Recreation Facilities Of Town Open With Many In Attendance

Recreation facilities of the town were thrown open to the public this week with excellent response both at Pomp's pond and at the five supervised playgrounds.

The usual large opening day attendance at Pomp's was kept to a mere 350 Sunday because of the cool weather but Monday brought out a crowd that topped the 2000 mark.

At the playgrounds supervisors under the direction of James D. Doherty and his assistant George F. Snyder were busy getting apparatus in order and checking registrations prior to getting the summer program started.

Nicoll To Head Civil Defense

Sgt. David L. Nicoll of the police department will become director of civil defense July 1 on a part time basis and will be paid $100 a month. His appointment to the office was made at a special meeting of the selectmen June 18.

Sgt. Nicoll, who is in charge of the night police platoon, will succeed Albert Cole Jr., present full time director who will return to his duties as deputy chief of the fire department when his leave of absence expires June 30. The selectmen recently notified Mr. Cole that they would not request further extension of his leave as they believe a full time director is not required.

The newly appointed director will work with Mr. Cole and familiarize himself with the duties of the office in preparation to taking command. (Continued on Page 12)

Safety Officials Warn Motorists

A concerted effort of safety officials will be made over the Fourth of July holiday period to keep the safety record of the state as clean as possible.

Local police are cooperating with officials of Massachusetts to keep the accident record down to a minimum.

It has been noted that for a three-day holiday accidents mount to a strikingly high number. Traffic mishaps account for most of the fatalities although drownings take their toll from the large number who go boating and swimming.

Motorists are cautioned not to drive at great speed or to take needless risks in the great amount of traffic that will stream over the highways during this holiday.

POMP'S POND

At Pomp's pond the staff had the swimming beach in its usual excellent condition for the swimmers. The swimming area has been improved this year with two new rafts and a larger area for bathers to use.

Swimming classes will start soon and instructors for the different phases of swimming and life saving classes will be announced shortly.

For the convenience of bathers a bus will leave Shawsheen square at 12:30 p.m., and Andover square at 1 p.m. Returning, the last bus for Andover will leave the pond at 4:30 p.m.

The hours at the pond are from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., and as usual there will be a guard on duty 24 hours a day to protect town property and also discourage after-hour swimming.

The staff at the pond this year consists of Bob McCabe, head guard; Joseph Kelsey, Richard Sullivan, Richard Graves, Richard Kydd, James Dolan and Mrs. Wright, matron.

Head Guard Bob McCabe wishes to urge the swimmers to leave all pets at home as they can create a problem on a public bathing beach. He also extends an invitation for (Continued on Page 12)

Oppose Certain Pre-Fab Homes

A delegation of more than 30 contractors, builders, architects, bankers and real estate men appeared at a hearing before the board of selectmen Monday night when claims of a possible violation of the town's building code were discussed.

Permits were issued by Ralph W. Coleman, building inspector, some months ago for the construction of 26 pre-fabricated homes to be located in Shawsheen Village in an area bounded by Enmore street, Haverhill street and Dufton road. Several speakers at the meeting voiced opposition to the decision of the building inspector.

Two of the houses have been constructed and work on the rest has been held up until a decision is reached.

Edward P. Hall, local contractor, produced a model of the construction of the homes in question as well as one of the conventional type home and in pointing out the comparisons showed where, in his estimation the pre-fabricated type was not up to the rules and regulations of the town's building code. McCullom recently to outline the duties of each father in the care of the field before the game and complete transportation arrangements. Walter Pearson is in charge of the field and John Polgreen is chairman of transportation.

Sends Information To All New Voters

Members of the voters' service committee of the Andover League of Women Voters have sent out non-partisan information on registration, voting and elections to all recently registered voters in town. Also sent to every new voter is the pamphlet "Andover Town Government" which the League published last spring. Working on the project with Mrs. Hart D. Leavitt, chairman, were Mrs. Byron Weiner, Mrs. Charles Whiteside, Mrs. William Bennett and Mrs. Nicholas Greene.

The committee has also made available to the town clerk and the veterans' service officer a comprehensive chart giving information on absentee voting in all states of the union. The chart is designed particularly for use of those in service who must vote by absentee ballot.

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. Florence Nightingale (Nason) Wilson who passed away June 14 in Ashland, was a resident of Andover for many years.

