2 Political Rallies Here

Politics takes the spotlight locally this week, with impending visits from Senator John F. Kennedy this afternoon and of the entire Republican state ticket tomorrow morning.

A reception for Senator and Mrs. Kennedy will be held in the oval in front of the Junior High School, starting at 4:45 p.m. this afternoon.

A large and enthusiastic committee has been planning the event, including Atty. Joseph C. Sullivan, secretary; Mrs. James G. Prout Jr., Richard J. Hewitt, James J. St. Germaine, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Pendleton Jr., Ernest J. Savoie, Mrs. Dudley Fitts, Mrs. James D. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin K. Haggerty. Atty. Sullivan is scheduled to meet the official party at the Lawrence line and escort it to the Junior High.

Tomorrow morning at 10:30, the entire G.O.P. state ticket is scheduled to stop in the Square for an informal visit with townspeople.

Doughnuts and coffee will be served.

Republican Town Committee Chairman Philip K. Allen said there may also be a motor cavalcade to Ballardvale, Shawsheen and West Parish during the morning visit.

Several groups from Andover are also planning to attend the Republican rally in Methuen tomorrow night at Legion Hall.

The state Division of Waterways has agreed to reconstruct Rogers Brook, from the east side of Whittier st. to the Shawsheen River.

Officials of the Division Tuesday morning agreed to put up $175,000 - matching a like amount already appropriated by the town - to accomplish the task.

Members of the Board of Public Works met with Division officials in Boston, accompanied by Governor's Councillor Augustus G. Means. At the brief session, Director Rudolph Bissette said his Division will use the plans drawn by Clinton Goodwin as a basis for new plans. Some changes in the original plans, on which Mr. Goodwin worked for several months three years ago, will be made.

But division spokesmen said they will continue to represent

Seek Call Men For 2 Shifts

Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton wants to interview men between the ages of 21 and 35, who want to assume duty as call men in either of two categories:

Either from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.; or a full 24-hour period.

Hilton said a call man in the first category would be expected to answer alarms during the 11-hour daytime period on the days the individual works at his regular job and on a 24-hour basis on weekends and holidays or days he is not at his place of employment.

This time period is the most difficult to fill, Hilton explained, because there are few men available in local jobs, who are given the freedom by their employers to leave whenever the whistle sounds. He suggested that perhaps men working at night might

Say Experts Were Wrong

The Andover Taxpayers' Association, following its meeting last week, issued a statement on the town's revaluation and tax situation. The document was signed by President Harold Haller.

The statement reads: "In the Andover Taxpayers' Association statement, concerning our position on the revaluation, published early in August, we said, in part, 'we feel certain that final figures, if they are ever compiled in the form we requested them, will bear out our analysis to a substantial degree. If they do not, we will apologize to our assessors and Messrs. Wood and McGann publicly. If we prove to be correct, no apologies will be expected because apologies couldn't possibly repair the damage that will have been done to many more

Boosters Set $2,000 Goal

A goal of $2,000 has been set for the annual membership drive of the Andover Boosters Inc., according to chairman Charles O. McCullom.

The drive will be held during the week of Oct. 6. Increased scholarships have been given as the reason for the larger goal this year.

Flyers giving advanced information on the drive will be distributed by students next Monday. The work serves as a trial run through the precincts for the student workers, who will carry on the drive a week later.

Boosters President James B. Bennett Jr. and Chairman McCullom addressed the student body this week to explain the function of the Boosters Club and enlist the students' support.

Many Entered Fair Exhibits

The Andover Garden Club was well represented at the Topsfield Fair fall flower show held this month.

Led by Mrs. Robert G. Richards, chairman, with Mrs. Edwin L. Branley, Mrs. Ralph B. Wilkinson and Mrs. Henry Van Zandt, assisting on the general committee, many hours were spent scheduling the Fair's five-day flower show, the theme of which was "Nature's Bounty."

Thousands viewed with delight the many beautiful and timely arrangements displayed during the week.

Andover Garden Club members exhibiting included: Mrs. Charles Hollis, who won first prize for her exhibit of a Harvest Supper (class I). Mrs. Hollis used a burnt-orange rough-textured tablecloth for her arrangement of goldenrod, chrysanthemums and variegated fall foliage in combination with a "harvest" grouping of grapes, plums and eggplant. Accessories were a wine keg and copper mugs.

