Meet Danvers Saturday

ONE OF THE BRIGHT SPOTS - Blue Devil Frank Carelli swept right end for a 20-yard gain during this third period action Saturday against Wellesley. Carl Comeau, 17, is getting in position to throw a block on 72. Wellesley won, 31-7. (Leone)

Andover High's Blue Devils will be looking for their first win Saturday at 2, when they take the field at Danvers.

Jim Bennett and Capt. George Reed were the standouts in last Saturday's losing cause, which Wellesley took, 31-7. It was a surprise Bennett to Reed to Dave Simpson pass that scored the Blue Devils' only TD. Late in the fourth period, Bennett fired to lead but the ball was deflected off his fingers - into Simpson's clutching hands for the unusual D. Carrelli rushed the point.

Wellesley took advantage of Andover fumbles and intercepted the pass as they scored twice in the first and third quarters and once in the fourth.

There is no good reason why anyone should entrust their health to untrained people. Yet some unthinking persons thoughtlessly purchase vitamins from door-to-door salesmen, usually opportunists who are here today and gone tomorrow.

The prices they charge offer no savings, and the firm they represent are not the dependable pharmaceutical manufacturers respected by the medical world.

Before getting any vitamins elsewhere let us prove to you that a pharmacy is the best and even the most economical place to obtain your vitamins.

In Our Opinion...

You Should Attend Meeting

The TOWNSMAN this week carries a rather long news story, mostly concerning the views of Donald Bassett on the water supply problem. Mr. Bassett was anxious, because he believes firmly in the proposals contained in article one of the special town meeting warrant, that the reasons for approving it receive widespread readership prior to the session.

We are happy to cooperate. We have consistently urged action towards increasing the water supply and, in an editorial several weeks ago, urged adoption of the proposals.

There have been many questions raised about them - and there have been many alternate solutions discussed - during the past five or six weeks.

Open Meeting Friday To Discuss Water Supply

Bassett Urges Article OK

With a special town meeting scheduled for Monday night at 8 in Memorial Auditorium, the Board of Public Works has announced it will hold an open meeting Friday night to discuss the contents of its water supply article.

And even as the Board decided to ask all interested citizens to meet and ask questions of the consulting engineers who proposed the program, Water Supt. Donald Bassett forcefully presented his views on the necessity of approving the BPW request for $280,000 to tie in two test wells and construct some 6000 feet of 16-inch water main along Porter rd. to So. Main st.

Announces New Tuition Rates

John Mason Kemper, Headmaster of Phillips Academy, announced this week that the Board of Trustees of Andover had, after long deliberation, found it necessary to increase the tuition for the coming school year.

The new tuition for the academic year 1958-59 will be $1600 for boarding students and $800 for day students. The present tuition is $1400 for boarding students and $525 for day students.

In making this announcement, Mr. Kemper emphasized the fact that this is the first tuition increase since 1949. During the intervening years the cost of living has been on the increase and the individual cost to Andover of (Continued on Page Three)

Lost Property Found By Crews

Scattered parcels of property, "lost" through the years as far as the tax collector is concerned, have been found by mapping crews during the past few weeks.

Assessors' Engineer A. Douglas Maclaren Jr. termed some of the land "valuable, in the future". He quickly explained that, in many cases, the town doesn't even (Continued on Page Six)

West Church To Dedicate Vestry

An important milestone in the life of the West Parish Church will be marked Oct. 6, as parishioners and their friends dedicate the new Vestry during morning services. And from 3-5 p.m., residents of the town and friends of the Church are invited to attend a reception, during which they may see the new 25-room building.

It was over two years ago that Church members agreed to go ahead with a building program. And now that the building is completed, the Rev. Hugh B. Penney, (Continued on Page Two) educating each boy has risen from $2200 to a projected $3100 for the coming year.

The difference between tuition and costs has been maintained through income from endowment and special gifts to the Academy. Rising costs have increased so rapidly in recent years however, Mr. Kemper stated, that a tuition increase is necessary at this time.

Mr. Kemper emphasized further that the school's traditional policy of generous scholarship grants would be maintained and that Andover would continue to seek the most deserving boys regardless of their scholarship needs. In the present academic year, Andover is expending $190,000 in scholarship aid to 211 students and will continue to expend whatever is necessary to bring to Andover the best possible boys.

