Vast Industrial Development In Shawsheen

"Substantial" Buildings Planned; Special Zoning At Town Meeting

Town Going To Bat With State Over Change In Rt. 110 Plan

A vast industrial project on more than 64 acres of Andover land in the old filter bed area of Shawsheen will be considered at town meeting March 12.

The plan, presented by the Champy Construction Co., requires special industrial zoning, converting a long-established industrial area along the railroad and some residential Zone A areas into a single Industrial Zone D.

Unanimous and enthusiastic approval was given the plan by the Selectmen, Planning Board and Industrial Commission at a meeting with Bernard J. Champy Tuesday night.

And even as the Planning Board sat down to write the special zoning article - which can be acted on under a supplementary warrant - town officials began to take step two in securing this large-scale development for the town.

Letters were being sent yesterday and today to all interested state and federal officials, calling for a slight change in plans for Route 110 in the area.

join him in requesting that the new highway be constructed on abutments across the industrial section.

If present plans to fill the area are carried through, he will be unable to run a spur track into the Andover section, and will be effectively cut off from the area.

He told the town officials that the cost of putting the road on "stilts", leaving areas through which train tracks and roads can

Scouts Given New Charter

Boy Scout Troop 77 of the West Parish Church held its annual parents night Wednesday, Feb. 10, when Henry James, Neighborhood Commissioner, presented the Troop charter to Harold McGrath, chairman of the Troop Committee. This is the fifth year the troop has been chartered.

This meeting included the monthly Court of Honor, at which time the boys received awards for advancement in rank. John Gaunt, Vincent Santarlasci, Ronald Valentine, and Fred Sunderland were invested with their Tenderfoot Badges at an impressive candlelight ceremony. Michael Rodden would also have received his Tenderfoot Badge that evening, but was absent due to illness.

Second Class Badges were awarded to Michael Michel, Robert Young and William Westaway. First Class Awards were made to Henry James

Can Retain $26 Rate By Careful Spending

In a cheerful prediction Monday night, FinCom Chairman Winthrop Newcomb told the Selectmen that the $26 tax rate can be held during 1960.

He cited additional free cash, increased assessments and extra money from state sources as "items in our favor". They will nearly offset departmental budget increases of $269,126, he forecast. And the small balance can be made up from free cash.

However, he accompanied his cheery forecast with the warning that the voters must follow Finance Committee recommendations if the rate is to hold.

Adoption of articles in addition to those recommended could seriously jeopardize the rate, he continued.

Mr. Newcomb was full of praise for Town Manager Thomas E. Duff and department heads, who all worked cooperatively to keep expenses at a minimum.

Budget Increase

On several occasions Mr. Newcomb pointed out that about one-half of the budget increase results

Print Collection At Abbot Gallery

The John-Esther Art Gallery of Abbot Academy presents the George Binet Print Collection, an exhibit of more than 80 original prints which distinguish the great periods and major developments of French Art of the past and present. This exhibition will remain in the Gallery through February 28, and can be viewed any week day until five p.m. and Saturday and Sunday afternoons from two to five.

With the decline of the Renaissance in Italy, France rose to leadership under the Bourbons, Louis XIII and Louis XIV, when the Baroque style originated to dominate the arts for 150 years. Art and artists were under the control of the Crown (and the Ecole de Beaux Arts, founded in 1643), whose tastes were classic, grand and impressive. Interest in court portraiture flourished to perfection in techniques of etching and engraving unsurpassed since. The early Baroque is represented by Mellan, classic scenes by Lorrain and Callot, and by his follower, Bosse. During the High Baroque, art had its focal point in the rebuilding and decoration of Versailles, and the celebrated Nanteuil, Massen, Edelinck, Moris, Lombart, van Schuppen, Regnesson, the Drevets and Tardieu rose to prominence and have ever since been objects of collecting interests.

When Louis XV became less dependent on his clerical advisors, his taste in art veered from the classic to the Rococo, a style perfectly in keeping with his pleasure-loving court. Watteau, Boucher, and Fragonard led in executing charming works where the actors played roles in an ever expanding garden and scene of romantic dalliance. Dupuis, Provost, Le Bas, Cochin, Surugue, Saint-Aubin and Banbrun executed their elegant and charming works so typical of the period and Janinet, during the reign of Louis XVI, added color in aquatints of unequalled virtuosity.

