Grave Warning To Taxpayers - $84 Tax Rate

SERVICE CLUB PROJECT - The main project of the Community Department of the High School Service Club this year was making a Nativity Scene. It was placed in front of the High School during the holiday season. The statues were made out of paper mache and the base was made of coat hangers. Making the statues were Sandra McBride, Norma Heseltine, Priscilla Alden and Edith Leidich. (Leone)

BPW Bars Reporters

The Board of Public Works has temporarily barred the press from its meetings, until it can arrive at what it considers suitable regulations and stipulations for press coverage.

Former Chairman Allen Flye suggested a new set of Board rules covering the subject of open meetings - and stipulated that the new rules would cancel out previous votes on the same subject. When the new rules were passed by unanimous vote, Chairman David Thompson said they excluded the press until another vote could be taken.

And then Flye commented that he and some others had been somewhat unhappy with press coverage and suggested that regulations and stipulations regarding further coverage be discussed secretly. Member Harry Axelrod said he favored admitting the press to regular meetings, but there appeared to be unanimous agreement that a closed meeting be called to discuss Flye's suggested regulations.

Later in the evening, Chairman Thompson told reporters the subject had not been brought up again and that they were "temporarily barred" from the meetings. He thought the Board might dis-

The School Committee stuck to its guns Tuesday night, voting to put its new salary scale into effect in 1958.

And the Committee also voted a record budget total of $1,032,175, including a sum of $83,000 for the new salary schedule.

They acted after a warning from the Finance Committee that their action would help to hike the 1958 tax rate to $84.

The Finance Committee and members of the Taxpayers' Board of Directors urged the school board to put the new salary scale into effect in stages of at least two possibly three years; but the school board stood firm in its position that the whole change should be made in the interests of morale, that the new pay puts the town in a more competitive position for hiring and that partial application would cause complications in adjustments between the present staff and those newly hired.

The Finance Committee's position was that every bit that can be shaved off this year should be done. Both Charles Hatch, secretary and member William Mackintosh repeated several times that from the figures they have on hand, there will be at least an $84 tax rate - "and it's not all in yet".

Mr. Mackintosh urged prudence in the face of what he called a "financial crisis" and stressed, "the town's heading into one, there's no use kidding ourselves."

Trade Bd. Plans Town Meeting Request For Off-Street Parking

O'Connell Runs For Moderator

John F. O'Connell has announced his candidacy for moderator at the March election.

A Punchard ave. resident, Mr. O'Connell is the second candidate for the vacancy. Atty. Charles Hatch has announced his intentions.

O'Connell, founder of the Andover Taxpayers Association, was successful last year in making the use of a secret ballot at town meeting optional with the voters. His by-law was adopted, which

The Andover Board of Trade has decided to insert an article in the town warrant asking the voters to approve buying a portion of the Barnard property for off-street parking.

Members of the Trade Board also approved and promised to support a suggested article calling for the purchase of the property behind the fire station, to Bartlett st., if the Selectmen will sponsor the article. Chairman Sidney P. White said his board will meet today and furnish an answer to the merchants.

The possibility remained that the Board of Trade might also sponsor this article if the Selectmen decide against it.

The decisions were taken at a meeting of the Board of Trade,

Experimental Methods Used To Teach French

An experimental method of teaching French, designed to increase a student's oral ability in the language, is being given a thorough trial at Phillips Academy. Under the leadership of Dr. James H. Grew, Department chairman, the new method is now well into its third year.

And at the end of this academic year, it will be possible to survey the results of the three-year experiment.

As described by Gerald D. Ferris, an instructor in French, the method works this way:

In the first year, French students have no homework, no texts, no work in reading or writing the language. But they speak the language for two hours each day. Normally, classes are one hour in length and homework is assigned.

At the end of the first year, the students begin to get reading and writing.

And in the third year they are assigned to regular sections, with students who have had their French instruction in the normal pattern — speaking, reading and writing practically simultaneously.

Mr. Ferris explained that the students who started in the experimental classes three years ago definitely are superior in fluency — but there is as yet no way to tell whether their ability to read and write French will be better. But it will be possible to determine the exact value of the program at the end of this year, when a full three-year program will end.

The experiment began with about 14 boys in one class and continued at that number through last year. But this year there are two classes of 14 students each amid a growing demand from other students that they be allowed to participate.

Mr. Ferris pointed out that many parents, too, are beginning to ask that their sons be allowed to study French under the experimental plan.

Explaining that fluency in a language is perhaps the most important factor, followed closely by ability to read it, and lastly by the ability to write it, Mr. Ferris said many experimental plans are underway in various schools. None follows the Phillips Academy plan, however.

Whatever the plan, Mr. Ferris stressed the fact that schools are beginning more and more to realize the importance of being proficient in the spoken language. This is reflected in the college boards, he stated, because even they now insist on fluency. The exam includes a tape recorded section in French, designed to test the student's ability to understand what he hears.

Whether the plan now being tried at the Academy is the answer to teaching languages, Mr. Ferris couldn't say. He pointed out that it certainly is producing results in oral French. But whether it will become a permanent method at the Academy is yet uncertain. That decision will await a careful analysis after the current academic year when the records of boys studying under the plan can be compared with those taught by conventional means.

But it seems certain that, if this plan does not meet the requirements of the Academy, there will be continuing efforts to find the best possible way to teach the language without resorting to the old-fashioned methods.

states that voters shall receive their ballots when entering the auditorium.

Mr. O'Connell began his career as a reporter for the Lawrence Tribune, then went to the Boston Herald where he was police reporter and part-time State House correspondent. He later was correspondent for the New York Tribune, which eventually merged and became the New York Herald Tribune.

He has been publicity director for the United Shoe Machinery Corp. and for a short while he served as publicity director of the American Woolen Co.

Mr. O'Connell owned his own advertising agency for 10 years and sold it to go to the East Texas oil fields, where his firm, O'Connell Oil Corp., owned wells in Gladewater and Kilgore.

He is a founder of the Pomp's Pond recreational area, which was accepted by the voters at town meeting two years after its start.

CAPT. MARGARET MCFARLIN

Capt. Margaret R. McFarlin, U. S. Air Force, has recently been promoted from First Lieutenant.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McFarlin, 2 Punchard ave., she has been a nurse in the Air Force for five years.

Capt. McFarlin is a graduate of Abbot Academy and the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing. Before entering the Air Force as a First Lieutenant, she had worked in the hospital at No. Conway and the Veterans Administration Hospital in Jamaica Plain.

Now serving in the 337th U. S. Air Force Hospital in Portland, Oregon, she has also served in Air Force hospitals in Mississippi and Alabama and has spent two years in England.

She is in charge of the operating room at the Portland hospital.

Sharpe Seeks Constable Job

Ralph N. Sharpe, 345 Andover st., Ballardvale, is seeking a one-year term as constable.

A resident of Andover for 27 years, Sharpe has been doing maintenance work for the Police Department for eight years. For 21 years he has been employed at the Tyer Rubber Co. He is a graduate of public schools in Dracut.

Sharpe is a member of the Andover Sportsmen's Club.

Married to the former Ruth Davis of Andover, the couple has three sons, Ralph, attending the University of Maine; Clifford, attending Wentworth Institute and Roy, a sophomore at Andover High School.

Sharpe's announcement brought to three the number of candidates for the three constable offices. Roy Russell, an incumbent, has said he will not seek re-election. The other candidates are George B. Brown and George N. Sparks.

cuss the matter next Monday night. While barring, in effect, the press, the BPW voted a three-paragraph rule concerning open meetings.