Paint Fund Over-The-Top In 'Vale

OVER-THE-TOP BANQUET - Head table guests at the banquet of the United Church, celebrating a successful campaign for funds to paint the Church, were, standing, Joseph Serio, Albert Warner, J. Elwyn Russell, Dr. John Nichols, speaker and the Rev. Ralph Rosenblad, Seated were Mrs. Serio, Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Rosenblad, Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Walter Norris.

A very successful United Church "Over The Top" banquet was held Sept. 28 in the Community Room Ballardvale, when over 80 people attended.

Mrs. Walter Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Warner, Mrs. Henry Meyers and J. Elwyn Russell greeted each person as they entered the room. The ladies were presented with a pink and white carnation.

The Rev. Ralph A. Rosenblad gave the Invocation, after which all sat down to an appetizing turkey dinner. Following the dinner, J. Elwyn Russell extended greetings to all. Community singing was enjoyed, led by Joseph Serio. The pianist was Mrs. Charles K. Barnett.

Mr. Russell called on Selectman Sidney P. White, who spoke to the group. Mr. Russell then introduced the guest speaker, Dr. John Nichols Mark of Marblehead, who spoke on "A Wee Bit of Scotch Wit and Phylsophy". Dr. Mark was pastor of a church in Arlington for 28 years and claims that he is now semi-retired. He does a considerable amount of after dinner speaking to Rotary Clubs, Masonic gatherings, school children and churches. During World War I he served as a Chaplain. He was born in Scotland and came to this country at an early age. He is a graduate of both Tufts and Harvard colleges and is a past District Governor of Rotary. His talk, being mostly on wit and humor, was greatly enjoyed by all. Albert Warner then thanked the speaker and the Rev. Mr. Rosenblad gave the Benediction.

Seated at the head table were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Serio, Mr. and Mrs. J. Elwyn Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Warner, the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph A. Rosenblad, Eric Rosenblad and Mrs. Walter Norris. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Stafford Lindsay, Miss Barbara Loomer and Sidney P. White.

The success of the United Church Paint Fund Drive is attributed to the co-chairmen, J. Elwyn Russell and Albert Warner and the committee, which included Mrs. Ralph Sharpe, Mrs. Henry Meyers, Miss Helen Davies, P. W. Moody, Charles Anderson, Durwood Moody, George Grant and Walter Norris. Well over $1500 was raised.

The banquet committee included Mrs. Walter Norris, chairman; Mrs. Albert Warner, Mrs. George Davison, Joseph Serio and the Rev. Mr. Rosenblad.

B & M PLAN REFLECTS THE CHANGING TRAVELING HABITS OF COMMUTERS — THE CAUSE OF THE RAILROAD'S ACUTE FINANCIAL CRISIS

Look around you today. Everywhere you see new, improved highways, and more and more new cars traveling on them. No one knows how far or how fast this change in our transportation habits will go. Already expert predictions for 1970 private car travel have been exceeded . . . right here in Metropolitan Boston.

Of course, no one would want to stem this tide if he could. The car has brought new pleasure and freedom to millions. And now as new superhighways enter Boston and parking facilities continue to improve, everyone must eventually benefit.

Everyone, of course, except the passenger-carrying railroads. Just think for a minute how our population has increased and our commuting towns grown since the 1920's. Where last year we carried only 8,225,223 Boston commuters — in 1921, when the automobile was new, we carried over 30 million.

This staggering loss of passengers, together with the Railroad's huge increased cost of operations, has posed a serious financial problem for the B&M.

We have proposed to meet this difficult problem with a modern, integrated commuter program that entails:

- 1 Elimination of our unprofitable and parallel passenger service in the areas also served by the Metropolitan Transit Authority.
- 2 Elimination of service on some branch lines where public need no longer warrants the service and where public transport is generally available.
- 3 Elimination or rescheduling of lightly patronized trains on main lines and on some branch lines.

On the other hand, this program entails:

- 1 No fare increase as part of the plan.
- 2 Improved service for the majority of commuters by elimination of station stops close to Boston.
- 3 Air-conditioned Budd Highliner cars for all commuter service, which will involve the purchase of additional Budd cars and delivery of a Talgo train.
- 4 Revised schedules planned to meet the actual needs of the majority of commuters.

