THE CHASE WAS OVER - When the car at left slammed into the one pictured at the right, a long chase by police of three communities ended abruptly. Hurley E. Cawley, 6 Norfolk ter., Dorchester, was said by police to have been driving the car at left, which they allege was being used without authority. The vehicle at right, owned by Harold F. Baker, 84 High st., was parked in front of that address when it was struck. Police chased the fleeing vehicle from Reading, through North Reading and into High st. where the collision put an end to the chase. (Leone)

Must Lay Out Unaccepted Sts.

Proper layout, adequate description and formal town meeting action are required before many old town streets can be accepted. Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien has informed the Selectmen that specific procedures must be followed in accepting streets - even many which have been in use for years - regardless of a special act of the Legislature in 1956. That act, although widely credited at the time with solving the unaccepted street problem, did nothing but validate the acceptance of streets that had been handled improperly, and not in conformance with the statutes between 1930 and 1954. None of the streets on a list containing 73 names have ever been presented to a town meeting, and do not fall within the category established by the special act. At the time the Legislature acted, there was much official discussion about which streets would be accepted under its provisions. Many old, familiar names remain on the list today, still unaccepted and still the subject of some heated comments. One of the demanding problems, that faces the town now has been accented by the Planning Board, which casts some doubt on its legal ability to approve house lots on unaccepted streets which are not generally thought of as sub-divisions. There may well be a requirement in the law that would bring these streets under the control of the sub-division control act, instead of treating each lot along the street individually. Atty. O'Brien spelled out the (Continued on Page 16)

Hold Driver For Grand Jury

A spectacular three-community chase wound up on High st. last Saturday night, when the fleeing driver, crashed into a parked car and was arrested by local officers. Hurley E. Cawley, 6 Norfolk ter., Dorchester, appeared in Woburn District Court Monday morning and was held for grand jury action. Andover policemen Warren Maddox, Henry Gialmo and Arthur Manock took the defendant into custody, after the car he was driving, allegedly hit the parked car of Harold F. Baker, 84 High st. He was charged with operating a vehicle without a license, operating without authority and drunkenness. (Continued on Page 13)

Board OK'd Permit, But Insists "Cooperation Is Two-Way Street"

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff reported to the Selectmen Monday night that Sidney P. White is in the process of completing work at his dairy bar and plant on Andover st. Several construction jobs were reported as incomplete to the manager, by Water and Sewer Dept. Supt. Donald Bassett. Duff said the jobs had been partially done now, and he felt certain that Mr. White would continue to have construction work done until the area is completed. The Selectmen indicated that they wished to cooperate with Mr. White, but that he should also be cooperative with them in completing his project. Chairman Eugene A. Bernardin Jr. pointed out that the Board had given evidence of its desire to cooperate by holding a special meeting Tuesday, July 5, to issue a (Continued on Page 18)

Doherty Resigns Clerk's Position

The School Committee appears slated to choose a new secretary at its meeting July 19 - following Secretary William A. Doherty's announced intention to relinquish the duties. Mr. Doherty has, on several occasions, been critical of Board members when they wanted to change the wording of minutes. And when Chairman Milton J. Meyers and Member John S. Sullivan wanted to correct one line in the minutes, Doherty said he would not keep the post. The explosive situation developed at a special meeting July 8. At question was one line in the (Continued on Page 18)

All-Star Team Is Selected

Fourteen Little Leaguers have been chosen for the All-Star team, which will enter the annual championship series. Although the date of the first game has not yet been announced, Manager Jim Brennan has called the team out for its first practice this morning at 9:30, at the Playstead. League officials have announced the following roster: From the Andover champs, the Yankees, they selected Tom Marjerson, Jim Brennan and Chris Gurry. The Cardinals are sending Joe Morrissey, Richard Cignoni and John Clift. From the Braves are John Parisi, Ken Bretts and Art Ricci. (Continued on Page 12)

Seeks Nomination In 5th District
 Thomas F. Duffy Jr. of Dracut has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Representative from the Fifth Congressional District. Duffy has secured the necessary 500 signatures and has filed his nomination papers with the Sec. of State. Duffy is an Army veteran with service during the Korean conflict and is prominent in the affairs of the Dracut Legion Post. He is a former secretary and still a member of the town Democratic committee and was a delegate to the state pre-primary convention in 1954. He organized and served as first president of the Greater-Lowell Suburban High School Debating League. Duffy plans to focus his campaign on two principal issues: Federal aid to education - including parochial schools, and an equitable distribution of the agricultural surplus - particularly to the consumer. Duffy holds a bachelor's and master's degrees from Boston University and has done additional study at St. Anselm's College in Manchester, N. H., and St. Mary's University in Baltimore, Md. He

THOMAS F. DUFFY JR. has taught in the public schools of Bedford, N. H., a private school in Maine, and in the Armed Forces school in Frankfurt, Germany. He presently teaches at Dracut High.

Newill Promoted At Western Electric

Western Electric Co. has announced the promotion of Lester T. Newill of Andover to department chief, carrier repeater and microwave equipment, at the Merrimack Valley Works. Mr. Newill began his Western Electric Company career in October, 1951 as an assistant engineer in the crystal unit manufacturing department of the engineer of manufacture organization at the Kearny, N. J., Works. In October, 1953 he became an engineer in that department. In August 1956 he was transferred to the Merrimack Valley Works as a planning engineer on TH and TJ microwave. He was assigned as engineer on crystal unit manufacturing at the Merrimack Valley Works in April, 1958. In February 1959 he was named a planning engineer and in November 1959 he became a senior engineer in the quartz cutting and crystal unit engineering department of the engineer of manufacture organization. He is a graduate of Newark College of Engineering and holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Electrical Engineering. Mr. Newill is married to the former Vivian R. Dubois. The couple and their two children, Nancy, nine and Richard R., five, reside at 17 Lockway rd.

Mrs. William Henderson of Andover st. and Mrs. Russell Whirter of Barrington, R. I. have returned after spending a three weeks' vacation in Ontario.

Upright Tail, Stamping Feet Sure Sign Of Skunk Anger

Meeting a skunk in the wilderness is usually no problem. All that he asks is that you mind your business and he'll mind his.
It's when he starts trespassing on your property that the trouble begins. And it's small consolation, when he raids your outdoor garbage can or digs up your carefully nurtured lawn or garden, to have the naturalists tell you that all he's doing is looking for food to keep alive!

How to get rid of this pretty little animal without having it turn its powerful and odious hidden weapon upon you is a question often being put to Boston's Museum of Science at this time of year.

First of all, says the Museum's Education Associate David B. Bonney, avoid frightening or angering it.

When a skunk raises its tail bolt upright, and starts stamping its feet - watch out! You're due for a dousing of foul-smelling musk.

If you didn't duck in time, wash your exposed skin thoroughly with ammonia, then with soap and water. Flush your eyes continually with water. Wash your clothing outdoors, with gasoline or ammonia, then with soap and water.

Furry pets that have met up with a skunk can be washed with milk or tomato juice. Leave the solution on a while, then wash off with soap and water.

