Council Of Churches Plans Good Friday Services

ASKS HELP IN STOPPING CHICKEN KILLINGS

The Police Department is worried about dogs roaming west Andover, for fear they will worry and kill chickens being let out on the range.

After several incidents when dogs killed or maimed chickens, Sgt. William R. Hickey, who also serves as dog officer, has asked that dog owners take good care of their pets and keep them from running loose. Particularly in West Andover, he said, there could be a lot of trouble if spring-happy dogs get into the hen pens or into the wire-enclosed ranges. Any chicken owner is within his rights to shoot a dog bothering the chickens, Hickey said. And the police, if they find a dog molesting chickens, will also shoot it immediately.

He asked for full cooperation from dog owners throughout the town to prevent needless slaughter of chickens and also to help save the lives of some dogs.

The Andover Council of Churches will hold a Service for the Three Hours Good Friday, April 4, at the Andover Baptist Church.

The service will begin at noon time and will end at approximately 3 o'clock, with worshippers urged to attend as much of the service as time will allow them.

Mrs. Ralph I. Gilbreath will be the organist for the service and the Rev. Donald J. Ryder, the host pastor. The following ministers will each lead a meditation on one of the Seven Last Words of Christ: the Rev. Hugh B. Penney, the Rev. Horace Seldon, the Rev. Clayton Burgess, the Rev. Donald J. Ryder, the Rev. Ralph A. Rosenblad, the Rev. Frederick B. Noss, and the Rev. A. Graham

Board Votes Salary Hikes

School teachers throughout the system are balloting this week on a proposed salary increase that stays within the amount of money appropriated by town meeting.

The School Committee, after a multi-hour meeting March 19, unanimously agreed on a $150 increase for 1958, to be paid starting April 1. All teachers will receive the boost, but not the full amount of $150 because that figure is for a full year but is being paid for only three-quarters of the year.

In a second unanimous vote, the Committee agreed to give an increase of $500, starting in September. This too would be paid "at the rate of $500", meaning the NEARLY FULL - Far from just a wintery scene, this is a view of Haggett's Pond, now only 11 inches below high water mark. The pond was slightly over seven feet below this level last fall. Many officials believe it will fill up and actually run over this spring, for the first time in 12 years. (Leone)

Haggett's Pond Nearly Full; Report On Supply Released

Haggett's Pond, more than 84 inches below high water mark last fall, was only 11 inches from full Tuesday morning.

If it gains 14 inches - three above the high water level - water will spill out of the Pond. Water Supt. Donald Bassett commented this week that the Pond has not run over for 12 years.

But many officials are known to feel that this year will be the lucky 13th, partially due to the two new wells. One, at the gravel pit site in Ballardvale, has been pumping into the water system for slightly over two weeks. The Abbot well was put permanently in operation Tuesday afternoon, just after the 11-inch reading was taken at the pond. With both wells pumping total of approximately one million gallons a day into the system, the Pond will have an opportunity to fully recover from last summer's dry spell, these officials state. Bassett, making no prediction about the future of the Pond, grinned hopefully Tuesday when someone suggested he might lose a bet that the Pond would not run over its banks this year.

Even as town officials looked happily at the water level at Haggett's, the Board of Public Works released its water supply report for public scrutiny, as prepared by Camp, Dresser and McKee.

It recommends a third well in Ballardvale this year, capable of producing .3 million gallons daily, but no further addition to the water supply until 1960, when Fish Brook should be used as a water source.

Merrimack River water would be needed by 1965, the report predicts, if assumed industrial development takes place.

In both cases, construction could be deferred even longer, the report stated, if industrial demands do not materialize as anticipated.

Gym Meet Here Saturday Night

The New England Interscholastic Gymnastic meet will be held in the High School gymnasium at 7 p.m. Saturday, March 29.

The meet has been sanctioned by the Principals Association for Secondary Schools and the Massachusetts State Department of Physical Education. Plan Science Fair At High School

Andover High will hold its annual science fair April 23 - planning a bigger and better event than a year ago.

Each year, schools all over the country hold the fairs to encourage scientifically-minded students. Since the educational system of the country has been so much in the public's mind, school officials have encouraged wider participation among students and have planned a larger event.

The winner here will be entered in the Massachusetts Science Fair at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

One of the projects being developed for the Andover fair is an introductory study of relay switching circuits.

Bob Garrison is building the machine, which will electrically re-produce hand-written numerals

South Church Plans Seminar On Religious Education

The Board of Christian Education of the South Church has planned a four-session seminar on Church school problems.

The meetings, all at the Church at 7:30, will be held Monday evenings, starting April 14 through May 5.

