Air Observer Force To Go On 24 Hour Duty

The air-ground observer force will go on full time, 24 hour a day duty beginning about May 17, according to instructions received by Civil Defense Director Albert Cole Jr., from Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, commander in chief of the U.S. air force corps.

In ordering full time duty for the aircraft observers, consisting of about 150,000 volunteers in 36 states, Gen. Vandenberg states that "danger of possible attack is sufficient to make it advisable to man the observation posts 24 hours a day."

A vast network of warning stations equipped with the latest and most powerful radar and electronic equipment is rapidly approaching completion. Navy ships with similar sets patrol both the east and west coasts.

Andover has one of the non-mechanical detection posts and personnel to man this station continually until further notice must be signed up very soon.

Those interested in offering their services for this duty should contact one of the following: Francis J. Rodericks of the Andover Service club; Frank J. O'Connor, Andover Catholic club; William Watt, Clan Johnston; Allen Flye, St. Matthew's lodge, Harold Haller, PTA council, Herbert H. Otis, Andover council of churches.

Plan To Use Added Playground Space

The selectmen at their meeting Monday night made plans to invite representatives of the school committee, the recreation committee and the board of public works to a conference to discuss plans for the newly acquired lands at the playstead.

The board also received an invitation from the Andover All-Women's post, 427, American Legion, to attend the annual installation of officers of the post to be held in the Legion hall May 5.

Charles Lundergan and Donald Wheelock of the Disabled American Veterans appeared before the board to request use of the square the evening of Thursday, May 1, for Loyalty day services to be conducted jointly by all local veterans organizations. The request was approved.

The board voted the Lawrence Gas & Electric Co., permission to erect 11 poles on both sides of Cutler road, northerly from Lowell street.

Andover cast a surprising vote of 2453 ballots in the presidential primaries Tuesday and Republican voters showed a preference of Eisenhower by more than two-to-one over Taft.

The vote: Eisenhower 1419, Taft 620, MacArthur 7, Stassen 5, Warren 2, Lodge 2.

Estes Kefauver of Tennessee led the field in the Democratic write-in vote getting a total of 74 while Truman and Eisenhower got 11 each, Richard K. Gordon 10, Taft 5, Harriman 3, Dever and Douglas 2 each, John McCormick, Herbert O'Connor and Harriman 1 each.

In the district delegate votes Andover, like the rest of the state, rolled up a good lead for Group 1 which was pledged to Eisenhower. Both the delegates and the alternates in this group received a substantial two-to-one vote over the Group 2 delegates and alternates pledged to Taft.

In the Democratic contest for district delegates and alternates Group 1 received much more than the combined vote of Group 2 and the candidates not grouped.

For the Democratic town committee 10 were to be elected but as only nine names appeared on the ballot there was a contest for the 10th place by a write-in vote. This resulted in the election of Richard K. Gordon who had 15

Commuters' Column

What? No Clutch?

We were waiting for the 8:08 one morning when a long, diesel-powered freight train went by.

"I wonder how those things get underway" one of the commuters remarked. "Do you suppose they shift gears like a car?"

"No," said Bill, the railroad authority. "They could never make a clutch that wouldn't burn out, getting a 100-car freight underway."

"Do they have fluid drive, maybe?"

"No, but that's closer to it. The diesel engine drives a big generator, see? And the generator generates power for electric traction motors that are connected to the locomotive's wheels."

"I get it. Diesel to generator to motor. A Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance sort of a set-up."

"That was another kind of a 'clutch' combination," quipped the commuter.

When the groans had subsided Bill went on with his explanation. "The engineer controls power and speed entirely through electricity - he handles a throttle which controls the speed of the diesel engine, and this in turn generates more or less current to drive the motors. He also has another lever which changes the electrical connections in various ways - from series to parallel and so on - and this has something like the same effect as changing gears in an automobile. So the drive is completely flexible, and the diesel's whole job is to run the generating plant."

"What's the reason for the B and M changing over from steam to diesel?" asked another fellow. "I've noticed that most of the trains are diesel these days."

