Good Attendance At Playgrounds

Four of the town's five operating playgrounds drew a total registration of 537 Tuesday morning, the second day of operation.

Only Indian Ridge — where the Board of Public Works this week is completing a grading project — did not open on schedule Monday. This playground should be ready for use the first of next week, as the BPW plans to have the old school site filled and leveled off by tonight.

Registration by playgrounds showed 231 at Central, 202 in

No Decision Yet On Numbers Plea

No decision has been reached on changing Wolcott ave. house numbers back to the old system, as requested by residents of the avenue.

Every house number on that avenue was changed by professional mappers, as part of an overall project authorized by the Assessors. About 1,200 numbers were either changed or issued for the first time in the comprehensive program. Notices to residents went out last week and the howl of protest from Wolcott ave. residents was immediate, according to the Assessors.

Seems that every street parallel to Wolcott has odd numbers on the right, even on the left. Over the

INJURED IN CRASH — Mrs. Evelyn Cardinal, 13 Cornell rd., was injured in a two-car collision Friday, June 27, at the corner of William and Poor sts. Ambulance attendants Walter Winward and H. Clark Otis took Mrs. Cardinal to the Lawrence General Hospital, where she was admitted for treatment of injuries to the right leg and left rib section. Her son, David Scott Cardinal was released after treatment for a questionable head injury. The 11-year-old was tossed to the pavement by the impact, police said. Authorities said the Cardinal car was headed east on William st. when it came in contact with a car driven by Donald Lawrence, 24 Clark rd., travelling on Poor st. Lawrence told police he was not hurt. (Leone)

NEW HOURS SET AT ANDOVER DUMP

The Selectmen, at the request of the Board of Health, have set the following hours for use of the dump on Chandler rd.:

Weekdays — 8 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Sundays — closed all day.

The Board of Health said it took action because of complaints that out-of-town people are using the dump late at night and on Sundays.

Want Employees To Use Lots

Additional two-hour and no-parking signs will be installed on streets around the Raytheon plant in Shawsheen, according to a decision of the Selectmen.

That Board met Monday night with an official committee of the Shawsheen Village Improvement Association.

Members of that group had high praise for Raytheon's efforts to provide parking areas for employees, culminating in a 900-car lot opened last week.

But they asked town officials to see that the employees use the

Absolute Promise From State To Match $175,000 Brook Fund

The State Division of Waterways has given the town definite assurance that it will match $175,000 appropriated locally for Rogers Brook drainage and approve construction based on plans drawn by Clinton Goodwin back in 1955.

The Board of Public Works and Selectmen immediately threw their weight behind the move to get Rogers Brook drainage underway, after years of waiting and discussing its pros and cons.

The Selectmen, at the request of the state, have written a letter stating the town will not hold the state responsible for the engineering, as it was done by the town's consulting engineer.

Verbal guarantees have been given that receipt of this letter will spark a decision in the State Division of Waterways to allocate the funds for the Brook construction.

Speed Indicated

It's possible that bids might be called later this year, if the state Division moves as speedily as indicated during a conference some days ago in Boston. BPW Members Mason Arnold and Francis P. Reilly, with Water Supt. Donald Bassett, attended the session. They said the director of the Division flatly agreed to an allocation of matching funds — on the basis of using Goodwin's engineering design. Arnold also pointed out that giving the state a release from responsibility, if the plans are faulty, doesn't jeopardize the town's position. "For", he said, "if the state's plan was wrong you couldn't do much about getting the work corrected. It's just a matter of maintenance after the work is done, anyway".

And with that decision, the state apparently permanently filed its own plans for the Brook reconstruction — plans that would have cost an over-all $881,000. A consulting engineer hired by the state had drawn that set of tentative plans, that called for a tunnel under Main st. When the town heard the price tag, there

Daring Holdup Attempt Foiled By Alert Police

A lone bandit was captured by alert Andover patrolmen Tuesday night, as he held up the Howard Johnson restaurant at the By-Pass in full view of 100 patrons.

Officers Richard Caldwell and Warren Maddox captured Joseph G. Poulin, 15 Kearsage st., Roxbury. He was scheduled to appear in district court Wednesday, on charges of robbery while armed and carrying a revolver without a permit.

