School Architect Dropped; Seek New Firm

Consultants Cite No Confidence In Firm; Interviews Called; 4 Experts Will Remain On Job

The school committee will choose new architects for the South school.

The board fired the Perley F. Gilbert associates at a meeting Tuesday night.

The action came after the committee's four consultants recommended unanimously that a new contract not be signed with the Lowell firm.

Interviews will be held next Tuesday night, starting at 7:30 in the superintendent's office. All architectural firms interviewed last year for the Shawsheen and West school additions will be asked to send representatives. Several other firms will also be notified of the interviews if they wish to be heard. The four consultants will sit in with the school committee during the interviews.

Chairman Roy Russell did not attend the session, with several members reporting that he was ill. Secretary William A. Doherty presided.

Unanimous Opinion

When the consultants sat down with the four school committee members, Atty. Charles Hatch asked the board: "What do you want from us?" Soon afterwards, Supt. Edward I. Erickson suggested that the contract with Perley Gilbert associates be reviewed in

Rogers Brook Drainage Up For Decision Again

Rogers brook is back on the official town agenda.

The board of public works has agreed to once again ask approval of an article to fix up the brook — a project estimated at about $400,000. State aid of up to 50 percent will also be sought.

The board also decided it will seek action on a second article, if the first fails, to provide funds to clean up the brook. Cost of that job will be estimated by Town Engineer Ralph Preble and a suitable article will be drawn for the expected special town meeting later this month.

Action came Monday night at the BPW meeting when better than 20 residents of the Rogers brook area appeared asking action to solve their flooding problems. Oliver Surette was a major spokesman for the group, having appeared four times in as many weeks to

New System Of Issuing Permits Goes Into Effect

A completely new system of handling building permits has been established by the selectmen.

At their Monday night meeting, the board reappointed Ralph W. Coleman as building inspector and charged him with carrying out the new policy.

Starting this month, desk space for the inspector will be furnished in the planning board office at town hall, where he will establish specific office hours for the convenience of those seeking permits.

Permit Required For Open Fires

A warning that residents must have permission before burning grass or even lighting up the backyard open incinerator was issued this week by Chief Henry Hilton.

He said homeowners should call the fire station for permission to burn anything out in the open, except an enclosed incinerator with a cover. The basket type of incinerator definitely requires a permit, the chief explained.

As the annual spring deluge of grass and woods fires began to hit the department this week, Chief Hilton urged everyone to obey the state law requiring the issuing of a permit.

A call to the fire station would be sufficient, he pointed out, as long as the person leaves his name and address after receiving an official go-ahead. Permits are given for one day only, based on probably weather conditions during the day.

ZONING APPROVED; MAY ASK FOR MORE REZONING

The attorney general's office has approved zoning by-law amendments voted at the annual town meeting. Town Clerk George Winslow said the notices were posted Wednesday. The zoning becomes operative with posting.

A possibility has arisen that further zoning action may come to the special town meeting. The planning board is debating asking the voters to act again on zoning articles defeated in March. Mrs. Virginia Hammond, board secretary, said a decision is expected soon.

Attends Conference

On April 26 Philip Wormwood attended a Conference on Juvenile Delinquency in Springfield.

Philip Gordon Green, director of Juvenile delinquency in the Health Education and Welfare Division,

Washington, D.C., spoke about "Youth and What We Can Do To Control it."

Attorney General Fingold, as the first speaker, emphasized the role that the schools play in curbing juvenile delinquency.

The speakers following the attorney general defined this subject to the assembled school teachers and administrators and explained methods that might be employed in solving this problem. The main speaker, Mr. Green, emphasized, however, the danger of the "easy answer". He stated, that because of the seriousness and complexity of the problem too many people are ready to accept either this or that method as the cure-all for juvenile delinquency.

Because of the many contributing factors involved, Mr. Green felt there was no one ready solution, that the over-all problem must be attacked from many angles and by many people and agencies.

Red Cross Needs Blood Donors; Bloodmobile Coming May 16 - 17

A drive for donors for the Red Cross blood program is being actively conducted this week. The next scheduled visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Andover is May 16 and 17.

