	1503	33
4	780	806	26
5	623	637	14
6	1197	1236	39
	7116	7277	161

At the presidential election in November, 1948, there were 7277 persons eligible to vote here.

Among those recently registered are:

Barbara G. Walen, 3 Stonehedge rd., William F. Douty Jr., Salem st., Mary V. Moran, 225 Main st., Joseph F. Moran, 225 Main st., Edward V. Walen, 3 Stonehedge rd., Dorothy F. Punchard Downs Reading 20 - 6

Punchard upset a favored Reading team 20 to 6 last Saturday at Reading in a game that was followed by a riot resulting in the arrest of three Andover fans.

Only two officials handled the game which developed into a rough and rugged affair. Rep. J. Everett Collins, a spectator, said that this factor was responsible for much of the trouble and laid the blame upon the Reading High School Athletic Assn. He stated further that he was elated at the deportment of the Andover boys and praised Coach Walter C. Roberts for his efforts in the situation.

Punchard made 13 first downs to Reading's nine, and gained 217 yards by rushing to their opponent's 70. Punchard completed two forwards for 13 yards, while Reading completed nine for 110 yards. Punchard was penalized 25 yards, Reading 0.

COMMUNITY CHEST

Members of both the junior high and Punchard student councils are soliciting the various homerooms to assure contributions for the community chest collections in their respective assemblies. Raeburn Hathaway, council president, reminded the students that all should be willing to do their bit to help the community since they often ask the community to help in the various school projects. Donald Dunn of the faculty is in charge of this school chest campaign.

Bowling League

A group of Punchard girls have organized a bowling league, competing every Friday night. The members of the two teams are as follows:

Ginny Leman, Constance Coleman, Mary Morrissey, Grace Engel, Phyllis Johnson, Myrna Clark, Bettianne Locke, Fran Ratyna, Betty Sunderland, Claire Nadeau, Louise Moore, and Mary McKee.

Teachers' Notes

A number of the Punchard teachers attended the fall meeting of the Andover Teachers' association last Thursday at the Union Congregational church, Ballardvale, where they enjoyed a delicious supper, followed by an entertaining program. Those who attended were:

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Howe, Miss Barbara Greenwood, Miss Lillian J. E. Fox, Miss Luella Dunning, Miss E. Marjorie Smith, Miss Helen C. Munroe, Miss Margaret Hawksworth, Miss Frances Collins, Miss Agnes Dugan, and Mrs. Gertrude Hardy.

Harold Howe, headmaster, and Bernard Kellmurray, guidance director, will attend a conference of business men and educators at Babson Institute in Wellesley, Friday. Mr. Howe also attended the Merrimack Valley Principals' association meeting at Lowell Tuesday evening.

Notes

Following the Reading game Saturday, the Reading cheerleaders were entertained by the Punchard cheerleaders at the home of Marion White, Punchard captain.

The sophomore English classes will make weekly jaunts to the Memorial Hall library throughout October to become acquainted with the system of the library. The first excursions on Tuesday, however, were postponed "on account of rain."

Joyce Mowat, accordionist, accompanied the student body in Monday's "Singing" assembly.

Who Runs America?

the Congress?

the President?

OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today—keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists—working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

• Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. • Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. • And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the proud security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

• Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. • Today in America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! • Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. • For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

Describes Features Of Bomb Shelters

The characteristics of shelters needed to protect the individual from the dangerous effects of the heat and direct radiation of an atom bomb burst are described by Albert Cole Jr., civil defense director.

A good shelter to be of use should;

Be protected against flooding by ruptured water pipes;

Contain no inflammable material; Have roofs or ceilings which are well-supported by interior columns, or other means, and not depend solely upon exterior walls for support;

Have ample protection against broken, flying glass, with window panes protected by wire mesh, both inside and out;

Contain no fixtures or objects which can be detached by shock and become missiles;

Have wire mesh or other protection under ceiling to prevent injuries resulting from falling concrete or other ceiling material;

Have suitable auxiliary lighting so that at no time will the occupants be in complete darkness. If no other means is available battery lights can be used;

Have suitable ventilation to permit the allotted number of occupants to remain in the space for at least two hours;

Have sanitary provisions in proportion to the number of occupants;

Have clean drinking water available in air-tight containers; Have entrances and capacities clearly marked inside and out;

Have more than one entrance, wherever possible, and the entrances protected to minimize the danger of becoming blocked by debris;

Allow at least four square feet of floor space and 25 cubic feet of space per person;

Contain picks, shovels and crowbars to enable the occupants to help dig themselves out.

