Polling Places May Close Hour Earlier

Andover voters may have to complete their balloting an hour earlier in this year's state primary and national elections because of the new law which prevents counting until after the polls are closed.

Town Clerk George H. Winslow appeared before the board of selectmen Monday evening and pointed out that under the current polling hours, the counters would be unable to start their work until after 7 p.m. when the precinct polls close. In the past the polls have been open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. The town clerk said that it will take several hours to count the ballots. It may be that the selectmen will decide to close the polls at 6 p.m., thus giving the counters an earlier time to begin their work.

The selectmen did not take any vote on the matter, but plan to make a decision at the next regular meeting.

An Andover police cruiser was damaged Tuesday afternoon while in pursuit of a stolen car, the driver of which escaped by running into the woods at Haverhill and High sts.

The car was a 1960 Chevrolet Impala, owned by Lydia R. Santigati, 85 Princeton ave. The vehicle, which had travelled only 2000 miles, was stolen while parked outside 38 Parker st., Lawrence. The theft was reported at 1:50 p.m. to Lawrence police and all surrounding communities were notified.

Lowell police contacted Lawrence and provided information which indicated the car was seen proceeding toward Andover on Rt. 133.

Civil Service Exam Taken By Six Patrolmen

Six Andover patrolmen took a civil service examination Tuesday morning at Andover Junior High School to qualify for promotion to the rank of sergeant. A vacancy will exist upon the retirement in August of Sgt. William R. Hickey.

Taking the examination were Patrolmen William F. Tammany, Calvin C. Deyermond, Hector Patullo, Duncan M. Cairnie, Jacob J. Jacobson and Henry Giaino.

Free Parking Friday And Saturday

Free parking will be allowed in Andover on Friday and Saturday during the annual mid-summer Value Days sponsored by local merchants. At the request of Kenneth P. Thompson, president of the Andover Board of Trade, the Selectmen Monday evening voted to allow parking at meters without charge during the shopping carnival.

Free parking at the meters was allowed a year ago by the Selectmen and it proved a great attraction to bring shoppers into the business area.

Algebra I, Typing Popular Subjects At Summer School

The Andover Summer School which began classes at Andover High School on July 6, has proven a great success and has an enrollment of 147 students, about evenly divided between boys and girls.

The school director, Philip F. Wormwood, said that both the students and faculty are very pleased with the accomplishments attained during the first half of the summer course.

The two courses which have attracted the largest number of students are Algebra I and personal typewriting. While only one class in each subject was scheduled at the start of the season, the enrollments were so high that another class had to be set up in each subject.

There are six teachers on the faculty, with from 15 to 20 students in each class. The small size of the classes has enabled the teachers to do a great deal of individual work with the class members.

Despite warm and pleasant summer weather, the school is well attended.

mer days, there has been very little absenteeism among the student body. Since the classes are conducted only in the morning, there is plenty of time for recreation during the afternoon.

While the Andover Summer school was open to non-residents as well as residents of the town, the great majority of the students are from Andover.

Most of the courses are of the remedial type and intended to allow the student to overcome deficiencies which may have existed during the regular school year. Driver Training is another important course. The objectives of the school, now in its first year, were set forth as follows:

1. An opportunity to review, for credit, courses which were failed during the regular term. 2. An opportunity to take remedial work to strengthen a weak background in a subject before proceeding to more advanced courses. 3. An opportunity to receive a grade that may offset a poor mark. 4. An opportunity to study a course such as typewriting which has not or could not be included in the student's regular school program. 5. An opportunity for corrective and developmental work in reading. 6. An opportunity for qualified students to earn their driver's license in the summer session.

NOMINATION PAPERS
Among nomination papers submitted for certification to Town Clerk George H. Winslow and the board of registrars of voters were those of Rep. Arthur Williams, candidate for renomination on the Republican ballot in the September primary, and George Marad, 61 Morton st., candidate for the Republican nomination for senator from the fourth Essex District.

Friends of Mrs. Richard Williams of Lowell st., will be pleased to learn that she is making good progress at the Mass. Osteopathic Hospital in Boston, following a surgical operation.