The meetings will consider latest teaching aides, means of maintaining discipline, ways of arousing interest and developing creative abilities and other topics of immediate concern to persons teaching Sunday School.

All interested persons may attend the series and those from Greater Lawrence Churches are also welcome, the committee has explained.

Mrs. Richard M. Zecchini, 95 Summer st., may be contacted for reservations or for further information.

Five faculty members will handle the subjects of the seminar. Broken down by age groups, the seminar will discuss nursery and kindergarten, primary, ages 5-6; lower junior, ages 7-8; junior, ages 9-10 and junior high, ages 11-13. The same faculty member

"HOMING" PIGEON - Bill Leone of William st. found this tame pigeon in the family garage Tuesday afternoon, perched on a shelf just as if it was home. The bird is banded and apparently lost some of its "homing" instinct while in flight. Housing Plans Moving Rapidly

The Andover Housing Authority will interview architects tonight, prior to selecting a firm to design the 36-unit housing project for the elderly.

Ernest Hall has been appointed by the Authority to serve as co-ordinator of the project, following through with the state to be certain that the project moves ahead speedily.

Hall said tentative plans call for groundbreaking for the new units in June. Plans and specifications are to be ready early in May, he predicted.

He said the state is anxious to keep the project moving rapidly and has agreed to cut the amount of paper work required of the local Authority, in an effort to avoid red-tape delays.

Hall explained that the average rental in other projects for elderly citizens has been $48 monthly. The sum includes all utilities, heat and garbage collection. The specific rental has not been set here and will not be until the units are ready to be used. Hall said it is hoped that some persons may be able to move into the project by Christmas. The housing will be built on the westerly side of the present Veterans' housing at Memorial cir.

The state pays the entire cost of housing projects of this type.

first interscholastic gymnastics meet for the high schools of the state since 1938, according to Ralph Colson state director of physical education.

The revival of gymnastics as a varsity sport in the high schools of the state is another indication that the schools are giving support to President Eisenhower's program on physical fitness. Coaches too, are taking notice of the gymnastics programs as great "conditioners" for their particular sport. If the trend toward gymnastics continues in the High Schools the next "Olympic results" will not be noticed for the absence of United States competitors and winners.

Camp Fire Girls Held Mother-Daughter Banquet

The Andover District of the Council for Greater Boston Camp Fire Girls held its first mother-daughter banquet in the Shawshheen School March 19. About 180 Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls, leaders, sponsors, mothers and invited guests attended the successful affair, in celebration of the 48th birthday of Camp Fire.

The program opened with "The Star Spangled Banner", during which Joanne Blamire and Brenda Jackson held the American flag.

Following the Camp Fire Grace, all the girls welcomed their mothers by singing "Hi, Mothers".

Mrs. Gordon B. Lauder, mistress of ceremonies, welcomed all present on behalf of the Andover District Committee and the Leader-Sponsor Association which sponsored the evening. Mrs. Ruth Reiting, district director from Boston, brought greetings from the Boston Council.

The toast to the mothers was given by Barbara Broderick. Mrs. Robert Foster gave the response. Miss Anne Harnedy, principal of the Shawshheen School, was the special guest of honor. Jo-Anwyll Foster presented her with a corsage as an expression of her cooperation.

The toast to the leaders was delivered by Louisa Manning, with Mrs. Alex Blamire responding. "Leader Pins" were presented to the following leaders and active assistant leaders whose understanding guidance has successfully provided so many girls with the opportunity of participating in such a worthwhile leisure-time program: Mrs. William Flaherty, Mrs. Chester Kopatch, Mrs. Gerald Nelson, Mrs. Don Scott, Mrs. Douglas Howe, Mrs. John Lowe, Mrs. Frank Santuccio, Mrs. William Schmidlin, Mrs. Joseph Daly, Mrs. Donald Downes, Mrs. Sherman Carr, Mrs. Alex Blamire, Mrs. James Wilson, Mrs. Thayer Warshaw, Mrs. Martin Burns, Mrs. Robert Foster and Mrs. Melvin Walker.

Mrs. Frank Santuccio, district committee chairman, presented

Mrs. Gordon B. Lauder, Leader-Sponsor Association chairman, with an "Adult Membership Pin" in public recognition of the hours of devoted service she has given to the Camp Fire program. A telegram of congratulations, received from the Girl Scouts, who are celebrating their own 46th anniversary, was read by Mrs. Santuccio.

