New Policy For Summer School

The Andover Summer Session, conducted by Phillips Academy, has announced plans for a basic change in its purpose and curriculum. The announcement was made public by Robert P. Hulburd, director of the Summer Session. The purpose of the Summer School, as announced by Mr. Hulburd, is to provide an opportunity for serious study for qualified and able secondary school students. The curriculum is designed to provide enrichment and advancement rather than remedial or make-up work. Mr. Hulburd emphasized that it should be understood that the Summer Session is

Electronic Composer At Townsman

Notice the Townsman's new face last week?

Many people did, and commented on the new, easier-to-read type found in the news columns.

But it isn't just a type face we're talking about - it's an electronic marvel of the printing age called the Justewriter. . . . a machine that does all its own justifying and then sets galleys of type ready for paste-up.

Second Development

This isn't the only new machine employed recently by the Townsman to improve the quality of its product.

Of recent acquisition is a Cox-head Headliner, on which headlines used with news stories and display types for advertising are set photographically.

The finished product is sharper and easier to read.

Continuing Effort

The acquisition of these two machines - one photographic, the other electronic - makes it possible for the Townsman to once again improve the quality of its finished product - the newspaper you read each week.

This is another step in a continuing effort to provide the best

Route Change Report Awaited

The town is awaiting a report from the state Department of Public Works on the request for a change in plans on Route 110 in Shawsheen.

The alteration involves placing part of the highway on "stilts" to provide an underpass into an industrial area in Andover and Lawrence owned by the Champy Construction Co.

Meanwhile the required supplementary warrant is being advertised, and will be considered at town meeting March 12. Contained in the warrant are two articles that would rezone the section near the old filter beds, and establish rules and regulations for the new industrial section.

A hearing on the proposal must be held by the Planning Board prior to town meeting.

The highway problem continued as the number one issue this week, even though a top-level decision

Miserable Taste Due To Algae

Anyone get a whiff of their glass of water, or stop to taste it recently? If you haven't, don't.

Bad as it has been in some sections, however, the advice of Water Department Supt. Donald Basset is that it won't hurt anyone or anything.

Basset explained this week that the nasty-tasting water is more or less disagreeable, depending on how far along the supply system one is from Haggett's Pond.

A winter-growing algae is causing

Church Group Acts To Ban Magazines

The Social Action Committee of the Free Christian Church will act tonight on a proposal by the Church pastor, the Rev. J. Allyn Bradford, which seeks the cooperation of magazine dealers in removing "objectionable" magazines from sale.

Outlining his plan to the Townsman, the Rev. Mr. Bradford suggested that a letter may be sent to the dealers first, followed by personal visits.

He emphasized that he and the Committee will ask for the cooperation of the dealers, and depend on that cooperation to result in removal of some maga-

David Cutler became vice chairman, and Miss Emily Heald of the Lawrence chapter, secretary. Miss Mary Sherman, who has for three years been the secretary, was given a vote of thanks and much applause for the work she has accomplished. Mr. Zollner, Mr. Cutler and Miss Sherman are members of the Andover Red Cross Blood Committee. The delegates at the meeting, assembled from some 20 chapters, heard from executives of the Boston center that 52,761 blood donations had been collected in the past six months in the state, and as a footnote, that people who have been tattooed cannot give blood for half a year after the tattooing. From the statistics given, it was apparent that the Andover bloodmobiles are among the most successful, and the chapters have naturally turned to Andover members for leadership. The second annual visit of the bloodmobile to Andover is scheduled for early April.

IN THE MAILS INTENDED FOR YOU

This week, the couriers of the Andover Post Office will deliver a CO-OP bulletin to every home in town.

Our purpose in sending you this is two-fold:

1. We want everyone in Andover to know the CO-OP'S plans for expansion. Whether you shop at our supermarket or not, you may be interested in reading about the newest and most modern building in Andover center — an example of do-it-yourself urban renewal.

2. We also want everyone to know what a consumer cooperative is, and how the Andover CO-OP functions. As a community enterprise, owned by over 2200 in Andover and environs, we have a responsibility to report to our members and to all interested townspeople on our position in this business community.

