FROM BPW MEETINGS
Reporters for two newspapers were excluded from the Board of Public Works meeting Monday night for the second week in a row.
Chairman David Thompson told the reporters the subject of press coverage of the meetings would be discussed if all Board members came to the meeting but later sent word that Secretary Alex Henderson was absent — thus the subject would not be taken up. The Board voted on a new set of rules covering open meetings Jan. 13, which, they said, automatically open meetings Jan. 13, which, they said, automatically negated the former vote to allow newspaper coverage. Thus, reporters were banned until the subject could be debated privately by the elected members of the Board.

Playground Director George Snyder said that because of the general state of the building, it was not considered safe to use even what was left of the toilet facilities for the youngsters. He said that all that would be needed for playground use would be a building similar to that in Bal-lardvale, with two toilets and a room with shelves to store equipselectman Stafford Lindsay suggested that the $2,500 voted to repair the school be turned over to build the fieldhouse. The Selectmen expressed their agreement, but felt that perhaps formalities would have to be completed such as having town meeting turn such as having town meeting turn back the repair money and appro-priate out another $2,500 for the building. On a suggestion that perhaps now the playground might move to the new high school area, there was general disapproval. In the was general disapproval. In the first place it was pointed out that Indian Ridge draws youngsters from Castle Heights and No. Main st., and that Shawsheen rd. with no sidewalks would be dangerous for them

Mr. Snyder said that the new high school area has now no fa-cilities for a playground and that he had been informed that the cost of removing the ledge on the ground to construct a playground would be "tremendous". He said that the problem there, he under stood, was to provide proper ath-letic facilities, and that any playground facilities would be "in the far distant future." Committee member James Do-

He said if this yard could be graded and spruced the many children in the neighbor hood could even have something they never had before — a softball YOU ARE MY DESTINY Paul Anka

Veterans Agent Frank Markey, who is also secretary of the re-creation committee, said he hoped that when the building was razed, thought would be given to moving the Veterans of Foreign Wars Memorial plaque on a boulder on the grounds. It is now in front of the school building, he said, and should be moved to just the right spot.

In fact, a bill has already been filed in the state Legislature seeking a $4,000 minimum, and in the local paper of a few weeks ago, we were told that the average family income in Andover, after taxes, was $6,500, or $500 higher than our suggested minimum before taxes.

"As for immediate full adjustment, the need is now, not next

Through-out the nation, there is a growing out the nation, there is a growing awareness that the practice of underpaying teachers is beginning to reap bitter fruits. Our Federal government, feeling the need keenly, is discussing subsidization in figures of from four to five billions of dollars.

"But with all this national fan-fare, the real issue, the successes or failures in our American educa-tion system, are going to be determined in small rooms like this, by people like you through-out the whole United States. The responsibility today is a great run. Time is running out. Yet even in the face of this, the temptation sometimes exists to nationatize, the temptation exists to temporize, the temptation exists to compromise; but the need, the to compromise; but the need, the clear-cut all important need, is never changed. Mr. and Mrs. Lee were well known to their patrons here in town, and to many who took the couple's problems to heart after Mr. Lee's paralytic stroke a few years ago, which resulted in the loss of use of his arm. Only those who were stationed near-by knew of the many times that our police and fire officers kept an eye o the little Chinese couple. Illness and financial worries happen to us all, at times. But we are in our own country, many in our own birthplace, and friends are always at hand. To be in a foreign country, to speak that country's language a little, nust be very hard in season of pros-perity; in times of trouble, it must be frightening.

This brief letter is to comment on a quality of the Lees which was very endearing to those who knew them. There was the most resilient optimism, courage and faith in their natures. Always ready to laugh, always ready for a "joke", they gave much in inspiration to those who knew them. There are those who leel that they can meet life a little better because of the lew years that the Lees lived in our town.

Too Much Power For One Man

In a news story this week, we see that the Taxpayers' Association proposes to increase the power and authority of the Finance Committee.

This would be done by requiring a two-thirds vote at town meeting to over-ride an adverse recommendation of the town's advisory financial body.

This step, although obviously suggested with the best of motives and for reasons that appear sound, may actually be a dangerous one to take without further amending our by-laws regarding the method of appointing the Finance Committee.

Under the present system, that group is appointed by one man - the moderator. If, then, the FinCom is given far more authority over the town finances than it now has, the power of the moderator is actually increased.

It seems to us that the moderator would have too much responsibility under the proposed change. It would rest on his shoulders to appoint men who could almost completely shape the financial future of the town. That, we should think, could be highly dangerous. And we feel that no moderator would welcome this type of responsibility either.

Perhaps if some system could be found to make the appointments, with a sharing of the responsibility so that authority is not concentrated in one person, the system would work. Some thought should be given to this, we believe, before voting at town meeting in March.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - January, 1908 At the next meeting Men's Club, the meeting will take the form of a debate. The subject is "Which country has done more for civilization during the last 50 years, Great Britain or the United States?" Thomas David and Alex Dick will speak for Great Britain and Harry Ramsdell and James Anderson for the United States.

