Shawsheen Mills To Be Sold Immediately

Industrial Agent Claims Sale Nearly Assured

3 Firms Bid For Right To Use Mills; Benefit Seen For Town

The Shawsheen Mills will be sold within a week. That specific statement to the Townsman came from L. Plowman, industrial agent for Textron-American, owners of the property.

He said there are three firms interested in buying the property - "and they'll all be good for Andover".

"I'm as sure as anyone possibly could be without actual signatures", he asserted.

Two of the firms now seeking to purchase the property are manufacturing concerns with national reputations, he explained and the third firm would lease space in the buildings.

Next Week

"Next week at this time", he continued, there should be more specific details and, presumably, an announcement of the identity of the purchaser.

The Shawsheen mills have been idle for some time, with constant speculation about the eventual disposal of the buildings and land.

In 1955, the selectmen, acting

Town Fathers Unanimous On Industrial Sites

Town officials have unanimously agreed to "stick with" the recommendations of the Industrial Development committee that some 1900 acres be rezoned for industry.

That decision was reached last Saturday morning at a meeting of the committee, the board of selectmen and the planning board.

Eugene A. Bernardin Jr., chairman of the planning board, reported the agreement, pointing out that the officials discussed the situation in great detail before

University Of Life Begins This Month

The ninth annual University of Life series will begin here Jan. 29.

"A New Look at the Book of Books" is the theme of the series, which will be held for five consecutive Sunday evenings in the Free church.

On each of the Sunday evenings, there will be a buffet supper at 5:30 for all who have registered, followed by chapel services and two seminars.

One of the seminars will further explore the subject of the chapel speaker's evening address while the other will take up the various Protestant denominations beliefs. Both will begin at 7 p.m., following the 6:15 chapel service.

Programs for the five-week session and registration blanks are available at all Protestant churches in the community, the Memo-

2 Scholarships Available From Fund In 1956

Two scholarships will be available from the Andover Service Men's Memorial Scholarship fund in 1956.

Wallace M. Haselton, executive vice president of the Andover National bank which acts as trustee of the fund, said this week that two scholarships will be available.

And they need not be given to graduates of Punchard, he stressed.

Rather, he pointed out, the children of Andover veterans who served between Sept. 15, 1940 up to and including July 25, 1947 receive preference wherever they live and go to school.

Thus, conceivably, a high school

David McMillan Thompson of Porter rd., a native of Andover and member of its Industrial Development committee, is a candidate for the board of public works.

He seeks to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Sidney P. White at the end of his current term.

No Contract For Coach, School Board Decides

Gleason Street Is Sub-Division Now, Plan. Bd. Asserts

Gleason st. is a sub-division. Chairman Eugene A. Bernardin Jr. told the Townsman this week that the planning board will refuse to change its position on the street. They have so far ruled that the street is a sub-division as advised by town counsel.

Bernardin said Atty. Vincent A. Stulgis advised against changing the ruling, answering a direct question from Bernardin: "Do you think we should change our

The school committee reelected Robert McIntyre as head football coach for 1956 at its meeting Tuesday night.

He was also given a salary increase of $200 to a $1000 total.

He did not receive a requested contract for five years.

The board discussed the matter in executive session and issued the following terse statement: "The committee decided not to change its policy of appointing coaches annually".

Mrs. Dorothy Partridge moved that Mr. McIntyre be reelected for 1956 at the $1000 salary. The motion was seconded by Member Roy Russell.

Earlier in the evening, the committee had interviewed McIntyre and Kenneth McKiniry, who had approved the request for a five-year contract. The interview was held in a public session of the board.

Miss Greeley asked McIntyre if

REED - BLAKE

At a 7 o'clock ceremony, Dec. 27, in the South church, Miss Carolyn Olive Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston A. Blake, 5 Stratford rd. became the bride of Lt. Burton Douglas Reed Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton D. Reed, 6 Paxton rd., West Hartford, Conn. The Rev. Frederick B. Noss, assisted by the Rev. Harley R. Nelson of Brooklyn, Conn., uncle of the bride, officiated. White pointsettias, snapdragons, carnations and chrysanthemums were arranged on the altar. Miss Gail Anderson of Ashfield was the soloist.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory Skinner's satin styled with fitted bodice and full bouffant skirt ending in a Cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of hand set pearls and iridescent sequins and she carried a cascade arrangement of white pointsettias with holly.