Born Mar. 11, 1857, at Natick, the daughter of the Rev. Elias Nason and Mrs. Mira Bigelow Nason, she reached her 95th birthday last March.

She lived in Medford, Exeter, N.H., and Billerica before her marriage in 1889 to the Rev. Frederick A. Wilson in Billerica, and came to live in Andover where Mr. Wilson was pastor of the Free church. She became engaged in all church activities and took a great interest in the music department of the November club, and also gave instruction in piano playing.

After the death of Dr. Wilson in 1936 she went to live at the home of her daughter, Miss Mira B. Wilson, principal of the Northfield School for Girls at East Northfield.

She is survived by her daughter; her son, the Rev. Frederick C. Wilson pastor of the Hopkinton Congregational church, three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. The funeral was held here June 16 and burial was in Spring Grove cemetery.

Andover Handtub
In First Muster

The new Andover handtub "Merimack" made its first appearance in a muster under the banner of the Andover Handtub association and threw a stream of 149 ft., 1 1/2 in. in Class B competition at Newbury last Saturday. It was just six inches shy of a prize.

The association is still looking for new members who will help man the pumps at coming musters. Applicants need not be members of the fire department to join.

The tub will enter the muster July 4 at Newburyport and the one at Danvers July 5.

THIS LITTLE GIANT
COULD RUN

What's "in the works" at G. E.

G-E ENGINEERS HARNESSSED A HURRICANE to build present-day turbine generators. Run on the same principle as a windmill, high pressure steam blows through the turbine at 1200 m.p.h. — twelve times the velocity of a hurricane — to start the wheels turning at 600 m.p.h. and drive the generator which produces electric power. Here George Bishop of Lynn is testing a turbine-generator set which will be used to supply power for a municipality in the East.

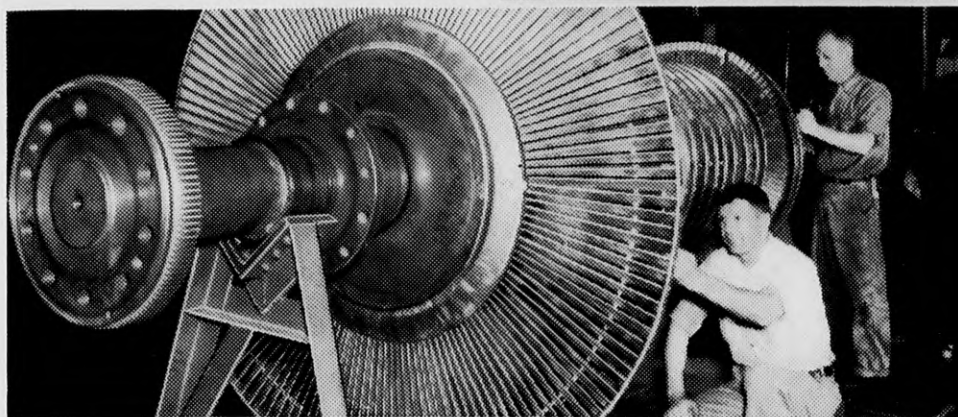

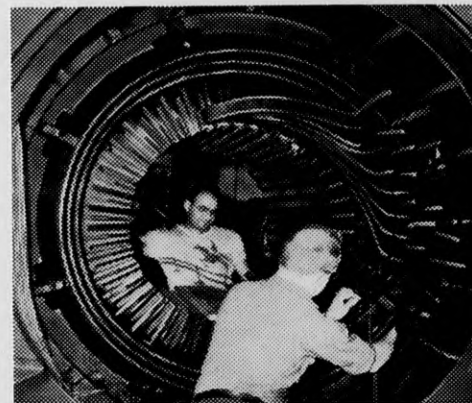

This compact 10,000 kw turbine generator pictured above is small in size as turbine generators go, but it's big enough to supply light and power for the average city of 45,000 population and all the industries in it.

When you think of all the local G-E skills and the years of research behind this type of turbine generator, plus the twelve months it takes to build it, no-wonder it has to sell for nearly one-half million dollars. Local G-E folks can be proud of the part they have played over the years developing these power makers from giants with small capacity to mighty midgets of tremendous capacity.

