Manager Group Will Just Give Endorsement

West Church Elects Officers

Over 150 members of the West Church gathered in Fellowship hall last Thursday evening, where they enjoyed a delicious beef steak pie supper, which preceded the Annual business meeting.

Henry Becker, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following list of officers to serve in 1960: Deacons for three year term, Arthur Reed Jr., Robert J. Munson, Walter Wilson Jr., Herbert Andersen Jr.; two year term, Louis Bravacos, James J. O'Reilly, Philip Thomes and William Workman; one year, Henry Becker, D. William Grant, Vahey Gulezian and Edward Munroe.

Deaconesses, three years, Mrs. Charles McCabe, Mrs. John Ebert, Mrs. Clarence Remington and Mrs. William Trow; two years, Mrs. Lester Dixon, Mrs. Alex Henderson, Mrs. Robert Scribner and Mrs. Norman Viehmann; one year term, Mrs. John W. Hall Jr., Mrs. Parker Holden, Mrs. J. Leverett White and Mrs. Merrill Burnett.

Clerk, Richard Williams; moderator, Harold Lermond; Church

The Committee for Town Management yesterday withdrew from active participation in the forthcoming Selectmen contest.

They will confine themselves to a simple endorsement of a candidate, chosen from among those who individually seek election.

The announcement came as a blockbuster on the political scene, for it is known that the Committee had been actively engaged in seeking a candidate who would run as an open partisan of the manager plan, and with the Committee's full and active political support.

Theodore C. Burr, 68 Whittier st., made known his Committee's decision in a prepared statement. In it, he stated the Committee's decision, based on the theory that the town does not wish the Committee to function as a political group.

The statement issued by the Committee stated:

"The Committee for Town Management was formed for the purpose of explaining to the citizens of the town of Andover the charter which had been approved by the State Legislature in 1956 for submission to the

Mothers March Next Thursday

The Mothers' March for the National Foundation will take place in Andover one week from tonight, starting at 7 p.m.

Throughout the community, workers have been contributing their time to try to make this new march one of the most successful yet. Daily, new names have been added to the list of workers. Among them are Mrs. Gordon Freeman, Mrs. Samuel Rogers, Mrs. Charles Hatch, Mrs. Daniel Kocker, Mrs. William Bennett Jr., Mrs. Robert Clifton, Mrs. John B. Hawes, Mrs. Harold Jackson, Mrs. H. J. Watson, Mrs. R. L. Barnes, Mrs. Carl Gill, Mrs. Karl Killorin, Mrs. Roger Collins, Mrs. H. J. Frederick, Mrs. A. G. Carlson, Mrs. P. A. Vigeant, Mrs. Keith, Gould, Mrs. Roland Weeks,

May Have Chest X-Ray

The Andover Board of Health, in cooperation with the Andover Christmas Seal Committee and the Essex County Health Association, has made arrangements for Andover residents and food handlers employed in Andover to have free chest x-rays at an indoor x-ray unit which will be located at 137 Merrimack st., Haverhill, between the Strand Theatre and Liggetts Drug Store.

Since it is mandatory for every person engaged in handling food to have an x-ray every three years, this program is especially planned for food handlers, but any other resident of Andover over 19 years

$430,963 In Articles For Town Meeting Vote

Propose 2-Acre Residential Zone

The Planning Board will once again present its recommended two-acre house lot requirements for voter approval at town meeting.

Public hearings on the zoning changes will be held in February, as required by law.

The two areas suggested for change are:

An area generally west of Route 93, to the Tewksbury line.

An area, in general, on the east side of the By-Pass, from North Andover line and North Reading line.

The two-acre lot proposal was last presented to the voters in 1956, when proponents were unable to muster the two-thirds vote required for zoning changes. The vote was 192 and 112 against the larger lots.

Strenuous objections were voiced against the lot sizes during

Taxpayers will be asked to dig deep into their pockets at town meeting, to pay for $430,963 worth of special articles.

They will also be requested to approve a bond issue of approximately $234,000, for installation of a trunk sewer line from the Riverina rd. station to Essex st., via Main st. and across Stevens st.

Over 60 articles will face the voters March 12, when they gather to grapple with municipal problems.

In addition to the money articles, zoning changes will also be in the foreground, with most attention focused on a two-acre lot proposal. (Details on this subject may be found elsewhere in this issue.)

Rules Manager Sets Salaries

Town meeting can not set specific salaries and wages for town employees, according to a ruling by Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien.

He has asserted that the town manager, under the new charter, has exclusive right to determine the amounts of these items for all those town officials and employees appointed by him.

The question arose after the filing of an article calling for a six percent wage increase for town employees - a practice that has been routine in years past.

Under the new charter, however, the legal counsel has ruled that Thomas E. Duff, as manager, has the special responsibility to establish the rates of pay. However, he may not spend more money than is appropriated for the First Church in Swampscott, to the leadership of the local church effective April 1.

NEW MINISTER AT WEST CHURCH

Mr. Andrews' pastorate of the First Church in Swampscott, which started in 1947 immediately following a tour of duty as Chaplain in the Army Air Force at Wright Patterson Field, Ohio, has been characterized by great growth and accomplishments, as evidenced by the following listing of achievements in that community.

An aggregate of 155,000 persons have attended the services of worship, and 677 new members have joined the church, giving a net current revised membership of 729. The church school has increased by 150 percent to a present registration of 556 pupils and staff, and the youth program has been cited as one of the largest in the state.

A number of thriving new groups have been organized during this period, including the Junior Guild, Double-or-Nothing Club, Pilgrim Juniors, Pilgrim Freshies, Five-Six Club, and various committees and study groups.

Mr. Andrews has served as president of the Greater Lynn Ministerial Fellowship, and several terms as president of the inter-faith Swampscott Ministerium. He and Rabbi Abraham Karp, former spiritual leader of Temple Israel, founded in 1948 what has become the Swampscott-Marblehead Brotherhood Movement, which he served as chairman in 1954. In 1955 the constituent 15 Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish churches and temples awarded him their brotherhood scroll and citation as the person who had done most in recent years to foster and exemplify brotherhood in the twin communities. In 1956 he was cited by Look Magazine for sharing his church's facilities with Temple Emanu-El during the latter's formative years.

Mr. Andrews is president of the joint alumni association of Andover Newton Theological School, and was moderator last year of Essex South Association of Congregational Christian Churches and Ministers. He was one of the founders of the nationally-cited North Shore United Church Canteen for 100 churches and synagogues in 16 communities, and served a term as chairman of its board of advisors.