The bridal attendants included Miss Marcia Cotton of Boxford, as maid of honor, Miss Sally McCullom, Miss Diana Nicoll, both of Andover and Miss Charlotte Mann of Lawrence as bridesmaids. All wore ruby velvet gowns in princess style with headpieces of holly. The honor attendant carried white carnations and garnet roses while the bridesmaids carried white carnations.

Wallace Juechter of Brookline served as best man and the ushers were David Harber of Newton,

MRS. BURTON D. REED JR.

Dale Blake of Andover, Walter Granter of West Hartford, Conn. and John Watts of East Hartford, Conn.

A reception in the Andover Country club followed the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to the White Mountains, the couple will reside in Moultrie, Ga. where the bridegroom is attending the Air Flight school at Spence Air Force base.

or private school graduate anywhere in the country, could qualify for the aid. It will be based on need, scholarship and general aptitude. The bank has suggested that it will not only receive the recommendations of the headmasters but will seek out added information whenever necessary to determine the recipients.

The scholarship fund was established by the original servicemen's fund committee which collected money here during World War II. They turned over some $16,000 to the bank, which agreed to act as trustee for $1 a year. Additional funds are expected to swell that balance to approximately $20,000 when loans are repaid, Mr. Haselton said.

He explained that part of the money has been invested prudently and some has been placed in a savings account. It will not be possible to determine the precise amount of the revenue from the fund each year when the awards are made because the annual termination date is in August and awards will be made earlier at graduation time.

Mr. Haselton expressed the hope of the trustees that all those qualifying under terms of the fund will become aware of and apply to the fund if aid is needed. He pointed out that as long as there are children of veterans who served during the specified years under honorable conditions, then they are the ones whom the fund has been established to help primarily. Others will be eligible to receive the scholarship aid if there are no veterans' children qualifying, however.

TOWN FATHERS AGREE ON INDUSTRIAL ZONES

agreeing that the whole area should be rezoned.

Enough Area

Bernardin said the deciding fact was the necessity of having enough area for industry. He said various individuals in the group debated the wisdom of asking that some 1900 acres be rezoned, but felt that it would be far easier to ask, next year, for a reduction in the size if it proves unnecessary.

It was explained that it would be more difficult, certainly, to rezone more land in the same area of West Andover a year from now, when homes will have been built on some of the proposed industrial land.

West Andover Objects

The Industrial Development committee found itself faced with a hornet's nest of objections when it recommended the West Andover area. Residents have reacted vigorously against the idea, with their objections coming to light at an informal meeting with the Industrial committee.

Vale Hearing

Another informal gathering, of similar nature, will be held Friday night at 7:30 in the Ballardvale community room. Residents of the Vale and Lowell Junction have been invited to it to express their opinions of the rezoning. Some of the recommended area is in Lowell Junction.

Legal Hearing

A legal hearing has been scheduled for Jan. 12 in Central Elementary auditorium. At that time, all residents of the town have the right to be heard on the matter.

Following that meeting, it will be the planning board's job to write specific articles for the town warrant. That board will make the final decision as to the number of acres to be included and their location. The voters will then have an opportunity to vote on the matter at town meeting. A two-thirds vote is required for zoning changes.

The industrial areas recommended by the committee will be bisected by the proposed new Route 28. The one in West Andover is designed for an "industrial park" type of development, the committee has said, while the Lowell Junction area is more suited for heavier industry which requires rail service.

The residents of West Andover expressed their objections at a recent meeting. Only four of about 50 persons at the session said they favored the rezoning in their neighborhood. Main objections were that industry would spoil the residential nature of the district and lower property values; traffic would be heavier and the conditions might become worse if industries began to create nuisances via smoke, dust or the like.

Restrictions

The Industrial committee told them that the area would be carefully restricted so that there could be no objectionable industries. Members described the proposed area as being one of good landscaping, off-street parking, controlled building sizes compared with land area and one in which there could be no nuisance value.

It is expected that residents of West Andover will again present their case when the legal hearing comes up Jan. 12.