Occupants of private dwellings should develop adequate basement shelters following the same general characteristics listed above for large public buildings.

$1,200,000 FOR NEW SCHOOLS

Voters of the town will soon be asked at a special town meeting to authorize the construction of two new elementary school buildings at an approximate cost of $1,200,000.

This follows steps taken since, at the request of the school committee, the 1949 town meeting appropriated $1500 for a survey of the Andover school building plant.

Consultants were engaged and after their study reported that the town should envision the eventual replacement of all elementary school buildings now in use except the Shawsheen. Using the McLeary chart to evaluate the buildings their ratings were: Jackson, John Dove, Stowe and Bradlee, very poor; Indian Ridge, inadequate. They also reported that more classrooms were needed to provide for the increase in the elementary school population.

They recommended for the first step a new 18-room central school, and the second step a new school in West Andover.

Subsequently the 1950 town meeting authorized the appointment of a building committee to bring in plans and recommendations to provide modern school buildings adequate for the expected enrollment, yet at a cost within the resources of the taxpayers.

Such plans, an estimate of the cost, and a scheme for financing the construction have been presented.

The finance plan would authorize the transfer of $350,000 from available funds and from the Post War Rehabilitation fund, and an appropriation of $50,000 from the 1951 assessment. The $800,000 balance would be financed by a 15-year bond issue which would add $2.48 to the 1952 tax rate, but this would diminish each year until it was down to $1.50 by the end of the period. The state would bear approximately 21 percent of the construction costs but payments from the state would be made in the form of proportionate annual refunds.

The school problem has been before the town for more than a year. Now with the recent publication of the building committee's report and the sketches of the plans for the new buildings in the center and west districts, townspeople who attend the special town meeting should be well informed about what they are being asked to do when called upon to vote.

As the whole problem has been moving toward a successful conclusion there can hardly be any turning back now.

VIEWS OF THE NEWS

By LEONARD F. JAMES

When the fighting ends in Korea, will we have finished our job there? If we see our task as the military defense of the United States, then a successful conclusion to the war will apparently get us our objective. But only apparently. For then we must undertake the equally heart-breaking task of making Korea a satisfied country, immune to the false attractions of communism. Unless we succeed in that too, all we have done so far will be of doubtful lasting effect.

The war is, of course, one between the East and West. But it is also a very real civil war, a fight between social groups which provided Russia with fertile ground for dissension. If we think that the simple formula of free election answers our problem, then we very much underestimate Russia's political astuteness. Korea was picked by Russia because the United States would be shoved high on several horns of a dilemma. If we did nothing we would lose. If we entered the fight and lost, our strategic defense would be very seriously damaged. If we should enter and win, what could we do with victory?

S. Korea A Doubtful Democracy

A few facts about South Korea can indicate how sticky our job will be—a job for the policy-makers immediately upon the heels of the military. From what we read we may perhaps assume that the pre-war South Korean government was a democracy led by a popular Syngman Rhee. That is by no means so. He had been away from Korea for 35 years before he became president in 1948. And in popular imagination he suffered by comparison with Kim Il Sung, leader of the North Korean government and for years a famous guerilla leader against the hated 40 old Japanese oppressors. Admittedly Rhee was elected to government office. But political conditions in South Korea for the previous three years had been decidedly shaky, and Rhee's political ambitions were by no means widely accepted. The United States organized and ran a temporary government, preparing the way for elections. Their task was almost impossible. Because it takes more than mere orders to superimpose democratic balloting on a country where the knife had been a more effective and permanent method of removing opponents for several decades. Korea had been run and squeezed by the Japs, and certainly did not learn even the rudiments of democracy from them.

Land-Hungry Peasants

Add to this political problem the economic one of land-hungry, tax-squeezed peasants, and the task must have seemed almost insoluble, even to the military. South Korea is a land of farmers whose average family holding is about two and a half acres. And the average farmer is a tenant and not an owner. His landlord regards him as little more than a feudal servant, squeezing around 50 percent of his crops as rent.

