Water Ballet To Highlight Pomp's Closing

Plans for the annual water carnival to be held at Pomp's pond swimming beach Sunday, Aug. 22 have begun to materialize.

The feature number of the program, a water ballet to be presented by members of Pomp's volunteer auxiliary corps, is being put through its initial stages. Included in this "Ballet of Andover Mermaids" are Priscilla Reynolds, Priscilla Alden, Jessie Gill, director, and Edith Leidich. Those wishing to participate may do so by signing up with Mrs. Adeline Wright, matron. They will have free water ballet instruction by a professional teacher.

For Saturday evening, Aug. 14, there is planned a combined "corn-weenie" roast. Those wishing to participate may do so by bringing their own corn or weenies or by ordering them at the pond. Deadline date for the latter is

Many Voters Registering For Primaries

Quite a little interest in the coming contests for state and county offices is shown by the number of persons who are registering now to vote in the state primaries to be held Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The registrars of voters have been holding sessions in the various precincts of the town and with the exception of one night when the heavy rain kept prospective voters away from the Ballardvale fire station where they were meeting, the registrations have been good.

Persons who are registering are: 1, newcomers who have been here six months or more and who have been residents of the state for a year; 2, women whose name have been changed by marriage; and 3, those who have just reached the

Peace Nears In Shawsheen Power Dispute

The power line feud that has stirred residents of Shawsheen Village during the past few weeks seems to be nearing a peaceful settlement agreeable to all parties.

The result will be that the occupants of the three houses concerned on Stirling street will have sufficient electric power to operate modern household appliances.

The dispute that drew the attention of a great number of the residents of the village arose over the wiring system installed there many years ago. When the area was being developed by the American Woolen company the wires were placed underground. Potential voltage in any line is 110 volts. Additional voltage through the present ducts, the Lawrence Electric company says, is impossible. To get additional power it would be necessary

Playground Youngsters Enjoy Outing

A large group of children from the six town playgrounds accompanied by some of their mothers enjoyed the annual playground outing held last Thursday at Canobie Lake park.

The event, originally scheduled for the previous Tuesday had been postponed on account of rain.

Busses and private cars took the various playground contingents to the park where an all-day round of fun and entertainment took up the interest and attention of the youthful frolicers. Each carried a box lunch. Milk and ice cream were served at noon.

After visiting the various amusement places and other attractions at the park the afternoon was given over to a long list of races and other events for boys and girls of varying age groups.

Results of the races at the park were:

Four and under: 1, Susan Matton; 2, Colleen O'Hagen; 3, Beverly Anderson; 6 and under: girls, Jerilyn Haggerty; 2, Nancy Goodmark; 3, Glenna Jean Smith; boys: 1, James Hurley; 2, Michael O'Hagen; 3, George Milne; 7 years old: girls, 1, Patricia Gill; 2, Karen Cronin; 3, Mary Jane Matton; boys, 1, Robert Cole; 2, Richard Lynch; 3 William Auchterlonie; 8 years old: girls, 1, Jeanette Toussaint; 2, Judith Lakin; 3, Julie Leslie; boys, 1, Marshall Bennett; 2, Theodore O'Hagen; 3, Daniel Merrill; 9

Newly Painted Ambulance Stands Out In Traffic

The town's newly painted ambulance is coming in for quite a bit of comment these days because of its striking color.

The old drab grey of the seven-year-old vehicle has been changed to a brilliant light yellow, a radical change from the colors usually associated with an ambulance.

Now, the old "Caddy", as it is known in the record books, is the most conspicuous thing on wheels as it moves along the street. Firemen driving it have reported to Chief C. Edward Buchan that the new glaring color stands out so that it has made a big difference in traffic, especially at night.

Comment reaching Chief Buchan about the vivid tint of the vehicle is very favorable. Most people realize that the bright exterior of the conveyance has made it very prominent and they will act quickly to give it the right of way when they see it coming.

Chief Buchan said that the idea of painting it the new color was his own and that it was done so that it could be quickly identified by other motorists in moving traffic.

Compensation Claim Of Widow Granted

The claim brought by Mrs. Agnes K. Fraser, 8 Washington ave., for workmen's compensation as the result of the death of her husband, Stewart N. Fraser, 48, formerly employed at Phillips academy, has been allowed by Commissioner Anthony D. Pompeo of the Industrial Accident board. The Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., insurer for the academy, has appealed the commissioner's finding to the full board.