In describing the problem of rezoning, Bernardin said that some town officials felt that possibly there had been too much area included in the recommendations. However, he said that it had appeared essential to have enough land to offer industry, rather than find that not enough had been provided.

It is on that basis, he said, that agreement was reached. The areas could, he said, be zoned back to residential next year or in years to come if it is found that there is no need for the land.

PERSONAL

Miss Barbara Harrington of Methuen spent the holiday weekend with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Joy of Tewksbury st.

Rosalinde Fuller, well-known English actress and Broadway star, will present a series of original solo dramatizations at Abbot Academy Saturday evening at 8 in Davis hall. The program will include adaptations from the works of Katherine Mansfield, Guy de Maupassant and other well known authors. Miss Fuller's portrayals are full of humor, passion and beauty. Included in her wardrobe are some genuine costumes made as early as 1877. Others are exact replicas of dresses worn from 1850 to 1904. These were designed and executed by Dorothy Wallace of the "Old Vic" Theater, London. The people of Andover are very welcome to attend.

Now Ready To Serve You!

How It Works:

Before you get into your car, make out your deposit slip and endorse the checks you plan to deposit. Then drive south on Main Street, approach The Andover National Bank, drive up in front of the Bank Building and stop at our Curb Teller (the meters are reserved during banking hours). If necessary, you can signal the teller on duty by pressing a buzzer.

The door of the Curb Teller will open automatically. You place your deposit in the carrier and the door will CLOSE BY ITSELF. In about ten or eleven seconds, you can watch the teller in the banking quarters handle your transaction. You and the teller can talk in a normal voice through a speaker system.

Use of this Curb Teller Service should not delay or tie-up traffic. It is meant to increase the parking available to others since our depositors will not be contenders for available parking meters. It won't be necessary for banking customers to cruise around looking for a place to park and adding to traffic congestion.

Be safe, be comfortable!

Curb banking reduces risk of walking to and from your car with large sums of money. During bad weather you need not leave your car to do your banking. It's like banking from an easy chair in your own home. Drive up, stop and bank at the progressive Andover National Bank.

Quichichacke Cost 6 Pounds And One Coat; Roger And Tribe Sign Treaty

By Kay Noyes

The birth of a new year recalls a birth in history that took place well over 300 years ago — that of the town of Andover as one of the many new settlements that were springing up in the colonies to form a firm foundation for a growing country.

In this primitive Indian village peacefully settled along the banks of the Merrimac, on the site of the present Noyes-Shattuck farm, lived the original inhabitants of early Andover. And it was some time around 1643 when our ancestral fathers, as they pushed on into the wilderness ever searching for inviting locations, first beheld just such a village.

Quichichacke

It was the staunch settlers from Newbury and Ipswich who first came to make their homes in this area which was used as an Indian hunting ground and given the name Quichichacke, which in the language of the Indians meant "Place of the great cascade". Although today the spelling of Cochichewick has changed, the sound remains much the same.

Cost 6 Pounds

The first lasting white settlement sprang up in the North Parish, now No. Andover. Shortly after its settlement, the regional name of Cochichewick was changed to Andover, possibly for some of the settlers who came from Andover in Hampshire, England. In 1646, the history of Andover first began when John Woodbridge, following the Puritan practice of treating the Indians fairly, purchased from Cutshamache, the Sagamore of the Massachusetts tribe, the tract of land now called Andover. The land was purchased for six pounds and a coat, with conditions that an Indian called Roger and his company should be allowed to take Alewives from the Cochichewick river; but should he or his company spoil or steal any corn or fruit from the settlers, this liberty was to be revoked. Strangely enough the troublesome Rogers brook of today received its name from this same Indian who appeared in the early records of the town.