Mrs. John Cecil Jr. made clever use of wayside materials combined with driftwood for her subject, Nature's Paint Brush (class V).

Mrs. Ralph Hill had a most unusual combination of Birds and Berries (class III), for which she received third prize.

Mrs. Henry Van Zandt made charming use of seaside material in her arrangement of Nature's Paint Brush (class V).

Mrs. Byron Cleveland entered the Calico Coloring Class and used a rare old calico print belonging to her grandmother. Mrs. Cleveland was also a judge at the show.

Five members of the Andover Junior Garden Club under the chairmanship of Mrs. John Cecil Jr. exhibited in the children's classes. Larry Kidd and Ann Collins both won first prizes for their arrangements. Larry represented a nursery rhyme, "Three Blind Mice," and made his arrangement in a pie plate. Ann's award was made for her arrangement of wild flowers in a teacup.

Three honorable mentions were won by Fred Jewell, Susan and Michael Sullivan.

The fire occurred on the Labor Day weekend. The state fire marshal has not yet given a cause for the blaze, which the owners said did $100,000 worth of damage.

Theatrelogues At Davis Hall Saturday

Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Davis Hall, Abbot Academy will present Barbara Warren Shure in an evening of "Theatrelogues". She trained at the American Academy of Dramatic Art in N.Y., as well as at the Yale School of Drama. Following this she went to N.Y. and had the distinction of playing with such stars as Lynn Fontaine, Alfred Lunt, and Mary Martin. Being a very quick study she was in constant demand to fill in whenever necessary in various companies. After a few years on Broadway, Miss Shure decided she would rather see the current plays from the audience and then take them to the audience throughout the United States in a dramatized theatre program of the best Broadway Shows. So she started her programs speaking before every type group from children to the adults in both women's groups and mixed Guest nights.

Without costumes, scenery, lights, or any of the properties which almost always accompany a play, Miss Shure recreates the characters so vividly that many who have seen her have said "To see Barbara Shure is to see the current theatre." The public is cordially invited to attend.

Key to lots of living
BUY A HOME FIRST!

Yes, here's the key that opens the door to home ownership for you and your family . . . much SOONER than you may have thought possible! It's a home mortgage loan by Merrimack at moderate rates for you, specially arranged to suit your particular financial situation and budget requirements. Actually you pay off your loan much like rent . . . your monthly rent-like payments will take care of the interest, principal and real estate tax. The difference is that in the end, you have free and clear ownership of your home (instead of a bundle of rent receipts).

A gravel pit hearing on the petition of Joseph Watson to sell sand and gravel from land on Lowell st., east of Chandler cir., drew concerted fire from neighbors Monday night.

The Selectmen continued the hearing until next Monday at 7:30, after receiving information that Mr. Watson could not attend this week's session because of illness.

The residents of the area complained that it is a residential section, that operation of a gravel pit would be detrimental to property values and to the welfare of the area. They also spoke about the safety factor, with large trucks entering Lowell st. near a school bus stop.

The Selectmen said they have understood that Mr. Watson wishes to build three houses and is planning to remove only enough material to make this possible. Detailed questions were put off, however, until next Monday's meeting.

Bloodmobile Here On October 6-7

Mrs. William Perry and Mrs. Roger Whitcomb will be working full time at the Red Cross headquarters this week making out the schedule of donors for the bloodmobile visit of Oct. 6 and 7.

During the hours from 1 to 7 p.m., 10 donors will be planned for every 15 minutes. Appointment cards will go in the mail this weekend to each donor. Because of the tight schedule, Mrs. Perry asks that anyone who cannot keep the appointment call the Red Cross immediately, or at the latest, before 1 p.m. on the bloodmobile days.

Time is always allowed for unexpected walk-in donors, of whom there are usually about 50. As in other years the Red Cross is being allowed to use the South Church for this public service.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Voters Should Attend Session

This, very frankly, is a plea to all registered voters in the town to attend the special town meeting Oct. 6, at 7:30 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium.

The community has had several disappointing experiences with special meetings, particularly when they do not excite debate over large appropriations or emotional issues.

And at this session, there is little to offer in the way of excitement.

But there are vital proposals, all the same.

The zoning articles - referring particularly to the garden apartments, shopping centers and business zone - are of special importance to us all.

So, too, are the articles requesting appropriation transfers to accomplish the annual program of the Board of Public Works.