Creating just one turbine generator takes many thousands of man-hours. Thousands of people trained in technical skills such as machinists, millwrights, mechanics, welders, pipe-fitters, and coil winders are necessary to create and produce these mighty midgets.

Many G-E engineers have spent a whole lifetime pioneering ways to generate more power more efficiently. Millions of dollars have been put right back in the business for research and facilities to keep G. E. ahead of competition. This has made it possible for thousands of people here at G. E. from Lynn and surrounding towns to have continuing good jobs and good pay in the creating of turbine-generator sets. These facts, then, are further reasons why "G. E." also stands for "Good Employment".

HOW'D YOU LIKE TO THINK GENERATORS FOR 22 YEARS? These G-E employees, Peter Hines (foreground) of Lynn and Steve Rando of Waltham have a combined 22 years of experience doing the skilled handwork of winding generator coils. Here they are making connections in the hundreds of coils that carry electric current. When in use, the generator rotor spins at the rate of 3600 revolutions per minute and runs with clockwork accuracy.

AN IMPORTANT PART of the turbine, the buckets or blades, are what the steam hits to make the rotor revolve. Mike Varnavas of Beverly and Leo Gagnon of Peabody are checking the buckets which are machined to thousandths of an inch. Millions of G-E dollars went into research to solve the problems of high speeds, vibrations, high temperatures and high pressures before the modern, efficient turbine generator could be built.

Swimming Time Again

That annual combination of hot weather and the closing of schools naturally turns attention of the younger fry to thoughts of joyous relief at the nearest swimming hole.

A wholesome, refreshing and body-building sport for young and old, swimming has its hazards that take a heavy toll of life year after year. Drowning accidents increase greatly in summertime and safety records show that they are the cause of most fatal accidents during June, July and August.

Several suggestions for swimming safety have been advanced by competent officials and instructors which should be borne in mind at a time when so many are eager to take advantage of an inviting pond or stream for a cooling plunge.

One of the most important is, never swim alone. With other bathers around there is always some help at hand if needed. Another is, never dive into unfamiliar waters as a rock or submerged log may be hidden just beneath the surface where it may cause a swimmer to be knocked unconscious.

These are simple precautions, but many a life has been lost by swimmers who have not heeded them.

We are fortunate here in Andover that a supervised swimming beach at Pomp's pond is open for all to enjoy bathing under the eyes of qualified guards.

To those who are not spending their vacations at seashore or lake this pleasure spot should prove attractive. Residents can enjoy a swim without going miles away from home, and youngsters have an opportunity to take part in water sports and at the same time receive instruction in classes conducted there daily.

NEW BOOKS

The Son Of Adam Wyngate, O'Hara.

The story of the Wyngate family of New York and Maine, especially of Bartholomew, a minister, his wife, brother, sister and five children. Mystical influence of Bartholomew's dead father has effect on many family affairs.

The Houses In Between, Spring.

Sarah Rainborough went from the elegance of London society to her step-father's home in Cornwall. There, under the care of her nurse, she learned to know herself and the world of her times.

Venables, Wagner.

David Bellingham, adopted into a family and left to the care of a foster-mother, is thoroughly disturbed by her erratic behavior. Old house, secret rooms, etc.

The Hidden Flower, Buck.

An assortment of characters are drawn in this new Pearl Buck novel of a Japanese-American marriage. The often-told tale of racial and social conflicts.

Invisible Man, Ellison.

A fictional interpretation of the position of the Negro in American society.

Windom's Way, Ullman.

American Dr. Windom fights for the native population of a remote part of Southern Asia against reactionary national government and communist attacks. This third book of ideas is built on the theme of man against himself.

The Second Face, Ayme.

When by a miraculous accident a conventional Paris business man finds himself with a different and handsome face he has to begin his life over again. Complications!

Maeve, The Huntress, Reynolds.

More about the theme of "The Grand Wide Way," with many old characters continued. Especially the story of Maeve Lassiter and her twin brother.

The Brackenford Story, Home.

A story of changing England as it passed before the eyes of William Downes, who went as a boot-boy to Brackenford Hall in 1888 and stayed with the family through many changes up to the present.