"Yes," said Bill, "all the railroads are converting to diesel. I read somewhere that the B and M has replaced 227 steam locomotives with $27,000,000 worth of diesels in the past 10 years, and pretty soon there'll be no steam left on the system."

"To answer your question - there are lots of reasons for this changeover. Diesels are much cheaper to run, because the oil they burn is a less expensive fuel than coal. They can go farther without reserving. Maintenance is cheaper and quicker, and they can be worked practically 24 hours a day. And because they've got better 'torque,' or traction, they can start and pull heavier loads than steam locomotives of the same rated horsepower."

"One thing you forgot," said the first commuter. "They don't create a lot of smoke and cinders."

"Right you are," Bill nodded as the 8:08 pulled in.

Horan Awarded Bronze Star Medal

Joseph S. Horan, 6 Avon st., was the recipient of a bronze star medal at exercises held in Boston recently commemorating the fall of Bataan.

Mr. Horan is a survivor of the Bataan "death march" and was a prisoner of war for three and a half years. The medal was presented for meritorious achievement in general combat against the enemy in the battle of Bataan where he served as a medical corpsman.

A past state vice commander of the Disabled American Veterans, Mr. Horan is also past commander of Chapter 18, D.A.V., of Andover and a member of the V.F.W., American Legion, Andover Grange and Sportsman's club. He is employed at present as a special investigator for the state veterans' service.

Collecting Funds For Flood Relief

Andover Red Cross chapter is now collecting funds for disaster relief.

In a note accompanying one recent contribution the donor expressed regret that it was small because, "I know the need is great."

So vast is the size of relief operations in the midwest that the area has been divided into two sections for better administration. As flood waters recede in each community the big part of the Red Cross work is just beginning. The rehabilitation work required will continue for months to come. The entire resources of the Red Cross have been marshalled to help this program.

Contributions in any amount will be gratefully received at local Red Cross headquarters, 8 Elm st.

FINED IN LOWELL

A fine of $50 was imposed on Harry A. Donovan of Andover in Lowell District court last Friday on a charge of operating while under the influence of liquor. He was also fined $10 for speeding. He pleaded not guilty to the charges when arraigned Apr. 10 following his arrest in Tyngsboro.

IN MOCK CONVENTION

Marilyn Ann Jaspert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Jaspert, 10 Stonehedge rd., was a member of the delegation which represented Bradford Junior college at the mock Republican convention held recently at Harvard university.

It is suggested that those who have to leave the Free church promptly at 9:15 a.m. in order to attend their church schools, might leave their autos on Elm street before going to the service. Breakfast tickets should be secured at once.

SUGGESTIONS

Fifteen!

What's "in the works" at G. E.

TOP HONORS of the year 1951 go to Howard Martin of Boxford, G-E inspector in River Works' Forge Shop. He won $2,765 for suggesting manufacturing improvements resulting in the salvage of strategic raw material.

WHEN GOOD FELLOWS get together they come up with a $600 idea. Micajah P. Clough of Marblehead and John Wade of Beverly, employed at West Lynn Works, suggested re-machining steel receptacles on aircraft instruments, thus re-using waste material.

$650 IDEA! Arthur Dooley, Melrose, employed at Everett Plant, suggested a pumping system to drain, fill, filter hydraulic oil and allow its re-use.

SECOND HIGHEST AWARD at Everett Plant went to William Smith of Everett. He won $600 for suggesting the use of steam to heat water for the washroom, dispensary and restaurant.

ELIMINATES REPAIRS. Mrs. Evangeline Riley of Lynn, assembly operator at West Lynn Works, suggested reinforcements for leads on detector and autopilot coils. Her idea won her $130, cut inspection time in half.