He has served as a director of the Swampscott Community Service, Greater Lynn Community Fund, Greater Lynn Red Cross, Swampscott Rotary Club, and Boston Seaman's Friend Society. He is a corporator of Lynn and Union Hospitals, and guided his church to the leading position in supporting last year's successful campaign by the Greater Lynn Council of Churches to underwrite a full-time Protestant chaplain for the two hospitals. He was recently elected to the board of directors of the Lynn Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

He is completing his 16th year as a chaplain in the U.S. Army Reserves, having served with the rank of lieutenant colonel with the Boston Port of Embarkation, the 304th Armor Group, also in Boston, and currently the 331st General Hospital in Lawrence. He is the former president of the New England Chapter of the Military Chaplains Association of the U.S., and is area councilman for the national body. He was charter member-at-large from the Army on

November Club To Hear John Wingate

JOHN WINGATE

Guest Night will be observed Friday evening in Andover High School, when members and guests of the November Club will gather to hear John Wingate. Mr. Wingate will speak on "People Who March With History".

A Harvard graduate, John Wingate moved swiftly from newspaper reporting to radio and television, where he became a specialist in "on-the-spot" coverage of news and special events. He is known for his hard-hitting editorials, his interviews on the vicious narcotics racket, and for a historic broadcast of a "live" heart operation.

Mr. Wingate has maintained a heavy schedule of radio news broadcasting, produced and broadcast documentaries, and hosted several public affairs programs. He has been honored by several important awards.

the executive board of the National Chaplains' Fellowship of the Congregational Christian Churches. Three years ago he was cited by the secretary of defense for the army, Wilber M. Brucker, for outstanding service in reserve recruiting work.

He is also the Swampscott Fire Department's first Protestant Chaplain.

Mr. Andrews, the son of Mrs. Mabel Aston Andrews of Wilmington, Del., and the late Reginald H. Andrews, is a native of Kingston, Pa., and a graduate of Girard College, Haverford College, and Andover Newton Theological School.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews have three children, Edward, 16, Bonnie Sue, 12 and Patrice, 8. Mrs. Andrews is the former Elizabeth Kneeland of Stirling.

Mr. Andrews will be the 15th pastor of the West Parish Church which was founded in 1826. It was formerly served by the Rev. Hugh B. Penney from May, 1954, until

MANAGER GROUP TO ENDORSE CANDIDATE

voters in 1958. It showed the citizens the advantages of accepting the new charter rather than continuing under an antiquated form of government.

"After the town adopted the Town Manager Charter, it became obvious that in order for the new form of government to have a chance for success it would be necessary for the Committee to approach qualified men to run in the office of Selectman. These men were under no obligation to the committee that helped elect them except that they give the management program a fair trial. The people of Andover followed the recommendations of the Committee and elected the endorsed candidates.

"With the adoption of the new charter and the election of a Board which is favorable to new management, it is the feeling of the Committee that our function this year is to recommend to the electorate the individual we feel will serve in the office of Selectman in the best interest of the people of the town and who will be fair in his judgment of the Manager.

"It is our hope that many individuals will file for the office of Selectman. The Committee will be happy to meet with any person who is interested in running for the office and will recommend to the people of the town that individual who in our opinion is best qualified. Individuals on our Committee may work in the interest of the recommended candidate for another candidate of their choice, but the Committee's intention as a committee will cease after the announcement of the recommended candidate. We feel that the people of the town do not want this committee to function as a political body to endorse candidates but rather as an advisory group. In the final analysis the success or failure of the Town Management form of government rests with the people of the town."

Kiwanis Club Elected Local Residents

Several Andover men have been installed into office by the Kiwanis Club of Greater Lawrence.

Raymond D. Taylor is the new president, and the following directors are local residents: William J. Chicoine, James Doherty, Thomas B. Driscoll, James D. Hamilton and William E. Moriarty.

Ernest Comeau Jr. of Lovell rd. left Sunday on a business trip to Owensboro, Kentucky.

A group of students from the Junior Red Cross of Andover High School traveled to the Veteran's Hospital in Bedford to provide Christmas entertainment for the patients. Karen Hutchinson and Jon Langdell, co-chairmen of the A.H.S. division of the Red Cross, were in charge of the program from the high school, under the supervision of Mrs. George Henderson.

Recently, Lindsay J. March, headmaster at Andover High, received a letter from Irene McCarthy, executive secretary of the Veteran's Hospital, commending the students for the wonderful entertainment they supplied. Those students participating were Joan Ellen Simeone, Albert Comeau, David Currier, John Swenson and John Bellillo.

At the end of the entertainment, Malcolm Sandberg, who was dressed as Santa Claus, distributed presents to the patients. Afterwards, students and patients joined in the singing of Christmas carols.

What Our Readers Say—

To The Editor of the Townsman: I have followed the suggestion which has been made that I, with the appropriate supporting signatures, file an article for the coming town warrant in respect to my recent survey proposal. I trust that no one will view this article as a personal project of mine. Rather it renders articulate the widespread apprehension among our citizens as to what is happening to Andover, and the desire to do something about it.

"The article reads: To see if the Town will vote to instruct the Board of Selectmen to appoint a committee of five members; one to be an accountant, one to be a construction engineer, one to be a lawyer, one to be engaged in planning, and the fifth to be engaged in finance; to study what new housing is costing and may be expected to cost the Town, in the way of new or expanded town services and facilities, and the probable effect of such cost upon the tax rate; by means of already existing information obtained from town boards, departments, or committees, or from any other source outside of the town records; and to ascertain from other communities, so far as is feasible, what steps have been taken to control such costs and their effect on the tax rate; and to report upon its findings to the Board of Selectmen at or before the next town meeting. Provided, however, that the consideration of drainage be excluded from the scope of this article."

"In drafting this article, I have taken into consideration all the objections which have been raised in the discussion of my original proposal, including the possible illegality of an assessment, the question of 'unequal taxation', and the expense to the town of a survey. The assessment proposal has been eliminated, which removes the first two objections, and the study is to be made by an appointed committee rather than by a paid consultant, which removes the third.

"Facing the possibility of our tax rate tripling in the next 15 years as it has in the last 15, our taxpayers urgently need, and I believe will welcome, the factual data which the article will make available, as well as the information as to any solution which may already have been applied by other towns."

OVER A TENTH OF A MILLION $ $ $ $ Is A Whale of a Lot of Cash!

A co-operative food store is - with one most important exception - quite like other food stores. At the year's end, when all bills have been paid, including taxes to the Town of Andover, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the federal government, any surplus remaining belongs to the owners. In many businesses, these owners live at a distance, and are interested only in the profits the business provides.

In a Co-operative, the customers are the owners. They are more concerned with thrifty prices, with top-quality products, and with a friendly and convenient store than with profits. The CO-OP tries to provide all these, and still return a yearly rebate to its members. Here is a record of the cash the CO-OP has paid out to Andover families just in the past six years.