The Rococo, which lasted less than 50 years, ended violently with the Revolution, and the people rose in hatred against the softness and artificiality of the past art which they associated with grinding poverty. Alix executed his revealing portrait of Marat at this time but there was little art during the First Republic. From there on, art changed its face faster and faster, the Empire to revive the Greek and Roman, Desnoyer's portrait of Napoleon le Grand met with great satisfaction of the Emperor.

From the restoration of the monarchy to the Second Revolution of 1848, the position was that drawing and design were the essentials of art, as Ingres maintained, and so the Salon ruled. Little was accomplished except by Gericault and Delacroix who charged vigorously at the established art, to introduce the romantic and dramatic in art and subjects, thus beginning our modern era.

Daumier marks the mid-way of the 19th Century in remarkable lithographs, standing alone as a figure in art, at once classic and modern. A score or more of art movements followed. While the realists -- Manet, Ribot, Fantin-Latour, Toulouse-Lautrec, and others - discarded romanticism, exploring what they saw, they made way for one of the most significant departures in art of all time.

In seeking relationships of light with color, impressionism was born. Renoir, Cezanne, Morisot, Ferain and others of the original group influenced their generation, and from them many groups rayed out. Nearest were the non-impressionists like Vuillard, who sought to establish scientific formulas for art. But rebellion came with the Fauves who used previous findings but added passion to their knowledge. Influenced by Cezanne, Van Gogh, and primitive art, the Fauves comprise those who are among the greatest in modern art - Matisse, Reaullt, Viaminck, Picasso, Dufy, Friesz - some of whom were to become later other than Fauve, as Matisse and Duffy who ended as "decorationists". Cubism, where nature was reduced to its elemental forms of the cube, cylinder, cone and sphere, was another ray of impressionism, and found temporary adherents in Picasso and Villon. Also, the Nabis utilized impressionism for their very personal statements - Redon, Valleton, Vuillard and Bonnard found permanent expression within this elastic movement. Although abstraction and its variations are found in Paris, the works of the Neo-Cubists, Cerzeu, Miro, and Dauphin, held their places well above those who work in the International style of non-representational art. The great inspiration of French art was, and is, always nature.

The school safety program has been in effect for many years, continued, as advocated by the National Safety Council and the Massachusetts Safety Officers' Association. Both organizations emphasize the program has proven to be of value, and have sought to prove the point. Urges Better Use Of Patrols Far too many youngsters are being excused from school safety patrols, according to Patrolman William Tammany, school safety officer.

"I can't understand the reasoning, under any circumstances, for these requests", he asserted.

Officer Tammany called attention to the basic purpose of the patrols - safeguarding the lives of the boys and girls. And he explained that the dangers grow greater each year, with increasing vehicular traffic.

The school safety program has been in effect for many years, he continued, as advocated by the National Safety Council and Massachusetts Safety Officers' League. Both organizations emphasize that the program has proven itself to be of value, and have statistics to prove the point.

The question of a child not getting home quickly enough, or having the feeling of being regimented, are not valid reasons for being excused from the patrol, Tammany declared.

Both the school department and the police department strongly urge parents to see that their children cooperate in using the patrols.

Favorable Position

The Selectmen were told that the town has $68,000 more in free cash than was the case a year ago; that an additional $91,000 will come in from increases in assessments amounting to over 3 1/2 million dollars, and that about $40,000 more is coming from the state this year.

These figures amount to $199,000 - just $70,000 short of meeting the increase in department budgets. Increased receipts will no doubt reduce the balance still further, he indicated.

Thus the balance probably can be made up by transferring an amount from free cash for the purpose of reducing the tax rate. A routine article is in the warrant every year for this purpose.

Available Funds

Many of the articles calling for an expenditure of funds will bear the slogan "from available funds", when recommendations are heard at town meeting.

It has been explained that over $500,000 will be available from this source.

Mr. Newcomb said about $345,000 will be recommended for use, leaving a balance of $218,000 in this account.

This compares favorably with last year, when $305,000 was taken from free cash and a balance of $109,000 was retained.