They agreed to allow any resident of the town to attend any regular and scheduled meeting to hear any resident's problem if the resident made an appointment with the Board; and stipulated that any non-resident must only be admitted by a majority vote of the Board.

It was under the last section, however, that Chairman Thompson declared the press barred — a stipulation that "any previous vote regarding attendance at Board of Public Works meetings shall be null and void". This, he said, nullified a vote of nearly three years ago which allowed press coverage of the BPW meetings.

The new rules, as proposed by Flye, read:

"I propose that the following regulations be adopted by this Board for the conduct of its regular and scheduled meetings.

"I. All regular and scheduled meetings of this Board shall be open to any bona-fide resident of the town of Andover.

"II. Any bona-fide resident of Andover wishing to transact business with this Board may do so by requesting an appointment. This appointment to be made with the Office Manager of the Board of Public Works and shall customarily apply only to the first scheduled meeting of the month.

"III. Any person not falling within the scope of Paragraph I or II may be admitted to the regular and scheduled meetings of this Board by majority vote of the members.

"None of the above shall apply to Executive sessions which the Chairman may deem necessary.

"The above regulations shall take effect upon passage and any previous vote regarding attendance at Board of Public Works meetings shall be null and void."

with regret. "I enjoy teaching too much", Kellmurray told the Committee and explained he could not do the amount of teaching he wanted to do and continue as head of the Department.

Committee members discussed with him the progress that has been made since he took over in 1943 and talked about the future.

His letter of resignation said: "I am submitting this letter as my formal resignation from the position of Director of Guidance in the Andover public schools, effective at the close of the current academic year in June.

"I should like thereafter to resume my original appointment as a full time English teacher in the high school.

"As you know, I have contemplated this move for some time. I am now completing my 15th year in Andover in a program which combines a partial teaching assignment with the directorship of guidance. I wish to concentrate on one field and in choosing between the two, I prefer to continue as a classroom teacher. You may feel certain that when my successor is chosen, I shall cooperate in every way possible to effect an orderly transfer of my guidance duties.

"I am very grateful to you and to the members of the School Committee for the consideration and support which have been extended to me during my tenure in the Guidance Department. The whole community has done much to make the work a source of pleasure and satisfaction which I shall always remember."

Mr. Kellmurray's background includes Utica New York Free Academy, Yale University, where he received his B.A., M.A. and did one year graduate work towards his Ph.D. and spent four years working in guidance counselling, and an appointment as instructor in English at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which he had to resign in 1943 because of illness. When he recovered, he was elected to the Andover school system.

SCHOOL BOARD OK'S RECORD BUDGET

However the members of the Finance Committee made it clear that they were discussing only the town pocketbook and were in no way attempting to criticize the school policy, nor trying to tell the school board how to run things.

They did want the increase for teachers' salaries this year to be held down to $42,000 if at all possible, but the school board couldn't see it.

School Board Member Albert Cole who had last week urged the School Board to try and find a way of going along with the Finance Committee's request, said Tuesday night that try as he would, he could not see how the increase could be cut without destroying the reason and meaning of the pay scale change. Mr. Cole pointed out that actually the $83,000 increase, to start April 1, would be for only two-thirds of a year and that figured on a full year's basis it would amount to $130,584, added to which must be another $13,100 for regular increments in 1959, or an overall total of $143,684.

Using only $42,000 to start the pay scale change this year, in the face of $143,684, "what's going to happen to the rest of the program?" he asked.

When it was urged that the overall town financial picture be considered, School Board Member Frederick Allis commented that "Maybe it is time to put education a little further up in the family budget than it's been."

Several citizens attending the meeting said they were aware of the effect the teachers' salary increases would have on the budget, but they were willing to pay for it in the tax rate and they felt that there were many, many other taxpayers who felt the same as they.

School Board Chairman Roy Russell observed that, "I think most people put a high value on education. I see, day after day, mothers who have never worked before take a job to see their son or daughter through college."

There were numerous suggestions made — that the curriculum be reviewed with an eye to increased educational values and possible resulting economies; that the new scale start in the fall instead of April, thus cutting the effect of the increase to the requested $42,000; that the School Board present to the public a realistic program for improving education before asking for the extra money.

There was general laughter when Mr. Hatch read from a list of teachers who had left the system the past year, giving the reasons as matrimony, pregnancy or retirement. "How many of those people are you going to hold onto by paying them extra money?" he asked.

Another criticism of the new pay scale was that increases for the first five years boosted the pay from $3,800 to $5,000, but for the next 10 years, hiked it by only $100 a year to $6,000, — in other words paying comparatively high wages for inexperience and when the person begins to become valuable, cutting down sharply the amount of the raise.

Finance Committee Member Robert A. Watters made it clear that he was in favor of the pay scale, for "we can't afford to wait for two or three years. Once these salaries are put into effect, then I think we can look to the school committee to get the very best teachers."

"Teachers," reminded Chairman Russell, "are taxpayers, too"

Improvement Soc. Seeks Cooperation

The Andover Village Improvement Society, through its secretary, Lester Newton, has urged citizens of the town to cooperate in its plan to preserve natural areas throughout the town.

Mr. Newton writes: "Andover has made a start in this direction. Three years ago a proposal was made that public spirited citizens contribute to a fund to purchase parcels of land within the town, and then to present these parcels to the town as a gift. The purchase of available swamps and marsh land was given priority in the plan. Then other parcels, when once cleared, could be acquired.

"These areas would be used for recreation, education and conservation. Located in different parts of the town, and open to all citizens in the community, they would be available for camping, hiking, nature study and other forms of wholesome outdoor enjoyment. The gift of Mrs. Ward of the Charles W. Ward Reservation to the Trustees of Public Reservations is a significant contribution in the direction of true conservation."

"To perpetuate the kind of Andover we already have, will need the energetic action of its public-spirited citizens. That must come however before it is too late."

Mr. Newton urged citizens who wish to take part in this movement to communicate with the town officials or the AVIS. Mr. Newton said two parcels of land have been acquired for these purposes.

None Injured As Car Rolls Over

Eugene A. Zalla Jr., 3 Chester st., Ballardvale and a passenger in the car he was operating escaped injury Saturday night when their car turned over on No. Main st.

Police said Zalla's car struck a snow embankment protruding into the road, around a place being repaired in the street. It turned over and landed upright, with no injury to the occupants. The accident happened at 11:47 p.m.

Sawyer Concert To Feature Famed Virtuosi DiRoma

On Friday evening, Jan. 17, at 8:30 in George Washington Hall on the Phillips Academy Campus, the 30th annual presentation of the James C. Sawyer Concert will feature a noted Italian string orchestra, the Virtuosi DiRoma, under the direction of the famous conductor, Renato Fasano.

This group of 14 artists has been praised by no less a musician than Arturo Toscanini, who said of them, "You are the great instrumental ensemble of this age and your playing has brought me exquisite pleasure."

They will present a program which features the works of Bach, Vivaldi and Corelli. The concert is open to the public without charge but reservations are available for those who wish to assure themselves of good seats. Seats may be reserved by calling the Academy. Only a limited number of seats are left.

Killorin Explains Zoning Ideas

The Planning Board has received a letter from Karl C. Killorin, suggesting areas for business zoning and commenting on off-street parking problems.

The letter reads: "I hereby submit for your careful consideration certain suggestions for the realistic modification and improvement of the present inadequate and stifled business zone of the town.

"First I propose a number of extensions of the present zone:

"1. Extend south on Main st. (both sides) to Morton st.

"2. Extend north on both sides to the Lawrence line.

