Dr. Coe Will Address Institute

Dr. Albert Buckner Coe, former moderator of the Congregational Christian Churches, will speak to the Free Church Lenten Institute next Tuesday evening, March 22, at 7:30 on "The Mission of the Church".

Dr. Coe is known nationally as well as within the state of Massachusetts for his work as a leader among Congregationalists. He has also served for the Board of Foreign Missions as a director for a special survey of mission work in India. In Massachusetts, Dr. Coe served as minister and president of the Conference of Congrega-

Convention Plan Gets Nowhere

Arthur Neumark, 90 Elm st., waited patiently through Saturday's four-hour town meeting session, then through almost four hours more Monday night, only to have his town meeting question go unanswered because too many voters went home.

Mr. Neumark took the rostrum at the close of the meeting to ask that the town meeting ask the Legislature to hold a constitutional convention. He further asked that notice of this action be sent to other communities so they, too, could act.

He explained that savings might be realized if the convention was held, with resulting streamlining of government.

Then Joseph Monan questioned a quorum and other speakers said they felt this to be too important for a handful of voters to decide.

A public hearing will be held sometime within the next three weeks on a proposal to consider rezoning some 25 acres of residential Zone C land in West Andover for commercial use.

The property is owned by the A. J. Tambone Co. of Reading, and is part of the General Butler Ames estate, which is mainly in Tewksbury.

Mr. Tambone this week announced plans for an extensive retail shopping center on some 50 acres of the estate - and will erect at least two million dollars worth of buildings on the Andover side of the Tewksbury line if the re-zoning is accomplished.

He met with town officials Tuesday to explain the proposal, and will have detailed plans to discuss when the public meeting is held. This session is actually the second step outlined in the plan for consideration of industrial and commercial proposals - giving all town boards and the public a chance to receive information at the same time.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff explained that the shopping center - about 300,000 square feet of space - will lie partly in this community and partly in Tewksbury, where

Only Formality Holds Up $26 Tax Rate - Same As Last Year

Formal state approval of a $26 tax rate is being awaited late this week, following a two-session town meeting that stuck closely to the Finance Committee's recommendations.

The rate - identical to the 1959 rate - was assured by the Finance Committee, if all its advice was heeded.

Even while maintaining the rate, the voters approved departmental budgets worth $2,971,529 and special articles valued at $341,143.96. Also voted were two bond issues, for a trunk sewer line and Rogers Brook reconstruction, with a total combined value of $404,000.

In other business, the voters soundly and with some finality defeated two-acre zoning. Also passed over was a zoning article to change, from residential to shopping center, a small pocket of land at the junction of Lowell st. and Route 93. Land near the old filter beds in Shawsheen, behind Ray-tleton, was zoned for industrial use, with the blessing of the Planning Board and all other official agencies of town government.

Taxpayers Rebuked For Not Representing Members

The Andover Garden Club and AVIS President Albert Retelle received a big assist from Harold Rafton Monday night, as voters agreed to adopt a state law setting up a town conservation commission.

Main opponent of the measure was the Taxpayer's Association, which fought the measure on the grounds that home rule would be violated. They pressed their belief that a local conservation committee could do whatever is needed, without ties with the state.

And spokesmen for the group indicated there might be other ways to approach the problem, which required further study.

Retelle and Mrs. Waters Kellogg insisted that the state ties are needed, and that cutting them would lead to the local group being ineffective.

Taxpayer's President Dino Valz took the floor to again oppose the article and ask consideration of the amendment for a local committee. He told the voters they would be voting on self government as opposed to the whims of eager beavers on Beacon Hill.

At this point Mr. Rafton took the

KEEP CARS OFF STREETS AT NIGHT

The all-night parking ban will continue until April 1, according to Police Chief David Nicoll.

He explained that roads are still too narrow, with the accumulation of the late snowfall, to allow parking during the night. In other years, the ban has been lifted March 15, when conditions permitted.

Cole Gets Leave For Army Tour

Deputy Fire Chief Albert Cole Jr. has begun a three-month leave of absence, during which he will be on active duty with the Army.

Cole is a captain in the Army Reserve, and is assigned to photographic duty at Governor's Island, N. Y., where teams of photographers and news writers are preparing for Armed Forces Day activities May 21.

Deputy Cole's leave expires June 15. His shifts at the fire station will be filled by the other deputies.

Entertained Friends On 11th Birthday

Sally Hatch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hatch of Lupine rd., entertained a group of her friends Saturday, March 5, in honor of her 11 birthday. Sally's birthday actually occurred March 8.

Luncheon was served by Mrs. Hatch and games were enjoyed at the home before the group went to the Bowling Alley where they enjoyed Bowling for the remainder of the afternoon. Those who attended the festivities were Joyce Novak, Susan Fiske, Nancy McClement, Deborah Godin, Joane Senuta, Ruth Anne MacDougall, Kathy Fitzgerald and Sally Hatch.

ance - only 881 attended the primary meeting Saturday and close to 600 were there Monday evening.

Town officials couldn't remember an annual meeting that drew as small a crowd.

Zoning Defeated

The highlight of Monday's meeting was a two-acre lot proposal by the Planning Board. After over an hour's debate, 342 voted against it with 241 in favor.

The discussion opened with a description of the Board's reasons for zoning upwards - and a request by Chairman Donald Thompson to refrain from including any mention of the area to be zoned until that article was reached. He hoped, he told the voters, that the enabling article would be considered on its merits, and area discussed if the two-acre enabling article was passed.

However, nearly every speaker discussed the area in some form.

Proponents of the zoning - members of the Planning Board and the Taxpayer's Association - stressed the importance of maintaining rural areas, of sound economic growth outward from the center of town, of keeping the charm and beauty of Andover, and of controlling expenditures for major projects such as schools.

Opponents generally attacked the restrictive idea of two-acre lots - claiming this kept out the younger person who couldn't afford them; asserting that the area is too large for anyone to maintain; and suggesting that upgrading could result in a swing of the pendulum in the other direction when townspeople became fed up with the trend towards larger lots.

Townsmen Policy Cited

Even the Andover Townsman's editorial policies found their way into the discussion.

Henry Wolfson of the Taxpayer's Association told the voters that he could prove, by the Townsman's statements, that voting against two-acre lots meant voting for "The city of Andover". He claimed that a statement in this newspaper's editorial columns pointing out that two-acre lots means keeping Andover rural indicated, in the reverse, that not voting for them means a non-rural, or city, type of community.

Another speaker, Selectman Russell Doyle, opposed the zoning and answered points in the Planning Board's statement printed in the Townsman of last week.

Taxpayer's Views

The Taxpayer's Association, agreeing that no money was to be appropriated, stated that it took a stand because there might be a possibility that the tax rate could be effected by the zoning.

It was stated that a sub-committee of the Association reported to the directors that, although it couldn't be proven, they believed the upgrading would tend to keep the rate stable.

A spokesman for the Association also told the voters that new industries seek towns where their executives and supervisors will be happy to live - while they anticipate finding the labor force in the area. Thus, they believed that Andover would be most attractive to industry if it remained semi-rural.