The two officers were making a routine check of the restaurant premises shortly before 10 a.m. Tuesday evening, when a waitress appeared at the back door and told them a holdup was taking place. Caldwell raced around to the front entrance and Maddox went in the rear door. They converged on the suspect at the cash register, where he surrendered without a struggle.

Police said the unemployed hotel worker blamed a shortage of money for his attempt.

Investigating officials said the man appeared at the restaurant just before 9:45 and approached a hostess, Bernice Murphy, 18 Crosby rd., Reading and asked for the manager. She called assistant manager Roger G. Girardi, 42 Allston st., Lawrence.

Police spokesmen allege the bandit displayed a .38 calibre revolver and told Girardi to put the contents of the cash register into a shopping bag he carried in John K. Twigg, son of Mrs. Helen Twigg, 4 Summer st., is one of a small group chosen by Essex Chapter, Order of DeMolay of Lawrence to represent the chapter at the dedication of the new DeMolay building in Kansas City. The group left July 1, including Allan Zecchini, Richard Lange, David Morse, John Wilson and William Birtles.

Robert Twigg, son of Mrs. Helen S. Twigg, 4 Summer st., will spend this month on the Indian reservation at Parmalee, S. D. The Senior Pilgrim Fellowship of the Free Church sponsored his trip to a denominational work camp there, where he will be one of 16 youths helping the Parmalee Congregational Indian Church move its church building two blocks and its parsonage eight miles. Leisure time will be spent learning about Indian life from the reservation superintendent, members of the tribal council and from government officials.

He lectured considerably in the Greater Lawrence area on his collection of Bibles and is widely known for his lectures with colored pictures, of his travels to Europe, the South Pacific, Mexico, and our own national parks.

Must Apply For Firefighter Exam

Friday, July 11, is the last date for filing applications to take the examination for firefighter in the Andover Fire Department.

Chief Henry L. Hilton has announced that the examination will be held Aug. 1. To become eligible for appointment, candidates must pass a written exam, physical examination and a strength test.

The written exam includes questions on general information such as spelling and meaning of words, arithmetic, geography, history and current events; and questions based on information in the "Red Book", part one. Physical exams and strength tests are given only if a candidate passes the written exam.

Chief Hilton has suggested that any candidate might be helped by inspecting the apparatus at the Fire Station and asking questions of firefighters there. He said permission to do so would be granted whenever it does not interfere with department work.

15 FEET OF PEAT BELOW SUNKEN ROAD

State engineers have found out how much peat lies underneath Shawsheen rd.

Borings indicated that 15 feet of peat is below the portion of the road which sank shortly after it was reconstructed according to a state plan.

This information was passed along to the Board of Public Works but no suggested solution for the problem was offered.

years, Wolcott ave. has been just the opposite - and the mappers changed it to conform to the pattern. Residents generally complained that the numbers had been in use for many years, that all official documents would require changing and that extensive notification would be necessitated to friends and business firms.

Board Disagrees
At a meeting last Friday morning, Selectman Stafford Lindsay spoke out for retention of the old system. Chairman Sidney P. White offered the objection that people all over town might believe they could have their new numbers changed again if an exception is made for Wolcott ave. folks. Dr. William V. Emmons is out of town on vacation.

A representative of Wright and Pierce, the Topsham, Me. firm that did the job, said a set pattern was followed in numbering all homes and open lots in the town so that all would conform. He pointed out to the Assessors that a change back to the former system in one area would tend to defeat the purpose of the numbering project and might make it difficult in years to come when engineers and others are using the town maps and numbering system for plans.

Others Satisfied
The reaction in most sections of town appeared favorable, the Assessors stated. They explained that many homeowners never had numbers and are now happy to have a more favorable method of directing mail, delivery men and visitors to their homes.

In some sections, property owners have assumed a number which has now been changed. Isolated complaints have been received from some in this group, it has been stated.

The system set up by Wright and Pierce will make it possible to assign a number to a new home, which should not require changing in the future. The Assessors explained that lots have been numbered, so that there will be no guess work as houses are built and requests come in for numbers.