"3. Extend on Chestnut st. from Central to Bartlet (both sides).

"4. Extend on Elm st. (east) to Maple and Florence sts., and to Wolcott ave. and Whittier st. as the need arises.

"5. Extend through the remaining east end of Park st.

"In my opinion the immediate need is for the extension south on Main st. to Morton st. and, conversely, the least necessary proposed change at this time would be that going east on Elm st. Further, I recommend that along with any extensions of the business zone there should be incorporated a restriction on each parcel requiring that 1/4 to 1/2 of the area of each parcel be set aside for off-street parking if and when these parcels are developed for commercial use.

"There is no valid reason for the taxpayers of this town to be expected to purchase land and improve same in order to supply off-street parking for the sole benefit of a few merchants and the owners of these antiquated properties. Certainly it is evident to all the citizens of Andover that we have already underwritten, for parking purposes only, the construction of a town parking lot comprising the area generally known as "the Shaw Property", thus absorbing for this purpose one of the most valuable pieces of business property in the town. I have, nevertheless, allowed for and constructed my own parking area at 77 Main st. and I compliment The Bay State Bank, The Andover National Bank, Johnny's market and others for doing likewise.

"Should the foregoing proposals become a reality I predict that:

"1. Owners of antiquated properties (many of which in their present state are health and fire hazards) would be forced by new competition to modernize and supply off-street parking at their own expense in order to survive.

"2. Additional revenue, resulting from a new business stimulus, would revert to the town.

"3. Owners of re-zoned property would find their holdings substantially increased in value.

"4. The business potential of Andover, as viewed in terms of the necessity of serving adequately the rapid residential expansion of the town, would be given an opportunity to develop to advantage."

Bruce Penney Is Three Years Old

Bruce Penney, was three years old on Thursday Jan. 9 and in honor of the occasion he gave a party for several of his little friends.

The birthday cake with its three candles which was most attractively decorated and the ice cream pleased the little ones very much. There were lolly pops as well as favors for all. Those present were Marden and Christopher Gibson, Lisa and Diana Lewis, Karen Kolligian of Lexington and Hugh, Bruce and Paul Penney. Bruce is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Hugh B. Penney.

EARLY BIRDS BOWLING LEAGUE

Rain Drops Elect Officers

The Rain Drops, 3rd grade Blue Birds, who meet every Thursday at the home of their leader, Mrs. Don Scott, 10 Dufton rd., have elected the following officers: Nancy Gill, president; Carol Scott, vice president; Elinor McCarthy, secretary; and Kathleen Scott, treasurer. Other members of the group include Carol Archambault, Karen Deneu and Patricia LaChance. Mrs. Guillame Deneu is their sponsor.

A coasting party was held at the first meeting of the 1958 season with Karen Mirisola, a guest of the afternoon. Karen came from Germany just 10 days ago.

The members of this active group have recently made potholders as gifts for their mothers. At the coming meeting, they plan to make stuffed animals.

The Blue Birds are the younger members of the Andover Camp Fire Girls Association.

New Brownie Troop Formed

A new Brownie Troop has been formed at Central School for fourth graders.

Jamie Carmichael has been elected president of the Troop by other members. Also elected at the first meeting Monday in Jackson School were Cathy Bailey, treasurer and Linda Seikunas, scribe.

Mrs. A.P. Seikunas is Troop leader and Mrs. Robert Burnham is assistant leader. They said this week that any girl in the fourth grade at Central may join the Troop, which meets every Monday afternoon after school.

Other members of the Troop include Priscilla Burnham, Judy Greenhow, Janet Jarbeau, Mary Kyger, Ann McGinty, Nancy McGregor, Katherine Royce and Elissa Zappardi.

INTERNATIONAL NIGHT COVERED DISH SUPPER

A covered dish supper of foods from many lands will be served at the meeting of the Ballard Vale

United Church Guild tonight at 7 in the church vestry. Gaspar Jako, director of the International Institute, Lawrence, will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Ralph Sharpe is chairman of the program and Mrs. Albert Fischer is chairman of the social following. Husbands are invited guests.

Local Woman To Teach Charm Class

Mrs. Katherine Charlton, a resident of Andover, will teach several classes in charm under the auspices of the YWCA during the coming months.

Many residents of Greater Lawrence who have taken Mrs. Charlton's courses at the Y in either Charm or Effective Speaking have found the work most interesting and helpful. The 10-week series of lessons on Charm for Adults includes a wide range of subjects all of which are very important to women. Mrs. Charlton, in this series, covers various aspects of grooming such as make-up, hair style, clothes, choice of colors and line that are suitable for the figure, the use of accessories to give flare to ones wardrobe, graceful posture and carriage, a pleasant voice, and good manners.

A poised and cultured person herself, Mrs. Charlton exemplified the charm which she teaches. She has had wide experience both as a hostess and as a teacher. Before beginning her work as an independent lecturer and instructor, she had been employed at a Boston school where she served not only as a faculty member but as fashion coordinator.

Mrs. Charlton's class in Charm, at the Lawrence YWCA, will be held on Wednesday mornings at ten o'clock, and Thursday evenings at eight. In addition to this, she will also conduct an adult class on Wednesday evenings at eight o'clock at the North Andover Community Center but under the auspices of the YWCA. She will also teach three classes for youngsters - one course called Charm for Teens, will be held at the Y on Thursdays at 6:45 and the same course will be given in North Andover Wednesday evenings at 6:45. A brand new course called Junior Charm is planned to meet the needs of grade school youngsters will be given only at North Andover during the coming term. In these classes for the younger set, Mrs. Charlton will adapt her material to meet the needs of teenagers and grade school children. With the latter there will be particular emphasis on good grooming and manners.

Registration for all these classes is now open. Those who are interested in the No. Andover classes may register either at the Community Center Jan. 3 or may Christine Sutton, 21 Lovejoy rd., recently attended the Young Farmers' and Homemakers' Program held in connection with the Union Agricultural meetings in Worcester.

She is Treasurer of the Essex Chapter, Future Homemakers of America and was accompanied on the trip by five other girls from the Essex County Homemaking School, as well as Miss Doris Fagerberg, advisor to the Essex Chapter F.H.A. and Miss Virginia Smith, instructor at the Essex County Homemaking School.

The program featured group singing, a discussion period, entertainment by the Essex County Agricultural School musical group and a talk by Carl E. Wahlstrom, Judge of Probate Court, Worcester, on "Spotlight on Youth, Opportunity and Understanding".

Christine was recently chosen by her classmates as student representative for Good Government Day. She will represent the Homemaking School in Boston at the State House on Good Government Day in March, when schools throughout the Commonwealth will send representatives to assume responsibilities of government positions.

Travel Talk At November Club

Members of the November Club will hear a well-known traveler and lecturer at their meeting Jan. 20 at the Clubhouse on Locke st.

The 3 p.m. business meeting will be followed by the program "The World in General and Mexico in Particular", presented by Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor. A refreshment hour will follow the meeting.

Both before and after the meeting a bakery sale will be held, to benefit the Art Department's scholarship fund.

The Drama Department will hold its next session, open to all Club members, tomorrow afternoon at 3 in the Clubhouse. A one-act play will be read and tea will be served at the close of the meeting.

WORD "PAR" HAS A WEALTH OF MEANING

In a news story last week, the TOWNSMAN reported the circumstances of a stock split and reduction in par-value by the Bay State Merchants National Bank. Inadvertently, the word "par" was omitted in the headline. The stock has not been reduced in value but each share is worth half its original value. Shareholders have two shares for each one they originally held.

policy on business re-zoning as proposed in recent weeks.