Countering this point, Richard McKallagat asserted his belief that more attention should be paid to gaining some industry. And he commented that many executives and supervisors already live here, but their industries are not in town and donate nothing to it in taxes.

Stewart Opposed

Selectman William Stewart took the rostrum to oppose the article, commenting that attempting to zone nine square miles into two-acre lots appeared to be an "effort to stem the tide, not to plan for it". He also appealed to the voters not to shut out the younger people. "Let's not discriminate against the man who wants to build his own home in the country, even if a modest one", he stated.

Also speaking against the article was C. Lincoln Giles, a local contractor, who described the uses to which a much smaller lot can be put, while stressing his opposition to the large lots.

Duff Favored Plan

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff favored the zoning, when asked specifically for his comments on it. He said he believes the Planning Board does a good job, and he indicated that after weighing the good and bad features of the proposal, he would go along with it.

One resident, whose identity was not determined, finished the discussion.

He said he came to the meeting with an open mind, and after "separating the wheat from the chaff", he didn't believe the proponents had given many reasons for upgrading. But he also thought that a lot of talk, without much behind it, had been heard against the plan.

Industrial Zone

Efforts of Ronald Reader to have a small pocket of residential land re-zoned as an extension of the shopping center district - so that an insurance building could be erected at the junction of Route 93 and Lowell st. - went for naught.

The voters defeated the proposal, after residents of the area not only objected to "creeping commercialism" but threw strong doubts into many minds concerning the access to the land. They claimed that the state has insisted that the access is residential only, and may not be used for any commercial purpose.

Cluster Zoning OK

Approved during the session was a zoning amendment allowing so-called "cluster" zoning.

This gives the Planning Board authority, on sub-divisions of 10 acres or more, to approve smaller lots, less frontage or less area than required. The purpose is to reduce frontages, keep much of the backland open, cut installation and maintenance costs of roads and utilities and preserve as much natural beauty as possible.

Voters also agreed to reduce set-backs in the industrial area, on recommendation of the Industrial

ANNOUNCING

5% INTEREST

At the CO-OP's stockholders' meeting last week, we described the costs of our Quarter Million Dollar Expansion Plan, and how the money is to be raised. Here, in greatly simplified form, are the facts:

COSTS:		SOURCES
Land	$ 80,000.	Earnings	$ 50,000.
Parking	15,000.	Bank Loan	125,000.
Building	120,000.	Private Loan	75,000.
Equipment	35,000.
	$250,000.		$250,000.

We want to borrow $75,000, in amounts of a minimum of $25, for which we will pay 5% interest per annum for a period of ten years. Although the money is not due until May 1, we are soliciting pledges now. Interest will be paid each May 1 thereafter for the life of the note.

If you are interested in a good local investment, why not see Miss Mary Angus at the CO-OP about local free enterprise — on the move? Pledge forms are available at the store.

PLAN VAST
SHOPPING CENTER

zoning changes have already been made.

The center will be located at the interchange of Route 133 (Lowell st.) and new Route 110. Plans for the construction of the retail center will follow the state's timetable for the new road, it has been indicated. Mr. Duff stressed that apart from the need for municipal action on zoning, there will be no further request of the town for facilities. He estimated that two million dollars in buildings would produce some $52,000 in taxes.

The over-all project is estimated to be worth $5,000,000 — thus just less than half of it will be built in this town if officials, and eventually the voters, agree on the zoning changes.

It has also been pointed out that residential property in the area will probably be no more affected by the zoning than if the entire project is constructed adjacent Tewksbury.

The announcement from Mr. Tambone stated that the center may be expanded later on the Tewksbury portion of the 700-acre estate, some of which is also zoned for industry.

Retail stores of "nationally-known names have signified their intentions to locate in the area", he reported.

"These department stores, now situated in New England and the principal cities of the U. S. and Canada, will be the major tenants. Detailed trade area analysis reports, compiled by consultants, for the northeastern region of Massachusetts and Southern New Hampshire, are now in the hands of other business leaders who have shown interest in entering the state", he explained.

The center will be known as the "Merrimack Valley Shopping Center", and space will be provided for some 2,000 parked vehicles, on a 5-1 ratio.

The realtor also stated that architects are now preparing plans for the buildings, some of which might be multi-story.

"Comprehensive trade surveys have shown", the report from Mr. Tambone asserted, "that, by geographical reference, the location has been found to be centered strategically in a consumer market region that encompasses wide primary and secondary trade areas."

FORD—The Finest Fords of a Lifetime FALCON—The New-size Ford THUNDERBIRD—The World's Most Wanted Car

America's station wagon specialists complete the world's largest wagon family with TWO NEW-SIZE wagons. They're Falcons in size and savings—and full-fledged Ford wagon wonders when it comes to work! With 2 feet less car to manage, you're a genius at solving traffic problems—a past master at parking.

Falcon Wagons are priced up to $154 less than other 6-passenger compact wagons. The 2-door model is America's lowest-priced 6-passenger wagon.*

Falcon gives the best gas mileage of any American-built wagon, on regular fuel. You can go up to 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline! You get other Falcon savings, too. Repairs cost less. Change oil only once in 4,000 miles. And the Falcon's aluminized muffler normally lasts twice as long as the ordinary kind.

Longest load floor in the compact field is yours in a Falcon. It's over 7 ft. long, with cargo space totaling more than 76 cubic feet!

Full-six-passenger room, too, because Falcon Wagons are built for people. There's room for hats, hips and legs. Come see these newest wonders from the Ford wagon world! FORD DIVISION, Ford Motor Company.

Christian Educator To Speak In 'Vale

MISS LILLIAN PICKENS

Miss Lillian Pickens, a leading Congregational Christian educator in India for 43 years, will speak at the Sunday School at 9:30 and Morning Worship at 11 a.m. in the United Church March 20.

Miss Pickens, who first went to India in 1914 under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, began her overseas missionary career as a teacher at Bombay. She was later transferred to Wai and, in 1918, was sent to the Satara District where for 39 years she gave outstanding service as an evangelistic, educational and social worker.

That service included supervising schools, caring for orphans, carrying medicines to the sick, working among lepers and preaching and demonstrating the Christian message wherever she went.

Her school work made it necessary for her to travel up to 30 miles a day on a bicycle. All along the way she saw people suffering and she finally persuaded a physician to let her dole out simple medicines to the ailing as she went on her rounds. "I carried 15 pounds of medicines in my knapsack and dosed everyone," she recalls, adding, "By the grace of God, nobody died!"

Miss Pickens founded the Satara Friendship Center where Christians, Hindus and Muslims work and play together and she was one of the small group that established the Spiritual Life Center, an international retreat at Nasrapur. For a number of years she was also direct commissioner of the Girl Guides and while serving in that capacity saw the district membership grow from 200 to 3000 girls.

A native of Eureka, Kansas, Miss Pickens was educated at Kansas State Teachers College, which was founded by her father; and Colorado College.

Earning Money For Youth Center

The proceeds of the dessert-bridge, sponsored by the Andover Society March 31, will go directly to the Youth Center on Brook st.

