Planning Group Wants To Hear From Residents

Plans for the town-wide conference on public education, slated for Nov. 5 at 7:30 in the High School, are all but complete this week.

Dr. John P. Gainey, assistant to the superintendent of schools and head of the planning group, said his major concern now is hearing from residents who wish to attend the conference.

Although no tickets are required, he explained that it will be helpful if residents indicate their desire to attend, and make selections of which of the seven panel discussions they wish to attend.

Parents of school children received notice of the event this week, but Dr. Gainey urged all residents who have not had a return form through the schools to send a postal card to the superintendent's office at the Central School.

"We want everyone to know they're welcome", he stressed, "whether or not they have children in school now".

The seven groups, which will meet twice during the evening to give individuals a chance to attend two of them, include:

Grouping and what it means; reading, how the program works and what is done for fast and slow readers; the college-bound student, guidance services available, program changes ahead for these students; non-college student, available programs, guidance facilities, contacts with business and industry; teachers, problems of attracting and keeping good teachers, personnel policies, how teachers are found; a look ahead, future enrollment, new buildings; rating of schools, how this is done, ingredients of a good school, how to determine

Magazine Editor To Speak Here

The guest speaker at the Open House at the Memorial Hall Library this Sunday, Nov. 1, will be Mrs. Emily Flint, managing editor of the Atlantic Monthly.

"The Excitement of Publishing" is the theme of her talk, which will be given at 4 o'clock. She has stated that she does not intend to confine her subject to her experience with the Atlantic Monthly, but also wants to touch on the thrills and problems involved in the publishing of books.

Mrs. Flint has had long experience in the world of books. She was humanities librarian at M.I.T. for eight years, editorial assistant of the Atlantic Monthly for two years, research editor for four years and managing editor there since 1951. She is a trustee of the Medford Public Library, and has had her adventure in print as co-editor with Edward Weeks of the anthology "Jubilee", published two years ago, a selection of the best of the Atlantic's writings over the past 100 years.

The library will open its doors (Continued on Page Seven)

A fleet of six automobiles, joined later by individual cars, took members and friends of the Andover Village Improvement Society on a tour of its reservations on the afternoon of Sunday, Oct. 25. The Society's purpose was to provide an opportunity to see what has been accomplished since 1956 in acquiring areas for park and recreational uses, as well as for the establishment of sanctuaries for wildlife.

The pilot car, driven by George Sanborn, started from the meeting place in front of the Memorial quality of education. Dr. Gaaney said the conference will start with a general session, for explanation purposes, at 7:30. Shortly afterwards, the seven panels will begin an hour's meeting, which will be repeated after a short break at mid-evening. Thus, two persons from a family can expect to attend four panel discussions out of the seven if they wish.

One of the prime reasons for requesting advance indication of the sessions the individuals wish to attend is the problem of arranging the suitable meeting place. If a group can be expected to be large, it will be held in a room where there is ample space. Smaller sessions will be similarly located in areas that will be suitable.

Dr. Gaaney said he already has received several hundred forms, returned by parents from the messages sent home with pupils in all the schools. The most popular panel discussions, he said, appear to be the ones dealing with the college-bound student, reading and grouping. There also has been considerable interest shown in the panel on rating of schools.

The panelists, drawn mostly from the teaching personnel, will discuss their special area, leaving ample time for discussion with interested persons attending the meeting. A member of the planning committee will act as moderator for each panel, and someone from the committee will also act as recorder, so that summaries of the discussions will be available later. They will also give a quick summary at the end of each discussion period.

The Cooperative Way of Doing Business

(Part Two)

There are four ways of organizing a business — two monopolistic and two competitive. The monopolies are government ownership and government control. The two private-enterprise methods are: as profit-making companies or as cooperatives.

Cooperatives are voluntary, democratic non-profit organizations. Below are the chief differences between cooperatives and profit businesses.

PROFIT BUSINESSES

1. Owners are usually few
2. Owners often out of town (absentee ownership)
3. Control is proportionate to ownership (money votes)
4. Stock dividends are unlimited
5. Profits proportionate to ownership
6. Profits often go out of town

CO-OPERATIVES

1. Owners are numerous
2. Owners are local citizens (2300 friends & neighbors)
3. Control is equal, democratic (people vote)
4. Stock dividends limited (5%)
5. Savings proportionate to purchase
6. Savings stay in town

Will INSURANCE Replace It?