That's the Average Amount Paid G-E Employees for Their Suggestions Last Year

Chances are that when G-E employees have an idea for a better way of doing things, they'll get far more than pennies for their thoughts. Here's how good the chances are:

During 1951 local employees submitted 13,930 ideas to management through the Suggestion Award System in effect at the River Works, West Lynn and Everett Plants. 5,166 of these ideas were adopted. That's more than one out of every three. Many folks were paid for several suggestions. For those adopted, G.E. paid a total of $81,695 last year to local employees — an average of fifteen dollars each.

Yes, at G. E., ideas from employees are valuable. When it comes right down to it, few people know more about a job than the folks doing it. Any way to improve the job, or reduce waste, not only means extra money for them, but helps keep G-E products ahead of competition.

Today through the Suggestion System, local G-E employees are doing their bit to help make American methods the most efficient in the world. This system of encouraging employees to contribute ideas and be paid for them is another reason why "G. E." also stands for "Good Employment"!

National Primaries

The great interest developed through the intensity of the contests being waged in both political parties for delegates to the national conventions serves to focus public attention on the lack of a uniform primary election for choosing presidential nominees.

The various primary systems now employed by the different states are hardly adequate methods of letting the voter express his wishes in the selection of his party's candidate.

That is why so much attention is being given now to a proposal for a direct national primary on presidential nominees instead of continuing with the present inadequate arrangement which also, in many cases, places the selection of convention delegates under control of party leaders.

Some plan for a nationwide primary to get the expression of the majority wishes in both parties would at least be "advisory" to the conventions and guide delegates in their selection of first and second places on each ticket.

High Paid Workers

Average earnings of soft coal miners, according to U.S. labor department figures, have been exceeding $80 a week. This includes all production workers, part time as well as full time. The average works out to about $2.25 an hour for the 36-hour week. Measured by this barometer the coal miner ranks as one of the highest paid workers in any field of major industry.

Various factors have contributed to this, one of which is the character of the mining industry itself. At a cost of hundreds of millions to the industry which employs him, the miner has been given more and better tools in the form of machines.

His job today is entirely different from that of his counterpart of a generation back. The pick and shovel has virtually disappeared from a typical modern mine. The work is done by an array of highly complex machines and the miner is the skilled technician at the controls. The coal is produced swiftly and economically, to the benefit of labor, management and consumer.

BLOOD COUNTS

Normally, the adult body contains approximately 35 trillion red blood cells - which carry oxygen to nourish tissues. Laid edge to edge, they would stretch a distance more than half way to the moon.

In any routine blood examination, red cells are counted. Such counts are usually in the neighborhood of five million. If there are too few cells, it indicates that something is wrong, such as internal bleeding. Or the patient may have pernicious anemia, a disease in which bone marrow fails to manufacture red cells in normal quantities.

Next, the hemoglobin content of the red cells will be tested. This is the pigment that makes the cells red and transports vital oxygen about the body.

The physician will also want to know how many white blood cells, the body's infection fighters, are present. During the course of acute infection, there is a sharp rise in the number of white blood cells per cubic millimeter of blood.

ABBOT ANNOUNCES TWO HONOR GROUPS

is the regional Cum Laude society regent.

On Friday morning, Apr. 25, at the regular chapel service, Miss Hearsey announced the names elected by the campus to the honor organization of Abbot academy known as Aristeia, corresponding to the former "Honor A" which it replaces. Aristeia, as was "Honor A", is awarded to those members of the senior class, chosen by the campus as having stood for constructive leadership, constantly demonstrating a sense of community responsibility and reliability, and maintaining an attitude of cooperation in all phases of campus life.

Ten seniors were awarded membership in Aristeia, as follows: Betsy Aldrich of East Douglas; Martha Artz of Mount Jewett, Penn.; Joan Baird of Greenwich, Conn.; Lorna Ball of Flint, Mich.; Harriett Brown of Newport News, Va.; Sarah Emmons of Concord, N.H.; Betsy Griffiths of Tuckahoe, N.Y.; Mary Dozier Hawes of New Canaan, Conn.; Ann Lyons of Smithtown Branch, N.Y., and Anne Sanborn of Andover.