Here are the facts behind this projected program . . .

PASSENGER LOSS — OVER $1,000,000 A MONTH

First of all, please remember the B&M must operate as a business enterprise as well as a public service. It must provide services that suit the needs of the majority of its customers. But, like any business, if it continues to operate at a loss it must cease to exist.

When you see crowded early morning and evening B&M commuter trains entering and leaving Boston, you have a right to ask how the Railroad can be losing large sums of money on passenger service.

First of all, we must build and operate our plant to accommodate this peak morning and evening load. We must own, operate and maintain sufficient equipment to handle these peak loads. We must also employ train and engine crews and other employees to handle these peak loads. Finally, all of the plant, all of the equipment, and all of the employees that we must have on hand may be used to their capacity for less than four hours of the twenty-four-hour day — and then only for five days out of the seven-day week.

The B&M does lose money on passenger service — in the past ten years $126,721,000 — and $13,678,000 last year alone.

What then about those recent passenger fare increases?

We had only expected these fare increases would reduce our passenger losses by $1,100,000 a year. But even this did not happen. After the increase we lost so many commuters as to practically wipe out the hoped for benefits of the increase granted in passenger fares.

Can we increase freight revenues?

To a large extent favorable freight rates are the life blood of our New England economy and affect the jobs and security of most of us. New England industry must continue to have freight rates competitive with other sections of the country. Therefore the Boston and Maine must maintain freight rates competitive with other railroads in territories such as the South or Southwest which have no commuter passenger problem.

Railroads must show a profit, too

The B&M owes $47,126,000 secured by First Mortgage Bonds — which become due in 1960.

This mortgage the B&M must pay in 1960 is precisely like a mortgage you might have on your own home. And to renew your own mortgage you would have to satisfy your bank that your present salary and future earning power warranted such a loan . . . the B&M is in exactly the same position.

Today net earnings of the B&M are below the level required for sound credit. And as we lose more and more passengers to the automobile and our wage and material costs continue to spiral upwards, our financial position worsens every day.

Right now we must increase our revenues by raising fares or by reducing losses. We know that a present increase in fares is no solution. Therefore, we have no alternative but to reduce our losses wherever possible.

We sincerely regret that for some of our passengers of many years we will no longer be able to provide service. We are certain that this proposed program will meet the needs of the great majority of our patrons. Thank you.

know who owns the land and must search old deeds and other documents at the Registry of Deeds to find the owners.

Discovery of the land, on which no specific value can be set now, came as mapping crews continued their field work of recording all property lines — preparing a type of map "we've never had before" according to Maclaren.

He noted that some property owners are for the first time finding out where all their property lines are — and some are even finding parcels of land they knew they owned but couldn't locate on a map.

The mapping is being done in connection with the revaluation program.

By late this month, Maclaren indicated, field work will be finished and the work of drawing the maps will begin. This should be done by year's end.

Revaluation, itself, is moving along smoothly. Maclaren explained this week that about 80 percent of the buildings in the town have now been measured and listed. Fewer buildings have been inspected inside, he said, but revaluation workers are now making the rounds of buildings they didn't go into on the first trip.

"Everyone has cooperated nicely", Maclaren stated he and expressed the assessors' thanks to property owners throughout the town.

While the work of measuring buildings and seeing their interiors continues, other employees of Cole, Ayer and Trumble, the revaluation firm, are beginning an analysis of land sales in this area to arrive at a fair market value for various types of property in the several sections of town.

How this is done, with an educated guess as to the eventual valuations on the types of property in the town, will be discussed at the annual meeting of the Taxpayers Association in the Memorial Hall Library Oct. 24.

John Brann will speak on Andover's revaluation and it is understood that he will be able to indicate, in a general way, which types of property will increase in value, which may be lowered and which may stay about the same. A question period will follow the talk and the residents of the town are invited to attend the meeting.

Maclaren explained this week that there can be no discussion of values on any specific property at this time.

BPW Will Give Flu Vaccine

Employees of the Board of Public Works will get free Asiatic Flu vaccinations as soon as possible.