The event, scheduled for 1:30 at the Country Club, will feature a hat show by Miss Helen Sashean. Models will include Mrs. Bruce Dodd, Mrs. Charles H. Black, Mrs. Norman Stowell, Mrs. John McCallagat, Mrs. Warren A. Lewis, Mrs. J. Reynolds Farrington, Mrs. Robert L. Morgan and Mrs. J. Kevin Collins.

Guests at the afternoon affair may choose from a wide assortment of homemade desserts, tea or coffee, poured by Mrs. Guy B. Howe Jr. and Mrs. Phillips B. Marsden, past presidents.

The Andover Society each year supports the Youth Center, through funds for the acquisition of equipment and for providing qualified instructors in various athletic activities.

Girls Worked To Finish Projects

The regular weekly meeting of Brownie Troop 95 was held last Monday afternoon in the South School. There was a short business meeting and the girls worked on centerpieces.

Troop 89 held its regular meeting Monday afternoon. The girls made place cards for the mother and daughter banquet. The group selected Switzerland as their country for the banquet and put Swiss flags on the place cards.

Troop 70 also met Monday afternoon in the South School. The girls finished the baskets they were making and then dressed dolls to represent different nations of the world.

Commission and Planning Board. Tennis Courts Beaten

Earlier in the meeting, a close voice vote decided the fate of tennis courts for the year.

Donald D. Sagaser had explained the reasons for the article, and told the voters that the sub-surface work would be done for the $5,000 this year. After settling, the group would ask for $20,000 a year from now to put on the surfaces of four courts.

Recreation Committee Chairman James D. Doherty recommended affirmative action, but explained that voting $5,000 this year made it mandatory to appropriate the $20,000 a year later - he warned, however, that there could be no guarantee that next year's meeting would do so. Finance Committee Chairman Winthrop Newcomb also explained this problem, and said the FinCom had to go on record against the article for that reason.

On what appeared to be a close voice vote, the motion was declared defeated by Moderator Charles Hatch. There was no request for a standing count, to the evident surprise of many.

Other Business
During Monday's session, other articles considered included:

Voting $51,000 for water improvements; vetoed spending $5,000 for mosquito control; voted to allow the manager to sell town property when obsolete or not needed; created a committee to join in a vocational high school study; spent $12,000 for preliminary plans for West Andover School when and if declared necessary.

Spent $25,000 for the land acquisition committee; accepted a deed from Boy Scout Council pertaining to land near Pomp's Pond; voted $1,478.33 for land belonging to Mrs. Sarah Youmans; accepted gift of Roger's Dell from AVIS; approved Harold Rafton's Committee to study cost of new homes to the town; established a conservation commission via permissive legislation (full details elsewhere).

Adopted plumbing by-law and building code; extended service of by-law committee for a year; voted authority to acquire land around Haggert's Pond for watershed purposes, to straighten out prior land takings; granted easement so Raytheon can install a Bailey Bridge over Shawsheen River st. Kenilworth st.; named Chestnut court, leading to Housing for the Elderly off Chestnut st.; accepted Barrington dr. and Pinecrest rd., providing they meet Selectmen's specifications; voted $2,000 for Selectmen in laying out boundaries of streets; changed precinct boundaries at Route 93 and Osgood st. Allowed manager to sell tax-title land; accepted $200 as a cemetery flower fund; approved borrowing in anticipation of income; disposed of funds held over from budgets and articles of other years; accepted $6,258 for perpetual care of lots in Spring Grove Cemetery; transferred $25,000 from overlay reserve to reserve fund; voted to permit assessors to use $60,000 of free cash to reduce tax rate; approved giving Selectmen permission to give bowling alleys a license to open Sunday afternoons; turned down, via a question on the presence of a quorum, a motion to have the meeting ask the Legislature to approve holding a constitutional convention.

Saturday's Meeting

Three controversial articles took most of the meeting's time Saturday - police raises, trunk sewer main and Shawsheen industrial zoning.

Most of the $2,971,529 budget was voted quickly by the voters, who accepted the recommendations of the Finance Committee in all cases.

An effort to reduce the amount for Selectmen's salaries and expenses, and the manager's salary and expense, failed because no one in the Auditorium agreed with the proponent, Karl Haartz of High Plain rd. His motion to cut the budgeted amounts by 20 percent wasn't seconded.

Haartz told the meeting that the budget amounts are higher than had been appropriated under the former type of administration. And he charged "The office of town manager is already getting out of hand".

The only other change in the recommended budget came in the snow removal account, where the Finance Committee asked to increase the item for wages by $2,500 and the snow plow account by $1,500.

The afternoon's first and most vigorous debate came on the article to accept a state minimum-maximum wage for police officers.

The article was taken up under the police department budget, so that any necessary adjustments could be made in the original recommendations.

However, 561 voters frowned on the article, while only 220 favored it, on a secret ballot.

The vote on taking the secret ballot, however, was 279-275. The motion by Henry Wolfson actually needed only 25 percent of those voting, according to the town by-law. Opponents of the article centered their heavy artillery on the home rule aspects - at the same time praising the department for its efficiency. Taxpayer's Association president Dino Valz led the fight, stating that once the statute is accepted, the Legislature could amend it and the town would be required to pay whatever new salaries were approved. Several speakers urged the voters to accept the statute - Atty. Andrew Caffrey, Dr. James B. Sullivan, Richard McCallagat, Atty. Vincent Stulgis, Karl Haartz, former officer William O'Brien, G. Lincoln Giles, Donald Gregg and Chief David L. Nicoll. Chief Nicoll called the voters' attention to the problem of getting men to serve in the department, and blamed the condition largely on the low pay. Other speakers echoed this sentiment, and asked support on the grounds that the police officers need more money than they are getting, and that the department would attract better men if the pay is higher.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, the Finance Committee and other voters opposed the article, mostly on grounds that home rule would be violated by its acceptance. An

Miss Adams Was Honored At School

Patricia Ann Adams, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Q.

Adams, 23 Canterbury st., and a freshman at the University, was honored by President and Mrs. J. Paul Mather of the University of Massachusetts for her high scholastic attainment by an invitation to their home. Miss Adams was one of eight women undergraduates to receive an all "A" record for last semester.

Over one hundred students who have semester or cumulative averages over 3.4 were invited to the fifth annual Women's Honors Tea.

Guest of honor and speaker was Dr. Meribeth Cameron, educator, Asian history scholar, and author. Miss Cameron is academic dean of Mount Holyoke College and president of the International Federation of University Women.

Will Speak On Migrant Problem

The Rev. John Dorney, the new minister of the First Congregational Church in Lowell, will speak at the Free Church Sunday, March 20, at 3:30 p.m. on his recent trip to Puerto Rico.

Mr. Dorney was one of several Churchmen on a tour sponsored by the Massachusetts Council of Churches to study the migrant problem in that area. He will speak to a gathering of the Middlesex Regional Committee for our Ministry to Migrants, which is a subdivision of the Massachusetts Council. The Regional Committee is set up to bring together those who are interested in helping with the Ministry to Migrants in the communities of this general area. The area is served by a chaplain and a nurse, who are supported by the Massachusetts Council.

A business session will follow the presentation by Mr. Dorney, during which the plans for the coming season will be discussed. Community and Church groups will be oriented in ways which will help in the Ministry to the Migrants, through the leadership of the Chaplain. Chairman for this committee is the Rev. J. Allyn Bradford.