We hope you will take a few minutes to read our story. If, as a result of this information, you would like to join with many of your friends and neighbors in this unique enterprise, the process is easy. Just step into the store and ask for our manager, Mary Angus. It takes an investment of only five dollars (on which you get five per cent interest) to become a CO-OP member.

Or, test us without joining. Shop CO-OP once to see for yourself if our way of doing business is the way you want to do business.

NEW COMPOSING MACHINES IN USE

in weekly newspaper publishing for you, our readers.

Punches A Tape

One might almost say that the Townsman office is tied up in its own red tape these days, for hundreds of inches of a bright-colored paper tape are used in preparing each issue of the Townsman.

The tape is punched by a machine that is very similar to an electric typewriter.

Every character, every space, in fact everything that a typist does on the machine, is punched into the tape.

Yards and yards of the tape feed automatically out of the

NEW COMPOSING MACHINERY - Justwriter composing machines have been installed at the Townsman, for speedier composition and clearer, easier-to-read body type. At left, Mrs. Raymond Pellerin is guiding the perforated paper tape through the "slave" machine. Electronic eyes in the machine read a "code" punched on the tape, activating the proper keys.

Justwriter - coded to tell the second unit what to do.

This is then fed into a "slave" machine, which electronically "reads" the tape and types the finished products in justified columns ready for the production department to paste up on the pages.

Speedy Device

The Justwriter is far less complicated than it sounds.

All an operator has to do is type, and strike a key to return the carriage whenever a light flashes on the machine. The justification code is punched into the tape through the normal space bar, and through two special "unit" spaces that are in addition to a standard keyboard.

In other newspapers where the machine is used, operators have been able to maintain the average typing speed they would have in any office typing situation.

And when the tape is fed into the "slave" machine, it is set at the rate of 100 words a minute.

Even Corrects Self

One of the unique features of the Justwriter - and anyone in the newspaper business will appreciate this - is a self-correction unit.

The typist merely hits a key called "line delete", and a code is punched into the tape telling the "slave" machine to stop and wait for the correct line to appear.

This in large part eliminates the slower process of making corrections after the finished product is proof-read, by cutting out words and pasting in others.

Heads By Photography

The Headliner is, itself, a unique and highly specialized

The "slave" types at 100 words a minute or more. At right, Mrs. Pellerin sits at the keyboard of the Justwriter. As the copy is typed in the standard carriage, the tape at lower left is perforated, including code punches for automatic justification of the columns. A typist can maintain normal typing speed on the machine.

PHOTO COMPOSITION - The Townsman's new Headliner sets headlines and display lines for advertisements through use of photography, but may be used in normal room light. Mrs. Pellerin demonstrates here how a plastic disc, chosen for the specific type face and size, is inserted in the machine. Through the window on the cover, the operator is able to select the character desired, and presses one of the keys at lower left. When this is done, a light flashes briefly in the "light house", seen at Mrs. Pellerin's right hand. The selected character, on the disc, is thus exposed onto sensitized paper. The machine automatically propels the paper through developer and fixer, and out of the machine. (Photos By Frank Leone Jr.)

NEW POLICY FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

not designed as a tutoring or cramming school. It is expected that boys who will avail themselves of this summer program will be taking new and advanced work rather than review courses designed to repair previous failures.

Mr. Hulburd outlined the four basic changes that the faculty has approved to implement the new program.

1. The length of the session will be reduced from eight weeks to six.
2. No credit will be given for any courses.
3. No review or make-up courses will be offered.

4. Every student will be required to take a six-hour course in English composition in addition to a 12-hour major course in some other area of study.

In previous years the Summer School was aimed at providing an opportunity for boys to make up course failures or earn extra credits needed to satisfy diploma requirements at Andover or elsewhere. Mr. Hulburd emphasized that this year's new program is set up with the gifted student, who has not had the benefit of a preparatory school education in mind. It is hoped that the short term at Andover will open the eyes of such boys to the real meaning and significance of education, and inspire them to greater effort and achievement in their own schools.