"We'll be in a good credit position", Mr. Newcomb told the Selectmen.

Major Articles

The Finance Committee has approved the expenditure of $195,000 for Rogers Brook construction - with the stipulation that $25,000 be taken from free cash. This article involves repealing the action taken several years ago, when $175,000 was appropriated as matching funds with the state. Bonding counsel has asked that the article be voted again, to clear away any technicalities. And an additional $20,000 is included to cover easements and damages along the route of the reconstruction. A 10-year bond issue would be involved.

Another major project - the trunk sewer line from the Riverina rd, pumping station to Essex st, - also gained FinCom approval. The financial watchdogs recommend taking $25,000 from available funds and bonding the remainder of the $260,000 for a 10-year period.

The proposed survey of existing and needed drainage systems throughout the community has been split - with $11,000 recommended in 1960 out of the $25,000 requested. The Finance Committee feels that the work can be carried on for two or three years, with each year's work fitting in easily with the next. The most troublesome areas would be surveyed first, under the plan.

Not every article gained approval.

The proposal to spend $91,000 for water improvements fared not quite so well as others, with a recommendation that the $40,000 allocated for closing in dead ends in Lowell Junction be delayed a year. However, the proposal to erect dikes at Haggert's Pond, and an improvement in Shawsheen, were approved.

It was indicated also that Water Department requests for funds to have engineering plans drawn for the relocation of facilities near new Route 110, and money for the pipe and other necessary fixtures, were approved. This was taken into consideration when eliminating part of the over-all water improvement plan.

The Finance Committee also turned thumbs down on the police minimum-maximum wage article, using the same home-rule reasoning that Town Manager Thomas E. Duff presented last week in declaring his opposition to it.

INDUSTRIAL AREA IN SHAWSHEEN

pass, is about the same as the expense of filling.

And even if it is slightly higher, he expressed the opinion that the state should seriously consider it because of the need for industrial expansion in the Commonwealth.

Unused Section

The industrial development planned by Mr. Champy includes a total of 204 acres in Lawrence and Andover.

Even this may be expanded, if negotiations for additional land in Andover and Lawrence can be completed successfully.

Within the town, however, the area now proposed for industry includes the Boston and Maine Railroad right of way recently purchased by Champy, to a point near Filter Bed rd. The boundaries of the area are jagged, depending on purchases the construction firm has been able to make.

In general, the area does not come closer than 2-300 feet from a house, but does include Zone A residential property.

If negotiations are successful, another 28 acres may be added at a later time, taking the proposed industrial zone in an easterly direction out to Haverhill st. a High st.

The latter proposal would be considered for zoning when and if the developer requests it.

National Companies

Although Mr. Champy was reluctant to give even the slightest indication that might serve to identify potential industries, he stated that the success of the area depends on having nationally known firms of the highest quality.

And he assured the town officials that prospects are considering the section. The first building will be constructed in Andover, he stated.

Later, in response to an inquiry, Mr. Champy said one or two buildings could be constructed on the Andover portion of the development and indicated that hundreds of thousands of square feet of building space are involved.

Ideal Site
In his presentation to the municipal officials, Champy described the industrial site as one of the finest in New England.

It lies between two interchanges of a federal highway, has a railroad track, and water is processing.

To make the site even more suitable, he plans to run two major roads into the property - one from South Union st. at the White Paps Bridge in Lawrence, the other from Route 114.

Traffic will be one-way on these streets, he stated, and cars will be near an interchange on entering or leaving the parking areas.

Raytheon Traffic
A possible solution to the vexing traffic conditions in Shawsheen also came to light during the discussion.

Mr. Champy said he owns an easement under the railroad tracks near the new parking lot.

A road under the tracks, plus some 400 feet of pavement between them and the major junction street in the new industrial area would handle the traffic easily.

Champy said he will be happy to talk this over with Raytheon and to cooperate in anyway possible.

TO THE Voters of Andover

Our school committee and our school administrators have made significant strides towards solving the complex and difficult problems that beset our public school systems today. It is possible to note progress every day, but there is still a tremendous task ahead. This will demand, more than ever, a TEAM EFFORT.

I believe I can be an effective member of this team and that by education, training, business experience, and years of public service in Andover I am qualified to be your new school committeeman.