ROAST BEEF SUPPER PLANNED

The West Parish Church Senior High Pilgrim Fellowship will serve one of its popular roast beef suppers in the Fellowship Hall April 2. There will be two servings: 5 and 6:30 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. William Dehart or Mrs. Robert Grant.

FRONT WHEEL DRIVE FOR TERRIFIC TRACTION, INBOARD MOUNTED FINNED BRAKES FOR REMARKABLE ROAD HOLDING AND SAFER STOPPING, THREE CYLINDERS FOR EXTRA ECONOMY. ONLY $1665 (POE)

Why Terrific Traction? Front wheel drive pulls the car effortlessly along rather than pushing it. The DKW's ability to travel over mud, sand, ice or snow is absolutely dramatic.

What in the World are Inboard Brakes? The front brakes are positioned on the axle each side of the transmission to improve roadholding. The brakes feature immense finned drums so they won't fade.

How Can It Run on Three Cylinders? Why not? It runs with smooth perfection and tops 70 mph. Think of the gas you save! Has only seven basic moving engine parts, fewer repairs, less maintenance, less expense. 35 Miles Per Gallon

Anything Else? Yes, indeed! Large trunk, flat floors (no drive shaft), exceptionally comfortable seats, heater, defroster, turn signals. Most important... the quality of careful craftsmanship throughout.

Drive The DKW! Come in now for an eye-opening demonstration. Learn why the DKW-750 is called Das Kleine Wunder!

CAMP FIRE GIRLS HELD COUNCIL.

The "Checkchamay" group of Camp Fire Girls held its first Council Fire in the South School Tuesday, March 8. At the ceremony built around the theme "The Seven Crafts", the girls received their first honor beads. Mothers and teachers were guests and refreshments were served following the ceremony.

The girls and their mothers are this week attending the mother-daughter banquet in Lawrence, to commemorate Camp Fire's 50th birthday.

ARE YOU TOO GOOD TO LOSE... NOT GOOD ENOUGH TO PROMOTE?

Your employer realizes that many of his men are too good to lose but are not good enough to promote. The men he moves ahead must meet demands beyond job knowledge. He looks to you to make decisions and take action without running to your superiors. He must know you can express ideas clearly. He must be sure others work willingly with you. He wants proof you have real interest in the business and understand your part in it.

These qualities are based on abilities you already have but may not be using. Your employer has no time to pry them out of you. You must bring them to practical life — or risk being judged capable, but not promotable.

Dale Carnegie Courses have been guiding people out of this dilemma for 47 years. We have shown more than 750,000 men and women that they can speak effectively, inspire confidence and enthusiasm, and clear-headedly handle responsibility.

Dale Carnegie training can free you of self-doubts that hold you back today. The sooner you act, the earlier you will find your present situation not a tight little box, but an area of opportunity.

Mrs. Edmonds Is DAR Delegate

The March meeting of Priscilla Abbot Chapter, N.S.D.A.R., was held March 8 at the home of the vice regent, Mrs. Edwin Otto of Vine st., with Mrs. T.R.D. Collins of Stevens cir. as speaker.

Her interesting talk was on the "Story of the Music Box", and she had several examples to show. Mrs. Collins said that the music box is one of the earliest forms of music, combining the sweetness of tone with the clearness of bells. In the 14th century, chimes were heard from many bell towers, and persons began to develop smaller editions in the form of music boxes. They made them in different ways and combined them in walking sticks, chairs, toys, even in rings, but the most popular seemed to be in snuff boxes and powder cases. Some were larger, even, 10 feet tall, and in one, a whole village of little figures performed as the music was played.

The fad for these bits of music faded out after the Edison gramophone in 1878, and it was 25 years before the little boxes again began to be popular. Now there is an International Music Box association. Mrs. Collins had several tunes played on Mrs. Otto's recorder, which captivated the audience with their sweetness and purity of tone.

The meeting opened at 2 o'clock with dessert served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Leo V. O'Connor, Mrs. E. C. Edmonds and Mrs. Roland Weeks. Eighteen members and guests were present.

Mrs. Frank Hayes presided at the business meeting, and devotions and patriotic exercises were led by Mrs. Roland Glines, the chaplain. One verse of the Star Spangled Banner was sung. Mrs. M. M. Jones read an excerpt about National Defense, and also a piece about the obscene literature which is infiltrating stores and among school children.

It was voted to send Mrs. Ernest C. Edmonds to Washington in April to be a delegate to the Continental Congress. Mrs. Edwin Otto as chairman of state pages, also will be in attendance as personal page to the National Marshal. Mrs. Leo V. O'Connor and Mrs. Arthur Bonner were appointed delegates to the State Conference in Boston, with Mrs. Edmonds, Mrs. George Glenie and Mrs. Harry Donovan as alternates. One new member is to come into the chapter, her papers being duly approved. Mrs. Edmonds said that 357 inches of publicity had been printed since March of 1959 up to the March 1 of this year. One way of raising funds for the chapter is the selling of candy, which the members have agreed to do.

All were reminded of the April meeting, to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Young on Elm st., when a plaque will be unveiled at this house which formerly was the home of Priscilla Abbot, for whom the chapter is named. Members of the various patriotic organizations in town have been invited with other public officials. This meeting will be April 12, and following the unveiling a tour of the house and grounds will be made, refreshments served and the regular business of the day transacted.

Guest Instructor In Folk Dancing

The Folk Dance classes, sponsored by the International Institute, and held every Friday evening from 8 to 10 in the Andover Youth Center, will present as guest instructor this Friday Dick Crum, an expert on Slavic dances.

The following Friday, March 18, the group is planning a Folk Dance party with guest dance groups giving demonstrations and joining in the class. There will be a Portuguese group from Peabody, an Armenian and a Polish group, both from Boston.

These classes are open to the public, and Conny and Marianne Taylor, the teachers, stress that no previous knowledge of any kind is needed to join these classes. Dances of many lands are taught at each class, and the beginner or newcomer may start at any time.

Manuscript Given To Historical Society

Mrs. Theodore Dodge, curator of the Andover Historical Society, has requested and received for her files the original typescript and original drawings of "About Andover, Mass.", by booklet recently published by the League of Women Voters.

This book, published by the League as a public service, contains a history of the town, facts about all the departments of town government, including the new town manager charter, and interesting charts and illustrations. A map of Andover is included with the book. The book is very useful to new residents of Andover, though the League, when authorizing its publication, felt that the information it contains should be at the fingertips of all active citizens of the town.

Mrs. Dodge has informed Mrs. Dudley Fitts, editor of "About Andover", that the original typescript will always be available to all members of the League of Women Voters on request.

Garden Club Plans Horticultural Clinic

Tuesday, March 22, the Andover Garden Club is sponsoring a Horticulture and conservation workshop and clinic.

The class will be held at the Bay State Bank meeting room on Main st., from 10 a.m. to noon, and will be conducted by Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith and Mrs. Joseph Myatt.

There will be a discussion of house plants, transplanting, starting seeds, types of soil and starting tuberous begonias.