Much As Farmland

The South Parish, the Andover of today, was, in the early stages, merely the outskirts of the township. The major portion of this section was used as pasture land or left as woodland because impassable roads and sudden Indian raids made settlement and farm work in this area both dangerous and difficult. But in time, as the roads improved and the raids became less frequent, the more daring of the villagers ventured into this outlying land with the purpose of building up farms. Thus, the first settlers of our present Andover were exclusively tillers of the soil and were a "hardy, industrious, self-denying, devout body of men and women". They were a sincerely religious group and although they had very little education and some of them could neither read nor write, they were endowed with the ability to think and reason correctly which is one of the greatest treasures man has ever been gifted with. The Rev. Charles Smith, in his history of Andover, wrote the following of the worthy band of Andover's first settlers: "Their manners may have been uncouth, but their principles were like polished silver. They were men who feared God, loved liberty, respected the rights of their fellow-men, and held opinions for the maintenance of which they were ready to sacrifice ease and worldly interests. They were of the class of people to put at the foundation of a free commonwealth." Such was the caliber of the first settlers of the South Parish, which is the Andover of today.

s And One Sign Treaty— Shawsheen Folk And Others Talk At Hearing

The planning board's hearing on changing residential lot sizes and a residential area in Shawshreen to a business zone drew a large crowd Dec. 29, in Central auditorium.

Most vigorous arguments came from Shawshreen residents, who expressed their desire to keep their neighborhood residential. The planning board has proposed that a small section near the square be changed to business. Residents pointed to parking problems already in existence which would be further complicated by a business zone; devaluation of property because of the new zone and a general deterioration of the area if it is changed.

One resident warned that the section may become "a slum area" if rezoned. Others asked the planning board why the subject comes up every three or four years, when residents consistently vote it down.

Object To Lot Sizes

Scattered objections were raised at the hearing over proposals to rezone B areas to C areas — the present maximum one-acre lots.

Proposals to alter present C areas west of the new Route 28 to a new Zone D — two-acre lots — drew some objections from voters who claimed the new lots would be too large.

Planning board Vice-Chairman Donald Thompson told the group that 640 acres are included in the area and that 640 houses could be built there on present zoning laws. That would mean, he said, probably a new school and possibly a new fire station and perhaps added police facilities.

O'Brien For Large Lots

Atty. Frederic O'Brien, who spoke for the proposed changes to larger lot sizes throughout the town, commented that the town can't afford the new schools being built now, never mind the ones that might be needed if development went on at a rapid pace in the West Andover section.

Town Manager Hearing

One of the most vital questions to face voters here in many a year will be up for discussion Jan. 11.

It is the question of town manager.

We feel that every citizen — whether he or she has an opinion or is merely curious — should attend the hearing at the Memorial Hall library that night to find out what the plan is all about.

The official town committee which has had town government under study since last March is now ready to listen to opinions and to answer questions. To what extent the members have made up their minds is anyone's guess — but there is a definite possibility that their official verdict may be influenced by those attending the meeting.

The committee may either recommend town manager, executive secretary, status quo or make an interim report and continue their studies.

We feel certain that the group will make specific recommendations for the members have been diligent in their work and, by now, probably have all the necessary information on which to base a decision.

The town manager problem is one that has faced many towns through the past years. Some have accepted it and been satisfied; others have retained it for several years only to change to some other form of government. There are many good things about the plan and other parts that are of dubious value.

We feel that it is the duty of every voter to attend that meeting and find out what the town manager form of government would do to our present form; what changes would occur if an executive secretary type should be adopted and then to express an opinion for the guidance of the committee.

We feel certain that the town manager form of government will provoke heated discussions — for that has been the experience of other towns. And discussion of such a serious matter certainly is vital — for a change in the town's form of government is, after all, something to be considered with great care.

Thus, in preparation for the debates and decisions to come between now and town meeting, we suggest that all the voters get to that Jan. 11 meeting at the library.

Some people feel that it is easier to pray for forgiveness than it is to fight temptation.

New Sidewalk Device In Use By Nat. Bank

The Andover National Bank this week inaugurated its combination curb-sidewalk teller service. The installation, first of its type in New England, has been months in preparation and construction. The new service now permits patrons of the bank to transact business from their cars, which would normally require parking the automobile and going into the bank personally. The time thus saved was the object in making this improvement.

The installation was made by specialists of a nationally known safe concern and took over a month of intensive planning and work. The curb-teller is simply a subterranean, high-speed conveyor which takes the deposit or check to the teller within the bank in a matter of seconds. Conversation between the person in the car and the teller can be carried on in normal talking tones through a two-way speaker system.