Members discussed the subject at the Planning Board meeting Jan. 8 and unanimously made the following statement, noting that the Andover Industrial Development Commission and the Selectmen have approved the venture:

"The Andover Planning Board does not favor participation by Andover in the Greater Lawrence Regional Industrial Commission, as proposed on Dec. 18, at the present time.

"The proposal needs careful study, for which insufficient time is available. The Planning Board can see no reason why the promotional work which would seem to be the primary function of such a regional group can not be done by Andover's Industrial Commission on behalf of Andover's Industrial development, using the same amount of money suggested as Andover's appropriation toward regional development.

"The Planning Board is strongly in favor of cooperation with Andover's neighboring communities in matters of planning and development. The proposed participation in a regional planning group sponsored by the Planning Board was turned down by town meeting two years ago even though no financial assessment of the town was involved at the time.

"That earlier planning approach to regional cooperation seems to this Planning Board to be a much sounder one than the present proposed promotion of industrial development alone without consideration of other community factors as may be one sided and dangerous.

"The whole matter of industrial zoning and development needs review and reconsideration in the light of recent developments regarding Route 110. The strongly urged opinion of Mr. William Goodman, consultant to the Andover Planning Board was that the West Andover Industrial Park was much too large and should be carefully scrutinized at this particular time before any commitments to industrial developers are made in West Andover.

"Cautious step by step planning would seem to be in order at this time considering general economic conditions and uncertainty as to development in 1958. The above statements apply also to the wholesale re-zoning for business now being urged upon the Planning Board."

Dunn Objects To Using Basso Land

The Andover Housing Authority ran into opposition last week to its proposal to use two acres out of some seven of the undeveloped Basso property near the Playstead for 30 housing units for the elderly.

The Authority said they had considered Carmel Woods since it, too, was town owned land, but the state experts had felt it was too far from shops and churches compared with the Basso site.

The idea would be to use a hilly corner of the Basso property in the section next to the Veterans project - a part which the Authority argued would be far more expensive to develop as a flat playing area than the rest of the land.

Athletic Director Donald Dunn was strong in his opposition. He described vast plans for the property including more football fields and baseball diamonds, tennis courts and play areas and he said the hilly part had been earmarked for coasting for the children.

Mr. Dunn said that conditions were so crowded on the Playstead now where there were some 2,000 children, that youngsters were continually being hurt and run over by bicycles.

Mr. Dunn said that the minimum requirement, according to the National Recreation Association, was one acre for every 200 children - which means a total of 10 acres for the playground for the number of children now in the school plant.

It was pointed out by members of the housing authority that there seemed to be quite a bit of undeveloped land surrounding several other schools in town - including the 74 acres on which the new High School stands - and that two acres for the senior citizens near the center of things seemed relatively small to ask for.

Director Dunn believed that the older people would be bothered by the physical education program which was going to be expanded. He said if one of the older people were ill, a "Quiet" zone would be hard to enforce and that it might be dangerous if one of the older people ventured onto the playing field.

The Housing Authority said that the state experts had explained the senior citizens liked to be near the center of things, disliked to be shunted off in a corner and particularly enjoyed watching young people. It was observed that a good many older people attend the league baseball games in the summer.

The entire housing authority was present, led by its chairman George Noury. It was believed that the approval of the School Board was not required for the use of the land, but in any event the Authority felt they should discuss the matter with the Committee before putting an article in the warrant. It will be up to the town meeting whether it wishes to transfer the two acres to the housing authority for a state financed 30 unit housing for the elderly project.

Mrs. M. B. McTernan, 27 Wolcott ave., has returned from a three weeks' visit with her son, Malcolm B. McTernan Jr. of Chagrin Falls, Ohio.

FRIDAY AND TUESDAY NITES UNTIL 9***

Dinner-Dance Is Saturday

Plans have been completed for the 10th annual Installation Dinner Dance of the Andover Catholic Men's Club, Jan. 18.

A catered dinner will be served at the Andover Country Club at 7:30 p.m., followed by dancing until midnight. The party is open to the public and committee members may be contacted for tickets.

Raymond J. Lavin, past president, heads the committee, assisted by Alphonse Zappardi, Williams Richards, John Erwin, John McAllister, Frank Nelligan, Garrett, Burke and Dr. Joseph P. McEneaney, retiring president. The new president is John Hewitt.

Eaton Seeks Planning Seat

James H. Eaton III of High Plain rd. will seek election to the Planning Board in March.

He is the second candidate for the five-year term being vacated by Lee Noyes.

Eaton is a native of Andover and is a member of the legal firm of Eaton and Chandler of Lawrence, which his grandfather helped to start.

Educated in public schools here, Eaton studied at Governor Dummer Academy and then enlisted in the Navy, serving for two years in the Pacific area. He was graduated from Boston University with the class of 1950 and from Portia Law School. He was admitted to the Bar in 1952.

He is married to the former Nancy Jean Nelb of No. Andover. The couple has two children.

Connors Heads Prom Committee

At a recent meeting of the junior class at Andover High School, the following were nominated for Prom Committee Chairman: David Pearson, Frank Froburg, George Connors, George Reed, and Linda Plummer. George Connors was elected to this office by a class vote.

At the same meeting, William Simpson, class president, appointed a committee to look into the possibility of having a class play. The members chosen were Beverly Muise, Irene Cordts, George Connors, Barbara Hatch and Margaret Nicoll.

Entertained Andover Assoc. Delegates

At 12:30 Sunday a dinner was served by the Pilgrim Fellowship of the West Church to the delegates of the Andover Association. About 30 attended the dinner and the Action Workshop which followed at 1:30 until 4:30.

The regular meeting of the Pilgrim Fellowship of the West Church was held at 6:30 and this was followed by a Tobogganing Party at the slopes of the Country Club. Refreshments were served in the Vestry following the return of the group.

SPORTSMEN PLAN BUFFET AND DANCE

The first buffet and dance of the Andover Sportsmen's Club will be held Saturday night at the clubhouse from 8-12.

Reservations must be made by tonight with President Christopher Muller, Financial Secretary Kenneth E. Wade or Ways and Means Chairman Chet Harnden.

Cooperation Is The Best Way

One of the vital decisions expected at town meeting concerns this community's industrial future.

There is a proposal that the town appropriate $1000 and join with its neighbors, Lawrence, Methuen and No. Andover, in a mutual development program. This step has the endorsement of the Industrial Development Commission and the Selectmen. The Planning Board does not recommend it.

Cooperation seems to be the only answer. We hope the voters at town meeting will see the wisdom of joining with the other communities in this effort.

There are sound reasons for cooperating.

The area industrial group will have an over-all budget of close to $60,000, to which we will have contributed $1000 this year. When you try to visualize the promotional activities that can be accomplished with $60,000, as compared to our own $1000, it becomes obvious that the larger amount will do more towards promoting the Greater Lawrence area, including this town, than our $1000 could ever do alone for the community.

The basic idea behind the cooperative development program is to advertise and promote sites in all four communities. This is based on the knowledge that a firm inspecting sites in one town may not find what it wants, but the firm is more likely to find a good site when it is possible to choose among the many available in the four communities combined. It is necessary to have information available for these interested firms - specific data on topography, water availability, cost of installation of utilities and all the other information any firm would need to make up its mind.

This data can be obtained for all the sites in the four communities - but this often costs money. The area industrial committee would be in a better position, with its larger budget, to have the necessary engineering surveys completed than the town of Andover would, if it goes its own way.

