Church Group Sponsors D. P. Family Here

Through the efforts of the social action committee of the Women's Fellowship of the South church a D.P. family from Europe has been established here in Andover

The social action committee, Mrs. Arthur Covell, Mrs. Myron Clark, Mrs. Harold Howe 2nd., and Mrs. James S. Eastham, voted to sponsor a D.P. family and made arrangements through Dr. Myron Fowell, of Boston, secretary of the Massachusetts Congregational conference, in charge of placement of D.P.'s who have been sponsored by the Congregational churches of the state.

The local committee then inquired about work and a cooperaquired about work and a coopera-tive farmer who was a member of the church, said he would give a job to the father of the family. Then a long hunt for the house began. After hours of telephoning and with many cooperating, a small tenement was found. Arrangements were made for gas and elec-ticity; plans were made to gather furniture and on Dec. 24 a group of 30 cleaned and prepared the house, gathered furniture and stoves, acquired oil, got two stoves working, and put up window shades.

Prison Camp Site In Plymouth Area

Establishment of a reforestation camp at the Myles Standish state forest in Plymouth and Carver to be manned by prisoners from penal institutions has been authorized by Arthur T. Lyman, state conservation commissioner.

A site in the Monroe state forest for a similar camp has also been selected and a third camp in the Freetown state forest is being considered, Lyman has announced.
A site in the Harold Parker forest was under consideration and a hearing on this proposal was held a few weeks ago in North Andover at which many officials and organizations from this area expressed their opposition to the William D. McIntyre was elected trustee for two years and Roger B. Merriman was named a new mem-ber of the corporation.

A plan for converting the area in the rear of the old Shaw property on Main street into a free off-street parking space was outlined by Roy E. Hardy, chairman of the board of assessors, to the members of the Andover board of trade Tuesday night.

The parking problem in the shop-ping district is one of the projects to be taken up by the new organization in cooperation with the selectmen, who have been making a study of the situation for the past several months.

Mr. Hardy presented two plans that have been prepared by Warren O. Petersen, town engineer. One called for a parking area for 100 cars and the other for 197 cars.

In his discussion of both plans Mr. Hardy made it known that he preferred the plan for 100 cars. Other areas nearer the square are also being considered by the se-

Ask Camera Fans To Display "Bests"

Any person who has photography as a hobby is asked to bring in for a library display what he considers to be his "best" picture.

There will be no prizes or judgment, but this will be an opportunity to campare one's own work with that of other local fans. Small pictures, not much larger than 9 X 12 inches, or less, without frames, would be most easily handled, but enlarged and framed "bests" will still be welcome.

Your Help Is Needed

The people of Andover are called upon from time to time to give their support to many deserving causes. To their credit it is noted that they seldom fail to respond with the financial assistance necessary.

Through a group of their fellow-townsmen they are now being asked to contribute to a long established local project which has earned for itself a high reputation for the needed and helpful service given to the community, - the visiting nurse.

Once sponsored by the local Red Cross chapter, which was obliged to drop it in June 1950, the responsibility of continuing this activity was assumed by the Andover Service club and operated under the newly-formed Visiting Nurse Association of Andover, Inc.

A drive for funds enabled the nurse, Miss Helen Woodbury, R.N., to carry on her professional services. Since then she made more than 2100 calls in all sorts of weather, supplementing the work of doctors and hospitals.

Now the annual solicitation of funds for the continuance of this work is about to start. Demands for the service are increasing each month to the extent that officials of the association feel that in the near future the visiting nurse will need an assistant.

Many of our citizens have volunteered to help solicit contributions to keep up this excellent work. They are appealing for $8500, confident that the people of Andover will respond with generous donations to enable them to reach this goal.

The service given by the visiting nurse plays an important part in the health of the community. Will ou help?

Take a look at your tax bill and stop calling them "cheap" politicians. - Montana Oil Journal.

Social Security Information

Housewives should ask their maids or other regularly employed household help for their social security account numbers as soon as they are hired. This word of advice comes from Miss Vose, manager of the Lawrence social security office, which serves this "Wages reported without social security numbers — or with incorrect numbers — usually result in loss of wage credits for the employee. Moreover, failure to in-clude the maid's social security number on the wage report may call for follow-up contacts which may be bothersome to her employer," she pointed out. To avoid this, she suggests that the housewife make social security account number, copying both the name and number directly from her worker's social

Quarterly Meeting Held By Red Cross

The quarterly meeting of Red ross directors was held Tuesday, lan. 8, in the town house.

Following the reading and adop-ion of the regular reports the executive secretary gave a re-view of the activities of all the services for the three months just past. Noticeable was an acceleration in the work of most groups doing community service for the chapter. More and more Andover people are requesting assistance people are requesting assistance from the blood program; the case load for service to members of the armed forces and their families grows as more local men are called to service; support for the program at Bedford hospital continues; motor corps is active six days a week; training courses in support of the civil defense program are still week; training courses in support of the civil defense program are still being offered, some 80 students at Phillips academy being at present enrolled in a first aid course; and on behalf of all these and other Red Cross responsibilities desk work is being done at headquarters by staff aid volunteers.