The most impressive part of the entire program was the candle-lighting ceremony in which all present lit their own individual candles from the tapers in the center of each table. Using only the light from the candles, the entire gathering sang "One Little Candle". Many favorable comments were heard concerning the candle favors made by the following groups under the direction of Mrs. Alex Blamire: I-Ia-Ia, A-O-Wa-Ki-Ya, O-Ki-Ci-Pa-Pi and A-Ki-Ta-O-Wa.

Following the banquet, Mrs. Ruth Reiting gave a short talk on Camp Kiwanee and then showed a colored movie of the resident camp located in Hanson. As quite a few of the girls had attended Camp Kiwanee, the film brought back happy memories. To others, seeing it for the first time, Camp Kiwanee took on a new glamour as the various activities were shown. During the question and answer period that followed, Mrs. Reiting was kept quite busy.

Folk dancing, under the direction of Mrs. Don Scott and Mrs. Martin Burns, was greatly enjoyed by the Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls.

After the girls and their leaders formed a "Friendship Circle", the singing of the "Camp Fire Law" ended the successful evening.

Mrs. Angelo Sapienza, district program chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Frank Santuccio and Mrs. Paul Barry. Mrs. Martin Burns was the pianist.

WHICH BOY PASSED THE N.P.* TEST?
*NINETY PERCENT

The poised young man of the right of course. You can tell at a glance... and that's why the Ninety-Percent Test is so important. Adults judge even children (and children judge each other) by what they see. It's true that clothes may create slightly less than 90% of the impression Juniors make, but the test is just as important. Another point to remember: Because children's clothes become so grimy so quickly, it's especially important to have them drycleaned regularly and often. (This kind of care carries a built-in bonus. In addition to looking fresher, drycleaned clothes last longer.)

West PTA To Hear Speaker

He will also show pictures of the work connected with the institution. Refreshments will be in charge of the first grade mothers.

WATER REPORT IS RELEASED

The use of Fish Brook water, taken from the mouth of the stream just before it joins the river, would add about one million gallons daily to the supply.

The report estimates the addition of this supply would provide a total safe yield of 3.4 million gallons daily.

Present Situation

The report, providing background for its conclusions, estimates that Haggett's Pond has a safe yield of 1.5 million gallons daily. Two wells already tied in to the system add .9 million gallons daily for a total of 2.4 million.

A third well, producing .3 mgd, will bring the total safe yield of the town's supply to 2.7 million gallons every day.

The average daily consumption here will not reach 2.4 million gallons until 1963, the report predicts. And it will not reach 2.7 million gallons until 1965.

But not figured into this estimate is any great industrial demand. The report "assumes" that industrial uses will create a demand for an additional million gallons daily by 1960, two million by 1980 and three million by the year 2000.

Two Steps

Based on this assumption, it recommends taking the first step — Fish Brook — by 1960. If the industrial demand does not develop, then the step can be put off until about 1965 "based on present trends in increased water consumption".

The second step — tapping the Merrimack River for water — would come about 1965, if industry demands the estimated amount of water.

But it could be put off until 1977 if the anticipated industrial demands do not occur.

Step One

The initial step under the report would cost an estimated $558,000. The engineering firm would have the town build a small diversion dam at the mouth of the brook and build a pumping station there with an ultimate capacity of 10 million gallons daily. A 24-inch transmission main from the brook mouth to Haggett's Pond, a distance of about 17,000 feet, would be needed. And the storage facilities at the Pond would also be increased, to hold the extra water.

The second step, including a filter plant at the Pond, plus a 20-inch main from the Pond to Bancroft rd. reservoir, would cost an estimated $1,820,000.

Thus the firm proposes spending $2,378,000 in an over-all water supply program, utilizing both Fish Brook and the river.

Other Ideas

Also mentioned in the report were several suggestions — using the Wood Mill filter plant in Lawrence; using a filter plant existing at the Raytheon plant in Shawshen; putting a filter plant at the Merrimack River and pumping directly into the system; and building a filter plant at the mouth of Fish Brook and pumping filtered river water back to the Pond for storage.

None of these ideas measured up to the water-quality standards

Received 6 Bids On Masonry Job

Six bids for masonry work on the Community Building in Ballardvale were opened Monday night by the Selectmen.

Low was the Cousins Construction Co. of Winchester, at $225. The Selectmen did not immediately award the contract, pending investigation of the bidder, who was not known to them.

Other bids were received from Beaver Corp., Medford, $592; Philip Gaudet, $275; Moore Construction Co., Jamaica Plain, $350; P. and A. Construction Co., Salem, $300 and Cambridge Waterproofing Co., Inc., $310.

The job includes a specification that the work be completed in two weeks time.

BOARD VOTES SALARY BOOSTS

Teachers would not actually receive that amount this year. This step would, however, boost the minimum starting salary to $3800, one of the announced goals of the salary schedule adopted by the Committee several months ago. The plan was presented to the teachers at a meeting last Thursday.