A special town meeting will be called Monday night to consider naming Selectmen separate from Many accidents were reported Tuesday morning, due to the light rain which froze the minute it hit the roads. Several cars were involved in accidents at the intersection of the By-Pass with the Reading road, due to the icy conditions. Over 150 cars and trucks were stalled due to the accidents there.

In addition to the article concerning a state school, the spe-cial town meeting next Wednesday night will also consider money articles on new road construction and an article about Sunday movies. The Taxpayers Association and Finance Committee have disapproved the money articles at this time. The FinCom said the Emergency Committee is considering the same projects and has the money to do them.

Dr. J. J. Daly will run for reelection as Selectman and Assessor, he said this week. An opponent will be Philip Hardy, a has promised to take corrective action to see that the Ballardvale and Andover crossings are better protected. At a conference Tuesday with the Selectmen, the railroad officials said severe disciplinary action will result if trains are again allowed to go through the Ballardvale station while another train is discharging passengers. And they said there will be improved safety devices installed at that crossing.

The Central Andover Teacher organization will hold an pen house Wednesday evening in Memorial Auditorium.

Two collection boxes for the March of Dimes have been stolen from downtown business establishments. The loss was reported to police and merchants have been asked to report anyone tampering the boxes.

The Selectmen are going to ask voters at town meeting to approve putting parking meters in on Main st. and several side streets. This action must be taken before the state will approve Andover's plan for meters, according to the state's traffic experts.

Liberty And Justice Awards The American public is asked to take a hand again in selecting books for consideration in awarding of prizes for the 1957 publications that have made distinguished contributions to the American tradition of liberty and justice.

It has been suggested that readers look over the publications of last year and view them as falling in three catagories: contemporary affairs, history biography and imaginative An outstanding work in any of these fields should be reommended to Robert B. More than 60 publishers sub-mitted a total of 225 books for the ALA Liberty And Justice Awards (books published in 1956). These were almost equally divided n the three catagories. The inners were "The Organization Man", by William H. Whyte, Jr., "Harlan Fiske Stone: Pillar Of The Law", by Alpheus Thomas Mason and "Further Fables For Our Times" by James Thurber. The Memorial Hall Library is offering readers the chance to ballot their favorites of last year's publications. Readers may suggest titles which they feel should be considered for year's prizes, which are $5000 for each group. No ballots need be signed, but the librarians may wish to send these recommenda tions to the committee. This should be sent to arrive there before 1958.

good recipes have come my way this week! For instance, two oriental ones from Mrs. Julius Kay (whose recipe for chocolate macaroons was given here last Thursday) I was very pleased to get. Mrs. Kay has a special liking for exotic foods and here are two of her favorite company dishes:

CANTONESE SHRIMP 2 Tbl. peanut oil ½ lb. ground lean pork

14 cup finely diced carrot 14 cup finely diced celery

cloves garlic (crushed) 14 cups boiling water

1b. shrimp, cooked, shelled, deveined

3 Tbl. cornstarch

tsp. soy sauce tsp. soy sauce tsp. soy sauce tsp. sugar scallins, finely with most of tops

2 bouillon cubes add pork, carrot, celery and garlic. Mash meat with long-handled twotined fork over moderately high heat, until it loses its red color. Dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water, add to skillet. Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Meanwhile cut shrimp in halves lengthwise. Stir cornstarch, cold water, soy and sugar together, add to skillet and stir constantly until sauce is clear and thickened. Add shrimp;

reheat. Sprinkle with scallions

Mrs. Kay apparently prefers it, do and I have noted that it is used by Chinese and Japanese chets. It is a delicate all-purpose oil for all frying and cooking with absolutely no taste of peanuts; it will not turn rancid doesn't have to be kept refrigerated and it will not smoke up to a 400 degree cooking temperature. Won-

large tomato, cut in wedges

1 green pepper, cut in wedges 1 med. onion, sliced

5 cup vinegar juice from pineapple chunks

1 cup sugar

tsp. soy sauce tsp. pepper

tsp. cornstarch

Tbl. cold water

The monosodium glutamate is optional and while the cucumber called for in the above recipe, Mrs. Kay omits it. This is how it is prepared: season ground meat with salt and pepper to taste and roll into balls. This may be done in advance and refrigerated, Lightly brown the pineapple and vege-tables in 2 Tbl. cooking oil and remove from pan. Then brown the partially cooked meatballs. Combine vinegar, sugar, 1/2 cup pineapple juice and seasonings, add to meatballs; then add pineapple and vegetables. Continue cooking until meat is done. Dissolve cornstarch in cold water and add to meatball mixture. Cook until sauce thickens and is clear. Serve with steamed

> "HOT" MEATBALLS (Mrs. Albert E. Fischer)

Another kind of meatball, very, very good - made by Mrs. Fischer for the recent International Night Supper given by the Ballard Vale United Church Guild. The recipe is one of Mrs. Ralph A. Rosenblad's . .