Town Plans Action To Collect Overdue Bills

Andover is going to try and collect some past due bills. The town manager informed the board of Selectmen Monday evening that there are bills due for sewer installations, ambulance trips and for school tuition. These have been collecting over a period of years and the state Dept. of Corporations and Taxation has recommended that the town make an effort to collect the back accounts. The town manager said that some of the items involve hardship cases and will probably be difficult to collect.

Three accounts totalling $311 are due and represent private ties to the sewer installation in the Ballardvale area during the period from 1956 to the present. In the fire department account, a total of $695 is delinquent resulting from individual bills averaging $10 each for emergency ambulance service for out-of-town residents. The bills run from 1956 through 1960.

Individual tuition rates for out-of-town residents is reflected in the school department delinquent accounts.

A total of $1,920.25 covers the period from 1944 to date in this account.

All accounts have been turned over to the town accountant's office which will direct letters to the respective accounts in an attempt to clear these items from the books.

POLICE CRUISER DAMAGED IN STOLEN CAR CHASE

sq. spotted the stolen car and took up the chase. Joining was another cruiser manned by Patrolman Raymond Pellerin and Reserve Patrolman Arthur Manock.

The driver of the stolen car proceeded at high speed over Haverhill st. He was slowed for a moment by a large trailer truck, but regained speed. Officer Maddox finally pulled alongside the stolen car and ordered the operator to pull over. The stolen car swerved and came in contact with a utility pole at the corner of High and Haverhill sts. The second Andover cruiser was damaged when it was in contact with the rear of the stolen car in coming to a fast stop.

The stolen car driver hightailed it into the woods with the officers unable to overtake him due to his youthful speed. State police officers were called, but it was learned that a youth answering the description had made his way to Wilson's corner, North Andover, and had hitch-hiked a ride.

Receives Fatal Injuries Here

A Lawrence man died at Lawrence General Hospital early Wednesday morning from injuries sustained while working for an electrical contractor at the Raytheon plant in Andover.

Walter Scanlon, 25, 26 Butler st., Lawrence, was working with a rivet gun, a tool used to shoot rivets into concrete. In some unknown manner the gun went off and a rivet went into Scanlon's chin and up into his brain.

He was taken to the hospital in the fire department ambulance where he was given the last rites of the Catholic Church and submitted to surgery. He died several hours later.

Mrs. Gertrude E. Velguth of Flint, Michigan, will deliver a lecture on Christian Science to be given at the Cathedral of the Pines, Bridge, N.H., on July 30 at 4 p.m.
 Her subject will be Christian Science: "The Enlightened Way."
 The lecture will be sponsored by the Christian Science Society of Derry, N.H., and 32 other churches and societies.

Mrs. Velguth is on extensive tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship. A native of Gary, Indiana, she graduated from the Conservatory of Music at Eastern Michigan College and later studied at Michigan State University and at the Flint Institute of Arts. In 1945 she resigned her position as chairman of the Arts Department of Northern High School in Flint to devote her full time to the public practice of Christian Science healing.

Watters Named

 In his assignment as company outstanding performance as a student of military science.

Cadet Watters is a graduate of Phillips Academy, Andover, and is now majoring in philosophy at Boston University. Upon successful completion of summer camp and graduation from college, Cadet Watters will be eligible for a commission as a second lieutenant in the United States Army Reserve.

Dress Standards Under Study

The establishment of a standard for student attire at Andover High School, and the matter of students engaging in too many outside community activities, are subjects now under consideration by the school committee.

Principal Lindsay J. March has made reports to the committee on the two matters and the board will discuss them at future meetings.
 A handbook published in 1953 set forth the proper attire for students attending high school classes and social functions. Similar standards set up at other schools will be studied and a final draft made of what is to be expected at the local high school.
 The principal also expressed his views on students being asked to take part in community drives and other functions which take up a good deal of time which could be put to use for study of school subjects.

Mrs. Howard Aided College Campaign

Mrs. Merle H. Howard, 77 Main st. served as a worker for the 75th anniversary fund drive of Goucher College, Towson, Md., which realized $5,165,000 for the institution.