It is requested that any one attending bring their own plants and containers for re-potting. Proper potting soil will be provided.

For further information, Andover Garden Club members may call Mrs. Foster C. Barnard, horticulture chairman, or Mrs. John S. Sullivan, conservation chairman.

Prof. and Mrs. John McGrath and family of Pottsdam, N. Y., were recent guests of friends in town.

THE CODE OF ETHICS OF YOUR
MLS REALTOR

Every MLS member is a Realtor and pledged to the published Code of Ethics of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

The Code of Ethics consists of rules of conduct designed to protect the buyer and the seller in a real estate transaction.

For example, here are a few of the obligations the Code imposes upon the Realtor:

- ... remain thoroughly informed on local market conditions, those in surrounding communities and National trends.
- ... have a duty to protect the public against fraud, misrepresentation or unethical practices.
- ... have an obligation to avoid errors, exaggeration or concealment of pertinent facts.
- ... are pledged to protect and promote the interests of their clients and ALL parties involved in the transaction.
- ... adhere to all other time-tested Articles designed to provide service of the highest type.

The term Realtor thus connotes competence, fair dealing and high integrity resulting from adherence to a lofty ideal of moral conduct in business relations. The Code of Ethics SAFEGUARDS YOUR INTERESTS!

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Down For 3rd Time

The voters spoke with a voice of authority Monday night, turning down the Planning Board's two-acre lot proposal by a substantial 342-241 vote.

Now there is no doubt about the town's wishes.

This is the type of concise decision which Planning Board Chairman Donald Thompson told the meeting his Board needed before bringing the master plan up to date.

We assume, now that town meeting has given its verdict, that planning will not include the two-acre proposal — at least not within the next three to five years. It would be disastrous if this proposal should be presented again and again, keeping townspeople in a constant state of wonderment and confusion.

A period of zoning stability is needed now.

Too Few Attended

It was shocking to see how few voters bothered to carry out their civic responsibility last Saturday — only 10 percent showed up to vote on millions of dollars in appropriations and special articles.

We have no quarrel with the outcome — for the voting followed the recommendations of the Finance Committee. That Committee has done a thorough, competent job this year and the town could not go wrong in abiding by the results of their labor.

Presumably many absent voters believed that the recommendations were sound and assumed they would be followed to the letter.

It scares one, however, to contemplate what might happen if such a small minority of the voters should get the urge to run wild over the recommendations. It's possible that the results of such action could get us into a bad financial mess — all because more adults refuse to accept their responsibilities.

Proponents of representative town meeting are already arguing that such a poor turnout indicates the need for elected town meeting members, so that every area of town and group of people are at least represented at the meetings. Even this probably is not the answer, because voters who shun their responsibility probably wouldn't use too much judgment in selecting town meeting members.

We must confess we haven't the answer — voters can't be forced to attend the town meetings. We are only certain of one thing — that leaving the town's business to a handful is highly dangerous. Strong minorities have been known to pack meetings attended by so few; and municipal officials are sometimes encouraged to lose some of their concern for what a majority of the town wants in their efforts to satisfy the minority they can predict will be in attendance.

Committee Should Lead

The Recreation Committee would appear to have a big job on its hands, following the action of town meeting in defeating the tennis court proposal.

For implied in that action was the belief that the Recreation Committee should carefully study this idea for the balance of the year and return in 1961 with specific plans.

And of course, the Committee can not study tennis courts alone. These are only part of a complete recreation program, which itself must be developed before any of its components can be wisely acted upon.

Certainly the new Community Council can be helpful in the development of such a program. But the final responsibility lies with the town's only official agency in this field — the Recreation Committee.

It seems to us that the Committee should take an active part in planning a future program — not wait for private citizens to propose one, then either accept or reject it. The latter policy was described from the rostrum at town meeting as being the method used by the Committee in past years.

Now it is time for this important agency to move into a position of leadership in the development of a recreation plan for presentation to the town as a whole. The official Committee should utilize the manpower and talent in the Community Council, but not let that unofficial group assume major responsibility for the plan.

It sometimes happens that the man with the most magnetism is the one who gets things coming his way.

Many a man reached the top because he spoke so little and so well that others considered him very wise.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — March, 1910

Miles Ward, who underwent an operation for appendicitis, is convalescing at his home.

An out-of-town minister, the Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, occupied the pulpit of the Free Church Sunday morning.

A daschund dog belonging to Mrs. Frank M. Foster of Elm st. was struck and killed by an electric car at the corner of Main and Chestnut sts. Tuesday morning.

George Hussey is confined to his home for a week by illness.

Omas Chase is beginning to remove his fixtures into his new store.

At a recent meeting of the Triangular League, made up of Punchard School, Methuen and North Andover, Thomas Kyle was elected president.

E. L. Brown, captain of Phillips Academy baseball team, has been declared ineligible because he took part in a game last summer in which professional players were involved.

About 70 persons in the Vale have already decided to have gas installed in their homes.

William M. Wood has had an addition built on the north side of his home.

25 Years Ago — March, 1935

Herbert P. Carter was named to the School Committee vacancy last week by vote of the remaining Committee members and the Board of Selectmen. The vacancy existed due to the resignation of J. Everett Collins, successful candidate for Selectman. Mr. Carter teaches French and German at Mechanics arts High School in Boston.

Over 175 male voices will be heard in a concert, sponsored by the Men's Singing Clubs of Massachusetts and New Hampshire, tomorrow night in George Washington Hall. The event is sponsored by the Andover Male Choir.

The Board of Public Works food bill of $124,10 is still being held up by the Selectmen. The Board provided the money to workers during the recent blizzard, but there are no vouchers to show how the money was spent by the men. Town officials claim, if the bills are not approved, that BPW members will have to pay them or have the state auditors declare a shortage in the account.

Edward Downs has been chosen chief of Clan Johnston.

A petition asking for a permanent driver for the Ballardvale fire engine has been presented to the Selectmen. It came about as a result of a recent fire on River st.

A Lawrence boy was hurt in the Square this week, when he fell off a bus while trying to jump off. He had stolen a ride on the back of the vehicle along with two other lads.

10 Years Ago — March, 1950

Town meeting has voted $1,142,429 — an increase of $58,000 over a year ago. However, the $36 tax rate probably will remain the same, due to increased income.

Despite protests from residents of Ballardvale, the state Department of Public Utilities has allowed the Boston and Maine Railroad to install automatic gates at the crossing. The gates will be put in by June 30.

The Taxpayer's Association won out at town meeting, defeating the new reservoir at Bancroft rd. despite the recommendations of the board of Public Works. The arguments on this subject had been heated over the past few weeks.

With half of the month gone, the Red Cross has announced that 50 percent of its $11,500 goal has been reached.

Phillips Academy will offer $120,000 in scholarships in the next school year, resulting in over one-fifth of the school population receiving some benefit.

Punchard's basketball team tried but failed to hang onto its Class C Championship at the Eastern Massachusetts tournament last week. The local quintet bowed to a taller Diman Vocational School team of New Bedford, 46-36. They had defeated Duxbury and Dracut before losing. Punchard took the crown last year.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman: "What a pleasure it was for me to see several of Andover's junior misses serving as aides at the Lawrence General Hospital recently. Volunteers, if you please."