1956	14,208
1957	24,953
1958	16,784
1959	22,000*

$107,941

May we remind all CO-OP shoppers that your 1959 cash register tapes must be turned in before February first, if you are to receive your rebate. Almost one family out of every four in Andover will get a rebate check this year. If your name is not on this list, it's easy to be on it next year. Just shop CO-OP in 1960.

Andover Teachers Prepared Program

The members of the Northern New England Reading Council of the IRA and the teachers of reading from several suburban towns of Merrimack Valley and the North Shore communities met recently to plan for the formation of a North Shore Council of the IRA.

Dr. Mary Bradley, Salem Teachers' College, is temporarily in charge of the meetings. She is assisted by the teachers of the town chosen to plan the program for each meeting.

The January meeting was planned and organized by the Andover teachers and Robert Bachmann of the Andover School System's Visual Aids Department. Machines used in teaching reading was chosen by the North Shore group as a subject of current interest. They wanted to see the machines in operation and to know from personal experience or otherwise, the advantages and disadvantages of the use of machines in teaching reading at any level.

The program was planned by Mrs. Helen Shannon and Mrs. Eunice O'Hagan, who are members of the original council. They were assisted by Mrs. Ruth Perkins of the Remedial Reading Department and Dr. Mary Bradley.

The program included: Organization and services of Audio-Visual Aids Department, Eunice O'Hagan; use of controlled Reader and tachistoscope attachment, Ruth Perkins; use of film strips in remedial classes, Theresa Gaffney; use of the accelerator at upper grade level, Rose Cardella; use of the tape recorder and automatic projector, films made by Mr. Bachmann from material prepared by Helen Shannon; use of the film strip with films made by Mr. Bachmann from material prepared by Mrs. O'Hagan.

TAXPAYERS MUST DIG DEEP

Other than articles asking for appropriations, several appear likely to draw considerable attention at the meeting.

Harold Rafton's article for a study committee - spelled out elsewhere in this issue - should be of special interest.

A minimum wage proposal, to give police officers a minimum-maximum wage via permissive state legislation, is certain to attract interest. This would cost an estimated $14,000, if approved.

Also the subject of pre-meeting discussion, and of special significance at the meeting, is an article seeking to establish a conservation commission in town, to advise the Planning Board on these matters. It is sponsored by the Garden Club.

Money Articles

Looking briefly through the articles calling for expenditures, we find the following:

Sidewalk plow, $6,990; power sweeper, $12,500; three trucks, $15,500; utility truck, $4,300; loader and backhoe, $15,725; drainage survey, $25,000; drainage system from municipal parking lot, $4,000.

Raise $26,000 by taxation to accompany the bond issue for the trunk sewer; Chapter 90, $44,000; engineering survey covering town problems involved in Route 110 construction, $7,000; purchase of pipe and materials for this purpose, $35,000; water improvements, $91,000; Rogers Brook, $20,000; building committee and plans for new school, $12,000; land acquisition committee, $25,000; new tennis courts, $5,000.

Sewer extension from Summer to Highland, $9,000; land taking at Haggert's Pond, $10,000; purchase of tax title land on Greenwood rd., $1,478.33; vocational education, $2,470.

Non-Money Articles

Other articles include plumbing by-laws, building code, continuation of the special by-laws committee; create committee on regional vocational school; by-law to allow manager to sell used town equipment up to $1,000 value without town meeting approval; street acceptances involving old town streets; change of boundaries at Osgood st., involving changes in precincts four and five; allowing town to license bowling alleys on Sunday, via acceptance of statute.

WEST CHURCH ELECTS OFFICERS

Sunday School Superintendent, Mrs. Audrey Stewart; collector, Mrs. Harold Johnson and auditor, James Stewart.

Next Sunday morning the Annual Youth Service will be held at the regular 10:30 service of worship at the West Parish Church. The young all girls choir will sing and the youth will conduct the entire service. All friends are most cordially welcome.

order to permit a population expansion by immigration far beyond the average for the Commonwealth. There are 312 towns in the Commonwealth. Of these only 83 have taxes per capita that are higher than Andover's, while 228 are lower. Should our expansion continue well into the future this ratio will undoubtedly become even more unfavorable to Andover. The new route 495 may well make future growth, if uncontrolled, even more out of proportion than the past.

"This is all in the past but, as I said before, 'Where do we go from here'. It is very easy to shirk it off and say, 'Get industry into Andover'. In view of the unhealthy industrial climate, there is precious little new or expanded industry coming into Massachusetts and there is keen competition among the municipalities for what little there is. One of the first items reviewed by industry is the tax rate and the past history of Andover's rate would give pause to most potential industrial settlers here. Unless the Town takes the necessary action to stop the burgeoning of the past with its inevitable effect on taxes, there is little hope that many industrialists foolish enough to risk construction in Andover could be found.

"Of course, Andover's growth is to some extent self-limiting. If taxes continue in the future to climb as rapidly as in the past, few will wish to settle here. However, that will be little consolation for those who already live in Andover and see their taxes climb out of sight.

"I believe that many citizens have been unaware of the impact which new housing can have upon a tax rate. I further believe that, if they were made aware of this impact in dollars and cents, they would take intelligent action toward holding Andover's growth to normal proportions. Mr. Ralston's suggestion of expert study of this dollars and cents impact would provide this information and, whether or not one stands for limited expansion, such information should be made available. Our citizens should not be expected to act in an information vacuum."

PAUL BRENNAN

An analysis of the opportunities available to chemists in the world of plastics with emphasis on the rising prominence of the field, was presented to the Andover High School Science Club Wednesday by Paul Brennan, foreman of the Department of Raytheon's missile production facility in Andover.

Mr. Brennan's talk traced the development of plastics from its present position as an indispensable industrial tool, pointing out the fact that it is becoming a more and more demanding new people with ideas not only in plastics but in the major industrial areas of home construction, paints and steel. The scope of the numerous job opportunities available as well as the geographical locations which are being generated by the plastics industry were also covered by Mr. Brennan.

A feature of his presentation included a demonstration of the principles in converting a liquid to a solid, using a catalyst. Mr. Brennan resides at 60 St. Tewksbury, with his wife and seven daughters.

Civil Service Up To Voter

Adoption of civil service employees of the department for public works and the department probably will appear on the March ballot.

Legislative action allowing referendum is being rushed through with swift approval. A hearing was held Tuesday morning in Boston, when Albert Cole, the Employees' Association Representative Arthur V. appeared in support of the measure. Men from the department scheduled to appear too, but unable to attend because of a snow storm.

In all likelihood, it is expected the Legislature will approve the bill and it will be signed in time for the question to appear on the ballot.