When fire destroys your home you want more than just "some" insurance. You need enough to replace the values that have been lost. What it cost you ten, fifteen, or even five years ago is much too low an estimate of what you would have to pay now. If we haven't checked insurance values for you recently, better let us do it for you right away.

"My wife has been hospitalized for months — the bill is already over $4000, and I'm without hospital insurance. The patient in the next bed has a Major Medical Expense Policy from your agency. She pays the first few hundred dollars, but most of the huge bill is paid by the company. Does this policy cost only $87. for a family?"

The next Reservation stop was at Baker's Meadow (48 acres) about a half mile up the road; then through the center of West Andover to the Stevens plot of land (three acres) on West Parish Acres. From there the procession moved on to the Albert Curtis lot (5 1/2 acres) off Dascomb rd., located near the Tewksbury line and bordered by the new highway.

STRONGEST GAME YET — That's Coach Dick Collins summary of the Andover-Newburyport contest last Friday night at Newburyport, which ended up in a 14-14 tie. Here, Quarterback Bleszinski, No. 19, picks up a few yards late in the game. An unidentified Blue Devil has attempted to block the Newburyport player who is about to make the tackle, while No. 47, Belpedio, comes up fast.

The last reservation visited was the tract of land (47 acres) extending along the western side of the Shawsheen River between Andover and Ballardvale, which was recently purchased from the Northeastern Scale Models Company.

A brief description of what the "tourists" were about to see on the reservations was given by Mrs. Juliet Kellogg, Heinrich Rohrbach, Harold Ralton, and Albert Retelle.

The oldest property, the Indian Ridge Reservation, was obtained by the merger of the Indian Ridge Reservation and the A.V.I.S. into one corporation under the name of the Andover Village Improvement Society March 8, 1915, by the laws of the Commonwealth. The Society voted acceptance of the Act May 17, 1915.

In the September hurricane of 1938, many beautiful trees were uprooted at Indian Ridge, but they were fortunately replaced by the young growth of 3,000 pines planted 10 years earlier. Today the trails are covered with a thick mass of soft, pine needles, which make walking along them an enjoyable experience. The beautiful coloring, the shadows cast by the trees, and the silence of the forest made the hikers feel completely relaxed as they walked along that beautiful, sunny, autumn afternoon.

At Baker's Meadow, Albert Retelle, whose house commands a superb view of the Meadow, said he had seen 35 Canadian ducks on the pond recently; that they had spent a whole day there, but were gone the next morning. As the hikers stood at the dam, several American widgeon ducks were spotted flying overhead. A path goes all around the pond.

The generous gift by Carl Ruth Stevens of a three-acre plot on West Parish Acres provides permanent recreation area for children in Virginia rd. vicinity. Skating is a favorite pastime there.

The Association is grateful to Albert Curtis, who is a firm believer in saving open spaces, making almost an outright gift of a 5 1/2-acre plot of forest land located off Dascomb rd. near the Tewksbury line and bordering on the new highway. This is a highly desirable type of property, well-suited to service to the people who will live in the new building developments along the forest area.

The recently purchased eastern property along the Shawsheen was the last reservation to be seen on the guided tour. The tract has great potentialities as a habitat and a recreational area.

Upon completing the tour, a group went to the home of Mrs. John Kimball on Holt Hill, a house 250 years old, situated on a hill 420 feet high and commanding the most picturesque view of the countryside and of the unforgettable sunsets to be seen in Andover.

Mrs. Kimball was the hostess to the guests who greatly enjoyed the refreshments and the social hour. The guests showed a keen interest in the map John Kimball had made of the Society's properties.

The work of the Society is supported partly by the income from funds left to it by former members but largely by dues and contributions from its current members. Needs help for this work. Interested residents may write or call the treasurer, David MacDermott.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Send Your Cards Now!

The attention of every resident should be focused on the conference on education at the High School Nov. 5. This should be particularly true of all men and women who have children in school now.

For the conference, divided into eight panel sessions, will cover most of the main topics which concern parents. And these will also provide ample information for those who do not have youngsters in school, but who help to pay the cost of education locally.