Meetings of precinct leaders and workers have stressed the need for 210 donors on each of the two days. This is to allow for failures, for the Andover Chapter quota is 300 pints. The chapter has fewer than 30 pints available for the entire town until after the Bloodmobile visit.

Precinct workers will make a house to house canvass for donors during the week beginning next Monday. Registration cards then may be turned in at Red Cross chapter headquarters, 8 Elm street, between May 7 and 14.

Precinct workers in the drive for donors include:

Precinct one, Mrs. Dixon Penick and Miss Mary Sherman, captains; Mrs. Philip Sargent, Mrs. Richard Caldwell, Mrs. Robert Zollner, Mrs. J. Kendrick Butler, Mrs. Charles A. Gregory, Mrs. Norman J. Rogers Brook Question

Rogers brook is with us again — apparently slated to come before the special town meeting.

We have several times endorsed the proposal that the brook be fixed. Although it is an expensive task, it is obviously a major threat to the people living within reach of its waters during a major storm or spring run-off. It should be recognized as such and the proper steps should be taken to see that the threat is removed.

It seems to us that the possibility of collecting 50 per cent of the cost from the state makes it almost imperative to go ahead. If necessary, some binding condition could be placed on the article so that the town would spend its share when the state comes through with its contribution.

However it is to be worked out, the residents of the area deserve better treatment from the rest of the town. They have a serious problem and it should not be treated lightly by everyone else, just because their own cellars don't fill up with the overflow or their lawns don't become ponds.

We realize that such a major expenditure would make itself felt on the tax rate — if not this year, at least in the coming years. But even that doesn't seem to be enough of an obstacle to prevent action — not when the general welfare of the area and its residents is considered.

Building Permit Approval

The new method of approving building permits seems a sensible arrangement.

It will apparently cut to a minimum the number of persons coming to town boards complaining about conditions created by the construction of homes — and it will, of course, give the town an opportunity to forbid building where disastrous problems would be created.

The various boards will probably spend considerable time on the building permits but it will be worth while if it cuts down the number of drainage problems, legal questions over zoning requirements and sub-division restrictions and problems of septic tank drainage.

The four boards — planning, health, public works and selectmen — are to be congratulated for adopting a sound approach after cooperative consideration of the problems.

"Because some 85 per cent of Uncle Sam's budget now goes to meet the cost of national defense, past and present, state and local taxes account for over two-thirds of revenues spent for such civilian needs as schools, highways, and hospitals." — Portsmouth (N.H.) Herald.

"One way of judging what the future may bring is to look at the record of the past. The story of American achievement under the individual enterprise system is clear and undisputed." — Lincoln County News, Damariscotta, Me.

Berj Zamkochian will present an organ recital at the Methuen Memorial Organ hall May 11 at 8:30 p.m. He returns to the Methuen hall for the fourth consecutive season. Included on his program will be works of Vivaldi, Bach, Liszt, Peeters and Dupre.

NEW SYSTEM OF ISSUING PERMITS

All files of the inspector will be maintained there.

Under the new policy, applications for permits will be turned over immediately to the board of health office for approval or disapproval regarding sewage and drainage from septic tanks.

That office will in turn pass the permit application along to the board of public works for its OK, when it will be transmitted to the planning board for a third approval regarding zoning requirements and any restrictions placed on the property by that board. The fourth step will be approval of the selectmen, after which Coleman may issue the permit. At that time he will collect the fee, with all checks made payable to the town of Andover. The selectmen have stipulated that the inspector shall deposit the money with the town treasurer every two weeks or oftener if necessary.

Also appointed Monday night was Archie McLaren Jr. as assistant inspector, a job he held in 1955. John Driscoll was also appointed an assistant building inspector.

INDUSTRIAL GROUP ELECTS R. URICH

special town meeting, tentatively scheduled for this month, could be asked to provide more money if the commission's thinking on the subject indicates the necessity of spending more. He suggested the selectmen meet with the industrial group in two weeks to review the situation. Meanwhile, the group is planning to investigate the possibilities of having private developers take over the promotional activities as well as the advantages of doing the work through private citizens.