The new program will provide an opportunity for a more flexible, interesting and challenging program of study. The English and foreign language departments will divide their students into elementary intermediate and advanced sections. The mathematics department will provide courses in Advanced Algebra, Probability, and Logic.

The Summer School will also offer several courses not ordinarily contained in the high school curriculum: The Art of Communication, Economic and Political Geography, The Twentieth Century Challenge to United States Foreign Policy; China, Japan, and the United States; Music from Song to Symphony, Art, and advanced courses in Biology, Chemistry and Physics.

One of the most striking features of the Summer Session is the requirement that everyone take a six-hour minor in English composition.

This course, designed particularly for able boys who have had little chance to improve their writing in high school, is an attempt to meet a disturbing national deficiency in this area. Colleges all over the country are complaining that even graduate students are often held back by their inability to express themselves effectively in writing. By giving all boys a thorough grounding in the essentials of English composition, and by requiring them to turn in several essays a week, the Summer Session will make sure that its students, at least, will not be hampered by this problem.

All of the facilities of Phillips Academy will be available to the Summer School students, including in addition to dormitories and classrooms, the Library with 65,000 volumes, the Addison Gallery of American Art and all the other cultural and athletic facilities of the 450 acre campus.

John D. Ozoonian of Osgood rd. is chairman of the Lawrence Armenian Church Youth Organization, which will hold a Pre-Lenten Hantes Sunday Feb. 28, in Holy Cross Armenian Church, Lawrence.

BAD TASTE DUE TO ALGAE GROWTH

ing the taste, and is being treated in conformity with expert advice from the state department of public health.

There is absolutely no danger from either the algae nor the treatment, Bassett stressed.

Small amounts of copper sulphate are used to kill off the algae, but the amount is not sufficient to be tasted.

The presence of winter algae - whose technical name is "Cynura" - is not unusual, Bassett explained. He said that algae of this type often can be found, and that an infestation of it more or less logically follows a heavy amount of summer algae, such as Andover experienced last year.

Samples of the distasteful water are examined regularly at the Lawrence Experimental Station, operated by the state, and Bassett reported that the latest advisory Tuesday indicated that the water remains perfectly safe for use.

WILL ACT ON MAGAZINE PROBLEM

The subject came into public focus last Sunday, in a sermon preached at the Free Church by its student minister, Ronald Cebik.

Preaching on the responsibilities of Christians to take action in their communities when the need is apparent, he cited the presence of some magazines on the news stands as something that requires intelligent action.

Mr. Cebik told the congregation that some magazines are sold in Andover which may not be sent through the mails because of the laws governing the mailing of obscene literature.

And they are being displayed at eye level, where young people are certain to see them, he declared.

Mr. Cebik reminded the congregation that children do not have the same ability to make judgments as do adults.

Thus, magazines that have a tendency of distort Christian marriage and love can easily influence the growth of the young person in the wrong way, he declared.

It is in the very nature of being a Christian, Mr. Cebik stated, to assume some responsibility for these things in the community.

PTA Will Hear Rev. V. Scalise

The South Elementary School will hear the Rev. Victor F. Scalise at its meeting Thursday, March 3. His subject will be "What As I Have".

Class room visitation will begin at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will begin promptly at 8.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Favorable Decision In The Cards

There should be no shadow of doubt that proper arrangements can be made with the state to accommodate the proposed industrial park in the Filter Bed area of Shawshen.

Although the developer has talked several times with engineers in the State Department of Public Works about Route 110 plans, he has received no encouragement, not even an answer to his request. He asks that at least a section of the highway, planned to be constructed on fill, be built on "stilts" so that an underpass is available for a railroad spur line and a roadway. Moreover, according to his unofficial estimates, this can be done as cheaply as filling the section.

Now that the town, through its combined boards, has unanimously endorsed the industrial site, there should be some fast and positive response from the state.

We can not envision anything but an acceptance of the plan.