Town meeting lopped $44,223 off a total request for increases of $88,000. Thus the Committee, as it proposes increases at this time, is working with $38,777 which was approved by the voters. This amount will cover the suggested increases now before the teachers for their opinions.

Representatives of the Teachers Association this week said all members are being given the opportunity to express their opinions by ballot. These will be counted this weekend. But what affect a negative vote might have on the School Committee's proposal has not been made clear. School Committee members said there has been no vote of that group to take the salary issue to court nor has there been a decision not to take that step even if other ideas don't work out.

Less Than Proposed

The proposed increases are considerably less than were planned under the schedule adopted by the Committee and for which a request was placed in the annual budget.

Under that schedule, the minimum was $3800, followed by annual $300 steps to $5000, then $100 each year until reaching $6,000. The schedule was said to be a basic one, not dealing with merit. And under it, all pay for extra work would have been eliminated.

After town meeting slashed the budget, the Committee sought ways to grant some increases, yet live within the total appropriated by town meeting. Several members expressed reluctance to see the issue taken to court in the face of voter sentiment for the reduction. According to state law, a school committee has well-defined rights to set salaries. Many experts have agreed that the courts would rule favorably on a request to force the town to provide the funds, if the request was to be made.

Under the present proposal, all teachers would receive the $150 increase and be paid at that rate for the balance of the year. Most teachers would get the $500 increase, payable at the rate of $500 annually, which would come up in September. Maximums of $5400 for holders of bachelors degrees and $5600 for those holding masters degrees would be maintained. Some teachers, if already at maximum, would not then get the same amount of increase as others on a different level on the salary schedule.

Members of the Committee emphasized that the raises are to be paid at the rate of the total amount, which means teachers

One advantage of the move, according to School Committee members, is the setting of a basic minimum wage that will allow the system to attract young teachers. The minimum has been $3300 and this has been considered too low by school officials.

WATER REPORT IS RELEASED

Explains Plan
The report offered reasons for recommending steps.

It commented that the town is now considering would have the state regional water supply Merrimack Valley. If sales are made by this state they should be considered the town has spent too developing its own supply.

The report also commends it appears wise to spend rather than putting most expensive items in step plan, it points out that of a filter plant would tie up a lot of money isn't actually needed years. This would be if some of the other portions in the report, were the engineers concluded.

Water quality the planned, is a most important. The plan recommended Andover would produce good in quality as is available from Haggatt's Ponds, by filtering all cluding river water, before the system. Other if continued, could town adequate quality as good as is now enjoyed effort was made, it said excellence of quality is supply.

Other Costs

The report took note of operating a water supply compared estimates used ideas studied during the and fall. Its recommendation would cost the town about 000 annually to operate per million gallons.

Cheapest from the state annual operation is a 1 on the river, pumping direct the water system. This about $127,900 yearly per million gallons. U Wood Mill filter plant $137,500 every year, the figured, for a cost of $ million gallons. A four pump from a filter plant Merrimack into Haggatt would cost $138,800 $65.50 per million gallons.

Alternates Described

The report spent space discussing the plans studied.

The Wood Mill project listed as the cheapest capital expenditures — its capacity is 25 million daily. If used, 29,000 would be required to water back to Haggatt. It would cost about $220,000 to rehabilitate $605,000 for the 24 main and an approximate to buy the facilities, v sale. A second step would call for a ma of the present water supply, the engineers stated.

Explains Plan
The report offered detailed reasons for recommending the two steps.

It commented that the Legislature is now considering a bill that would have the state study a regional water supply for the Merrimack Valley. If any proposals are made by this study group, they should be considered before the town has spent too much on developing its own supply.

The report also commented that it appears wise to spend slowly, rather than putting most of the expensive items in step one of the plan. It points out that construction of a filter plant now would tie up a lot of money when it isn't actually needed for many years. This would be the result if some of the other plans, mentioned in the report, were adopted, the engineers concluded.

Water quality, the report explained, is a most important factor. The plan recommended for Andover would produce water as good in quality as is now available from Haggett's Pond and the wells, by filtering all water, including river water, before it enters the system. Other plans, if continued, could give the town adequate quality but not as good as is now enjoyed. Every effort was made, it said, to retain excellence of quality in any new supply.

Other Costs
The report took note of the cost of operating a water system and compared estimates using several ideas studied during the summer and fall. Its recommended plan would cost the town about $130,000 annually to operate or $61.50 per million gallons.