Pack Meeting

The Shawsheen Cub Scouts of Pack 71 held their monthly pack meeting Friday evening at the Shawsheen school. The meeting was led by Cubmaster Robert Paul for the first time since stepping into the office and at his request a report called the Buckskin report was given by a member of each den.

The speaker for the evening was Oscar Root from Brooks school in No. Andover, who is a member of the Massachusetts Audubon Society. He spoke to the audience about the common birds of this region and told many interesting stories about birds the cubs all knew and recognized along with colored slides on the subject. Mr. Root was one of the most interesting speakers ever presented at a pack meeting.

Each den displayed its work for the month on the theme pertaining to birdlife. Den 6 had a bird sanctuary. Den 5, pot holders, and racks; Den 1, bird houses; and Den 7, bird displays and junior Audubon club note books.

Awards were presented to the following cubs for achievements accomplished since the last pack meeting; Alan O'Reilly, one year pin; Charles Galley, one year pin; William Cooper, assistant denner stripes; John Scuderi, gold arrow for Bear; Anthony Sapientza, Wolf badge and denner stripes; Tommy McQuade, denner stripes; Richard Bravacos, assistant denner stripes; Richard Goodman, assistant denner stripes; Robert Harper, lion badge and two year pin; Sebastian Catudella, one year pin; Billy Highfield, one year pin and denner stripes; Thomas Wholey, gold arrow for wolf; Clifford Howe, gold arrow for wolf; Bernard Reardon, one year pin; Andy Daly, bear badge and one silver arrow for wolf; and Andy Innes, bear badge which was due from the March pack meeting.

The meeting was preceded by a coffee hour after which plans for the girls to march in the Memorial Day parade were discussed, along with the formulative plans for a picnic to be held in June and the important Fly-Up ceremony which will be held later in the season at Pomp's Pond.

The slate of officers for the '57-'58 season was presented and accepted as follows: Mrs. Gordon Lauder, chairman; Mrs. Martin Burns, secretary; Mrs. William Harris, publicity chairman; Mrs.

James Turner, treasurer.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Winslow Burleigh, Mrs. Michael Campagna and Mrs. Marie Cristodero.

Past presidents of the club were honored at the meeting and Mrs. William Thompson was presented with a past president's pin for her efforts in making the year a success. Mrs. Frederick Smith was made an honorary member in view of the fact that she was eligible for the position and that she was leaving the local club to take up residence elsewhere.

Along with honorary past officers, Mrs. Walter Caswell, as president, welcomed 24 new members into the club. The slate of officers for the 56-57 season was announced and are Mrs. Wallace Fiedler, president; Mrs. John Guild, first vice president, Mrs. Sherman Locke, second vice president; Mrs. George Harper, recording secretary; Mrs. Thomas Neil, correspondence secretary; Mrs. Joseph Byrnes, treasurer; and directors for one year Mrs. I. Malcolm Humphrey and Mrs. James Baxter. Directors for two years are Mrs. Charles Currier and Mrs. Walter Caswell.

Donate Gift to Hospital

Den three of the Shawsheen Cub Scout Pack 71 recently made a very interesting aquarium as one of their monthly projects came out so well that they recently took a trip with their mothers to the Lawrence Gentile hospital where they donated their efforts to the children of the hospital. Mrs. James Wilson and Mrs. Norman Barnes accompanied the cubs on their thoughtful trip. Mr. Barry, Donald Robertson, Stephen Manning, Peter Schwartz, Blaine Mulholland, James Riley and Chief Jay Prout made the donation to the children's ward.

Trip Postponed

The all day trip to Sturbridge Village which was planned by the American Home and Antique department of the Shawsheen Village Woman's club has been postponed from May 11. The pilgrimage will take place one week later on May 18. Please contact Mrs. Arthur Steinert for reservations.