A hearing on the widow's claim was held June 29 in Lawrence. The commissioner found that Mr. Fraser died of an injury arising out of and in the course of his employment, mainly coronary thrombosis, resulting from exertion while at work.

The insurance company was ordered to pay compensation of $20 a week to Mrs. Fraser from Oct. 1, 1953, the date of Mr. Fraser's death, to the present and to continue compensation payments of $20 weekly.

Deceased was employed at the academy giving out athletic equipment and laundry. He was stricken at his work and died shortly after being taken to the Lawrence General hospital.

At least a taxpayer doesn't have to pass a civil service examination to be able to work for the government.

United Fund Raising

The proposal to consolidate all charitable fund raising campaigns in Greater Lawrence into one big drive reflects the experience of many other communities across the country.

In the past few years a great number of campaigns to raise funds for worthy causes have fallen short of their goals. It was not because people did not recognize and approve of the excellent work carried on by known charitable organizations. There were just too many drives.

The large groups of unselfish men and women who gave their time and efforts to soliciting funds were regularly ringing doorbells to their neighbors' pocketbooks, and both worker and donor were "fed up" with the repeated appeals.

In this area last year there were 15 major money raising campaigns. One sympathizes with their worthy aims, especially those charitable organizations conducted in the community area and those on a national scale who are engaged in the fight being carried on against polio, heart disease, cancer, tuberculosis and similar enemies of mankind, but it has been evident for some time that they needed a new approach to the public in order to succeed.

The United Fund solicitation may have some drawbacks as well as advantages. The total may be less, there may be some disagreement over the division of funds, but the high type of citizens promoting the single drive idea assures the public and the various agencies that every attempt will be made to treat all fairly.

The Average Stockholder

One of our biggest manufacturing companies recently made a survey of its stockholders. It found that 56 per cent of them had incomes of less than $5,000 a year — and that only 10 per cent had incomes above $25,000. The average income of that 56 per cent was a little less than $2,800.

In all probability, the situation in any large company would be about the same. It's certainly time we abandoned the totally false ideas that stock ownership is practically the exclusive privilege and prerogative of the rich — and that the earnings of industry are distributed among the wealthy few.

Diplomatic tact is the art of winning a point without making an enemy.

HAY FEVER SEASON

By Science Features

In the 16th century a poet said: "What's one man's poison . . . is another's meat or drink." That still holds true. The breath of sweet summer air may be pure pleasure for some people but others who suffer from hay fever dread the scent of flowers and grass for the discomfort it foretells.

Hay fever is caused by an allergy to plant pollens that are carried in the air. Fall hay fever, the most common type, lasts from August until early winter, and is due to ragweed. Spring and summer pollen, dust, feathers, and other particles also bother many of the susceptible.

Weepy, burning eyes and a stuffed-up, running nose are the symptoms of this allergy. Severe cases also suffer from lack of sleep, loss of appetite and possibly infection.

There are several treatments which give partial relief. A series of injections may somewhat desensitize the person to pollen. Various anti-histamine drugs, though not a cure, may relieve some symptoms during an attack. A new aid are the hydrocortisone drugs such as Cortril. Recently, a Brooklyn, N. Y. doctor reported that "of ten ragweed hay fever patients, 7 obtained excellent relief; 2, marked relief and 1, moderate relief," by taking oral doses of this hormone.

Since hay fever sufferers are unavoidably aware of their malady, they also take other precautions to ease the ill effects, such as going to pollen-free areas when possible, using a kind of filter mask at night and keeping in good physical condition.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — August 1904

Many local people attended the band concert in Reading Wednesday evening.

Diving horses are at Canobie Lake Aug. 18.

The large automobile owned by a Lawrence jeweler broke down in the square Monday and was taken to Lawrence later in the evening by Tuttle's express team.

Conductors and motormen on the Boston & Northern St. Ry., now make a complete trip from Berkeley street, Lawrence, to Reading without a change.

A local man was fined $10 by Judge Poor Tuesday for creating a disturbance and biting a man's finger on the late car from Lawrence last Saturday night. There has been more or less disturbance on this car Saturday nights and the police are now determined to put a stop to it.

New fall suits, single and double breasted, $10 — Adv.

A correspondent calls attention to the many careless and thoughtless drivers of teams who stop and stand them across a foot walk or street crossing to the great annoyance of those having to walk on them. "End seat hogs," he writes, "are not competitive in this species of selfishness."