The Board agreed, during its meeting Monday night, to provide the shots as soon as vaccine is available. Member David Thompson suggested the step, explaining that any wholesale infection of department personnel would be dangerous to the town.

As far as could be determined Tuesday, the BPW will be the only department receiving the vaccine.

The Board of Health has decided not to provide any and, according to school officials, vaccination will be up to the individual teacher.

The Board of Health announced last week that vaccine would not be provided. And there has been no assurance when vaccine will be available for departments, in any event. The Health Board's announcement last week pointed out that there is no supply on hand and news items in the metropolitan papers this week indicates that there is yet no specified time when supplies will be in hand.

Announce Calendar Of Exhibitions

The fall calendar of exhibitions at the John-Esther Art Gallery of Abbot Academy opens Oct. 8 with an exhibition of paintings by Miss Patience E. Haley, art instructor at Abbot Academy and co-director of the Gallery. A reception to which the public is invited will be held Saturday, Oct. 12, from 3:30 p.m.

The exhibition will consist of approximately 25 paintings, executed in oil, water color and in a new medium, polyvinyl-acetate. Many of the paintings were exhibited in Miss Haley's exhibition in the deCordova Museum in Lincoln last May, but there are also included a number of new paintings which have not been exhibited before. The paintings run the gamut of expression from sea and coastal themes to those inspired by ancient ruins and rock formations. The most recent series are themes based on Maine's most remote islands.

GIVES REASONS FOR WATER ARTICLE

counted at the meeting Monday night — three weeks after the first attempt failed to get voter action or the proposal — is anyone's guess this week. Town Clerk George Winslow, who predicted that a quorum of 350 would attend the initial meeting, again believes at least that many voters will turn out next Monday. "I shouldn't be wrong twice in a row", he commented.

Bassett, however, left no doubt as to his opinion. "They've got to come out. It's too important to stay away", he asserted.

He told the TOWNSMAN that, in his opinion, there isn't any other answer to the town's water supply problem than to tie in the two test wells as quickly as possible.

Need More Water

Basically, he felt, Haggett's Pond will not recover from this year's demands to a point where the town can expect adequate water next summer. Thus the added million gallons of water daily from the two wells must be available for townspeople next summer.

The pond, he explained, is now 78.5 inches below high water mark — or was at that depth Monday evening. By Friday, he explained, it will have dropped another inch if it follows the trend established over the past few weeks.

Since water restrictions were eased and with the help of the Abbot test well pumping 350,000 gallons of water into the system, he said the pond has dropped one inch every three days, regularly.

In addition to his belief that the pond will not recover sufficiently by next spring, Bassett also commented "even without the drought, the pond wouldn't produce enough water because we're using more water all the time. In 1956, the average use of water was 10 million gallons a month more than in 1951. This is because modern living uses water — increased lawn areas, garbage disposals, automatic washers and other conveniences cause it — not just increasing population", he continued.

Doesn't Give Enough
The superintendent also said that precipitation charts, showing monthly precipitation for the past six years, compared with similar tables for water pumped and the depth of the pond each month during those years prove that the pond will not recover fast enough in 1958 to provide the town with enough water. The pond was full to overflowing in March of 1956, Bassett continued and the year saw a normal precipitation of 51.1 inches. So far, 20 inches is the 1957 total. But by the end of 1956 the pond was down 46 inches below high water mark.

"This was a normal precipitation year but we used up more water than nature will replace under normal conditions" Bassett stated.

He also explained that, even with the two test wells putting about one million gallons into the system each day, it isn't possible to state that the pond will recover within a year. And it isn't possible to guarantee, he continued, that restrictions can be taken off completely next year. That depends on the weather in large part — whether nature compensates for the dry spell this summer by producing more than the normal amount of snow and rain this fall and winter and next spring.

But whether or not the pond is completely recovered in a year, Bassett feels that the only answer is to tie in the two wells because the town's demands will make that step necessary regardless of any emergency drought period.