It is true that Andover's contribution may not produce commensurate results in the very first year. We may not come up with an industry in 1958, as a direct result of this cooperation. But in the long haul, our money will be well invested. Our investment in this activity will, we are certain, produce more results than could be obtained by spending the same amounts of money independently.

The proposed area development group will have an equal number of members from each community, so there is little chance that this town or any other will be able to dominate the group, or be dominated.

This seems like a real opportunity to take a progressive, sensible step towards expanding industrial use of property zoned for the purpose. Let's not hesitate to take the steps necessary, when town meeting arrives in March.

Good Work On Snow

Board of Public Works crews should be congratulated on the way they cleared away the snow.

Under the direction of Supt. Stanley Chlebowski, the men did a good job, under adverse conditions. Despite the loss of six of the 16 trucks used to plow snow, the streets were in fair condition shortly after the storm ended. And they improved steadily the following day, through continued plowing and scraping.

The Main st. area was, as usually, quickly cleared of the accumulation. We think the BPW deserves credit for this work.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - January, 1908
Joshua Paine has set up a blacksmith business for himself in No. Andover.

Chester Harnden caught a string of 40 pickerel last Friday in the Shawheen River.

The Rev. A. H. Fuller gave the morning address last Tuesday at the Haverhill Neighborhood Convention of Churches.

Tickets for the concert of the Tufts musical groups, to be given in Lawrence next Monday evening, can be obtained from Dr. M. B. McTernan.

William Shaw of Ballardvale was the speaker of the evening at the quarterly meeting of the Christian Endeavor Union Tuesday evening.

25 Years Ago - January, 1933

Jan. 25 has been set as a date for a special town meeting to reconsider the state school location in West Andover. The petitioners for the meeting told the Selectmen that the Legislature will meet prior to the annual town meeting and that action by the town is needed before the Legislature takes up the subject.

The annual meeting of the Free Church was held Wednesday evening.

GOURMET "STEALS"

BY BETTY BLAISDELL

It seems to me a real "must" in any family household these wintry days is a good old-fashioned homemade beef-vegetable soup, kept just below simmering on a low burner after the peak of rich perfection has been reached. The kids coming in from skating or sliding the hills on their new Christmas sleds and flying saucers give it the okay even before they've had time to remove the footgear, and likely as not two bowls get sloshed down before you can remind them that supper is not far off.

With about five pounds of good beef shank simmering on my own stove just now and all the ingredients added except several vegetables which take only 10 minutes or so to cook, it is easy to talk soup without growing vague. The recipe as I conjure it goes like this:

BEEF-VEGETABLE SOUP

- 5 lbs. beef shank
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 Tbl. salt
- 2 cups chopped onion
- 1/2 cup chopped celery tops
- 1 Tbl. chopped parsley
- 2 qts. water
- 2 No. 303 cans stewed tomatoes
- 6 peppercorns
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 1/2 cups finely cut celery

Two members of the School Committee will not seek re-election this year. They are Clifford W. Dunnells and Mrs. E. V. French. J. Harry Playdon has also announced he will not run again for the Board of Public Works. Most other office holders have said they will seek re-election.

The members of the Punchard football team will be feted at a dance tonight at 8 in Punchard Hall, under the sponsorship of the senior girls.

A balance amounting to only 10 percent of that of a year ago would have been left in town accounts this year, had it not been for frequent use of reserve funds.

Thursday, Feb. 9, has been set as the last day for filing special articles for the annual town meeting warrant.

A new era in our government was discussed before the November Club Monday afternoon by Mrs. Joshua Hale of Newburyport.

Gunther Ramin, one of Europe's noted organists, will present a recital here Jan. 24 in the Phillips Academy Chapel.

10 Years Ago - January, 1948

The Selectmen have again asked the railroad to take steps to keep its crossings here safe. After a recent near-accident, they wrote the railroad again requesting that better operation of the road is desirable. The railroad's president assured the Selectmen that all necessary steps would be taken to avoid accidents.

Several prominent citizens have endorsed the firemen's request for a 48-hour week. They now put in 70 hours weekly.

The Board of Public Works has asked residents to clear snow away from hydrants near their homes. Crews are still working to get the heavy snow accumulation cleared up and the BPW suggests residents can be of tremendous help in this way.

National and state guests, with many invited guests, helped Court St. Monica, Catholic Daughters of America, celebrate its 25th anniversary Monday night. The silver jubilee celebration was held at the Andover Inn.

Irving "Bump" Hadley was guest speaker at the Service Club meeting Thursday night. He told many interesting baseball stories and amusing incidents. Dist. Atty. Hugh Cregg will be the speaker at the next meeting.

Snow clearing operations since Dec. 23 have cost the town $14,000. So far this season there has been 5 1/2 inches of snow fall in Andover.

- 1 cup diced carrots
- 1 cup shaved cabbage
- 1 cup finely cut spinach
- 1 box frozen peas
- 1 cup green beans
- 1 1/2 cups diced potatoes

A soup like this one makes about five quarts and is economical only insofar as it serves many and always stretches into a second day with improved flavor. The beef shank which you buy with bone in and have cut in at least three pieces, runs about $2.24 and the vegetables add considerably more to the cost - but the vitamins which are stashed into this single pot are fabulous! Frankly, I was ready and willing to throw in about a half cup of dried soybeans just for the staggering amount of Vitamins G and B1 that could be gained, but my grocer was unable to produce them.

On with the makings: Put the beef into a large kettle with 2 quarts of water, the garlic, salt, celery tops and onion. Cover and simmer about 4 hours, or until meat is tender. Skim soup. Remove bones and meat; set meat aside. Strain stock and add to it the stewed tomatoes. Melt 1/2 cup butter in large skillet, saute all the vegetables except the frozen peas and spinach, about seven minutes, stirring often. Add to the soup stock, cover and simmer 20 minutes. Then add the frozen peas, finely cut spinach and the meat cut into bite-size pieces. Cover and simmer 10 minutes and adjust seasonings.

SCALLOPED EGGPLANT

Buying a few much-needed skin emulsifiers the other day, I was confronted with some talk on the cell vitamin (G) and what the lack of it does to general skin tone. Amazing we don't all pack more of it into our daily diets! Cosmetics do what they can, but 90 Sherman Units of Riboflavin to one ounce of uncooked eggplant is hard to beat and prompts this very good family recipe (less tasty to me than eggplant dipped in egg and bread crumbs and deep fried, but much more digestible).

- 1 med eggplant
- 6 Tbl. butter
- 3 Tbl. chopped onion
- 3 cups soft bread crumbs
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/2 tsp. Spice Islands mixed Herbs

- 1 Tbl. lemon juice
- 1 Tbl. minced parsley

Pare eggplant and cut in 1/2 inch pieces. Put in double boiler, cover and cook over hot water about 30 minutes, until eggplant is tender. Melt butter in skillet, add onion and saute slowly 3 minutes. Mix bread crumbs with salt, pepper poultry seasoning, lemon juice and parsley. Add onions and butter and mix well. Stir in eggplant gently. Pour mixture in greased 1 1/2 quart baking dish or casserole and bake in 425 degree oven about 15 minutes, until browned. Serves 6.

CHOCOLATE RING WITH MOCHA CREAM

(Mrs. P. Haydon Clark)

"Ginny" warns this is expensive but it is a delicious party dessert which has helped to earn her a reputation for gourmet dishes. She makes this a day ahead of a dinner party, of course because it's a bit fussy.