"Thank God, to see our young people with the spirit of helpfulness, with cheerfulness. It deserves some commendation."

"I hope I am not being ebullient, anyway, I was thrilled. I felt very proud of these Andover girls. The Lord said something about this kind of service: 'In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me.'"

Great Decisions - 1960

For the next meeting of the "Great Decisions - 1960" group, the members will prepare fact sheet number six for their discussion, to be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 24. The storm cancelled one meeting, so that item for discussion is number 6, instead of 7. "What goals for Africa's new leaders?" is the theme. There will be eight discussions in the full series.

Story Hour

The story hour for boys and girls to be held at the Memorial Hall Library Tuesday afternoon, March 22, at 3:35 o'clock, will have for its theme "Under the Greenwood Tree". All young people who enjoy adventure and the stories of Robin Hood and his merry men will want to be present. Among the stories to be told are "The Shooting Match At Nottingham Town", "Winds, the Birds and the Telegraph Wires" and "The Open Road".

Cardinals To Meet

The Cardinal group of Littlest Listeners will meet at the library Wednesday morning, March 23, at 10 o'clock, for their usual story and music hour.

Massachusetts Government

A new edition of the book "This is Your Massachusetts Government", by Elwyn E. Mariner, has been added to the Memorial Hall Library. This is thoroughly revised and enlarged and presents an up-to-the-minute description of the structure and function of the state and local governments of the people of the Commonwealth. In addition to the citizen's edition of the Massachusetts constitution, the author has given sound and understandable interpretation of the local and state relations, plus federal and state relations. He enlarges on his theme "You and Your Government", briefly presented in the original edition, and points up the fact that those who live in Massachusetts have exceptional power to manage their own affairs if they will investigate the laws which allow them to formulate their own government.

All phases of government, including town meetings, the work of selectmen, assessors, city clerks, budget making, health, schools, libraries, city planning, county government, etc. are presented in clearly understood terms; an index to the entire book makes use of it extremely simple.

For the citizen who wishes to know more about his state and his town, this well prepared source of information, containing nearly 200 pages of text, charts and tables, could be a "must" for first reading.

Library Week Comes April 3-9

Once again the citizens of Andover will find themselves sharing the national observance of National Library Week, from April 3-9, now an annual recognition of the importance of good library service to the people.
Last year the street fair was a colorful, dramatic attention-getter, with eye-catching table displays of books and magazines. This spring the emphasis is being centered in the Memorial Hall Library building, and industry is being featured. Mrs. Alexander Crane, general chairman, and her committee feel that the library mirrors the community, and from that focus they are developing our local observance with an exhibition of the business and industrial products of our own town.
A number of exhibits will be on display in the upper hall of the library during the week; this should be revealing to many residents, both old and new, who are unaware of the diversity of Andover's manufactured products. Mrs. Dudley Fitts, exhibit chairman, has contacted many local firms and is preparing for the week-long project.
Book displays, with extra emphasis on business and science fields, will be arranged by the library staff. The usual spring flowers will add their note of welcome to those who set aside some hour during the week to enjoy the exhibition, the new books and the informal atmosphere.

Newcomers to the community will want to make this week their introduction to their library, if they have not already registered. All will be most welcome.

Refuses Permits For Variances

Lack of authority to approve extensions of non-conforming uses has been cited by the Appeals Board in turning down two requests for zoning variances.
Fred W. Doyle of Chandler rd, had asked permission to build a structure to house a fork lift for loading lumber in one operation. His business is in a single residence area, and there was no opposition to the request at a public hearing Jan. 7.

The Board, however, ruled that it has insufficient authority to grant the request, because it does not have the power to grant a substantial expansion of a non-conforming use.

In its decision, the Board recommended that the lumber business either be moved to the industrial area a short distance away, or that the town be asked to extend that district to include the present Chandler rd. location.
Also denied was a petition from Franklin Haggerty, who wanted to use a building at River and Andover sts., Ballardvale, for the storage and processing of small machine parts.

The Board said this would be an unlawful extension of a non-conforming use, since the operation would differ from the original business at the location when the zoning by-law was adopted. The property was once known as the Ivy Club, where bowling alleys, a pool room and a barber shop were housed.

The Board, in a third decision, refused permission to Werner C. Kaatz to build on a Maple ave. house lot that has smaller area and frontage than required.

The requests of Harry Axelrod and Lee E. Noyes, for permission to build on smaller-than-required lots were approved. Axelrod's request was for a lot on Lovejoy rd., and involves moving a building from Lowell st. Noyes seeks to build on Hidden rd.

Community Council Will Meet Monday

An enthusiastic audience heard a panel of speakers on Community Recreation, Tuesday evening, March 8. Mrs. Jerome Andrews Jr., president of the League of Women Voters, welcomed the audience and introduced Mrs. G. A. Brown, chairman of the League Recreation Committee.

C. Evan Johnson, director of recreation in Newton, began the evening with an expression of the philosophy of recreation. He defined it as all voluntary activity, not just tennis, as Andover has felt it might be in recent weeks; but physical, social and mental activity. A part of all life; an essential to well being; an enricher, renewer and builder of life.

He went on to give some specific necessities of a good program. Close co-operation between educational and recreational interests are necessary because the logical place for outside playfields is at the schools and the school buildings are usually the only ones in a community suited to recreational needs.

John B. Pacino, recreation director of Reading, outlined the recreation program in his town. Reading has an appointed Recreation Committee of nine members, representing various organizations in town as well as official boards. Their summer program lasts for 10 weeks and they have a winter skiing program as well. He listed facilities: 12 tennis courts, four wading pools and six playfields. He stressed that Reading employs trained adults to run recreation programs. Mr. Pacino described the long range plan Reading has worked out for improvement of facilities, surfacing, etc. Co-operation between Recreation Committee and Department of Public Works is the key to success, he stated.

Donald Dunn, local director of Athletics, gave some of the high points of the Andover program. He felt that Andover was doing well with the facilities it has, but pointed out that much use of private facilities is necessary. He introduced the chairman of the Recreation Committee, James D. Doherty, and members Walter Pearson and Frank Markey and Playground Supervisor George Synder.

Mr. Dunn suggested three things for the future; a master plan for 10 years for development of land including costs and priorities; charge fees, particularly at Poms Pond; development of land at the High School.

Mrs. Thomas W. McGrath and Mrs. Robert Butman, members of the Concord School Committee and Recreation Committee respectively, gave the high points of the Concord Recreation program, especially mentioning a successful teen center. Mrs. McGrath spoke of the use of a Community Council in helping the Recreation Committee. Concord used one when they expanded their program about 20 years ago.

Questions were answered immediately after the speakers and Atty. A. W. Fuller, moderator, asked for volunteers to begin a Community Recreation Council. The response was immediate and over fifty persons signed up.

The group held an organizational meeting yesterday and will hear Waldo Hainsworth, field representative of the National Recreation Association, March 21 at the library at 8 p.m.