If you have not had an opportunity to learn firsthand of my views on what measures we must take to maintain progress in education, I urge you to do so.

Although formal action has been delayed until after town meeting, the Selectmen will establish the hours of 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. for voting in the Presidential Primary April 26.

They previously had approved designating the Square and Compass hall as the lone voting place for the town, thus saving several hundred dollars. Town Clerk George Winslow indicated that the saving results from the much smaller crew required to man the single voting place.

In addition to delegates to the national party conventions, voters will choose state committee members from the senatorial district and will also vote for members of the Republican and Democratic town committees.

THE NEW NEW ENGLAND

It's BIGGER than you think

No, the artist didn't err in preparing this special map*. His objective was to illustrate the area of each state based on the value of its manufactured products.

Note New England's manufacturing strength in relation to the rest of the states. New England has only 1 1/2 per cent of the nation's land area and only 6 per cent of the total population, but it accounts for nearly 10 per cent of the country's manufacturing.

New plants in new fields are starting operations here practically every day. New England no longer is dependent upon only one or two major industries. Based on widely diversified products, our current economy is in excellent condition for the competitive future.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Tennis Anyone?

Apparently tennis courts are to become an integral part of our recreation program.

At least this will be true, if town meeting takes the first step by appropriating $5,000 to provide drainage and foundations for courts, to be located in the rear of the high school. The money for the project would have to be appropriated next year.

There seems to be general agreement that tennis courts are a desirable addition to the program — with the Finance Committee, Selectmen and many citizens joining hands to proclaim the advantages of providing this facility to the townspeople.

While there has been some disagreement over the timing — whether courts should be provided this year or over the next couple of years — there is no basic disagreement over the need, as seen by the boards and groups mentioned here.

During the discussion of the proposal, the League of Women Voters Committee chairman, Mrs. George A. L. Brown, said her group has been thinking of the high school site as a location for a community center — and suggested that thought be given to development of the 30-plus acres there for municipal recreation. This too is an intriguing idea, and details of the proposal should be worked out and presented for discussion. If such a development is desirable, it probably must be approached as a long-range project, with portions accomplished whenever there is some money available. To do this sensibly, there must be a master plan to follow.

The League could serve a useful purpose by providing the town with such a plan, so that its ingredients can be discussed and changed, where necessary, to meet the needs of the community.

Make Your Opinion Known

A subject of general interest, and of vital importance, will be discussed tonight when the Planning Board holds its public hearing on the zoning articles in the town warrant.

This hearing, required by statute, is the place for interested voters to state their opinions about the zoning proposed in the warrant. Presumably the Planning Board takes these opinions into consideration when making a final recommendation to town meeting.

Thus it is important for everyone who has an interest in this subject to appear and make himself heard.

Economy, With Progress

It was good news indeed when FinCom head Winthrop Newcomb told the Selectmen that the $26 tax rate can be retained, providing town funds are spent judiciously, and with the proper use of available funds.

We recognize, while rejoicing over the rate, that sometimes difficulties befall a community which seeks blindly to keep its tax rate down.

Considering the present town warrant, however, it is apparent that in 1960 false economy is not being practiced. Major projects are being undertaken through the wise use of surplus cash.

Thus we can safely set our sights on a $26 rate — on holding the line — without any worries that such action will create additional problems later.

Much credit goes to the Finance Committee and to the town manager for the diligent effort that has produced a balanced program of economy with progress.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — February, 1910

John Alden attended the annual reunion and dinner of the class of 1877 of MIT, held Wednesday evening at the Technology Club in Boston.

Closing a 20-year period of service as superintendent of the water and sewer departments of Andover, March 5, John E. Smith will promptly take up an important position at the rapidly-growing Tyer Rubber Company.

Town Clerk Abraham Marland is in attendance at today's hearing in Salem in regard to disposition of the Punchard Fund.

At a special meeting of the Public Works Board last night, Frank

L. Cole was appointed acting superintendent. He has been in the Department for four years, both as clerk and assistant superintendent.

Tuesday afternoon and evening a large crowd of enthusiastic grangers gathered in the hall in West Andover to celebrate the 20th anniversary of the birth of Andover Grange 183.