Cheapest from the standpoint of annual operation is a filter plant on the river, pumping directly into the water system. This would run about $127,900 yearly or $60.50 per million gallons. Use of the Wood Mill filter plant would cost $137,500 every year, the engineers figured, for a cost of $65 per million gallons. A fourth plan, to pump from a filter plant on the Merrimack into Haggett's Pond, would cost $138,800 annually or $65.50 per million gallons.

Alternates Described
The report spent considerable space discussing the alternate plans studied.

The Wood Mill proposition is listed as the cheapest in terms of capital expenditures - $1,483,000. Its capacity is 25 million gallons daily. If used, 29,000 feet of main would be required to carry the water back to Haggett's Pond.

It would cost an estimated $220,000 to rehabilitate the plant, $605,000 for the 24-inch water main and an approximate $100,000 to buy the facilities, which are for sale. A second step in this plan would call for a main from the Pond to Bancroft rd. reservoir, $420,000 and a pumping station, $120,000, for a total of $540,000 in the second phase of construction.

In the recommended plan, there is provision to abandon the Haggett's Pond pumping station eventually. In the Wood Mill proposal, it would be needed and be expanded for additional capacity.

But even though the initial cost is less and the operating expenses are not much greater than the recommended plan, the engineers did not approve this proposal. They commented that:

"We believe water of acceptable quality could be produced at all times but there might be occasions when the water might not be as good quality as that from the present Haggett's Pond supply". Also noted was the necessity of retaining two staffs, one at the filter plant and one at the Pond. And they explained that the heaviest cost comes in the initial stage, which would tie the town down to this program even if something better turns up.

Of the Raytheon filter plant, the report said the water source - the Shawsheen River - can be highly polluted at times and the plant is not designed for domestic filtration. It recommended that Raytheon use it as much as possible in later years, when demands are heavier.

Placing a filter plant on the river bank and pumping into the system directly was turned down because of quality. The plant would have to be located at the foot of Beacon st., opposite from the Lawrence filter plant and water would be used from the river practically all the time, even in periods of highest pollution. The need for double crews, expensive mains, plus quality were listed as reasons for not taking this step.

A filter plant at the river, close to Fish Brook, was also turned down, mostly on the basis of quality. Filtered water pumped back into the pond, it explained, might stimulate the growth of algae and other organisms, causing a taste and odor problem.

Natural Purification

The report explained that river water pumped into the north end of the Pond would remain in the Pond for about one year before reaching the southern end where the pumping station is located. Sun and air, plus sedimentation, would have done much to purify the water by that time, the report continued.

Filtration of all water taken from the Pond, would, the engineers believe, remove any odor or taste problems and the plant would not be required to do as much as would a plant treating raw river water directly.

A Lenten Message

The Rev. Hugh B. Penney, Minister
West Parish (Congregational) Church

Life is being lived at a high pace. Threats of one sort or another are swirling like clouds about us. Our reactions are feelings of fear, inadequacy, frustration and nervousness. We are searching for answers, but the total picture is not very satisfying.

During Lent we are reminded that the solution to our dilemma is presented to us by Jesus Christ. He does not offer panaceas or material security - he offers love. He gave his life to show the depth of his concern. "Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another."

Personal relationships are the basis of all human problems. Misunderstanding is born by our failure to stand in the other person's shoes. Hate is a festering sore that is aggravated by irrational feelings toward a person or a group. Bigotry, racism, divorce, war - all are brought about by a lack of love.

But how can we do anything? God asks of us a demonstration of love before we can profess our love for him.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Let's Find Out

It's high time this town finds out where it stands educationally, not just in curriculum but also in teacher-ability.

There have been too many inferences in recent months that our teachers are generally of mediocre ability, with few exceptional ones. The teachers resent public condemnation of this type, even when those making such statements attempt to persuade them that it is not condemnation at all, but rather constructive criticism. And those who resent it the most are the best teachers . . . the ones we can't afford to lose.

Why does a town suddenly begin to fault-find and badger its teachers? Why does public confidence in them suddenly drop?

We don't profess to have the answers - but we do feel that it is time, now, to find them.

A few weeks ago, Mrs. Reta Buchan suggested a public study of the secondary and elementary schools, with professional assistance from faculty and administrative personnel. The need for this study is even more apparent now.

While Mrs. Buchan may have felt that such a study should concentrate on curriculum and planning, we now think it should also look into this business of teacher ability. Let's find out if the picture is as bleak as painted.

There are many residents in this town who have a real, deep-seated interest in the schools and our educational system. Not all of these are critical of the present system and of the teachers, but many are. If a public study program could be set up, by all means include those with a critical attitude when selecting a committee. And add some who are not critical too, to keep the group well-balanced. Add enough faculty and administrative persons to properly represent the professional opinions.