Back-stopping Bassett's figures is the report from Camp, Dresser and McKee, which states that a safe yield from the pond is some 1.4 million gallons daily. The report states that an average of 1.8 million gallons daily was drawn in 1956 and frequently the demand exceeded four million gallons daily in peak periods.
16-Inch Main Needed

In connection with improving the water supply system by hooking up the two wells, Bassett said that it is necessary to install a water main to So. Main st. to carry the new supply into the system.
And he pointed out that, in his opinion, it would be folly to install a main that will be too small in years to come. Installation of the 16-inch main, proposed under the article, is part of the long-range program, he stated, and will be a necessary part of the system.

Massachusetts Laws

Whether the objections have merit and whether alternatives are practical may be discovered at an open meeting Friday night in the Board of Public Works office in the town hall at 7:30.

At that session, all citizens will have an opportunity to ask questions of the consulting engineers, of Bassett, of any member of the BPW. All ideas on the subject should have an airing. And that's good, for there has been no adequate discussion of the pros and cons or of other possible solutions.

You should attend that meeting - and also the special town meeting Monday night at 8 in Memorial Auditorium. Don't waive your rights - attend both meetings and find out for yourself through the give and take of the meetings, the answers to many questions.

A solution to the water supply problem must be found. The BPW offers one. You must approve it or not, then take action to implement it or defeat it. This you can best do by attending the meeting tomorrow night to find out the facts and town meeting Monday to vote your convictions.

Whose Fault Are They?

Why should the insurance companies be the whipping boy over insurance rates in Massachusetts?

This seem to be the case, whenever the companies suggest that higher automobile insurance rates are inevitable. Recently they said a 25 percent increase appears certain next year.

And, automatically, voices were raised accusing the insurance companies of deception.

But all of us should face facts, before crying out against the insurance firms. For Massachusetts has an unusually high accident-injury ratio. About one car in 14 caused bodily injury last year, for which claims were filed. Although deaths from automobile accidents remained fairly constant, non-fatal injuries rose at a tremendous rate - 101,000 in 1956 compared to 81,919 the year before and 76,614 the year before that. The rate of increase in accidents causing non-fatal injuries is greater than the increase in the number of cars.

For the number of cars increased by some five percent, while the accident rate went up about 23 percent.

Insurance company statistics correspond closely with the Massachusetts Safety Council records - showing clearly that the insurance companies have not picked figures out of the air to prove their case for an increase.

As the time approaches for most of us to register our cars for 1958 and pay the insurance for them, we should consider carefully before arbitrarily blaming the insurance companies for any rate increase.

For the blame rests with all of us - when we failed to support the insurance demerit plan; when we refuse to insist that young drivers pay proportionately for the accidents they cause; when we will not fully support a traffic-enforcement program.

It's time all of us looked the facts in the face rather than just blaming the insurance companies for a situation which they did not cause.

While Andover's rate may be somewhat lower than other communities in the area, think what it might be if the trend toward more and more injury-producing accidents was reversed. Think what it would mean to all of us if bad drivers were compelled to pay their proper share of insurance costs and if younger drivers paid their proper share as well.

It is obvious that criticism, levelled at the insurance companies, should be directed in our own direction instead. This being true, let's do something about it by supporting legislation that will place the financial burden where it belongs (with those drivers causing most of the accidents) and supporting traffic control programs on a no-fix basis.

Nothing wrong in charging it up to experience if you can cash in on the lesson learned.

Usually the man who is too busy to go to the polls has plenty of time to complain about his taxes.

Sudden poverty or riches are sure to reveal true character.

QUITE A FIRE - Raging through brush and scrub cut from the path of Route 28, a sometimes-smouldering, sometimes-flaring blaze kept firefighters busy last week off Dascomb rd. Workmen were burning the debris, with approval of the fire department, but strong winds fanned flames beyond control. This was the worst of several brush fires that kept the department busy during the past 10 days. One firefighter said walking through the dirt was like "walking in a barrel of flour", it was so soft and deep.

GOURMET "STEALS"

BY BETTY BLAISDELL

With much less work being done on the typewriter lately and far more being done in "the heart of the home", which, of course, means my kitchen, some new discoveries are coming to light in old, familiar surroundings.

Aside from the fact that I am better coping with football appetites, I'm trying out with extravagant abandon some of the more uncommon recipes that have been coming my way which only needed more time and a bit more energy to execute. October is a good month for this sort of experimenting, anyway . . . the children are back in school (you can get to open your own refrigerator now); market foods are scrumptious-looking and plentiful, appetites are livelier and, with cooler weather, it's altogether reasonable to suppose the chief cook and bottle washer is alot briskeer! I am.