If a skunk has made a den under your porch, garage or other out-buildings, try tossing in several cupsful of moth crystals (paradichlorobenzene). As they dissipate, their heavier-than-air gas will concentrate in the confined area, and the overwhelming odor may eventually drive the animal out.

Don't use moth balls or aerosol sprays. One dissipates too slowly, the other too fast for this purpose.
Or, you might try maneuvering a box, punched with airholes, towards the skunk. Chances are this nocturnal animal will turn to the darkened interior as a means of escape. Don't coax, but let the skunk run into the box on its own. Quickly fasten the lid. Then take the box out into the country and set the skunk free.

If you prefer a regular trapping device you can probably borrow or rent from your local humane society a live-animal trap that won't hurt the skunk.

To keep your garbage pail out of the skunk's reach, anchor both it and its lid with a chain or strap of metal. Better still, try to get it completely off the ground by suspending it from a long pipe.

A sunken can is generally safe from skunks, but for good measure, you might place a heavy rock on the lid. Even so, skunks have been known to push open the cover and fall inside. When this happens put a board at an angle in the open can and leave the skunk alone to find its own way out.

As a fanciful aside, it might interest you to know that the malodorous skunk in your garden and the odorous perfume in your boudoir may have more in common than you'd suspect.

That, the Museum's Bonney explains, is because the fluid secreted in the skunk's musk glands was once used by some perfume manufacturers as a fixative for their products. Now often replaced by synthetics, it was the musk that caused the aroma - like the melody - to linger on.

Col. Heifetz Retires After 28 Years

LT. COL. ARTHUR HEIFETZ

Lt. Col. Arthur Heifetz, MAC, USAR, has retired from the Reserve, following 28 years of service.

Col. Heifetz, whose military duty includes active service in Europe during World War II, resides at 59 Bartlett st. and is manager of the Andover Finance Co.

At his retirement, he was executive officer of the 331st General Hospital in the Army Reserve, and is a past president of that hospital's Reserve Officers' Association. He had been a member of this unit since its activation.

During World War Two, Col. Heifetz served as medical inspector of the Harbor Defenses in Boston, hospital inspector of Ashburn General Hospital in Texas, Division which participated in the Battle of the Bulge, Rhineland campaign and the Saar campaign. He was on the staff of Corps at the end of the war, and served as inspector of prisoners of war and displaced persons camps. He was awarded the Bronze Star by the commanding general of the 87th Division and wears the European campaign ribbon, with three battle stars.

TOWNSMAN CLASSIFIED ADS BRING RESULTS

LITTLE LEAGUE

The Yankees are the official Little League Champions of 1960. Winners of the first half, the Yanks outdistanced the other teams to a second half win that means the championship.

The second half record shows the Yanks with 8-2, White Sox 7-3 in second place; Braves, 5-5; Giants, 5-5; Red Sox, 3-7; and Cards, 2-8.

Of the 12 top hitters in the League, the Yanks claim only three. They are Tommy Marjerison, .544; Jim Brennan, .468; and Chris Gurry, .436.

Gerry Petrie of the Giants took top batting honors, with an impressive .574 average. Other top hitters were Bill Clift, Red Sox, .538; Art Ricci, Braves, .478; Bus Deyermund, Giants, .437; Kenny Bretts, Braves, .426; John Clift, Cards, .393; Bill Monroe, White Sox, .375; Colin Sherry, Giants, .362; and John Parisi, Braves, .344.

Manager of the season champs is Jim Brennan, who will take over managing the all-star team.

Rev. Sargent At
W. Parish Church

The Rev. John Henry Sargent, interim pastor of the West Parish Church from September of last year until March of 1960, will be in charge of the church service at 9:30 a.m. this Sunday.

His sermon subject will be, "What Disturbs You?"

Mr. Sargent, a resident of Lowell since his retirement last summer after a long and distinguished career in the Congregational Christian ministry, had his last regular pastorate in Orient, Long Island, N. Y. He was ordained in 1916 and his previous pastorates were in Hinsdale, N. H.; Lowell; St. Johnsbury, Vt. and Brooklyn, N. Y., where he was also president of the New York City Clergy Club. He is the author of five books of "Parables for Young Folks", and is working on a sixth. A son, Robert A. Sargent, is pastor of the Federated Church in South Berwick, Me.

Mrs. Priscilla Watson, contralto, will be the vocal soloist. Mrs. Richard K. Snyder of New York City and Wenham is the summer organist.

The Summer Kinderkirk is open at the church hour throughout the summer, to provide care for pre-school children while their parents attend the worship services. Children of school age are urged to attend the services with their families.

The pastor of West Parish, the Rev. Howard A. Andrews, will be spending the first two weeks of his vacation participating in the annual unit training of the 331st General Hospital, of Lawrence Army Base, United States Army Reserve, at Valley Forge Army Hospital, Phoenixville, Pa. Mr. Andrews, a lieutenant colonel in the Chaplain Corps, is the senior chaplain of the local unit.

Birds Are Faithful To Site, But, Alas, Not To Mate

Is a bird faithful to his mate or to his nesting site? Do some birds migrate while others of the same species tend to remain sedentary? Bird banders, under the direction of Edwin Mason, Director of the Massachusetts Audubon Society's Arcadia Wildlife Sanctuary in Northampton, and president of the Northeastern Bird Banding Association, hope to come up with some answers to these and other questions.

Investigations into various problems which affect birds and their relations to all forms of life have been carried on at the Arcadia Sanctuary ever since it became a part of the Massachusetts Audubon Society some 15 years ago. Many of these problems have been studied by banding birds under license from the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service.

The travels of birds from the Arcadia banding station are under close scrutiny; the most important records made over the years are plotted on a map.

These show that birds from Hampshire and Franklin Counties migrate as far south as Georgia, and as far north as New Brunswick and Quebec in Canada. The map is on permanent display in the Natural Science Workshop at the Sanctuary.

Banding birds with numbered aluminum bands is an ancient method of studying birds, and is carried on all over the world. In the past it has served as a protective device too, since many ornithologists formerly shot birds in order to study their skins, plumage and physiology.

Banding, or "ringing," is indispensable in obtaining an accurate picture of the life history of any one species. Such information as distances traveled by individuals, size of a bird's territory, faithfulness to a territory, relations with a mate and neighbors over several seasons, individual growth and other vital statistics can be acquired.

Most countries have their own "schemes," as banding is called in Europe. In North America, Canada and Mexico use the same bands as the United States, and a central file of all banded birds is maintained at the Patuxent Research Refuge in Laurel, Md. These numbered leg bands are not to be confused with the initialed bands found on pigeons, which are issued by various clubs.

Banding is carried on at most of the Massachusetts Audubon Society's major sanctuaries. At the Wellfleet Bay Wildlife Sanctuary on Cape Cod over one-half million Terns have been banded. Banding is popular throughout the country, and in Massachusetts alone, there are some 70 licensed banders.

Arcadia Sanctuary is always interested to receive reports of wild birds found with bands on their legs. A correct reading of the number on the band will result in positive identification of the bird, and will make it possible to trace where it was banded.

And incidentally, banding records have proved that a bird is prone to be faithful to his nesting site not his mate.

