$4 Tax Rate Increase Seen

Andover's total appropriations for 1952 reach the record high mark $1,390,632.15, an increase of $228,509.87 over a year ago as the result of action taken Monday night at the session of the town meeting postponed from a week ago.

This all-time high mark in the town's appropriations for department budgets and special articles follows closely the recommendations of the finance committee and indicate an estimated $4 increase in the tax rate from $40 to $44.

At the session Mar. 10 the meeting voted $1,268,860.65 for departments and $36,550 for special articles before adjourning to Mar. 17. At the adjourned meeting $85,221.50 more was voted for special articles.

Despite the increase over 1951 the effect on the tax rate was partially offset by the transfer of $20,000 of the overlay surplus to the reserve fund and voting $65,000 free cash to the assessors (Continued on Page Four)

Music lovers will be interested in the first evening of the film fes-tival programs at the Memorial Hall library, Monday, Mar. 24, at 7:45

The entire program has been planned about the theme "Music On Film." Two are dance films — "Moor's Pavane" and "Fable Of The Peacock." The first is a variation on the theme of Othello, translated into dance by Jose Limon and his group. This is photographed against a black backdrop and shows to advantage the strikingly colored robes. "The Fable of the Peacock" is an ethnic dance of India, danced and narrated by Lakshimi Wana Singh. It demonstrates stylized hand ges-tures and body movements common to East Indian ceremonial dances. The story concerns the judgment of the peacock for his vanity.

The meeting opened by taking up Article 18 to see if the town would extend the 16-inch low pressure service from the end of Phillips street to the Bancroft road pumping station, and appropriate $55,000 for the work, of which $25,000 would be raised by taxation from the 1952 levy and $30,000 be transferred from available funds in the treasury.

TOWN MEETING THOUGHTS

Editor of the Townsman:

If a youngster of high-school age asked you how the recent town meeting went, what would you tell

You could tell him that town You could tell him that town meeting has elements of the sublime: government by the people, rule of the majority with rights of each minority jealously guarded, officials accountable to the people as the source of all authority, prince and pauper on basis of absolute equality, persuasion without coercion, the right of every citizen to question any proposal, out coercion, the right of every citizen to question any proposal, forum for public discussion of public affairs, the prevailing sense of fair play, the feeling of pride in good government, political freedom because the people have free-dom of choice. The most revealing moment at the recent meeting may have been when a voter asked for and received an explanation of a trivial sum while hundreds of citi-zens respectfully waited. This symbolizes the culmination of a centuries-long struggle for freedom from political tyranny.

If you told our student that, you would be telling him the truth but not the whole truth, for town meeting sometimes falls short of its possibilities. Let me give you an

This town elects only five school officials. This group directs the most important and most expensive job in our community — the education of our children. Althe education of our children. Although only they are accountable to the people for policy, results and costs, this committee comes to our annual business meeting without a single word of explanation for its stewardship for last year or plans for the current year. This taciturn attitude, I think, is out of harmony with the democratic way of conducting the public's business.

Intended perhaps as a substitute for oral explanations, our commit-tee makes available a curious document entitled "Annual Report of the School Committee." In its 36 pages you will find such in-formation as who won the spelling prizes in grade five and what songs were sung at commencement. Printed there are reports of the committee's employees ranging from the superintendant to the hy-gienist and truant officer. But here is your committee's report? The statement on page six is merely an evasion. Hasn't the school committee a single idea of its own which it is willing to share with the people of this town? How are you going to explain such official reticence to our student,

The last time you picked up your telephone, where did you call? The drugstore? Office? Grocer? Garage? Hairdresser? A friend?

Your call, to any one of these local places, cost you only a few cents, yet it saved you time, steps, or a possible trip in the car.

Your telephone is one of the outstanding conveniences of our modern way of life. Today, it's a bigger value than ever.

As in all businesses, rising costs have meant higher rates, yet today, with the increases in costs of so many things greater than telephone rate increases, the average telephone bill actually takes a smaller part of the family budget than it did 10 years ago.

Some people who have applied for telephone service are still without it because we lack necessary equipment. To correct this situation is one of our major projects.

Some who do have service, however, are inclined to forget or overlook the telephone's real worth. It is only to such users that reference is made here to the value of telephone service.

Everyone, right down to those in the low income brackets, feels the tremendous burden of present-day taxation. Everyone kicks about it. But there is one phase of the tax problem which is given much less consideration than it deserves - and that is what it is doing to the whole financial structure of the na-

Economic Intelligence, a publication of the chamber of commerce of the United States, dealt with this when it said, "Steeply progressive taxation has virtually dried up the sources of venture capital, so essential for launching new enterprises. It has become more and more difficult, therefore, for the exceptional man, the ambitious employee, the man with a new idea, to set himself up in his own business. And such activities have been the traditional well springs of our American way of life."