It has been defeated on previous occasions, both at town meetings and on the ballot, but has not been voted upon recently.

REPORTED ON FIELD PERIOD

Miss Sandra Glennie, 141 Ver. cir., a student at Keene College, participated in the presentation of "Field Reports" at the college Jan. 16.

An analysis of the opportunities available to chemical engineers in the world of industry, with emphasis on the rapidly rising prominence of the plastics field, was presented to students of the Andover High School Science Club Wednesday by Paul Brennan, foreman of the Plastics Department of Raytheon's HAWK missile production facility at Andover.

Mr. Brennan's talk traced the development of plastics to its present position as an indispensable industrial tool, pointing out the fact that it is constantly demanding new people with new ideas not only in plastics but in the major industrial areas such as home construction, paints, drugs and steel. The scope of the numerous job opportunities available as well as the geographic locations which are currently generating the plastics demand were also covered by Mr. Brennan. A feature of his presentation included a demonstration using resins which illustrated plastics principles in converting a liquid to a solid, using a catalyst.

Mr. Brennan resides at 68 Lake st., Tewksbury, with his wife and seven daughters.

Civil Service
Up To Voters

Adoption of civil service for employees of the department of public works and the cemetery department probably will appear on the March ballot.

Legislative action allowing the referendum is being rushed this week, with swift approval seen.

A hearing was held on the question Tuesday morning in Boston, when Albert Cole Jr. of the Employees' Association and Representative Arthur Williams appeared in support of the request. Men from the departments were scheduled to appear too, but were unable to attend because of the snow storm.

In all likelihood, it is reported, the Legislature will quickly approve the bill and it will be signed in time for the question to appear on the ballot.

It has been defeated on other occasions, both at town meeting and on the ballot, but has not been voted upon recently.

REPORTED ON FIELD PERIOD

Miss Sandra Glennie, 10 Cheever cir., a student at Keuka College, participated in the annual presentation of "Field Period" reports at the college Jan. 15 and 16.

The presentation program, which is open to the public, consists of oral reports by all students who took part in the field period, Nov. to Dec. 19. During this time, the students worked at placements in twelve states and the District of Columbia. Miss Glennie did such work at the American Red Cross chapter on Punchard ave.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Potential Candidates Play Footsie

Several weeks ago we suggested that candidates for major offices should declare themselves promptly, so that all voters will have an opportunity to study their qualifications prior to the municipal election.

Thus we feel that the present cat-and-mouse game is specially harmful to the town as a whole, even if some individuals may feel that it best serves their personal interests.

At this writing, there has been no announcement of any candidate for Selectman - although a vacancy will exist because Ed Hall has chosen to retire from the office.

It appears quite obvious that interested persons are ducking their responsibilities to the voters by not affirming their intention to run. Instead, they are seeking some theoretical advantage by waiting until the last minute.

They may be doing themselves some good - but they aren't serving the best interests of the town by doing so.

The deadline for filing nomination papers is Feb. 1 - let's hope that potential candidates stop playing footsie with one another and make an outright declaration of their intentions as far ahead of this deadline as possible.

By All Means Get Facts

Full coverage is given in this week's edition to the article inserted in the annual warrant by Harold Rafton - calling for an unpaid survey of the cost of new homes.

This article omits the mention of assessing newcomers on the basis of the additional cost to the town for their services, a point that has been the subject of considerable discussion.

And, as the article reads, we can see no harm in its adoption. Certainly we can find nothing wrong with determining facts, so that reasonable conclusions can be drawn from them at a later date.

Thus we hope that Mr. Rafton's article is adopted at town meeting, and that his proposed committee is able to come up with all the pertinent facts concerning the cost of new homes to the town.

When this has been done, possibly some reasonable approach to the problems of growth can be determined.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - January, 1910

Franklin H. Stacey, the local pharmacist, has been appointed agent for the American Express Money Order.

Members of the November Club listened Monday afternoon to an interesting address. It was entitled "Old Stones of Rome" and was given by Prof. Charles H. Forbes.

Priscilla Cutler, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Cutler of West Andover, who recently underwent an operation for pneumonia, is reported to be steadily improving.

J.H. Hovey of Scotland District, while at work Saturday in Lawrence, fell from a staging down three stories to the ground. He broke his leg in two places.

The children of V.D. Harrington of Salem st. are recovering from the measles.

Philip French and family from Abbot st. are to move into their beautiful new home on Gardner ave. the end of this week.

The concert, apron and necktie party to be given in the town hall Monday evening, by the societies of St. Augustine's Church, promises to be a most enjoyable and successful affair.

25 Years Ago - January, 1935

The heaviest snowfall since 1898 blanketed the town with an average of two feet of snow yesterday, with drifts rising to above six feet in some places. It was touch and go with the main roads, as the BPW fought to keep them open to travel. Some drifts were nearly too big even for the heaviest equipment. The storm clearance became more complicated when the temperatures dropped below zero when it had finished snowing. High winds kept the snow swirling, many times back onto the just-plowed streets.

Only three candidates took out nomination papers last week in one of the slowest town elections in years. There are contests for two offices - Selectman and Tree Warden, and only one candidate for each the others.

A special town meeting probably will be held the week of Feb. 18. One of the articles concerns repair or reconstruction of Lowell st. to the Tewksbury line, which may be undertaken with use of state and federal funds.

Expenses were 12 percent higher last year for the town, but income was up about $4,000. The town had a year-end balance of $67,634.18.

The Board of Public Works probably will insert an article in the warrant asking for $350 to buy a pair of horses. The last pair was broken up last summer, when one died and the other was sent to the farm in Methuen. The town has been hiring a team from Lawrence and a second pair of horses was hired during the recent storm.

A total of 120 building permits were issued during the last year, compared to 81 the year before. The increase comes in repairs, rather than new construction.

10 Years Ago - January, 1950

Four men were appointed to the Fire Department this week by Chief C. Edward Buchan. They were James W. Deyerdmond, William F. Buchan, Norman H. Auchterlonie and Joseph E. Gaudette. The four topped the civil service list. The appointment brings the three platoons to full strength, following the vote last March to shorten the work week in the Department.

The largest tax collection in the history of the town was received last year, according to Tax Collector James P. Christie. The town received $795,705.16.

Shawsheen residents aired their views on traffic control and speeding before the Selectmen Monday, following the tragic accident last week when a small child was killed by a truck on North Main st. Some of the group's suggestions for better control have been sent to the state for consideration, as they affect a state highway.

An afternoon and an evening tour of the town's schools will be held next Tuesday, sponsored by the League of Women Voters. All residents are invited to make the tour, so that they can better understand the school needs when the subject comes up in town meeting.

A junior ski club is being formed at the Andover Guild, for those under 14 years of age.