MR. AND MRS. EVERETT L. BELISLE JR. (Wink)

BELISLE - BARRON
 Sunday, June 26, Miss Shirley Mae Barron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Barron, 430 Lowell st., became the bride of Everett L. Belisle Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett L. Belisle, 47 Brown st., in St. Augustine's Church at a 3 o'clock ceremony, performed by Very Rev. Henry B. Smith, O.S.A.

The family pews were trimmed with wedding crooks and smilax and baskets of smilax, white gladioli and poms were also placed in a pretty arrangement.

The soloist, Daniel Fisconi of Lowell, sang "Panis Angelicus"; "On This Day" and Abt's, "Ave Maria".

The bride was escorted to the altar adorned with white gladioli, stocks, mums and baby's breath, by her father. She wore a floor length gown of nylon lace, scoop neckline embroidered with pearls fitted bodice, full bouffant skirt which fell into a full circular chapel train. Her imported French illusion veil accented with appliques of lace was attached to a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a cascade of "sterling silver" roses, staphanotis and white and blue orchid center.

Miss Edyth Belisle, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of frosted white organza with an orchid print design, styled with a scoop neckline and cape sleeves. Her full bouffant skirt was accented with an orchid taffeta band with a large bow circling the skirt just above the hemline. She wore an orchid tulle cap, trimmed with pearls and matching nose veil and white wrist-length gloves.

The bridesmaids were Miss Sandra Belisle, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Nancy Norton, both of Andover, and Miss Gail St. Clair of Center Ossipee, N. H. All wore gowns identical to the maid of honor's with matching accessories and all carried wedding hoop arrangements of "sterling silver" roses, baby's breath, nylon pleated in fan shape with orchid ribbon. Miss Jean Anderson, niece of the bridegroom, was the junior bridesmaid and she wore a floor length gown of orchid organza with small clusters of flowers at the neckline and on the skirt. She carried a miniature sized wedding hoop floral arrangement similar to those of the bridesmaids and maid of honor.

Richard Elliott of Wilmington performed the best man's duties and Daniel McLaughlin of Tewksbury, John Blackington and Robert Blackington, cousins of the bride, of Lawrence, were the ushers.

The bride's mother wore a sheath styled dress of pale blue, pure silk; light blue hat with white accessories. Her costume was accented with a white orchid corsage trimmed with gold ribbon.

The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of rose pure silk of sheath styling, flowered hat, rose toned shoes, white accessories with a white orchid corsage with a white applique ribbon bow.

The reception was held at the Hillview Country Club. Guests were present from Rhode Island, Florida, New Hampshire and various parts of Massachusetts.

Following a wedding trip to Maine, Canada and Nova Scotia, the couple will make their home at 125 Bellevue rd.

The bride is a graduate of Puncard High School with the class of 1954 and Plymouth Teachers College in 1959. She is presently teaching in Salem, N. H., where she takes an active interest in dramatics.

The bridegroom attended the An-

Tips On Storm Safety Offered

The season for hurricanes is at hand.

Adequate warning of their approach is usually given so that precautions can be taken to prevent injuries and damage, the Na-

LAWN MOWING

William T. Mosher

34 Center Street

Ballardvale

GR 5-1995

LAWNS FERTILIZED

tional Board of Fire Underwriters said.

The Board said measures which minimize hurricane damage are equally valuable in other windstorms of lesser but none-the-less destructive magnitude. It issued the following precautions as safeguards to life and property in areas where storms threaten:

Before a storm tune to radio and television broadcasts of latest weather bureau information. In case of power failure, a battery-powered radio will come in handy.

Go inland. Get away from beaches and the low waterfront which may be swept by storm waves. Hurricanes bring abnormally high tides, high waves.

If your passage to safety is over a road likely to be under water, leave early. Otherwise you may be trapped by high winds and rising waters preceding the arrival of the storm center by several hours. Travel at the height of the storm is exceedingly dangerous.

If your house is out of danger of waves and is substantially built - anchored to strong foundations and with its roof securely fastened - it's possibly the best place for you to stay.

Put loose material and movable objects such as garbage cans and porch furniture where they cannot be blown against the building or through a window. Movable awnings should be raised and securely tied or removed entirely.

Keep trees pruned away from your home. Dead branches, overhanging branches, and those which may sway against windows or roof are the most likely to cause damage.

In seriously threatened areas board up windows or put storm shutters in place, at least on the sides exposed to the most violent winds. Shutters should be securely fastened several hours in advance of the expected arrival of the storm. They are difficult to handle in a high wind.

Use good lumber and attach it firmly to the building. Makeshift boarding or insecure shutters often blow loose, do more damage than none at all.

Garage doors and others having large exposed areas must be secured particularly well.

Sterilize and fill jugs, bottles or cooking utensils with fresh water. The water supply may fall. A tub filled with water may be useful, too.

One or more windows can be kept open on the lee side - the side opposite from which the wind is coming - to provide some ventilation and, under certain conditions, to prevent wind damage.

If wind or flying objects make an opening on the windward side of the building, wind pressure will build up within the building. Having an opening on the lee side will allow this pressure to escape, minimizing the interior forces tending to lift the roof or push out the walls.

Only small openings are advisable as long as the windward side remains intact. But as soon as windows are broken additional openings should be provided on the lee side to help equalize the pressure.

Have a flashlight in good working condition readily available. Be careful of fire. If oil lamps or candles must be used for emergency lighting, use them carefully. In an emergency a bucket of sand can be used to absorb spilled fuel or to smother a small oil fire. Better still would be a fire extinguisher of a type approved for use on flammable liquids. Be sure it is in good condition and you know how to use it.

Have extra food on hand, food that can be eaten with little or no cooking. Remember electric power failure may leave you without refrigeration.

Emergency cooking facilities should be in safe working condition. Be particularly careful with appliances in questionable condition because of long disuse. They may cause a fire.

After a storm, don't hinder first aid and rescue work. Unless qualified to render valuable emergency assistance, stay away from disaster areas.

If you must drive immediately after a storm, drive carefully. Watch for fallen wires and tree branches. In coastal areas or near swollen streams, beware of washouts and undermined pavement.

Don't touch dangling or loose power lines or electric wires. In a storm the live power lines may become entangled with metal fences, telephone and other wires. Contact, in some cases, would be fatal.

Even after water service is restored, it may be wise to boil or sterilize drinking water until otherwise advised by your local health department.

Be careful of fire at all times. Damaged communications may result in a delayed fire alarm; debris-obstructed streets can slow response of fire apparatus and low water pressure can make fire fighting difficult.

Office Locally

DR. JAMES W. SKILLINGS

Dr. James W. Skillings has announced the opening of an office for the general practice of dentistry in the Colonial Center, 166 North Main st.

Dr. Skillings received his Bachelor of Arts Degree, majoring in bacteriology, from the University of New Hampshire, where he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

He obtained his Doctor of Dental Surgery Degree from McGill University in Montreal, Canada, where he received the International College of Dentists award.

He served as a first lieutenant in the Air Force in the Far East.