We must confess that it is difficult to predict how many individuals will avail themselves of this opportunity to find out what makes the school system tick - for we have often believed that some specific area of town affairs would bring out a large crowd, only to be proven wrong. There should be many hundreds of persons at the conference, of that we are certain.

In a community that prides itself on having an excellent school system, there should be no heel-dragging by any resident when it comes time to get better acquainted with that system.

Thus we urge every education-minded person to attend the conference. To make it a little easier on the school officials who handle the program, we'd also suggest that postal cards indicating the individual interest be sent to the school department office in the Central School building prior to the fifth.

Why Re-open The Issue?

In the "Letters to the Editor" columns this week is a note drawing attention to the controversy surrounding the negative decision on Sidney P. White's request for permission to install a six-inch sewer in Andover st.

The amount of public interest in this application has amazed many persons. Apparently a considerable number were waiting to find out whether Mr. White would receive an exception from the declared policy of the town, when others have not.

Our letter writer makes a good point - one almost, in our opinion, sound enough to make the granting of the permission desirable. He claims that special advantage should be given, because this is a commercial venture that will return tax dollars to the town. It's a known fact that several members of the Board of Selectmen agreed with this philosophy and were ready to vote for the smaller-than-planned sewer line.

But then town counsel ruled that the sewer, if under an accepted way, becomes the property of the town. No contract, no matter how it was drawn, could relieve the town of its responsibility for maintenance of the line. Also reporting to the Board were the engineering consultants, who strongly recommended against abandoning the policy of requiring all installations to be in accord with the master plan prepared for the future.

On these grounds, the Selectmen who had previously felt inclined to support Mr. White felt that they could not do so. We agree that it is folly to ignore the legal and engineering opinions, regardless of the strong arguments for doing so.

This question, like so many that face the town officials and everyone in everyday life, has two sides. Neither can be said to be completely correct. It's a matter of weighing the advantages and disadvantages and making a decision.

Unfortunately, in official or private life, decisions can hardly ever be taken without some post-decision wondering whether the action was the most sensible one. But without additional facts, not repetitions of the same arguments, it seems a waste of time to reconsider the issues.

Plan Now To Avoid Confusion

It's quite apparent from the prediction of school enrollment 10 years from now that relatively prompt action must be taken to provide additional facilities in the West Andover area.

The statistics indicated that the growth in school population will be moderate - something that the alarmists in the community will hate to admit. But all the same, it is apparent from mere visual observation that West Andover will be the location of much of the growth that is anticipated.

It would be senseless to postpone action that must be taken eventually. The West School already is using its library as a classroom and will not be able to absorb many more pupils. Even by the time the orderly process has taken place, if the beginning is made soon, there will be a need for the new building.

If the School Committee asks the next town meeting to establish a building committee and provide funds for preliminary plans, it would be a year from March before that body could report. Without any of the delays that so frequently haunt these projects, it would thus be March of 1961 before any money could be appropriated for the actual school. And it's sensible to assume that it would be well into 1962 before the school could be completed and put into use.

Any delay in this time schedule at this point will move the whole schedule back - to a degree that might be harmful in the mid-1960's. We suggest that the School Committee take the initial steps at the next town meeting, thus setting in motion the planning stages. If this is done we probably will have a school ready for use just about the time its needed.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - October, 1909

Harold Cates has entered the employ of Ames' store.

Mrs. Edward C. Cole and James N. Cole of Essex st. spent Sunday with relatives in Lynn.

At the fall meeting of the trustees of Phillips Academy, held last week, William B. Groves, who resigned from active duties last fall, was elected professor emeritus. James C. Graham was appointed Peabody Instructor in Natural Sciences.

Candidate Boutwell won the race for state representative by a narrow margin of 47 votes over Joseph Burns. Atty. Burns has filed a petition for a recount, which will be held Saturday afternoon.

Walter L. Lamont has been chosen agent of the Wood Worsted mill in Lawrence. He has been assistant agent for two years.

25 Years Ago - October, 1934

Chairman Frank H. Hardy of the School Building Committee says there is no danger that the federal grant of $112,700 will be lost, providing the town does not unreasonably delay awarding a contract for the work. Original bids came in some $50,000 above the total appropriation, and the architects are now working on revised plans that may attract lower bids. It was explained that building costs have gone up about 25 percent in the last 18 months, creating the difference between the bids and the estimates.