In short, although this meeting promises no sensationalism, this town's registered voters have a civic duty to perform by attending the session and staying until the end. A quorum of 350 is sometimes difficult to exceed, so let's not forget that date - Oct. 6 at 7:30 at Memorial Auditorium.

Have Courage, Not Fear

After listening to the abundant reasons for and against zoning to create a multi-housing district for a garden apartment project, we have come to the conclusion that a community must take a calculated risk when dealing with problems of this type, whether they be concerned with housing, business or industry.

The negative viewpoint, in large part, was based on the town's lack of control if garden apartment zoning is approved. In essence, this argument said the town should not allow the zoning unless it has air-tight control over the construction of the future. And it was pointed out with vigor that the town could run the risk of seeing some types of construction in the special district that would not be pleasing - this, based on the contention that the developer might change his plans later or might sell the property to another developer, who would build sub-standard housing units.

On the positive side, proponents of the special zone argue that the town should protect itself as much as possible, with rules, regulations and restrictions, but should not insist on perfection. This reasoning claims that the town must put some faith in the plans of the developer, particularly when the individual or firm happens to have excellent financial standing and to be of fine reputation.

It seems quite obvious that perfection can not be reached. But it also appears sensible to assume that we must not insist on it, for fear we will never be able to take a progressive step in our blind insistence on this tight control.

As it happens, the developer of the garden apartment project has himself agreed to any reasonable restrictions the town wishes to write into the zoning law. He realizes that the law probably could be circumvented somehow, during the coming years - but he also has pledged himself to abide by the law.

And in this case, what more can the town do? It seems to be a case of standing still, in fear of the future, or moving forward courageously, in the belief that community benefits from the project will exceed its detrimental features.

And this criteria, we suggest, should be used whenever a new project is suggested.

Will the project, of whatever description, help our town to such an extent that its bad features are outweighed? If the answer is yes, then we should always take the progressive step forward. We should never look so fearfully at the negative side that we see, but do not comprehend, the advantages.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - September, 1908

For the first time in the history of athletics at Pynchard High School, the football team has defeated Haverhill High, by a score of 6-5.

A very pretty bunch of pear blossoms were left at the Townsman office Wednesday morning by Wendell Kydd.

Miss Bertha N. Stevens, a teacher at Indian Ridge School, has resigned her position. Mrs. John Derrah has been named substitute for the year.

The Andover Republican Campaign Committee met in Abbot Village Hall last evening. Capt. John Henderson resigned from the committee because he will be away from town for some time. He was replaced by William L. Hogg. George Brown of Cuba st. was elected secretary.

25 Years Ago - September, 1933
The School Committee unfolded its proposed new school plans at a joint meeting with the Finance Committee. The plan calls for a structure with about 600 capacity, costing an estimated $160,000. This, coupled with other buildings in the Central plant, will provide for present enrollment and also for expansion. The Committee was asked to present further plans that would include an assembly hall.

The Andover Male Choir was officially organized last night at a meeting in Pynchard Hall. J. Everett Collins was named director, with David L. Coutts, president.

Chief George Dane has complained to the district attorney that investigators are coming into town on police work without notifying the local department. The county official has issued strict orders to his staff to contact local departments prior to commencing an investigation.

Herbert C. Peaslee, local game warden, has been transferred to Fitchburg.

The Andover PTA will hold an open meeting next Wednesday night to talk about the proposed new school. All interested citizens have been asked to attend and hear about conditions in the schools at present.

The Service Club was officially organized last night, taking over from the Lions Club. The new organization will not be affiliated with the International.

Joseph T. Remmes has been elected commander of Post 8, American Legion. He succeeds James Sparks.

10 Years Ago - September, 1948

The low-cost housing to be erected under the local Housing Authority is designed primarily for veterans earning $2,500 annually or less. State officials have pointed out that some applicants may not qualify and that the number of units permitted will be based on the number of applications from the low income group.

Phillips Academy opened with 725 boys yesterday, marking the start of the 171st year.

The Selectmen have notified interested parties that poles for electric wires will be put along back lots in Shawsheen, thus providing service but keeping the poles off the streets. Many residents had complained about putting the poles out on the streets.

Collections from the new parking meters since they went into use Aug. 30 amount to $670.42, according to the town treasurer. The average is $27 daily.