Dr. Skillings is married to the former Mette K. Sundorph of Copenhagen, Denmark, who recently resigned as a foreign service officer of the Consulate General to Canada, in Montreal.

Dr. Skillings is the son of Principal and Mrs. Carleton D. Skillings of Amesbury. The couple will make their home in Andover.

Ania Dorfmann
At Castle Hill

The featured artist at this weekend's Castle Hill concert in Ipswich will be the internationally known "poetess of the piano", Ania Dorfmann.

The concert, third in a summer series sponsored by the Castle Hill Foundation, a non-profit organization, will be held in the magnificent Italian Garden at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday nights. The concerts are now in their 10th anniversary season.

Miss Dorfmann is one of the foremost women pianists, a superb musician capable of providing rich, ringing tones. She is known as a pianist with leanings toward the composers of romantic music and has mastered the compositions of Schumann, Mendelssohn, Beethoven and Mozart. She has been a featured soloist in many of the world's great concert halls and with many of the world's prominent symphonies.

James Holt Jr. of High st. spent the holiday weekend in Rhode Island.

15 Completed First Aid Course

Standard first aid certificates were sent last week to 15 residents who have successfully completed the Red Cross course under the direction of Stanley Leadbitter.
 James D. Doherty, first aid chairman, was pleased to report that this class, which started as a neighborhood project, grew to twice the expected number, and the enthusiasm of the members has led to the scheduling of an advanced first aid course in the early fall. This will be open to all who have passed the standard course. The chapter house on Punchard ave. will answer any questions by possible candidates.

Those who have received their certificates are David Shanteler, Iris Bronson, Ruth McQuade, Ardis Ward, Mrs. Kenneth Brown, George Ward, Martha Teloh, Ray Lamontagne, Jackie Lamontagne, Faith M. Herbert, Joan Baldwin, Florence Read, Betty Packard, Dorothy Workman and Henry Teloh.

Now Reside In Carleton House

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Gilcreast, long prominent in Lexington and more recently residents of Andover, have entered the Elizabeth Carleton House in Boston. Formerly known as the Home for Aged Couples, the House is widely known as an outstanding residence for men and women of retirement age.

Mr. Gilcreast was a selectman of the Town of Lexington and also president of the Hancock Church Men's Club. Mrs. Gilcreast, a member of the D.A.R., was active in affairs of the South Church and the Outlook Club here. The couple lived for many years on Bloomfield and Waltham sts., Lexington.

Prior to their entrance to the Elizabeth Carleton House, Mr. and Mrs. Gilcreast lived for 12 years in Andover, where Mr. Gilcreast served as assistant town treasurer. Their son, Cleveland Gilcreast, a resident of Andover, is an executive of H. P. Hood & Sons. A second son, Alden, is working with the State Department in Laos. A daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Munroe, lives in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Property owned by Mrs. Eva F. Tucker of Andover is to go to her two daughters, according to her will, filed in the registry of probate. No value was placed on the estate.

Mrs. Tucker said in the will, made March 21, 1953, that her daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth T. Dize of Middleville, N. Y., and Miss Eleanor M. Tucker, 137 Main st., are to share her jewelry and clothing. The rest of the estate was left for her husband, Atherton H. Tucker, with the condition that should he pre-decease her, his share would be divided between the daughters. The probate petition said that Mr. Tucker is not living. Miss Tucker was nominated as the executrix.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Wobbly Wheels

A recent letter-to-the-editor on this page suggested that motorists be given the right to take bicycles away from youngsters and deliver them at the police station, when the children are abusing the privilege of using the roads.

This idea has certain legal ramifications of course, and seems to be impractical.

But certainly there must be some way to control the bicyclists who abuse their right to be on the streets of the community.

Hardly a day goes by that one can not witness at least one violation of every bicycle safety rule there is. All one needs to do is drive slowly through some of the residential, and even the main, areas of town and observe the peculiar maneuverings of bicycles with their sudden and unsignalled changes in direction, stops and wiggling of wheels.

Two, occasionally even three, youngsters will wobble along the road on one bike. Or several bikes will be ganged up on the road, as their youthful riders race, play, even dare automobiles to come too close. And of course others, even younger, will be seen trying out their new bikes on well-travelled streets.

Bicycles - a boon to youngsters - are a menace on the streets when not carefully ridden. Yet we see signs that indicate how little respect many riders have for the normal, routine precautions they should be taking.

Let no one misunderstand. We're not opposed to the combination of bicycles and children. We do object strenuously to letting them have the freedom of the highways, unless they will assume the responsibility of riding properly, and observing normal safety precautions. This after all, is an effort to save the children's lives. And although it is a parental problem, it concerns all of us.

We Agree, Mr. Doherty

Ordinarily procedural matters, such as how minutes of meetings are handled, are trivial items undeserving of public attention.

But suddenly the School Committee minutes have burst into the limelight - with long-time secretary William A. Doherty refusing to continue in that job because changes are too frequently proposed.

Granted, no secretary of any organization likes to have changes and corrections made in the minutes with any frequency. It implies a lack of faith in the secretary.

But more important, when public boards and agencies are involved, is the excuse this offers to make changes in the meaning of the action previously taken.

This may not be the intent of the suggestions at all, but Doherty seems to have a point when he suggests that frequent changes will give this impression.

The purpose of taking minutes, after all, is to create a permanent record of the actions taken at a meeting. If corrective steps must be taken, is it not better to rescind former action and vote again, instead of changing words in the minutes to "clarify" them?

We are not suggesting that there are any ulterior motives, or that any effort is being made to radically alter previous action through amendments to the minutes. But this unfortunate impression has been created by the debate that took place at the School Committee meeting last week and at meetings over the past few months.

Unless there is some obvious omission, or correction, there should be no changes or amendments of permanent records. On that point we agree with Mr. Doherty.

The Right Lane's Safe

Route 93 seems to have performed one of the major functions for which it was designed - traffic is noticeably lighter along Route 28.

While our neighbors to the north have inherited many problems as traffic dumps out onto town streets, we have been seeing the first indications that the thru-way will, indeed, lighten the intolerable traffic burden resulting from every vehicle pouring through town along Main st.

Even as this blessing is being counted, those who use the new highway have seen evidence that plenty of other problems will be created. Most will result from excessive speed.

Legal advertisements have proclaimed the speed limit as 60 miles an hour.

Yet those motorists driving between 50-60 on Route 93 are well advised to stay in the far right lane, as cars, trucks and buses swish by at much greater speeds. To be sure, the road is patrolled by state and local police. But these patrol cars can not be on the highway all the time, certainly not enough to really slow down the drivers who persist in using it as a raceway.

Down the Years with The Townsman

30 Years Ago - July, 1910

Fred Smith's in the Scotland District was broken into Thursday night and a lot of carpenter tools were taken.

An alarm of fire was rung in at Box 65 shortly before noon yesterday, summoning the fire department to Frye Village to the woods in the rear of the old Smith estate. Here a brisk fire had gotten underway to such an extent that a second alarm was rung in. The fire was soon controlled, however.

The past few days of hot weather have been used to good advantage by the farmers - a fact evidenced by the passing of many big loads of hay through the Square this week.