First Female High School Started Here - Became Abbot Academy

By Kay Noyes

By the posting of notices on February 15, 1828, which read "Notice! Those persons who feel favorably disposed toward the establishment of a Female High School in the South Parish of Andover, are requested to meet at Mr. James Locke's, on Tuesday evening next, the 19th inst., at 6 o'clock P.M.", the intellectual minds of Andover were laying the foundation for the formation of the first incorporated school for the higher education of girls in this Commonwealth.

Disliked Influences

The meeting held at the Locke hotel on the corner of Main and Locke streets brought forth interested citizens, who voted that such an institution was essential and proceeded to work towards its establishment. A lot of land nearly opposite the meeting place was chosen as the site, but due to the protests of mothers who felt the location would bring their daughters under the influence of the Theological and academy students who frequently walked past the chosen site on their way to town, the trustees decided on another location.

The next step was taken by Deacon Mark Newman who generously donated a section of land on School st. to be used as the new site and David Hidden, for whom Hidden rd. is named, began work on the academy. On October 28, 1828, the roof was raised and the beautiful brick building with its graceful proportions and classic porch was the pride of the town.

Memory of Mrs. Phillips

Abbot Hall, when completed, was the original and for many years the only school building and received its name from a very substantial donor who, because of her mutual admiration with Samuel Farrar of Madam Phillips, offered the use of her surplus funds to perpetuate the memory of a woman they deemed "so perfect in the virtues of womanhood". Sarah Abbot, the founder, was born October 3, 1762, and led a secluded life. Her education was very limited but by her frugal existence she was able, by her pledge of money, to give to young girls the education and social advantages that were never hers.

On February 26, 1829, the school was incorporated by an act of the Legislature under the name of "Abbot Female Academy". It was formally opened to students on May 6, 1829, with an enrollment of 85 girls ranging in age from eight to 20 and who paid an average yearly tuition of $24, which serves as a sharp contrast to the 206 girls now enrolled at the academy who pay a tuition as boarding students of $2000.

Many Changes

In the ensuing years, many changes were made at the academy. In 1879, the school was renamed Abbot Academy and nine years later Abbot Hall, which was originally built facing School st. as shown by the picture, was moved to its present site. The addition of a back porch and the overhead dome were added prior to its relocation on the campus. It was the practice of the day to have the students live in nearby homes but in 1854, the trustees followed through with their plans to have all the students housed in one central building. Anson Smith Hall, named for Peter and John Smith, who had given generously to the academy, was erected. Harriet Beecher Stowe, with her usual enthusiasm, worked tirelessly with Mrs. Samuel Jackson towards furnishing the new building which was opened for use in 1855.

Abbot academy, founded in the name of Christ, has taught life's important lesson of piety, humility and its graduates have carried the message to many heathen lands. They have entered many fields and the Broadway success "Kismet", which has provided thousands of theater-goers with beauty and entertainment, was written by Julia Fletcher, a boarding student in Davis Hall with the class of 1867. Another early literary great who was schooled at Abbot was Maria Cummins, who wrote "The Lady's Lighter", and in the political field, Annie M. Edwards of the class of 1855 was appointed first postmistress in the United States and served as the head of the Rockford, Ill. postoffice.

The inspiring words of wisdom on the beautiful Merrill Memorial Gate express what the academy in its many years in Andover has accomplished: "Enter into understanding that you may go forth nobler living".

Building Permits Will Cost More

The selectmen have increased building permit costs.

Starting Monday last, a permit will cost $20, plus $1 per thousand and over $15,000. Thus, a home estimated at $20,000 would require payment of $25 for the permit.

Formerly, a builder paid $1 for the permit with an added $1 for each thousand.

Prices on permits for additions and alterations have also been upped to $2 for the first $500 and $1 for every $500 thereafter.

Action was taken April 25, following a general meeting of town boards concerned with new building problems.

Members of the board of public works, planning board, board of health, selectmen and the plumbing and building inspectors attended the session.

Approval From All

Approved was a new method of issuing building permits so that each board will signify its approval of the proposed structure before the permit is issued. Each board will initial the permits when satisfied that the various regulations have been met.