Postoffice Happy
The Postoffice, queried about the new system, explained that it will be easier for new carriers and substitutes during the Christmas season. Older carriers know the families, while the newer or substitute men have difficulty in finding some residents under the present system. Outside delivery men will also be aided, it has been explained, because they will be able to look for the specific number on a street. However, the Postoffice said it will not be necessary to immediately throw out stationery and other material with no, or old, numbers. Mail won't be sent back to the sender if the old number is used, but it will be easier if the transition is made as soon as possible.

lots, now that sufficient space is available.

Selectman Sidney P. White said sufficient two-hour or no-parking regulations will be provided.

But the Selectmen did not agree to ban all parking before 9 a.m., as requested by the Association. That group felt that such a ban would prevent Raytheon employees from parking all day - but Chief David Nicoll pointed out that it also would affect all residents, unless town meeting specifically voted to establish a by-law allowing the town to reserve space for residents who need not comply with parking regulations.

In general, the Association felt that adequate parking now is available for the employees. And they want the employees to be driven into the lots. Walter Davis, president of the group, said he would commend Raytheon for its cooperation and would be glad to work along with plant officials to help iron out any future parking problems.

Dewey Dyer, manager of community relations at the plant, commented that cooperation works two ways. He urged residents to go as far as Raytheon has in the way of cooperation.

Specifically, he asked that some street area be available for unrestricted parking, so that persons having business in the plant may park and not worry about getting a ticket. Dyer noted that salesmen sometimes must spend several hours within the building.

He also agreed with residents of the area that safety precautions must be taken in the bad traffic sections. He listed Fleming ave., Haverhill st. in front of the Motor Mart and Ballroom, Burnham rd., Balmoral st. and a portion of York st. as being trouble spots.

Dyer also reminded the Association and Selectmen that industry is important to a community. He recited statistics showing that for every 500 industrial jobs, there are 370 additional jobs required in the community. A properly balanced industrial-residential community is in much better financial condition than one without industry, he commented.

Members of the Association stressed their desire to cooperate, but they also repeatedly suggested that additional town restrictions on parking will be needed to force the employees to use the lots. Some 3-400 spaces will be available in the newest lot, even if all employees' cars are parked in Raytheon lots, they explained.

HOLDUP AVERTED BY POLICE

his other hand, Girardi said he had turned over more than $350 from the register, when the man told him to "get the rest of the money". They were standing near the register when police entered.

The holdup car was discovered some distance from the building with the engine running. At the time it was believed that a woman might be involved, as a blonde had been seen at the restaurant during the holdup. Witnesses, police said, claimed the woman had driven off in a green Cadillac or black Buick. Roadblocks were established in No. Reading and No. Andover by state and local police in an effort to halt the car. The suspect denied, however, that he had an accomplice.

Sgt. James R. Lynch responded to the holdup alarm and Chief David Nicoll reported to the police station.

Leaving Seminary For N.Y. Church

REV. E. J. D'ONOFRIO O.F.M.

The Rev. Ernest J. D'Onofrio, O.F.M., who has been superior of St. Francis Seminary, West Andover, for the last three years, has been appointed pastor of Our Lady of Pity Church, 276 East 151st st., Bronx, N. Y., and will leave shortly to assume his new duties. Known as "Father Ernest" he has made many friends during the three years he has been stationed in West Andover. He formed the Men's Guild and the Woman's auxiliary, both of which are flourishing organizations and have made substantial contributions to the seminary. He has been in demand as a speaker at Catholic functions in the area, particularly communion breakfasts, and has been most willing to accept these engagements. In leaving the seminary Father D'Onofrio expresses the wish that the members of the Guild and the auxiliary as well as all workers for the seminary will give the same cooperation to his successor that they have given to him and will continue to have an active interest in the seminary.

The Rev. Ambrose DeLuca, O.F.M., formerly from Jersey City, who has been stationed at the Seminary for nine years, has been named Superior. He is the former circulation manager of the Padre Magazine.

The Rev. Kenneth Garofolo, O.F.M., has been transferred from the Seminary to Christopher Columbus High School in Boston.

Eleven Men Found Guilty

Eleven young men were given varying suspended sentences in District Court Monday morning, on charges of disturbing the peace on Wildwood rd. Sunday about 12:35 a.m.