In an "editorial cinder", this week's Townsman again takes the town fathers to task for the dusty condition of the streets. The editorial notes that other towns are using oil, tarvia and other mixtures to keep down the dust, and wonders why Andover doesn't do something. The editorial also asks why the big iron rake can't be used to get some of the stones off the rural streets, where they now exist in profusion.

25 Years Ago - July, 1935

Henry S. Hopper was elected chairman of the departmental investigating committee, at its first meeting Tuesday night. Harold T. Houston will be secretary. The Committee is supposed to look into the operation of all departments of the town, to see where further economies can be effected. Other members are W. R. Hill, Stafford Lindsay and Eldon Stack.

Workmen started at 5 o'clock this morning to tear down the big sign on the Mall in Shawsheen Square. Representatives of the Andover-Shawsheen Realty Co. and the Selectmen finally discussed the subject Monday night, and agreed to the removal of the billboard.

The steam turbine pump, voted a year ago in March, doesn't yet work. The pump is again at the manufacturer's, in an attempt to find out why it doesn't perform satisfactorily.

The annual baby popularity contest is to be held tonight at the summer playground. William Crowley will be in charge. This is always one of the most popular events of the year, and draws a large crowd.

10 Years Ago - July, 1950

The possibility that local Draft Board 3 will re-open has been mentioned, following a statement by state officials that draft boards in the state are far behind in their classification work. The Board served this area during and immediately after the war.

A swimming carnival, of competitive form, is being arranged for Pump's Pond Sunday, July 30.

The air raid warning system is now on a stand-by basis, following reorganization and reactivation of the system. Former volunteers have agreed to again man the tower if needed, and others are sought to fill out the rolls.

Trial Justice Richard K. Gordon imposed fines on five persons charged with traffic violations, during court Saturday morning.

Court St. Monica, Catholic Daughters of America, will hold a lawn party Saturday at the home of Mrs. Daniel Sullivan, 24 Maple ave.

Many pupils had perfect attendance records in the public schools this year. The best record was compiled by students in the first year of the Junior High.

Coming Events

JULY
16 Library closed on Saturdays in the summer.
20 Story hour for boys and girls at 10:30 a.m.

Summer Hours

The main reading room is open Monday through Friday, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. The Children's Room is open on those days from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Both rooms are closed Saturday and Sunday.

The Ballardvale branch library will be open as usual - Mondays and Thursdays, 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Summer Sampler

Each month during the school season the Memorial Hall Library prepares a list of new books, called the "New Book Sampler." During the summer, there is one complete sampler made, which lists all books added during the first half of the year which may have been left out. The summer list is now ready at the library.

Vacation Reading

Not all summer reading is of the light, breezy, hot-weather variety; some solid material is passed over the desk each day on the extended loan, which gives the reader until Sept. 15 before he must return his books. The long loan applies to any book which the library has owned for a year or more which is not in special demand. There is no limit to the number which may be borrowed by an adult card holder; boys and girls may take six at a time. If parents are willing, children may take a greater number, but the library must have the parents' approval.

Staff On Vacation

Mrs. Ethel Wilson, Mrs. Pauline Downes and Miss Margaret Lane of the library staff are enjoying their annual vacation.

Notable Books

Among the books selected by the Notable Books Council as the outstanding publications last year, the following are suggested for special attention: "The Waist-High Culture" by Thomas Griffith - an evaluation of modern American life with its emphasis on conformity and mediocrity; "Elizabeth The Great" by Elizabeth Jenkins, an intimate portrait of Elizabeth I of England; "Portraits Of Greatness" by Yousuf Karsh - outstanding photographs with perceptive comments on the subjects; "Natural History Of New York City" by Joan Kieran - a fascinating book based on 50 years of study and enjoyment of urban wild life; "The Armada" by Garrett Mattingly - the events that led to the defeat of the supposedly invincible fleet; "Adventurous Alliance" by Louise H. Tharp - the Agassiz family of Boston, presented with skill and insight; "The Harmless People" by Elizabeth Thomas, a thriller that brings the bushmen of the Kalahari Desert to vivid reality; for the fiction reader, Peter Ustinov's "Add A Dash Of Pity", a collection of short stories with a distinctive flair.

The library has copies of the "Notable Books" lists which readers may have on request.

Bookworm Readers

As in the past, the young people of Andover are showing great interest in the summer "Bookworm Reading Club". Two hundred and fifty children have signed the reading roll to become club members; after reading three books each child is presented with a club pin, and a small record book in which to list the books he will read during the summer.

Donald A. MacNeil, 6 Poor st., add store, $2,500; Joseph F. Guerreria, 28 Cuba st., exterior and interior alterations, $600; Robert D. Weymouth, 51 Center st., raze garage and add shed, $75; Raymond C. Eichner, 17 Lincoln st., add family room, $2,000; Mrs. Frederick E. Warr, 62 Chestnut st., raze porch and alterations, $1,000; Robert Piercey, 41 Gould rd., add bedrooms and breezeway, $2,800.

Other permits issued during June: William J. Webb, 65 Woburn st., raze two hen houses and shelter; Joseph S. Cyr, River rd., raze camp and outbuildings; Jerome D. Dube, 3 McKenney cir., renewal of building permit; Edmond Burke, Boutwell rd., building permit renewal.

Playgrounds Attract Many Boys & Girls

Annual summer activities on the playgrounds continue to generate enthusiasm among the young people, with 1,675 registrations to date.

Weekly special activities are continuing at all grounds, with arts and crafts and other events planned during the week.

Last Thursday, the Ballardvale Playground activity was a baby picture contest, with the following results: prettiest, Jean Murnane, Maureen Frederick and Cynthia Orlando; cutest, Leslie Batchelder, Hartley Crowe and James Gardner; happiest, Billy Fyler, Billy Ferrier and Brenda Jean Nason; saddest, Louise, Garry and Robert Hall won first prize, Betty and Bobby Ferrier, second and Susan Vanasse, third. The gold ribbon award for the most typical baby picture went to Ellen Townsend. Arts and crafts this week at Ballardvale is tissue dolls, and the special event is a talent show Friday at 10:30.

Shawsheen held a talent show last week, with these results: primary group, age 4-8, Paul Nigrelli, Pamela Scherer and Joseph Cox; nine-11, Edith Looney and Cynthia Scannell, first prize, Deborah Flaherty and Rosalba Geanini, second and Paula Nigrelli, third. Greta Gulezian won best of show awards. This week's activity is a baby picture contest, and the arts and crafts is "fly swatters with embroidered doll faces in yarn".

At West Parish, a stuffed animal show was held. Winners were: biggest, Susan Monette, Anne Marie and Jane Lebreck, Caitlin Cofer; most unusual, Kent and Scott Hedrick, Nancy Hedrick, Brian Ganley; prettiest, Lisa Cofer, Donna Devine, Jordy and Peri O'Neil; most animals, John Stewart, Janice Richards, Elinor and Edward McCarthy. The gold ribbon went to Jane Stewart. The event this Friday is a hat show. Arts and crafts are "picture plaques".