More Problems

Other matters discussed by the combined boards included off-street parking; grade requirements now listed at a maximum of 12 percent but suggested for a six percent maximum; acceptance of streets; street damage from trucking and possible acceptance of a legislative act on limiting tonnage; creation of a town engineering department instead of various boards hiring separate engineering services.

Mrs. E. Nichols Heads Garden Club

At the annual meeting of the Andover Garden club at the Andover Inn Tuesday, the following officers were elected for the year: president, Mrs. Edward C. Nichols; vice president, Mrs. Ernest L. SCHOOL BOARD LETS ARCHITECTS GO a re-written form which had the approval of the town counsel. He reviewed the steps taken to get a contract suitable to the legal counsel and to Albert Richmond of the architectural firm. At that point member Frederick Allis Jr. asked the consultants: "Do you have a recommendation?"

"It is the unanimous opinion of the advisory committee that you not sign the contract with the Architect", Hatch replied.

Asked for reasons by Mr. Doherty, Hatch told the board that the consultants carefully investigated the entire situation. They visited several schools built by the firm as part of the investigation.

"The town has demonstrated a lack of confidence in the architects", Hatch stated. He pointed to the town meeting's reaction in March when it was suggested from the floor that members of the firm explain some features of the proposed new school. "It was a general feeling from talking with people", he continued, "that they lacked confidence".

"The committee feels the school is needed. If the school is defeated, not on the school building but because of the architect, we lose out on a side issue. It might be better to remove the possibility." Hatch explained that a two-thirds vote may be required if funds are to be bonded and "we might lose out on that basis regardless of how fine the plans or favorable the cost".

Members Allis and Albert Cole Jr. emphasized their feelings that much attention should be paid to the advice of the consultants who were asked to serve by the committee itself.

Atty. Hatch pointed out that the advisory group had no vote and could be disregarded completely.

Will Continue

"Will you continue to serve?" asked Supt. Erickson. After making it clear that his answer was based on committee acceptance of the recommendations, Hatch said he would. Consultants Edward P. Hall and John Sullivan agreed to serve. John Erwin, who is in charge of construction for Western Electric, said he certainly would serve but pointed out that his schedule may not make it possible to attend all sessions. Mr. Erwin said his office is in New York and it will be necessary to be there part of the time.

"I would expect to criticize the living daylight's out of specifications and drawings", Erwin asserted.

Mr. Allis made the motion not to sign the contract with Perley Gilbert associates.

"This'll set town meeting back quite a bit", commented Cole, "many have articles in it except us". Allis asked Supt. Erickson if it will be possible to have plans this spring and the superintendent said preliminary plans probably could be ready.

Richmond Agrees

Later in the evening, Richmond and John W. Priestley Jr. arrived. After a long pause, during which not a word was said, Doherty declared: "We have a little bad news for you".

"It's a wise decision", Richmond agreed, after hearing of the committee's action. The committee told him that some arrangement should be worked out to pay for the work done since the town meeting. Richmond said he believed the time study sheets would indicate the proper amount. $6000 Left to be there part of the time. "I would expect to criticize the living daylights out of specifications and drawings", Erwin asserted.

It was explained that some $6000 remains in the account. Several questions were raised about the normal fee for preliminary plans and whether enough money is available to have the work done by the new architect.

Mr. Allis made the motion not to sign the contract with Perley Gilbert associates.

"This'll set town meeting back quite a bit", commented Cole, "many have articles in it except us". Allis asked Supt. Erickson if it will be possible to have plans this spring and the superintendent said preliminary plans probably could be ready.

Richmond Agrees

Later in the evening, Richmond and John W. Priestley Jr. arrived. After a long pause, during which not a word was said, Doherty declared: "We have a little bad news for you".

"It's a wise decision", Richmond agreed, after hearing of the committee's action. The committee told him that some arrangement should be worked out to pay for the work done since the town meeting. Richmond said he believed the time study sheets would indicate the proper amount.