Frederick H. Jones was elected president of Tyer Rubber Co. Monday.

25 Years Ago — February, 1935

The special town meeting to consider the new school project will be asked to appropriate $98,000, in addition to the existing $406,000. This will bring the total to $504,000, of which the government will pay $112,700.

Clan Johnston 185, O.S.C., observed the annual Past Chiefs' Night Friday. Thomas Thin, senior past chief, was in the chair.

The new Andover Brass Band is getting off to a good start, under the direction of P. LeRoy Wilson. New members are welcome at any rehearsal, held at the Legion rooms.

Four were injured, and two drivers arrested, after a collision on North Main st. Saturday morning. A car heading down the hill skidded across the street, hit the second vehicle, and wound up on Railroad st. One driver continued without making himself known.

A paper on "Three Historic Days in Andover" was read to the APC meeting Wednesday night by Mrs. Edward Gould.

Franklin B. Collins won't be on the ballot for tree warden after all. Due to a misunderstanding, he tried to file his papers Friday, when the deadline was Thursday at 4:30. He does plan to run as a write-in candidate, however.

10 Years Ago — February, 1950

The Taxpayers Association plans to save the town upwards of $118,500 by eliminating the need for the proposed reservoir. The organization's plan is to purchase a diesel engine for the pumping station, a new booster pump at the low pressure reservoir and to bore out the existing eight-inch line between the low and high pressure systems.

Delegates from local and regional veterans' organizations have been invited to attend a meeting at VFW headquarters here to discuss available veterans' benefits. A speaker of national reputation will address the group.

Over 100 Grange members, from Andover and surrounding communities, were present Tuesday evening at the celebration of the 60th anniversary of the founding of the local unit. Harry Playdon was honored for his membership of nearly 64 years, and Madeline Hewes was recognized for nearly 54 years' service.

Several Andover trains have been dropped by the Boston and Maine, following a Department of Commerce rule that cuts down the number of coal-burning passenger trains by one-half. In all, 161 trains are being lopped off the schedule by the B&M.

A meeting was held this week at the Chestnut st. home of Atty. Robert P. McDonald, to plan for the heart fund drive.

Residents Dislike Name Change

Residents of Rattlesnake Hill rd. have voiced their strong opposition to changing the name of their street to Greenleaf rd., as proposed in a town warrant article.

In a letter to the Board of Selectmen, the residents have urged that public attention be drawn to their opposition. Some 24 signatures appeared on the petition, all of them residents of the road.

From this sphere

The letter, signed by James R. Reid, was read into the records of the Selectmen's meeting, and Mr. Reid added his own comments urging the Selectmen to oppose the measure when it comes up for a vote.

Chairman Eugene A. Bernardin Jr. explained that four of the five members, present at the Board meeting last week, expressed their feelings that the name should not be changed. They felt that the change would serve no useful purpose, he reported, and that the suggested "Greenleaf" name lacks the character and color of "Rattlesnake Hill".

The letter from Mr. Reid and the other residents follows:

"We wish to call your attention to the article in the Town Warrant to change the name of Rattlesnake Hill rd.

"This petition was presented by William Moriarty and his wife who live on Rattlesnake Hill rd. His petition is signed by 12 other bonafide residents of the town of Andover. However, none of the others who signed the petition live on Rattlesnake Hill rd.

"This letter is accompanied by a statement signed by the residents of Rattlesnake Hill rd, and none of us want the name changed. It seems very unfair and improper that the name should be changed when only one resident wants it and all the others do not want it.

"Mr. Moriarty's petition was filed without the knowledge and consent of the other residents of the street. He has stated only two reasons for wanting the name changed: 1. He gets a lot of ridicule from it, and 2. He can't sell his house because of the name of the street.

"These are extremely weak reasons for a change, especially when he obviously wants to sell his property and plans to leave.

"Now consider the problems involved in changing the name:

"1. All deeds and titles will have to be changed.

"2. All town, county and state records will have to be changed.

"3. All personal records such as insurance policies, automobile licenses and registrations government records, mailing addresses, etc. will have to be changed.

"4. Confusion will result in fire emergencies because of similar street names such as Greenwood, Greendale, Evergreen, etc.