A Ballardvale young man became the fifth accident fatality of the year Tuesday, when he died following injuries suffered in an automobile accident on Osgood rd. Police theorize that his car turned over, throwing the driver out onto a lawn, when he attempted to swerve away from a mail box alongside the curving road.

The Andover Guild will start its season Monday, with afternoon registration for those under 14 and registrations in the evening for older persons.

The Legion's annual poppy day will be held Nov. 10, and the annual banquet will be held at the Country Club that evening.

A local merchant was victimized Monday by a woman shopper, who paid for merchandise with a check, receiving some change. The check later bounced.

The November allotment for ERA work here is $8,000 - the same as October. But there were five pay periods in October, with only four in November, meaning there is more money available in the latter month for additional employment.

10 Years Ago - October, 1949

Phillips Academy, with a promise to do everything possible to help, has dug up some old plans for a divided, four-lane street in front of the Academy. The Townsman last week urged that something be done about the 33-foot grass strip that is a bottleneck for traffic. The Academy had the plans drawn 17 years ago, but it was not economically practical to do the work then. The dividing grass strip, with two lanes on either side, would solve the problem of traffic congestion, it is felt.

Punchard took its fifth straight game Saturday, trouncing Stoneham 27-0.

The Housing Authority has recommended to the Selectmen that the street in the veterans' housing development be known as Memorial Drive. However, the Selectmen, who must approve all street names, want it to be known as Memorial Circle - feeling that the word "drive" is indicative of a wider thoroughfare.

Boosters' Day will be held Saturday, with many prizes being awarded right after the game with Lexington. The organization seeks money to buy 100 uniforms for the Band.

Several boys are being questioned, after car owners reported that 10 cars had the air let out of the tires along Central st. Most of the drivers were attending a fashion show at St. Augustine's School. The fire department compressor was summoned and pumped up all the tires.

Ernest S. Young has been elected chairman of the Red Cross Chapter.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman: "At first it appeared that it was correct and proper to deny S. P. White his application for permission to install a sewer line under a section of Andover st. However, it's reported that this portion of the Town is in a section zoned for industry, it being beside a railroad track. Consequently, it is allowed there in the interest of encouraging private enterprise which shall produce a profitable income for the Town's treasury can't be used as a precedent in other and different zones. Obviously, in areas zoned for industry more latitude and accommodation in the use of highways for private and public utilities should be allowed, that being a primary objective of zoning for industry."

"Should the Town place a sewer in the street at White location, it's important to keep in mind that the then abutter may by law, pay his share of the cost regardless of the method he may then be using to dispose of his sewage."

"On who will pay maintenance of the business here contemplated, 100 percent dependent on sewage disposal being in compliance and daily working order, the business must immediately assume. Consequently, it's farfetched to surmise that the Town shall be called upon to do what the plan is willing to be bonded to do, and must do in order to operate at all."

"As to the Town counsel ruling that '... any utility installed under a paved road becomes a public utility.' (Townsman 10-9-59 issue) and infer from that that the Town should be responsible for its maintenance it would appear that Andover is more nor less responsible for the maintenance of White's proposed utility than it is for the maintenance of the vast and widespread network of pipes, valves, vaults, conduits and wires under paved roads and which are private property of the electric and telephone companies."

"The foregoing supports hope that the Selectmen shall find it to reconsider their decision in this matter."

Karl Har...

Book Week

The first week of November observed throughout the country as National Book Week. Libraries and booksellers take these days to put special emphasis on the value of books and reading to everyone. The Memorial Hall library is making plans for an interesting week for its readers in both the main reading room and in the Children's room.

Beginning with the Saturday Open House, new books of fiction and non-fiction will be placed around the main reading room tables, to invite the attention of readers who may wish to reserve those with the most appeal. In the print conscious, there will be a display of the production staff of an article that was published in the Atlantic in October, showing Lewis Mumford's article "Morals Of Extermination" from its original manuscript to its appearance in the magazine.

Young people will have the books displayed in the Children's room. Each child may reserve a limited number of the new books which will go into circulation after Book Week. Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 3, at 3:35 o'clock, movie "Alice In Wonderland" will be shown to the boys and girls of Andover. There will be no ticket of admission. The movie will be about an hour, and parents should allow that much time if they wish to call for children.