The campaign, which was begun in January of 1957, had as its goal $5,075,000 to increase the endowment for faculty salaries and student scholarships and loans and to construct several buildings needed to complete the Towson campus.

At the conclusion of the campaign, Goucher had received $5,006,075 in gifts and pledges. Several tax-exempt life income trusts and a sizeable bequest add approximately $160,000 to the funds so far received.

Goucher alumnae throughout the country contributed $2,212,000 of the total goal, representing a 47% increase in alumnae donors over any previous fund appeal.

SHORE BIRDS NUMEROUS

Shore birds are coming in greater numbers now, and hundreds of knots were sighted at Scituate, along with piping plovers and sharp-tailed sparrows.

Plum Island is hosting a blue-winged teal and a green-winged teal along with a little blue heron, and on Monomoy, patrons of the special beach-buggy tours sponsored by the Massachusetts Audubon Society are continuing to enjoy rare birding. Among those species spotted were Wilson's petrels, black tern and ten Hudsonian godwits.

The two royal terns are still at Nauset, and common gallinules with young are present at the Great Meadows Wildlife Sanctuary in Concord.

While scouting around West Newbury, you may spot a yellow-throated vireo, T rail's flycatcher, yellow-billed cuckoo, and a rare treat in July while birds are nesting - the melodious song of the pine warbler.

Common egrets may be seen in Hingham, and another unusual sight, a pileated woodpecker in Beverly.

Reading watchers have seen a mockingbird.

We have noticed a marked change in the public's attitude toward our profession and the service we render.

There is a better understanding. People ask questions frankly about every phase of our work, and there is not the dread or mystery about funeral merchandise there once was. We regard this as a wholesome sign.

summer feature an exhibition of especially invited and selected professional art student work. "Art Schools U.S.A., 1960" consists of work in various media by some 75 different individuals currently studying in different sections of the United States. In order to obtain a broad geographic sampling and to make the survey as objective as possible, the Addison Gallery invited the faculties of 12 different institutions scattered from the east to west coast to choose from among its student body work which each faculty itself considered to be outstanding.

In drawing up a list of schools to be invited, the Gallery sought to include those art schools which are independent of liberal arts colleges or universities, as well as art departments existing within the broad environment of the university campus.

This series of summer surveys of art school performance was initiated by the Addison Gallery in 1948. Since then the work of 100 schools has provided the substance of successive exhibitions. Some of those schools have participated more than once. This year, however, it was felt desirable to extend the survey and 12 institutions not having participated in earlier years, were invited accordingly.

One or two conclusions may be tentatively advanced based on the analysis of the 1960 exhibition as compared with other years: first, although the quality of work varies from school to school, the difference is rarely great and the level of performance over the years appears to be much the same; second, since 1948, there is a notable increase in the quantity of abstract painting and sculpture and an accompanying rise in its quality - figurative work, on the other hand, remains qualitatively about the same; third, the influence which a particular teacher possesses is often evident, but no more so in 1960 than in 1948; finally, the difference in quality, such as it may occur, is to be found within the capacities of certain individual students themselves - which is, perhaps, as it should be, for one of the functions of art, at least in the 20th century, lies in its usefulness to enhance latent personal abilities and so to strengthen the core of our democratic structure.

The exhibition continues to Sept. 26.

Warn Polio May Spread To Mass.

The large poliomyelitis outbreak occurring in the Providence, Rhode Island area at the present time has not affected our state as yet but there is serious concern that Massachusetts communities may become involved, Massachusetts Public Health Commissioner Dr. Alfred L. Frechette said Wednesday.

"Our Department is advising every board of health and physician in our Commonwealth to do everything within their power to achieve the best possible level of immunization with Salk vaccine. If the disease does extend into Massachusetts communities, it will tend to seek out those individuals who have not been inoculated.

"An ample supply of vaccine is available to all boards of health and physicians in Massachusetts by contacting the Biologic Laboratories, 375 South st., Jamaica Plain," Commissioner Frechette stated.

According to Dr. F. Randolph Philbrook, Assistant Director of the Division of Communicable Diseases, Massachusetts has had a total of eight cases of polio since the beginning of 1960. Four of those cases were carried over from 1959, he pointed out.