Indian Ridge held a pet show, with the following owners taking home prizes for their animals: most unusual, Michael Buss, baby alligator, Gail Buss and Sandra Stone; cutest, Kenneth Erle, Fred Roth and David Connors; largest, Jim and Sally Burke, Linda Salois and Russell Keeler; gold ribbon to Christine Fredette. Youngsters at the grounds will compete in a bubble gum contest today at 11. Arts and crafts are napkin holders and pencil cases from popsicle sticks.

A bike and wagon show was held at Central playground. Prizes were given as follows: best boy's bike, Mark Hall, Gordon Greenhow and Vincent Dolan; gayest girl's bike, Jane Stedman, Marcia Hall, Martha Ross; most original, Gail Thompson, Carol Grant, Mary Campbell. Three sisters claimed prizes for the most patriotic bikes - Beth, Wanda and Trudy Batchelder. Edward Winters and Elizabeth Grant were winners of the gold ribbon for the best all-around entry. A costume show will be held this morning. Arts and crafts for the week are "raffia".

ton, 261 Waverly rd., North Andover, became the bride Sunday of Earl A. Baker, son of Mrs. Earl A. Baker and the late Mr. Baker, 10 Stirling st. The Rev. William A. Long pastor of St. Michael's Church, North Andover, officiated at the 2 o'clock ceremony. Mrs. Alice Fountain, organist, accompanied Mrs. Mariano Scaramella, soloist.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle fashioned with a sabrina neckline accented with sequins and seed pearls, short shirred sleeves and a bouffant skirt paneled with lace and lace appliques. Her double-tiered veil of handrolled silk tulle fell from a coronet headpiece of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a colonial bouquet of Stephanotis and ivy with an orchid center.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Charles T. Gillespie of Maryland, wore a ballerina-length gown of peacock blue, ruffled, silk organza and matching picture hat. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow gladioli florettes and ivy.

The flower girls, Miss Paula Gillespie and Miss Jacqueline Gillespie, daughters of the matron of honor, wore white organdy dresses over pale blue petticoats and coronets of daisies in their hair. Each carried colonial bouquets of daisies and baby's breath. Daniel Gillespie was the ring bearer.

The best man was Charles T. Gillespie and the ushers were Christopher Parker and Warren Carlson.

Is Your Lawn "BROWNING-OUT" This Year? .. and, you don't know WHY?

The professional fungicide for home lawn use

SCUTL is the Scott's mercuric fungicide. Clean, dry, easy-to-use. No mixing. No measuring. Checks damaging fungus diseases like leaf spot, brown patch. Apply regularly with the time-saving Scott's Sprayer.

It might be from the "FUNGUS THAT'S AMONG US"!

What's FUNGUS? It's a plant that does not manufacture its own food and has to live on the life juices of lush growing grass. Fungus spores, from which it produces, are carried in the air. They drop on the grasses and infest and infect the healthy plants; they drain the life from the plant KILLING it! When this happens, your lawn "Brown's-Out".

How can you tell if you have FUNGUS in your lawns? Bring in some freshly cut clippings from the "healthy section" of your lawn and we will diagnose from there!

What can you do about it if you do have it? Very simple! We will prescribe a complete SCOTT LAWN FUNGUS PROGRAM; informing you of the products to use and outlining the steps necessary to control this pest.

Obituaries...

Richard Robert Deveau, 34, 38 Webster rd., died within 10 minutes after arriving at Bon Secours Hospital Friday morning, July 8, Dr. John T. Batal, medical examiner, viewed the body.

Deveau, accompanied by members of his family, arrived at the hospital about 10:33 a.m. Friday. A nurse summoned a doctor and administered oxygen but the young Andover man had passed away.

He was a native of Lawrence and moved to West Andover about five years ago. A World War II veteran, he was employed as a machinist at the Avco Manufacturing Company, Wilmington. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, Andover Council, 1078, and attended St. Augustine's Church.

He is survived by his wife, Jeanette (Mignault) Deveau, a son, Daniel, and a daughter, Suzanne; his parents, Robert J. and Edwina (LeTarte) Deveau; a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Blevins of El Paso, Texas; and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held Tuesday from the Edgar J. Racicot Inc. Funeral Home with a high Mass of requiem at St. Augustine's Church. Burial was in Sacred Heart Cemetery.

GEORGE M. COLLINS
George M. Collins, 68, 33 Florence st., died at his home Sunday July 10, following a long illness.

Born in Andover, he had been superintendent at the Andover Press Limited, having worked there for 49 years. He was a veteran of World War I, serving overseas with the 26th division, attended Christ Episcopal Church, and was a member of St. Matthews Lodge, A.F. & A.M.

He is survived by his wife, Irene F. (Valentine); a son, George M. Jr., of Andover; three brothers, Fred L. Collins and J. Everett Collins, both of Andover, and Gordon McIntosh of Lawrence; two grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held from the Lundgren Funeral Home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in South Church Cemetery.

Master's Degree To Marcia Tangney

Miss Marcia M. Tangney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Tangney, 7 Dartmouth rd., was among the June graduates of Harvard University where she received her Master's Degree in Education.

Miss Tangney was awarded the Harvard scholarship upon her graduation from Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart, Purchase, N. Y. While at Manhattanville, Miss Tangney took part in many of the extra curricular activities and maintained a high scholastic average. She was vice president of the class and served the same office in the Student Council.

A graduate of Punchard High School, Class of 1955, Miss Tangney was president of her class, and valedictorian at graduation exercises.

In addition, she received the Hinchliffe scholarship and was chosen the D.A.R. Good Citizen of the year.

Miss Tangney is presently a Unit leader at the Greater Lawrence Girl Scout camp, Camp Maude Eaton, Pomp's Pond. Her plans for the fall are still tentative.

Police said Reading investigators stopped the vehicle and, as the Reading officers started to get out of their car, the defendant is alleged to have taken off at high speed. North Reading joined the chase at the town line, and officers Hibbard Henderson and David Doten fired at the car in an attempt to stop it. Andover police picked up the chase at the North Reading line.

Police said Cawley swerved into High st. because a car was trying to edge out onto Main st. from Elm as the four speeding vehicles approached the intersection. Rather than hit the car, police explained, Cawley took the corner into High st.

He suffered severe lacerations of the left knee and was treated at Lawrence General Hospital. A companion was also treated for a leg laceration, and was booked for drunkenness, but later released.

The defendant was turned over to the North Reading police.

It was reported that the defendant was driving a vehicle owned by Mario Pasquale, 73 Edward st., Quincy.

LAMPARIELLO - TREMBLAY
Miss Jaynet L. Tremblay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royal R. Tremblay, 23 Winona ave., Haverhill, became the bride of Alexander L. Lampariello Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander L. Lampariello, 44 Clark rd., in St. James Church, Haverhill.

The Rev. James C. Shaughnessy officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Miss Grace M. McCarthy, organist, accompanied Richard Henney, who sang.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza and Alencon lace. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of silk organza trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a missal with a white orchid and Stephanotis.

Miss Suzanne Tremblay was the maid of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of pastel pink silk organza, with a matching picture hat of nylon net trimmed with a satin bow and streamers. She carried a colonial bouquet.