The financial report on sports at the high school from Sept. 1 through Jan. 10 shows that receipts just about balanced expenditures. Included were football, track and basketball. It was noted that the football season was slightly in the red, to the tune of $105.21.

Printing Exhibit

The Memorial Hall Library is observing International Printing Week, from Jan. 17-23, with an exhibit prepared and arranged by John Cole of the Andover Press. Examples of the work done by the press in such areas as journals, reports, class books, letterheads, calendars, etc. may be seen in the display case in the foyer. Mr. Cole has included a page of a report, from type setting through each stage to the finished work.

International Printing Week was developed to focus public attention on the status and importance of printing to the community, and to encourage young people to seek careers in printing. The library has displayed many books on the art and process of printing, such as Practice Of Printing, Polk; Mechanism Of The Linotype, Thompson; Operation Of The Offset Press, Makarius; How To Recognize Type Faces, Karch; Graphic Arts Procedures, Karch; Proofreading And Copy Preparation, Lasky; Style Manual, U. S. Government.

For the career planners, there are pamphlets of vocational material: Opportunities In The Printing Trades, Boughal; Facts For Veterans And Others About Starting A Printing Business; Should Your Child Go Into The Printing Industry? Walling; Career As A Printer, The Printing Business; Employment Outlook In Printing Occupations, U. S. Dept. of Labor; Linotype Operation, Gage; Compositors, Typesetters And Printing Pressmen, Science Research Associates; Compositor, Linotype, Pressman, etc. by Personnel Services, Inc.

All material displayed may be borrowed for home use.

Huge Contracts For Raytheon

Raytheon Co. in Shawsheen will perform the work on $35,271,000 worth of contracts approved by the Department of the Army.

The contracts are for sets of field maintenance test equipment for the Hawk missile system, $7,448,000; Hawk missiles, $18,287,000; and continuance of engineering services on the Hawk missile system during 1960, $9,536,000.

The new contracts do not mean an expansion of plant or in employment, according to a company spokesman. He said the contracts are a continuation of the 1959 program, and will mean maintaining present employment.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the Free Church will be held Jan. 27 at 7:30 p.m. Supper will be served at six-thirty. Slides will be shown during the meeting, of the work which is being done in the Church School.

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the Townsman: "I think Mr. Rafton should be commended for bringing out the open, in his letter to the Selectmen, a problem which has worried many of Andover's citizens, viz. a tripling of the rate in a relatively few years and where do we go from there. I expect that your editorial in the Townsman of Jan. 7, 1960, may be correct in that the specific method outlined by Mr. Rafton to accomplish his purpose might very well be illegal. However, I must heartily endorse his basic purpose and just as heartily disagree with the oft-expressed contrary view of the Townsman. Whether or not Mr. Rafton's specific proposal is legal is of minor importance. The major importance is his aim to hold Andover's expansion within reasonable limits. I am sure legal means to accomplish this can be developed should the desire to do so exist.

"Were your basic assumption that Andover is merely experiencing the normal growth of all areas in the Commonwealth correct, it would be necessary to shrug our shoulders and say, 'I don't like it but we must live with it. That is our fair share of the investment in the future'. However, that basic assumption is not correct. Andover has experienced and is experiencing a population expansion substantially greater than the norm. Massachusetts' population went up slightly over five percent from 1950 to 1959. However, over the same period, Andover increased more than 30 percent. Lawrence decreased almost seven percent and Methuen went up slightly over 12 percent. Some of the smaller towns in the area increased more than Andover did but the point is that the 'population explosion' in these towns and in Andover is not the normal population growth. It results from a migration out of the larger communities into 'bedroom towns'.

"I should like to quote from an article in the Feb., 1957, issue of Readers Digest entitled 'Zoning Comes to Town':

"Our forefathers were interested in orderly development rather than conservation; they had plenty of land. Today, however, with population exploding in all directions, we need both; plans for conserving our land resources and plans for their orderly development. A massive migration of homes and industries is in progress from cities to suburbs."

"... The Zoning Commission settled down to see that the provisions were carried out. As an emergency measure - because promoters' bulldozers were poised to move in - the Commission decided to limit house lots to one acre in part of the residential farming zone, two acres in the rest. ....

"... who were threatening to cut up large sections of the lot into small-lot developments. We were worried about that. For the owner of a new ranch-style house on a quarter-acre would pay taxes of about $200 a year at current rates. But two school-age children in that house would cost the owner $600 a year for education and transportation. A whole row of such houses would upset the town budget badly.

"Still some citizens complained that the Commission was too strict. Soon, they said, it would make it four acres, five acres, 10 acres. 'Little people won't be able to live here any longer. There'll be nobody but the rich.' ... After six years of practical experience it is now apparent that none of the fears and alarms of the original opposition to zoning have come to pass. We have scored some real gains more aware now of its problems and prouder of itself than it used to be."

"This article refers to a town in Connecticut. It might just as well be Andover except that the Connecticut town had the courage to ignore the emotional appeals of the land owners and developers to provide bedroom communities under to school facilities to those who wish to emigrate from Boston. Lawrence? Why should the residents of Andover assume the ordinate increases in taxes

Obituaries...

FRANK O'BRIEN
Frank O'Brien, former English instructor and baseball coach at Phillips Academy, died Thursday afternoon, Jan. 14, at the McCormick nursing home, after an extended illness. He was 76 years old.

O'Brien was born in Crown Point, N.Y. He was a student at the academy from 1900 to 1902. In his last year he was captain of the baseball team and went on to captain the team at Yale. He returned in 1911 to the academy where he served as an instructor of English and coached the baseball team in 1911, 1912, and 1913, and again in 1933 through 1937. At one stage in his career he also coached ice hockey.
He was honored in 1952 at a sports dinner at the academy which many of the school's athletic alumni attended. He was a member of the faculty at Andover academy until 1942 when he retired from his English teaching post.
He was the husband of the late Dorothy (Dole) O'Brien, and is survived by one son, Frank O'Brien Jr.; an instructor at Groton and currently teaching at Cambridge University, Cambridge, England; two granddaughters, Dorothy Dole O'Brien and Elsie Talbot O'Brien.

MRS. ROSA REALMUTO
Mrs. Rosa (Genovese) Realmuto, 10 Sherbourne st., died at her home Friday, Jan. 15, following a short illness.
Born in Baucina, Province of Palermo, Italy, she came to this country at the age of 17, settling first in New York. She came to Andover in 1945 when her husband, Pietro Realmuto, founder of the Roman Macaroni Co., merged his firm with the Prince Macaroni Co. of Boston and Lowell.
She is survived by five daughters; Lena, wife of Joseph Pellegrino, of Andover, president of the Prince Macaroni Manufacturing Company, Mary, wife of Dr. A. Marino of Hoboken, N.J., and Misses Mae, Angela, and Josephine Realmuto of Andover, brother, Joseph Genovese of New York City; two sisters, Angeline Genovese of New York City and Theresa Granata of Hoboken, N.J.; and a grandson, Joseph Peter Pellegrino of Andover.