"It is considered especially important that individuals who have had no vaccine start their course of Salk vaccine inoculations immediately, since it has been demonstrated that even one dose of the vaccine has considerable protective power. Doses up through a fourth dose are recommended. Individuals who have received their series of three doses should now have a fourth in the event that the third was received several months ago," Dr. Philbrook advised.

Four Accepted At Wentworth

Four Andover residents have been accepted for admission to Wentworth Institute in Boston for the academic year beginning in September 1960.

Wentworth, the largest endowed technical institute in the United States for training industrial and engineering technicians, has a two year program leading to an Associate in Engineering degree.

Accepted were: Raymond E. Banks, 10 Wildwood rd., Edward Louis Fortuna, 26 River rd.; George I. Whitcomb, 70 Memorial cir., and Walter E. Winn III, 45 Highland rd.

Town Manager Gives Report On Land Issue

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff reported to the selectmen Monday evening on the situation concerning the John L. Noyes property which may be taken by eminent domain proceedings as a site for a new school.

The board was informed that the order of taking has been prepared by town counsel but he is still studying the proper zoning classification of the land.

Permission to go on the land and take test borings will probably be made before any legal steps are taken. It must first be determined if the land is suitable for a school site.

Frozen Faces Created By Raytheon Made Magic Tube

Funny faces and weird poses, along with smiles and looks of astonishment, are frozen in time - as in the old-fashioned game of "Statues" - at an exciting new temporary exhibit on view now through the month of August at Boston's Museum of Science.

It's called a recording storage tube system and was lent to the Museum for summertime showing by the Storage Tube Department, Industrial Components Division of the Raytheon Company.

In the new exhibit, a small electronic camera is constantly focused on passing Museum visitors. When a viewer presses a button, an image is transmitted to the storage tube where it is "frozen" and, in turn, continuously transmitted to the screen of a 17-inch monitor.

The entire process takes only a fraction of a second and produces what appears to be an "instant photograph." By so doing, an otherwise fleeting and gone-by moment can be recalled and stretched into a period of minutes before the image begins to fade - or until another viewer pushes the button to repeat the process.

What actually happens is this: within the storage tube is a tiny meshwork of extremely fine wire screening with one million openings to the square inch. Through a scanning process, the original picture in the camera is broken up into lines and then transmitted to this wire screen as a series of varying electronic impulses. These are then stored in the form of static charges.

Thus through electronic wizardry, the original picture pattern is stored and held in the form of static charges on the grid surface. From this stored pattern, the original picture can be recalled and produced constantly on a monitor screen.

This pushbutton exhibit is already a favorite with youngsters who delight in "making faces" at each other and then freezing their face-work to enjoy the fanciful effects for themselves.

Adult visitors are also showing an intense interest in this advanced television device and its potential as a business and research tool.

The storage tube already has been used to record exciting moments in sporting events, to examine critical times in a destructive test, to inspect and help in editing video tape, to give extended viewing of a flash-illuminated scene, and in similar instances when it is an advantage to compare the immediate past with the present.

Lately, the storage tube is being used to help avert air collisions and promote safer air travel. To a radar tracker, moving targets appear as stationary dots on the screen. By storing the picture, a series of dots caused by a moving plane become a visible trail. The tracker then can note the direction of motion, changes in the direction, and the relative speed of the airship.

Located in the Museum's first floor Exhibit Hall, the "frozen faces" exhibit can be seen Tuesdays through Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sundays from 1 to 5 p.m.; and Friday nights until 10. Admission, which includes admission to the Charles Hayden Planetarium, is $1.00 for adults and 50¢ for children under 12.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Popups From The Deep

The successful sub-surface launching of two Polaris missiles by the Navy last week was a great shot in the arm for American prestige and morale.

The operation should cause Khrushchev to stop his shouting of threatening abuse long enough to ponder what additional retaliatory force he now faces.

The jubilant Navy announcement that the two missiles had acted perfectly in lifting from deep in the sea to hit a preselected target 1100 miles away could not have come at a more opportune time.

Even during the relaxing summer vacation season, Americans are still living under great tensions.