Another, a juvenile, was heard in a closed session.

Police charged that the men, riding in two cars, stopped in the thinly-settled area to fight. Having attended a dance in Lawrence, the police said, both cars were headed for Boston when one stopped due to muller trouble. Occupants of the second car hurled a challenge to fight and the men went to the secluded area.

Mrs. Ellen M. Flynn of Wildwood rd., hearing the disturbance, called state police, who notified Andover police. Officers Jacob Jacobson and James Gorrie, with State Trooper Carl J. Vets, rounded up the 12 men. Nine of them were locked up in Lawrence for the weekend and three were detained at the state police barracks.

Trooper Vets testified that the group was milling around, shouting and using profanity when he arrived at the scene. Andover police were having little success reasoning with the group and the arrests were made when they refused to quiet down.

Many Helped At Scouting Camp

Many parents, Boy Scouts, and Andover builders have pooled their energies and equipment to assure the 300 Girl Scouts who will attend Camp Maude Eaton this summer of having fine camping facilities. The greatest improvement will be in the new beach area.

Sand was contributed to cover 200 feet of new waterfront out 50 feet into the water. Rough sand from off the camp ground was hauled down to the area to be put down first. This was scooped and trucked by local contractors on several evenings.

The local lodge of the Boy Scout honor group, Order of the Arrow, put in many days and evenings relocating one of the tenting areas. The program for the older girls will be greatly enhanced by the fine arrangement of the tents in a semi-circle, with the kitchen area placed in the center. Swamping out brush, moving platforms, laying of new pipe, digging a dry well, building new tent supports and digging out roots in the fire area were all part of the work which the boys did so ably. Despite the vandalism which held up progress in this project, the Crest unit was ready for the campers on opening day, Sunday June 29.

The boy Scouts also cleared away the burned trees which were the result of last years devastating fire. Brush around camp was burned and the road was considerably improved.

The Greater Lawrence Girl Scout Council greatly appreciated the efforts of everyone in the community who gave so generously of their time and equipment to further this worthy cause.

And it is the employees to be moved into the lots. Walter Davis, president of the group, said he commended Raytheon for its cooperation and would be glad to work with plant officials to work out any future parking problems. Dyer, manager of communications at the plant, commented that cooperation works best. He urged residents to work with Raytheon as far as possible. He asked that the street area be available for parking, so that parking business in the plant area and not worry about a ticket. Dyer noted that sometimes must spend hours within the building. He also agreed with residents that safety precautions be taken in the bad traffic area. He listed Fleming ave., 111 st. in front of the Motor and Ballroom, Burnham rd., 111 st. and a portion of as being trouble spots. He also reminded the Association and Selectmen that industry is important to a community. He pointed out statistics showing that there are 500 industrial jobs, 370 additional jobs in the community. A balanced industrial-residential community is in much better financial condition than one in industry, he commented. He also expressed the Association's desire to cooperate, and also repeatedly suggested additional town restrictions. He said that more parking will be needed to allow employees to use the same 3-400 spaces will be in the newest lot, even employees' cars are parked on lots, they explained.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Politicians' Dilemma

The Board of Selectmen, as assessors, are now considering the request of Wolcott ave. residents that street numbers be changed back to their old form. The numbers were altered and residents were notified of the changes, at the same time as numbers were given out all over town.

But Wolcott ave. made a complete change — odd numbers became even; even was changed to odd. And residents don't like this at all.

Here is a politician's nightmare.

A decision was made to re-number the town. Mapping experts, as part of an over-all project, numbered every home and all lots. They did the job according to a set formula, so that all sections and all streets would be similarly treated. Once the job was done, notices were sent out.

And then the pressure — the telephone calls and personal visits — began. Folks on Wolcott ave don't want the numbers changed. And they have a reasonable excuse — the street has been numbered incorrectly through the years and a change now means many address changes and alterations of address on official documents.

It's hard for a man, who depends on public support, to have this kind of pressure exerted, no matter how well-intentioned. It becomes difficult to make up one's mind whether to stick with a decision or adopt the position that the complainants have a logical argument and that one change in the rules can't hurt anything.