Parties For First Graders

There will be three first grade parties held at the Memorial Hall Library for children who are in the first grades of Andover schools. So many little persons are involved that each school has a designated day for its party. Tuesday, Sept. 30, Central Elementary children and their mothers will attend; Wednesday, Oct. 1, St. Augustine's and South Elementary; Thursday, Oct. 2, mothers and first graders of Marland, Pike, Shawsheen and West Elementary schools will be present.

At these parties, mothers and children have an opportunity to see the children's room, to meet those who will work with the children, to enjoy a brief story hour and light refreshments. The children sign their library cards with the mother adding a signature showing her willingness for the child to make use of the library.

All parties will be announced at the schools, and invitations will

Farewell Party Held For Mrs. Tyrrell

Mrs. Dennis A. Tyrrell 3rd was entertained at a Bon Voyage party Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank M. Green, 240 Andover st., Ballardvale.

Mrs. Tyrrell will join her husband, Staff Sgt. Dennis Tyrrell, United States Air Force, stationed in Tripoli, Libya. Her two children, Denise and Dennis 4th, will accompany her. She leaves Saturday from Logan Air Field and will fly to Charlotte, S.C. and leave by plane from there Sunday.

At the farewell party she was presented with a money tree. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Green, assisted by Mrs. John Duke, Mrs. Samuel Moore, Mrs. Willard Myers, Mrs. Ralph Sharpe and Mrs. James Enright. Mrs. Moore made a cake representing an airplane.

be taken home. It is hoped that all who can will bring their first graders and take this opportunity to see the library in which so many of a child's hours are to be spent.

Staff Note

Mrs. Pauline Downes has joined the Memorial Hall Library staff as part time worker.

Mrs. Arthur Bliss of the library staff is enjoying her annual vacation.

Great Books

At the first meeting of the Great Books Discussion Group, to be held at the Memorial Hall Library, Tuesday evening, Sept. 30, at 7:45 o'clock, the reading will be Plato's "Gorgias". Newcomers are cordially invited to attend any meeting of the group, held every other Tuesday at the same hour.

Littlest Listeners Groups

All children who have passed their third birthday and are under school age are cordially invited to become members of the Littlest Listener groups at the Memorial Hall Library. Children who live in Ballardvale have their meetings every other Thursday in the branch library. Andover children have theirs every other Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock, in the Children's room.

This year mothers are asked to enter groups divided according to locality, to some extent. This makes it possible for one mother to pick up several children from her neighborhood, if she wishes. Opening days have been set for the two groups. Those whose children expect to attend Central Elementary and St. Augustine's schools when they are older are asked to come to the library on Wednesday, Oct. 1, at 10 o'clock. Those who live in areas where they expect to attend Marland, Pike, Shawsheen, South or West Elementary will come for their first meeting on Wednesday Oct. 8, at 10 o'clock.

This arrangement should make a somewhat even division of children, since too large a number for any one group would limit activity of the children.

Any mother who wishes full information may call the library.

Note For Investors

Those who make use of the Moody's Investors Service at the Memorial Hall Library will be interested to note that there are a number of new features in the 1958 Public Utility Manual. In addition to its complete revision, the manual has the following inserts: Moody's charts of 92 widely held utility common stocks Utility rate cases and decisions in 1957 and 1958, lists of utility bonds non-refundable for a number of years and chronological lists of utility bonds, preferred and common stocks placed or sold in 1957, with pertinent data shown for each issue.

The Moody manuals and other aides for businessmen are shelved in the reference room.

PROMOTED

Cadet promotions have been announced in the R.O.T.C. unit at Northeastern University by Commanding Officer, Colonel M. D. Harris.

Northeastern's unit, with more than 2,800 cadets, is the largest voluntary Army R.O.T.C. group in the country, outnumbering the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Among those promoted were Robert C. Blomquist, 10 Canterbury st., first lieutenant.

OPEN HOUSE AT

All parents is planned for the evening of Nov. 4.

Conferences between parents and teachers can be arranged throughout the entire year, but attendance at the Open House events is especially desired as it gives the opportunity for many parents and teachers to meet each other.

Oct. 7, the parents of sophomore pupils will meet in the school auditorium from which they will be conducted around the building. Parents will have the opportunity to meet the teachers of their children for brief conferences and to make appointments for later conferences if desired.