Governor Furcolo has several times repeated his desire to leave no stones unturned in the encouragement of new industry; other state officials have been equally decisive in their remarks concerning the value of establishing industries within the boundaries of the Commonwealth.

We're certain, likewise, that Senators Leverett Saltonstall and John F. Kennedy are aware of the need for industry, and will exert their powerful influence where it will do the most good.

It seems unbelievable that anything but a favorable response will be forthcoming from the state and the Federal Bureau of Roads, which has considerable say in the matter.

Certainly a negative response by these official agencies would be a repudiation of the publicly-announced goals of the executive arm of the state government. We just can't imagine that happening in an election year.

Coming Up The Third Time

For the third time, Andover Voters are being asked to decide "what kind of a town this will be".

This is the avowed purpose of the Planning Board in submitting two-acre zoning to the voters at the annual town meeting. It was defeated at town meeting once; and was, on a second occasion, taken out of active consideration by the Planning Board following a series of public meetings when considerable opposition developed.

Thus, for the third time, this major zoning proposal is being brought into focus.

We hope it is defeated. Most of the arguments for and against two-acre lots have been repeated here, and in the news columns, during the past few years. And we have no intention of repeating them again.

We want to point out, however, that the voters have defeated this major-lot zoning once, and that so many residents objected to it a second time that it was not even placed in the warrant.

How many times must this proposal be acted upon?

It seems to us that the voters have clearly expressed their wishes in this regard and that it should not be continually presented.

The decision, it appears to us, was clear. The voters did not want to zone the town in such a way as to permanently create it as a rural area. This would be the result of two-acre zoning.

The Planning Board apparently feels that this question should be decided anew every few years. We don't. Once settled, it ought to remain that way.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - February, 1910

Cecil Bancroft, registrar at Phillips Academy, has left for the Bermudas because of ill health.

An illuminated sign has been placed in front of the Musgrove Building. It reads "IOOF Hall, Lodge 230".

The fragrant cluster of pear blossoms, the first of the season, which were brought to the Townsman office Monday from the estate of Peter D. Smith, were a pleasant surprise. They were a happy reminder that spring is coming soon.

Olin Richardson, 14-year-old son of A. P. Richardson, entertained 15 of his friends at a birthday party at his home on Park st., Thursday evening.

Scott T. Shattuck has gone into the express business for himself. He has worked for many years in the employ of B. B. Tuttle and, later, for Charles Emerson.

25 Years Ago - February, 1935

The voters have overwhelmingly approved an appropriation of $98,000, to be added to $406,000 already in hand for the junior high school project. The meeting only lasted 45 minutes, and took on the overtones of a political rally as various candidates took the floor. Although they spoke about the school, they also brought in campaign issues. The moderator finally commented that none of the speakers were in order.

Only the contest, that between Selectman Frank H. Hardy and School Committeeman J. Everett Collins, appears likely to create much interest at the election.

A fire in the cellar at 6 Avon st., had temporarily bad results when a woman and her daughter were overcome by the smoke. They responded to treatment at the home of a neighbor, however. The damage was estimated at $300.

The Andover Ministers' Association has gone on record against the location of a dog track here, or in North Andover. They have asked the proper state authorities to notify them of any hearing on an application.

The sum of $8,000, or $2,000 weekly, has been granted Andover for the continuation of ERA projects. This is the amount that has been received for the past few months. A new grievance committee has been set up under the program.

The County Commissioners have approved a project to reconstruct Lowell st. from Shawshen Village to the Tewksbury line, a distance of about five miles. The town asked county cooperation and financial support in the undertaking.

10 Years Ago - February, 1950

Triplet lambs were born to a Suffolk ewe last Wednesday at the farm of John Fielding of Lowell st., who has been raising sheep as a hobby for several years. He also reports that two ewes gave birth to twins last week, and invites townspeople to come and visit the farm if they wish to see the twins and triplets.

The special committee appointed last March to study sewer betterments has reported to the Board of Public Works. The group recommends that 100 percent assessments continue, claiming that each abutter should pay his pro rata share of the total cost of the installation which is accessible to his property.