And No Land Reform In Sight

That problem was and still is basic. The right to vote, even in the American manner, scarcely compensates for a hungry stomach. Democracy has got to mean a lot more than a ballot in a box. But the Rhee administration has deliberately and persistently sidestepped all proposals to solve the land problem. Of course, office seekers had to favor the distribution of privately-owned as well as former Japanese holdings. The new constitution of South Korea promised to tackle the question. A land bill was passed, and even praised by President Rhee. But after the adjournment of the Assembly, the government—meaning Rhee and supporters—announced the desire to amend the bill. Excuse for failure to act further was the argument that the Assembly had adjourned. And so was the bill and is. All that happened was that the peasants got squeezed again. Landlords feared land reform, so forced the tenants to purchase upon unfavorable terms or take the chance of eviction.

Earlier elections suggest that future ones may be difficult to administer. More than thirty so-called "leading political parties" offered candidates, and Military Government naturally tried to counteract radical parties by supporting more conservative ones, but unfortunately ones that many Koreans regarded as anti-democratic and former collaborators. While the actual elections were hailed by the American command as a great victory for democracy, moderate observers apparently questioned whether they were a free expression of Korean will. Prior to the elections some 600 persons were killed, and some 10,000 so-called rioters were processed by the police. This does not suggest an easy time for future elections.

And the economic problem will now be more acute than it was before the fighting started. If in 1948 it was unrealistic to bring in an anti-communist government without giving it real material support, it will be even more so in late 1950. If a free and independent Korea is necessary for our defense, then it must be economically strong enough to withstand communist penetration from within. The Koreans are probably no different from other people. If they are satisfied they will see little value in communism. If they are economically unhappy they may listen to any program which promises to improve their lot. At that kind of propaganda the communists are experts. And that becomes our very immediate problem.

Service Club
Opens Season

The Andover Service club opened its new season with Stanley F. Swanton, the new president, presiding over a well attended meeting at the Andover Inn last Thursday night.

The club voted to donate $25 toward the Hallowe'en party to be sponsored by the Andover Recreation committee the night of Oct. 31. Sec. James R. Mosher, reporting on last year's community Hallowe'en party, said that it attracted 1200 or more children and adults to the Memorial auditorium for one of the best entertainments the youngsters of the town ever enjoyed.

Walter Buxton, past president, won the free dinner and Edward P. Hall, another past president, won the door prize. The resignation of David L. Coutts as director was read and accepted.

An invitation was received to attend the meeting in the Memorial auditorium Wednesday, Oct. 25, to discuss plans for the two new elementary school buildings.

Pres. Swanson announced the recent death of one of the club members, the Rev. Thomas P. Fogarty, O. S. A., former pastor of St. Augustine's church, in honor of whose memory the members stood for a minute in silence.

A Mr. Rooney discussed the referendum which will be voted on at the next election concerning the flat rate for compulsory auto insurance. He pointed out that the drivers in the low-rate communities earn that rate by safe driving. He urged defeat of the referendum as he said the flat rate would tend to eliminate the incentive in some cities for operators to drive carefully.

A report on the progress of the Andover Visiting Nurse's association, sponsored by the club, was made by Irving Whitcomb, chairman of the special committee appointed to launch this project when it was given up by the Red Cross.

Mr. Whitcomb reported that the committee has made a drive by mail for contributions to support the work of the visiting nurse in town but that the sum needed was not received. He told of a proposed campaign next spring to raise more money for the project and stated that donations could be received at any time from anyone who wanted to contribute to this worthy cause.

Frank L. Brigham, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speaker of the evening, Prof. George H. Deming of the department of state and local government at the University of New Hampshire.

Prof. Deming discussed the participation of youth in politics. He recalled many answers given by college and university students to questions about such participation, all of which were reasons why they made no attempt to enter such fields.

He analyzed the replies of the students, and in his comment raised questions for his audience to determine whether or not parents and adults were encouraging youth to give their time and talent to this particular field.

YOUR NEW SOCIAL SECURITY

By H. L. LEIGHTON
Manager Lawrence Office

How much do you know about your new social security? Of course, you know that congress has extended federal family insurance to approximately ten million more people. You know that the President has signed the amended act. You realize that it is now a law. But do you know how it will affect you? Are you among the new millions who may have social security protection beginning in January?