SJOSTROM CONCERTS AT MUSIC HALL

The Board of Trustees of Methuen Memorial Music Hall has announced that again this year, the fall concert series opens with three concerts by Ivar Sjostrom, well-known and popular organist from Andover. Mr. Sjostrom will present his final two concerts on Wednesday evenings, Oct. 1, and Oct. 8, at 8:30 p.m.

Admission to this concert is free, but a collection will be taken.

Band Parents Met To Plan Season

The first meeting of the All-Girl Band Parents Association was held Tuesday evening, Sept. 16 in the cafeteria of the Junior High School. Miss Joyce Mowat, acting director of music in the Andover schools, presided.

The first order of business was the election of officers for the current year. Mrs. Harold Freeman, as last year's vice-president, automatically assumed the chair and will be assisted by Mrs. Edgar Johanson as vice president. Mrs. William Simeone, secretary, Mrs. Donald Bassett, treasurer, Mrs. Robert Grange, hospitality and Mrs. Frank Santuccio, publicity.

A sincere vote of thanks was accorded the out-going officers, who were Mrs. Walter Vogt, president, Mrs. Walter Reynolds, secretary; Mrs. Alvin Zink, treasurer; Mrs. Edgar Johanson, hospitality and Mrs. William Dellart, publicity. Mrs. Zink's report on finances showed that it was a most successful year and members look forward to an equally profitable year ahead.

The new uniforms which were purchased for the Band with the considerable assistance of the School Committee are expected to be worn at the Swampscott game, to be played in that town Saturday, Sept. 27. Miss Mowat stated that she hopes to have the girls parade through the main streets of the town prior to that time, in order to let the townspeople see what a fine showing their All-Girl Band makes. The date for this home-town review will be announced later.

Chaperones for the Swampscott game will be Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Simeone, Mrs. Jesuit, Mrs. Auchterlonie, Mrs. Johanson, Mrs. Bassett, Mrs. Freeman and Mrs. Stackhouse.

During the football season there will be two meetings a month, on the second and fourth Tuesdays at 8 p.m. It is hoped that all future meetings will be as well attended as was the first, and that more fathers will make a special effort to be present.

Hospitality was in charge of Mrs. Raymond Mowat, Mrs. Zink, Mrs. Johanson, Mrs. Freeman and Mrs. Reynolds.

The 24-hour call men are equally difficult to find, the chief explained, because of employment and the restrictive agreement that 24-hour service implies. Call men are allowed a small number of absences during the hours they sign up for, then are dropped if they miss too many fires.

In only one time period are there sufficient men, Hilton stated. This is the 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. shift, when it is possible for most men to respond without regard to their regular employment.

This is the last week of the Addison Gallery exhibition, "Art Schools U.S.A., 1958" which has been on view all summer. The exhibition consists of the work of 10 professional schools for training young American artists, selected geographically across the United States.

Each school was invited to choose and be represented by five examples of current student work, plus three examples of the present work of a graduate of 10 years ago. In this way, the staff of the Addison Gallery has brought together the differing opinions of those concerned with American art in various parts of the United States. The exhibition closes Sunday afternoon, Sept. 28.

The Addison Gallery is open free to the public every weekday from 9 to 5; Sundays 2:30 to 5.

people than the 'minority' our officials talk about. Unfortunately, the current listings of assessments running in the Lawrence Evening Tribune show that our analysis was more accurate than we could have expected.

"Not too long ago there was a news item that the assessors are amazed and disturbed by the drop in taxes which the Town will receive from personal property. The Taxpayers' Association finds it difficult to understand their amazement and concern at this late date. Our board has been directing the attention of the assessors to this phase of the revaluation, and to other phases also, for months, but they have been adamantly insistent that we didn't know what we were talking about. They preferred to listen to their consultants who, as the published tax lists are disclosing, couldn't have been more wrong.

"These 'experts' insisted that only a minority of the taxpayers would have their taxes increased beyond the $12 per thousand which would have been assessed on the 1957 basis anyway. They talked about one-third up, one-third down and one-third even. The lists published through September 20th show increases beyond the $12 rate for 73½ per cent of the taxpayers. That's quite a 'minority'.