WEDDINGS

ANDREWS - CLAY

At the First Methodist church in Newark, O., May 31, Miss Janice Clay, daughter of Frank Carl Clay, 606 Granville st., and the late Mrs. Clay, became the bride of Hugh Hill Andrews of Pawtucket, R.I., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Stanwood Andrews of 7 Johnson rd., Andover.

Among the attendants was Dexter Stanwood Andrews Jr., of Dover, Mass., who served his brother as best man. About 150 guests were entertained at the reception that followed.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Florida and upon return will live in Pawtucket, R.I. The bride was graduated from the school of home economics at Ohio State university with a degree of bachelor of science. She is a member of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority. Mr. Andrews was graduated from Principia college, Elmhurst, Ill., and from Lowell Textile institute as a textile engineer.

HOOD - SHAW

White phlox and southern smilax decorated the South Congregational church Sunday afternoon when Miss Marguerite Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton D. Shaw, became the bride of Paul Allen Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Hood, 95 Abbot st. The Rev. Frederick B. Noss, pastor, officiated and a reception followed at the home of the bride's parents on Wildwood rd.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of nylon tulle over white satin with a bodice of imported Belgium lace. Her fingertip tulle veil was held in place by a cap of Belgium lace. She carried a cascade of lilies of the valley.

Miss Arianna Shaw, sister of the bride was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Rodman Scheffer of Andover, Mrs. Richard Lavin of Wellesley, and junior bridesmaid Kathryn Shaw, sister of the bride. The flower girl was Georgia Scheys of Hampton, N.H.

All the attendants were gowned alike in ice-blue antique shantung with caps of nylon tulle and ivy. The maid of honor carried an arrangement of bird-of-paradise with caladium leaves, the bridesmaids arrangements of gerbera and ivy in shades of yellow and rust, and the flower girl a nosegay of gerbera.

Charles B. Scheys of Hampton, N.H., was best man. The ushers were Charles Mills of Danvers, John T. Shaw, brother of the bride, Richard Lavin of Wellesley, and Ronald Sherman Jr.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Shaw wore a rose beige gown of chiffon and alencon lace with a bachelor-button blue hat and a corsage of bachelor buttons. Mrs. Hood, mother of the bridegroom, wore a copen blue chiffon gown with mauve accessories and a corsage of baby white orchids.

The bride was graduated from Westbrook Junior college and the bridegroom from Franklin Technical institute. After a wedding trip to Canada they will make their home in Boston.

KORNACHUK - COLLINS

At a 10 o'clock nuptial Mass in St. Augustine's church Saturday morning Miss Patricia Julia Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Collins, 18 Washington ave., became the bride of Walter M. Kornachuk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kornachuk, Liberty st., Danvers. The Rev. Henry B. Syvinski, O.S.A., performed the ceremony amid a setting of white gladioli. James Sheard was the soloist and Mary Lanigan presided at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown that combined a bodice and long sleeves of Chantilly lace with a yolk and shirt of nylon tulle over taffeta ending in a full court train. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle was attached to a Chantilly lace trimmed crown and she carried a prayer book adorned with white orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Josephine C. Collins, sister of the bride, chose a gown of yellow nylon net over taffeta with matching lace jacket. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Paul F. Barry of Andover, sister of the bride, and Mrs. John Healy of Everett wore similar gowns in aqua. All the attendants carried half crescent bouquets of mixed carnations and wore matching flower headdresses.

Carl Zuk of Danvers served as best man and the ushers were Justin T. Collins of Andover and Peter Kusek of Danvers.

A reception at the Red Tavern, Methuen followed the ceremony with guests present from New York, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

After a wedding trip to Canada the couple will be at home after July 14 at 34 Conant st., Danvers.

The bride is a graduate of Punchard high school and Salem Teachers college. She was a teacher in Middleton. The bridegroom is a graduate of Holten high school and attended Michigan State college. He is an insurance investigator in Salem. He served in the marine corps in World War II.

MacKAY - BABINE

At a 3 o'clock ceremony Sunday in the Union Congregational church Elizabeth L. Babine, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Lawrie of Tewksbury st., became the bride of Richard C. MacKay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel MacKay, 65 Hancock st., Reading. The Rev. Paul E. Callahan officiated with Mrs. Gladys Barnet at the organ.

Escorted by her brother, John Lawrie, the bride wore a pale blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses and baby's breath. Mrs. John Anderson as matron of honor wore an aqua suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses and baby's breath.