This committee, when so constituted, could offer a valuable service to the community. For it is undeniably important to recapture public confidence on the basis of proper study and explanation and by taking whatever steps are needed to accomplish desirable changes.

We are inclined to believe that the Andover school system has its share of excellent teachers, others who are not of that exceptional quality, and probably some others of still lesser ability. But we can't see why Andover has any more poor teachers than the other communities; or, for that matter, why we have any more exceptional teachers than other towns.

We sincerely hope that Mrs. Buchan's suggested study gets into high gear quickly. It's high time we had some answers, so that public confidence can be restored, either through explanation of what we have now or by taking whatever steps may be needed to make it even better.

Garbage Collection

In our "letters to the editor" department this week is a note from a Lawrence resident quoting a statement overheard about municipal garbage collection.

This is a subject that deserves considerable study in the future, even though town meeting turned it down this year.

"If anyone says, 'I love God,' and hates his brother, he is a liar." This urges us to start learning the basic art of loving. Words are not enough - they can be like "sounding brass". Improved relations are the test. To begin this process means to accept others for their own sakes, not for what we can obtain from them. It means spending less time with selfish and more time with selfless pursuits. It means starting where we are in our homes and vocations and churches.

Lent is a time of preparation and anticipation for the message of salvation. This salvation is supremely revealed in an act of sacrificial love - "for God so loved the world that he gave his only Son." God first loved us so that in turn we could seek to love and accept and understand those about us and in so doing show forth our love for God.

Lent, 1958, can be a period in which we dedicate ourselves to this divinely inspired task - the art of loving.

Perhaps we will see the day when both private and public collection will be unnecessary. For it is becoming customary to install disposals in new homes. The automatic "pig" can do a better job than any human in disposing of this refuse. And as more new homes are built, perhaps the problem will become less acute.

As it stands now, private collection has worked reasonably well. But there is no enforcement possible under the system. Residents occasionally ask the Board of Health to help out in seeing that garbage gets picked up - but that agency is forced to tell the resident that any contract with a collector is a private matter; that it can't get mixed up in the problem in any way.

Perhaps some day we will come to a system of limited collection, under municipal supervision, to care for some sections of town where the problem is most acute. If, as we suggested earlier, disposals come into use in the newer sections, the town could assume a limited responsibility in other areas.

We hope the idea will not be laid aside and forgotten and that the voters will have an opportunity to pass judgment on it again.

Will We Reach 50,000?

Will Andover ever reach 50,000 population?

Warning that the town could hold that many persons was given at the recent town meeting, in support of larger lot sizes. But there comes a serious question as to whether the town actually will ever grow that large, despite sufficient land area, and with zoning requirements that might even encourage it.

Of one thing we are certain, it will be a long, long time in coming. Even when West Andover lots are more desirable, due to Route 28 completion, we can't believe that the influx will ever be termed a rush. Certainly there will be new residents and, perhaps, a considerable number all at once. But it is not possible to realistically plan on 50,000 persons in our town for long years to come. If we assume that the next census will show 15,000 population here, we can get some clear idea of what 50,000 means - how many houses it will take to bring that many people to town. For at best, 100 houses means about 400-450 persons.

It all leads us to believe that, while the town can hold that many people, many of us won't live to see the day when the prediction comes true. In the meantime, we can all work together towards providing reasonable facilities for the new population as it comes, without fearing such a tremendous influx that we will be swamped.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - March, 1908

Miss Lucy B. Abbott of the Homeopathic Hospital in Boston visited her parents Sunday.

The first concert and dance of the retail clerks was held at the town hall Wednesday evening. The committee included David S. Lindsay, chairman; Dana E. Chase, treasurer; John Morrisey, refreshments; Andrew Collins, floor director and David Young and James MacDonald, whist.

Several local residents were "first nighters" at the presentation of "Faust" last Monday evening in the Lawrence Opera House.

25 Years Ago - March, 1933

Salaries were slashed by the adjourned town meeting Monday and the final town meeting appropriations indicate a tax rate of $24.50.

On next Thursday and Friday nights, the big social, political and entertainment event "Henry's Wedding" will be staged at the town hall under the auspices of the Andover Guild.

Dr. Claude Fuess has been named acting headmaster of Phillips Academy by the trustees.

Andover Grange will meet Tuesday evening at Grange Hall. Members of the Agriculture Committee

Edward M. Munroe Jr., son of Edward M. Munroe, 162 Lowell st., has been appointed squad leader of his recruit company at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center. He was chosen for the position in recognition of leadership qualities displayed while undergoing recruit training. He is scheduled to graduate April 12.