The funeral was held from the Home, with a solemn high Mass and requiem in St. Augustine's Church Monday at 9 a.m.
The body was taken to the Long Island, N.Y. A solemn Mass of requiem was sung in the Barramaul Church at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Elmhurst, L.I. Burial was in St. John's cemetery, Queens, N.Y.

MRS. JANET MITCHELL
Mrs. Janet (Elliott) Mitchell, 12 Binney st., Shawsheen Village, died at her home early Sunday morning, Jan. 17, after a long illness. She was the wife of James L. Mitchell.

A native of Saltcoats, Scotland, Mrs. Mitchell was born there 27 years ago and was a resident of Andover for the past 36 years.
Mrs. Mitchell was an honor member of the British Empire Veterans, auxiliary, of Andover and a member of the Free Congregational Church.
Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Margaret, wife of Frank Ashworth of Andover, and Jeanie, wife of Joseph Saab of New Britain, Conn.; a son, William of Elizabeth, N.J.; two brothers, William Elliott of Hamilton, Ontario, and Alexander Elliott of Rochester, N.Y.; also three grandchildren, Douglas and Susan Ashworth of Andover, and Janet Mitchell of Buzzards Bay.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 p.m. from the Lundgren Funeral Home. The Rev. J. Allyn Bradford, pastor of the Free Congregational Church and the Rev. A. Graham Baker, chaplain of Phillips Academy officiated. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

"What the Daughters Do" the subject of a talk given by Frank Hayes, regent of Priscilla Abbot Chapter, N.S.D.A.R., at the home of Mrs. George Glennie on Wolcott ave. Jan. 13.
Mrs. Hayes read from a book on the subject, and gave a review of the activities which the different Chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution, combined in the National Association have undertaken since the organization was formed in 1890. It was pointed out that many of the statements made by persons who do not understand the objectives of the Order, and who in many cases, have derided its aims and motives.
The meeting opened at 2 o'clock with dessert served by the hostess, Mrs. Harry Donovon, and Mrs. Howard Johnson. Mrs. Will Brown was at the coffee table, and Mrs. Hayes opened the business meeting, and the regular procedure followed. A special prayer for the New Year was given by the chaplain, Mrs. Roland Glines, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States and the American's Creed. One verse of America was sung.
Mrs. Hayes read the president's message for the National Year, and articles on National Year were read by Mrs. Ernest Edmonds. The secretary's report was omitted as she was unable to be present, and Mrs. Edwin O'Brien, regent, took notes for minutes to be read at the next meeting. The treasurer's report by Mrs. Arthur Bonner was read and accepted.

Representatives to the Massachusetts convention in Boston were elected as follows: delegate, Mrs. Joseph Smethurst; alternates, Mrs. Arthur Bonner, Mrs. William Truitt, Mrs. Ernest Edmonds, Mrs. George Glennie and Mrs. Harry Donovan. The nominating committee, bringing in names for the Chapter officers for the next three years was approved as follows: Mrs. Roland Weeks, Mrs. George Glennie and Mrs. M. M. Jones.
Mrs. Hayes' talk on "What the Daughters Do" was very instructive and interesting. She told of the number of members and chapters all over the country, and of representatives outside the United States, who make up this women's organization. It is not a fraternal organization as so many persons think, but a patriotic organization which believes in the United States of America and its Constitution. The National Society is incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia, and reports are made to the Smithsonian Institution, which in turn reports to Congress. The beautiful buildings in Washington covering over a city block were all built with funds donated by women, and consist of an auditorium, museum and other business accessories.

The D.A.R. was the first organization to get women into the Armed Services; first to vote for adequate national defense; first to establish schools for underprivileged children; first to combat communism; and among the first to promote occupational therapy in hospitals.
The Bell Tower at Valley Forge is one of the finest memorials to soldiers and sailors of all wars. The Daughters raised the money for this from individual contributions of its members. Discussed Activities of DAR Chapters

"What the Daughters Do" was the subject of a talk given by Mrs. Frank Hayes, regent of Priscilla Abbot Chapter, N.S.D.A.R., at a meeting at the home of Mrs. George Glennie on Wolcott ave. Jan. 12.

Mrs. Hayes read from a booklet on the subject, and gave a resume of the activities which the different chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution, combined in the National Association, have undertaken since the order was formed in 1890. It refuted many of the statements made by persons who do not understand the objectives of the Order, and which, in many cases, have derided its aims and motives.

The meeting opened at 2 o'clock with dessert served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harry Donovan and Mrs. Howard Johnson. Mrs. Will Brown was at the coffee table. Mrs. Hayes opened the business meeting, and the regular procedure followed. A special prayer for the New Year was given by the chaplain, Mrs. Roland Glines, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States and the American's Creed. One verse of America was sung.

Mrs. Hayes read the president general's message for the New Year, and articles on National Defense were read by Mrs. Ernest Edmonds. The secretary's report was omitted as she was unable to be present, and Mrs. Edwin Otto, vice regent, took notes for the minutes to be read at the next meeting. The treasurer's report by Mrs. Arthur Bonner was read and accepted.

Representatives to the March State convention in Boston were elected as follows: delegate, Mrs. Joseph Smethurst; alternates, Mrs. Arthur Bonner, Mrs. William Trow, Mrs. Ernest Edmonds, Mrs. George Glennie and Mrs. Harry Donovan.

The nominating committee to bring in names for the Chapter officers for the next three years was approved as follows: Mrs. Roland Weeks, Mrs. George Glennie and Mrs. M. M. Jones.

Mrs. Hayes' talk on "What the Daughters Do" was very instructive and interesting. She told about the number of members and chapters all over the country, and representatives outside the United States, who make up this vast women's organization. It is not an aristocratic organization as some persons think, but a patriotic one, which believes in the United States of America and its Constitution. The National Society is incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia, and yearly reports are made to the Smithsonian Institution, which in turn reports to Congress. The beautiful buildings in Washington covering over a city block were all built with funds donated by women, and consist of an auditorium, museum, and other business accessories.

The D.A.R. was the first organization to get women into the Armed Services; first to vote for adequate national defense; first to establish schools for underprivileged children; first to combat communism; and among the first to promote occupational therapy in hospitals.