Clarence Enos of Reading was best man and the ushers were John Lawrie, Jr. and Robert Larkin, both of Ballardvale.

The reception was held at Elm Lodge, North Andover. Guests were present from Maryland, New York, Vermont, Boston and Greater Lawrence.

After a trip through New York state the couple will reside on Tewksbury st.

Four Elected For GOP Pre-Primary

Four Andover Republicans have been elected as delegates and alternates for the forthcoming GOP pre-primary assembly at Worcester June 28.

Three have been named delegates: Vincent F. Stulgis, Roland H. Sherman and Alexander D. Gibson. The fourth, George A. Grant, has been named alternate.

They will join 1600 other delegates and alternates from all over the state to endorse a Republican slate to be entered in the Massachusetts primaries this September.

The time you save playing safe will prove time well invested.

all residents of the town to visit the pond and make use of its excellent facilities.

PLAYGROUNDS OPEN

Opening registration at the different playgrounds showed that a goodly number of children were ready to take advantage of the facilities offered there to spend some time on the play apparatus and get into the different classes that were being organized.

The registration figures were: Central, 160, Shawsheen, 69, Indian Ridge, 75, Ballardvale 4, and West Center, 46.

Organized games were arranged by the supervisors and intra-playground competition will be organized shortly with soft ball games for the boys and valley ball for the girls. Gloria Stanley will handle the arts and crafts this summer moving from one play area to another to give instruction.

Parents are requested to see that their children go to the playgrounds only during the hours that supervisors are on duty.

Elect Co-Captains Of Punchard Nine

At a Boosters club testimonial to members of the Punchard high school baseball team Tuesday night Roger Barous, third baseman, and Edward Doyle, second baseman, were elected co-captains of the nine for 1953.

J. Everett Collins, president of the club, was toastmaster at the exercises, and William A. Doherty, member of the school committee, also spoke.

During the evening Warren Tyler, miler of the track team who won the Essex county Class B title and the state Class D title, was also honored.

Gift certificates were awarded to all members of the team and to Coach Walter Roberts, who has resigned to accept a coaching position at Belmont.

The players honored included Capt. Allan Wilson, Bill Beardsell, Dick Bramley, Larry Lynch, Bill Ronan, Don Millay, Paul Ostrowski, Jim Murray, Jim Dolan, Paul Wennik, Peter Nelson, Ray Reed, Richard Lawrence and Jim Brown, manager.

Coach Bob McIntyre of the track team was unable to attend. He is located in California on summer duty as instructor in the navy.

The board of Memorial Hall library trustees who formulate the policies that go toward the successful development of that institution. Standing, left to right, Ernest D. Walen, Alan R. Blackmer, William N. Perry, secretary; seated, Mrs. Hart D. Leavitt, Joseph Serio, Arthur W. Reynolds, chairman, and Miss Miriam Putnam, librarian. The other member, Leo F. Daley, was absent when the picture was taken. (Look Photo)

Board Of Trustees Assist In Library's Development

The successful development of any public library depends largely on three factors: the hearty support and good will of the members of the community which it is to serve, the administration of those who carry out its policies of service, and the interest, wisdom and purposefulness of those who are elected to formulate those policies. The great majority of those who make constant use of the Memorial Hall library's resources and often remark on the pleasure they have in the library contacts are perhaps unaware of the importance of the board of trustees, the solid though small group of our townspeople who contribute of their time and energy because they believe in the library idea and are willing to work for it.

The list of those who have served in this capacity down the years is an impressive one, and many of the town's finest citizens are there. The present board is no exception, and in this recognition of their contribution the people may well express their sincere respect.

Arthur W. Reynolds, chairman of the board, is director and officer of the Davis and Furber Machine Co., of North Andover. He graduated from Harvard in 1922. His community service includes work with the Andover chapter of the American Red Cross. He lists golf, fishing and hunting as his hobbies and outlines his reading interests as geographical literature, philosophy and sociology. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds make their home at 5 Orchard st. They have one son, Frank W. Reynolds, II. William N. Perry, secretary, was educated in the Andover public schools, at Phillips academy and Harvard. His business is that of wool dealer. Mr. and Mrs. Perry and their two daughters live on Holt rd. Mr. Perry is a member of the Andover PTA and is treasurer of the Andover Village Improvement society. He is also an instructor in the evening division of Boston university. Biography and fiction are his first choice in reading.