Of course, I'm not trussing and stuffing a goose twice a week or turning out babas au rhum for an impromptu luncheon - and I haven't made Bearnaise sauce in five years. I'll be honest. What I mean is, instead of hastily preparing the usual ingredients for a nutritious meal in a good, law-abiding way, I'm dollying up everything for extra credits. For instance, October is Cheese Festival month and if one must have a reason for gilding a bunch of broccoli, this is as good a one as any. Your piece de resistance tonight could be -

BROCCOLI-AND-CHEESE CUSTARD

- 1 bunch broccoli
- 1 cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese
- 3 eggs
- Salt and pepper
- 1/2 cup milk
- Pinch of oregano or tarragon

A box of frozen chopped broccoli is good for this recipe if you don't wish to use fresh. However, if fresh, cut off and discard leaves and tough parts of stalks. Wash; spilt stalks lengthwise, quarter so that they cook as quickly as broccoli flowerets. Cook in small amount of salted water until barely tender. Drain, put in buttered shallow casserole. Beat eggs; add milk, cheese, seasonings, stir and pour over broccoli. Set casserole in pan with about an inch of hot water and bake in 350 degree oven until firm.

This is quite simple, easily understood by children and most of them will eat it, too. If you want something a little more complex for company and can positively count on their being on time to eat it, you can still boost the cheese industry by preparing a

TOMATO-CHEESE SOUFFLE

- 1/2 cup tomato juice
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 bay leaf
- 1/8 lb. butter (cut 1 stick in half)
- 3 Tbl. all-purpose flour
- 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
- 1/2 tsp. dry mustard
- 4 egg yolks, beaten
- 1 Tbl. cognac type brandy
- 4 egg whites

When heating or cooking tomatoes I take a pyrex saucepan, not metal. So, to prepare this, combine the tomato juice with the Worcestershire, salt and bay leaf preferably in a glass saucepan, bring to boiling, lower the heat and cook for 10 min. longer. Melt the butter in another saucepan, add flour and mix well. Add tomato juice mixture, stirring constantly. Cook until thick and creamy, about 5 min., stirring. Add cheese and mustard, stirring together well. Let cool. Add beaten egg yolks and brandy and stir well. Beat the egg whites until stiff but not dry, fold into cheese mixture. Pour into an un-buttered 1 1/2 qt. (No larger) souffle dish, place in center of oven and bake 35 min. at 325 degrees. Serve at once.

There is, of course, a few tricks to making successful souffles which I had to learn with a few sad failures. An excellent article, which ran some time ago in House & Garden magazine, on the art of making souffles gave me a few priceless hints which have since improved mine. Keeping the souffle dish and mixing bowls completely dry was one; adding liquor as an aid in the rising process was another; and the third and most important hint, I think, was in using small souffle baking dishes instead of one large one when doubling the recipe. The above recipe will serve just four persons.

QUICK APPLE CAKE (Mrs. Walter E. Jones)

If I don't give this recipe I shall certainly incur the strong disfavor of my husband who, just home from the Eastern States Exposition in West Springfield, was served this delicious apple cake for an unexpected brunch-time snack with coffee. (He has my promise to turn it out here at home this coming Sunday.) His hosts lived in the suburb of Longmeadow and Mrs. Jones was kind enough to write the recipe down as follows:

- 1 egg
- 3 Tbl. sugar
- 3/4 cup milk
- 2 cups Biscuit mix
- About 4 apples
- 1/2 cup sugar mixed with 1 tsp. cinnamon and 1/4 tsp. nutmeg

Mix egg with the 3 Tbl. sugar and milk; add to biscuit mix and blend well. Spread the batter in a greased 9-in. round cake pan that is not too shallow. Cover with thinly sliced apples. Sprinkle the sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg mixture all over the apples and bake at 350 to 375 degree oven for about 40 min. or until apples are tender. If four apples seem too many, use only three.

HALLOWE'ENS ACOMIN'!