Located at the southeast corner of the bank building on Main street, part of the new service installation includes a "curb-service" window by which it is possible to transact bank business from the street without going into the bank.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — January 1926

The annual supper and business meeting of the West Parish church was held in the vestry Wednesday evening. Arthur T. Boutwell was elected clerk for the coming year.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Osgood district held its semi-annual meeting Sunday evening. Miss Mary Whittaker was elected president.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brooks have gone to Hamilton, Bermuda, where they will spend the next three months.

A very jolly New Year's dancing party was held in the November clubhouse last Saturday evening.

The New York Phillips Andover association held its annual meeting last Friday night in New York and announcement was made of a move among alumni to raise $300,000. It was announced that $75,000 was raised during the past few weeks.

A regular monthly meeting of the Andover Natural History society was held last Saturday evening at the home of William G. Goldsmith.

An enjoyable dancing party was held in Pilgrim Hall Friday evening.

Enjoyable skating parties were held at Haggett's pond Saturday and Monday evenings under the auspices of the West church Christian Endeavor society. Miss Katherine Pike, chairman of the social committee, arranged the parties.

Indian Ridge Rebekah lodge installed officers Monday evening before one of the largest meetings in the history of the organization. Mrs. Emma L. Burt was installed as noble grand.

25 Years Ago — January 1931

Dr. Jeremiah J. Daly of the board of selectmen spoke in favor of calling a special town meeting, during a Lion's club meeting last evening. He said he believed some $10,000 should be appropriated for use in projects which would provide employment. Supt. Gilliard said he had a plan for doing work on Lupine and Argilla roads, employing 75 men and 12 trucks in three shifts — thus giving work two days a week.

The Andover Mothers club held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday at the high school.

The school board accepted the budget at its meeting Tuesday night. It also sent a letter to the Townsman explaining why meetings are not open to the public. The letter said matters of "confidential" nature are discussed and, thus, it would be harmful to have the meetings opened.

The ways and means committee of the Fraternal Building association has organized with James Page as chairman.

The following telegram has been received by the Townsman: "Treasury department has decided to purchase for postoffice land of William J. Burns on Main st. near Chestnut st. for $20,000". The telegram was signed by Edith Nourse Rogers, Congresswoman.

A rummage sale will be held in the vestry of the Baptist church Saturday from 10 to 4. Those having items for the sale are asked to leave them at the church Friday evening.

A benefit dance, with proceeds going to the unemployed, will be held tonight in Shawsheen school hall by Troop One, Boy Scouts of America.

John Sullivan of Brockton is spending a week with his parents on Cuba st.

10 Years Ago — January 1946

The regular meeting of the Andover Garden club will be held Tuesday morning at the inn. Members will hear a talk on ferns.

The selectmen last week sent a letter to Gov. Maurice Tobin suggesting that Andover would be a good place for the UN to locate. The governor has a committee seeking possible sites in the state in which the United Nations might locate.

Several appointments were made by the school committee at a special meeting last Wednesday night. The board also approved the final warrant for the year.

An election-housing problem has sprung up in Shawsheen. Changes being made there have created a bad situation, with the postoffice now using the room where the polls once were. There has, as yet, been no assignment of space for the voting place.

A new truck can be delivered to the BPW within a month, according to several dealers interviewed by the board this week. The members also heard less optimistic reports about the tractor and grader authorized by the voters at a special town meeting. Dealers said it may be possible to deliver one or both by an August date. They pointed out that a delay would have probably made it impossible to get delivery by next winter when the equipment will be needed.

Frank E. Dunn, chairman of the polio drive here, has announced that plans are nearly complete for the annual appeal.

Charles O. McCullom was appointed to the board of health by two of the members and the board of selectmen, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Franklin H. Stacey. Mr. Stacey defeated Mr. McCullom by 82 votes in the last election.

There will be a paper drive Jan. 20 under sponsorship of the Salvage committee. It was originally scheduled for Jan. 6.

Bible Story Hour

The combined Bible Story Hour groups of Johnson Acres and Shawsheen held a Christmas program recently in the Shawsheen school hall before an audience of some 120 persons.

The colorful and touching pro-ing program was presented by the children, who prepared the program as well as performed in it. A puppet show, depicting the Nativity, was one of the outstanding features of the program and was presented by the children from the Johnson Acres Bible club who made the puppets as well as their costumes. The program also included a piano duet and several solos by the youngsters.