The Bell Tower at Valley Forge is one of the finest memorials to soldiers and sailors of all wars. The Daughters raised the money for this from individual contributions of its members. American history is stressed as a most important study in our public schools, as communistic agitators try to belittle the story of the Founding Fathers. Revolutionary Soldiers' graves have been found and appropriately marked. In the Museum are most interesting relics of the first years of the independence of the country, and a very complete genealogical library gives information of the ancestry of the members of the order.

There are approved schools for underprivileged boys and girls sponsored by the Daughters, and a most active Indian program. At this point, Mrs. A. Marshall Jones, chairman of the Indian Committee, gave a brief talk in which she said much is being done for these first Americans.

Health, education and welfare, work with the foreign-born to make good citizens, student loans, good citizen projects in the public schools, music, conservation of the country's natural resources, pilgrimages to national shrines for school children, Children of the American Revolution, and the correct use of the American Flag, are all part of "What the Daughters Do".

Prizes have been awarded for many years to high ranking scholarship members of the United States Naval Academy, United States Military Academy, Coast Guard Academy, Merchant Marine Academy and the newer institutions of military character which have been established.

The program ended with a general discussion and social hour. The next meeting will be held Feb. 9 at the home of Mrs. Arthur Bonner on Chestnut st., when an American History film will be presented.

WILL VISIT CHINESE CHURCH

In place of their regular meeting, the Andover Young Adults will meet at the Free Church Jan. 24, at 4:30 p.m. to go to Boston to visit the Chinese Christian Church of New England.

The program will start at 6 p.m. with a question and answer period, followed by a supper and church service.

Local Troop 76 To Decorate Window

District Commissioner David Cardinal attended the meeting of Boy Scout Troop 76 in the Scout Room in Ballardvale recently and reported that the Ballardvale troop will have the honor of decorating a Lawrence store display window during Boy Scout week, Feb. 8-15.

During the meeting Allan Perry and Warren Deyermond passed their tenderfoot tests and Edward Smeltzer, completed his first class test.

Members of the troop worked on the Morse Code.

Theodore Cole of Andover was a guest of the troop, in order to study the meeting procedure as he will form a troop in Christ Church.

Scoutmaster James Butler and Assistant Scoutmaster Harry Batchelder were in charge of the meeting. William Batchelder and William Butler conducted the opening and closing ceremonies.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smeltzer, Donald Hayes and Donald Dustin attended the meeting.

Pike School Again Offers Summer Plan

The Pike School, the country day school in Andover, has announced the intention to carry on for a second year the six-week summer school for boys and girls who have completed grades four through eight. The response to this opportunity for summer schooling, in an informal setting, last year was enthusiastic on the part of both the faculty and the students who attended.

Lundgren Funeral Home

INC.
ESTABLISHED 1840
COMPLETE FUNERAL SERVICE
DONALD E. LUNDGREN

18 Elm St. Andover GR 5-2072

Douglas M. Dunbar Sr. and Earl R. Warren will serve as instructors for small groups of boys and girls.

The work offered provides an opportunity to strengthen verbal and numerical skills. It is not in any way designed to achieve advanced standing or to correct specific or severe remedial problems. There will be considerable emphasis on the development of useful study habits and on the use of tools such as dictionaries and encyclopedias which are essential for satisfactory scholastic performances.

Courses other than in reading, arithmetic or algebra will be offered if there is sufficient demand. The real purpose of this community service is to offer a summer learning opportunity for all who wish to extend their academic training.

A sincere desire to undertake the training is an important prerequisite for admission to the limited course of study.

Will Confer Over Outfall Sewer

Andover and Lawrence officials will sit down to discuss the extent of Lawrence's use of the outfall sewer at some future time.

This decision was reached Monday night, during a discussion of the request that a new bowling center be allowed to enter the Lawrence sewer line near the Memorial Stadium in that city, and in turn into the outfall sewer.

It was reported that the Lawrence officials have given that permission, under terms of the original contract with the town when the sewer line was built. At that time, Lawrence paid part of the cost of the line, which goes through the city, and was given the right to enter sewerage into it from a 120-acre area. The volume was never spelled out, however.

The Selectmen agreed to confer with Lawrence officials in the relatively near future to find out what use the city may make of the facility in the future.

It was explained that the town at its predicted rate of growth will need to think about sewer work on this line about 1965, but this depends in some part on how much sewerage is dumped into it by Lawrence.

MRS. BULLOCK'S WILL FILED IN REGISTRY

Signed four days before her death Dec. 27, the will of Mrs. Rose Ella Bullock of Andover was recorded in the Registry of Probate. No estimate of the value of her estate was listed.

All of her household furnishings, clothing, jewelry and personal effects were bequeathed to a daughter, Emily Bullock of Andover, who is also to have Mrs. Bullock's residence with six acres of land there, the testament stated. Her Gaynor K. Rutherford of Lawrence was nominated as the executor.

The residue of the property was left to Miss Bullock and two daughters, Mrs. Margaret E. Reed of Reading and Mrs. Caroline Blaker of Columbus, O. But the will set forth that $15,000 is to be deducted from Mrs. Reed's share and that $5000 apiece is to be given to her children, Charles Reed, Hugh Richard Reed and Ann R. Priebe.

ENJOY SKIING

Peter Stewart of Virginia and David Lermond of High Plain and Dick Daniels of Central st. and Robert Garrison of Arcadia enjoyed the excellent skiing at Mt. Snow, Vt. Sunday. They enjoyed a swim in the heated pool at the Ski Lodge.

3 Vestrymen Were Elected

At the annual meeting of the Church Jan. 18, three new vestrymen were elected.

They are C. Lincoln Gilman, Donald G. Thompson and Albert Swenson. The two wardens, John H. Fenton and Malcolm Johnston, were re-elected. Kenneth S. Minard, treasurer, Charles S. Gaunt, treasurer, and Rebekah Taft, accountant, were re-elected.

The delegates elected to the Diocesan Convention were Fenton, Mr. Johnston and Minard. The alternates are Johnston, Boyd C. Bellinger, Walter C. Caswell. Those elected to the Archdeaconry Convention are Mrs. Charles S. Gaunt, Mrs. Kenneth Minard, Rebekah Taft, with alternates being Mrs. Fay Elliott, James S. Watters and W. W. Pollard.

Downs Elected By Association

The Firemen's Relief Association has elected William T. Downs as lieutenant in the Department, and the Association for the year. Lt. Raymond S. LaRosa served as president in the year just past. Elected to serve with Downs for the current year were Charles Howe, vice president; E. J. Woodrow Crowley, secretary; Willard Patterson, treasurer; and Chief Henry L. Hilt as assistant treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors were Deputy Chief Charles Hamane, Chief Hilton, Frank

3 Vestrymen Were Elected

At the annual meeting of Christ Church Jan. 18, three new vestrymen were elected.