"The $12 increase, on the 1957 basis, would have been a hike of just under 19 per cent. If the 'one-third up, one-third down and one-third even' record which these 'experts' and our assessors have been playing were correct, we would expect that the average increase in taxes for residential property would be just about 19 per cent. Instead, for the lists published through September 20th it is 34 per cent. Incidentally, the lists through September 20th cover almost 1900 parcels out of 3,000. That's a sizeable sample and should reflect the total picture fairly accurately.

"These figures are insignificantly different from those presented by the Taxpayers' Association to the assessors when we pleaded with them to soften the impact of the change by making it gradual and benefiting all residential properties, even those who were getting reductions. They preferred to ignore our analysis and to accept the advice of the 'experts'. We can only hope and pray that our fellow townsmen will be able to make the necessary adjustments in their tax finances without upsetting their general finances and without too much difficulty."

construction to take care of water from the worst storm anticipated in a five-year period. Originally, the state had drawn plans for the Brook that would take care of everything but the worst storm in a 50-year period. This proposal ran close to a million dollars however, and town officials had told the state there was no likelihood of the town embarking on a project of that size.

The state will start planning for the work immediately, the DPW members were told Tuesday. And construction should begin sometime early in 1959. Chairman Alex Henderson and members Albert Cole Jr. and Mason Arnold attended the meeting. Also attending was Water Supt. Donald Bassett.

EARLY CLOSING DATE FOR ABBOT APPLICATIONS

Abbot Academy has announced a Nov. 1, 1958 deadline for applications from prospective day students beginning in September, 1959.

The day students will be selected at the same time as are the boarding students - early in December - thus necessitating the earlier application deadline. Formerly the date had been in the spring.

The Academy pointed out that a relatively short time is available to get applications into the office and urges any interested girls to file theirs immediately.

Monro Named By Harvard

John U. Munro, a native of Andover, has been named new dean of Harvard College, effective Dec. 1. The announcement by Harvard University President, Nathan M. Pusey was made last week.

As dean, traditionally one of the central figures of the university, Mr. Munro will succeed Delmar Leighton, who has been named first master of Dudley House, the center for non-resident students from Greater Boston.

Mr. Munro will work closely with house masters and study faculty groups in assisting the development of educational programs. He has directed Harvard's growing program of financial aid for students since 1950. For the past four years, he also has been secretary of the Overseers committee headed by David Rockefeller, which studied the needs of the college.

Commenting on Mr. Munro's appointment, President Pusey said: "To Dean Leighton's place in the Dean's Office John Munro brings long experience with the affairs of the college and concern for its student body.

"In recent years one out of four undergraduates has sought his counsel through the Financial Aid Office. Invariably, they have found him a wise, practical and friendly source of help. His influence in the current problems in financing the education of college students has been widely felt, and he has had an important share in the planning of the program for the future of Harvard College in which we are deeply engaged."

Attended Phillips Mr. Munro, who attended the Andover public schools before entering Phillips Academy, is married to the former Dorothy Foster of Andover. He is the son of Mrs. Claxton Munro, 9 Lucerne dr.

At Harvard he has taken a major part in framing new financial aid programs. The latest, effective this fall, provides loans and monthly tuition payments for middle-income students as well as help for those with small resources. In addition to advising students on their financial problems, Mr. Munro has been teaching writing to freshmen as Lecturer on General Education. He is a member of the faculty committee on athletics.

Problems, Politics Involved In Conversion To Manager Plan

By David E. Young
On the other end of a flitting five-month span, Andover will make a fresh municipal start under its town manager charter.

This much is fact. But how it will be done, what happens in that transitory period between election and appointment of a manager, is a subject of considerable quiet debate among town officials.

Mainly, the discussion center around interpretations of the charter. But woven throughout the private talks is a strong political thread - who will the five selectmen be?

Practical Politics
As the manager charter reads, each candidate for Selectman must choose a term and stay with it. Two will be elected for three years, two for two years and one for the one-year term.

It's expected that there will be considerable jockeying for position, with candidates hoping to pick a soft spot. And of course there will be the inevitable attempt by some to so crowd the ballot with candidates that a minority vote will mean election.

Although there has been no announcement from any source, it is well understood in most political circles that the present Selectmen will seek election to that office under the new charter. But for which terms they will run is anyone's guess.

And there have been strong rumors, amounting to certainty in some observers' minds, that two or three members of the Board of Public Works will seek a Selectman's berth.