Mr. Watson, with the aid of a magic telescope, told the story of the "Star of Bethlehem". Awards for attendance were then made and each child was presented with a gift of candy. Those who performed in the program were Alice Hill, Jean Blamire, Joanne Blamire, Barbara Santuccio, Elinor Santuccio, Jean Morway, Linda Greenwood, Ruth Ann Hulse, Glen

Growth of Shawsheen

A census taken yearly by the town of Andover indicates that Shawsheen, or precinct 3, has grown considerably since its Frye Village days. As of last January, the census showed that 2888 men, women and children were calling Shawsheen home.

The town itself in the past five years has enlarged by 2000 or more new residents as compared with the 12,437 figure compiled in 1950 and the 14,535 of 1955.

Tickets for the Valentine dinner party to be held in February will be distributed to the club members at this meeting.

Campfire Girls

The meeting was called at 9:30 a.m. in the form of a coffee meeting at which time Mrs. Doris MacCallum, district director of the Campfire organization, gave an interesting and informative demonstration in the art of reed weaving. The demonstration was given so that the leaders might pass on the art to the girls in their charge.

Plans were discussed for the February P.T.A. program to be presented by the Campfire outfit. Plans were also formulated for the bakery sale which will be conducted by the Campfire girls at the February P.T.A. meeting.

SCHOOL BUDGET NEAR THE $700,000 MARK

men and the full school board, with the understanding that the Finance committee will quickly recommend any changes that it might desire to see included in the budget.

It was explained that the full Finance committee probably will not meet with the school board this year as the two members could act as liaison between the two groups.

The budget as now proposed lists $516,778 under department salaries, with $448,720 specified for teachers' salaries including all increments but not including the raise. The $200 boost would mean $15,900 additional in 1956. One hundred and six teachers would receive the raise.

The budget followed closely last year's expenditures in most respects, with the major increase coming in salaries. General repairs now call for some $30,000 rather than the $21,591.76 spent in 1955 but the committee pointed out that there will be more to take care of and also explained that some work couldn't be done last year and must be cared for in 1956.

Supt. Edward I. Erickson said he expects about $83,000 to come back to the town from all sources — but pointed out that those funds go into the general treasury and are not applicable towards reduction of the budget.

The teachers' raise is designed to increase all present minimums and maximums on the salary schedule, the committee said.

Thus, the new minimum for a starting teacher with a bachelor's degree would be $3000 with a new maximum of $4600. Teachers holding a master's degree would have a minimum starting salary of $3200 and a maximum of $4800.

The figure quoted in the budget for the increase, it was explained, represents the amount to be paid from April 1, 1956 until the year's end. It is not the full amount of the raise, as part of the money will be paid in 1957 and will be budgeted that year.

NO CONTRACT FOR FOOTBALL COACH

he could take criticism if he had a contract better than without one. McIntyre pointed out that some criticism in the past was not concerned with football.

There was a discussion of the extent to which football should be a major sport here and what emphasis should be placed on preparing boys in pre-high school for participation. McIntyre pointed out that, although he does not believe in developing the football program any further than it is now, the procedure would be to enlarge the physical education staff and begin competitive sports earlier.

Several committee members expressed their belief that the town does not want football to become more of a major sport than it now is.

 could take criticism if he had a contract better than without one. McIntyre pointed out that some criticism in the past was not connected with football.

There was a discussion of the extent to which football should be a major sport here and what emphasis should be placed on preparing boys in pre-high school for participation. McIntyre pointed out that, although he does not believe in developing the football program any further than it is now, the procedure would be to enlarge the physical education staff and begin competitive sports earlier. Several committee members expressed their belief that the town does not want football to become more of a major sport than it now

Punchard High

BY CAROL DESROCHER

Greetings from France

Most of you remember Francoise Louis, the French girl who came to Punchard last year to visit the public schools.

This year she is attending college in France. Quite a few of her many friends, both teachers and students, have heard from her during the Christmas holidays.

She writes that she misses all her friends at Punchard and hopes to come back in a few years after she graduates from college.

I know that all who have heard from her were very pleased to know that she hasn't forgotten Andover and the many friends she left behind.

Vacation Over

Now that vacation is over everyone has to buckle down for the mid-year exams that are to be held around the 20th of this month.

Some classes have already started to review the work that they have accomplished so far this year.