They are C. Lincoln Giles, Donald G. Thompson and Albert A. Swenson. The two wardens, John H. Fenton and Malcolm G. Johnston, were re-elected. Kenneth S. Minard was elected clerk; Charles S. Gaunt, treasurer and Miss Rebekah Taft, accounting officer for pledges.

The delegates elected to the Diocesan Convention were Mr. Johnston, Mr. Johnston and Mr. Johnston. The alternates are Fay Elliott, Boyd C. Bellinger and Walter C. Caswell. Those elected to the Archaeology Convention are Mrs. Charles S. Gaunt, Mrs. Kenneth Minard and Miss Rebekah Taft, with the alternates being Mrs. Fay Elliott, Mrs. James S. Watters and Mrs. Audrey W. Pollard.

Downs Elected By Association

The Firemen's Relief Association has elected William T. Downs, lieutenant in the Department, to head the Association for the year. Lt. Raymond S. LaRosa served as president in the year just past.

Elected to serve with Lt. Downs for the current year were Charles Howe, vice president; Lt. J. Woodrow Crowley, secretary; Willard Patterson, treasurer and Chief Henry L. Hilton, assistant treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors were Deputy Chief Charles L. Leman, Chief Hilton, Franklin

Buchan, Kenneth Hilton and Robert Demers.

Weather Man Will Talk Here

At the next meeting of the South Church Men's Club Wednesday, Jan. 27, the featured speaker will be Bob Copeland, Assistant Meteorologist of a Boston radio-TV station.

Dinner, catered by Bob Sutton, will be served for members and guests at 6:45 p.m. in the Church Fellowship Hall before the program. Reservations should be made by Monday, Jan. 25, at the Church office or with Bill Meike. All men of the community are invited.

Mr. Copeland will speak on a subject of immense popular interest, one in which he is thoroughly at home, namely, "Interesting Variations of New England Weather". In his talk, which will be illustrated with color slides, he will also give some insight into the preparation of weathercasts for television.

MRS. MOULTON'S WILL IS FILED

Signed March 15, 1949, the will of Mrs. Louise Moulton of Andover has been filed in the Registry of Probate. She died Dec. 16. No estimate of the value of her estate was listed.

The instrument, which nominated a sister, Mrs. Lila W. Baldwin of Andover, as the executrix, left $500 apiece to a brother, Herbert Woodhouse of North Andover; a niece Frances Trefry of Lynnfield and a friend May E. Crossley of Lawrence.

Mrs. Moulton gave $300 to a friend, Walter A. Corcoran of North Andover, and awarded $200 each to a nephew, Richard W. Baldwin of Andover, and to three friends, Gladys Penney and Mary Corcoran, both of North Andover, and Hazel E. Faulkner of Cambridge.

Household furniture, furnishings and personal effects were devised to Mrs. Baldwin, who is also to have half of the residue of the property, the will stated. Quarter shares of the residue were bequeathed to two other sisters, Mrs. Mary E. Cate of Andover and Miss Lena E. Woodhouse.

The probate petition listed the heirs-at-law as two sisters, Mrs. Baldwin and Mrs. Cate; two nieces, Virginia B. Olms of North Andover and Frances Trefry of Lynnfield; and a nephew, Everett R. Woodhouse of North Andover.

Insurance can do much more for you today than was possible when you bought your first policies. One of the big improvements is the "package" type of policy in which you get protection, not only against fire or other damage to your property, but also against theft losses and those liability claims that are increasingly common today. May we tell you about it?

ACCEPTING AWARD - Business and Advertising Manager Raymond B. DeRuisseau accepts an award from the New England Weekly Newspaper Association, in behalf of Publisher Irving E. Rogers. Presenting the certificate is Roswell E. Bosworth Jr., outgoing president of the Association. The special award was presented to the Townsman for its special "Centennial Graduating Class" pictures and stories last June.

No Action On Request

The School Committee has taken no action on the Teachers' Association request for reconsideration of the salary schedule.

Discussion of the request centered around the merit plan, which would have to be abolished if the Association's plan was acceptable. That group had proposed taking the money for merit and using it, along with other funds in the budget for salaries, to provide a salary schedule in excess of the one adopted by the School Committee.

It was generally agreed that the merit plan deserves a longer trial than one year, although School board members were not unanimous in feeling that the plan is working successfully.

PROPOSE 2-ACRE HOUSE LOTS

a series of educational meetings conducted by the Planning Board in 1957, and the proposal did not reach town meeting that year.

At the 1956 meeting, voters considered the same general West Andover area as is now proposed for inclusion in Zone D.

The lots, if approved by the voters, will have 225-foot frontage, and 87,120 square feet of area.

The Planning Board articles in the warrant also would establish set backs for the new Zone D.

Other Zoning Articles
Included in the warrant are other Planning Board-sponsored articles relating to zoning.

It is proposed that the Planning Board be allowed to approve subdivisions in Zones B and C, of 10 or more acres, without holding strictly to the frontage and area requirements of each lot in the subdivision.

The article, referring to a zoning procedure commonly known as "cluster zoning", lists several restrictions that must be met in a development - the total area of all lots must be no less than the minimum area of one lot in that zone, times the number of lots included; aggregate street frontage must not be less than 1/4 of the zone requirement, determined by multiplying the minimum frontage requirement for one lot by the number of lots.

Set back lines must be shown clearly and deemed to be adequate under the specific conditions in that development.

The variation from usual requirements would also be allowed if it meets other requirements, when the Planning Board felt that proper distribution of lots and buildings would make more efficient the provision by the town of health, safety, protective and other services.

It is explained that the variations may be beneficial to the town because a developer can take better advantage of the topography of the area; it is possible to allow green areas, and perhaps areas for public use within a development.

Another article would have the voters approve extending the shopping center district along Lowell st., at the junction of Route 93, so that a small tract of land will not be isolated.

It has previously been explained that the section, just beyond the new gasoline station and before reaching Rt. 93, is the site selected for an insurance building, providing the zoning can be extended.

Industrial Area

An article recommended by the Industrial and Development Commission also is included in the warrant, changing set back requirements downwards to 50 feet from a highway and 40 feet from a property line.

The IDC had explained that the higher requirements were making it difficult for potential industry, in that they had to be set too far away from Route 93, to which they have no access. In most cases, they do wish to be seen, however.

State Will Pay For Brook Work

The state has verbally agreed to pick up the tab for an extension of Rogers Brook reconstruction from Whittier st. to Highland, at a cost of $40,000.

If this is confirmed in writing, the town will be able to undertake the cooperative venture at a cost of $20,000, in addition to the $175,000 already appropriated as matching funds.

Agreement was reached on the extra state money last week, after a conference in Boston.

The $20,000 item, in the town warrant for action in March, is for easements and damages along the right of way.