I say "may" because for all of the 9,700,000 for whom social security is now made possible, coverage is not automatic. For some groups it will be compulsory, for others it will be voluntary. For all of the new groups there will be certain exceptions and qualifications. I shall deal with each group separately in following articles in this series. Today, however, let's consider the new social security law as an entirety.

In signing the original Social Security Act on Aug. 14, 1935, President Roosevelt declared it "a cornerstone in a structure which is being built but is by no means complete." This edifice of social legislation is still unfinished. Construction will be continued, I am confident, through the decade ahead. However, the progress made since the "cornerstone" laying 15 years ago is impressive. With the enactment of the amended law this summer we can begin to see social security in perspective. Its size and solidity, and practicability in design are assurance to all. This is an enduring fortress for protection on the home-front—a defense against the economic enemy. Want, that so often ambushes the aging worker and invades the survivors' home.

Right here, however, is the time and place to say that Federal old-age and survivors insurance under social security is not a refuge for the thriftless or a haven for the indolent. Moreover, federal old-age and survivors insurance is just what the title implies. It is insurance, not charity. It is a means whereby the worker, in his years of productivity, contributes through his earnings toward a measure of protection for himself and his family in his old age, and for his family if he should die.

The worker's contributions to the social security tax are, in essence, his share of insurance premiums. The social security card in his billfold symbolizes his insurance policy. That policy is the social security law itself.

What does his social security policy say? Just what are his rights as a policy holder in Federal old-age and survivors insurance?

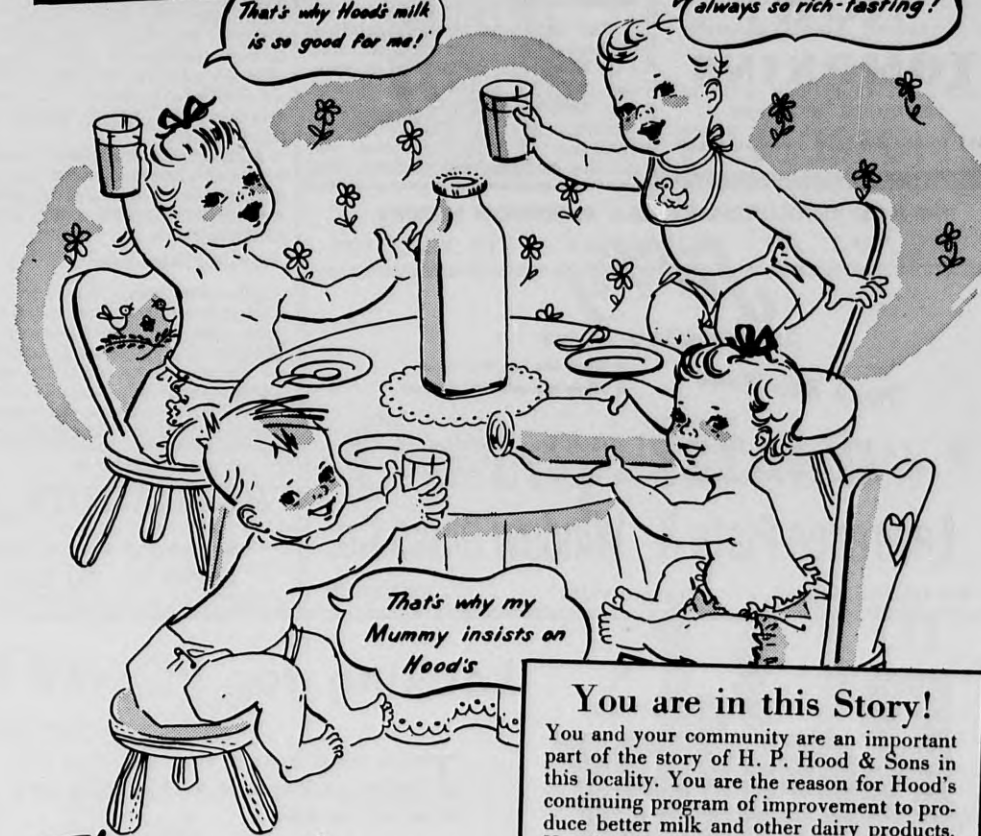

In articles to follow, I shall endeavor to answer these and related questions about your new social security.