The result of making a change, in this case, could be catastrophic. Up to one-third of the town is involved in the numbering project. Many of those with new numbers may be satisfied. But some, in addition to the Wolcott ave. residents, probably would prefer their old designation. If a change is made for Wolcott ave., how can anyone justify refusing a re-adjustment for some other resident?

There is much value to having a consistent numbering system. We have it now, as a result of a decision made by the Selectmen-Assessors. We would think that Board would hold its ground. For while it is unpleasant and unpolitical to refuse a request backed by the implied pressure of many calls, it is necessary to do the best thing for the entire town.

Stern Treatment Required

Two 10-year-olds walked through Camp Maude Eaton some nights ago and had an amusing time pulling stakes out from under the tents.

Must have been real funny, watching those tents fall like match sticks. Funny, that is, to the boys; but certainly not to the Girl Scouts, who had to spend the time to re-erect the tents and the money to fix some, which were disabled during the youngsters' good time.

Some people class this as a childish prank, with no harm intended. Others feel it is a mild form of juvenile delinquency, which should be nipped quickly, before worse things happen.

It's easy to say this was just a stunt; fun, without regard for the consequences. But probably it would be fairer to lean in the other direction.

Isn't most serious juvenile delinquency among older children prefaced by such pranks as this, for which no punishment is handed out? Too often, it seems, adults tend to chuckle at this type of 10-year-old mischief and excuse it by claiming the boys are too young to know the consequences. When this happens, there must be developed in the child a belief that older people are going to protect him when he gets into difficulties; that they will protect him from punishment or from public accusation.

Seems as though such foolishness by 10-year-olds should be dealt with strictly so that the boys will easily understand, the next time they are tempted, that the consequences will certainly be visited upon them. This may be one method to prevent more serious, "thoughtless" pranks in later years.

Cupid finds it a lot easier to get two hearts to beat as one, than to get two mouths to eat that way.

Don't advertise your faults — others will take care of that.

When a man loses his temper, his reason takes a vacation.

One portal that never gets jammed is the door to success.

Strawberries - An Interesting Fruit

Scott H. Paradise prepared this interesting history of the strawberry for distribution to those attending the Andover Historical Society's Strawberry Festival June 25.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL

Andover Historical Society

June 25, 1958

"Doubtless God could have made a better berry, but doubtless God never did."

Quoted in The Compleat Angler, 1655

In 1868 you could buy at the Gutterson Farm on Salem Street two boxes of strawberries for about 90 cents.

Or for the same amount you could buy downtown:

1 roast of beef, or
1 leg of lamb, or 6 lobsters, or

6 hours of work by a cleaning woman.

Obviously strawberries were a luxury, and many people agreed that God never made a better berry. In 1624 American strawberries were recorded as growing in the garden of Louis XIII of France.

For more than fifty years strawberry plants have been cultivated in Andover and sold throughout the Eastern and in many Western states. The principal growers at present are the George Rennie Farm and Roger H. Lewis.

Since 1914 the George Rennie Farm has sold strawberry plants to a lady in Vermont who is now 75 years old.

In 1925 the same farm shipped plants to Scotland.

In 1957 Roger H. Lewis shipped 5000 plants of two varieties to a jam manufacturer near Dublin, Ireland.

For years Bishop Sherrill has bought Andover plants for his farm in Boxford.

Andover strawberry plants have also been sent to Alaska and to Czechoslovakia.

California, Florida, and other states raise strawberries, but they do not equal the Andover product in flavor and juiciness.

"Strawberries bring in early money." With no other fruit crop can you set plants or trees one spring and harvest a full crop of fine fruit the next spring. They are the first crop to be harvested in the spring.

Strawberries are so productive that one acre may produce up to 10,000 or more quarts. "Every plant a quart" is the slogan.

The harvesting is done largely by youngsters who work from 8 A.M. to noon. An expert picker can pick 50 or more boxes in that time.

To counteract insects and disease plants must be sprayed, but only before the fruit begins to form. After the fruit appears, birds are a great nuisance. There is a device which shoots off firecrackers at irregular intervals to frighten the birds. It does not trouble the birds very much, but is likely to terrify the family dog.