Great Books

The reading for the November meeting of the Great Books Discussion Group is to be Aristotle's "On The Soul", which is to be found in a previous year's book "Introduction To Aristotle." The groups meets at 7:45 o'clock every other Tuesday in the Memorial Hall Library. New members are welcome to enter at any time.

Walsh Heads Red Cross

ROBERT A. WALSH
At the annual meeting of the Andover Red Cross, five new directors were elected for three year terms. They are Gordon Freeman, Very Rev. Henry B. Smith, O.S.A., the Rev. Frederick B. Noss, Irving J. Whitcomb, and Mrs. Elizabeth Larson. Mrs. Larson will serve as treasurer. Robert A. Walsh will remain as chapter chairman, and Robert A. Zollner and Miss Ruth Whitehill will continue as vice chairman and secretary, respectively. Four new two-gallon blood donors were given awards: Mrs. Clara Bredbury, Merrill Burnett, Owen Hinckley and Miss Helen Loux. The Veterans Administration presented pins to Mrs. Pauline Field and Mrs. Gertrude Allicon for 2,500 hours of volunteer work at the Bedford Veterans' Hospital, and to Mrs. Mary Dake for 100 hours of service at the hospital.

Preparing For New Addition

Sidewalk superintendents peeking behind the fence just beyond the Andover Co-Op can see a deep hole in the ground this week, as the addition to the supermarket gets underway. The site was, not too long ago, occupied by one of the town's older houses, in which the Andover Townsman had its offices. Later, the house was torn down and the area cleared for parking. Last week, following early-morning ground breaking ceremonies, the big shovels moved in to excavate for the sub-structure of the proposed addition. The new structure will have a 50-foot frontage on Main st., and will be 114 feet deep. The expansion project will cost over $100,000. The additional space will house the meat department, added refrigeration units and other facilities, according to Miss Mary Angus, manager. The Co-Op was founded in 1938 and opened at the present location in 1944. The firm expanded in 1954, making the store area over to provide more room. The land on which construction is now taking place, plus other land to the rear of the store, has recently been used for parking. There are over 2,000 Andover residents who, as members of the Co-Op, share in the business.

MRS. WILSON DOES NOT TEACH HERE

Mrs. Edith Wilson, whose picture was included last week in a group preparing for the conference on education Nov. 5, is not a teacher in Andover. She will serve as recorder for one of the panel discussions and has been serving on a special committee appointed by the School Board to handle arrangements for this conference.

AMAZING COLORED ALUMINUM PAINT WATERPROOFS, WEATHERPROOFS AND INSULATES; ADDS 5-10 YEARS LIFE TO ROOFS

RENEWS ALL TYPES OF ROOF AND SIDING SURFACES IDEAL FOR ASPHALT SHINGLES

A completely new roof coating that stops leaks, seals cracks, protects against weather extremes and insulates the home is available now from Sapolin Paints Inc. Called TEMP-TROL, this economical brush-on finish is especially recommended for asphalt shingles as well as asbestos-cement shingles, composition roofing, slate, corrugated metal and tar paper. TEMP-TROL can be applied over sidings of these same materials—also stucco, concrete, cement and cinder block. There is an attractive choice of neutral pastel colors to complement body and trim and immediately improve the appearance of any home.

PERFORMANCE ASSURED: BACKED BY THE REPUTATIONS OF SAPOLIN & ALUMINUM CO. OF AMERICA

TEMP-TROL combines rich pigment, Alcoa flaked aluminum and asbestos fibers in an exclusive alkyd formula.

The high aluminum content extends amazing insulating qualities to this coating. Sun rays are reflected off the TEMP-TROL roof in summer - rooms stay warmer in winter. Asbestos fibers in TEMP-TROL lock the finish securely to the original surface and form a stout, waterproof shield that fills cracks and nail holes, bridges minor imperfections, stops leaks.

The unique coating action of TEMP-TROL tightly seals down shingle edges. The entire roof is made weather-tight. Driving rains can't penetrate... heat and cold can't curl or separate shingles... strong winds can't lift and tear them.