On Saturday afternoon, May 3, on the Abbot campus, the annual Abbot Birthday Bazaar will take place commemorating the 123rd year of the school. The School street gates will open at 2 p.m. and the fair will proceed, rain or shine. In case of rain the booths will be set up in Davis Hall. The Highland pipers will be on hand to create the Scottish theme. This theme will be further noticeable in the Tartan tea house located in the school dining room where hot scones, shortbread, currant bread, fruit cake and other good Scottish tea cakes will be found to go with the tea or coffee. These delicacies come from the Abbot kitchens, and the kitchens also plan to produce some "imported" Danish pastries for sale. The serving maids in the Tartan tea house will be chosen from the student body, and there will be more than a touch of the Highland costume in their serving dresses and aprons.

The auctions will take place at intervals throughout the afternoon, and a number of beautiful and valuable contributions have been made which will be up for auction. There will also be some attractive articles on display for the "silent auctions". Gifts, books, flowers and plants, household wares, hand crafts, food from Andover homes for sale at the booth of the day scholars will with games, entertainments, and exhibits make a very gay and diverting afternoon for those who attend, and a very successful afternoon for the senior middle class who are sponsoring the bazaar for the benefit of the school's philanthropies.

At 8:15 p.m. Saturday, May 10, in Davis Hall, there will be a two-piano concert by Miss Kate Friskin and Raymond Coon of the Abbot music department.

ENJOYING VACATION

James E. Greeley of Cheever circle writes from St. Petersburg, Fla., that "to sit in the ball park for a night game and enjoy the cool breeze from Tampa Bay is tops in sport pleasure." Mr. Greeley and his daughter, Atty. Anna M. Greeley, are enjoying their stay at the southern resort.

INDIAN REBEKAH LODGE

Indian Rebekah lodge 136 will meet Monday night with Grace Lake, noble grand, presiding. On the refreshment committee are Ida R. Graves, Charlotte Hill, Louise Keith and Helen Keith.

New Wording

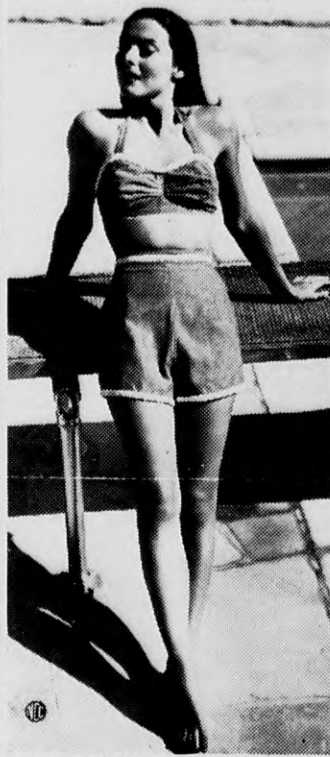

The Washington biological survey, which puts metal bands on wild birds to study their migratory habits, recently ordered new bands with different wording.

They now read "Notify fish and wildlife services, Washington, D. C." Formerly the bands said simply, "Wash. Biol. Surv."

Unofficial explanation of the change: An irate taxpayer's letter complained:

"Sirs, I shot one of your pet crows and followed instructions. I washed it, I boiled it, and I served it. It was terrible. Stop fooling the people."

SWIM, ANYONE?

Who wouldn't with this lovely pool mermaid. She's wearing band bra and scants from White Stag's latest addition to its fabric list—Sun Bonnet Chambray. White shoelaces braided around top of halter, waistband and bottoms of shorts contrast gaily with orange ice, lemon ice, mint ice, blue ice and licorice colors.

Information For Veterans

Q—I have been discharged from service, and have applied for the new form of government term insurance for non-disabled veterans. At some later time may I convert this to a permanent plan?

A—No. This insurance is not convertible to any other plan of government life insurance. However, it may be renewed every five years, as term insurance, at the premium rate for your then-attained age.

Q—Approximately six months ago we bought a home with a GI loan. From time to time we have heard other people who purchased homes with GI loans speak of a "gratuity" payment. Would you please explain the meaning of this term?