"5. The Town will have to provide new street signs.

"Now consider the most important reason for not changing the name. All the other residents of Rattlesnake Hill rd, like the name and do not want it changed.

"We repeat that Mr. Moriarty does not have the approval of any other resident of Rattlesnake Hill rd. We want to make sure this information is made public to all concerned. It does not seem right that a matter like this should be entered in the Town Warrant without any approval of those directly involved."

In honor of the occasion, each patrol assisted in decorating the Fellowship Hall, and put on a demonstration of scouting skill or a humorous skit. Stage decorations included a 12-foot tower erected by the Flaming Arrow Patrol; a seat made from logs assembled by the Bat Patrol; a mock council fire by the Hawk Patrol; while the Eagle Patrol erected one of the new troop tents. A demonstration of flint and steel fire building was put on by the Hawk Patrol, and first aid was demonstrated by the Pioneer Patrol. The Bat Patrol demonstrated morse code signalling using special signal lights. Humorous skits were presented by the Bat, Flaming Arrow, and Eagle Patrols. Following a closing ceremony around the campfire, refreshments were served by the Troop Committee, assisted by several of the mothers.

Agree On Tennis Court Progress

General agreement has been reached between the Recreation Committee and citizens urging immediate progress in providing tennis courts for public use. At a meeting Monday night, proponents of the courts and the Committee ironed out any differences they may have had, and agreed on a two-year program that will produce a battery of four courts. Others may be constructed later. Chairman James Doherty told the Selectmen and Finance Committee that his Committee and the citizens agreed to propose using $5,000 - already appearing among the special articles - for preparatory work. This involves drainage and sub-structure for the first battery of courts.

Then, next year, the courts themselves will be requested at a cost of about $5,000 apiece, or less.

They plan to have the courts located behind the High School, after securing the permission of Supt. Edward I. Erickson.

Doherty told the financial board that it may not be necessary to spend all of the $5,000 on drainage and site preparation. But he indicated that this must first be done, and that the ground should be allowed to settle for a year anyway, before actual construction takes place.

The courts, when installed, will be of a permanent type, requiring slight maintenance. He said they are similar to ones now being

In reference to the Academy, Doherty said the courts there are not available for public use except for a very few weeks when there is no school or summer session. Courts at Abbot Academy, he told the group, are not available to the public at any time. A letter emphasizing this point was shown to the Recreation Committee by proponents of the measure.

It was also explained that the courts at the Sacred Heart School are in need of considerable repair, and are clay courts requiring constant attention.

ble. If cars could use an underpass to reach the industrial roadway in the Champy development, they could get out to Route 114 and the highways without going through Shawsheen Square. With some staggering of shifts, the Lawrence developer saw no reason why this plan couldn't work out satisfactorily. He also indicated that access to the proposed industrial area from Andover will be designated for emergency use, and that parking areas will be fenced in such a way that the town streets can not be used by persons going to work there. Thus, the officials were told, there should be no repetition of problems that occurred around the Raytheon plant.

Insurance can do much more for you today than was possible when you bought your first policies. One of the big improvements is the "package" type of policy in which you get protection, not only against fire or other damage to your property, but also against theft losses and those liability claims that are increasingly common today.

Speech Therapist At Parents' Session

The Free Church Cooperative Pre-School recently conducted a parent-education meeting at which Ray Gendron, speech therapist at the Lawrence Cerebral Palsy Clinic, was guest speaker.

Mr. Gendron opened his program with a brief discussion of when and why speech therapy should be applied. He mentioned that speech therapy is needed when a child fails to verbally express himself in a socially acceptable manner and described the various causes for a child to fail to speak properly.

A lively discussion followed and Mr. Gendron ably answered many questions. He emphasized patience in handling small children's speech problems and also urged parents to give each child his fair share of time to talk without interruption from other members of the family circle.

New Provisions In Pension Law

The Office of Veterans' Services has called the attention of Veterans of all wars and widows of veterans to the drastic changes in the pension and compensation laws after July 1 of this year.

Public Law 86-211 will become effective July 1 but applications may be filed any time from now to that date at the Veterans' Service Office in the town hall.