Other details will be said about it at a later date.

Bottle Drive

The Sophomore class of Punchard high is sponsoring a "bottle drive" on Saturday, Jan. 7. Members of the sophomore class will, on that day, call at your home to pick up and remove any bottles which you wish to dispose of. minds?" with a flat "No".

Bernardin said he asked Stulgis the question last Saturday morning and that three members of the planning board agree that the subdivision status will not be changed unless it is ordered by the courts.

"It's a borderline case", Bernardin explained, "and none of us are lawyers". Thus, he declared, it is necessary to take the advice of town counsel.

"We can't keep vacillating around", he asserted. Bernardin said the board would change its opinion in any case if shown that an error was made but said there had been no proof that the board erred in advising Fred Doyle and others that the Gleason st. development is a sub-division.

Bernardin admitted, however, that his board's ruling may be of brief tenure. The Legislature is due to act on the bill to allow acceptance of Gleason st. and a number of others in the town as one of its first official acts. If its action is prompt, the matter could come before town meeting in March with the result that Gleason st. could become an accepted street by the time frost is out of the ground enough to install a water main under its surface.

The voters, at a special town meeting, voted $5000 for a water main there, despite the town council's ruling that to do the work would be illegal.

The planning board's decision would call a halt, at least temporarily, to a heated discussion about the street. There has been a continuous controversy over its status since that town meeting,

Guffaws Aplenty At Basketball Game Jan. 28

The price of a good guffaw is $1.

For it you can see basketball on a donkey's back and at the same time help start a new scholarship fund.

The unusual event is slated for Jan. 28 at the gymnasium and includes usually-sober members of the faculty and the regular varsity basketball team.

They'll play the entire game from the backs of donkeys — which are trained to seldom do what their rider tells them. You say "giddup" — the donkey lays down. You want to shoot a basket, the animal stops short and shoots you over his head instead.

The side-splitting game is being sponsored by the Varsity club with the idea that a scholarship fund can be started from the proceeds. Other contributions will be accepted gratefully, according to Bob McIntyre, a member of the upcoming faculty team.

He pointed out this week that the scholarship fund is the major effort of the Varsity club this year and urged everyone to support it. The game on Jan. 28, he explained, is mighty funny but no one gets hurt. The donkeys are trained and don't kick, he said.

Among members of the faculty who will take part in the "game" are Ben Dimlich, Bob Collier, Paul Hopkins, Drummond Bisset, Joe Normandy, Phil Wormwood, Arthur Danforth, Kenneth McKiniry, Bill Igoe and McIntyre.

SALE OF SHAWSHEEN MILLS CLAIMED BY PARENT — FIRM

as assessors, reduced the assessed valuation of the land and buildings from over a million dollars down to $800,000.

However, Mr. Plowman told the Townsman the purchase price of the property "is in the million dollar range" as far as present customers are concerned.

Advantage To Town

While he could not discuss the type of manufacturing which might be done there, Mr. Plowman pointed out that sale of the property to the concerns now negotiating for it would be a distinct advantage to the town. He said, moreover, that sale to a firm which would lease space there would be advantageous because there appears to be no shortage of customers for the space.

That opinion was borne out by Greater Lawrence officials this week. They agreed that smaller firms are looking for just such space. It is known, too, that one fairly large concern recently tried to lease space in the mills from the Textron-American company but was refused.

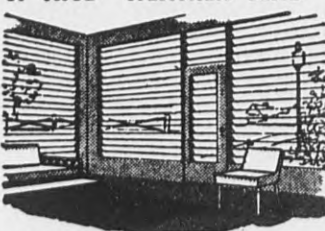

Mr. Plowman said he could have leased a lot of the space at one time or another but preferred to sell the property.

Some idea of what the sale could mean to the town eventually may be gained from looking at the 1954-1955 assessed valuations and taxes. The firm paid $42,400 in 1955, which included the increase of $6 per thousand over 1954 rates. In the year 1954, however, taxes were $55,114.55. Thus, the firm paid less in taxes in the year when the tax rate took a big jump.

Town officials, while loathe to commit themselves in public until the problem actually confronts them, this week appeared willing to carefully consider carrying along any policy that would make it possible for a new industry of substantial size to locate in the mills permanently.