The Young Housekeeper's Friend, by Mrs. Elias Cornelius, published in 1849, mentions strawberry ice-cream, strawberry preserves, and strawberry jam. Mrs. Cornelius's home was the house on School Street now occupied by Mr. McDuffie.

Slade's Guide to Good Cooking published in 1902 gives seven strawberry recipes, i.e., dumplings, fritters, cottage pudding, puffs, sauce, sponge cups, tapioca.

RIPE FRUIT FOR DESSERT

Never wash strawberries or raspberries that are intended to be eaten as fresh fruit. If they are so guilty as to require this process, keep them off the table. You will certainly ruin the flavor beyond repair if you wash them, and as certainly induce instant fermentation and endanger the coats of the eaters' stomachs. If after profaning the exquisite delicacy of the fruit to this extent, you complete the evil work by covering them with sugar, and leaving them to leak their lives sourly away for one or two hours.

Common Sense in the Household; a Manual of Practical Housewifery, by Marion Harland, 1871

STRAWBERRIES IN SNOW

This is luscious. Whip a cup of heavy cream and fold it into a pint of vanilla ice-cream to which you've added $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of rum or brandy or sherry. Serve the fluff over sweetened berries. This topping can be kept in a refrigerator tray in your refrigerator but not in the freezer.

Kitchen Companion by Ruth Ellen Church

Miss Bessie Goldsmith and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Rennie were very helpful in gathering the above information. Modern Strawberry Growing by Albert E. Wilkinson was also useful.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — July, 1908

A large number of local people attended Buffalo Bill's show in Lawrence last evening.

The annual horribles parade was held Fourth of July morning. Prominent among the winners were William C. Brown as King Phillip; William C. Crowley as Teddy Roosevelt and Wendell Kydd as William Taft.

William Albert Stevens and Miss Helen Lumsden Whitehead were married Tuesday evening, at the home of William Gortie by the Rev. F. A. Wilson.

Joseph Burns of Summer st. is planning to open an office for the practice of law in the Draper Block. He recently graduated from Harvard Law School with honors.

25 Years Ago — July, 1933

A visitor to an Andover home accidentally drowned in Berry's Pond Sunday afternoon, when he apparently slipped off a makeshift raft. The victim couldn't swim. The pond is located in the Harold Parker State Forest, a short distance from the Andover line.

H. Gilbert Francke, chairman of the School Committee, has tendered his resignation from the School Board. He said business keeps him away from school affairs to a point where it is impractical to continue.

The unusual regal lilly that has attracted so much interest in the past is again in bloom at the residence of William Thompson, 6 Argyle st. There are 100 blooms on it at present.

Only 10 local men, who are able to work, are presently on the welfare rolls. They generally are men who are too old to go to work in the mills. Suspension of the Emergency Committee work has meant very little, as far as the welfare rolls are concerned.

Thousands of residents and persons from out of town flocked to the Playstead Tuesday night and again on the Holiday for the biggest Fourth of July celebration in many years.

10 Years Ago — July, 1948

The Police Department has been designated as the official collection agency for the new parking meters.

A group of local firemen spent two off-days at Plum Island, painting the Polio Camp.

The ordination and installation of the Rev. Phillip M. Kelsey, as pastor of the Ballardvale Congregational Church, took place Wednesday night.

Seventy-six houses are in the process of construction here, according to Building Inspector Ralph W. Coleman. This is more than in several years past.

Large registrations at both the playgrounds and Pomp's Pond were noted last week, as the recreational facilities opened for the summer.

4 Appointed By School Committee

Four appointments to the Andover school system were made by unanimous vote of the Andover school committee last week.

Miss Barbara Theresa Puzio, Bronx, N.Y., was appointed to the fifth grade in the West elementary school. She is a graduate of Hunter College with a bachelor of arts degrees and she has been practicing teaching in the New York system.

Miss Priscilla Trowbridge, West Barnstable, will teach English in the high school. She is a graduate of Keuka College, Keuka Park, N.Y. and has been practicing teaching in Andover. She also taught in the Northfield School for Girls. She spent a summer in Europe and took courses at the Viittakivi International College, Finland.