2 lbs. ground beef 1 beef bouillon cube cup hot water

tsp. allspice tsp. white pepper 2 Tbl. grated onion

cup bread crumbs

2 tsp. salt

egg Dissolve the bouillon cube in one cup of hot water, into which soak the ½ cup bread crumbs. Combine all ingredients and roll into small, very firm balls. Brown all sides in just enough grease to coat pan (1/2 butter and 1/2 Crisco), and remove. Thicken the pan juices with a light dusting of flour (Mrs. Fischer dips her hands in flour and rolls the meat balls before frying which helps the thickening process). When right onsistency, place the meat balls back into the pan and simmer over very low heat for an hour or more.

CREAM CAKE (Mrs. Earle H. Bunt)

This was a sweet contribution to the International covered dish supper by Mrs. Hunt who was born and spent some of her earliest years in Italy; comes from a family which knows the fine art of cookery. Mrs. Hunt has a problem oven but has learned how to deal with it. She says you should have no trouble turning out this easy, electric beaters and remember to give a good ten minutes beating to the eggs and sugar. Actually, this is our familiar hot milk sponge cake with cream between two layers. The "something different" comes out in the three flavorings

cup granulated sugar

cup all-purpose tsp. baking powder

tsp. vanilla extract

tsp. orange extract tsp. brandy flavor

Beat the three whole eggs with cup of sugar for 10 minutes with electric mixer. Add the baking powder while beating, then the flavorings, then the sifted cup of flour. Beat slowly to mix, then add the hot milk. Pop into two 8-inch round cake pans which Mrs. Hunt lines with wax paper, and bake 15 minutes in a 350 degree CREAM FILLING all together until blended, cook on top of stove in small pan, very low heat. When thick, remove and cool, add the flavorings. When the cakes have cooled, spread the cream between the two layers and top with a sprinkling of confectioners' sugar, should be eaten the day it is

Framed Prints tsp. ginger Tbl. monosodium glutamate Popular Items

Through the generosity of the Andover Evening Study Groups, funds were made available to the library for the opening a framed print collection prints framed tastefully and ready for hanging on the walls of And-

On the day set for circulation, there were borrowers ready and waiting. The entire lot circulated almost at once and since then, there have been times when n prints were at hand, in spite of the growth of the collection. From the nodest beginnings of 16 subjects, the collection has grown to 45 at present. Each year a few have been added after a brief showing of a number of subjects and general vote by anyone interested in the idea. It is interesting to note that the collection has been of interest to such a number of borrowers. I all, the prints have gone out 794 times. Some families plan to have one at all times, borrowing on every two months, which is the loan period. The prints have been very carefully handled by their borrowers and all are in surprisingly good condition. Borrowers are asked to observe these regulations: Anyone may borrow prints who has an adult card. No. one may borrow more than one picture at a time or borrow an additional picture while he has one in his possession. The prints be borrowed for two and may not be renewed. However, the same print may be borrowed again at a later time. There is a small charge to be paid at the time of the loan. A ten cents a day charge will be made for all prints kept out overtime. Unusual damage beyond ordinary wear and teat will be charged for. If a borrower wishes to buy a print which t has had on loan, the staff will tel nim the probable price and where it may be obtained.

These are some of the prints available: Bellows, Lady Jean; Breughel of the water department have spen part of their time on jobs approved under special articles and that part of their salaries has been paid from the money appropriated under those articles. Under the new plan, the employees will spend all their time on water department work, excluding special article jobs which will be let out on contract. Thus, instead of budgetting only part of the payroll and de-pending on special articles to pay the men the rest of the time, this cludes a full year's pay for its employees.

An item for coal and power, listed at $19,500 last year, has been dropped from the water department budget this year.

Korean Educator Speaks Saturday

Abbot Academy will present a lecture by Mme. Induk Pahk, a prominent Christian Korean educator, Saturday evening.

Christian missions played a very large part in the development of a remarkable woman, but so did Japanese aggression. A pro-duct of the first high school lor girls in Korea, Mrs. Pahk early learned that Japan had replaced China as the dominant nation on the "Hermit Kingdon's" horizon. As a young woman she also learned - both in and out of prison - at what cost one cast his lot with the independence move ment. She further learned, through the hard way of experience, how the tyranny of local customs had to be opposed; it was only after a series of family crises that her education in America came. At length, enriched by contact with great personalities in church and college and world travel and study, she returned to prodigious work in and for her homeland The program will begin at 7:45 and the public is cordially invited to attend.

BROTHERHOOD TO MEET The Brotherhood of the West Church will meet tonight in the Vestry of the West Church, Supper will be served at 6:30 with a short business meeting to follow. The Speaker of the evening will be Chaplain Samuel Hammond of Fort As a Negro he will cuss first hand impressions of the Racial situation and also talk about the role of Chaplain in the new army. All men of the Parish are invited.