TEMP-TROL lengthens the service life of your roof and adds new beauty to your home at a fraction of reshingling costs. Just one coat of TEMP-TROL will protect and preserve for as long as ten years. Whether you do it yourself or have outside help, anyway you figure it, TEMP-TROL will save you hundreds of dollars on labor and material.

Panel Discussion On Nuclear Tests

The Social Action Committee of South Church is presenting "A Christian Look at Nuclear Tests" Wednesday, Nov. 4, at 8 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

C. Dale Owens and Dixon B. Penick, both associated with Bell Laboratory, will review the pertinent facts as they are known today, and estimate the effects of fallout on present and future generations. Following their short talks, the meeting will be open for discussion.

The public is invited. For the benefit of any school-age persons who may wish to attend, the meeting will close no later than 10 p.m.

Owners Must Check Lights

Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton has explained the responsibility of building owners to check out their emergency lighting equipment, following receipt of several inquiries.

Hilton said several persons have called the department, after being in a public place when the power failed and the emergency lights failed to function.

According to the law, he stated, the building inspector is responsible to make certain that the units are installed.

Then the owner of the property is supposed to check the units daily to make certain they will work properly if needed. Hilton said he believes it probably would also be the responsibility of the building inspector to handle complaints of non-functioning lights, because their failure to work, in reality, results in the same situation as not having them at all.

WILL SOLICIT FOR WHEATON

President A. Howard Meneely of Wheaton College, has announced that Mrs. Cleveland Gilcreast, 23 Bartlet st. and Mrs. Joseph J. Tavern, 78 Main st., will serve as chairmen of the "regular solicitation program" for the Andover and surrounding towns area in which funds will be sought to insure Wheaton's continued existence "as a distinguished educational institution."

The development campaign now in progress throughout the United States calls together members of Wheaton's alumnae family in an effort to fulfill the many plans being made to offer students of their alma mater even greater educational opportunities.

CHECK TEAM FOR POSSIBLE BURNS

Members of the football team who played in the Newburyport-Andover game last Friday were examined Monday morning for possible burns.

It was reported, however, that none had resulted during the encounter. Athletic Director Donald D. Dunn said Newburyport officials called early Monday, explaining that several squad members had serious burns following the game. One player, he continued, had been hospitalized.

Newburyport officials couldn't explain the reasons, and were checking to see if the same situation existed here. Dunn said it is possible the burns were caused by the lime used to line the field, or might possibly have resulted from some irritation caused by dry cleaning processes.

Will Retire Memorial Trophy

The Edward I. Erickson memorial trophy, given to the winner of the Methuen-Andover football game for the past six years, will this year be retired.

Supt. of Schools Edward I. Erickson has advised Donald D. Dunn, athletic director, that whichever team wins the game this year will receive permanent possession of the trophy. Each team has won three times over the lifetime of the trophy.

Mr. Erickson suggested that perhaps someone else will wish to arrange for a trophy for the winner of the annual contest in future years.

Brass Band Is Being Started

The organization of a brass band has begun, under auspices of the Andover Youth Center.

Director Donald D. Dunn reported that a nucleus of the eventual group met at the Youth Center last night, with a second meeting scheduled for next Wednesday evening, Nov. 4.

All amateur musicians in the Greater Lawrence area will be eligible, he explained. The unit will be under the direction of Edward Grigoli, instrumental instructor in the music department of the school system.

The town had a brass band in former years, under the leadership of the late P. LeRoy Wilson. Mr. Dunn suggests that former members of that organization will be welcome to join the new unit, as will other musicians in the area.

Dry Cleaning

"... a name to remember... where Dry Cleaning is an art..."

Clothes come back clean as new... even the embedded soil that dulls colors is gently floated away. Patterns and colors regain their store-fresh sparkle.

Of course, we're tops at removing stubborn spots and perspiration soil... and there's never so much as a hint of dry cleaning odor. Yet, Anton's Service costs no more than any good dry cleaning. Try us and judge the superior results for yourself.

Public Utilities Required For

The town stands to pay money for its snow removal operations, based on a law enacted August by the Legislature.

The amendment to a statute governing the licensing of trucks by the Department of Public Utilities requires all trucks to be licensed - even in those cases where a person owns only one vehicle. The kicker, however, is that higher rates apparently will be levied on trucks licensed with state licensing.