Names of other candidates, although the election is many months away, have been bouncing from mouth to mouth. But there have been no announcements and it appears that many names under discussion are just that - names, without much foundation in fact.

It has been anticipated, from public statements by members of the pro-manager group, that an attempt will be made to elect at least a majority of the Board. Whether this will be in the form of a slate of five candidates or whether the committee will choose individuals, but not a full slate, is not yet known.

Also under consideration, it is understood, is the question: "Can an opponent of the manager plan last year help administer it fairly or will he approach the new system with a negative attitude?" Some present officials and private citizens, themselves opposed to the plan, have said they believe most men could impartially support the manager plan, even though they were vigorous and articulate in their opposition last March. Others believe this isn't possible and they predict there may be a two-fold effort by proponents of the plan - to elect pro-manager candidates and also to at least prevent the election of the most definite opponents.

Another interesting sidelight on the campaign is the possibility that a woman might, for the first time in the town, have a good chance for election. One observer of the local picture thinks this may be a real possibility, in a crowded field.

Interpretative Efforts
In the field of legal interpretations, it is understood that several problems are presenting themselves for solution.

Who will serve as assessors, between election and appointment of assessors after a manager is hired and has come to work? The new selectmen will not be elected in that capacity, but certainly the town will need assessors during the town meeting period and afterwards. One answer, given considerable weight, is that present assessors will continue in the office until their successors are appointed and sworn in.

Other town officials, who will be appointed under the manager plan, presumably will continue to serve until they are re-appointed or another appointment is made.

The Board of Public Works, on the other hand, will be abolished as of election time.

But that Board must submit its annual budget for 1959 and someone certainly will have to explain it at town meeting. To whom this responsibility will fall is not clear. But some interested parties believe the Selectmen will fall heir to this job.

What happens, then, if the incumbent Selectmen are defeated or do not choose to run?

That possibility, while perhaps remote, must be considered. And it is here that some officials believe the town could face a neat puzzle. For in that event, there would be no one in the office familiar with the various budgets nor, perhaps, with routine procedure at town meeting.

It has been pointed out, however, that this situation could result in having each department head explain his own budget and special articles, rather than having it done by the supervising authority. Such a case would find, for example, the highway department superintendent taking the responsibility for his own department explanations, and so on, down the line.

Even after town meeting, these problems may confront the town. For it is assumed that a manager probably can't take over here until some time in June.

Other communities, it is explained, have found it impossible to hire a competent man in a hurry - and have taken the time to properly interview candidates for the position. And if the successful candidate happens to be a manager elsewhere, then he must give a reasonable notice to that community.

Under these circumstances, the town might find itself operating for a few months without the services of a professional.

Under the charter, the Selectmen may appoint a temporary manager and it is assumed that this could be done during the transition. In many communities, the temporary manager has been a career employee, familiar with local problems and municipal administration.

These, then, are some of the subjects under consideration, as the town faces this major change-over; and these are some of the political ideas and opinions of individuals in, or close to, elected offices.

On one item there was unanimity of opinion - that the next five months, until election; and the following months until a manager is appointed, will be some of the most fascinating and certainly some of the most important months the town may expect to face in many years.

Plans Readied For Dr. Phillips Visit

Members of the Missionary Committee of the Free Christian Church met Monday evening to make final plans for the visit to the church Sunday of Dr. Ray E. Phillips, Moderator of the Congregational General Council, and former missionary to South Africa.

Dr. Phillips will speak at the morning worship at 10:15, on the topic, "Our World Mission and Race Issues". In the afternoon, Dr. and Mrs. Phillips will meet in discussion groups with interested persons at 5 p.m., and at 7:30 p.m. the public is invited to an illustrated lecture by Dr. Phillips, depicting the work being done through the Congregational missionaries in South Africa.

Chairman Denis Hole met with the committee at the Church, and formulated final plans for Sunday, particularly for the evening meeting. John Hayes was asked to be in charge of setting up projector

Mr. Hole will be host to Dr. Phillips and Mrs. Helen Burnham will be in charge of a snack supper to be served to delegates who attend the afternoon discussion meeting. It was reported at the meeting that several Congregational ministers of this area will attend the evening meeting and a number of churches will send delegates both to the evening meeting and the late afternoon discussion. Members of the Free Church Senior High Pilgrim Fellowship will attend the evening session as a group, after their own meeting, and members of the Junior Fellowship will also attend.