- 8 oz. semi-sweet chocolate bits
- 2 cups milk
- 1 1/2 Tbl. unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/8 tsp. salt
- 1/2 cup light cream
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla
- 1/4 tsp. almond extract

1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Scald chocolate bits in double boiler with 1 1/2 cups milk, until chocolate is melted. Soften the gelatin in 1/2 cup cold milk and while stirring briskly add the gelatin, 1/2 cup of granulated sugar and salt, stir until dissolved and cook mixture until it starts to thicken, stirring occasionally. Cool. Add 1/2 cup light cream, the flavorings and 1 cup heavy cream, whipped. Mix to smoothness and chill until it thickens again. Beat until good and thick and pour into 5 or 6 cup molds which have been rinsed in cold water.

MOCHA CREAM

This is added to the molds the day the dessert is to be served. Simply sprinkle 2 tsp. instant coffee over 1/4 cup of heavy cream, add 1/4 tsp. vanilla and whip while adding 3 Tbl. granulated sugar. Top the unmolded desserts and sprinkle with a few shavings of chocolate.

CROCOLATE MACAROONS (Mrs. Julius Kay)

So good I had to ask for the recipe! Mrs. Kay made a large batch for the recent International Institute Fair at the November Club and being in the No. 1 spot to see and sell the food donations, I bought the entire batch while it was still warm.

- 2 egg whites, beaten
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 1/2 cups shredded coconut
- 1-6 oz. pkg. semi-sweet choc. bits, melted
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla
- pinch salt

Beat the whites until stiff, adding the sugar gradually. Add other ingredients and stir. Drop by spoonfuls on heavy brown paper which has been cut and fitted to oven rack (no cookie sheet required) and bake 12 to 15 minutes at 325 degrees. Dr. Kay and daughter, Betsy, can make the three dozen disappear in nothing flat!

Susan Kenney Wins Best Fiction Award

Fourteen-year-old Susan Kenney, 16 Johnson rd., has won the Fiction Award for a contribution appearing in the January issue of the American Girl Magazine. The magazine is published for all girls by the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. and reaches more than a half a million subscribers monthly.

Following is her prize-winning award as it appears in the magazine, entitled "How The Horse Got His Hoofs":

"Many years ago there lived an animal named Eohippus. Although he was only the size of a small dog, he was the first horse on Earth. Eohippus lived in a small thicket made from overhanging ferns, which was surrounded by a field of lava hardened into jagged rock. Every morning he would arise and search for food. Across the field of lava was a crystal-clear spring and around it plenty of tall, thick grass. It was an ideal place for Eohippus to spend a day. The only trouble was that it was also a good place for a dinosaur to spend a day, and Eohippus would provide a delicious meal for a dinosaur. Eohippus was forced to start out very early in the morning to graze by the stream. He had just enough time to have a good meal and race back to his thicket before the dinosaurs came along. Unfortunately, he would cut his feet on the sharp rocks because he had to run too fast to pick his way. Soon Eohippus's toes were all swollen and cut.

"One day Eohippus had finished his dinner and was about to run back to his thicket before the dinosaurs spied him, when he heard a desperate cry for help. Now, Eohippus was a good horse, and when he heard the cry he didn't hesitate, but ran toward the sound. Soon he came upon a small monkey lying in the grass. The monkey weakly beckoned him as he approached and explained the situation.

"I've twisted my leg on this root and I can't get up! Please run for help!" he cried desperately.

"Eohippus trembled as he heard dinosaurs coming closer and closer, but he bravely knelt down beside the monkey. 'There isn't time for that!' he shouted. Jump on my back!

"I can't! You'll never be able to carry me! I'm too heavy for a teeny animal like you!" the monkey cried, but at last he followed Eohippus' orders.

"As soon as the monkey was on, Eohippus struggled to his feet and ran away as fast as he could. No sooner had he left the spring than a dinosaur came into view and began to pursue them. Soon he turned back, because the hard rocks cut his feet. However, Eohippus struggled on until he was safe in his thicket. Then he flopped down and fell into an exhausted sleep.

"The next day Eohippus' feet were too sore to allow him to cross the lava field for food. Late that night he was licking his cut and swollen toes when suddenly a dazzling light shone in his eyes.

"Suddenly a huge figure stood in front of him. It was like a great bear, and Eohippus trembled with fear.

"I am the Great Ape. Do not be afraid!" came a booming voice.

"Eohippus started, because he knew that the Great Ape was the wisest animal on earth.

"I have come to reward you for saving my son's life!" he said, waving his huge, hairy hand.

"Suddenly Eohippus looked at his feet in amazement. They had closed up and formed into one toe. Then around that appeared a horny nail, forming a hoof. Eohippus felt a funny sensation, and he seemed to grow larger and larger until, when he stood up, he was bigger than the Great Ape himself. That is why the horses of today, Eohippus's descendants, have only one toe, or hoof, on each leg, and are able to carry riders so easily."

mine, and grades ten through twelve. "We Can Agree..." is the title; each is a set of guiding principles to be used in the home. It is well known that parents are helpless in the face of "everybody else does", and that they feel that a lack of measuring rod in management of young people is a serious thing. The Parents Council of Secondary Schools was formed in 1951, because of widespread concern among parents and school personnel regarding use of alcohol by students, unchaperoned parties, "young driver" problems, late hours, inappropriate dress, party crashing and a general disregard for the rights and property of others. Parents of these two age groups may wish to get together to set up their own articles of agreement, so that one cause for uncertainty is removed; all will know what "they" are doing. A parent interested in this subject may have free copies of the pamphlets.

New Books At The Library

Here are a few books recently added to the Memorial Hall Library: The Heretic, MacLean — the author parachuted into Jugoslavia during World War II as Churchill's personal emissary to the Partisans; he has talked with Tito many times, and tells of these meetings; Tell Me A Story, Laughton — unique anthology of the best things which Charles Laughton has used in his famous readings; A View From The Hill, Sumner — a satisfying account of a middle aged woman's discovery that her life had not ended with the half century mark; Adventures In Good Eating and Lodging For A Night, both by the famous Duncan Hines, who tells the reader the short cuts to good lodging and the best places to find good food when traveling; Woman's Guide To Better Living 52 Weeks A Year, Schindler — Dr. Schindler, in his last book, has left some sound advice and helpful opinions on health, self-esteem, a woman's place in the family, in her home and in the world; Drawn From Memory, Shepard — the artist who drew the pictures for Milne's "Winnie the Pooh" has told of his own childhood in London; this is a delightful read-aloud for almost any age; Lieutenant In Algeria, Servan-Schreiber — the author, a Paris publisher, was drafted for duty in North Africa and tells of the guerilla war in the mountains south of Algeria; Jubilee, Atlantic Monthly — the ninth editor of the fine old magazine presents the finest writings of the 100 years of its publication; the book reflects life in the United States through the writing of well-known authors.

Prints On Display At Abbot Gallery

The 1958 calendar of exhibitions at the John-Esther Gallery of Abbot Academy opened Jan. 13 with an exhibition entitled: "11 Contemporary Printmakers." This marks an event which presents not only a very interesting print show, but exhibits as well the new gallery interior, completely renovated during the month of December.

