Vale Committees Discuss Merger

Dr. A. J. Strait, district superintendent of the Methodist church was to have met with the combined memberships of the Ballardvale Congregational and Methodist churches last Wednesday night but was taken ill. He will be unable to meet with the group for at least a month.

In the meantime the two merger discussion committees will continue their work and prepare a detailed, tentative plan of merger which can be submitted to the members of the two churches for approval.

At the previous discussion meetings the Federated church plan with each congregation retaining its own denomination, seemed the most popular. Many thought that it would be an ideal plan for a transition period leading to a full merger into one inter-denominational congregation of Christians.

The two committees will meet next week under the direction of Lewis Nason, chairman of the Methodist group and Randolph Perry, acting chairman of the Congregational group. Their hope is that the plan for merger will be ready to be voted on by the end of June.

Explains Social Security Benefits

How much covered employment or self-employment income will you need in order to be eligible for social security benefits when you reach 65?

According to Miss Vose, manager of the Lawrence social security office, there is better than an even chance that your answer - if you have one - will be wrong. Why? She explains it this way: Since thousands of older workers have already qualified for benefits with as little as a year and one-half of covered earnings, many people have assumed that any person can do the same. Actually that is true only where the individual is already 65 or will attain that age before July 1, 1954.

Anyone reaching 65 after June 30 of this year will need two more quarters of covered employment or self-employment for every additional year up to the time he reaches 65. Thus, a person who will be 65 three years from now will need 6 more quarters in addition to the 6 already required, or a total of 12. The maximum coverage requirement is 40 quarters and the minimum is 6.

The Lawrence social security manager stated that a pamphlet explaining fully the eligibility requirements and other social security questions is available upon request at any social security office. Request for Pamphlet No. 35 should be addressed to the Social Security Administration, 46 Amesbury st., Lawrence. Persons approaching 65 who have any doubt about their ability to meet the employment requirements are urged to obtain a copy.

Chemistry In Our Lives

The purpose of Chemical Progress week which was observed last month was to better acquaint people with a science and industry which touches our lives every moment of the day.

Almost every thing we use each day has been created, improved or in some beneficial way affected by chemistry. And surprisingly, the greater part of all this chemical progress has been accomplished since World War I.

The lifeblood of the chemical industry is research — the day-in-and-day-out work of the scientists in search of new products, new ways to do things, new horizons of knowledge. At the moment, the chemical industry is conducting annually some $275,000,000 worth of privately-financed research — more than any other of the nation's industries. The results are found in every facet of living — in better health, longer life, more jobs and opportunities.

Perhaps chemistry's most salient achievements have been in the fields of medicine and agriculture. In the one, it is responsible for gigantic strides in the eradication of diseases which once plagued mankind. In the other, it has immensely increased soil fertility and supplied potent weapons with which to fight the ravages of insects and plant disease. No industry has brought mankind more benefits in the space of one short lifetime.

Good Government

What is good government?

Perhaps the best definition of all is found in Thomas Jefferson's first inaugural address: "A wise and frugal government, which shall restrain men from injuring one another, which shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement, and shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned — this is the sum of good government."

CONTROLLING PLANT DISEASES by Science Features

Plant diseases are a several-million-dollar-a-year headache to American farmers—and, indirectly, to consumers as well. Much progress has been made in fighting these blights, but several plant plagues still defy the best efforts of science to combat them.

The possibility of treating plant infections with antibiotics, the same drugs used to cure human ills, has long been an object of scientific speculation. At a recent meeting of horticulturists at the University of Wisconsin, this dream became a practical reality.

Dr. Robert M. Goodman, of the University of Missouri, reported that Fireblight, a previously incurable disease which has killed millions of apple, pear, and quince trees in the past 100 years, can be controlled with a water spray containing two antibiotics. The spray was applied during bloom and for three weeks after bloom.

In his talk before the Wisconsin meeting, the scientist said that Fireblight was completely controlled with the combination spray, called Agrimycin, in both greenhouse and field trials. Only tiny amounts of the antibiotics were used.

Similar success was reported by U. S. Department of Agriculture researchers in controlling halo blight of beans, a perennial plague infesting thousands of acres, with a water spray containing streptomycin. Other experimental work has shown the antibiotics to be effective against many other such diseases—but large-scale field trials remain to be completed.

Attend Conference On New Route 28

Selectmen J. Everett Collins and Sidney P. White were among a group of Greater Lawrence officials who conferred at Boston last week with Gov. Herter and Commissioner John A. Volpe of the public works department relative to the relocation of Route 28 from a point north of Boston to the New Hampshire line.

The local men at the hearing have already gone on record as favoring a westerly route through Andover rather than an easterly route which would pass through North Andover.

Some of those present at the conference felt that the westerly route would be the one chosen by the department.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — June 1904

The contract for plumbing and heating the new barn of Harlan W. Whipple has been awarded. The plumbing work is to be done in nicked stock.