Bridesmaids were Miss Genevieve Lampariello, Miss Suzanne Comeau, Mrs. Carol Doucette and Mrs. Regina McConihe. They wore costumes similar to that of the maid of honor in orchid silk organza. All gowns were fashioned with draped bodices with scooped necklines, short sleeves and crushed taffeta cummerbunds. The skirts were bouffant. They all carried colonial bouquets.

Maurice Bresnahan Jr. was the best man. Ushers were James Carifio, Jack Hargreaves, Donald White and David Chareth.

A reception was held at Elks hall, Haverhill. The couple will reside at 143 Groveland st., Haverhill.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Haverhill High School and he attended Lowell Technological Institute.

MRS. WALLACE E. RUNDGE (Look)

RUNDGE - BRUCATO

Miss Thomasine E. Brucato, 30 North Main st., and Wallace E. Rundge of Foster's Pond rd. exchanged marriage vows at a pretty 2 o'clock ceremony in the Free Christian Church June 26.

Diane Rundge was maid of honor, and Mary Walsh and Barbara Curran were bridesmaids. DeeDee Brucato was the flower girl and Lawrence Brucato was ring bearer. Robert Rundge served as best man, with Frank Alferi and Peter Brucato as ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Andover Country Club.

The couple travelled through New York State and to Montreal on a wedding trip. Their new home is at 16 Ridge st.

BARNARD - ERLER

At a 4 o'clock ceremony at Christ Church, Miss Carolyn Edith Erler, daughter of Mrs. Emily G. Erler, 13 Carlisle st., became the bride of Carl Arthur Barnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Barnard of Windham, N. H. The Rev. John Evans performed the ceremony, Irvin Wilkinson, organist, accompanied Miss Camille Nicolosi, the soloist.

Given in marriage by Robert F. Erler, the bride chose a street length gown of white Chantilly lace over delustered satin fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, and bouffant skirt. Her headpiece was in matching Chantilly lace with a chain veil. She carried a white garden bouquet of daisies, roses, and carnations.

Mrs. Edward M. Klempa, matron of honor, wore a princess style gown of apricot and white checked silk with a sweetheart neckline. She carried apricot colored roses with white daisies.

George F. Mathews was best man.

Following a garden reception at the bridegroom's home, the couple left on a wedding trip to Canada. They will reside in Lawrence.

LOCAL MEN AT ROTC CAMP

Cadets Charles W. Bowman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bowman, 67 Chestnut st. and Barry B. Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Flynn, 400 Andover st., have arrived at the U. S. Army ROTC camp at Fort Knox, Ky., for six weeks field training and practical work in the subject and theories they have been studying in their military classes at Norwich university.

After completing their four year college ROTC course and the summer camp they will be eligible for commissioning as second lieutenants in the U. S. Army Reserve upon graduation from Norwich next spring.

BARNARD — ERLER

At a 4 o'clock ceremony at Christ Church, Miss Carolyn Edith Erler, daughter of Mrs. Emily G. Erler, 13 Carlisle St., became the bride of Carl Arthur Barnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Barnard of Windham, N. H. The Rev. John Evans performed the ceremony. Irvin Wilkinson, organist, accompanied Miss Camille Nicolosi, the soloist.

Given in marriage by Robert F. Erler, the bride chose a street length gown of white Chantilly lace over delustered satin fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, and bouffant skirt. Her headpiece was in matching Chantilly lace with a chin veil. She carried a white garden bouquet of daisies, roses, and carnations.

Mrs. Edward M. Klempa, matron of honor, wore a princess style gown of apricot and white checked silk with a sweetheart neckline. She carried apricot colored roses with white daisies.

George F. Matthews was best man.

Following a garden reception at the bridegroom's home, the couple left on a wedding trip to Canada. They will reside in Lawrence.

LOCAL MEN AT ROTC CAMP

Cadets Charles W. Bowman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bowman, 67 Chestnut St. and Barry B. Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Flynn, 400 Andover St., have arrived at the U. S. Army ROTC camp at Fort Knox, Ky., for six weeks field training and practical work in the subject and theories they have been studying in their military classes at Norwich university.

After completing their four year college ROTC course and the summer camp they will be eligible for commissioning as second lieutenants in the U. S. Army Reserve upon graduation from Norwich next spring.

requirements for street acceptances - proper layouts, descriptions, filing with the town clerk, hearings and town meeting action. And he also stated that none of the older streets listed as unaccepted can be found to have been acted on by town meeting at any time - in the years covered by the special act of 1956, earlier or afterwards.

Thus they must go through the whole required process, as would any new street.

He also informed the Board that there is only one case in the records - and that was in 1839 - on when a street becomes a public way. He felt that the decision would not be a strong one to cite, and that it should not be used as a precedent for doing anything other than following legal requirements.

"It is my opinion that it will be necessary for the Selectmen to lay out any way which is to become public, and file with the town clerk a plan and a description of the way. Notice must be given to all abutters and a hearing held on each way. No way can become a public way without affirmative vote of a town meeting after proper layout," the counsel wrote.

The last town meeting appropriated some $2,500 as a beginning and Town Manager Thomas E. Duff said the process of surveying streets and properly following requirements will continue for several years.

At a recent Selectmen's meetings, there has been considerable discussion of the problem, including the possible choice of streets to be surveyed. Some have believed that streets which have utilities such as water, sewerage and drainage should be laid out first.

But there also has been a strong feeling that legal roadblocks to building on unaccepted streets may adversely affect residents who have been paying taxes on the property for a long time. Some members of the Board have discussed the possibility of picking the streets where it is known that a hardship may exist, instead of taking the so-called "easiest" ones first.

Many of the older streets, long in existence, do not conform to present-day standards for acceptance, in terms of width, construction and facilities.

The list of unaccepted streets - containing both old and new ways which have never been acted upon officially - follows:

Allen st., Amherst rd., Baker ln., Bancroft ln., Bancroft rd., Bannister rd., Birch rd., Blood rd., Boutwell rd., Brown st., Burnham rd., Castle Heights rd., Celia st., Central ln., Chapel ave., Chapman ave., Chickering ct., Clinton ct., Cross st., Cuba st., Cutler rd., Dallan rd., Essex pl., Evergreen ln., Farnsworth rd.

Lafalot Club Met At Mrs. Hilton's

Last Tuesday evening, the members of the Lafalot Club held a very enjoyable cookout at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hilton in No. Andover.

Following the cookout a business meeting was held in charge of vice president Marion Abbott and then games and a social hour were enjoyed.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, September 6, at the home of Miss Dora Ward on Lowell st.

WEST PARISH CHURCH NEWS

The flowers on the Altar of the West Church last Sunday morning were from the garden of Mrs. John Hall on Dascomb rd.

Next Sunday morning, the guest preacher will be the Rev. John Sargent of Lowell. Time of service is 9:30.

The Rev. Howard Andrews, pastor of the West Church, will be on duty with the Army Reserves at Valley Forge Army Hospital in Pennsylvania from July 16 through July 30. He will be Senior Chaplain of the 331st General Hospital, stationed at Lawrence Army Base.

Hughes Appointed Acting Dep't. Head

John B. Hughes has been named acting head of the social studies department at the Junior High School.