Volunteers for the Community Recreation Council included Edmond Elowe, Donald Sagasser, Gasper Jako, William Doherty, Ray Durham, Dr. John Galney, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Dimlich, The Rev. James F. Wenzel, O.S.A., Gerry Lebach, George Stern, Annalee Johnson, Mrs. George Luedke, Mrs. Stephen Pendergast, Mrs. Thomas Dye, Mrs. Guy How Jr., James Prout, Harold Rutter, C. X. STRAIGHT TALK ABOUT HEATING YOUR HOME

Are You Being Misled By Distorted Claims?

Perhaps you're planning to replace your present heating system . . . or to build or buy a new home. Whatever the case, you owe it to yourself to learn all the facts about Gas Heat, as well as about the more old-fashioned fuel you may already be familiar with. Your Gas Company will gladly demonstrate the true facts.

FACT: Gas Heat costs no more than any other heating fuel. In the last 20 years the cost of fuel oil in Massachusetts has increased 126%, anthracite coal 138%. In this same period the cost of Gas has increased only 25%.* Gas heating equipment costs less to install and requires no outlay for annual cleaning. Its simple design means lowest maintenance cost . . . and far less depreciation. The average estimated life of Gas burners is twice that of other automatic burners.

FACT: Gas Heat is safe. Despite statements to the contrary, facts prove that Gas is the safest, most dependable heating fuel you can use. Your local Gas Company will show you proof upon request.

FACT: Gas Heat is clean. Because Gas is a pure, refined fuel it burns cleanly. No film on windows. Curtains, walls, furniture stay cleaner longer, with less work.

FACT: Gas is dependable. Gas comes into your home underground, unaffected by storms, sleet or snow. Your Gas burner has no fuel pump to break down and, as a result, will last years longer, with less depreciation.

FACT: Gas heating is convenient and silent. With no storage tanks or bins, your basement becomes roomier, more livable. And Gas heat's "silent service" will be appreciated by the whole family.

FACT: Gas is versatile. You can have central heating with Gas by radiant heating in the floor, panel heating in the wall, grilles flush with floor . . . or with regular radiators. You can use warm air, hot water or steam. You can install a complete unit or convert your present furnace, or better still enjoy year round air-conditioning with a Gas system.

Put these FACTS together . . . and you will understand why, coast to coast

More People Heat With Gas Than With Any Other Fuel!

Today more and more builders who build value into their new homes are installing Gas Heat and other Gas appliances, too.

To find out how easy it is to convert your present heating system to clean, dependable Gas, simply call your local Gas Company or your heating contractor.

and Lloyd Bruce of Ipswich, close friends of the couple.

The altar was decorated with basket arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums and the pew markers were white satin bows and mums.

James Sheard of Andover was the soloist.

The bride wore a floor length gown of hand clipped Chantilly lace over nylon tulle and satin. The fitted bodice of lace featured three quarter length sleeves and was jeweled with sequins and pearls. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with rows of lace inserts over tiers of nylon tulle. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was edged in Chantilly lace and was caught to a cap of pleated tulle and pearls. She carried a hand cascade of camellias and Stephanotis centered with a corsage of white orchids.

Her maid of honor wore a full length gown of emerald green translucent taffeta featuring a short jacket trimmed at the scoop neckline with mink. Her mink muff was marked with a removable corsage of red camellia and white azaleas. Her bow headpiece matched her emerald green outfit.

The bridesmaids were dressed alike in bright red taffeta gowns with fitted tops and bouffant skirts. Their muffs and headpieces matched. Attached to their muffs were corsages of white camellias and azaleas.

A reception followed at the Colony Room. Guests were present from New Hampshire, Gardner, Hubbardston and Wakefield.

The couple are at home at 126 Burnham rd., Lowell, after returning from a wedding trip.

The bride is a graduate of Parichard High School and attended Lowell General Hospital School of Nursing. At the time of her marriage she was employed at Danvers State Hospital.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Haverhill Trade School and High School. He is employed at Western Electric as a tool maker.

ELLCOCK - SAYLES

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sayles of Andover announce the marriage of their daughter, Carole Lillian, to Harry C. Elcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Elcock of Boston.

The wedding took place February 28 at the home of the bride's parents, 117 Salem st.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Raymond M. Gardner of Amesbury.

The best man for Mr. Elcock was Ralph Redmond of Richmond, Va.

The Rev. Alfred Jones Jr., pastor of the Third Baptist Church, Lawrence, performed the ceremony.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. On return from a wedding trip to New York, the couple will make their home in Boston.

LOCAL WOMAN TO PRESENT LECTURE

At the March meeting of the Tower Hill Circle of the First United Presbyterian Church of Lawrence, final plans were made for the Travelogue to be given in the church hall March 25.

It will be presented by Miss Ruth Innes of Haggatt's Pond rd., who traveled by bicycle, bus, train, plane and boat through Europe when she taught music in France in 1955. The countries visited will be Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway. In Norway she visited the fascinating city of Bergen, the home of Edward Greig, the famous composer. Interested friends are invited to attend this lecture.

effort, after the main motion was defeated, to have the money appropriated without reference to the statute was also defeated. Town Manager Duff promised to review the problem and offer some recommendations next year.

The trunk sewer line from Riverina rd. to Essex st. was thoroughly discussed on the floor - although the final vote followed the recommendations of the Finance Committee.

Sidney P. White's motion to establish a committee to review the plan during the next 60-90 days was defeated soundly.

He first moved that the committee - including men named in his motion - be approved. On amendment by Thayer Warshaw, the naming of a committee was left to the moderator. The vote was 396 to 236 in favor of White's naming the group. Then on a voice vote, the committee itself was defeated.

Scattered "no" votes were heard on the bond issue question for the article, but when a standing count was taken, those opposed did not rise. The question thus was declared unanimously approved by Moderator Charles Hatch.

White told the meeting that his committee could study the trunk sewer plan and make its recommendations within the 90-day period. Then, if that group agreed, the work could start immediately. If they disagreed, he suggested the study be continued with a report at the next town meeting in 1961.

He warned the voters that, in his opinion, the plan is contrary to efforts to avoid dumping more sewage into the Merrimack; and he felt that less expensive ways of handling the sewer problem in the center of town could be devised. He specifically suggested filter plants in the Red Spring rd. area.

His arguments were countered by statements from Joseph Lawler, a partner in Camp, Dresser and McKee, which prepared the overall sewer report.

On several occasions White attacked the plan because he believed it to be the ideas of just one man - Mr. Lawler. He also made reference to the percentage fees that might be paid to the engineers if the plan is followed. The latter remarks drew scattered sound from the voters indicating their disapproval of the reference.

The third lengthy debate Saturday came during the special town meeting.

Residents of Shawsheen sought to protect themselves from future traffic and parking problems, that might come when the Filter Bed rd. area is developed industrially.

The zoning article was finally approved, but not before the voters added a restriction that leaves the area without an access into the town. The motion requires that roads may not be used if they run through presently-zoned residential areas. This results in prohibiting the use of the smaller streets surrounding the area.

Chester Kopatch spoke for the residents, as did Representative Arthur Williams, a resident of the section. Although the Planning Board amended its proposal so that the Appeals Board would have to approve traffic plans and roads, the residents wanted greater protection. Mr. Williams pointed out that the membership of the Appeals board years from now might be of a different quality than presently.