With the Soviets threatening to send troops to the Congo if the Belgians didn't leave, and with Castro in Cuba leaving his sick bed to continue his loud harangues against the U. S., the situation looked dark.

The cold war on all sides was becoming warmer. Heads of government in many parts of the world talked in serious tones in a supreme effort to prevent the outbreak of a nuclear war too horrible to contemplate.

It was against this background that the officers and men of the nuclear submarine George Washington accomplished their monumental feat.

There was nothing phony about these firings. Observers were on hand, to report either success or failure. Photographers recorded on film, for the whole world to see, the churning eruptions from Davy Jones's domain. It was clear that the United States had another devastating weapon just about operational.

The haunting fear of dreadful retaliation should they launch an attack must be clear to the Communist world.

Americans could enjoy their vacations in a more relaxed state of mind, yet ever alert.

The U. S. Navy is not asleep in the deep.

Explaining A Paradox

The paradox of employment and unemployment rising at the same time is a bit hard to understand, yet this is explained in a current release from the U. S. Department of Labor.

A record number of youngsters entered the labor force as school ended in June, causing sharp increases in employment and unemployment.

The increasing number of teen-agers in the population and the fact that the Labor Department's June survey week this year fell at the latest possible time in the month, June 12 to 18, after most students were already out of school and available for work, combined to bring about a record more than two million increase in the civilian labor force. Of this increase, 2.25 million were boys and girls whose ages ranged from 14 to 19 years.

With the increase in seasonal employment, so did unemployment increase. The jump was almost a million over the previous month's total of 4.75 million. The great increase was occasioned by 800,000 students, plus 100,000 youths of age 20 to 24, entering the labor market from school. This resulted in the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate rising from 4.9 per cent to 5.5 per cent between May and June.

On the other side of the picture, state insured unemployment, which does not include job seekers, fell seasonally by 130,000 to 1.6 million in mid June. The labor department says that since the majority of young people entering the labor force found jobs, total employment rose sharply by 1.4 million to an all time record high. This was a million more than a year ago, excluding Alaska and Hawaii which were not included in last year's figures.

One million of the June increase was in agricultural employment a substantially larger increase than usual. However, agriculture was still below its year ago level. Non-agricultural employment, including the self-employed, domestics and unpaid family workers, rose seasonally by nearly 400,000, also a new all time record. Most of the increase incurred in outdoor and other seasonally expanding activities. Virtually all of the increase in unemployment concerned those seeking work of short duration who wished to work for five weeks, and then probably enjoy a bit of a vacation before going back to school.

The department reported that the long-time unemployment, 15 weeks or longer, declined seasonally by 100,000. This group was also 100,000 below a year ago, which accounted for 18 per cent of the total unemployment this June as compared with 23 per cent of June a year ago.

The survey shows that many young people getting out of school secure employment on farms.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - July, 1910

Several Andover people witnessed the arrival of President Taft on the yacht "Mayflower" at Beverly.

The ground near Mrs. Amos Blanchard's house on Elm st. was ploughed up by lightning in a thunder storm.

Thomas Gamble Jr., of Georgia an editor, was in town visiting the old Bradstreet house. Mr. Gamble is a descendant of Rev. Dudley Bradstreet of Groton, a grandson of the governor, and also of the Essex County Gambles.

The fire department was summoned to the old boardinghouse on the banks of the river in Marland Village by an alarm of fire. The fire was not serious.

The new concern at Lowell Junction began the work of cleaning up and are energetically pushing it along. Plans have already been made for the side track and things point to a substantial business being established.

Supt. Gould has had a layer of liquid asphalt and sand put on Main st. between Brown's shoe store and the vicinity of Locke st. It is expected that this combination of which 68 per cent is asphalt will greatly better the conditions of the road.

25 Years Ago - July, 1935

The widening of North Main st. in Shawsheen Village from Stimson's bridge to the Lawrence line would be one of the projects undertaken if the $13,000.00 state bond issue goes through the legislature.