With the apple crop production expected to total more than 115 million bushels this year, the industry has scheduled its annual National Apple Week very timely for "trick or treats" - Oct. 24-Nov. 2. Pumpkins and squashes are being harvested in large quantities, too, to add their familiar colors to the October scene. I hope any of you who read this column and can turn out a good pumpkin or squash pie, will favor me with their recipes. How I wish I could brag of a good one from my own kitchen! Can you get a nice brown skin on top?

For that matter, please do contribute recipes of any kind which you like and do particularly well!

School Of World Friendship Starts

The public is cordially invited to the School of World Friendship which will open Sunday evening, Oct. 6, at the Free Christian Church.

The School is planned to help persons of all ages understand better the work of the Christian World Mission. Meetings will be held on each Sunday evening during October. They will start with supper at 5 p.m. for those who wish to enjoy the sociability of a meal together. Each person is to bring his own box lunch supper, and beverages will be provided by members of the Margaret Slattery Fellowship, under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Burnham and Mrs. Edwin Winship.

At 6 p.m. the School of World Friendship will officially open in the sanctuary of the church, where adults will be addressed by Mr. Mark Kawai, a native of Hamamatsu, Japan, now studying at Harvard. At the same time, school-age children of the first three grades will meet with Mrs. Robert Shimoda, who, with her children in native Japanese costume, will demonstrate Japanese customs and will tell of life in Japan. Junior-age children will meet with The Rev. Robert Shimoda, who will relate to them interesting facts about the people of Japan and the work of missionaries there. Later in the evening, Mr. Shimoda will also talk to the combined Junior and Senior High youth groups of the church.

The School of World Friendship appropriately begins on a day in which major Protestant denominations will celebrate World Wide Communion Sunday. The Shimoda family will be with the people of the Free Christian Church for the entire day, as Mr. Shimoda will speak at the Communion Service at 10:15 a.m. The theme for this first day of the School of World Friendship is "Japan"

Children of the community will be admitted free of charge to the School of World Friendship, while adults will be asked to pay a small fee for the four evenings series of meetings. The committee in charge of the School particularly urges families to participate in the School, as there is something planned for every age group and they have also provided for a baby-sitting service during the School of World Friendship at the church. The evening programs in every case will adjourn at 7:30.

During the box lunch suppers, the tables will be decorated with appropriate maps of various areas of the world where missionaries are at work and there will displays of interesting pamphlets and other materials. The Committee which has planned the School of World Friendship is chaired by Mrs. Helen Burnham and includes David MacDonald Jr., Mrs. Robert Domingue, Miss Ida Von Siebenthal, Miss Irma Beene, the Rev. Horace Seldon and Ralph Manning, who is in charge of tickets.

FinCom For W

The Finance approved article special town meeting request for $280,000

The money would be used to construct 6200 feet of main from Woburn st.

FinCom Chairman Rutter released statement Wednesday

"Andover is in need of additional water immediately. In the next few months we may have to provide consumption of 16 million gallons. The mill is not producing a small portion of this goal. We must therefore consider this article."

"Spending $280,000, a great deal in relation to the $168,400 will be spent on wells, equipment taking, while $11,000 is spent to increase main from 8-inch to 16-inch from Woburn st., a distance of 6200 feet. This force main will handle the additional supply and pressure from the gravel pit well. The force main is a 16-inch pipe which would, in any event, be replaced when and if required. The water was pumped from the gravel pit well or any other source. The cost of the force main is $111,600 by tying it to the main on a temporary basis for a more comprehensive report on our water supply. This would be an expensive and impractical solution. The water pipes are 16 inches in diameter and temperatures are higher than those of the water pipes. The drought could have sequences for Andover much more severe than these wells have under the most conditions and still produce reasonably satisfactory results. Finally, we believe that, regardless of the engineers' recommendations, the further increase in the cost of Andover, the more we recommend the Article.

FinCom OK's Money For Wells, Force Main

The Finance Committee has approved article one of the special town meeting - the BPW's request for $280,000.

The money would be used to tie in two test wells and construct 6200 feet of 16-inch force main from Woburn st. to So. Main st.