The treasurer of the board is Leo F. Daley, whose interest in the community is proven by his service as a member of the finance committee, as a director of the local Red Cross, and as president of the Harvard club of Andover. He is a member of the Boston brokerage firm of F. S. Mosely and Co. Mr. and Mrs. Daley live at 40 Morton st., with their three children.

Alan R. Blackmer of the board will be best known to many townspeople for his interest and work in the Andover Evening Study program at Phillips academy, where he is a teacher of English. His educational background includes graduation from Williams college in 1924, study at the University of Chicago and the University of Paris. His reading interests refuse to be classified beyond his own term of "general ideas" which may explain his inclusion of "conversation" among his hobbies. Mr. and Mrs. Blackmer and their four children, ranging in age from twenty-two to twelve, make their home on Main st.

The one woman member of the board is Mrs. Hart D. Leavitt, a graduate of Wellesley college. She lists the Andover PTA, the Andover League of Women Voters and the honor of being a cub scout den mother among her community service activities. In addition to being a homemaker and travel agent, she is busy with her three children. Her reading time she divides among her favorite interests - biography, detective stories, novels and history. The family lives on Main st.

The most recently elected member to the board is Joseph Serio of Lowell Junction rd., who is employed in the production control department of Western Electric Co. Mr. and Mrs. Serio have two children, Sheila and Joseph Jr. Music and reading are Mr. Serio's hobbies, with biography and current affairs taking first place among books.

Completing the group is Ernest Dean Walen. Lowell Textile Institute and George Washington university were a part of Mr. Walen's educational background. He is vice-president of the Pacific Mills. Mr. and Mrs. Walen have two sons and a daughter. The family home is on Salem st. Boating and wood-working are Mr. Walen's favorite pastimes.

The board meets once a month with Miss Miriam Putnam, the librarian, at the Memorial Hall library.

VETERANS' PENSION RATES INCREASED

Wives and children of veterans receiving 50% or more compensation will also be entitled to increases.

Veterans receiving non-service pensions will be entitled to an increase of 5 percent. This is also automatic.

Several widows have been previously denied pensions because of income in excess of prescribed limitations. The old limits were annual income of $1000 for those without dependents and $2500 for those with dependents. These limits have been raised to $1400 and $2700 respectively. Many widows may now be eligible under these new income figures and they should contact the office of veterans service for complete information.

The time is fast approaching when pedestrians must obey traffic rules and regulations as consistently as drivers.

Town Will Have "Quiet" Fourth

Andover will observe a very "quiet" Fourth of July next week. There will be no official recognition of Independence day, the greatest anniversary in the history of the nation.

Apparently this is the way the voters want it. A special article calling for the appropriation of $400 for a display of fireworks on July 4 sponsored by Andover post, 8, American Legion, was disapproved at the adjourned session, Mar. 17. The official attendance at that session was 337.

HOSPITAL NOTE

Edward Harvey, 4 Chickering ct., was admitted to Lawrence General hospital Tuesday afternoon following his collapse on Main st.

HANDTUB PRACTICE

The Andover Handtub association members will hold a practice session at 1:30 p.m., Saturday at the lot in the rear of the high school. All members and prospective members are urged to be on hand.

Lightning Strikes Lowell St. Home

Lightning struck the home of Leverett Putnam at 71 Lowell st., during the height of the heavy storm last Thursday morning. It hit the eaves at front, ripped off the seared clapboards, entered a bedroom where it ripped off the plaster, hit wall plugs and grounded through the electric system after burning the wires and blowing out a fuse.

Firemen responded to an alarm from box 651 at 10:31 a.m., but found no blaze in progress.

Shortly before that apparatus went to Memorial Circle at 10:20 a.m., when a woman called and said that lightning had struck near there. On arrival they found a nearby resident had been burning grass on his lot. No service was given.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Vincent Treanor, 16, Osgood rd., was treated at the Lawrence General hospital June 21 for a laceration on his left forearm, cut by a saw.

Mrs. Elsie Blanchard, 64 Haverhill st., was treated Saturday for laceration of her right ring finger, injured while doing housework.