Andover's steam turbine pump, once new but now old, was installed Monday and is finally engaged in pumping water for Andover's households almost a year and a half after the town approved its purchase. It is now functioning perfectly after being overhauled at the Lawrence Gas & Electric plant. The $20,000.00 pump will hereafter be the main unit, the old crank and flywheel engine now being relegated to a place as auxiliary engine. The electric pump is also being retained as an emergency unit.

The new State Police barracks will be opened shortly for occupancy, the furnishings having been most completed this week. The building, which is situated near the by-pass near the entrance to the C.C.C. camp, is a Colonial style building, it adds much to the looks of the highway. The very important teletype, which has added so greatly in getting the news of crimes to police officials all over the state, has been installed.

Considerable work is being done in the local public schools this summer. Projects are in progress at the Stowe school and high school, John Dove, Samuel Jackson, Shawsheen, Bradlee, Indian Ridge, West Center and North School.

The annual juvenile tennis tournament will be staged at the Balmoral Courts with only one class this year, the ages being 10 to 14, both boys and girls.

10 Years Ago - July, 1950

The American Woolen Company with a real estate assessment of $46,437.30 again tops the list of the town's heaviest taxpayers. It is closely followed on the 1950 assessment list by the Lawrence

Gas & Electric Co. with a personal property tax of $44,173.22 and real estate tax of $1,929.60 making a total of $46,102.82 for the year. Next in order of the larger taxpayers are the Trustees of Phillips Academy with an assessment of $16,967.16; the Tyer Rubber Company $13,624.20 and the M. T. Stevens & Sons Co. $13,422.60.

Russell Evans (Russ) Blunt, former star athlete at Punchard high, has accepted the position of director of athletics and head coach for the 1950-51 school year at St. Paul's Polytechnic Institute, Lawrenceville, Va. Mr. Blunt attended St. Paul's, 1927-30, and was outstanding in football, basketball and baseball.

A petition of the police department to store 500 gallons of gasoline in an underground tank in the yard at the rear of the townhouse was approved by the selectmen Monday night subject to approval of the fire chief relative to the installation of the tank.

The work of applying the hot top to Main st. from the post office to Chapel ave., will be started. The raising of all manhole covers and similar preliminary work has been completed by the board of public works and the barriers shutting traffic from that section of the street will be removed temporarily. The hot topping of North Main st. started near the Lawrence line but work was delayed for a time due to the breakdown of a loader in Peabody. It is expected that both sections will be completed in seven to 10 working days.

Andover skippers were the only Turnabout sailors to maneuver against a six knot Ipswich tide in the recent race. The fresh southeast wind and rip tide were working together to make the beat to the weather mark a tedious process. Polly Hogan's Flying Saucer came in first with an hour lead over Jimmy Whipple's Short'n Sweet. The other 11 boats were unable to get around the first leg. In the North Shore class Bill Hogan's Willy beat Gray Whipple's Clipper by just two minutes. Walter Partridge came in 4th. The heavy seas over the bar and knock down puffs were a challenge to any skipper and many accidents occurred at the moorings. At least a dozen boats had to be towed home. The Willy was dismantled when an O boat bore down on her at her mooring. The Turnabout and North Shore fleets are planning to leave Ipswich for Marblehead race week for nine days of morning and afternoon series.

Box 94, the out-of-town call was sounded at 11:03 p.m. Saturday night and local apparatus went to fill in at North Andover while firemen of that town were fighting a destructive blaze that destroyed the barn on the Campion Hall site, owned by the Jesuit Order and loaned to William A. Mazurenko of that town. The latter's own barn was destroyed by a $12,000.00 fire July 12, 1949. The loss Saturday night included hay, a $1000. truck, a large amount of roofing paper, and a two-ton cement mixer valued at $3500. owned by Lewis & Scott Construction Co. of Andover.

Story Hour

Story Hour will be held every Wednesday morning for boys and girls during the rest of July and August at 10:30 o'clock in the Children's library. All are welcome to attend, as there will be stories of interest to all age groups. Library Closed Saturdays, during the summer.

Summer Hours

Summer Hours: The Memorial Hall Library will be open daily Monday through Friday, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. during the summer. The room for boys and girls will be open on those days from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and again from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. On Saturdays both rooms will be closed.