A spokesman for the Champy Construction Co. told the voters that buildings valued in the millions probably will be constructed on the portion of the firm's holdings in Andover.

It was also indicated that Raytheon traffic might be diverted through the new roads in the Champy industrial park, thus alleviating a serious Shawsheen problem.

Saw Ballet On 11th Birthday

A very happy birthday celebration was held Saturday afternoon in honor of the eleventh birthday of Cynthia J. Lewis, which occurred March 9.

A luncheon was held at noon and following this the group of young ladies were taken to Boston where they enjoyed "The Swan Lake Ballet". Miss Lewis received many gifts among them was a very lovely corsage. Those present were Gretchen Witman, Christine Hill of No. Andover, Jane Stewart, Jean Haley, Rosemary Joliffe, Karen Vergados and Cynthia Lewis.

Local Girl Was Surgical Assistant

Miss Lucille A. Sherry R. N., of Andover st., Ballardvale, who is a member of the operating staff at Virginia Mason Hospital, Seattle, Wash., recently assisted at an "open heart" operation. The patient had been afflicted with heart trouble since birth and was operated on with complete success.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherry, she was graduated from Pynchard High School and the Lowell General Hospital School of Nursing. She was formerly employed at Lowell General Hospital and also nursed in Florida before accepting a position in Seattle.

Family Dinner For Mr. Lewis

A family dinner party was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Lewis on Lowell st., in honor of the 65th birthday of Mr. Lewis, which occurred that day.

A Chicken dinner was served and Mr. Lewis received gifts and cards as a remembrance of the occasion. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Warren A. Lewis, Cynthia, Diana and Lisa, Mr. and Mrs. Vito Melnikas of Lawrence and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis.

Personals...

Mrs. Lester Noseworthy and her son, Bruce, of Boston were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart of Virginia rd.

Mrs. B. F. Hatch of Summer st. is spending the winter months with her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hatch of Ft. Worth, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fielding have recently sold their home on Lowell st. and have left for San Diego, Cal., where they will reside for the future.

Ernest Comeau Jr. has just recently returned to his home on Lovejoy rd. after being in New Orleans, La., Nashville, Tenn. and Oronburg, Ky.

Mrs. Jessie Harrison of Fletcher st. spent the weekend with her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Broughton of Southbridge.

MISS RATYNSKI WAS CHAIRMAN

Miss Anne Ratynski has been recently appointed art display and panel discussion chairman of the fourth annual International Emphasis Week at the State University of New York. The week-long program, which has the Soviet Union as its subject, is designed to acquaint students with the history, government, and culture of other nations.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ratynski of Barrington dr. and is a sophomore in the Division Art Education.

REBUKES GROUP FOR POSITION

(Continued from Page One) microphone to comment that this question differed from the police raise, which also drew the fire of the Association because home rule would be lost. "Perhaps we can secede from the state," he suggested - drawing scattered applause and laughter. Agreeing that some might like to do this, he also pointed out that there are advantages to being a part of the state government. "Actually many of them are decent citizens like ourselves", he commented, "and they're trying to accomplish something". "I have a lot of respect for the Taxpayer's Association", he continued, "but as a member I was not consulted on this. I'm a member and this board is elected for judging expenditures. I question whether they are exceeding their authority in coming in here on this article. I'm quite sure the Taxpayer's Association didn't do this". The amendment was promptly voted down and the article, establishing the commission, approved on voice vote. It was also pointed out during the discussion that almost every function of local government exists because there has been permissive legislation to establish it. And it was also suggested by one speaker that the Association itself used this device in order to get the town manager question, which it sponsored, onto the local ballot.

CONVENTION PLAN GETS NOWHERE
(Continued from Page One) Springing to Neumark's defense was one resident, who commented that it was the voters' own fault if they had left before the meeting ended. However, Monan again queried the moderator, who ruled that a quorum did not exist and no further action could be taken. Mr. Neumark commented that he had done his part - it was the others, who left prior to the close of the meeting, who created the situation. Many voters privately expressed sympathy with his patience and disappointment at being cut off from a vote. There were about 100 persons in the Auditorium at the time.

The Newcomers Club has been in existence for 10 years, and to celebrate this event a Tenth Anniversary dinner will be held Saturday evening, April 30, at the Andover High School cafeteria on Shawsheen Road. Plans are underway for a gala party for husbands, wives, alumni and guests. Since reservations must be limited to 300, the committee urges that tickets be obtained as soon as possible. Mrs. Allyn B. Stillman of Gould rd. is chairman of the Ticket Committee. Advance reports indicate that many former members of the Club will be present, several of whom are now living in other sections of the country. It is hoped that anyone who has ever been a member of this group will plan to attend.

WHAT EVERYONE SHOULD KNOW - What affect does phosphorus have on the teeth in rats? The answer to that question is being determined by Peter Lichtenberger, whose exhibit appears in the High School Science Fair tonight at the School. Over 250 projects are exhibited at the Fair, to which the public is invited tonight. (Scott)

Don Coyote Is Bringing Show

"Craze Day in Wonderland", the 1960 touring stage show of the Don Coyote Children's Theatre of Boston, will be presented at Memorial Auditorium Wednesday, April 6, under the sponsorship of the South School PTA. The program will start at 3:30 p.m. Don Coyote himself will M.C. the show. Among the other stars on the program are Esakawata, the Indian corn-dancer; Roland Rock, the 12-foot, tall "friendly giant" puppet; Herbert Herbert, the children's favorite clown; and Pimpinello, the folk singer. As always, there will be lots of prizes and audience participation in games and an old-fashioned pie-eating contest. Roland Rock will choose a child from the audience to dance the Cha-Cha with him. There will be a full length puppet play. Tickets will be on sale at the elementary schools March 22 and 23.

Irish Revue This Weekend

St Augustine's School will sponsor its 45th annual Irish Revue Saturday and Sunday. The familiar event will start at 2:30 both days in Memorial Auditorium of the Junior High School. Grand old Irish songs and dances are featured during the entertainment.

YOUNG ADULTS MEET SUNDAY

The next meeting of the Andover Young Adults will be held this Sunday night, March 20, at 7:30 at the South Church. Following the worship service, headed by Carole Meyer and Steve O'Connor, a program will be presented entitled "European and Asian Escapades". This will consist of slides by John Murray and Ray Barnes.

Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy and son, Kerry, of Pittsfield, Me., formerly of Andover, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. John Foster of Central st. The Murphy family has just returned from a winter vacation at the Isle of Pines, Cuba.

Woman Treated At Fire Scene

A North Main st. woman was given emergency treatment early last Saturday morning by firefighters, who responded to an emergency call from a neighbor. Mrs. Margaret Wood, 131 North Main st., was partially overcome by smoke from a burning living room chair. A neighbor, Miss Dorothy Finno awoke about 5:15 a.m. to the smell of smoke. Investigating, she found Mrs. Wood's apartment filled with smoke. Deputy Chief John Cole, who led the firefighting crew, sent for an inhalator while the men extinguished the fire. Mrs. Wood was treated at the scene and refused hospitalization. Deputy Cole listed the probable cause of the fire as careless disposal of lighted smoking material.