Paul Dumont, 14, Tewksbury st., was also treated Saturday for a possible back injury received in a fall from a lumber pile at his home.

OBITUARIES

JOHN T. CLINTON
John T. Clinton, 66, a former Andover resident, died Saturday June 21 at his home in Doyleston, Pa. He was a graduate of Phillips academy and Yale university.

He was prominent in sporting circles and for 22 years served as an official at football games between some of the most prominent colleges.

Surviving are two daughters, Margaret Clinton and Mrs. Janet Muller; four sons, John T. Jr., Donald, Russell and Robert, all of Jamaica, Pa.; a brother, Joseph of Andover; three sisters, Margaret, wife of Police Chief George A. Dane, Mrs. Edward A. McMahon of Lawrence and Mrs. Corrie Matthews of Augusta, Ga. and a step sister, Mrs. Willard Lagault of Ballardvale.

Funeral services were held Wednesday in Doyleston, Pa.

MELKON LOOSIGIAN

Melkon Loosigian of Blanchard st. died Sunday at the family home following a long illness. A native of Harpoot, Armenia, he had resided in Andover for over 25 years and was a farmer by occupation.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Lucy Juknavorian of Lowell; three sons, Suren and Abebel both of Andover and Roife of Lowell; one brother, Ohan, and one sister, Mrs. Almas Asoian, both of Andover; nine grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held Wednesday from the Lundgren funeral home with services at 2 p.m. in St. Vartanatz church, Lowell.

Burial was in West Parish cemetery.

ALBERT SAUNDERS

Albert Saunders, off Main st., died Saturday at the family home following a short illness. A native of Halifax, Nova Scotia, he had resided in Andover for the past 40 years and was employed as a landscape gardener. He was a member of the Third Baptist church, Lawrence.

He leaves his widow, Marion (Drayton) Saunders; one brother, John of Halifax, and one sister, Mrs. Sarah Coghill of Boston; also several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held Tuesday from the Lundgren funeral home with services at 2 p.m., conducted by the Rev. Julius S. Mitchell, pastor of the Third Baptist church. Burial was in Spring Grove cemetery.

JAMES EDWARD BELL

James Edward Bell, 430 Andover st., Ballardvale, died Wednesday following a long illness.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Margaret Steele of Ballardvale, Mrs. Mary McCarthy and Mrs. Rita Lancaster of Andover; and 11 grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

FIRE DAMAGES

B & M PUMPHOUSE
Fire damaged a B & M pumphouse on Fletcher street Saturday night causing damage to electrical equipment unofficially estimated $3000. Box 612 was sounded at the fire at 8 p.m. The relief call in at 8:45 p.m.

The cause was not immediately determined. Police questioned 10 South Lawrence boys Sunday but no action was taken against them.

At 8:35 p.m., Engine 2 was filling in at the central station, responded to a still alarm for fire in an auto at 90 Elm st. owned by Miss Fannie Davis.

The world wasn't made safe for either liberty or peace by the world war.

Knew What He Wanted

The producer of a new play telephoned an unemployed but well-known actor at his boarding house and offered him $500 a week to play the lead.

"Not on your life," replied the actor. "I wouldn't touch that part for less than $1,000 a week."

"Well," said the producer, "come on down to my office and we'll talk it over."

"What?" shouted the actor. "And get locked out of my room?"

Police Foil Robbery At Restaurant

Police making a routine check early Wednesday morning prevented a robbery at the Howard Johnson restaurant on Main street near the North Reading line.

As Officers Richard Caldwell and William Tammany approached the premises about 1:55 a.m., they reported they saw an auto backed up almost to the door. As they moved in to investigate a man ran into the woods and at the same time the car started away.

They gave chase to the auto and overtook it near the junction of the by-pass and found it contained a woman. They also found that a 500-pound safe containing $1000 had been moved outside the door where it could have been loaded into the auto.

Police headquarters was notified and state troopers with a bloodhound responded together with Officer Edward Petruto. They joined in a search for the man and found him in a swamp.

The case was continued for two weeks. The woman was held under bonds of $5000 on the charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime, $2500 on the larceny charge and $2500 on the charge of having burglarious tools in her possession, a total of $10,000.