The sum of $10,000 was bequeathed to the niece, Mrs. Hopwood. To Smith college at Northampton Miss Bell gave two Italian chairs. To the South church was left $500, and gifts of $1000 apiece were awarded to Marjorie Dodge of Nashua, N.H., and Mrs. Viola H. Graeff of Rye Beach, N.H.

Human Relations Subject Of Films

Five films which deal with the all-important subject of human relations will be shown at the sixth film preview program at the Memorial Hall library at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Oct. 18. Two are U. been unable to take up his duties there.

Sunday afternoon and evening with a guard of honor from the Fourth Degree, K. of C., the body lay in state in St. Augustine's church where parishioners filed past the bier in paying their final respects.

A solemn high mass of requiem was sung Monday morning when two brothers of Fr. Fogarty officiated, assisted by numerous Augustinian priests headed by the Very Rev. Joseph M. Dougherty, O. S. A., provincial of the order who gave the eulogy, and Bishop Thomas F. Markham, auxiliary bishop of Boston.

The Rev. Jeremiah J. Fogarty of Elgin, Ont., was celebrant, the Rev. John M. Fogarty of Park Hill, Ont., deacon, and the Very Rev. P. J. Campbell, pastor, sub-deacon. A choir composed of priests from Merrimack college chanted the mass of the dead. Others who sang during the mass were Frank Cookson, Ernest J. Brooks and James E. Sheard. The Rev. Matthew F. McDonald, O. S. A., was master of ceremonies. Many other priests were seated within the sanctuary.

A large number of parishioners attended the mass together with delegations from the Catholic School guild, the Sacred Heart sodality, the Holy Name society, Court St. Monica and the Knights of Columbus. Sisters from the Notre Dame convent also attended. Six priests of the Augustinian order were bearers. There were many honorary bearers. Burial was in the priests' lot in St. Mary's cemetery.

Ordained In Rome
Born in Templemore, County Tipperary, Ireland, June 29, 1888, Father Fogarty was educated in the United States and ordained to the priesthood in Rome on July 25, 1913.

Following his ordination, he was assigned to several New York state parishes as a curate before being named assistant pastor at St. James' church, Carthage, N.Y., prior to 1920 when he was assigned to St. Augustine's church

Father Fogarty was a member of a family of four priests, two of whom are the Rev. Jeremiah J. Fogarty of Elgin, Ont., and the Rev. John M. Fogarty of Park Hill, Ont. The fourth priest in the family was the Rev. Daniel F. Fogarty, O. S. A., who died in October, 1918 with influenza while stationed here.

...and we had to buck a lot of competition

But it was healthy competition. We had to work hard and plan carefully. But it was work with a promise of reward. We like to think that the friends we've made and the success we've had are typical examples of the opportunity America offers the man with an idea and a determination to build and manage his own business. We wouldn't trade places with a small businessman of any other Nation for anything. We think we can do a better job running our own business than the Government could. We think the doctors and nurses and scientists can do a better job managing the medical care of the Nation than the Government could. We believe that American freedom is worth working and fighting for at home and abroad.

soon open six new centers for collection of blood.

With these needs in view, Col. Frank L. Purdon, blood recruitment chairman, reminds the public to keep in mind the dates of the bloodmobile visit here early next month.

During recent weeks, Mrs. David M. Thompson, who is in charge of recruitment for the various volunteer services, has been actively enlisting new workers. Besides production and motor corps, staff aides are needed for desk and office work. Instructors courses in home nursing, first aid, and nurses aide training are being arranged as rapidly as possible. Last week Mrs. Thompson presided at a meeting attended by in-service volunteers and prospective workers, at which films were shown illustrating the many kinds of humane service which can be done by those willing to give even a little time.

A quota of Red Cross work ready for shipment to the veterans' hospital at Bedford will be on display next week in the Irma Beene store. Mrs. Henry G. Tyer, production chairman, expresses the great indebtedness of the chapter to its many loyal production workers who did much of the work displayed, and of the splendid assistance given by the South church sewing group. The Benevolent society of Phillips academy chapel and the Tuesday club also contributed many articles.