Edward P. Grigoli, 421 Massachusetts ave., No. Andover, formerly of Lawrence, will teach music in grades seven through 12. He has been music supervisor in No. Reading for the past three years. He is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music and holds both bachelor and master degrees in Music from Boston University.

Mrs. Hazel Gray Wilson, 9 Avon st., presently employed in the office of Smart and Flagg, was appointed secretary in the office of the Central School. She is a graduate of Burdett College. Her employment will be 40 weeks a year and her beginning salary will be $45 per week.

The beginning salary for teachers in Andover is $3,800 with $150 increments for each year's experience.

HIGH SCHOOL OFFICE OFFERS SERVICES

The pupils of Andover High School and their parents will be able to receive services from the High School office throughout the summer, except during the days between July 28 and Aug. 7.

New pupils are requested to enroll at their earliest convenience. Any pupils whose subject choices for next year have not been completed should arrange for conferences before school opens.

Principal Lindsay J. March will be away from the office from July 15 through Aug. 6. All teachers will return to start the new year Sept. 3, with school opening the following Monday, Sept. 8.

STATE PROMISES BROOK MONEY

were quick and outspoken comments against the proposal as being unrealistic and far too expensive.

And there the subject sat for some months.

After considerable time, the Board of Public Works decided to form a citizens' committee to study the problem and perhaps arrive at practical solutions. But member Harry Axelrod, in charge of the committee, was defeated for election to the Board.

His successor, Mason Arnold, gained Board permission to contact the state and ask whether the 1955 plans could be used. He reported this week that the state was informed that nothing would be done on the state's plans because they are too expensive and would have no chance of getting past town meeting.

But the Goodwin plans, based on the bids that were received in 1955, appeared to answer the purpose. Arnold said it appears that bids this year would not be too much higher than those received in 1955, with the probability that there will be enough in the total $350,000 to pay for engineering supervision and any contingencies.

New Design

Goodwin will have to re-design some portion of the plans, it is explained. Originally, the new Brook path was across a piece of Central st. property which now is occupied by a building. Some other changes, initiated by growth in the town since 1955, must also be made. But officials feel these will be minor and will not be time consuming.

In 1955, the plan was to work from the westerly end of the Brook back to Main st., across Main and then up through the park. Officials have always felt that the west end of the Brook must be prepared first, to take the greater flow of water that will result when the easterly section is completed.

Ballardvale, 83 at Shawsheen and 21 at West Center. The West Center grounds re-opened this year after a three-year lapse, due to construction at the school.

Playground Supervisor George Snyder said some special events will be staged today at the various grounds, such as patriotic costume contests, but the flurry of opening day registration did not allow for programming the events in advance.

As in other years, Snyder this week asked that all pre-school age children using the playground facilities be accompanied by an older "responsible" person. He said supervisors at the grounds will keep a careful eye out for small children whose companions don't take proper care of them and will request that someone more responsible take over the task.

Snyder also asked the youngsters not to bring their dogs to the playgrounds. At least 15 dogs were counted at Ballardvale Monday morning, he commented. This number was reduced substantially in the afternoon session, but Snyder asked that care be taken to keep the pets away from the play areas. There is considerable danger in having so many dogs running and playing with the children, he explained, because they often get excited and into fights, which the youngsters try to stop.

The playgrounds will be open from 9-12 and 2-5, except in Ballardvale, where the afternoon session extends through the supper hour, to 8 p.m.

Assignments of the staff were completed last weekend. Snyder announced the following personnel:

Central, Paul Gallant, Emily Ownes and Joy Partridge; Ballardvale, Mrs. Geraldine Wrigley, Ted Boudreau, Barbara Forsythe and Rosalie Cardella; Shawsheen, Janet Skulski and Barbara Bradley; Indian Ridge, Dorothy Ann Walsh and Rosalie Milne; West Center, Elinor Warshaw and Patricia Goodwin.