Twenty-one men of the Free Church are making plans to present a three-act religious drama April 2.

The Selectmen have protested the removal of a train that arrives in Andover at 6:39 a.m. from Boston. They said the train, continuing on to Lawrence and Haverhill, provided transportation for many residents who work in those communities.

10 Years Ago - March, 1948

The Andover Firemen's Relief Association, in cooperation with the county Polio Committee, has agreed to sponsor the first annual Red Coat Horse Show, a three-day event scheduled for May 29, 30 and 31. The proceeds will benefit the polio camp at Plum Island.

Youngsters shooting in the Shawsheen area were warned by police to stop or have their guns seized. The boys had been target shooting near the river, but stray shots pelted buildings and caused many complaints.

The usually placid Shawsheen River was up to freshet heights this week, as the spring thaw continued. Many cellars throughout the town were reported in poor condition, as the winter accumulation of snow melted fast and failed to run off in normal fashion.

Police officers will be assigned roving assignments, as a means of stopping speeding in the town. Chief George Dane said the prospects of dry, snow-free streets seem to be causing many motorists to step heavily on the gas pedal and he said he intends to have the officers patrol various streets to discourage the heavy-footed motorist.

The Selectmen have again asked the railroad to correct two situations here, one being the Essex st. crossing. Passengers in a car, stalled on the tracks, leaped to safety Sunday night as a snow train hit their vehicle. Officers said one wheel of the car went off the built up crossing and onto the lower roadbed.

Miss Barbara Colby of Shawsheen rd. was among the student nurses at Salem hospital, who recently received her Cap at the Capping exercises held in Salem High School Auditorium. Miss Colby is a graduate of Punchard High school and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herriek Colby of Shawsheen rd.

What You Should Know About Your Manager Charter

By David E. Young

Third in a Series

That question, with varying answers, was at the center of the debate over adoption of the manager plan. And it has been asked, and possible answers tossed back and forth, ever since the voters decided to adopt the plan, starting in March of 1959.

We have, during the two weeks past, taken a look at how the charter was written and its affects on the elected offices in the town.

But perhaps the biggest question of all - the man - has not yet been fully answered. Let's examine the charter, to see what it says about the manager - who he may be, what he will do.

Selection Described

Let's first look at the requirements for the job and the manner in which the manager will be selected.

The charter says the manager must be a person "especially fitted" by education, training and previous full-time paid experience in municipal administration. Those are the positive requirements.

Then the charter spells out several "negative" requirements - things the manager shall not be, it says no elected town official, within five years time of holding an elective office, may be appointed. The manager need be a member of no special political party or group and he need not be a resident of the town. However, the manager must establish residence here after appointment.

At least a majority of the Board of Selectmen - the five-member board elected next March - will appoint the manager. His salary will be established by the Selectmen, within the bounds of appropriations granted by the town meeting.

Powers And Duties

There's no question that the manager occupies a powerful position.

He is the chief administrative officer of the town, carrying out policies established by the Selectmen and supervising most departments, committees and boards.

The charter specifically states that the manager will be the chief fiscal officer, approving warrants and payrolls.

Moreover, the manager may assume supervision over boards and departments not ordinarily under his control, such as the Housing Authority, providing the Authority wishes to have this done. If elected officials, responsible for their own department, do not wish to have the manager assume any responsibility for their work, he may not.

The manager has the authority to set salaries and wages of all departments he is responsible for. He may abolish, consolidate or reorganize boards, committees or departments under his supervision and establish new ones. Appropriations may be transferred from one to another, in this event, as far as possible under vote of town meeting.

The manager will be a purchasing agent for all town supplies except texts, library books and audio-visual aids.

The departments not under his supervision will requisition materials they need, to be purchased by the purchasing agent.

The manager also will have control of town buildings, except schools. When new construction comes along, he will be responsible for preparation of plans and supervision of work; and all alterations, improvements or other undertakings authorized by the town will be the responsibility of the manager.

In the case of school plans, the School Committee must approve them.

Other provisions of the charter include the authority for a manager to temporarily appoint someone to do his duties while he is away on business. The Selectmen, on the other hand, also may appoint an acting or temporary manager when there is a vacancy in that office for any reason.

The manager will prepare the annual budget by Dec. 1, after receiving appropriate information from the various departments and boards. He will recommend other appropriations. And the entire financial picture, completed by that Dec. 1 deadline, will be transmitted to the Finance Committee, Selectmen and whatever other officials are required to act on the annual outlay. The manager also is required to estimate, at that time, what the tax rate will be the following year, on the basis of his recommendations.