Heretofore, most widows of World War II and of the Korean Conflict were not eligible for a pension. After July 1, many of them will be eligible. Some veterans now on the pension rolls will gain by changing to the new law.

Volunteers Needed At Vets' Hospital

A course for new volunteers at the Bedford Veterans Hospital will start March 9, and Mrs. Herbert Allicon, chairman of the Red Cross Gray Ladies, hopes that anyone willing to give one day a week to the Hospital will call her or the Red Cross chapter house.

Volunteers, who may be asked to do many duties from office work to teaching on the wards, bring the outside world to the hospitalized veterans and are an important part of their treatment. Volunteers from Andover find great satisfaction in their work at Bedford, and, like Mrs. Allicon, serve there for many years.

Town Gets More Money From State

The town stands in a substantially better financial position, in terms of income from the state and expenses for county and state purposes, than it did a year ago.

Release of the Cherry Sheet figures this week showed that Andover will receive $344,317.73 from all sources - compared to $304,430.18 just a year ago.

And the town will pay out fewer dollars this year than last, by a wide margin. This year's estimated expenditures are $119,791.62 compared to a total $147,406.61 last year.

The figures are prepared annually by the state Division of Corporations and Taxation and furnished to the towns and cities for use in making up a tax rate. Expenditures Listed

The following items have been listed in the debit column for 1960:

County tax, $85,935.31; TB hospital, $23,511.89; state recreation and parks, $7,483.38; audit of municipal funds, $2,794.25; state examination of retirement system, $66.79.

Last year, the town paid out $87,460.18 for county government, plus an additional levy of $10,652 listed as an underestimate of the need from the previous year. The TB hospital cost $24,126.17 a year ago, with an added $2,507.08 resulting from a similar underestimate.

State recreation areas cost the town $9,396.18 a year ago; the audit of accounts was charged up at $1,921.18; and the examination of the retirement system cost $827.22. Also listed a year ago was the county mosquito control project, at $10,515.

The latter item, however, was never paid to the state because the town withdrew from the project. The sum is also carried this year as a credit to the town, apparently for state bookkeeping purposes, although no money is changing hands.

Receipts Estimated

The Cherry Sheet estimates for 1960 receipts indicate:

From recreation areas, refund of $836.56; county tax refund, $1,515.25; county TB hospital refund, $.02; mosquito control project, $10,515 (bookkeeping procedure only); reimbursement for publicly-owned land, $1,781.14.

Receipts from the tax fund may be anticipated as follows:

School aid under two chapters of the general laws, total of $127,569; state tax apportionment, $46,948.99; corporation and excise taxes, $151,481.37; meals tax, $3,670.40.

In the year 1959, state recreation areas refunded $101,02; and reimbursement for publicly-owned land was $1,705.86.

In that year, a direct return of $30,200 was made from the withholding of state income taxes, which has not been done this year.

School aid last year, under the same two chapters, totalled $111,724.43. The state tax apportionment amounted to $22,276.59 last year, while corporation and excise taxes returned $135,321.34; and the meals tax return was $3,100.94.

Mosquito Control Up To Voters

Many of the town's voters, remembering last summer's pesky mosquitoes, will have a chance to decide at town meeting whether to undertake a control project this year.

A special article in the warrant calls for spending $5,000 on a project to control - but not eradicate - the pests. The money, appropriated last year under the county mosquito control project, will not be raised from taxation.

Thus the Finance Committee, according to Chairman Winthrop Newcomb, probably will leave the decision up to the voters without recommendation.

Health Board Chairman Robert A. Walsh told the assembled Boards Monday that a control project can do a lot to help, but certainly will not eliminate the insects. Fog-spraying from the roads and aerial spraying in the swamp lands would be involved, he explained.

Community Building Declared Unsafe

The town has been warned to make necessary repairs in the Community Building in Ballardvale, or face condemnation of the structure.

Building Inspector Ernest N. Hall has placed a strict limitation on the number of persons who may assemble in the building at one time. No more than 50 persons may gather in the Community Room at once, and no more than 20 in the Library. However, a total of 65 persons is the maximum at any one time for both rooms.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff said this week that he is having repair estimates furnished, and also is considering the possibility that the town may wish to return the structure to the tax lists through sale. This possibility also is being considered for the town-owned infirmary.