Ballardvale branch library will be open as usual, Monday and Thursday, from 2-5 p.m. and again from 6-8 p.m.

Vacation Loans

Many readers who plan to go away during the summer may wish to take advantage of the vacation loan offered them in both the main library and in the children's room. Books which are not in demand or are more than a year old may be taken in the summer to become due on September 15. There is no limit imposed on the number which an adult may take for this longer loan; children are allowed six books at a time. A parent may take an unlimited number of children's books if he wishes.

Films For Library Viewers

The list of films now being purchased by libraries which take part in the film pool in Massachusetts, in which the Memorial Hall Library is enrolled, has been released. Among the titles of films which will be used by the groups during the coming year, as far as time will permit, are the following, many of which those who use Andover films will find inviting: Ansel Adams - Photographer, A Badger's Bad Day, Between The Tides, Bridges, Country Of Islam, Dancer's World, Fingerpainting of Wu Yen, Forest Babies, Johnny Appleseed, Life And Times Of The Iron Horse, Moose Baby, Monkey Who Would Be King, Nautilus' Arctic Passage, Rocks For Beginners, Puss In Boots, Russia, Satellites: Stepping Stones To Space and Science Of The Sea.

How Do You Do It

If you are one of the many who try to do things better, to find short cuts, try new things improved methods and techniques, the Memorial Hall Library has much material that would give your spirit a lift. If you're earning a living, furnishing a home, trying to bring an errant waistline under control, learning the art of taking home movies, raising what you hope will be prize delphiniums, struggling with a new home freezer and the surplus crop of fruit, remodeling the old-fashioned kitchen so that you walk only a few steps from refrigerator to stove, stove to sink, etc., planning for a fall wedding in the family, learning to sew the straight seam, or making plans for a trailer trip to Arizona - you are very likely to find what you need between the covers of a library book or magazine. Many readers do not realize that reference tools can open up the contents of thousands of books and magazines; that these helps can point the seeker to directions for making beach-plum jam or a five pointed star, party costumes or woven wood fences, shoo-fly pie or ginger beer. Why not take a chance and see for yourself? You have five days a week in which to visit your library in the summer - Monday through Friday, for the usual 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. hours. You are always welcome!

Recent Additions

Among the books that have been added to the library, the following are well worth an evening's attention: The Lost Cities Of Africa, by Basil Davidson - within the last two or three decades the work of many scholars, archaeologists, scientists and historians is beginning to show that Africa has an exciting history; this book summarizes their findings in an exciting way for casual reader and student; Collected Essays, by Allen Tate - a delightful book to pick up at odd

Water Skiers Are Warned By Director

Warning that operators of boats towing water skiers may be forced to suffer the maximum penalty of a thousand dollars fine, or a year in jail, or both, was sounded Wednesday by Wilton Vaughn, State Director of the Division of Motorboats. He explained that a surprising number of complaints have been received from virtually every section of the State against the illegal operation of water skiers.

In one case two motorboats have been wrecked and in another instance swimmers, skin divers, bathers and fishermen have feared for their lives. The State Director pointed out that the water belongs to all of the people seeking recreation off shore and that the skiers should not interfere with these rights. He said that the boaters, swimmers, bathers, picnickers, skin divers, fishermen and others have a right to enjoy a pleasant day on the water without being scared to death by irresponsible upstarts.

State Director Vaughn said that water skiing and surf board riding have become a favorite means of outdoor recreation. Beginners can learn to water ski in 20 minutes, according to expert teachers. The cost of a pair of water skis is negligible. Enforcement officers report that some skiers threaten to ruin this sport for everybody.

The Director said that the boating law insists that every boat towing a skider must have an observer to watch the skier as well as an operator of the motorboat to see where he is going. The law also requires that boats towing skiers must be equipped with a ladder, steps, or similar device by means of which a skier, particularly one who is injured, may be taken from the water.

Violation of this law calls for a fine of not more than $500 and six months in jail. If an accident results in the death of any person, the maximum penalty is a $1,000 fine and one year in prison. In addition to this the registration of a boat operated in a negligent manner may be suspended for a part of the boating season or revoked for the entire season.