Temperatures skidded below zero Tuesday, in one of the worst cold spells of this otherwise mild winter. The thermometer read 10-12 degrees below throughout the town and West Andover reports put it at 18 below zero. Monday night, there was a clear and brilliant display of northern lights, which many townspeople enjoyed watching.

A total of 7,151 men and women are eligible to vote at the town election, some 179 less than a year ago.

Nine more speeders were arraigned in court before Trial Justice Richard K. Gordon last Saturday. All were fined.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCullom of Henderson ave. have returned from a two weeks' vacation in Florida.

The book exhibit will reflect the lively interest in antiques and antique collecting that is noticed in almost all libraries, as readers ask for more and more information. Good general material on the subject may be had in the new book by Moreton Marsh "The Easy Expert In Collecting And Restoring American Antiques". It answers the who-how-what-when-and why of collecting, and is written for the beginning antique fancier. A few others of a general nature are "Know Your Heirlooms", by Thomas Ormsbee; "Antique Collector's Manual" by Raymond Yates; "Collecting Antiques In America" by Thomas Ormsbee; "Small Antique Furniture" by George Hughes; "The Antiques Book" by Antiques (Periodical). WAITING FOR STATE DECISION

(Continued from Page One) will be made on the question report from the state Department. Indicated that the governor's and that of the Public Works Commissioner are deciding whether change in the plans is warranted. Town Manager Thomas E. informed the Selectmen Tuesday that the state engineers he had with had declined further comment, pending word "from top".

Selectman Philip K. warned, however, that he believed the federal Bureau of Roads decline to act. He said there were several precedents for the re-based generally on the ground that too many changes would be required across the county. Exceptions are made anyway. That Bureau's policy is to refuse to bridge areas where facilities do not exist when the are drawn.

WAITING FOR STATE DECISION

will be made on the question. A report from the state Department indicated that the governor's office and that of the Public Works commissioner are deciding whether a change in the plans is warranted.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff informed the Selectmen Tuesday that the state engineers he talked with had declined further comment, pending word "from the top".

Selectman Philip K. Allan warned, however, that he believes the federal Bureau of Roads will decline to act. He said there are several precedents for the refusal - based generally on the grounds that too many changes would be required across the country if exceptions are made anywhere. That Bureau's policy is to refuse to bridge areas where facilities do not exist when the plans are drawn.

Mr. Duff, Selectman Allan and Joseph Doherty, secretary of the Industrial Commission, discussed the problem with the DPW last week. And almost simultaneously, other municipal officials were talking the problem over with the state Department of Commerce and top-flight executives of the Public Works Department.

In a memo on the subject, Mr. Duff has outlined the probable areas in which the elected representatives and senators, and the members of Congress, can be of assistance. These are being sent to all the officials, with a request for immediate action.

Fashion Show Sunday Night

St. Augustine's Guild will sponsor its annual spring fashion show at the Andover Country Club Sunday, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The newest spring fashions in ladies' wear and furs will be modelled by the following:

Mrs. Robert Rohnstock, Mrs. James Dolan, Mrs. Joseph O'Brien, Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mrs. John Farrington, Mrs. Robert Jordan, Mrs. S. Arthur McGovern, Mrs. William Shea, Mrs. Francis McCabe, Mrs. Maurice Ramirez and Mrs. Robert Mason.

A vocal entertainment will be provided by the Sixteens of Andover High and Mrs. Dennis Conperly.

Mrs. Philip Winters is general chairman, with Mrs. Robert Phinney and Mrs. Joseph Sapienza as co-chairmen. Mrs. Charles Richards and Mrs. James Devine are handling tickets; Mrs. Edward Harty, food; Mrs. Joseph McEneaney and Mrs. Paul Hershon, decorations; and Mrs. Thomas Brennan, committee assisting models.

Tickets may be obtained from these committee chairmen or at the door.

machine. But it's easy to use, and provides the sharp, clear type faces you see every week in the Townsman.

Basically a photographic machine, it can be used in normal room light, without spoiling the film.