Removal

While the charter specifies the means for appointing a manager and establishes qualifications, it also states how a manager may be dismissed.

A majority of the Board of Selectmen may notify the manager he is being removed. At least 30 days before the removal is to take place, the Selectmen must specify the reasons and file them with the town clerk and send a copy to the manager. He, in turn, may request a public hearing and may reply to the charges in writing.

If a public hearing is requested, it must be granted. The charter states specifically that the hearing will be held no earlier than 20 days and no later than 30 days following the filing of such a request.

After this hearing, or after the 30-day period following the filing of the preliminary notice of dismissal a majority of the Board of Selectmen may fire the manager.

The Board may, when filing its preliminary notice, also suspend the manager. But his salary must be paid for 30 days following the final vote to dismiss him. This can take place at any time during the manager's term of office, although he is signed to a five-year contract under the terms of the charter.

We have briefly looked at the duties of a manager and how he may be appointed or fired.

Successful Operation

There remains one vital consideration - how can a manager operate successfully? Proponents of the manager plan have time and again explained that a Board of

BOARD DENIES ADMITTANCE

The representative from the Andover Townsman was again denied admittance to the Board of Public Works at its weekly meeting Monday night.

Thus, in keeping with a policy set forth by the Board two months ago when it closed its meetings, this newspaper must rely on other sources of information to inform its readers how this Board is handling the affairs and duties vested in them by the voters.

Board members are Alexander H. Henderson, chairman; Albert Cole Jr., secretary; David Thompson, Mason F. Arnold and Francis Reilly.

He noted that "it is a notable achievement" to make the average of 2.0 required for the select list and that it places Urich in the upper 15 percent of his class.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman:
"Recently I overheard a very rare statement by one of your residents, and decided it was too good to be lost in the air. I do hope you will publish it in a noticeable spot in your next issue. A previous conversation was about the launching of the satellite, and AVCO's activity in research. The statement I heard was:
"Damn foolishness, this talking about flying to the moon and spending millions to find a way to get there - when the powers that be cannot even figure a way to get garbage collection accomplished right here in Andover!"
"I am not from Andover."
"Maybe someone will read this and find a way to stop traffic to the Andover dump - who knows?"

LITTLE LEAGUE INSTRUCTION — Robert Done gets some pointers from Bob Burnham, (Leone) during last weekend's workouts at the Academy Cage.

Memorial Plaque Will Honor Miss Anderson

A memorial plaque honoring the long teaching career of Miss Ethel B. Anderson has been approved by the School Committee for placement on the wall of her classroom at the Shawsheen School.

The Parent-Teacher Association had asked the Committee to name the new addition to the School in her honor, but the Committee felt that it should go very slowly in naming buildings for former school personnel. Members said they feel that many citizens in every generation contribute outstanding effort and ability to the system and that one or two can not be chosen in this manner.

Miss Anderson taught for 36 years at the Shawsheen School.

All School Committee members emphasized their high regard for Miss Anderson's Service to the schools and community. And they agreed, after considerable discussion, that actually a plaque placed in her former classroom would have more meaning and significance.

The PTA will undertake the project, it was understood by the Committee.

KNOW YOUR MANAGER CHARTER

Selectmen must be willing to give the plan a fair trial. They point out that a manager, probably coming from out-of-town, will need time to become acquainted with local problems and that no manager, otherwise interested in coming here, will actually take the job if he faces a hostile Board which would not give him the necessary time or assistance to meet the town's problems.

There are other provisions in the manager charter, not relating directly to the manager, which spell out what town officials may do business with the town and how the charter can be revoked. Next week we will examine these and offer a recapitulation necessarily brief, of this series.

All films should be reserved well in advance.

Robins Decorate Eggs

The Robins group of Littlest Listeners will be very busy on Wednesday morning, April 2, at their meeting. After a few stories, each little person will have an opportunity to decorate an Easter egg for the egg tree. Mothers have been asked to bring in one or more blown out eggs; coloring will be done by the children, and the eggs hung on with the dozens of eggs already there. Everyone is invited to take part in this annual contest; April 5 is the last day on which eggs will be accepted for judging. Adults take part as well as children of all grades. Prizes are arranged for various age groups and are awarded at a special program on the Monday after Easter. For full details all are urged to pick up a list of rules at the Children's room.

Garden Book Week

Perhaps the gayest of all books are the colorful, flower decorated titles that tempt the reader to drop everything else and bury himself in the pages that promise beautiful gardens in almost no time at all, and with very little effort. As those who garden know, this is a snare and a delusion, but each year the aching muscles are forgotten, and an hour with a garden book stirs up new enthusiasm that lasts well into the summer weeks.