A—On all VA-guaranteed or insured loans, a gratuity payment is made to the lender, which does not have to be repaid by the veteran. This gratuity payment is computed at four percent of the amount guaranteed, up to a maximum of $160. For example, if the VA guarantee on a GI loan amounts to $3,000, the gratuity payment would be $120. This amount is considered by the lender as a payment against the loan principal.

Q—I served in World War II and stayed on active duty afterwards, and last week was discharged from service. Am I eligible for readjustment allowances for unemployment, or has that GI Bill benefit already expired?

A—You may still be eligible for unemployment allowances, if you are able to work, are available for suitable work, and register for work with a public employment office and meet other requirements as to service and discharge. For most veterans, however, no payments may be made for any week which begins later than July 25, 1952.

write-in votes, just one more than James Darby who was next with 14. Others receiving votes in this contest were, John Waldie 5, Agnes Phillips 5, Donald L. Payne 5, Franklin Haggerty 1, Francis Robertson Jr., 1.

Others elected to the town committee were, Joseph A. Horan, 128; Richard A. Dulong, 117; Michael E. Brennan, 125, James W. Burke, 120; Mitchell P. Puchlopek, 114; James E. Coleman, 122; Mary C. Golden, 119; James D. Doherty, 131; Amosia Barsamian, 114.

All 35 candidates for the 35 places on the Republican town committee were elected.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, candidate for delegate at large, got the largest vote among Republican candidates, 1632. Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge was next with 1620.

Paul A. Dever with 153 got the largest Democratic vote and Sec. Maurice J. Tobin was next with 144.

The record outpouring of voters for the primaries completely surprised election officials who hardly expected so many votes would be cast.

Final tabulation showed that 2253 Republican and 200 Democratic ballots, a total of 2453, were cast. At the primaries four years ago Andover cast 79 Republican and 24 Democratic votes, a total of 103.

Anticipating a much smaller vote, only one polling place, that at the Square & Compass club, was open. Early indications Tuesday were that a large vote would be recorded as at that time voters kept coming in a steady stream.

By 10 o'clock 362 votes were cast and additional precinct officers were rounded up to assist in the work. Voting continued steady during the day and at 3 o'clock 1278 votes had been cast.

A large crowd swarmed the voting place shortly after 6 p.m., with a line reaching well out into the driveway at the side of the building. All who appeared at the polling place by 7 p.m., when the polls closed, were allowed to vote and it was 7:20 p.m., before the final ballot was cast.

Tabulation proved a slow task and it was not until a few minutes after 1 a.m. that the final figures were announced.

Much of the credit for the large vote here is being given the local Eisenhower committee which worked for several weeks not only to advance the interests of their candidate but to encourage Republican and independent voters to go to the polls. This committee was especially busy Tuesday and had transportation for voters in all districts.

Early indications yesterday, with almost all of the state's 1739 precincts counted were that Eisenhower had taken 27 of the 28 district delegates and in the preferential poll was leading 225,000 against 97,000 for Taft.

In the Democratic preferential poll he was in second place. Ke-fauver, with about 40 precincts to hear from, was leading with 26,000, Eisenhower was second with 15,000, Truman next with 6600, Taft 5000, Dever 2100.

Less Cordwood*PAYS MY TELEPHONE BILL

"I'm in the cordwood business — and like a lot of people my income has doubled in the last ten years. But I'm not much ahead of the game, because so many things I buy have doubled or tripled in cost.

"My telephone service is an exception. Telephone rates are up on an average only 27%* in Massachusetts.

"Figure it this way. I work less, cut less wood to pay my telephone bill — because my income has gone up so much more than the cost of telephone service."

A Telephone Dollar Buys More Than It Used To

There are twice as many telephones today as there were in 1940 and more are being installed every day. There are a lot of new stores and businesses that you can reach by telephone — probably more of your friends have telephones now. And service is faster, better and more dependable.

Your telephone is truly Big in Value — Little in Cost.

* Revenues from increased rates — including proposed.