We publish a list of taxpayers who pay over $50, saying, "It will be noticed that the J. W. Barnard estate ($5148.88) pays the largest individual tax, while the estate of Mrs. Esther H. Byers ($4080.) the estate of J. Putnam Bradlee ($2620.08) and William M. Wood ($1335.68) are among the largest taxpayers. Smith & Dove Mfg. Co. pays the largest ($4946.40) corporation tax."

Several electric car lines running through outlying districts here and in neighboring towns bring trouble as well as convenience to the farmers. An objectional class of people seek the country weekends, infesting the farmers' fields, carrying off crops and leaving litter scattered around. Recently several persons entered a milk cellar and carried off two 10-quart cans of milk.

25 Years Ago — August 1929

Children presented the pageant "A Dream of Fairyland" at the playstead last Friday evening under the direction of Miss Margaret Davis and James Bissett. About 300 attended and tried to hear the childish voices vying with the honk of automobile horns, the chugging of motors and the shouts of baseball fans gathered to witness the game between the McDonalds and the North Andover Legion. The McDonalds won 12-4.

Actual operations started Monday on the widening and reconstruction of North Main street between the square and Stimpson's bridge.

President Hoover was one of the many persons who sent messages of congratulations to Mrs. Elizabeth Gray Kimball who observed her 100th birthday Wednesday at the home of her grandson, Arthur J.

Jenkins of Ballardvale road.

Alvin Zink, Andover's representative at the boy scout jamboree in Birkenhead, England, reports that he is well and happy. Monday he will start on a tour of Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and France, returning home early in September.

10 Years Ago — August 1944

Another name has been added to the list of Andover's hero war dead, that of Technical Sergeant Norman D. Ellis, 23, who has been killed in action in Italy.

Andover's new rehabilitation office opened in the town house Monday with Francis P. Markey in charge. On the first day 12 veterans came to discuss various problems.

James C. Sawyer, retired treasurer of Phillips academy, died unexpectedly Tuesday. He was returning on a train from Boston to his home in Durham, N.H., when seized with a heart attack. He was removed from the train at Lawrence and pronounced dead upon arrival at the Lawrence General hospital.

A blood donor campaign will be launched to mobilize 1000 donors for the next visit of the mobile unit at the South church Sept. 27, 28 and 29.

Reach Settlement In Benefit Claim

Settlement has been reached by agreement in the workmen's compensation death benefit claim brought by Mrs. Anna Hopper, 4 Appletree lane, against the trustees of Phillips academy which was scheduled to be heard Tuesday before a commissioner of the Industrial Accident board in Lawrence.

Mrs. Hopper sought compensation for the death of her husband, Henry, formerly comptroller and associate treasurer at the academy, who died May 25, 1953. Mr.

Hopper collapsed at the academy grounds while taking a visitor on a tour of the bird sanctuary, according to the claim filed by Mrs. Hopper.

It was claimed that a station wagon being driven by Mr. Hopper became stuck in mud and that following an attempt to get the auto going again Mr. Hopper collapsed at the wheel from a heart attack.

The settlement will be referred to the full board for approval.

START TRAFFIC STUDY TODAY IN LAWRENCE

Motorists entering the downtown business section of Lawrence will be interviewed in a study of the parking in that section which is starting today under the state department of public works.

Drivers of vehicles parking within the downtown area will be asked four questions, to take less than one minute. The questions are:

1. The destination of the driver - building store, place of work, etc.,
2. The origin of the trip - place from which the trip started.
3. Purpose of the trip - shopping, business work, etc.,
4. The home address of driver.

The area to be studied will be from the B & M railroad tracks on the west to Union street on the east, and between the Merrimack river and Oak street.

BRUSH FIRE IN VALE

A brush fire off Ballardvale road near Walkers was extinguished Saturday afternoon by Engine 2 of Ballardvale.

The fire was discovered after Charles Regan, on duty at the fire tower on Prospect hill while John Campbell, fire ranger is on vacation, notified the central fire station shortly before 5 p.m. of a volume of smoke toward the Vale.

Deputy Chief Albert Cole Jr., went out in the jeep to investigate and about 10 minutes later radioed for Engine 2, which was on the scene a few minutes later. The apparatus returned to the station at 5:45 p.m.

PEACE NEARS IN SHAWSHOEN DISPUTE

to build a new system, either with underground ducts or poles and overhead wires.

Attempts of residents in the village to get additional power in recent years has been defeated by the number of villagers who object to poles on their streets. An underground system would cost the company from 10 to 12 times more than the overhead system.

One peculiar feature of the present underground system is that the wires run along some streets from cellar to cellar, and in each is a switch which can cut off the power that goes further along to the end of the line.