It was explained that some $6000 remains in the account. Several questions were raised about the normal fee for preliminary plans and whether enough money is available to have the work done by the new architect.

Abbot Alumni To Meet Saturday; Bazaar Planned

Miss Jane Sullivan, executive secretary of the Abbot academy Alumnae association, announces that alumnae will gather from many quarters for their annual meeting May 5 at 10:30 a.m. Luncheon will be served in the school dining room at 1 p.m. and in the evening class reunion dinners will be held. A specially honored guest will be Miss Alice L. Jenkins of Andover who is observing the 70th anniversary of her graduation from Abbot.

During the afternoon, the alumnae will help Abbot celebrate her 127th birthday by attending the "Story Land" bazaar, which will open at 2. Faculty chairman of the committee is Miss Shirley Ritchie, a member of the physical education department. Student chairman is Lynne McLaughlin, president of the class of 1957.

In addition to the usual booths, there will be a well stocked toy booth. The ever popular day scholar's booth will feature home cooked delicacies and plenty of "submarines" will be available at the refreshment table.

It is expected that the auction will provide excitement as well as opportunity for profitable shopping. The variety of games is sure to offer fun and competition.

At 2:30 and 3:00 there will be an entertainment in Davis hall. Of particular interest also will be demonstrations of obedience tests by Mrs. Arlon B. Clarke of Needham with her poodles, "Danny" and "Gay".

All visitors are welcome at the bazaar, which will go on, rain or shine. The proceeds will go to philanthropic purposes extending from Andover to worldwide objectives such as the World University Service.

Another event of the week-end will be a recital by the students of the music department at 7:30 on Friday evening.

The vesper speaker on Sunday will be the Rev. Edward W. Meury, minister of the First Congregational Church in Keene, N.H.

ROGERS BROOK ON MEETING AGENDA

argue for the brook control project.

There was some criticism of the board for not fighting for the project at the annual town meeting while others were critical because a special town meeting last year was called at 7 p.m. and, when a quorum was not present very shortly afterwards, disbanded.

Members of the BPW pointed out that a lot of work had been put into Rogers brook planning during the last year but that it had been defeated at the annual town meeting.

Residents of the area said they believe it is up to other residents to get out and support the project. Mr. Surette said there must be 1000 people living in the brook drainage area and that they, along with many others in the town, should recognize the problem and support proposals to solve it.

Stunt Night Is To Be Minstrel

The annual senior class stunt night will be in the form of a minstrel show this year.

Scheduled for May 11 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium, the "Show Boat" will combine the witty antics of both end men and end women; talented dancing routines and many solos, along with a dance line and the expected tambourine section.

Directed by Mrs. Ralph Sharpe, the show will feature Marjorie Parker and Catherine Duke as end women plus Frank Dyer, Warren Russell, George Durant, Clifford Sharpe, Alex Thompson and Richard Janes as end men. Interlocutor will be Robert Jordan.

A special tambourine overture will be presented by Bill Fisher, Bill Vickers, Robert Williams, Bob Grudzinski, Thomas Richardson and Richard Smith.

A girl's waltz duet features Patricia Smalley and Rita Eslie, with violinist Joan Arnold.

Vocalists include Thomas Andrew, Margaret Campbell, Josephine Furnari, Margaret Watson, Basil Yancy and William Gurry. Bonita Hajjar will offer a special Syrian dance.

A sax quartet composed of Joan Hathaway, Joyce Nason, Leigh Henderson and Ruth Ann Frederickson will entertain. Other special dances will be presented by Kathy Farragher, Thelma Sparks and Shirley Cignoni.

Trained by Joan Jedry, the dance line will include Nancy Sunderland, Danielle Johnson, Sandra and Jane McKiniry, Linda Cooke, Joan Hamilton, Betty Fitzgerald, Joan Wilson, Rosemary Rapa, Joyce Kilman, Julianne Greco, Eileen McCarthy, Nancy White, Joan Jedry and Sarah Paisley.

Proceeds from the event traditionally are used to underwrite the cost of the yearbooks.