At the Massachusetts Automobile club auto race to be held tomorrow at Readville, Harlan W. Whipple of this town will try out his new 100 h.p. auto with Charles Donohue, his popular chauffeur.

The sixth anniversary competition for the J. W. Barnard prizes for original declamation was held at Punchard Friday evening. The winners were: First prize of $20, Miss Winnifred Symonds; second prize of $12, Chester J. Farmer; third prize of $8, Alice Gertrude Kendall.

By scoring two runs in the ninth inning the Phillips academy nine defeated Yale Fresh 4-3 on Brothers Field Friday afternoon. Drisco, a Ballardvale boy, pitched a splendid game for Yale. He kept his hits well scattered and struck out 10.

Port Arthur's days are numbered. The great fortress is at the mercy of the Japanese unless the Russians can send a powerful army from Liaoyang.

Punchard will hold its graduation exercises June 16 in the town hall. Closing exercises for the public schools will be held June 17.

25 Years Ago — June 1929

Ten Andover girls were among the 52 members of Abbot's graduating class who received their diplomas at the commencement exercises held Monday morning in the South church.

Distinguished guests and a large number of returning alumnae contributed to the carrying out of the impressive program of the centennial celebration of the founding of Abbot academy. A gift of $160,000 toward the Loyalty Endowment fund was made by the alumnae.

Alvah P. Wright was again appointed to transport the children from the Scotland district and Ballardvale to the schools at the central plant.

Some fine prizes are to be awarded for costumes in the horribles parade to be held in Ballardvale on July Fourth.

The Sells-Floto circus will be in Lowell June 11, and will offer the highest salaried feature ever offered to the American public — Tom Mix, himself, and his horse, Tony.

Phillips academy's powerful track team rolled over Exeter 78-48 Saturday in the 35th annual meeting between the schools.

Arthur F. Jackson of Argyle st., was elected captain of the P.A. track team for next year. He is the first native son to lead the Blue and White team. He is a graduate of the Stowe junior high school.

Pomp's bathing beach will open Saturday. John A. Robertson was appointed last week as life guard in charge.

The Harvard club of Andover at a banquet Tuesday evening re-elected the following officers: C. Carleton Kimball, president; H.

Gilbert Francke, vice president; Thaxter Eaton, secretary-treasurer.

The Legion post has voted to enter a junior team in the North Essex District league. James Cole will coach the boys.

10 Years Ago — June 1944

Life went on as usual in Andover Tuesday but about 5:15 p.m. the fire whistle sounded a series of blows and not until then did the populace know that the invasion of Germany was on. D-Day had arrived. An impressive service was held in the Free church that evening. Special services were held for servicemen during the day at St. Augustine's and again in the evening.

Andover will start next Monday on the Fifth War Loan drive. The overall quota will be $2,446,436. In the Fourth War Loan drive the quota was $1,850,000 and the town subscribed $2,484,968. James Gould will again be chairman.

The Andover Garden club held its annual meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Horace Poynter. Mrs. Charles W. Arnold was elected president for 1944-45.

The Very Rev. Thomas B. Austin, O.S.A., pastor of St. Augustine's church was honored Thursday on the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the Catholic priesthood. In the evening he was given a touching testimonial by townspeople.

Enrollment at the North school for next September indicates, at present, only 10 pupils. The school committee is again faced with the problem of whether or not to keep a one-room, six-grade school open.

The resignation of Miss Jane Fitzhenry as principal of the Bradlee school was accepted with regret by the school committee Tuesday. A leave of absence was granted William McDonald, high school teacher, who has accepted a lieutenant junior grade commission in the naval reserve. Among the re-appointments were the following bus drivers: Alvah P. Wright, Rudolph Johnson and Chester Abbott.

Much damage was done over the weekend to the property at Pomp's pond where the equipment was being made ready for an early opening Sunday. It will be open officially about June 23. Four life-guards have been appointed.

LILLEY MADE CHAIRMAN OF BLOOD PROGRAM

Frank W. Lilley, 260 N. Main st., has been appointed chairman of the Andover Red Cross blood program. Mr. Lilley has been actively interested in the Bloodmobile visits to Andover in the past year. ### Methuen 15, Punchard 2

Methuen romped all over Punchard here Monday by taking a 15-3 decision which gave the visitors a 14-0 record to top the Merrimack Valley Suburban League.

Four Punchard twirlers gave up 10 hits and 11 bases on balls which with five errors accounted for the lopsided victory. Wainwright, the visitors' pitcher allowed one hit, a bunt by Bob Lefebvre in the sixth, struck out 10 and was seldom in trouble, although he walked seven.

In league competition Methuen topped Johnson, which was second with an 11-3 record. Punchard had a 9-5 record for the league season.

Behind Bob Grudzinski's fine pitching last Friday afternoon Punchard picked up single runs in three innings to defeat Johnson high of North Andover 3-0.

Bill Fisher singled in the third with one out, went to second when Ralph Anderson reached on an error, and scored on a single by Larry Lynch. Anderson tried to score on the same play but was cut down at the plate.