On similar charges the man was held under $10,000 bonds for larceny, $5000 for breaking and entering in the nighttime, $2500 for having burglarious tools in his possession, and $2500 for carrying a gun without a permit, a total of $10,000.

Alexander Henderson, Ernest Hall and John Glynn, all local builders, also spoke. John Radford Abbot, architect, said he felt that the type under discussion was not equal to the building law regulations.

T. E. Andrew, to whom the permits were indirectly issued, felt that they did comply with all the rules and regulations of the building code. He said that contrary to various rumors they would not lower the value of property in the area where they were built.

Building Inspector Coleman said that the recently revised building code contained a clause to the effect that if the construction was as sound and durable as the conventional frame dwelling it was acceptable. He said that in his opinion the houses were all right.

A representative of the U.S. Steel Co., manufacturers of the houses, explained their construction and said they had been found to be as sound and practical as a conventional dwelling.

In a show of hands among those present 17 were against the type of construction, seven were in favor and several others took no stand.

The selectmen took the question under advisement.

ON ANDOVER SQUARE

In Newness

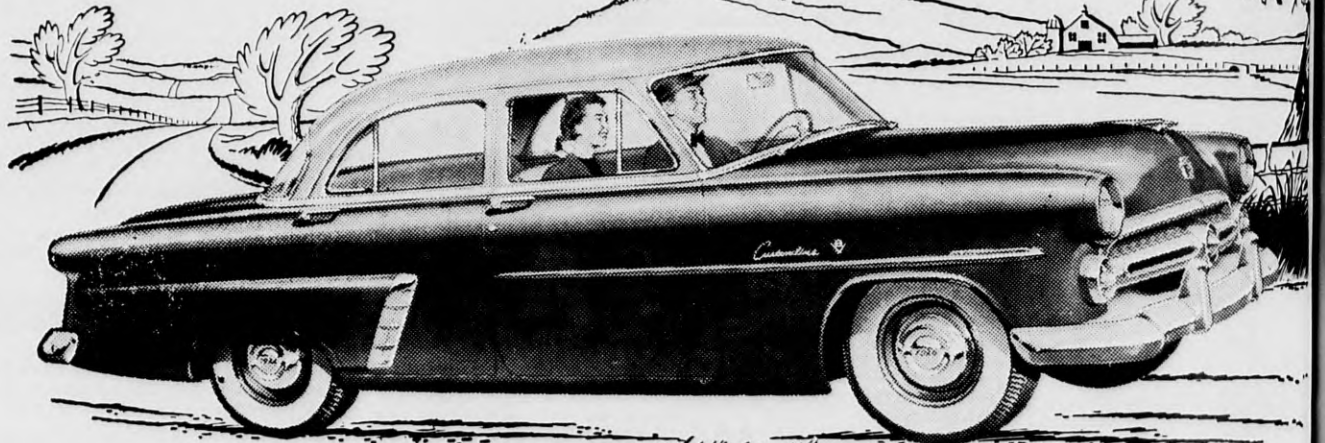

The '52 Ford has far more than new car looks. It's a truly modern car with low, sweeping lines plus the safety of Full-Circle Visibility. And underneath this beauty is a rugged chassis... stronger than ever with Ford's new K-bar construction.

Setting a new standard

In Power

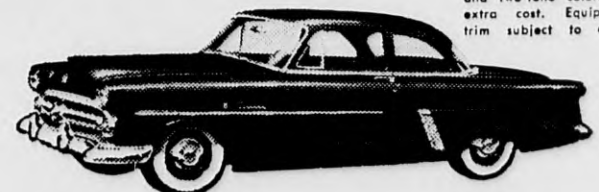

Never has any low-priced car offered such high-compression power as Ford's 110-h.p. V-8... the most powerful engine in its field. And no other low-priced Six can compare with Ford's high-compression, low-friction 101-h.p. Six!

In Value

Only Ford in the low-price field lets you choose from so many body, color and upholstery combinations. Only Ford gives you a choice of Fordomatic, Overdrive or Conventional Drive. And only Ford gives you the heavy car ride of Automatic Ride Control... the easier turning and parking of an advanced steering system.

Take a "Test Drive" at your Ford Dealer's

Fordomatic, Overdrive, white sidewall tires and two-tone colors illustrated optional at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.