This exhibition of prints by eleven outstanding American Printmakers, many of whom also work creatively in the field of painting, shows that there is much experimentation in the graphic field today, bringing now freedom and inventiveness within the mediums of lithography; etching, the woodcut, engraving and the collogut an original process invented by one of the artists represented. The eleven artists whose work is being shown are: Suki Berg, Minna Citron, Jan Golb, Priscilla Haley, Albert Heckman, Gerson Leihor, Boris Margo, Barbara Noustadt, Irwin Rosonhous, Aubrey Schwartz and Romas Viesulas. Many of those printmakers work at the Blackburn Graphic Studio in New York City, a cooperative workshop, and some in private studios; and it was with the personal cooperation of each artist that the selection of prints for this show was made. It is interesting to note the Atelier 17, run by the well-known printmaker Stanley Hayter, was a fore-runner to the Blackburn Studio, and many of the artists exhibiting worked with Hayter at the Atelier. All of the artists have exhibited widely in this country, some internationally, and the majority are represented in the permanent collections of leading United States Museums, including the Metropolitan Museum of Art, The Museum of Modern Art, and the Whitney Museum in New York. Some have also shown locally with the Boston Printmakers and at the Boston Arts Festival. The work presented represents some of the best in graphic work being done in this country. Most of the printmakers limit their editions of prints, enabling them to achieve richer prints of higher quality, and to print them themselves. The prints will be on view through Feb. 12.

OK's $1000 For Region Development

Andover's Industrial Commission has recommended that the town participate in a Greater Lawrence Regional Industrial Committee, with an appropriation of $1,000 for the coming year. The Selectmen have added their approval.

An article asking town meeting to allow its representatives to join Lawrence, No. Andover and Methuen in a project to bring industry to the area, will be put into the spring warrant along with a request for the money.

A letter of opinion from the Andover Industrial group was written Dec. 23 and the Selectmen replied Monday.

The Commission wrote: "Referring to the meeting held in Town Hall, Dec. 18, 1957 regarding the Town of Andover participating in the Greater Lawrence Regional Industrial Committee, our Commission recommends such participation with the following understanding:

"1. That the Towns of No. Andover and Methuen also agree to participate.

"2. That there be equal representation with the City of Lawrence, Andover, No. Andover and Methuen. Such equal representation to also apply to the executive or any other committee. If it is felt that committees should have an uneven number of members, the City of Lawrence to have the additional member.

"3. Maximum assessment to be on the basis of $50 (50 per capita for the population as determined by the most recent state or national decennial census. Such maximum assessment for the Town of Andover to be $1,000 for the first year and not reaching the maximum of $7,500 (based on present population) until the third year of participation.

"4. The appropriation each year to be subject to the approval of the Finance Committee and the Town Meeting.

"If you agree with the above recommendation, we would also suggest that this Commission be authorized to negotiate the details after hearing from the Towns of No. Andover and Methuen".

Reply
The Selectmen replied:

"This Board feels that you are taking a step in the right direction and it will be perfectly agreeable with us for you to go along with the various items that you have outlined in your letter.

"We feel that your committee should go along on the basis of $1,000 the first year to see what the outcome might be. Of course, you realize that any appropriation of this sort must be approved at Town Meeting.

"We would be interested to know what stand the Planning Board might take in this matter". An opinion from the Planning Board is expected after their meeting in January.

Donkey Basketball Game Scheduled

The Andover High School Varsity Club will sponsor a donkey basketball game between members of the male faculty of the school system and the varsity basketball team Saturday, Feb. 8.

The game will be played at the Andover Junior High School Memorial Auditorium and Gymnasium. The purpose of the game will be to raise further funds for the Varsity Club Scholarship Fund.

Two years ago, a donkey basketball game started the Varsity Club Scholarship Fund. The proceeds of that game served as the foundation for a continuing scholarship for some deserving senior who plans to go on to college. Since its inauguration in 1956, the Varsity Club Scholarship Fund has awarded two scholarships to boys who are doing well at the college of their choice.

The game of donkey basketball employs a set of trained donkeys which are ridden by the players. The animals are equipped with rubber shoes to avoid damage to the floor.

The entire game is played from the backs of donkeys which are trained to do just the opposite of what their riders want them to do. The rider says "giddy up" and the donkey lies down or stops. The player is set for a sure basket and the donkey dumps him on the floor before he can shoot. They always "zig" when they are to "zag". The donkeys continually cross up their riders.

To add interest and laughs, male faculty members have agreed to donate their talents to do this worthy cause and have issued a challenge to the varsity team. The score of the 1956 game showed that the men had what it takes - 16 to 10 for the faculty. This year's varsity has vowed revenge for this humiliating defeat. Both squads are even now training diligently for the supreme test.

Following the game, dancing will be offered to all who attend, at no extra charge. Mike Gavin, popular disc jockey, will spin the records.

Members of the Varsity Club will canvas the town during the week of Jan. 27 for ticket sales and tickets are available from club members or at the high school. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

Historical Soc. Plans Meetings

A series of afternoon meetings is being planned by the Andover Historical Society during the winter months.

All will be held at 4 o'clock, with tea following, at the Amos Blanchard House, 97 Main st.

The first is scheduled for Jan. 24. B. Allan Rowland will read a paper on the "Old Railroads", an account of how the railroad first came to Andover, written by J. P. Whiskeman III, Phillips Academy class of 1957.

Leonard James, head of the History Department at Phillips, will speak on "Witchcraft in New England" at the second meeting Feb. 14.

"Who Was Amos Blanchard?" is the subject of the third meeting, with Scott H. Paradise presenting the topic.

Members of the Society and friends are invited to attend the series.

Lawrence Wrote Christmas Play

Wallis W. Lawrence of Andover is co-author of the Christmas Play which was presented to the students and faculty associated with Dunster House at Harvard College. Dunster House is one of seven undergraduate residences at Harvard.

On Dec. 14, the students gave the original play, "Don Juan in Texas," written by Lawrence and Arthur L. Kopit of Lawrence, N.Y. A Christmas dinner, carol singing and a house dance completed the traditional Dunster House celebration.

Lawrence, son of Mr. L. F. Lawrence, 8 Robandy rd., is a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy. A senior at the College, he is majoring in English.

Conceit gives a man an exalted opinion of himself, and he still retains a low opinion of human nature.

Flowers For All Occasions

Attending were three Planning Board members, Chairman Lee Noyes, Virginia Hammond and John Cole III. The Finance Committee, invited to participate, were unable to attend. And Selectmen Stafford Lindsay and William V. Emmons also were away on other engagements. Taxpayers President Harold Haller sat in at the session.

George Lister presided at the meeting, as chairman of the Board of Trade's parking committee. He told those present that the meeting was called to jointly explore the off-street parking problem and to attain a better understanding between the various boards of the town and the Board of Trade.

Although it was not decided to specifically approve other articles for town meeting, relating to re-locating the police station and obtaining sites for fire stations, the Board of Trade promised its whole-hearted cooperation in any plan for the redevelopment of the area now containing municipal buildings and surrounded by lower valued property, and, thus, the eventual location of town buildings on sites chosen for them after study.

Board of Trade members insisted that the answer to the immediate problem of parking lies with the Barnard property. And they looked hopefully at the Shorten property behind the fire station as an additional area for off-street parking.

The Barnard site was estimated to hold 36 to 38 cars, at an estimated cost for property and development of about $38,000.

The Shorten land, back to Bartlett st.; improving it for parking; plus the space between the town hall and fire station which could be used for parking; would all cost an estimated $65,000. White furnished the estimate, telling the meeting that owner Robert Shorten has said he "will not stand in the way of progress" if the town wishes to buy his land.

It was estimated that about 40 cars could be parked on the Shorten property until the time the town wishes to take it over for municipal office building purposes.

Trade Board member Joseph Doherty suggested the groups support the acquisition of the Shorten property as a wise investment for the future, for the town. Its use for parking, he said, would actually be only incidental to the real reason for buying it — its value to the town in future years.

White agreed that the town might one day very much regret not having bought this land and he proposed that immediate steps be taken to get on with the re-locating of the police station.