FinCom Chairman Harold A. Rutter released the following statement Wednesday:

"Andover is in need of an additional water supply immediately. In the near future we may have to provide for a daily consumption of 8-10 million gallons. The million gallons represented by these two wells is a small portion of our ultimate goal. We must therefore carefully consider this article.

"Spending $280,000 may seem a great deal in return for a million gallons of water. But only $168,400 will be spent for the wells, equipment and land taking, while $111,600 will be spent to increase the force main from 8-inch to 16-inch, starting from Woburn st. to So. Main st., a distance of 6200 feet.

"This force main must be increased to 16-inches in order to handle the additional water supply and pressure from the gravel pit well. This increased force main is a project which would, in any event, be installed when and if additional water was pumped from Haggett's Pond or any other source. Therefore we can charge only $168,400 against the wells.

"Possibly we could save $111,600 by tying in the two wells on a temporary basis, waiting for a more comprehensive engineer's report on our water problem. This would be an expensive and an impractical solution because it would cost more to insulate the water pipes against freezing temperatures than it would to install the pipe on a permanent basis.

"We can not take a calculated risk and expect Mother Nature to fill the pond this winter. With the pond lower and our demands higher than ever, a second-year drought could have drastic consequences for Andover, involving much more severe restrictions.

"These wells have been tested under the most adverse conditions and still produced. We can be reasonably assured that they will not run dry.

"Finally, we have been told that, regardless of the method the engineers decide upon to further increase the water supply of Andover, the engineers would recommend the Abbot and gravel pit wells be tied into the system since we could pump from them at a cost of $48 per million gallons as against $100 per million gallons by any other method. Under these circumstances, why not tie them in now when we need the water so badly?

"No matter what your own decision may be on this article, as a citizen and taxpayer it is your duty, as well as your privilege, to attend this special town meeting in order that we can have a decision on this water problem. The Finance Committee urges you to attend so we do not have to adjourn for lack of a quorum."

New Permit Policy Causes Headaches

A recent Planning Board decision to invoke a section of the subdivision control act, relating to under-sized lots in subdivisions recorded before zoning by-laws were voted, is causing king-sized headaches in the assessors' office.

For at least one builder wants an abatement of taxes. He claims that if he can't build on house lots, they shouldn't be assessed as lots, but as acreage.

The Planning Board decided recently that building permits should be denied developers on lots that are below the present zoning requirement for the area - even though the sub-division was recorded at the Registry of Deeds before the zoning was voted. Builders had believed sub-divisions, recorded before zoning, were not subject to this type of control by the town.

Considerable confusion reigned during the week, as officials sought to clear up the situation. Under some interpretations, the control act under which the Planning Board operates makes it possible for individuals to receive permits for lots smaller than currently allowed - but not builders. Thus, one official commented, several men, as a business firm, could own a sub-division but record the lots under the each individual name - alternating the ownership so that no man owned abutting lots. This, the official felt, would make it legal to issue building permits - and would be a clear but possible legal, subversion of the law.

Water Restriction Violators Will Have Service Shut Off

A get-tough policy against violators of water restrictions was voted this week by the Board of Public Works.

Members instructed Water Department Supt. Donald Bassett to "shut off the water" of anyone caught violating the Sunday and Thursday watering hours.

Bassett had reported that "a few people" are openly "washing cars and watering lawns and it gets worse all the time". "Intelligent, capable people ignore the wishes of the Board", he reported and "the police come to me about it".

Bassett quickly explained that most citizens are abiding by relaxed restrictions that allow watering shrubs for an hour on Sunday and another hour on Thursday. But he said those persons violating the restrictions are doing so openly - even allowing excess water to run off down the streets.

Secretary Alex Henderson suggested the no-use restrictions be re-imposed, but Bassett argued that this would be quite a penalty for the majority of residents who are obeying the Board's rules.

Bassett also suggested that practically the same persons are repeatedly reported for violating the rules.

Member Francis Reilly urged the Board to either take positive action or stop talking about the problem. And Member David Thompson agreed that definite steps must be taken.

Henderson recalled that a post card was sent all residents, telling them that the water would be shut off if the restrictions were not followed and that a $5 charge would be assessed for turning the water back on.

Board members felt that the time had come to arbitrarily shut off water service in cases where violations were reported - despite the suggestion that such action just before town meeting might be disliked by residents.