Letters of one size, in a type face, are provided on plastic discs that fit into the machine much the way a recording is placed on a record player.

By turning a knob, the proper letter is selected, and photographed merely by pressing a button on the machine.

A sensitized paper running through the machine automatically feeds into a developing tank, and feeds out by itself, bearing the sharp black letters selected by the operator.

The variety of type faces, and sizes within the faces, are nearly unlimited - depending in large part on the types selected for readability by the Townsman management. SUB HD

The Townsman is proud of these two additions - believing that higher quality results from their use.

We welcome visitors, who'd like to see these machines operate, who wish to become better acquainted with the "cold-type" processes by which Andover's Own Newspaper is printed.

If you have a group which would like to visit, let us know ahead of time.

And if you wish to come alone or in twos and threes, drop in and you'll probably find us using the machines during the course of our usual production schedule.

3 Named To All-State Choir

Three members of the Andover High School A Cappella Choir, Carol Gesing '60, Pamela Prendergast '61, and Janet Workman '62, have won membership in the Massachusetts All-State Chorus, Mrs. Frank McArdle, director of Music Education in the Andover Schools, has announced.

The All-State Chorus consists of 200 members, chosen as the finest singers from all the senior high schools throughout the entire state.

This group will present a concert at the Worcester Municipal Auditorium Saturday afternoon, April 9, as the climax of the three-day Conference of the Massachusetts Music Educators.

Membership in the All-State Chorus is a coveted honor, achieved only through keen competition. The local students won their places in this group only after having first been selected as members of the Massachusetts Northeastern District Chorus, consisting of the 200 finest voices in Northeastern Massachusetts Senior High Schools. Only 50 of the District Chorus were selected for the All-State Chorus.

The selection of every Andover student, who entered the competition, is a tribute to the quality of vocal instruction being given by Keith Gould, choral instructor in the Andover Junior and Senior High Schools. Mr. Gould joined the Andover Music Department last September.

Phillips Academy Raises 4 Million

A national campaign to secure funds for the first extensive capital improvement program in 30 years of Phillips Academy, has reached the $4,000,000 mark, it was reported this week by Donald H. McLean Jr. of Summit, N. J., general chairman of "The Andover Program". Total financial requirements in The Andover Program are $6,060,000, the remaining $2,000,000 of which the Academy seeks to raise this winter and spring.

Two of five new dormitories are already completed on the campus and a third is under construction. It is expected that a new wing of the Oliver Wendell Holmes Library will be dedicated this June. Other major components of the school's modernization plan are a new Science Building, an Arts and Communications Center, additional class and conference rooms, faculty housing improvements, a small chapel within the main chapel, and additional athletic facilities.

To obtain these funds the 182-year-old Academy's alumni and parents, numbering 15,000, are currently being approached to pledge support through some 250 area and regional campaign committees throughout the entire country.

R. L. Ireland III of New York City is National Alumni chairman and Thomas M. Evans of Greenwich, Conn., is National Parents chairman.

Serving as Andover Program chairmen for the Greater Andover area are B. Allen Rowland, Advance Gifts and Dean K. Webster III, Alumni.

Candidates for the office of Selectman have been asked, "Is attracting industry to Andover the solution to the rising tax rate and if not, what alternatives do you favor?"

Candidates for School Committee have been asked to discuss the strengths and weaknesses of the Andover School system as they see them. The League asked the candidates for Housing Authority "How do you feel about Urban Renewal for Andover?" Every citizen in Andover is urged to attend.

Asked To Vote On Art Work

The Memorial Hall Library again announces another display of prints, and the public is invited to vote for those they would like to see added to the loan collection.

The pictures will be shown from Feb. 18 through Feb. 26. At the conclusion of the voting period, count will be made of the votes, and several will be purchased to add to the Library's permanent collection.

At present the Library owns 58 framed prints which are kept in continuous circulation. Borrowers have the privilege of taking any one of them home for a period of two months for a small fee.

The present display contains a wide variety of artists and subjects. Several of the Dutch schools, some Impressionists and some contemporary are numbered among the prints to be shown.