White suggested that an article be placed in the warrant for the March town meeting, including purchase of the Shorten property, a site for a police station, possibly funds for its construction during 1958 and possibly for a fire station site.

He told the gathering that the area from the town hall to Bartlett st., 150 feet wide at the Main st. end and 140 feet wide at Bartlett st., could hold 144 cars, angled parked against a 10-foot wide center strip. This would be six feet of sidewalk, he suggested, with a two foot strip on either side for shrubs and flowers. A five-foot sidewalk also could be located on both sides of the area.

White's over-all plan is to re-locate the town hall at the rear of the property, backed up against Bartlett st., with a center sidewalk and angle parking from Main st. to the hall. This eventual step, he realized, might be five or 10 years away. But he urged taking initial steps this year.

Describing 1958 as a time when other major expenditures, particularly schools, are not contemplated, White thought this would be a good time to get the plan off the ground.

While supporting the basic idea of redevelopment of the area, and promising to work for it, Trade Board members did not specifically take action on any of its parts except the Shorten property.

$211,375 Worth Of New Building

The estimated cost of new buildings, for which permits were issued during December, was $211,375. Additions and alterations were estimated at $3800 by Building Inspector Ralph W. Coleman.

The cost of new structures was swelled by two municipal projects — the chemical mix plant in Ballardvale and the chemical feed building at the Abbot well site.

Permits for new homes, with garages, were issued to Herbert Rines, Woodland rd.; Frances Mahoney, Lovejoy rd.; Bernard Ristuccia, Holt rd.; Fred Doyle, Oriole dr.; Waldo Hensel, Arcadia rd.; Suburban Household Inc., two on North st.; and Roger Lalit, Boutwell rd. A permit for one dwelling was issued to Robert Swayer, Allen ct.

Additions and alterations, for which permits were issued, went to David Markert, 144 Chestnut st., enclosure porch; Joseph Burns, Fox Hill rd., add breezeway and garage; Joseph Cardella, Punched ave., small interior alterations; Frances Mahoney, Lowell st., move from foundation; Fred Doyle, Argilla rd., tear down building; Lawrence Gas Co., Lupin rd., tear down gas holder; Alfred Patvin, River rd., tear down building; Clinton Shaw, Holt rd., tear down milk room; and Arthur Steiner, Union st., tear down garage.

HAM AND BEAN SUPPER

Fleischli's Rocket Failed To Take Off

Gerry Fleischli, whose attempt to fire his home-made rocket was foiled by safety officials here a few weeks ago, tested it Sunday in Seabrook, N. H.

The rocket failed. And during the same test, George Desmet, another Andover High student, tested his two-stage rocket. It, too, failed.

Gerry said his rocket "hopped out of the launcher" and went about 10 feet along the ground. It was damaged beyond repair, Fleischli explained.

The same fate was in store for Desmet's rocket. It went about 100 feet, but was also damaged severely.

Fleischli said the diaphragm, which is designed to contain the energy released by ignited fuel until just the right moment, then release in order to give the rocket thrust into the air, failed. It apparently was too weak, he said, as was Desmet's.

The rocket sat for about 55 seconds, he related, as the fuel inside burned. But when it should have taken off, it "hopped" off instead.

No one objected to the experiment, Fleischli reported, even commenting that a state trooper went by as the test began but didn't stop. Here in Andover, Fire and Police officials stepped in to prevent the test on the grounds that state officials have recommended a ban on all such experiments at this time.

Fleischli said he may build another rocket, "if I have time", but won't know until a careful study of this one is completed.

White Suggests Area Improvement

A vast, $1,500,000 project involving Park and Barnard sts. has been proposed by Selectman Sidney P. White to the Board of Trade.

He suggested, during a Trade Board meeting Jan. 10, that the present town hall, fire station and buildings on private property be removed all the way back to Bartlet st. A new town hall would be constructed at the rear of this property, with a sidewalk from Main st. to the hall. Cars could be angle parked on both sides, with additional angle parking on both Barnard and Park sts.

The police and fire stations would be moved elsewhere, according to the plan.

The Board of Trade had met to consider off-street parking and the refusal of the Finance Committee to approve spending municipal dollars for additional space in the downtown area.

White told the group he believes the town should not "get into the real estate business" and he also made the point that parking areas should not be provided when they would be of sole benefit to the merchants along Main st.

But he proposed that the town, facing the need for a new town hall, a new police station and a new fire station, might be able to provide additional parking while vastly improving an area of low valuation property. He foresaw the possibility that many new stores would be located along Park and Barnard sts. and up to Florence st. along Park, as a result of the project. These would "more than pay for the carrying charges of the project" with their tax dollars, he predicted.

The Trade Board members, representing most business establishments along Main st. and several other firms, greeted the plan enthusiastically, but repeated their request for additional off-street parking right away. Many suggested that White's plan should be implemented in steps, while some parking to relieve present congestion could be obtained this year. They proposed that some of the Barnard Estate property along Barnard st. could be purchased, as originally suggested, and then might be sold by the town when the new project is completed.

The Finance Committee, represented by Chairman Harold Rutter Jr. and Charles Hatch, said that body feels the town should not provide parking for the merchants. They agreed that White's over-all plan is a good one, but repeated their belief that the town should not get into the parking business.

It was suggested that White's plan could be completed in a few years, by asking the voters to approve it step-by-step.

The first year's move, White suggested, was to ask for money to buy land for a police station and for, possibly, two smaller fire stations to replace the present one. He explained that the current thinking is that two stations could better serve the town, by being located closer to the area they serve, than one in the town's center.

If the town meeting approved these land articles, with adequate money for purchase and for building the structures, White thought the area behind the town hall could be cleared by the end of 1958. The next steps would be to take privately-owned property to Bartlet st. and to build a new town house.

He stressed repeatedly that the over-all project, once completed, would open up a larger, modern, attractive shopping area. Present buildings, he said, would be replaced with modern, high-quality stores, from which more tax revenue would be realized.

Members of the Board of Trade endorsed the idea in principle and voted to support it. But they also asked that parking facilities be provided by the town while the larger plan is being developed.

Dr. Scarito Will Speak To Sorority

Rev. Hill Will Be Ordained

The Rev. Frederick Hill, the assistant minister at Christ Church for the past seven months, will be ordained to the Priesthood by the Rt. Rev. Anson P. Stokes D. D., Bishop of Massachusetts, at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning at Christ Church.

The preacher will be the Rev. Gardiner M. Day, Rector of Christ Church, Cambridge; the Epistolar, the Rev. Philip Krug, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Weston; the Gospeller, the Rev. Robert C. Ayers, Rector of Emmanuel Church, Adams, N.Y. and the Litanist, the Rev. Richard B. Kalter, Graduate Student in Divinity, Harvard University.

Mr. Hill is a native of Vermont. He graduated from Wagner College, Staten Island, N.Y. in 1952 and from Harvard Divinity School in 1956. After a year of graduate study at the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, during which he was also student assistant at Christ Church, he was elected assistant minister in May 1957 and began his active ministry here last July.

The service is, of course, open to the public and is the first Ordination service that has been held in Christ Church for a great many years. It is one of the most impressive services in the liturgy of the Anglican Church.

BAKERY SALE TOMORROW MORNING

The Friendly Guild of Christ Church will hold a bakery sale Friday morning, Jan. 17, from 10 to 12 at Hill's Hardware store on Main st. A committee including Mrs. David Anderson, Mrs. Arthur Reading and Mrs. Alfred Harris will be at the store early to accept bakery items. Those desiring to have their contributions picked up may call Mrs. Malcolm Battles, 3 Chandler rd.