After one resident of Stirling street attempted to get more voltage into his home recently and lost out because other residents objected to the poles and overhead wires, the power that went from his cellar to two other houses was shut off, leaving the other two without electricity.

One of the houses, situated at the corner of Haverhill and Stirling streets was serviced by a wire running overhead to his house from a pole on Haverhill street which was already in place.

The occupant of the second house was without power but got temporary relief when loaned a town generator.

After the dispute over getting power was aired before the selectmen, the utility company and even the department of public utilities, the Lawrence Electric company presented a new petition to the board of selectmen Monday night.

This called for an overhead wire from a pole already installed at the northwest corner of Haverhill and Stirling streets, running diagonally across the street and across part of the corner lot to the second house, and from that to the third house.

The selectmen were ready to grant permission for the utility company to cross Haverhill street with an overhead wire provided the easements necessary for the wire to cross the private property were secured.

These, it is understood, are prepared and when signed the proposed overhead wire will be installed.

This power wire will have to be suspended from a cable running from the pole to the second house, a distance of more than 90 feet, which is about the largest span installed by the company.

WATER BALLET TO FEATURE POMP'S

ting program of singing, ghost story telling and films shown by Don Look. Guards will entertain the audience by relating the age-old legends of Pompey Lovejoy. Those visiting the pond will notice that the municipal bathing beach has been given a complete "face lifting." This has been due to the efforts of the guard staff and the enthusiastic support of youngsters who are regular visitors to the pond.

The center of the beach, which has been washing away leaving stones and rocks exposed, has been covered with tons of washed beach sand. This together with a large number of poles that have been sawed in half and staked into the beach, has been arranged in such a way as to form two very comfortable terraces which can easily seat 150 to 200 spectators. Addition terraces have been installed on the outside areas of the steps and upon slopes leading to the picnic area. Guards will gladly point out and describe these improvements to all visitors who are interested to ask about them.

Members of the volunteer auxiliary corps participated in their first radio broadcast last Friday. They were Priscilla Reynolds, captain of the corps, Edith Leidich and Priscilla Alden. This was the third in a series of broadcasts by Pomp's organization on water safety. The series will continue Friday mornings over WCCM at 9:30 o'clock. This week the program will be given by some of the guards, Gregory H. Arabian, director of water safety; Anthony Sullivan, director of junior lifesaving; and John T. Cole, director of beginner swimming.

At The Library

Reading on the upswing.

Reports from different parts of the country indicate that reading is on the upswing. In keeping with this general trend, more books were borrowed from the Memorial Hall library this July than last.

For some people, summer provides the leisure necessary for the reading of significant books; while for others, warm weather provides an excellent opportunity for so-called "hammock reading"! Whatever people's reading needs, this library believes it can serve them out of its rich book stock to which additions are constantly being made.

Among the Newer Books The Negro and the Schools,

Ashmore. Particularly pertinent in light of the recent supreme court decision, this book provides an objective, factual, up-to-date analysis of bi-racial education in the South and the nation, based on the findings of 45 scholars, working under a grant from the fund for the advancement of education.

The Faulkner Reader, Faulkner.

Offers a generous sampling of Faulkner's work: one full length novel, "The Sound and the Fury", three novellas, short stories and his Nobel prize address.

Hume. The first book devoted to holly, written by an authority, indicates the growing interest in the subject and provides a wealth of material about species, methods of raising holly, different uses, as well as sidelights on its history.

The Reason Why, Woodham-Smith. Cecil Woodham-Smith, author of the brilliant biography of Florence Nightingale, published a few years ago, has gone to hitherto unpublished papers for her story of the famous Light Brigade during the Crimean War and sheds new light on the charge, which has almost become immortal, which sent 500 men to their death.

Roughing it on the Rue de la Paix, Adelson. A limited budget did not prevent this American woman from making the most of her visit to post war Paris.

Jaguar and the Golden Stag, Allen. A novel of "beauty and substance" laid in the far away world of the Aztec and Toltecs which is the story of the vanished empire of Anahuac and of the power struggle which engulfs the boy, Nezahual, who at seven, was anointed emperor by his dying father.

The Cobweb, Gibson. Another story with a medical setting, the Castle House Clinic, where Dr. McIver shares the action with Dr. Devereux, slowly destroying himself, Meg Rinehart, the psychotherapist, Karen, Stevie Holt, a patient, and Miss Inch, a "fixtured."

Arrow In The Moon, Harris. Story of the Wyoming frontier, each man trying to set up a code of ethics in wild times.