Andover chapter's contribution to Red Cross flood relief was re-ported. This was the first chapter in the section to reach the assigned goal. The request was for $800 and $988.14 was collected and sent to 5968.14 was collected and sent to the national organization, which has to date spent some $14 million on flood relief in the mid-west, Matters related to the approaching fund campaign in March were discussed in detail, with concern expressed by those present that the budget be pared as close as pos-sible without necessitating the re-duction or loss of any of the services now being maintained by the

About 5:30 p.m. word came from New York that the family had arrived, and were due in Boston at 9 p.m.

Two cars and an interpreter were sent to meet them. The interpreter was a German student studying in the U.S.A. for a year under sponsorship of the state depart-ment. He happened to be spending the Christmas holidays with one of the South church families.

No member of the D.P. family spoke English but when they arrived it was learned that all were weary and needed sleep. They had been four weeks on the way, two weeks on land before sailing and two on the Atlantic, with some sickness.

They were taken to their new home and greeted there by the Rev. Frederick B. Noss, pastor of the South church, Mrs. Noss, and Mrs. J.J. Tavem, president of the Women's Fellowship.

That's how Mr. and Mrs. Johannes Todt and his family arrived at Red Spring rd. Now the father and the 18-year-old son are both working on farm jobs. The two young children are learning English at the Indian Ridge school under the supervision of the principal, Miss supervision of the principal, Miss Kyle, and the mother is keeping house while quickly and cheer-fully learning American ways.

Some of the other possible areas mentioned by Mr. Hardy and which have been under consideration, and the names of their owners, are: Park street, James Heifeitz; Bart-Park street, James Heifeitz; Bartlet and Chestnut streets, town park; High street, Barnard Estate; Gentral street, David Burns; Central street, Swift Estate; High street, St. Matthew's lodge; Post Office avenue, James Heifeitz; Park street, Ralph W. Coleman; Post Office avenue, Hewitt & Badger.

The two plans presented at Tues day night's meeting were discussed by the board members, all of whom are interested in a suitable solution of the problem.

The Shaw property is owned by the town. Mr. Hardy said there are sufficient funds in the parking me-ter fund to prepare the area in the rear of the property for parking and a special warrant will be presented at the next town meeting to make some provision for using this space.

The Christmas lights were discussed and it was decided to have the lighting committee meet soon to expedite the final collection of contributions to pay for the decora-

The board also discussed the question of solicitations made by various outside organizations made by various outside organizations and voted to have the president appoint a committee to make a study of the control of such solicitations and formulate a program which would be binding on all members.

The receipt of membership cards from two more firms was reported by the secretary, Atty. Anna M. Greeley, bringing the membership up to approximately 60 firms. The membership drive is still in progress and more new members are expected to be reported at the subsequent meetings.

TREATED AT ROSPITAL

Three Andover people required treatment at the Lawrence General treatment at the Lawrence General hospital over the past weekend. All were released following treatment. They were: Mrs. Mabel Raidy, 58 Balmoral st., abrasions on right knee and hand, as the result of a fall; Richard Dangel, 410 Memorial dr., Cambridge, a student at Phillips academy, dislocated left fifth finger, hurt while wrestling; Gerald Burbine, 11 Brechin terr., laceration of his left index finger, caught in a sled while coasting.

Counterfeit Coin Passed On Dealer

Police are issuing a warning to merchants that a counterfeit 50-cent piece has recently been passed here.

This is the third in about six months, Police Chief George A.

Dane said. The most recent counterfeit is a very good imitation. It was passed in the Simeone variety store and not recognized until later.

The coins were forwarded by police to the secret service office at Roston.

Stoneham and Wakefield chapters.
Additional courses in first aid are now in process of organization at Phillips academy. Some 80 students from the two upper classes will be trained; Kenneth Minard, Francis McCarthy, Ilarper Follansbee, and Simeon Hyde Jr., will serve as instructors. These trainees will be prepared to assist in the care of refugees in case the school should be selected as a school should be selected as a receiving center in a disaster sit-uation handled by civil defense.

Mrs. Alvin Zink Jr., nursing en-rollment chairman, and Miss Helen Woodbury, home nursing chairman, consulted with Mrs. Sarah Wood-worth, regional nursing field representative, during her recent visit to Andover Red Cross headquarters. A need is felt to have two or three more registered nurses train as home nursing instructors during this spring. Nurses willing to serve the community in this way are urged to call Red Cross headquarters.

Blood collections all over the country are improving, but are still not adequate for the needs of the armed forces and the civilian program. The department of defense reimburses Red Cross for the ex-pense involved in the collection of blood for needs, while Red Cross bears the entire cost of the civilian program. And in both situations the blood itself is the free and generous gift of healthy Americans to those who need it.

Couple Injured In Auto Accident

James F. O'Neil 45, and Agnes O'Neil, 43, 622 Andover st., Lav rence, were seriously injured on South Main street Wednesday morn-ing when an automobile in which they were riding skidded, crossed the road, and struck a parked truck.

The injured couple were taken in fire department ambulance the fire department ambulance to the Lawrence General hospital for treatment. According to a report made by state troopers from the Andover barracks who investigated, the O'Neil car was going south when it struck an icy spot about 7:50 a.m. The car skidded across the road and into a truck operated by Arthur T. Hartnett of Dorchester, which was parked on the east side of the north lane. The Lawrence couple suffered lacerations and possible skull fractures.