The action was taken last Friday at a special meeting of the School Committee. He replaces Peter A. Soderbergh, who moved up from that job to be acting principal. The Committee also elected Gerald Silverman of Lawrence as a social studies teacher.

He is a 1950 graduate of Lawrence High and received his degree from Ithica. He has been teaching in Candor, N. Y. and is a two-year Army veteran. His salary will be $4,800.

The Committee re-named Mrs. Dorothy T. Partridge as acting assistant principal of the Junior High.

Other personnel matters included accepting the resignation of William E. Russell, high school science teacher, who plans to return to the Methuen school system. The resignation of Richard Sterndale, a science teacher in the Junior High, was also accepted. He plans to teach in a private school this fall.

Opened Bids At Special Session

The School Committee awarded a contract for a burner and incinerator for the Shawsheen School to the York-Shipley Co. of Revere, during a special meeting last Friday.

The firm bid $4,156. Other bids were Enterprise Equipment Co. of Boston, $4,328; Combustion Service Co. of New England, Cambridge, $4,347; Seltzer and Co. Inc. Allston, $4,460; Middlesex Furnace Co., Malden, $4,487; and Dalrymple Oil Co. of Lawrence, $5,456.

Taken under advisement were bids on an inter-communication system for the Junior High.

Apparent low bidder was the Trimount Co. of Waltham, $4,200. Other bidders were Northeastern Communications Co. of Newton, $8,290 and DeMambro Sound Equipment Co. of Boston, $6,740. The Committee decided to take no immediate action, due to the wide difference between the low bid and the other two.

Other bids were opened for items in the science department. These will be compiled for further consideration. Money is available for the purchase of some of the equipment from the National Defense Education act.

Counting The Days

A long stay in the hospital can strike a financial blow that may take months, even years, from which to recover. Fortunately, improved medical techniques, quicker diagnosis, and new drugs help get patients home in record time these days. Average hospital stay has been reduced from 12.5 days in 1939 to about 9 days now, according to the American Hospital Association.

Hospital services are improving around the world, too, but costs have gone up at the same time. Oddy enough, a recent British survey suggests that a good way to reduce hospital bills is to use higher-priced medicine. A writer in the British Medical Journal reported that "it costs... more to treat patients with a lot of cheap medicines than with fewer expensive drugs." According to a survey of several hospitals in the Manchester area, "the hospital which spent least on drugs and dressings had the longest average stay (and thus the biggest total medical bill) per case."

While new drugs such as antibiotics and sulfas may cost more than old-fashioned medicines, they can quickly cure many diseases which went unchecked a quarter-century ago. Luckily for patients, many of these drugs have come down in price over the years. Penicillin, for example, sells today for only a fraction of the price at which it was introduced, and the newer and more powerful antibiotic Terramycin has dropped too - by nearly 40 per cent since 1950.

Better still, by using antibiotics to stop diseases before they cause serious trouble, physicians can often

SO YOU DON'T THINK YOU CAN AFFORD AN ESTATE?

Well, you can; this long slung rambling ranch, set on 4 acres of rolling lawn, with a panoramic view of hills and fields, is the buy of the year. The family room dominated by a large brick raised hearth fireplace, the Colonial dining room is so large that it's three rooms in one! The formal living room, off a quaint reception hall, has the gracious subdued charm of a Provincial Chateau, drawing room, from which you enter a jalousie windowed sun porch. The largest bedroom is an intelligent woman's dream, large enough for a living room group around a fireplace, private bath and dressing room with floor to ceiling windows, modern kitchen and second bath; guest house of three rooms and sun porch, two-car garage, screen cabana, terrace, work shop, tool garden house and ski slope in back yard. What a house! What a house! And only 16 miles to Lawrence. The price? $18,900.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID B. ROBB (Cole)

Robbs Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. David B. Robb, 32 Park st., celebrated their 50th anniversary last Saturday, with open house at the Square and Compass Club on Elm st.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Robb came to this country just over 50 years ago from Arbroath, Scotland, and were married July 9, 1910, in Christ Episcopal Church. The Rev. Frederick Palmer officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. Robb is the former Alice Martin.

Mr. Robb has been employed at Abbot Academy for 24 years and was honored this year when the graduating class dedicated its yearbook to him.

The couple received many gifts, cards and messages of good wishes.

Pike School Has Summer Session

The Pike School opened its summer session with an enrollment of 18 boys and girls July 6.

The Andover day school offers basic courses in general fields of the English language and numbers. The school does not work with remedial problems. On the contrary, the summer studies are designed to supplement the work of the regular school sessions for boys and girls who have completed grades five through eight, who have shown above average interest in improving their understandings and who wish to strengthen their scholastic records regardless of past performance.

The school is under the direction of Douglas S. Dunbar and Earle Warren for the second year.

Red Cross Selling Book On Swimming

"Teaching Johnny to Swim", a Red Cross booklet that was a best-seller last summer, is again on sale at the chapter house on Pumphard ave.

The booklet describes how to teach a young child to be at home in the water, from the first play in a basin at home to a simple swimming crawl. Water safety and proper attitudes are stressed. The new method of mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration is explained in a valuable supplement.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nielson and family, formerly of No. Reading, are now living in the Fred White house on Shawsheen rd.

DOHERTY RESIGNED CLERK'S POST

minutes of the previous meeting, concerning the placement of Benjamin F. Dimlich in the high school.

Mr. Doherty emphasized that he had asked specifically for the exact wording of the paragraph, and objected to having it changed at a later meeting.

At stake is the inclusion of one line that indicates that the Committee asked Supt. Edward I. Erickson for his recommendation concerning Mr. Dimlich. The other two Board members said he was not asked, that he merely advised the Committee of the transfer.

Mr. Doherty said he would not serve following the Friday session. The minutes, on motion of Mr. Sullivan, were approved with the exclusion of that paragraph. Mrs. Reta Buchan, who was present when the action was taken, could not attend the Friday meeting. A decision on the disputed paragraph will await her return.

The problem of changing the wording of minutes is nothing new in the recent history of the School Committee. Mr. Doherty has strenuously objected to it on several occasions, when other members have asked that changes be made. On one occasion he threatened to relinquish the post, but then kept it.

He has made the point that changes in the minutes reflect badly on the Committee in later years, and that this also can be a device to alter the meaning of some action taken at a previous meeting.

BOARD WANTS COOPERATION

special Sunday permit for the dairy bar, so that Mr. White could continue to operate.

He felt, however, that "it's a two-way street. We had the meeting to get a permit for him. There should be a spirit of cooperation on both sides".

It was explained that the dairy bar, beginning its operation July 2, did not have the Sunday permit required by the town. Former Selectman White was given the permit by the present Board, after the absence of the permit had been noted over the long Fourth of July weekend.

Town Manager Duff told the Board that the work now being done at the plant should progress satisfactorily. There is no present danger to health, and the operation of the plant is under a special permit of the Board of Health, he related. The Sunday permit was formally approved, and read into the minutes of the meeting, after hearing Mr. Duff's assurances that the unfinished work at the plant would be completed.