Bill Vickers walked in the fifth and scored on Anderson's double to left center. Vickers led off with a single in the seventh. Anderson bunted and a couple of bad throws that followed allowed Vickers to score and Anderson land on third. Punchard filled the bases in this inning but could not score again.

Johnson had several rallies under way but could not break through Grudzinski's service to score.

Baby Birds Should Not Be Touched

Baby birds found on the ground should be left where they are, and not picked up.

This warning is given by the education department of Boston's Museum of Science. Staff members at this time of year receive dozens of calls from well-meaning persons who think they are saving a bird's life by picking him up and bringing him into their home.

Actually, they may be the cause of his death. Also, in the case of songbirds like the robin, catbird or bluebird, they are breaking the law, since these birds are protected by legislation.

Most of the calls to the museum are for advice on feeding. Birds must be fed at least four or five times a day, and their diet is no easy one for humans to provide, unless they are willing to spend two or three hours daily hunting insects. The hamburger, milk and breadcrumbs people usually offer are definitely unhealthy for most baby birds. And the slow starvation they suffer on such a diet is far worse than the quick death they might have if caught by a stray cat or dog while on the ground.

"Most birds found beneath a tree are really just beginning to fly; they have not fallen," declares Gilbert E. Merrill, assistant director of the education department at Science Park. "If they have feathers and beat their wings and run from you they have either flown or jumped from their nest or have been forced out by their parents in the natural process of teaching the little ones to fly."

"If they are allowed to remain where they are, and are left alone, within two or three hours they will start flying."

"Their parents, who sometimes seem to have gone away and left their poor defenseless child to fend for himself, are usually hidden away in a tree close by, lending encouragement."

Mr. Merrill points out that if a young bird is kept away overnight and then returned to where he was picked up, his parents—whose memories are exceedingly short—will have forgotten all about him and will take no further responsibility for his care and feeding.

TAX SAVINGS IN 1954

Individuals in Massachusetts should have nearly $110,000,000 more to spend in 1954 than in 1953 by reason of the reductions in income taxes. A preliminary calculation of the cut effective on Jan. 1 in federal income tax indicates a saving of approximately $100,000,000. The reduction in state income tax, while a higher percentage than the federal, is expected to amount to about $8,000,000. Removal of federal corporate excess profits tax may reduce the load on Massachusetts corporations by $40,000,000.

She tells here of her work in behalf of public education, medical care and human rights.

This book is not on strategy as his previous books have been, but on policy, and much is so controversial in his writing that the book was first published in the United States where less censorship was to be expected. It reads like a detective story.

Town's Recreation Centers Open Soon

Recreation facilities of the town will open soon for the summer months under the supervision of the Andover Recreation committee.

The playgrounds will open June 28 and will include one new one, that in the North District at the old North school. The others are: Central, Ballardvale, Shawsheen, Indian Ridge and West Center.

Pomp's will open June 25 when the Recreation committee in cooperation with Andover chapter of the Red Cross will sponsor a comprehensive program of swimming instruction. It will include life saving and water safety.

Qualified instructors will assist in the campaign to "Waterproof Andover." Seven different courses will be offered. Three will be devoted to swimming at the beginner, intermediate and advanced levels, two will be devoted to lifesaving at junior and senior levels, and two will be special instruction, one in adult swimming and the other in water ballet.

Swimming instruction will be from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The beach will not be open for general swimming during these hours. Lifesaving instruction will take place evenings. Bus service to the pond will take those in the morning who are registered in classes.

The Recreation committee recently named the staffs for the playgrounds and Pomp's.

George Synder will be supervisor of the playground group. He will be assisted by Paul A. Lanni, Georgia Stanley, Jean Dumont, Cynthia Hayward, Gail Griffin, Margaret Madden, Mrs. Mary Perrino, William Igoe, Betty Sheeley, Cornelia Weldon, Ann Sughrue, Pauline Surette and Mrs. Smeltzer.

Seek Plan To Unite Fund Campaign

A voluntary committee of Greater Lawrence citizens will meet Friday night at the Oliver school in Lawrence to study the problem of the present multiplicity of fund raising campaigns.

The meeting is being sponsored by several service clubs at a meeting of the club presidents and Michael J. Batal was selected as the civic leader to head the committee as chairman.

In addition to the service clubs other organizations in the Greater Lawrence area have been invited to attend.

In letters to the various organizations, Chairman Batal points out that during 1953 major fund drives took place at a rate of more than one each month and collected almost half a million dollars from the residents of Greater Lawrence. The high reputation and worthy motives of these organizations are the guarantee that this money is used for necessary services.

Mentioning the action taken in other cities to unite their major charitable fund drives, he said that the record shows that in those cities the first year of a United Campaign has yielded, on the average, about 22 per cent more than was raised by all the participating agencies in their last independent campaigns. The question to be decided is whether this experience has any meaning for Lawrence.