Ann Marie Walsh is in charge of arts and crafts at the playgrounds. During this first week, she has been assisted by Dorothy Ann Walsh, whose assignment to Indian Ridge won't begin until next week. Miss Milne has been helping at

The plaintiffs allege to be the owners of certain land on County Road in Andover in the County of Essex and said Commonwealth, and the plaintiffs depend for their title on a deed running from Eleanor Hamel to C. & H. Company, dated December 1, 1931 and recorded with Essex North District Deeds in Book 562, Page 128, and a controversy has arisen between the plaintiff and John Zecchini as to the title of the land described in said bill, the defendant claiming title by virtue of a deed from Oscar M. Andresen, dated June 14, 1943 and recorded with said Deeds in Book 658, Page 480, and praying that their title be established.

And it appearing to the Court upon the suggestion of the plaintiffs that the whereabouts of some of the defendants are unknown and they cannot actually be served with process, it is ORDERED that notice be given by publishing a copy of this order once each week for three successive weeks in the Andover Townsman, a newspaper published in said Andover, the last publication to be one month at least before the said first Monday of August next.

NO MONEY AVAILABLE FROM RESERVE FUND

The Finance Committee has refused to transfer any funds to the Board of Public Works, following last week's request for $15,000.

The FinCom said it has only $18,000 for all emergencies during the remainder of the year. Agreeing that up to half the requested amount probably would come back in reimbursements from the state, the FinCom made the point that the money would be returned to free cash, not to the emergency reserve fund.

The BPW request covered anticipated Chapter 90 Construction money for Shawsheen rd. and a request from the Water Department to cover unanticipated demands for water main installations due to Route 28 construction.

Ziegra Writes From Boys' State

George Ziegra, one of Andover's two representatives to Boys' State, has sent the following letter to the editor of the TOWNSMAN, describing activities at the annual affair.

The letter was written June 25, mid-way in the activities.

"Today is Wednesday, but it doesn't seem possible. I'm having a wonderful time. We just finished taking the bar examination for the law course.

"Last night the Secretary of State was here at our assembly to swear in the newly elected state officers. Gynsi Nemeth, a fellow from Turkey (He was born in Hungary, then moved to Turkey) was elected governor, 408-59. The governor of Girls' State, a girl from Stoneham, was also here to give an address.

"Tomorrow the Boys' State Band, which I joined, is going to Chicopee to play at the Legion convention.

"Everyone is having a wonderful time and the weather has been sunny since Saturday. It's too bad we only have two and a half days left."

Attending the Boys' State with Ziegra was William Simpson of Gray rd.

Board Will Retain Policy

A policy of requiring owner-driver on all school buses was reaffirmed last week by the School Committee.

Taxpayers Association member Henry F. Wolfson asked the Committee to explain its policy, after commenting that he believes two or three thousand dollars might be saved by giving the contract to one firm.

Chairman Roy A. Russell told Mr. Wolfson the Committee, after some experience with systems other than owner-driver, feels that this method is the safest, most efficient and probably the most economical in the long run.

Reason given included the care and cooperation of a driver who knows that, if he is caught violating a traffic regulation, subsequent action could deprive him of his contract. This would not be true of drivers hired by a firm providing all the buses, the Committee believes.

Mention also was made of the Board's belief that an owner-driver, covering the same route for several years, gets to know the children. This is valuable in maintaining discipline, members said. They also commented on the possibility that a firm might have to hire transient help in providing drivers, as these part-time employees would leave to take full-time jobs.

Award Contract For Building

Joseph G. Hamel has been awarded a contract by the Recreation Committee to build a 20 x 16 concrete block building at the Indian Ridge Playground.

His low bid was $1,950. The structure, when completed, will provide facilities for playground users, similar to the building in Ballardvale.

Other bidders on the project were Philip Gaudet, $2,127; Alexander Henderson, $2,206 and Ed. Otto, $3,500.

The Indian Ridge School, where the new building will go up, was torn down this summer on vote of the annual town meeting. Work on filling the site continues this week under the direction of Highway Supt. Stanley Chlebowski. It is expected that the area will be leveled off by the weekend. The Recreation Committee has not put the playground into use, waiting for the cellar hole to be filled in and the area made safe.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Danielson of Cutler rd., spent the weekend at their summer home in Surry, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Henderson of Argilla rd., enjoyed the weekend with relatives at Ipswich.

SPENDING TWO WEEKS ON ARMY DUTY
